WITH TIME ON ITS SIDE, FASIG-TIPTON JULY HORSES OF RACING AGE SALE TO BE HELD MONDAY

Crypto Mo | Coady Photography

by Jessica Martini

LEXINGTON, KY - The Fasig-Tipton July Selected Horses of Racing Age Sale, bolstered by the last-minute addition of a newly crowned graded stakes winner, marches into its second decade with its 11th renewal Monday at Newtown Paddocks. Bidding on the first of 245 catalogued offerings is slated to begin at 2 p.m.

A common refrain from consignors heading into the one-session auction was timeliness, as the sale's place on the calendar puts it right in front of a busy summer of racing, both regionally and at boutique meets on both coasts at Saratoga and Del Mar.

"I think this sale is an extremely useful sale on the calendar because of the timing," said Conrad Bendoroff of Denali Stud, which will offer 11 horses Monday afternoon. "It gives both buyers and sellers the option to bring in-form horses to the market and to really help to satisfy the demand for horses that have form and are running well. It is also potentially an avenue for horses that don't quite fit that mold--horses that need to be moved on and go to maybe a more regional or a softer circuit."

AFTER 2,000 WINS THE HARD WAY, NEXT GOAL FOR MURPHY IS RETIREMENT

The Week in Review, by T.D. Thornton

After 3 1/2 decades in the saddle, Cindy Murphy knows all too well how fate lurks with every hoofbeat when you're a jockey. Occasionally though, chance and risk manifest themselves in the form of good karma on the racetrack. On Saturday night at Prairie Meadows, the rewarding circumstances of the 61-year-old jockey's 2,000th career win seemed almost too scripted to be true.

Murphy's landmark victory aboard Crypto Mo (Mohaymen) in the July 8 GIII Iowa Oaks was her first lifetime graded stakes win after 18,131 lifetime mounts. It was also a neat "full circle" score for the Iowa native, because Murphy (who previously rode under the last names Springman and Noll) had piloted the first-ever winner in the history of Prairie Meadows when that track first opened in 1989. Cont. Fasig-Tipton Cont. From Pg. 1

The Seitz family's Brookdale Sales has been represented at every July Horses of Racing Age sale since its inaugural edition in 2013 and the consignment returns with 14 head on offer this year.

"It's a great outlet for people," said Joe Seitz. "It is like two worlds coming together with people maybe offloading a horse that is still very raceable and that gives people the opportunity to take advantage of this regional circuit which is so hot right now. It's a great opportunity for buying and selling."

The horses of racing age sale can provide buyers with immediate access to success on the track.

"It's about as turnkey as you can get," Seitz said. "When you bring a horse out here that is fit and has good form and with all the X-rays and physical information someone might need when they are trying to pick out a horse, what you're doing is presenting them something they can turn around with immediately and try to have some fun with, especially with these purses."

Nowhere in the catalogue is that current form more noticeable than in the last offering in the catalogue, Crypto Mo (Mohaymen) (hip 645). Consigned by Taylor Made Sales Agency, the 3-year-old filly captured the GIII Iowa Oaks Saturday and comes into the auction on a three-race win streak.

"Crypto Mo is a very exciting addition to the catalogue," said Fasig-Tipton President Boyd Browning. "She is a ready-to-go graded stakes-winning 3-year-old filly with a lot of racing opportunities ahead of her. She has a similar profile to Stiletto Boy, who came into this sale off a win in the Iowa Derby a couple years back and is now a Grade I winner of $1.8 million."

Stiletto Boy (Shackleford) sold for $420,000 at the 2021 July Horses of Racing Age sale and went on to capture this year's GI Santa Anita H. and has hit the board in five additional Grade I races. Cont.

John Ennis has made a habit of bringing in-form juveniles to the July Horses of Racing Age sale. The trainer topped the 2020 auction with County Final (Oxbow), who came into the auction off a runner-up effort in the GIII Bashford Manor S. and sold for $475,000. Ennis brings five juveniles into the 2023 auction and all are coming off maiden special weight victories.

"I usually bring 2-year-olds with form that are pretty commercial to the buyer," Ennis said. "And the timing is great. Being in July, they can take them anywhere, Saratoga or Del Mar."

Buying inexpensive yearlings and getting them success on the racetrack before re-offering them in July provides clients with the thrill of racing and potential profit in the sales ring, according to Ennis.

"It's enjoyable to the owners to get to go racing and hopefully be in the winner's circle and then come to the sale and hopefully make a profit," Ennis said. "Everybody is looking for horses at the moment, so the timing is perfect. All of the horses have been really well-received so far and all of the right people have come to see them."

Monday's Horses of Racing Age sale will be followed by the Fasig-Tipton July Sale of Selected Yearlings, which will be held Tuesday beginning at 10 a.m.

Win number 2,000 also came with a family connection--Crypto Mo is trained and part-owned by her husband, Travis Murphy. Redemption also played a starring role: A little more than a year ago, that very same filly, then age two, flipped out in the starting gate at Prairie Meadows prior to her debut. Murphy sustained eight broken ribs, four pelvic fractures, and a tear in her abdominal wall, knocking her out of action until Apr. 1 this year.

"I know the screenwriters' guild is on strike, but Hollywood is missing out on a fantastic story here," quipped the Prairie Meadows racing secretary, Stuart Slagle, when TDN phoned the racing office Sunday morning to track down a phone number for Murphy.

"It was perfect," Murphy said with a buoyant laugh when reached a few minutes later. "I couldn't have planned it better, to be honest with you."

Murphy--unlike some jockeys who seem to linger for a long time on the cusp of a milestone win--had only been parked at the 1,999 plateau for six days and a span of just four mounts. But that round number of two grand had been in her head as a target for almost half her lifetime.

"When I first started, I could envision 2,000 wins because I was rolling as a younger rider," Murphy said. Cont.

Cindy Murphy celebrates her 2,000th career win | Coady Photography

"The first thousand came along a little easier and quicker than the second thousand. I thought it would come a lot sooner, to be honest with you. I started getting injured. Then I stopped to have a few children, so it took me awhile. But if you had asked me five years ago? I would have said no, I'm not going to make it."

Murphy graduated from Iowa's Muscatine High School in 1980 as an all-state track and cross-country runner. She starred in those two sports at Northeast Missouri State University, where she graduated with a focus in equine studies as one of the top 10 agriculture students in her class. She was later inducted into that college's athletic hall of fame, but by the time that happened in 1999, Murphy had long since transitioned from running in races to horsebacking in them instead.

Starting first as an exercise rider, and then trying her luck as a jockey in South America, Murphy's first victory came in Argentina in 1986. She relocated to Florida and won her first stateside race at Tampa Bay Downs on Dec. 8, 1987. After stints in the mid-Atlantic and a brief foray to New York, Murphy returned to the Midwest after outriding her apprentice allowances.

By 1994, Murphy was a Prairie Meadows mainstay at or near the top of the standings. Through the remainder of that decade she emerged as the nation's winningest woman rider on several occasions. She racked up lifetime score number 1,000 at Hawthorne Race Course in 1998, and also that year established a Prairie Meadows meet record with 112 victories.

A spate of injuries took their toll on Murphy as the 21st Century dawned, slowing her down, but not stopping her. In 2001, she fractured six bones, including her pelvis and ribs, in an Oaklawn Park accident. In 2004, she was sidelined by a broken wrist.

For a while, May 11, 2006, looked like it would be not only Murphy's last day in the saddle, but perhaps the last day she ever walked: A Prairie Meadows mount stumbled out of the gate, veered into another horse, and sent Murphy careening headfirst into the dirt.

"I broke my neck, and I had to be life-flighted to the hospital," Murphy said on Sunday, recalling the accident matter-of-factly. "I was kind of paralyzed for a week, and I slowly came out of it. They weren't sure I was going to come out of it. But I'm one of the lucky ones, and I did."

The severity of the spill was initially enough to cause Murphy to call it quits, acting upon the advice of her doctors. She had a surgery that fused her C5, C6 and C7 vertebrae together, and wistfully told the Des Moines Register, "I sure wanted to reach 2,000 wins, but my health is more important to me."

Murphy and her husband, Travis, had bought a 160-acre farm near Remington Park in Oklahoma shortly before that accident, and she began contemplating other career choices, like going back to school to get a nursing degree. The couple, at that time, had begun focusing on legging up horses for outside clients. But eventually, without the pressure of pointing for another comeback or the day-to-day rigors of the racetrack, Murphy said the farm work with the horses won her over again. In 2008, she returned to competing in races at age 46.

"I really wasn't going to come back to riding," she said. "But I started messing around, getting on a few. And then I guess I'm a little bit on the crazy side, and I wanted to ride a few more. And then I started creeping closer to 2,000, so I thought, 'Well, why not give it a shot?'"

Although that number remained etched in her brain, Murphy told TDN that the one thing she wouldn't grant any headspace to was the thought of getting hurt.

"I always tell the younger riders, if you get scared out there, you better hang it up. Because that's not a good thing when you're riding scared," Murphy said.

Murphy's riding workload isn't what it used to be, and she hasn't topped 27 wins in a year in any of the past 15 seasons. She had a 2-for-26 record in 2022, with that season being cut short on June 19 when Crypto Mo sent Murphy on yet another unplanned vacation of rehab and recuperation, just eight wins shy of 2,000.

Crypto Mo and Cindy Murphy | Coady Photography

Despite her gate histrionics, the filly herself was not injured. With Cassidy Fletcher subbing for Murphy, Crypto Mo eventually debuted on July 17, 2022, and managed to win one of her first five starts. Early on as a sprinter, she didn't flash enough talent to suggest she'd be a future graded stakes victress.

But that changed on May 28, 2023, when, after having been reunited with Murphy, Crypto Mo stretched out to two turns for the first time and wired a first-level allowance at Prairie Meadows by a whopping 17 3/4 lengths.

Crypto Mo, who cost $20,000 as a KEESEP yearling, then wired the $50,000 Panthers S. over a mile at Prairie Meadows June 10. On Saturday night, Murphy again asked her for speed from the get-go, and Crypto Mo was never headed in the $225,000 stakes, running her record to 4-for-8 while bankrolling $210,870 in earnings for the partnership of Travis Murphy, Matt Trent, and Triple V Racing. On Sunday, Crypto Mo was supplemented to the Fasig-Tipton July Selected Horses of Racing Age Sale.

"I thought win number 2,000 would come the previous weekend, when I was on a couple of live horses," Murphy said. "And then [Friday] I had a horse that had a shot, but he didn't do it. But when the win finally came on Saturday, it was even better, because this was the filly I got hurt on last year, and it's one of ours, from our connections.

"We had a lot of supportive crowd there, so that meant a lot. Even trainer Dale Romans, he came in [and won] one of the big races, and he congratulated me and said, 'Man, ever since I set foot in Iowa, nobody can quit talking about you and hoping you would get your 2,000th win.'" Murphy recalled.

Asked what goal is next now that she's equaled the benchmark she's been chasing for decades, Murphy didn't hesitate in replying.

"I am almost 62 years old, and I promised my kids and my grandkids that I would retire soon. So I am going to finish up the Prairie Meadows meet and I am going to hang up my tack," Murphy said.

"I need to spend more time with the grandkids. I've got five of them now. I go trail riding with them at the farm. We've got a bunch of soccer players in the family, so I'm always going to the kids' games. And my youngest son is going into his sophomore year at college. He's a big track star, and I go to all of his track meets. It will just give me more time to get to things like this, to spend more time with the family," Murphy said.

"I'll probably help Travis train, and be his right-hand woman, so to speak. I'll probably still gallop and work horses for him. I don't get on the babies that much anymore; they're a little bit more unpredictable. But I am going to retire from race riding," Murphy said.

GIANT GAME EARNS GRADED SUCCESS IN CORNHUSKER

A promising juvenile from the last crop of the great Giant's Causeway, Giant Game broke his maiden at second asking and went right into the deep end, checking in a valiant third behind 2-year-old champion Corniche (Quality Road) in the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile at Del Mar. Off the board in both of his Derby preps last year, he ended his season early with an eighth in the GII Tampa Bay Derby and took the next nine months off, only to return Jan. 13 at Gulfstream in an optional claimer. Second in a pair of those through the early spring, Giant Game entered Saturday's graded stake off a narrow win over allowance horses at Churchill Downs May 11 in which he wired the field en route to matching a career-best 93 Beyer Speed Figure.

SATURDAY'S BELMONT WINNERS LOOK FORWARD TO SARATOGA

Trainer Todd Pletcher appears to be in a good spot heading into the upcoming Saratoga Race Course meet after enjoying graded-stakes success Saturday at Belmont Park with both Far Bridge (English Channel) and 'TDN Rising Star' Charge It (Tapit).

LSU Stables' Far Bridge earned his first graded stakes triumph in the GI Belmont Derby Invitational. Pletcher said following the race that the GI Saratoga Derby Invitational August 5 would be, "a logical next target."

Whisper Hill Farm's Charge It is a likely candidate for the GI Whitney S. the same day following a 4 3/4-length victory in the GII Suburban S. which garnered a 106 Beyer Speed Figure.

Pletcher's Belmont-based assistant Byron Hughes reported that both horses exited their winning performances in good order.

“Both looked great this morning. They ate up last night and were walking around with a purpose this morning. They’re both happy with themselves,” Hughes said.

Charge It’s triumph also garnered a sense of pride from Todd Quast, the general manager of Mandy Pope’s Whisper Hill Farm.

“He ran big. We never felt like he had a problem with distance by watching him train in the morning, but he has to do it in the afternoon,” Quast said. “He can be just a little bit quirky. The talent and raw ability are both there, and he can do it in the afternoons. When he puts it all together, it’s an amazing performance.”

Quast pointed out that, like Charge It, 2022 Horse of the Year Flightline also is by Tapit and out of an Indian Charlie mare.

“We’ll have to see how Flightline does,” Quast said. “I’m not saying we’re Flightline at all, but I think about how well received he is in the breeding shed and how good of a racehorse he was.

If Charge It were to win the Whitney and then come back and be lucky enough to win the Breeders’ Cup, he should be well received in the breeding shed when he does go.”

Irish shipper Aspen Grove (Ire) (Justify) who captured

Saturday’s GI Fasig-Tipton Belmont Oaks Invitational at Belmont Park, is also headed to Saratoga.

The 10-furlong test for sophomore fillies is the first leg of the Fasig-Tipton Fillies Turf Triple series, which is followed by the GIII Fasig-Tipton Saratoga Oaks Invitational August 4 at Saratoga Race Course and concludes with the GIII Fasig-Tipton Jockey Club Oaks Invitational September 16.

“Mark Enright who came over with the filly is going to stay, and I think she’ll go into Jack Sisterson’s barn,” said Craig Bernick, breeder and co-owner. “But I think Mark will continue to take care of her and ride her [in the mornings]. Fozzy will stay involved, but I think she’ll go into Jack’s barn.” Cont.

"We'll look at the Saratoga Oaks and we'll consider the Del Mar Oaks also. She'll go to Saratoga sometime this week."

"My own inkling is that I'm not sure if Del Mar would suit her, but I wasn't on her back yesterday," trainer James Stack added. "One thing that played to her strengths yesterday was stepping up in trip. Grade I's are important to fillies--the Saratoga race is worth more--if she was a gelding, we wouldn't be having this conversation!"

Maple Leaf Mel notched the second graded coup of her career in Saturday's GIII Victory Ride S. at Belmont and Giddings said she returned to Saratoga Race Course Sunday morning where she will make her preparations towards an intended start in the GI Test S. on August 5.

"She is here and happy to be eating and to be back," said Giddings. "The Test is the plan. She'll have a few days off like everybody after their race and we'll see how she comes out of it. We'll make sure she's happy and good and her energy is good and go from there."

Belmont spring/summer title with 59 wins. "I work very hard in the mornings and I receive good opportunities from the owners and trainers and I'm very thankful for that."

Ortiz added he is looking forward to carrying his good form into the upcoming 40-day Saratoga Race Course summer meet.

"I think it's great to have momentum to go up there. He [Irada Ortiz, Jr.] is going to head there as the favorite, we all know." "But I'm going to try to beat him again," Ortiz said, with a laugh.

Trainer Linda Rice paced all other trainers at the meet to land her fourth consecutive training title at a NYRA track and the second of her career at Belmont. She secured the title with 34 wins.

"It's exciting--it's a lot of fun to win a Belmont title," said Rice. "We had a good winter at Aqueduct and usually the spring meet gets a little stronger, and we managed to win that. We had no thoughts we would win the spring meet here, so I'm delighted."

Seth Klarman's Klaravich Stables won their 22nd owners' title at a NYRA track for a meet that saw them earn 11 victories.

SPEIGHTSTOWN'S PRINCE OF MONACO DRIVES HOME AS LATEST 'TDN RISING STAR'

Speightstown, sire of TDN Rising Star Prince of Monaco
Lee Thomas

by J.N. Campbell

Living up to both his price tag and his recent workouts, Prince of Monaco (Speightstown) earned 'TDN Rising Star' billing as the 2-year-old poured on the speed at Los Alamitos on Sunday afternoon en route to a maiden-breaking victory for trainer Bob Baffert. Off at 1-9 for this debut, the $950,000 Fasig-Tipton Saratoga Select graduate broke a touch awkwardly from his wide draw in this compact field, but soon seized the lead heading into the far turn. Opening up at the top of the lane, the dark bay colt cruised along and extended his margin to eight lengths under a hand ride by jockey Juan Hernandez. Lord Bullingdon (Lord Nelson) at 18-1 odds was second.

The winner is out of a female family which includes GISW Adieu (El Corredor) and MSW Necker Island (Hard Spun). MSW Laurie's Rocket (Bluegrass Cat) is a half-brother to Prince of Monaco's dam Rainier (Medaglia d'Oro), who is responsible for a yearling filly by Munnings and she foaled a filly by Constitution Apr. 22. This is sire Speightstown's eighth 'Rising Star'.

AUDIBLE CELEBRATES FIRST WINNER WITH DOROTHY CROWFOOT by J.N. Campbell

WinStar Farm's first-crop sire and GI Florida Derby champ Audible celebrated his inaugural winner on Sunday when Dorothy Crowfoot (Audible--Enjoy This Moment, by Midnight Lute) sped to victory at Hawthorne Race Course on Sunday afternoon. The bay filly debuted here as the 3-5 favorite after scratching last Sunday. The Larry Rivelli trainee broke alertly from the outside, controlled the fractions throughout and won going away by 6 1/2 lengths over Devil (Fast Anna).

The winner's dam, a half-sister to MGSW Sum of the Parts (Speightstown) and GSW Rocket Heat (Latent Heat), foaled a colt by Flatter Mar. 4.

How Did He Do That collected his second black-type victory after a dead heat and then a disqualification in the Iowa Derby on Saturday evening. Last seen when seventh in the Texas Derby at Lone Star Park May 29, the chestnut colt went off here at the boxcar price of 48-1.

The longshot settled along the rail into the first turn as his former rival who bested him in the Riley Allison Derby Jan. 29 at Sunland Park, One in Vermillion, showed the way. As the field caught up to the pacesetter toward the end of the backstretch, How Did He Do That began to make his move, ranged up to the outside around the far turn and the pair dueled all the way to a dead-heat finish. After a stewards inquiry and jockey objection, One in Vermillion was disqualified and placed second for drifting out in deep stretch.

A half-sister to champion 3-year-old colt and MGISW Afleet Alex (Northern Afleet), the winner's dam is a responsible for an unraced 2-year-old filly Stormin Marti (City of Light), who was purchased by Carlo Vaccarezza for $130,000 '22 Ylg KEESEP. She also produced a filly by Good Magic and she was bred to Lookin At Lucky last year.

GOOD GUESS STORMS TO JEAN PRAT SUCCESS

Good Guess | Scoopdyga

by Tom Frary

Reprising his winning performance in Deauville's G3 Prix Djebel in April, Hisaaki Saito's Good Guess (GB) (Kodiac {GB}--Zykina {GB}, by Pivotal {GB}) upset some big names with no hint of fluke as he powered to success over the same seven-furlong trip in Sunday's G1 Haras d'Etreham Prix Jean Prat. Sent off at 24-1 having failed to further his claims as an elite runner when sixth in the G1 Poule d'Essai des Poulains and second in the G3 Prix Paul de Moussac, the Fabrice Chappet-trained grandson of Cheveley Park's champion Russian Rhythm (Kingmambo) bided his time early under cover among the main group.

Unleashed by Stephane Pasquier to cut down the long-time leader Sauterne (Fr) (Kingman {GB}) approaching the furlong marker, he drew away to beat that filly by three lengths, with the same margin back to his Paul de Moussac conqueror Breizh Sky (Fr) (Pedro The Great) in third. The 7-10 favourite Chaldean (GB) (Frankel {GB}) proved a major disappointment, failing to land a blow and finishing a tame seventh as the 2000 Guineas form surprisingly unravelled in spectacular fashion.

"I love this horse," Pasquier said. "He was good in the Djebel, but he was still immature physically and needed time to mature and grow into himself. The pace was fast which suited me and although I wanted to ride him closer to the pace, he was slow from the gates and in the end I had plenty of time to pick my position."

'HE'S GOT SOMETHING ABOUT HIM' - DIAMOND SET TO SHINE AT JULY SALE

by Brian Sheerin

One of the most exciting horses catalogued in next week's Tattersalls July Sale, Ethical Diamond (Ire) is likely to appeal to buyers for the Flat and some of the powerhouse National Hunt trainers, according to his breeder William Kennedy.

Ethical Diamond confirmed himself a horse with a bright future when running out an easy winner of a Limerick maiden last month for Michael O'Meara and promises to attract plenty of footfall to Baroda Stud's barn this week.

He may not have made his debut until three, but Ethical Diamond has stepped forward in each of his three runs, with that easy Limerick win representing his first try at a-mile-and-a-half.

"He can shorten up or go further, it doesn't matter to him. He's a genuine group one horse."

Kept to sprint trips at two, Good Guess was successful on his first two starts at Chantilly before finishing ninth and third on his next starts in this track's G3 Prix de Cabourg in August and Listed Prix Zeddaan in October. There was nothing in the form of the Djebel--where he got the better of Breizh Sky--that suggested he was top-drawer material upped to this trip for the first time and after his uninspiring Poulains effort he was behind Breizh Sky in the Paul de Moussac with no obvious excuse other than he was giving that rival two pounds.

Fabrice Chappet was not surprised by the outcome and said, "He's always been a good horse who we have liked for a long time. He won the Djebel nicely, missed the break in the Poulains and last time there was no pace which he really needs. That happened for him today and now he'll probably come back here in August for either the Maurice de Gheest or Jacques le Marois."

The G1 Poule d'Essai des Poulaches third Sauterne, whose only poor run had come in the course-and-distance G3 Prix Imprudence, recorded a career-best with another heart-on-her-sleeve performance. After killing off the main British and Irish contingent in Chaldean, Meditate (Ire) (No Nay Never) and Charyn (Ire) (Dark Angel {Ire}) who all followed her in the five-strong separate group up the centre, she lost out only to the winner who had raced away from her.

Sauterne's trainer Patrice Cottier, who had enjoyed a red-letter day at Saint-Cloud on Saturday as Horizon Dore (Fr) (Dabirsim {Fr}) captured the G2 Prix Eugene Adam, paid tribute to the Marseille-based teak-tough filly who was having her ninth start since debuting in late November. "I'm delighted with the performance--she never runs a bad race and has been so consistent. She's been travelling a lot back and forth, so we'll see how she is after this before deciding on where she goes next."

Alessandro Botti said of Breizh Sky, "Unfortunately, he was a little too far back and had too much ground to make up, but all things considered put in another excellent performance."

Pedigree Notes

Good Guess, who was a 420,000gns purchase from the Cheveley Park Stud draft by Chauvigny Global Equine at the 2021 Book 1 Sale, is a half-brother to the operation's Spangled (GB) (Starspangledbanner {Aus}) who was also at her best over this trip when winning the G3 Sceptre S. He is currently the last known foal out of the dam Zykina (GB) (Pivotal {GB}), who also produced the listed-placed sprinter Jumira Bridge (GB) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}) and is a daughter of the aforementioned G1 1000 Guineas, G1 Coronation S., G1 Nassau S. and G1 Lockinge S. heroine Russian Rhythm.

That Cheveley Park luminary's listed-placed Safina (GB) was also by Pivotal and is in turn responsible for last year's G3 Atalanta S. scorer Potapova (GB) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}) and the G3 Fred Darling S. winner Marenko (GB) (Exceed And Excel {Aus}).

Russian Rhythm is also the second dam of Pivotal's G3 Princess Elizabeth S. winner Bashkirova (GB) and the fellow group 3 scorer Zonderland (GB) (Dutch Art {GB}). This is the family of the G1 Irish Oaks winner Alydaress (Alydar), the G1 Moyglare Stud S. heroine and excellent producer Park Appeal (Ire) (Ahonoora {GB}) with her renowned son Cape Cross (Ire), and of the G1 1000 Guineas-winning champion Shadayid (Shadeed).

While the big National Hunt trainers will doubtless be on the horse who races, like the entire Kennedy string, in the colours of his wife Emma, the breeder is keen not to pigeon-hole the Awtaad (Ire) gelding as a jumping prospect.

"He's got something about him," Kennedy said. "If he was mine, I'd keep him on the Flat but I've no doubt that some of the jumping men will be interested in him as well. He could do either job."

A native of Tipperary, Kennedy spent 17 years in finance, which may explain the commercial aspect to his endeavors as an owner-breeder. He keeps 24 mares in partnership with investor John Wall at his farm in Cashel with an emphasis on producing the more stoutly-bred runners.

To that extent, Kennedy is something of a rare breed. Even rarer still is the amount of success he has enjoyed from that relatively small broodmare band. Dermot Weld's 2010 Irish 1,000 Guineas winner Bethrah (Ire) (Marju {Ire}) is a graduate from the farm as is Aidan O'Brien's 2013 Irish Oaks runner-up Venus De Milo (Ire) (Duke Of Marmalade {Ire}). Cont. p5

Ethical Diamond | Racingfotos.com

It's very much quality over quantity at Stanley Lodge Stud, managed by Nick Cope, and while Kennedy does not have anything remaining from Bethrah's family, he does have a full-sister to Venus De Milo who is more than pulling her weight.

He explained, "We try to produce really nice Flat horses. We are not as interested in producing the earlier type of horses. I've been very fortunate to breed a Classic winner and a Classic-placed filly. If Ethical Diamond was a filly, I wouldn't dream of selling him but, because he's a gelding, he's in the sales.

"I've raced a few fillies over the past few years and they have done well for us. We've had Noble Music (Ger) (Sea The Moon {Ger}), Best On Stage (Ger) (Pastorius {Ger}) and Foxtrot Liv (GB) (Foxwedge {Aus}), so we keep some of those fillies. We have to be commercial, too, and if the right offer is made, we'll listen. But generally, if I have a nice middle-distance filly, I'm inclined to try and hold onto her."

On his commercial approach to the operation, he added, "I can't put it in the leisure-only category just yet. I wish I could! If we were rich enough for that, it would be great, but the whole thing has to wash its face.

"Over the past few years, we weeded out some of the mares who weren't cutting it and brought in some new ones, so we're up to 24 mares between myself and my business partner John Wall. We try to keep the quality up as best we can."

Kennedy owns Pearl Diamond (Ger) (Areion {Ger}), the dam of Ethical Diamond, outright himself. She wasn't deemed good enough to be put in partnership with Wall and, after Ethical Diamond—the third of her three foals—arrived, a decision was made to press pause.

He explained, "Pearl Diamond has nothing else on the ground. Her first foal was by Dandy Man (Ire) but didn't turn out to be much good and the Fast Company (Ire) filly [Actually (Ire)] showed ability with Mick Mulvany.

THREE STAKES VICTORIES
WITH A NEW GROUP 1 SUCCESS

GOOD GUESS (3C Kodiak)

wins the Gr.1 Prix Jean Prat at Deauville providing owner Hisaaki Saito with his first success at this level.

SIVKA BURKA (3F Siyouni)

They join 2023 Group 1 performer and Group 3 winner CROWN PRINCESSE (3F Zarak) and take the stable earnings to over 1.3€M in 2023.

Fabrice Chappet +33 6 07 69 59 19
www.chappetracing.com

"But sometimes, with these little projects of my own, I like to take a few foals off the mares and see how they go and then leave the mare quiet for a couple of seasons. That way, if she earns it, she gets a nice cover. If not, we move them on."

Pearl Diamond has certainly earned that cover.

"It's looking that way now," Kennedy replies. "We'll see how this fella gets on but I wouldn't be averse to going back to Awtaad because he definitely gets you a nice horse with the right ground. There is a lot of quality in them and, from the stock that we have produced by Awtaad, I like them."

The Kennedy colours have been carried by plenty of nice fillies in recent seasons. Best On Stage did well for Paddy Twomey while Noble Music is the most successful mare that the family had in training in France with Jerome Reynier.

There isn't much fat on this operation. Every part of the outfit plays an important role, right down to the handful of handicappers that are kept in training with O'Meara.

Kennedy said, "We have a pre-training facility for the yearlings who don't sell and there's a few handicappers there as well to bring the younger horses along.

We run the handicappers and Micahel has been doing a very good job for us.

"Michael and I were in school together, he was in class with my brother, so I have known him for a long time. He pre-trained Foxtrot Liv before she went to Paddy Twomey and he did the same thing for Raven's Cry (Ire) (Raven's Pass).

"I felt that Michael deserved a chance with a couple of the older handicappers to basically have those at home. They do two jobs; one, they bring on the younger guns and two, they give us all a bit of amusement at home. Take for example Bobby K, he's named after our little boy."

When it came to naming the horse, our little boy wasn't well at the time, so we called the horse after him and it has given him an interest in the horse. He's a pet and will be around the farm for as long as he wants to be here. Myself and Emma have three kids."

The expectation is that Ethical Diamond, who commanded wildcard status after his taking Limerick performance, will earn Kennedy's operation a pretty penny and help sustain the production of the high-class middle-distance fillies he so craves.

But make no mistake, it is not just Kennedy who will get a great kick out of next week's sale, as he has built up a huge team of people that have helped make all this possible.

"I'd love to tell you it's a massively profitable business and that everyone should be doing it but I can't. We try to run it lean and tight and, as we are producing the seven-furlong plus type of horses, we can do a lot of the work at home with them and there is no rush to be sending them off to the trainers before they have to."

He added, "Nick Cope runs Stanley Lodge Stud and is very forward-thinking. He's one of the younger crew and is definitely well-connected in that area and has a very good eye for a horse. "To be fair, we've a very good team in Cashel as well. That's where we have the breeding stock."

"Michael has built up a nice team and has some excellent riders, too. Jamie-Lee Gonet is an apprentice jockey based with Micahel and she gets plenty of opportunities there as well."

"I must say, Billy Lee has been a major help to us. He rode Ethical Diamond as a two-year-old and told us that he had plenty of ability but to be patient and to give him time. He was dead right and hopefully the horse goes on to sell well next week."

SPYCATCHER TOO GOOD FOR DEAUVILLE RIVALS by Sean Cronin

In-form trainer Karl Burke is firing in winners from all angles, having done so all season, and added yet another pattern-race triumph to his burgeoning tally after Highclere Thoroughbred Racing's Spycatcher (Ire) (Vadamos {Fr}--Damask {Ire}, by Red Clubs {Ire}) scooted clear of toiling rivals in Sunday's G3 Prix de Ris-Orangis at Deauville.

Last term's Listed Kachy S. victor lined up returning off a narrow second in this month's G3 Hoppings S. at Newcastle and found cover in midfield after the initial strides of this straight six-furlong test.

Last to come off the bridle after halfway, the 5-2 joint-favourite quickened stylishly for control approaching the final furlong and surged clear under continued urging in the closing stages to easily outpoint last year's runner-up Batwan (Fr) (Kendargent {Fr}) by three lengths for a career best.

BUKHARA POUNCES LATE TO SNAG

MAGDEBURG FEATURE by Sean Cronin

Darius Racing's 4-year-old colt Bukhara (Ger) (Isfahan {Ger}--Baila Morena {Ger}, by Samum {Ger}), sporting the operation's alternate silks, failed in three prior outings at pattern-race level and made the transition with a last-gasp lunge in Magdeburg's G3 Grosser Preis der Neumann Unternehmensgruppe. The 12-1 chance's previous best effort in black-type company was a third in last term's Listed Grafenberger Derby-Trial trial and he went postward for this Herrenkrug venue's seasonal highlight coming back off a fifth in Rome's May 21 G3 Premio Carlo d'Alessio.

Bukhara raced off the pace in seventh for the most part and was nudged along to reduce arrears rounding the home turn. Making headway in the straight, he switched off heels into an open lane approaching the final furlong and was relentless under a continued drive in the latter stages to nail Aemilianus (Ger) (Holy Roman Emperor (Ire)) by a head on the line.

Isfahan | Scoop Dyga

"Wow, this is exactly what we needed after the disappointing runs of Straight and Sirjan in the [Deutsches] Derby," said Darius Racing's racing manager Holger Faust. "Bukhara actually marks the sixth individual Group winner bred by Gestut Karlshof this season. We had always targetted this race for Bukhara and his preparation went accordingly. He could now go to Deauville or Baden-Baden." Winning rider Clement Lecoivre added, "They went a good pace up front, so I just sat behind and waited. He quickened well in the straight, he was the best at the finish and his future looks good."

Pedigree Notes

Bukhara becomes the third pattern-race winner for her sire and the first produced by an unraced full-sister to G1 Preis von Europa victrix Baila Me (Ger) (Samum {Ger}) and G1 Prix Royal-Oak heroine Be Fabulous (Ger) (Samum {Ger}). Be Fabulous, in turn, is the dam of stakes-winning G2 Grand Prix de Chantilly runner-up Sublimis (Ire) (Shamardal), stakes-winning G2 Prix de Chaudenay second Lillian Russell (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}) and Listed Prix Gold River third L'Absolue (GB) (Shamardal).

Beauvatiér | Scoop Dyga

Yann Barberot trainee Beauvatiér (Fr) (Lope De Vega {Ire}--Enchanting Skies {Ire}, by Sea The Stars {Ire}) was two-for-two heading into Deauville's Listed Prix Roland de Chambure and remained on a roll after notching a 1 1/4-length success in the seven-furlong test. He became the 12th 'TDN Rising Star' for his sire (by Shamardal) in a May 9 five-furlong newcomers' test at Chantilly and doubled his haul later that month, upped to six furlongs at Saint-Cloud, with a defeat of 'TDN Rising Star' and subsequent G3 Prix du Bois victrix Ramatuelle (Justify) when last seen.

Beauvatiér, now owned by Haras d'Etreham in partnership with Philippe Allaire, was steadied to track the leaders in third after a slick break in this black-type bow and gathered together in readiness for his bid once turning for home. Angled outside for a clear run with 350 metres remaining, the 3-5 pick quickened in impressive fashion to seize control entering the final furlong and coasted to the line in the closing stages to easily withstand the late threat of Zabiari (GB) (Wootton Bassett {GB}) for a career high.

"This horse has really a big engine and he didn't even have to extend himself to win," claimed Barberot. "When Maxime [Guyon] switched him out, he settled the issue within two strides. My concern is that the horse lacks some strength and I would like to see him change physically, to grow and strengthen up. This is why I will give him a small break now and hope that it will do him some good. He will return in September for the [Sept. 3 G3] Prix La Rochette [at ParisLongchamp]."

Beauvatier, a €160,000 Arqana August purchase and half to a yearling filly by Siyouni {Fr}}, is the first of two foals produced by Listed Prix de Thiberville runner-up Enchanting Skies (Ire) (Sea The Stars {Ire}}, herself a sale-topping €500,000 Baden-Baden September yearling in 2016. The February-foaled dark bay's dam is one of four stakes performers out of Listed Kolner Fruhjahrs-Stuten-Preis third Estefania (Ger) (Acatenango {Ger}), headed by G1 Preis von Europa victor Empoli (Ger) (Halling). Estefania, in turn, is out of a half-sister to multiple Group 1-winning G2 German 1000 Guineas and G2 Preis der Diana (German Oaks) heroine Elle Danzig (Ger) (Roi Danzig). Beauvatier becomes Lope De Vega's 113th stakes winner.

Sivka Burka, who bagged her second win in a May 30 Angers conditions heat when last seen, continued her rapid rise with a battling victory in this first stakes outing. Comfortable up front until beyond halfway, she appeared vulnerable when threatened by Fancy Me approaching inside the final quarter-mile and found plenty under a continued drive in the latter stages to hold on in game fashion.

Sivka Burka becomes the 70th black-type winner for her sire (by Pivotal {GB}) and the first produced by a half-sister to Listed Beckford S. victrix and G2 Park Hill S. runner-up Aljezeera (GB) (Frankel {GB}). Making her black-type breakthrough in ParisLongchamp's Listed Prix de la Cochere in September, Gregarina followed success in that mile contest with a third in the G3 Premio Elena e Sergio Cumani at the San Siro the following month but had been off the board in two starts this term and needed a revival. That came this day via a masterclass from Cristian Demuro, who was at pains to contain her enthusiasm as he anchored her at the back in the early stages before launching her on the wing to overhaul Brazilian Surprise in the last 100 metres.

Enthusiasm is something this family trades in big time, with the winner's half-brother Gagarin's Moon (Fr) (Sea The Moon {Ger}) the architect of a dramatic all-the-way 30-length demolition of ParisLongchamp's Prix de la Glaciere conditions event last month. Her full-sister Gain It (GB) was labelled a TDN Rising Star with her stirring effort last July before failing to build on that when fourth in two group 3 contests.
