

“BEST OF BOTH WORLDS”: MOTT AT HOME AT SARATOGA

Bill Mott watches Cody's Wish graze Wednesday morning at Saratoga
Sarah Andrew

by Mike Kane

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. - When three veteran turf writers approached him at his Saratoga barn last week, Hall of Fame trainer Bill Mott impishly decided to reverse roles. Before the journalists were able to offer more than a hello, Mott started asking pretty much the same questions he knew were coming his way.

For several seconds, the interviewee was the light-hearted interviewer.

Mott knows the drill. He has been training horses since he was a teenager in Mobridge, South Dakota, was inducted into the National Museum of Racing's Hall of Fame at the age of 45--the youngest flat trainer in history--in 1998, and in the 25 years since has further burnished his reputation as one of the Thoroughbred racing's all-time greats. Equibase stats show him ranked fourth in career purse earnings with $330,933,373 and eighth in victories with 5,323. The great Cigar delivered 19 of those wins--16 in a row--and $9,999,815 in earnings to those totals in the mid-1990s.

With a crew of accomplished stakes runners, Mott will once again be a major player during the 155th summer of racing in Saratoga that starts Thursday.

While Cody's Wish (Curlin), who is being considered for the GI Whitney S. on Aug. 5, may have the highest profile at the moment, he is not the only star in Mott's barn located next to the Oklahoma training track. Also in residence along the shedrow are champion sprinter Elite Power (Curlin) and multiple graded stakes winners Casa Creed (Jimmy Creed), Frank's Rockette (Into Mischief), War Like Goddess (English Channel), Art Collector (Bernardini), and Caramel Swirl (Union Rags). Graded stakes winners Poppy Flower (Lea) and Wakanaka (Ire) (Power {GB}) are still at Belmont Park. Art Collector is the only one not being pointed to a Saratoga start.

After stepping back into his familiar role of talking about his horses and upcoming races, Mott acknowledged that he was upbeat and ready for the upcoming season.

"I am, all the time. I don't panic as much as I used to. I don't get the anxiety that I used to have," he said.

"I'm excited and I'm looking forward to it. There was a point when I thought I had to be leading trainer here. It's like, 'Oh, I was leading trainer last year. I've got to do it again.' I don't feel that. I just hope each individual horse does well."

Mott saddled his first horse at Saratoga in 1984, has been at the meet every year since 1987 and won or shared the training title nine times between 1992 and 2007.

These days he often finishes third behind the dominant duo of Todd Pletcher and Chad Brown.

"Naturally, I don't have quite as many as some of them," Mott said. "I have a large stable. I have the same large stable, like I used to have, but some of these guys have got huge stables."

Last year, he was fifth in wins with 16 from 114 starters. Cont.

Brown snagged the title with 42 wins from 197 starts and Pletcher was next with 38 wins from 159 starters. With Olympiad (Speightstown)'s victory in the $1-million GI Jockey Club Gold Cup, Mott finished third in purse earnings with his personal best of $3,262,117.

Godolphin homebred Cody's Wish could give Mott his first victory in the $1-million Whitney. The 4-year-old colt has won six in a row and nine of 10 starts since breaking his maiden in October 2021. In his most recent start, Cody's Wish won the GI Hill 'n' Dale Metropolitan Mile H. at Belmont Park. He has proved effective at two turns, winning the GI Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile in November. Mott said the challenge will be the distance, to see if he can stretch out a bit more and continue his dominant run at 1 1/8 miles.

Art Collector Wednesday morning | Sarah Andrew

"He has not won at nine furlongs," Mott said. "We know what he can do at a mile. Now older and more experienced, seasoned, maybe the mile and an eighth is more within his reach."

Mott is leaning toward the Whitney because he doesn't have any other options on the Saratoga schedule. He is not interested in running Cody's Wish in the six-furlong GI Alfred G. Vanderbilt on July 29--his 70th birthday--as it is Elite Power's preferred distance. The more suitable seven-furlong GI Forego S., which Cody's Wish won last year, is on Aug. 26

"That's a long way, a long time to wait," Mott said. "You kind of get forced into thinking about other things. If they had a flat mile race here that was a million dollars, we'd be looking at that but they don't have it. The Whitney is one of the two more prestigious races they run up here and he is a possible to run in it."

Mott has won 464 races in 2,646 starts and earned $41,065,994 in purses at Saratoga. According to Equibase, he has 91 stakes victories at the Spa. Since he notched his first graded stakes win at Saratoga in 1990 with Chief Honcho in the GI Jim Dandy, his horses have prevailed in 29 different graded stakes with a total of 65 winners. Twenty-five have been in GI races.

Despite all that success in Saratoga, Mott has yet to win either the Whitney or the GI Travers S. He is 0-for-11 in the Whitney with three seconds. In the Travers, he has two seconds in 10 starts.

War Like Goddess trains Wednesday at the Spa | Sarah Andrew

Through the years he has won the GI National Museum of Racing and Hall of Fame S. and the GI Glens Falls S. seven times each, the GI Fourstardave H. and the GI Bernard Baruch H. five times each and the GI Diana S. and the Jim Dandy four times. Since being hired as Bert and Diana Firestone's trainer in 1987, he has had at least one graded stakes win in 34 of 36 seasons at Saratoga.

Casa Creed will be Mott's first stakes runner of the meet in Saturday's GIII Kelso S., formerly run as the Forbidden Apple. He picked up his third Saratoga win last year in the Fourstardave. Mott said that Poppy Flower and Wakanaka could run in the GIII Caress S. on July 22. Cont.

Frank's Rockette is preparing for the GII Honorable Miss H. on July 26. War Like Goddess is headed to the Glens Falls on Aug. 3, a race she has won the last two summers. Caramel Swirl may make her next start in the GI Ballerina on Aug. 26.

In the early 1980s, Mott was based at Churchill Downs and had emerged as a top, young trainer. He recalls that it took some courage to make his first venture to Saratoga in 1984.

"Absolutely," he said. "It was to see the people that were here and who you're running against and everything. Yeah, it was a big deal to me. It was a big deal."

That summer he picked up three seconds in seven starts. The next year, he brought four horses and each of them ended up second. He skipped 1986 and in 1987 made his first trip to the winner's circle.

For many years, Mott has been based in Saratoga from April to November when the training track is open. His main barn was once used by Hall of Famer MacKenzie Miller.

"This is actually home, and I wouldn't want to do it any other way," he said. "At this moment. I think I've got the best of both worlds right now. I have no complaints."

CLOSING ACT LOOKS TO BRING CURTAIN DOWN IN SCHUYLerville

Clarence and Dorothy Scharbauer built Valor Farm outside of Dallas 30 years ago after Dorothy and their daughter Pam campaigned Hall of Famer Alysheba in the late 1980s.

Their son Doug continues the blue-and-white silk tradition as his unbeaten homebred Closing Act (Munnings) takes on 10 other 2-year-old fillies in Thursday's GIII Schuylerville S. on opening day at Saratoga. The Steve Asmussen trainee, listed at 10-1 on the morning line, is coming off her first stakes win in the Astoria S. June 11 at Belmont Park after breaking her maiden at first asking May 11 at Churchill Downs.

David Aragona's morning-line favorite at 5-2 is MKW Racing's Wine On Tap (Tapit). The $600,000 Keeneland September yearling purchase won by three lengths in her debut June 18 at Belmont. The gray filly, ridden by Irad Ortiz, Jr., is looking to give trainer Todd Pletcher his seventh victory in the race.

Another entrant of note is Saratoga Secret (Arrogate). The $200,000 Fasig-Tipton Saratoga Yearling graduate won her lone race June 3 at Ellis Park by three lengths. She will look to get her picture taken for Hall of Fame trainer D. Wayne Lukas, who is seeking his first Schuylerville win since 2004.

FEDERAL JUDGE SAYS NO TO LATEST HISA INJUNCTION ATTEMPT by T.D. Thornton

The most recent of five separate legal attempts within the past two years to derail the Horseracing Integrity and Safety Act (HISA) via alleged constitutionality claims hit a roadblock Tuesday when a federal judge in Arkansas denied a motion for a preliminary injunction that sought to halt HISA's oversight and its Anti-Doping and Medication Control (ADMC) program.

The plaintiffs, led by Bill Walmsley, president of the Arkansas Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association (HBPA), and Jon Moss, the executive director of the Iowa HBPA, had asked a judge in United States District Court (Eastern District of Arkansas, Northern Division) on Apr. 6 to declare HISA unlawful.

The defendants in the case, who are executives with the HISA Authority and the Federal Trade Commission (FTC), had argued in court filings back on May 15 that no injunction was necessary.

"The balance of harms and the public interest also weigh heavily against disrupting a federal regulatory scheme that Congress has mandated (twice) and that has enjoyed substantial compliance already," the HISA Authority's filing stated. "This Court should deny Plaintiffs' motion for a preliminary injunction."

The HISA Authority's opposition brief also stated that the plaintiffs in this case, much like those in the other four cases recently decided or under appeal in the federal court system, represent only "a faction of the industry long opposed to any change" who continue to "search for a favorable forum" by essentially making similar arguments in front of different judges.

Both Walmsley and Moss are already involved as parties who have taken various legal actions in three of the other four anti-HISA cases.

The HBPA-affiliated plaintiffs wrote in their complaint back in April that HISA "barely pretends to comply with the Constitution's separation of powers. The Act allows a private corporation to issue binding rules with no guiding principle. The FTC's ostensible oversight serves as a mere mirage."

Judge James Moody, Jr.'s decision on July 11 to deny the motion was made during a court hearing on the injunction. He did not articulate in writing his reasons for the denial. Instead, he simply stated in a docket entry, "After argument from counsel, the Court DENIES Plaintiffs' MOTION for Preliminary Injunction, for the reasons stated on the record."

The lawsuit itself is separate from the shot-down injunction motion, so the overall case remains active.

At the time of the lawsuit's filing more than two months ago, the ADCM program was not yet in effect, but it has since been rolled out as of May 22.

In the seven weeks since the ADCM program has been operational, TDN has reported on problematic aspects of HISA's new method of drug enforcement. Among the issues have been how provisional suspensions are handled and rules on intra-articular joint injections.

TDN just this week began publishing a routinely updated Q&A page related to HISA and its rules that will attempt to supply answers to common questions as new issues crop up.

ANDY SERLING JOINS THE TDN WRITERS' ROOM

Andy Serling; click to watch the podcast | Adam Coglianese

With Saratoga opening, NYRA TV Analyst and Handicapper Andy Serling will be ultra busy over the next seven plus weeks, spending countless hours on every card as he tries to pick winners and give his viewers valuable betting advice. But he's not complaining. It's hard to imagine anyone who loves Saratoga more. To talk about the meet, Serling joined the team on this week's TDN Writers' Room podcast presented by Keeneland. Serling, who has been attending the meet on a regular basis since 1975, was the Green Group Guest of the Week.

When asked if Saratoga will surpass last year's record when $878 million was bet on the meet, Serling said it all depends on the weather. Only 17 races were taken off the turf last year.

"You don't want to sit around and say we're going to do as well or better than we did last year because weather is going to play a major role in that," Serling said. "But I don't see anything happening that's going to severely negatively affect us. There are weather situations where it rains a decent amount and it's especially a problem if it happens on Saturdays. But other than that, there's a great interest in Saratoga. It remains a place that people just love to go to. So there's no reason not to be optimistic or hopeful that things will go well. But you don't want to get caught up in that because we're geniuses when the weather's good and we're idiots when the weather's bad." Cont.

Serling continued: "Saratoga is a magical place and it seems to continue to do well regardless of what the environment is."

One race he will be keeping his eye on is the one for the riding title. Irad Ortiz, Jr. was an easy winner last year, but it was his brother, Jose, who won the title at the Belmont spring meet.

"I think it's a very friendly rivalry between Jose and Irad," he said. "Irad has won four of the last eight and Jose has won three of them. To suggest it's not likely to come down to these two guys is unlikely. Now, this is the first full summer that Jose has been with agent Steve Rushing. He was with Jimmy Riccio before. I wouldn't count Luis Saez out because he's been riding at Churchill and if some of these Churchill trainers do well that he's riding for I think he will have a chance to win it for the second time. Flavien Prat, Joel Rosario are guys who have a chance. I just don't know that they'll get the same kind of mounts to be able to win a jockey title. They might win a lot of stakes. They might win bigger races, but it's tough to go past the two Ortiz brothers."

As for the trainers, it appears this will be another year where the race comes down to Chad Brown and Todd Pletcher.

"It's going to probably come down to those two guys, Todd and Chad, and it'll probably hinge really on how many good 2-year-olds they have, how many maiden races they win," Serling said. "Pletcher is capable and we've seen in the past his winning a boatload of maiden races. If he doesn't, he's not going to compete for the title. But the other thing is that one thing that Todd is exceptionally good at is being prepared for off the turf. Todd is usually in there with somebody and it's something that he usually has an advantage on. Chad's strength is often turf racing. So if we get a lot of rain, they come off the turf, it's going to cost Chad."

Elsewhere on the podcast, which is also sponsored by the Pennsylvania Horse Breeders Association, Kentucky Thoroughbred Owners and Breeders, NYRABets.com, WinStar Farm, XBTv.com and West Point Thoroughbreds, the team of Bill Finley, Randy Moss and Zoe Cadman talked about what was a rocky week for the Horseracing Integrity and Safety Authority (HISA) and whether or not the way it and the Horseracing Integrity and Welfare Unit (HIWU) has been dealing with those who had positive tests for banned substances is a case of "guilty until proven innocent." There was a review of last week's big races, including the win by Reincarnate (Good Magic) in the Los Alamitos Derby. The team also focused on the story of jockey 61-year-old Cindy Murphy. Murphy won the July 8 GIII Iowa Oaks aboard Crypto Mo (Mohaymen), which was both her 2,000th career victory and her first-ever win in a graded stakes race.

CROSS-BREED PICK 4 TO DEBUT FRIDAY

Penn National | B&D Photography

Penn National has teamed up with the Meadows harness track on a weekly Pick 4 that will be among the first wagers to combine Standardbred and Thoroughbred racing. Both Pennsylvania tracks are owned by PENN Entertainment.

The experiment will kick off Friday and will run through Aug. 25. The bet will be available on Fridays only.

"My counterpart, Scott Lishia from the Meadows, reached out to me in early May with the idea of a cross-breed Pick 4, in an effort to get our respective fans interested in each other's live racing product," said Eric Johnston, Director of Racing Operations at Penn National Race Course. "I thought it was a great idea and with a little team work, we could gather some attention for both Penn Entertainment and Pennsylvania racing."

The takeout on the bet will be 12%.

"The goal is to create some interest in our products and to try something a little different," Lishia said. "With Penn National and the Meadows both doing Friday evenings in the summer it seemed like it may be worth a shot and Eric was on board. We wanted to keep the takeout low and Eric suggested the 12%, which, hopefully entices players to take a shot."

Horizontal wagers combining more than one racetrack is not something that is new. NYRA's Cross Country Pick 5 combines NYRA races with those from other tracks. But using two breeds is relatively rare. On occasion, NYRA has used harness races from the Meadowlands in the Cross Country Pick 5 and Monmouth and the Meadowlands used to offer bets that involved both the Hambletonian and the GI Haskell S.

A little more than four years ago, horse racing returned to the Commonwealth of Virginia and Colonial Downs for the first time since 2014. Under the leadership of then track Vice President Jill Byrne--one of Virginia's own--the track staged racing three days a week for about a month and since then, the meet has expanded both in terms of length and in terms of popularity among the betting public.

*In August 2019, Ben Massam drew on his Virginian roots--Ben was a championship-caliber track and field athlete at the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg--to write a piece that was part history lesson, part trip down memory lane and 100% from the heart, as that was Ben's forte. Cont.

Even deep into a battle with cancer, he found the courage and energy to treat our readers to one final helping of his talents. Ben sadly passed away on Breeders' Cup weekend in 2019, taken far too soon at just 31.*

On the occasion of the opening of the 2023 season at Colonial, we thought we would honor Ben's memory by reprinting his story from Aug. 7, 2019, one more time. We hope you enjoy it as much as we all do.

COLONIAL DOWNS REVIVAL ADDS LATEST HOOFPRIINT TO STORIED VIRGINIA LEGACY

by Ben Massam

For many, the impending return of structured racing to Virginia at Colonial Downs in New Kent evokes stirring memories of a horse culture firmly embedded in the Commonwealth's history. On a personal level, I cannot help but harken back to my days as a track and field athlete at the College of William and Mary in the heart of Colonial Williamsburg, when I would routinely pair 18-mile training days with evening trips to a musty OTB down the road in Hampton to bet Penn National and Charles Town. I'd often drag my teammates with me in hopes of sparking their interest in a game I developed a passion for early in life.

Little did I know at the time, but back in Williamsburg, the origins of Virginia's horse racing tradition were right beneath our feet. Quarterpath Road, a heavily wooded trail situated on the southeast edge of town--and the nexus of one of our most popular running routes--was the location of some of the first organized horse racing during the colonial era. The events would command the attention of the entire town, often taking place over the span of a week and sometimes lasting up to four miles in duration (although the "Quarterpath" name is a nod to the short sprints that were also conducted on the grounds). Match races were common, and the purse money was put forth by race participants.

A 1989 article in the Hampton Roads Daily Press notes, "Nothing remains of the local track where George Washington and others watched the races, except the name 'Quarterpath Road' on the east end of Williamsburg. There, on a narrow road lined by modest houses, Tidewater planters raced horses."

A circular mile-long track was eventually developed in the vicinity and by the mid-1730s, race meets were being held every Saturday from spring through fall. As the colonial era drew to a close, even visitors who were well-acquainted with the English turf were impressed by the quality of the Thoroughbreds competing in Williamsburg's races.

"Very capital horses are started here, such as would make no despicable figure at Newmarket," observed J.F.D. Smyth in his travelogue A Tour in the United States of America. "Nor is their speed, bottom or blood inferior to their appearance; the gentlemen of Virginia sparing no pains, trouble or expense in importing the best stock, and improving the excellence of the breed by proper and judicious crossing."

Racing, in fact, became so popular in Williamsburg that students at William and Mary had to be issued a warning about training racehorses. While the College's founder and first president James Blair was a known supporter of racing, the faculty was eventually compelled to clamp down on students as race meets were continually held in their backyards.

"No scholar belonging to any school in the College, of what age, rank, or quality, [what]soever, [should] keep any race horse at the College, in the town--or any where in the neighborhood," the William and Mary administration cautioned. "[They should] not in any way [be] concerned in making races, or in backing or abetting those made by others; and all race horses kept in the neighborhood of the College, and belonging to any of the scholars, [should] be immediately dispatched and sent off and never again brought back."

When considering the history of the Thoroughbred in Virginia, many minds gravitate to the legendary career of Virginia-foaled Secretariat and his iconic owner Penny Chenery. Or perhaps one conjures images of the quaint and enduring steeplechase tradition in the northern reaches of the Commonwealth. These are the bonds that tether Virginia's horse culture from the colonial era to the present day.

The latest incarnation of racing in Virginia comes thanks to the initiative of a new ownership group at Colonial Downs in Rosie's Gaming, with a generous purse structure, low takeout, evening post times and the lure of a lush, wide turf course adding to the appeal. Cont.

Colonial Downs | Coady

Vice President Jill Byrne--a native Virginian who grew up riding racehorses in Montpelier--noted the significance of the track ending a six-year hiatus of flat racing in Virginia.

"Being part of this comes with a great sense of pride in the state that I call home," said Byrne. "Thoroughbred racing in the United States started in Virginia when they came to the shores here, and it's had a very long history. Racing was dormant for six years in a place where it has such an esteemed history and background--for it to come back is not only a big win for Virginia's Thoroughbred industry, but the Thoroughbred industry in general...It's going to revive what used to be a very robust breeding industry."

With the prospect of an expanded schedule in coming years, Colonial Downs appears here to stay, writing the latest chapter in a storied history.

"We'll definitely expand for next year, somewhere between 20 and 30 days," said Byrne, who added that the return of racing has a far-reaching impact on the local economy.

Whether it is the spirit of hot-blooded colonial steeds bounding down the streets of Williamsburg or a full field of turfers competing on the aptly named Secretariat Turf Course in New Kent, the legacy of racing in Virginia is alive and well. So I return to those long, taxing days of training on Quarterpath Road--footprints replacing hoofprints--but nevertheless indicative of a lasting connection between humans and horses in Old Dominion.

KENTUCKY DOWNS'S TURF CUP NOW WORTH $1.7 MILLION

Kentucky Downs | Coady

Kentucky Downs's GII Kentucky Turf Cup will now be worth $1.7 million in 2023, with the winner earning more than $1 million if bred in Kentucky. Even horses that aren't registered Kentucky-breds will compete for $1.3 million, the winner of the 1 1/2-mile stakes making about $800,000, the track said in a release Wednesday.

In addition, four other stakes are being raised to $1 million to bring the total of seven-figure races to 11 at the all-turf FanDuel Meet at Kentucky Downs. The most lucrative meet in North America--including the biggest maiden purses in the world at $150,000 for Kentucky-breds--runs Aug. 31 and Sept. 2, 3, 7, 9, 10 and 13.

The Kentucky Turf Cup's $1.7 million purse includes $400,000 from the Kentucky Thoroughbred Development Fund (KTDF), which provides purse supplements to registered Kentucky-breds. The Turf Cup also is a Breeders' Cup Challenge Series race, meaning its winner gets a fees-paid spot in the $4 million Longines GI Breeders' Cup Turf at Santa Anita.

"We want to provide horse owners a shot to where winning and even hitting the board goes a long way on the balance sheet in a challenging industry where the payoff more often is thrills than profit," said Ron Winchell, co-managing partner of Kentucky Downs and The Mint Gaming Hall properties with Marc Falcone. "This should grab people's attention, and we hope it pushes our four Grade II stakes over the finish line to be awarded Grade I status for 2024."

TRAINER DAVID VANCE RETIRES

David Vance | Coady

Veteran trainer David Vance, one of the fixtures on the Kentucky and Arkansas racing circuits, has announced his retirement following a 58-year career.

"It's been a great run but I've decided it's time to retire," Vance said. "Horse racing is in my blood and it's all I've known my entire life. I've told myself I'd train as long as I physically could and now is the time to retire. I'm proud our family will remain involved in training horses with my son, Tommy, and daughter, Trisha, who are third-generation trainers."

Vance was best known as the conditioner of 2000 Champion 2-Year-Old Filly, Caressing (Honour and Glory). Owned by Vance's longtime client Carl Pollard, Caressing won the 2000 GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies en route to her season-ending championship honor. The trainer will close his career with 3,193 documented wins, which ranks 32nd all-time in North America. He is ranked 11th in all-time wins at Churchill Downs with 380.

Turning 83 in August, Vance is a lifelong horseman who began training on his own in 1965. As a teenager, Vance was a jockey and one of the leading riders in the 1950s at the now defunct Thunderbird Downs in Las Vegas. Along with his brief career in the saddle, Vance was the assistant to his father, Richard, until he started his own stable.

It didn't take long for Vance to find success as a trainer when he won his first of four Churchill Downs leading trainer titles in the 1967 Spring meet. His other three titles came in the 1980-'81 Spring meets and the 1994 Fall meet. Vance has also won multiple training titles at Garden State Park, Keystone Park and Oaklawn Park.

CAL STATE FAIR CANCELS WEEKEND RACING

Sarah Andrew

Opening weekend for Thoroughbred racing at the California State Fair's Cal Expo in Sacramento has been cancelled due to projected extreme temperatures, the California Horse Racing Board (CHRB) said in a release Wednesday. Racing was scheduled Friday-Sunday, July 14-16.

The CHRB follows an Inclement Weather Policy (IWP) which examines temperature, wind speed, and humidity to include recommendations and requirements pertaining to the heat index. The IWP lists the heat index in steps, beginning at 130, the point when some horses experience discomfort. The danger to horses increases at 150, then reaches a critical level at 180.

While the heat index is not expected to reach 150 in Sacramento this weekend, management at Cal Expo elected to cancel racing out of safety concerns and an abundance of caution. The decision was made in consultation with the CHRB and the California Authority of Racing Fairs (CARF).

"The Board commends the State Fair and CARF for putting animal welfare first," said Scott Chaney, executive director of the CHRB.

Racing at Cal Expo is currently scheduled July 21-23 and again July 28-30.

TRIUMPH WINNER? ETHICAL DIAMOND OFF TO MULLINS AFTER 320K SALE

Harold Kirk: made the trip to Newmarket especially for Ethical Diamond on behalf of Willie Mullins | Tattersalls/Laura Green

By Brian Sheerin

Hurricane Fly (Ire), Un De Sceaux (Fr), Vautour (Fr) and Faugheen (Ire). You name them, Harold Kirk has bought them. But did the leading bloodstock agent snap up the next jumps star to join Ireland's dominant champion National Hunt handler Willie Mullins?

Ethical Diamond (Ire) (Awtaad {Ire}) was the only reason that Kirk travelled to the Tattersalls July Sale this week and he wasn't leaving without a horse he spoke of as being a future Melbourne Cup prospect.

That is the esteem the leading judge held Michael O'Meara's recent Limerick winner in and he was prepared to push the boat out at 320,000gns to secure the 3-year-old (lot 516A).

"He's going to Willie Mullins for an existing client to be a dual-purpose horse," Kirk said. "He'll go hurdling now and hopefully he will come back and be a very good staying Flat horse as well. He's a new horse, he's only had three runs and he has improved with every run. He's a gorgeous horse and he stays well. He won very well at Limerick and he travels well as well. We hope he'll make up into a Melbourne Cup horse on the Flat one day." Cont. p3

NEWMARKET: "THERE'S PLENTY LEFT THERE." JULY FESTIVAL OPENS WITH ADAYAR IN THE PRINCESS OF WALES'S

by Tom Frary

Seemingly banging his head against the wall over a mile and a quarter, Adayar (Ire) (Frankel {GB}) is back at the Derby trip and back into his comfort zone in Thursday's four-runner G2 Princess of Wales's S. on day one of Newmarket's July Festival. Not seen at 12 furlongs since following his Blue Riband triumph with another in the G1 King George VI and Queen Elizabeth S. two years ago, Godolphin's heavyweight has given no indication in two reverses in the G1 Champion S. and G1 Prince of Wales's S. that his prowess has diminished and this poorly-contested event smacks of "confidence boost" ahead of a return to Ascot's midsummer showcase.

Such is the paucity of the opposition here, If the real Adayar doesn't turn up for whatever reason this is a "nothing" race undeserving of its history but William Buick is happy his mount still possesses that "endless power" he talked about in July 2020.

Awtaad has not had many hurdlers in his young stallion career but Mullins trained the best of them in Ascending (Ire). Although the ill-fated gelding failed to win in three starts over jumps, he finished a good fifth in this year's Triumph Hurdle at Cheltenham, and that's where Ethical Diamond will be aimed at now.

Kirk added, "I came here especially for him. I knew we would have big opposition from Australia and that's the way it turned out. But look, Australia can't buy up all the good ones and Willie likes to bring horses down there as well. Hopefully this is a horse who could one day bring us to Cheltenham and maybe even Royal Ascot.

"[Awtaad] is by Cape Cross so I don't see why he wouldn't [work] and this horse has a nice German pedigree. He looks an athletic type and I don't see why he won't do well. He's just a beautiful individual."

Owner-breeder William Kennedy and trainer Michael O'Meara were otherwise engaged at Dundalk where Bobby K, the seasoned handicapper who means so much to connections, landed his sixth race and then Roman Bull went on to complete the trifecta for connections.

Speaking from Ireland, Kennedy commented, "Today is massive for us and is the culmination of the whole team's work under Michael's direction and it paid off in the ring and on the track. I am delighted to see Willie Mullins get the horse and he will have the best of chances there. Ethical Diamond has been excellent all week at the sale for Baroda Stud, who consigned him for us, and has been so cool about everything he has faced."

He added, "I have to thank David [Cox of Baroda] for managing him so well. There is plenty of upside to the horse under both codes which gives Willie Mullins lots of options." Cont. p4

Of the 195 lots offered on day two, 173 were sold for a clearance rate of 89%. The aggregate stood at 4,059,700gns while the average was 23,466gns and the median 13,000gns.

Philip Kirby Snaps Up Joseph O'Brien-Trained Sprinter For 210k

The 105-rated Anthem National (Ire) (Dark Angel {Ire}), who was last seen finishing second to Commanche Falls (GB) (Lethal Force {Ire}) in a listed race at the Curragh for Joseph O'Brien, was knocked down to Philip Kirby for 210,000gns.

Just 24 hours after O'Brien sold Group 3 winner Basil Martini (Ire) (Starspangledbanner {Aus}) to French farm Haras du Thenney, the similarly speedy colt (lot 504) was bought to replace Kirby's Farhan (Ire) (Zoffany {Ire}), who died earlier this year.

"That's a bit more than I usually spend," Kirby joked afterwards. "We lost Farhan, owned by James Cookson, just before Royal Ascot. James wanted to replace him with a horse capable of getting to the nice days and give some good days out.

"This horse was recommended by Joseph and he looks as though he can run over five to seven furlongs, which gives us plenty of options. He only ran a few weeks ago so we will get him home, give him a couple of weeks' break and then get him out again."

The gelding was bred and owned by Noel O'Callaghan, and is out of Mountarmstrong Stud's 2014 Queen Mary S. winner Anthem Alexander (Ire) (Starspangledbanner {Aus}).

O'Shea Keeps The Landlord Happy With Jumps Prospect

Keith Bell of Elton Racing, who has horses in training with John O'Shea, identified Roaring Lion gelding Maasai Mara (GB) to go hurdling for the Gloucestershire trainer and left the sales complex a happy man after the hammer fell at 170,000gns. Maasai Mara (lot 528) won twice for John and Thady Gosden and reached a rating of 86 in eight starts.

Speaking alongside Bell, trainer O'Shea commented, "Keith is my landlord and has been for 27 years. Although I mainly train on the Flat now, Keith is a jumps man and he has had over 100 winners. We have been looking for a new horse for him for over 12 months and this is the only one we picked out here."

He added, "He ticks a lot of boxes, he gets a decent trip, he is a nice-looking horse, he goes on soft ground, and he is highly-rated. He won't run again on the Flat, we will wait now and get him schooled for a hurdles campaign in the autumn."

Classy Juvenile I Am Invictus Dubai-Bound

The Michael O'Callaghan-trained I Am Invictus (Ire) (Cotai Glory {GB}) was another to come to the sale as a wildcard and sold to Dr Khalid Sallami for 150,000gns. He will be trained Doug Watson in Dubai now. Cont. p5

Sold for 160,000gns as a breezer by Gary Halpin and Sean Davis at the Craven Sale here in April, I Am Invictus (lot 516B) ran three times for O'Callaghan and was last seen finishing a decent fourth in the G2 Railway S. behind Bucanero Fuerte (GB) (Wootton Bassett {GB}).

Sallami said, "He is strong and has good form and is still just two years old. Hopefully he will be a champion next year. I am sure, one hundred per cent, that he will be a good horse next year in Dubai."

As well as I Am Invictus, Sallami picked up a handful of horses over the past two days to continue their careers in Libya for 16,000gns or less apiece.

ZARINSK DOMINANT AGAIN IN THE BROWNSTOWN

by Tom Frary

Deadly from the front at listed or Group 3 level, Juddmonte's admirably consistent Zarinsk (GB) (Kodiac {GB}) registered a third black-type success in Wednesday's G3 Darley Irish EBF Brownstown S.

As she had in Leopardstown's Listed Ingabelle S. in September and G3 Cornelscourt S. in May, the homebred--who was only fourth in the G2 Prix de Sandringham at Chantilly last month--proved ruthless once Colin Keane had asked her to extend her lead in the straight. Giving customarily generously, the 85-40 second favourite hit the line strong with 2 1/2 lengths to spare over Cigamia (Karakontie {Jpn}) with the 6-5 favourite American Sonja (GB) (Tasleet {GB}) 1 1/4 lengths further away in third.

"She's a queen and seven furlongs around a bend is made for her," trainer Ger Lyons said. "She's honest out and is holding the yard together this year. She's not really ground-dependent, but doesn't want extremes. If you wanted to make a race for her, that was it."

Pedigree Notes

Zarinsk, who is entered in the G1 Matron S. but could be one of the operation's Euro fillies to take a starring role if switched to the States, is a daughter of the well-regarded Listed Michael Seely Memorial S. winner Pavlosk. She is in turn a full-sister to the fellow listed scorer Rostova and a half to the G3 Premio Carlo d'Alessio winner Exhibit One (Silver Hawk) who also produced the G3 Chunichi Shimbun Hai scorer Maitres d'Art (Jpn) (Zenno Rob Roy {Jpn}). Cont. p7

LION'S PRIDE A NEW TDN RISING STAR AT KEMPTON by Tom Frary

Almost a year on from the portentous debut win of Courage Mon Ami (GB) (Frankel (GB)) at Kempton, that recently-crowned king of the staying division's more fleet-footed half-brother Lion's Pride (GB) (Roaring Lion--Crimson Ribbon, by Lemon Drop Kid) surged to TDN Rising Star status at the same venue on Wednesday evening.

Having been a highly promising runner-up on debut over 10 furlongs at Newcastle in May, Anthony Oppenheimer's homebred was partnered by Robert Havlin who had also been aboard his illustrious G1 Gold Cup-winning half-sibling in that eye-catching win 10 months earlier.

Racing in the catbird seat off the slow early tempo, the 4-7 favourite showed sharp acceleration to pounce on inferior rivals two out and settle the result quickly before drawing away for a resounding three-length success from stablemate Middle Earth (GB) (Roaring Lion). Lion's Pride becomes just the second TDN Rising Star for his sire after the ultimately disappointing Lion Of War (GB).

"He's always been quite a big baby and he learned plenty at Newcastle," Havlin said. "He has a big action, so we avoided quick ground and I was impressed with the way he quickened from the two-and-a-half to the one-and-a-half today. Courage Mon Ami did everything wrong when he won here and was a work in progress and this guy is the same--he will learn and he was a different horse to the last day, so I'm sure he'll be a different horse again next time. He's got good attributes--he relaxes, has a good turn of foot and stays."

Alongside Courage Mon Ami, Crimson Ribbon is also responsible for the Listed Chalice S. winner and G3 Pinnacle S. and G3 Princess Royal S. runner-up Crimson Rosette (Ire) (Teofilo {Ire}), the Listed Girvan Waugh Randwick City S. winner and G3 Neville Sellwood S. runner-up Astronomos (GB) (New Approach {Ire}) and for Purple Ribbon (GB) (Gleneagles (Ire)), who was second in this track's Listed Wild Flower S. A full-sister to the G2 Hardwicke S. and G2 Jockey Club S. winner Bronze Cannon and the GIII My Charmer H. scorer Valiant Girl (GB), she is also a half to the G2 King Edward VII S. winner Across The Stars (Ire) (Sea The Stars (Ire)). Her unraced 2-year-old Danielle (GB) is by Cracksman (GB), while she also has a yearling filly by Golden Horn (GB) and a filly foal by Time Test (GB).

Welcome Back Nostrum

Also on the card is arguably the day's most fascinating encounter in the Listed Sir Henry Cecil S. win which Juddmonte's G3 Tattersalls S.-winning TDN Rising Star Nostrum (GB) (Kingman {GB}) stages his return having last been seen finishing third in the G1 Dewhurst S. on the Rowley Mile. European racing manager Barry Mahon said it all as he provided the pre-race lowdown. "He's still full of promise and his work at home has been good so hopefully, touch wood, we have a clear run for the rest of the season," he commented.

Also in the line-up in a race of listed status in name only are fellow TDN Rising Stars Mostabshir (GB) (Dark Angel {Ire}) and Imperial Emperor (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}), while Roger Varian's unbeaten Embesto (GB) (Roaring Lion) is also in the mix for what can be seen as a Sussex trial. Bearing in mind what Mostabshir's half-siblings Mostahdaf (Ire) (Frankel {GB}) and Nazeef (GB) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}) did at four and five, Shadwell's homebred is still in the embryo stage of his class ascent. "We just need to get on with him," Angus Gold explained. "We just need to just find his level."

Interestingly, Imperial Emperor was in action in the same course-and-distance novice last month used by connections of Baaeed (GB) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) as a stepping stone to this and Charlie Appleby is ready to see what he has in the relative of Dubawi's Ghaïyyath (Ire). "We are testing him in a race that looks to have plenty of strength in depth," he said. "We are confident going into the race, but will be a lot wiser afterwards as to where the rest of the season lies in terms of grade and trip." Cont. p9

"There's plenty left there," he said. "He was a bit slow away [at Ascot] and there were a few things in the race that possibly didn't quite suit, but he was still third and he's back running over his ideal trip."

Purosangue Ready For July Test

Having appeared a little too late to make Royal Ascot, TDN Rising Star Purosangue (GB) (Acclaim {Ire}) has his deep-end moment in the G2 Kingdom of Bahrain July S. which forms part of a two-pronged headline act on Thursday's Newmarket card. The form of his impressive Haydock debut win last month has taken knocks, so Opulence Thoroughbreds and Teme Valley's £125,000 Goffs UK Breeze-Up graduate has something to prove pitched in against Middleham Park Racing's G2 Norfolk S. runner-up Malc (GB) (Calyx {GB}). He sets the standard, while Ballydoyle are here with the Curragh maiden winner Mountain Bear (Ire) (No Nay Never) and Charlie Hills tries again with Chief

Leger Contenders Gear Up In The Bahrain Trophy

Kicking off the July Festival is the 13-furlong G3 Bahrain Trophy, with Ballydoyle's TDN Rising Star Tower Of London (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) looking poised to enter the St Leger picture now that he has got his act together. Too keen at two and on his return in the G3 Derby Trial at Leopardstown, the full-brother to the hero of the 2017 Doncaster Classic Capri (Ire) learnt plenty in the Listed King George V Cup and Down Royal's Ulster Derby last month and is probably only now ready for the kind of challenge that awaits here with the G2 Queen's Vase runner-up Saint George (GB) (Roaring Lion) lying in wait.

Weather Watch For Via Sistina As Falmouth Run Hangs In The Balance

George Boughey has announced that he will walk the July Course before letting Via Sistina (Ire) (Fastnet Rock {Aus}) take her chance in Friday's G1 Tattersalls Falmouth S. One of nine declared on Wednesday for the mile feature, the G1 Pretty Polly S. heroine needs the storms that have yet to arrive in Suffolk. "We will work as if she is running, but she needs the rain for her to run," her trainer said. "The Falmouth has always been a plan for her, as she does look very good on a straight track but softer ground is key to her. There are lots of times she could run where she will get soft ground and we are not going to do anything that is not in the best interests of the horse. We will walk the track and if it is the same as Ireland last time I imagine she will take her chance, but if it is any faster she won't."

Others in the mix for the Falmouth are last year's winner Prosperous Voyage (Ire) (Zoffany {Ire}) and fellow Ralph Beckett-trained Remarquee (GB) (Kingman {GB}), with Rob Hornby deserting the former for the G1 Coronation S. runner-up; last year's G1 Prix de Diane heroine Nashwa (GB) (Frankel {GB}) who has been supplemented; and another from the Gosdens' set-up in Juddmonte's Sandringham H. winner Coppice (GB) (Kingman {GB}) with Tom Marquand a surprise booking.

EUROPEAN NEWS

DANE O'NEILL WILL UNDERGO SURGERY FOR INJURIES SUSTAINED IN TUESDAY'S FALL

Jockey Dane O'Neill, who was unseated from his mount in a Wolverhampton handicap on Tuesday, will undergo surgery for a fractured vertebrae and ribs but is expected to make a full recovery, O'Neill's wife Laura revealed on Facebook.

O'Neill was aboard Eagle Eyed Tom (GB) (Gleneagles {Ire}) when that horse stumbled leaving the gate and appeared to clip heels before dislodging his rider, who was hospitalised following the voided race.

"Following his fall at Wolverhampton, Dane was treated on the track before being transported by the racecourse ambulance to Queen Elizabeth Hospital in Birmingham," Laura's Facebook post stated. "He had a prompt assessment including scans where a fractured thoracic vertebra and some fractured ribs were discovered.

"Dane is likely to have surgery in the next few days and the expectation is he will make a full recovery after a period of rehabilitation.

"Dane and his wife Laura would like to thank the medical staff for their care and are grateful for all the best wishes received from his friends and colleagues in racing."

O'Neill is a member of the Shadwell team and rides for them on a regular basis.

Danyah and O'Neill | Erika Rasmussen/DRC

"That's fantastic," Shadwell's racing manager Angus Gold said regarding the prognosis. "That's the only important bit--that he makes a full recovery.

"From our point of view, you hate to see that happen to anybody, but from a Shadwell perspective, he is a huge part of our operation. We are certainly going to notice his absence very strongly, but all that matters is that he gets better.

"We just wish him the speediest of recoveries and hope they operate soon, and get him back on track. As long as he's all right, that's all we care about--and we can't wait to get him back as soon as he is mended."

Of O'Neill, who has won two Group 1 races at Meydan earlier this year including with Danyah (Ire) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}) in the G1 Al Quoz Sprint on Dubai World Cup night, Gold added, "He is a massive part of the operation, not just on the racecourse, but he rides a lot of work, all around Lambourn for us in particular, and is hugely helpful to all of us.

"He has a good relationship with Sheikha Hissa, and obviously she is very concerned about him. Hopefully, it will all go smoothly for him and we all send him our best wishes."

STENTON GLIDER GIVEN QEII OPTION IN AMERICA

Multiple group-placed Stenton Glider (Ire) (Dandy Man {Ire}) has been given some late summer targets, with a long-term goal the GI Queen Elizabeth II Challenge Cup S. at Keeneland in October, trainer Hugo Palmer revealed.

A winner in her only start at two, the Mairs family-owned filly was second in the G3 Fred Darling S. in her 3-year-old bow at Newbury in April. Unplaced in the G1 1000 Guineas, the daughter of the winning Crystal Malt (Ire) (Intikhab) was second in both the G2 German 1000 Guineas in June and in the Listed Coral Distaff on July 8.

"We will probably make an entry in the G3 Valiant at Ascot [on July 29], but we'd be more likely to go to the [Listed] Dick Hern [S. at Haydock on Aug. 12]. She is a very big filly and still filling her frame. I think she'll be, with luck and a fair wind, a really nice 4-year-old. She didn't run until the back end last year and she is just growing and changing all the time. She is a very genuine filly, she's tough and she tries, but she is also one of those that just does enough."

"The priority will be to make her a stakes winner this year," added Palmer. "I've always had it in the back of my mind if she could be good enough to go and warrant the trip, I'd love to take her to the QEII at Keeneland in October. I think American racing there would suit her really well. The priority is to make her a stakes winner now she is listed, Group 2 and Group 3 placed.

"She is gorgeous and I think she will keep getting better. If she could win either the Dick Hern or the Valiant, then the [G3] Atalanta [S.] at Sandown [on Sept. 2] would be another possibility for her."

DOLLAR, WALL JOIN BRITISH EBF TRUSTEES

The British EBF, British horseracing's most active sponsor, has welcomed the appointment of two new Trustees to its board this month.

Julian Dollar, the general manager of Newsells Park Stud since 2006 and prior to that the manager at Castleton Lyons in Kentucky, has joined the EBF as a trustee. 15.10 Doncaster, Mdn, £6,800, 2yo, 6f 2yT

POINT GIVEN (IRE) (Blue Point {Ire}) has the pedigree to be a smart juvenile, being a half-brother to the G1 Vincent O'Brien National S. and G2 Vintage S. winner Toormore (Ire) (Arakan) and the G2 Champagne S. and G2 Superlative S. scorer Estdhkaar (Ire) (Dark Angel {Ire}). Out relatively early for one of Sir Michael Stoute, Saeed Suhail's 270,000gns Book 1 purchase meets fellow newcomer Speeding Bullet (Ire) (Inns Of Court {Ire}), King Power Racing's half-brother to the G2 Flying Childers S. winner Caturra (Ire) (Mehmas {Ire}) who hails from the Richard Hannon stable.

16.55 Doncaster, Novice, £8,000, 3yo/up, 6f 2yT

debutante for the Harry and Roger Charlton stable, being the 10th foal out of the G1 Criterium de Saint-Cloud winner Passage Of Time (GB) (Dansili {GB}). That makes her a half-sister to the accomplished multiple group-winning sire on the up Time Test (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}) and the dual Group 3 winner Tempus (GB) (Kingman {GB}), so while this is a touch late to be making her racecourse bow she has the raw material to make a splash if she shows ability here.

He could run in a nursery or even be one for the [G3] Anglesey in 10 days' time. He's going the right way." The 11-10 chalk broke smartly from an outer gate, but was trapped three wide on the front end before accepting a tow in third at halfway. Looming large going well soon after turning for home, she seized control approaching the final furlong and was ridden clear in the closing stages to defeat Pivotal Revive (GB) (Pivotal {GB}) by an easy 4 1/2 lengths. "The pace was on today, there was a bit of competition for the lead and it just took a while to slot in and get a position," explained rider Declan McDonogh. "I got a little breather into her before the turn and I thought she stayed well today. She got to the line good and deserved that. It was good to see her handle the track well and fast ground [on the turf] is probably something she has to have." LOCAL HERO MICK FIRE RISES TO CHALLENGE IN JAPAN DIRT DERBY

by Alan Carasso

Sinister Minister in Japan in 2020 | Horsephotos

Mick Fire (Jpn) (Sinister Minister) came with an irresistible run down the center of the course and drew clear in the final 70 metres to defend his home turf and remain perfect in six starts in Wednesday's Japan Dirt Derby at Oi Racecourse. In defeating 42-1 outsider Kirinji (Jpn) (Kizuna {Jpn}) by a decisive 2 1/2 lengths, the bay colt was becoming just the third horse in the last 13 runnings based on the National Association for Racing (NAR) circuit to prevail over the typically more-fancied runners that ship in from the Japan Racing Association (JRA).

Favoured at even money despite the decidedly stiffer competition, Mick Fire settled just ahead of midfield as third betting choice Mitono O (Jpn) (Logotype {Jpn}) was committed to an all-the-way attempt by Yutaka Take. Racing just behind second pick Yuttitham (Jpn) (Justify) down the back, Mick Fire was eased out for clear sailing, but Mitono O had opened up by then and carried a good lead into the straight. But Mick Fire was finding his best stride while on his incorrect lead, went to Mitono O inside the final 100 metres and pulled readily clear beneath a jubilant Norifumi Mikamoto. Kirinji, a latest second to Mitono O in listed company at Sonoda in May, spiced up the exotics with a flying finish. Cont. p16

Mick Fire was completing the unofficial dirt Triple Crown, having won the Haneda Hai and Tokyo Derby at Oi in his two previous starts this term. In 2024, the three races will be officially recognized as a Triple Crown, with the Derby to be pushed back to October.

The winner's sire, blowout winner of the 2006 GI Toyota Blue Grass S. for Bob Baffert, is now the sire of 14 stakes winners in Japan, most notably T O Keynes (Jpn), the champion dirt horse in Japan in 2021 when victorious in the G1 Champions Cup. T O Keynes was a good fourth to Ushba Tesoro (Jpn) (Orfevre {Jpn}) in this year's G1 Dubai World Cup.

Mick Fire's second dam, a daughter of G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe winner and 1983 US Horse of the Year All Along, was purchased by JS Company for $350,000 in foal to El Prado (Ire) at the 2003 Keeneland November Sale. Barren for 2004, she produced Mariage to the cover of Brian's Time for her first foal in 2005. The dam of six winners from eight to race, Mariage is responsible for a yearling filly by G1 Tokyo Daishoten hero Smart Falcon (Jpn) (Gold Allure {Jpn}).
