

WAINUI'S NICK & JEANNIE LARKIN OFFER A NEW EMBRACE FOR RACETRACK CASTOFFS

Nick and Jeannie Larkin of Wainui Farm | Sue Finley

by Chris McGrath

The novelist David Mitchell says that all revolutions are fantasy or lunacy-until they happen. "Then," he adds, "they are historical inevitabilities."

Who can say, then, how people in the future may look back on an event scheduled this Sunday at the Skylight Horse Park outside Goshen, near Louisville? The inaugural Cross Country Equestrian Competitions (CCE) workshop is a pioneering attempt to reconcile challenges faced by the Thoroughbred and eventing worlds into a shared opportunity. It is the work not of fantasists, or lunatics, but of passionate people who believe that our relationship with Thoroughbreds has reached a crossroads. And it might just turn out to be the start of something big.

CCE has been a long time in the making. You could trace its origins, indeed, two decades back to an afternoon at the Thoroughbred Training Center outside Lexington. A trainer was yelling, "Free horse! Free horse!"

Jeannie Larkin was taken to the stall. The little chestnut filly had scars on her face, a slightly wild look in her eye. But Jeannie thought she looked adorable. Cont. p3

"Sure, I'll take her."

She told her husband Nick that they had their first Thoroughbred to train. Three or four years previously, in 1998, Nick had become the first winner of the Kentucky Three-Day Event after its addition of a four-star class on an off-the-track Thoroughbred named Red. That same year, Nick and Red represented their native New Zealand in the World Equestrian Games. But Nick was becoming disillusioned. He saw eventing as increasingly elitist--someone offered $300,000 even for Red, who had been a $900 reject, and much higher prices have become routine since--with less space for horsemanship and, not coincidentally, for Thoroughbreds.

As newlyweds, Nick and Jeannie had moved to a little farm on ridgeland near Richmond, Kentucky, and now they were looking to experiment with a Thoroughbred or two. Another trainer heard that they were good people and offloaded a sweet little gelding. They borrowed a neighbor's cattle trailer, and went to pick up the two horses. The filly came out of the barn on two legs.

"We turned her out in a big field and it was a month before we could get a halter on her," Jeannie recalls. "She was just so done with the world. We had to sit on a bucket in her field to get her to come to us."

They gave her all the time she needed. One day they finally managed to tack her up, but when Nick mounted she backed, reared and spun her way down the hill, through brambles and thorns over Nick's head.

"I've done enough to know that when you hit these moments, you keep going," Nick recalls. "You don't stop and say, 'Well, let's just come back to this tomorrow.' And from where we were, there was only one way out."

So he urged the filly back up the hill until finally she clambered out of the undergrowth.

"And when they got to the top of the hill, she was like, 'Okay, this is my guy,'" Jeannie recalls. "'You've passed the test.' And she just loved Nick after that."

Gradually they conditioned this ostensibly worthless animal, discarded from the horseracing basement, at what was then the Victory Haven training center. Eventually, two years after her previous start, they tried her-taking along Red as her minder-in a maiden at Ellis Park. She was last out of the gate and steadily retreated from there.

"I mean, it was terrible," Jeannie admits. "But we bought her tons of carrots and apples on the way home, spoiled her rotten. Didn't want her to think we were disappointed. We'd keep trying."

They did, with little observable change. One jockey, declaring her to be crazy, jumped off and refused to load. Then they found a rider who was also down on his luck. When they knocked his door, beer cans came flying out. He had once been a promising jockey, but things had gone awry somewhere along the line—not least, Nick suspects, through the exploitation of a generous nature.

"I think racing attracts the optimists," he says. "And also people that feed on them."

Nick Larkin and Speaker | Shirley McQuillan

Together they began to figure the filly out. One day she flew out of the gate and tore off into the lead. She spooked at a puddle, and dropped away, but afterwards they could see her musing on the novelty. It was as though she was saying, "How about that? I can actually do this."

A couple of starts later, she held on for second; a couple after that, she actually won. It was an undignified grade, a maiden claimer at Beulah, and Nick and Jeannie were the only people outside to watch, the weather was so bad. The jockey's agent told everyone, "Don't watch the race. Just watch those two out there. You'll know what's happening."

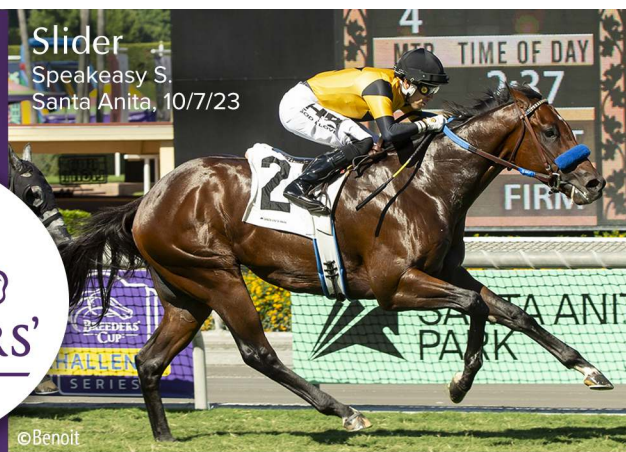

"When she crossed the line, we were jumping up and down like we had won the Derby," Jeannie recalls. "It was the best thing ever."

So where does this take us? A world-class event rider managed to win a $4,000 race at Beulah. Big wow. Well, eventually it will take us to the trialing of a new sport this weekend. But first the Larkins, having taught the filly to love her vocation, had to endure the reverse process: their idealism eroded by the kind of thing they saw at the racetrack.

To be fair, bad practice was not always corrupt. Often it just masked an inability to get on a horse's wavelength. They couldn't believe that every horse was essentially trained the same way; that the only differential appeared to be the caliber of stock. At the sales they saw trainers-and not just what they called the CEO types, with their big entourages-staring at the blandest portion of a horse's conformation and completely failing to notice a luminous point of fragility.

"What they do at a track is nuts," declares Nick. "It makes no sense at all, as far as actually conditioning a horse. It's the equivalent of athletes walking around the block most days, sprinting 100 meters some days, and then entering the 1,500-meter race. Oh, and they also stay in their room watching TV for 22 or 23 hours a day!"

Nick's parents having sold land to developers in Wainui, on the fringe of Auckland, the Larkins were fortunate in 2017 to move onto what they duly named Wainui Farm, near Paris. They have since been able to devote time and energy to CCE, as well as to the salvage of various discarded horses. And not just horses: see ["They've Taught Me To Be Human Again", TDN, August 23, 2023.] In the end, however, they have had to acknowledge the reality. As Jeannie puts it: "We can't save them all."

"It is crushing, because you see so many horses out there trying really, really hard," Nick says. "A lot of times, when you're trying to turn off-the-track Thoroughbreds into something else, you just say, 'I can't believe they were trying to race you when you were in this condition.' Physically broken, mentally broken. And yet these horses are still trying their hearts out."

"We did see people that love their horses," Jeannie stresses.

"Oh, totally," agrees Nick. "And you can see when horses come off the track, and they've won nothing, but they've been with somebody that cared."

What he does find distasteful, however, is the disingenuous way people "treat horses like a stock unit, and then suddenly act like they care deeply when a horse wins." And those in a position to improve things won't do so.

"Because this is working for them," he explains. "Eventually I realized that racing is nothing more than the marketing arm of the breeding industry. And if everyone does the same thing, training horses, then it comes down to luck and breeding. And breeding will claim all the credit."

Even with a contracting foal crop, Nick said he felt that much of the problem starts with sheer quantity of production, notably the giant books churned out by unproven new sires. He said he also deplored the surgical interventions that disguise genetic vulnerabilities. We should be breeding animals equal to the questions we ask them; but he also thinks that we could ask them better questions. And that's how he began to ponder new possibilities.

One of the things he most enjoyed about eventing was getting horses to a peak of fitness; and Red, though deemed too slow to race, adapted ideally in this respect.

"When we were at the World Equestrian Games in Rome, he came into the 10-minute box," Nick recalls. "Normally, horses go in there with 90, 100-plus heart rates. He came in with 52, and dropped to something like 48 or 46. And they said, 'Well, it's not much of a drop.' But that's because he was almost sleeping as he came in."

In experimenting at the racetrack, the Larkins hoped to unshackle their horsemanship. Eventing, for one thing, depended on subjective judgement. But they also wanted a sport that enabled a slower horse to beat a faster horse, at least in similar classes, simply because it would keep running—both through being trained for stamina, and because superior riding tactics could optimize that. That proved too naïve an aspiration, on the racetrack. But with eventing meanwhile squeezing out certain competences, the Larkins started to think about devising a sport that might fill the gaps.

Nick explains that cross-country, as the middle leg of three-day events, has been diminished by a growing premium on warmbloods, which tend to be more proficient on the first and third days (i.e. dressage/show jumping). At the same time, the affluence required for competitive warmbloods is shutting out riding talent. (Resulting, Nick suggests, in the obviously dangerous equivalent of the kid in a Ferrari.)

So how, Nick asked himself, might you bring together a) those who nowadays find eventing inaccessible and b) those Thoroughbreds lost in the industrial processes of the racetrack? After all, there's a lot of goodwill out there. Nick and Jeannie have seen the passion behind various retraining programs. But the Thoroughbred leaving the racetrack, too often, is a square peg for a round hole. What if a more natural fit could be found?

For an awfully long time, maybe 25 years, Nick has been musing over possibilities. In the last few years, he's been bouncing ideas around and then refining them with organizers, lawyers, insurers. And, on Sunday, they will test the water.

"All the way through, whenever I've told people about it, they're like, 'Wow, this is exciting! We have to do this!'" Nick says.

In CCE, every jump is optional. Points are scored for each one taken, with extra for the more challenging ones; and some will have "knock-down" elements, as when a penalty is incurred for dislodging a show jumping pole. There will be timing faults, too, but the scoring will reward the horsemanship that calculates a prolific jumping score against some incidental time loss. Sure, skills and training will enable you to save time—but that is not quite the same as simply going faster.

"And it's completely objective, which is massively appealing to people who really like eventing but couldn't pay six figures for a warmblood," Nick enthuses. "The way they're scoring eventing now, you need a dressage horse that can do a little bit of jumping. CCE isn't really about a fast horse, but a fit horse. It rewards training that makes them super adjustable and responsive, so that the partnership can be quick in places where others, less prepared, cannot. The speeds aren't anything like racing, except perhaps occasionally in straight gallop sections. CCE does select to a Thoroughbred because it has a major component of athletic fitness, but it primarily selects to the partnership that knows each other inside-out and so can accomplish things that others can't."

Meanwhile CCE offers a new lease of life to those Thoroughbreds, like Red, that don't fit the racetrack model. And their affordability is such that this sport can be far more inclusive than either eventing or horseracing.

There will be several grades, from beginner to professional; and a variation in format that permits flexibility in terms of venue. (In fact, the idleness of so many racecourses, for much of the year, was one of the first things that got Nick thinking.) Clearly, we remain very much at an educative stage. But the potential is infinite.

"This first CCE workshop will be focused on the competitor, organizer, official and competition personnel," explains Nick, who is scheduling a second event for the Kentucky Horse Park later this month. "We want anyone interested in learning about CCE to come and listen and watch."

Though infuriated by some of the practices and the resulting wastage on the racetrack, he retains faith in the best of our community.

"There are still good people here," he says. "Still people that care. If big players and small get behind this, and help it off the ground, then they're no longer just looking after horses that have been beaten up."

And that takes him to a key point. Because if CCE can take root, then an important message might penetrate.

Nick and Jeannie Larkin and Beeve | Wainui Farm

"There will be demand for a Thoroughbred that's not had its mind blown, and that has not been physically destroyed," Nick says. "But there will only be a market for these horses if you don't keep banging on them, keep injecting them. So if you decide that this is not a racehorse, or maybe that it's starting to slow down, just stop. Go get another one, and let this one go on and do something else."

"The trouble has been that there's no sport [beyond racing] specifically for the Thoroughbred. That has left people donating just to trim feet and to feed. As it is, we can run around and save a few. But this thing could potentially save thousands."

Down the line, at an elite level, Nick envisages scope to expand the format. An endurance-style course familiarization day, with vetting; then the centerpiece, an expanded cross-country ride, with ancillary phases [trails with and without jumping; speed and slalom jumping; and a simple gallop]; and then a jump-off ride on the third day that combines various elements [show-jumping, cross-country, speed galloping] on a course with unexpected challenges and opportunities [short-cuts to save time, special jumps to boost scores] designed to ensure an unpredictable and exciting climax.

"CCE selects, incentivizes, develops horsemanship, rather than a singular asset such as movement or jumping scope-attributes that are generally purchased," Nick explains. "Everything I see and hear suggests that horsemanship is in decline. A lot of horses coming off the track, they're not what I would call trained. They've been taught a pattern of behavior that they just keep repeating. There's no comprehension there. If the horses are a bit more engaged, if they're not hating their life, then they'll try to figure it out. And if they get a trainer or rider that actually has a little bit of feel, they start to connect the dots."

"If you want a horse to do something different, then you won't communicate that by just hanging onto their mouth and pulling hard. Most of the muscles in the neck are actually used for moving the front legs forward. If you bunch them in, force the horse to move in this really awkward way, you're going to mess up the way they move. And that in turn can lead to breaking them down. They're certainly not going to go as fast, or as long."

As Nick acknowledges, often people do something just because that's the way they saw their parents do it. But he does see a lot of cynicism, too.

"The thing that blows my mind is that people can be so dishonest when dealing with an animal that is just so honest," he says. "And the horse is just sitting in the middle, not being heard, often becoming collateral damage."

The Larkins have taken in plenty of animals with no prospect of adapting as sport horses. They've given them a home themselves, or found one elsewhere. [That sweet little gelding, Beeve, by the way, is still out in a field at Wainui. He's now 25.] But how much better, to discover a fresh value in those countless Thoroughbreds that are ultimately rejected by the system.

"For all of us who love horses, how do we change their world?" asks Jeannie. "How can we make a difference, have a legacy, for these $900 horses that don't have a chance?"

Well, maybe we will start to find out on Sunday.

'HOW LUCKY ARE WE?' MILL RIDGE AND THE BREEDERS' CUP

Celebrating 40 Years of the Breeders' Cup with Living Legends

It wasn't so long ago that the magnificent sire Gone West held court at Mill Ridge Farm near Lexington. From 22 crops, all while at Mill Ridge, he netted a mouth-watering 9% black-type winners from starters, including Breeders' Cup winners Da Hoss (twice), Johar, and Speightstown, all back in the days when the Breeders' Cup was still a single day and there were far fewer races.

The son of Mr. Prospector passed away in 2009, but his influence on the Breeders' Cup was not done and neither was Mill Ridge's. Among Gone West's sire sons are Speightstown, who has sired two Breeders' Cup winners, and Elusive Quality, who has sired three. His grandsons include Quality Road, sire of four Breeders' Cup winners. And among the major runners out of his daughters is another Breeders' Cup winner in Awesome Feather.

The Mill Ridge team hasn't stopped there. Eight Breeders' Cup winners have been bred, raised, and/or sold by the Central Kentucky farm. Additionally, Mill Ridge's involvement in Horse Country has created an extra ripple effect of the Breeders' Cup's impact on farms big and small, as well as on the fans who visit those farms. And now, the two young sires who are standing at Mill Ridge are both Breeders' Cup winners.

Oscar Performance won the GI Juvenile Turf in 2016, while Aloha West won the GI Sprint in 2021.

"That's like starting two full teams for the University of Kentucky basketball team," said Price Bell, Jr., general manager of Mill Ridge, with a laugh about the eight Breeders' Cup winners combined with the two additional championship day winners in the stud barn. "That's the beauty of the Breeders' Cup. How lucky are we to have been able to associate with this many horses on Breeders' Cup days?"

"We'll often have visitors say, 'Well, don't you have an unfair advantage because you get to watch them in the field and then watch them win?' We know how special it is to get to do this."

From the start, Oscar Performance had the Bell family's fingerprints all over him. Fittingly, he was raised on the farm and has now returned to the place of his birth to stand. He is also the sire of Sunday's GIII Zuma Beach S. winner Endlessly from his second crop of 2-year-olds. Endlessly is an unbeaten dual graded winner--for the same connections as his sire--who will try to emulate his sire in the Nov. 3 GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf.

"We raised Oscar Performance for the Amermans and helped with the mating. Now for a horse for the same connections to go on and keep that dream alive is very special.

"We feel so lucky and blessed to associate with so many incredible people and breeders and clients and horses," said Bell. "The Breeders' Cup is what we're all striving for and dreaming about as soon as you do a mating. We feel so blessed to have gotten there and want to keep going."

Mill Ridge is a popular spot on the Horse Country tours and Oscar Performance has become a showman.

"To connect him with guests is so special," said Bell. "People have just fallen in love with him. We've really enjoyed sharing him with people and seeing the way he's become a fan favorite. It has been very meaningful as we share that he was the best 2-year-old on the turf in his generation, the best 3-year-old on the turf, and that he set the world record at a mile. One of those three things often sticks with people. To be able to share him with fans is really special."

As a racehorse, Oscar Performance had a devastating kick.

"What I found so brilliant in his Breeders' Cup is that he had broken from the 13 hole, yet was able to clear the field," said Bell. "To break from the 13th post to get clear and over at Santa Anita is a big thing. I remember very vividly where I was when he broke his maiden [at Saratoga in August of 2016]. And then his Breeders' Cup, we sat and watched it at the office with my dad because my wife and I had a 15-month-old. It was our son's first Grade I and one we certainly remember as a family. It would be so memorable if Endlessly could do it, too. We're so blessed to have those relationships."

Aloha West (2017 dark bay or brown horse, Hard Spun--Island Bound, by Speightstown)

Lifetime record: GISW, 13-6-2-1, $1,507,290

Breeders' Cup connections: B-Robert T. Manfuso & Katharine M. Voss (MD); O-Eclipse Thoroughbred Partners; T-Wayne Catalano; J-Jose Ortiz.

Current location: Mill Ridge Farm, Lexington, Ky.

Aloha West, whose first foals will be born in 2024, took a different route to Mill Ridge.

"He was raised by our friends at Nursery Place by John Mayer," said Bell. "I think for his Breeders' Cup, what was so telling, is that was the ninth race he had had that year. He'd showed some ability at two, had some shins, hurt himself at three. They were really patient with him. [He debuted at four], broke his maiden in February culminating with a Breeders' Cup win. He danced every dance, had nine starts that year, no real break. He was sort of the clever horse on the backside; people had a lot of chatter about him going into the Breeders' Cup. And then he showed that will to win."

In addition to their two Breeders' Cup-winning stallions, one of whom they had also raised, Mill Ridge has been intimately involved with 2000 Distaff winner Spain, 2003 Turf dead-heater Johar (one of Gone West's winners), 2004 Juvenile Fillies winner Sweet Catomine, 2005 Mile winner Artie Schiller, 2006 Distaff winner Round Pond, 2009 Ladies' Classic winner Life Is Sweet, and 2013 Juvenile Fillies winner Ria Antonia. For those keeping score, that was four consecutive winners from 2003-06 and six in that decade alone.

Winning the Breeders' Cup doesn't get old though. On the contrary, it leaves one hungry for more.

"Once you've been there, you want to experience it again," said Bell. "You want to do it again and again and again and again."

Bell has distinct memories of every winner. Some stood out early.

"I often put Sweet Catomine as the one that everyone on the farm thought was very special. For her to culminate as champion and the way she had done it was wonderful. Sometimes you do see something when they're young and it's very gratifying."

Some stand out because of the relationships with the breeders.

"Artie Schiller was awesome because Leroidesanimaux (Brz) was the overwhelming favorite and he beat him handily, squarely, no excuses. He ran by him like he was standing still. It was a great culmination of the relationship we had with the Moussacs [breeders of Artie Schiller]. A great celebration."

But one of the Breeders' Cup wins that is most memorable to Bell is for an out-of-the-ordinary reason and ties in to the farm's involvement with Horse Country.

"I remember Spain was a classic [D. Wayne] Lukas move. Lukas put them to sleep. She got a phenomenal ride [from Victor Espinoza]. It was Lukas taking a shot and then he wins at 56-1.

"But what I really remember when I think of her now is on one of our tours there was a gentleman who was about my age. He loved Spain. He was in the hospital at the time she won, in a children's cancer ward, and he'd told all the nurses to bet her.

"Here's a horse that we both had great memories of for very different reasons. It was our first Breeders' Cup winner while he's a kid fighting cancer. It meant a lot to both of us, was an inspiration for both of us. Horses touch people in different ways and sometimes we don't even know it."

Perhaps that is why Bell and Mill Ridge are so bullish on the

A Horse Country tour at Mill Ridge along with tour guide Ryn Harris and managing partner Headley Bell. Earl the Corgi is quite popular on the tours and on social media. | Sarah Andrew non-profit Horse Country, which Bell was instrumental in co-founding and which also has Breeders' Cup roots. It's his way of giving back to the industry and connecting the wider public to our sport.

"We launched Horse Country tours the same year [2015] as the first Breeders' Cup at Keeneland. It coincided with American Pharoah and that was kind of what got us going. We had set a timeline of the Breeders' Cup date and it gave us a starting gate. We were committed. It has taken a lot of iterations between then and now, but we're big believers in it. We love doing it and sharing what we do.

"The tours have welcomed 200,000 people since then, 25,000 of those at Mill Ridge. We're the number two thing to do on Trip Advisor in Lexington. It feels like it's our part in trying to connect people to racing.

"We're all inspired by the horses and tours are people's best opportunity to meet a horse. Farms create a great opportunity for that. It's meaningful for people to share that, just like the gentleman who had a relationship with Spain from his hospital bed."

One guest at a time, Mill Ridge and Horse Country are changing the wider public's perception of racing. If meeting a Breeders' Cup-winning stallion brings one more person over to the beauty of our sport, it's a win. If it shows another person how well we take care of our horses and how much they mean to us, it's a win. And if it gets one more person to watch the Breeders' Cup, feeling they have a connection because they've feed a carrot to the sire of one of the runners or have walked over the same land where one was raised, it's a win.

"The better we can show guests what we do, the better we all are," said Bell. "It feels like the right thing to do. We get so much from the guests and the experience. It's a great reminder of how lucky we are.

"Mill Ridge is just one small piece in it, but we've jumped all the way in. It's very doable. And it's beautiful. At the end of the day, we get so much out of committing to it.

"I feel like we get more out of it than we give."

BREEDERS' CUP FOAL NOMINATION DEADLINE CLOSES OCT. 15

Seabiscuit Statue at Santa Anita | Horsephotos

The final deadline to nominate weanlings of 2023 to the Breeders' Cup program is Oct. 15 at 11:59 p.m. ET. It is the last opportunity to nominate at the one-time fee of $400, which entitles each foal with lifetime racing eligibility to the Breeders' Cup World Championships and the Breeders' Cup racing programs.

All foals sired by a fully nominated North American Breeders' Cup stallion are eligible for nomination to the Breeders' Cup program in their year of birth at the weanling rate. Any foal entered in a fall or winter breeding stock sale must be nominated by the early foal deadline in order for the Breeders' Cup Nominated engagement to be included on the catalog page.

Late foal nominations may be made in the foal's year of birth by a one-time payment of a $1,500 nomination fee between Oct. 16 of the weanling year to Feb. 28 of the yearling year.

In addition to the racing benefits, Breeders' Cup foal nominators will earn $10,000 for every victory in the worldwide Breeders' Cup Challenge Series: Win and You're In program and every horse that starts in a Breeders' Cup World Championship race will earn a nominator award. The individual nominating the foal receives these nominator awards even though the horse may change hands throughout its racing career.

Visit the Breeders' Cup website for more information or to nominate.

Lucky Girl | Benoit

Facing graded company for much of the past two seasons, Lucky Girl found the return to slightly easier company to her liking when taking Monday's Swingtime S. at Santa Anita. Eased back to near the back of the field as favored Hamwood Flier (Ire) (Kodiac {GB}) led around the first turn, Lucky Girl continued to survey things following a :45.14 half. Starting to unfurl her legs leaving the backstretch as the favorite continued to coast in clear up front, the Irish bred-filly was several lengths behind while wide turning for home as Unbridled Mary surged to a narrow advantage over Freedom Flyer, who got the jump midstretch. Despite the best intentions of the late-running duo, it was Lucky Girl who was moving fastest of all, and came on in the final strides to gain a narrow decision of Freedom Flyer with Unbridled Mary in third. Favored Hamwood Flier faded to eighth. Lucky Girl's dam, Abbey Angel, foaled a colt by Kodi Bear in 2022.

GOOD WITH PEOPLE (g, 5, Curlin to Mischief--Gator Prowl {SW, $106,000}, by Roar of the Tiger), a dual stakes winner at Del Mar at two, recorded his latest victory in May of 2021. Off the board in a pair of starts in 2022, including a fourth in the six-panel Thor's Echo S. for Cal bred, he was gelded prior to his 2023 reappearance. Tiring to fourth in a six-furlong optional claimer at Del Mar Aug. 26, he was sent off at 9-1 here. Pressing the early issue through initial splits of :21.17 and :43.37, the bay eased to the front turning for home and had enough left in reserve to fend off Escape Route (Hard Spun) by 3/4 of length at the wire. JANTAR MANTAR (JPN) (c, 2, ~~Palace Malice~~--India Mantuana (GSW-US, SP-Can, $223,100), by Wilburn) parlayed a perfect trip into a very promising debut victory as the well-backed second favorite. Able to secure a forward position from gate three, the Shadai homebred traveled comfortably on the back of the speed and was poised as they hit the straight. Pulled out into the two path to deliver his challenge, Jantar Mantar quickened up beautifully for Katsuma Sameshima, pinched a winning break and was eased down late, scoring by a decisive 2 1/2 lengths at odds of 21-5. India Mantuana upset the 2018 GIII Red Carpet H. for trainer Thomas Bell III and was purchased by Shadai in foal to Accelerate for $100,000 at the 2020 Keeneland January sale. The mare aborted that foal and was bred to this stallion prior to her export to Japan, where she produced a Pyro filly this past Feb. 17. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $48,232. VIDEO (SC 3)

EMBLEM BOMB (c, 2, St Patrick's Day--Jelly Cable {SP}, by Sky Mesa) became the fourth winner for his freshman sire (by Pioneerof the Nile--Littleprincessemma) with a clear-cut debut success. The 17-10 favorite, the first Japanese starter for American Pharoah's brother, caught a rain-affected strip, but showed in front from between rivals before easing back to stalk from second. Cruising to the lead under a Keita Tosaki hold at the 200-meter marker, the Florida-bred was pushed out to score by a length. Bought back for $15,000 at last year's OBS October sale, Emblem Bomb was hammered down to this trainer for $155,000 at OBS March this spring after breezing an eighth of a mile in :10 flat. Jelly Cable has a yearling filly by Khozan and was bred to Beau Liam this term. ECORO GAIA (c, 2, Speightstown--Charge of Angels, by Distorted Humor) had placed in three of his four prior trips to the post, including a third in a 1200-meter turf maiden at Hanshin Sept. 23. Returning to the dirt here, the $120,000 Keeneland September purchase was not off to the best start and raced midfield early before working his way into it deep on the turn. Asked to kick four wide at the 400-meter peg, the bay colt refused to change his leads for Yuga Kawada, but nevertheless strode home an eight-length winner. Ecoro Gaia hails from one of the deepest families in the stud book, as his granddam She's a Winner (A.P. Indy) was a full-sister to GISW Girolamo, MGSW/GISP Accelerator; MGSW/MGISP Daydreaming, the dam of GISW Imagining (Giant's Causeway); and the dam of GI Kentucky Derby winner Super Saver (Maria's Mon). GISW Got Lucky (A.P. Indy) also appears under third dam Get Lucky (Mr. Prospector). ## THE NEXT VANDEEK? HAVANA GREY LEADS THE WAY AT BOOK 2 WITH 425K COLT

The 425k Havana Grey colt was knocked down to Anthony Stroud, the same man who sourced juvenile sensation Vandeeek
Laura Green/Tattersalls

By Brian Sheerin

It seems as though Michael Fitzpatrick and Havana Grey (GB) have something in common with the lord himself as turning water into wine comes natural.

Time and time again, the man behind Kilminfoyle House Stud produces pinhook after pinhook in a similar fashion to how Whitsbury Manor Stud's emerging force seems to transform whatever pedigree he touches.

The latest transformation played out on Tuesday evening of Book 2 at Tattersalls when a colt by Havana Grey (lot 1020), who Fitzpatrick purchased as a foal under the banner of JC Bloodstock for 82,000gns here in December, sold to Anthony Stroud for 425,000gns.

Stroud knows a thing or two about high-class sons of Havana Grey, having paid 625,000gns for the unbeaten two-year-old sensation Vandeeek (GB) from Glending Stables at the Tattersalls Craven Sale back in April.

Like Vandeeek, Tuesday's sale-topper will be trained by Simon Crisford, but will carry the colours of HH Shaikh Nasser, according to Stroud. Cont. p3

BHA ANNOUNCES 170 'PREMIER' RACE DAYS WITH £3.8M EXTRA FUNDING

The British Horseracing Authority (BHA) has released the 2024 fixture list for British racing which, it claims "includes significant customer-focused innovations designed to deliver a more competitive, engaging and exciting racing product".

The major change in next year's programme includes the introduction of a two-year trial of 170 'Premier' race days, 89 of which will be staged on a Saturday afternoon. The move has received a mixed response from within the industry and involves a window during Premier afternoons being restricted to just three race meetings being run between 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. Prize-money has been redistributed from other fixtures to boost the Premier meetings and to strengthen the programme of Sunday racing. The Horserace Betting Levy Board (HBLB) has agreed to provide an extra £3.8 million in funding for Premier fixtures, but minimum race values at the 'core fixtures' which fall outside these 170 days will remain unaltered. Cont. p11

He said, "Havana Grey has done terrifically-well. This is a very well-balanced horse who moved particularly-well."

Asked if parallels could be drawn between this colt and Vandeek, Stroud responded, "Well, with Vandeek, we were lucky enough to see him breeze. This horse has the credentials to be a very, very nice horse. He's got a pedigree and is by a stallion who is on the upgrade and doing really well."

He added, "Havana Grey is a very exciting young stallion and, from what he has had, he's done very well. He's doing a great job. This colt is for HH Shaikh Nasser and is going to Simon Crisford."

The Havana Grey colt is a full-brother to high-class two-year-old Elite Status (GB), who made 325,000gns at this sale last year. Elite Status may not have been a match for Vandeek when they met in the Morny and the Middle Park, but he has confirmed himself a classy juvenile in his own right when landing a Group 3 in France, and it was on the strength of him showing up on the track this season that Fitzpatrick snapped up his little brother at auction from Whitsbury.

He explained, "I bought this colt as a foal solely on the full-brother. I sold him [Elite Status] last year and loved him. Whitsbury Manor is a great breeder and this horse is a pleasure to do anything with. My thanks go to Anthony Stroud and I wish the new owners the very best of luck."

Fitzpatrick added, "I also can't thank my staff enough--Pamela, Hannah and Santos. It is only for them, the work they do, I actually think they are made of iron!"

That wasn't the only big-ticket Havana Grey bred by Whitsbury through the ring on the day as a filly (lot 981) consigned by Ballyphilip Stud was knocked down to Joe Foley standing alongside Steve Parkin earlier in the session for 280,000gns.

JUDDMONTE

That particular filly netted her connections a nice packet as she was sourced as a foal at Goffs last November for just €68,000.

Foley commented, "She's a very good example of what the stallion can throw. As we all know, he's made an outstanding start, he's on the way to superstar stallion status. We have a good two-year-old by him this year called Queen's Guard (GB). When you have a Havana Grey yearling, it gives you a chance."

He added, "I like the fact she's out of a Showcasing (GB) mare. I like the idea of him as a broodmare sire and the pedigree goes back to Blue Duster. It's a good, fast family and one I like."

on behalf of the owner.

That transaction came just 24 hours after McElroy featured alongside the list of buyers for the Pinatubo filly that was also acquired on behalf of Amo on Monday for 110,000gns. Needless to say, McElroy described himself as a fan of Darley's young stallion.

McElroy said of lot 939, "He is a very imposing colt, a great mover with great strength. He carried himself well the two or three days of showing and is just a lovely horse. I actually thought he might cost maybe a bit more than he did. Maybe the aggressive bidding helped out on that a little bit.

"He's been bought for Amo Racing and will go back to Robson [Aguiar] who will assess him for Kia. We will decide on a trainer next spring. We bought a beautiful filly by the stallion yesterday and he seems to be getting really nice stock. Pinatubo was a great racehorse and I think this colt has a great chance."

Pinatubo Continues To Pack

A Punch As McElroy Provides More Amo For Kia

DEAUVILLE

5 days, 3 parts, 731 yearlings

Part 1: Tuesday 17 October

Part 2: Wednesday 18 & Thursday 19 October

Part 3: Friday 20 & Saturday 21 October

The Pinatubo colt was sold by Ballyhimikin Stud. Aguiar and Hamish Macauley, who have bought plenty of horses on behalf of Amo before, also featured among the list of buyers. But the relationship between McElroy and Joorabchian is a newer one.

The agent explained, "We'd always meet up with Kia at the races down through the years and maybe we even bid against each other when we were in America last year. Robson bought a horse [Valiant Force (Malibu Moon)] who turned out to be Kia's first Royal Ascot winner at Keeneland last year. Between Saratoga and Keeneland, we bought a few horses for Kia this year and we've bought a few here for him as well."

He added, "Robson really rated this horse very highly and I suppose it will be Robson who decides how he fits in with all the yearlings heading into next year."

McElroy, Macauley and Amo went on to snap up another colt by up-and-coming Darley-based stallion Earthlight (Ire) for 325,000gns. But the real story here was how Jimmy Murphy of Redpender Stud transformed the colt (lot 1013) from a 78,000gns foal here in December to the major payday in the ring on Wednesday.

"He was a good-looking horse and we took a chance-plenty of others don't work out so well," a beaming Murphy reported afterwards. "Earthlight is a son of Shamardal and he is from a very good dam line. We were lucky that Selenia (Ire) (Sea The Moon {Ger}) [Grade III winner] came up in the first dam and then Lake Forest (GB) (No Nay Never) in the second dam won the Gimcrack."

Murphy added of the Earthlight colt, who was bred by Derek Icton of Tara Stud, "He is very much a two-year-old and is a precocious type of horse. Hopefully we will see him at Royal Ascot."

Talking Points

- What a day for Whitsbury Manor Stud. Not only did Havana Grey earn the plaudits of major buyers Anthony Stroud and Joe Foley but the stud also bred the respective lots that both men signed for. That's what you call a good day at the office.
- As good as Havana Grey performed on Tuesday, it must be said that Pinatubo continues to impress. Of the 10 yearlings through the ring by Darley's hot prospect, they averaged 128,600gns. What's more impressive is the fact that Pinatubo has posted a bigger average--150,250gns---than any other stallion on day one and two of Book 2.

- Edgar Byrne played a major role at the Tattersalls Ireland September Yearling Sale when signing for a €115,000 Kameko colt to join Scandinavian-based trainer Niels Petersen. The same connections were active at Book 2 on Tuesday when landing a Dark Angel (Ire) colt (lot 816) from Yeomanstown Stud for 145,000gns. The colt is a brother to Fantasy Lady (Ire), winner of the Listed Staffordstown S. and not beaten far in an Irish 1,000 Guineas for Paddy Twomey.
- The clearance rate remained strong on Tuesday at 86%. However, compared to this corresponding day's trade 12 months ago, the average fell 18% to 88,171gns while the median dropped 6% to 66,000gns.

Fellowes To Train 350k Wootton Bassett Colt

Charlie Fellowes has a Wootton Bassett (GB) colt to look forward to training next year after owner Paul Hickman shelled out 350,000gns on the WH Bloodstock-drafted yearling who is bred on the same cross as Group 1 winner Al Riffa (Fr).

The Wootton Bassett colt (lot 915) was bred by Westerberg and is out of Galileo (Ire) mare Beluga (Ire), a half-sister to Derby winner Pour Moi (Ire) and a sister of the Group 3 winner and Irish Derby third Dawn Patrol (Ire). Cont. p6

Will Douglass | Laura Green/Tattersalls

He was bought by Will Douglass, agent for Charlie Gordon-Watson, who was standing alongside Fellowes to the right of the rostrum. The winning bidders held off the challenge of Richard Ryan who was on the phone atop of the stairs.

"It's not been as easy as the market would suggest," Douglass commented. "This week has been a lot better. He's a very special horse and has been bought for an English owner called Mr Hickman. He's had horses with Charlie for a few years and is involved in Cloudbreaker (GB) (Sea The Stars {Ire})."

Douglass added, "We bought a few for him last year and got a Frankel [colt for 250,000gns] here last week. We also underbid one at Deauville for a lot of money. It's not easy. When you follow those nice horses through, you're competing against countries, not just people. If you want to get in, it's really tough."

Beluga has a Wootton Bassett colt foal and is in foal to Camelot (GB). She is also a sister to Listed winner Kissed (Ire).

Chloris admittedly did little to write about on the track herself, but she has shown promise as a broodmare with her first foal Royal Elysian (GB) (Showcasing {GB}) placing in three of her four starts to date. Of course Dansili (GB) is well known for his success as a broodmare sire.

Chloris is a third-generation representative of a family nurtured by esteemed owner-breeder Anthony Oppenheimer, and further back the family also includes the Wildenstein-bred Prix du Jockey Club and Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe winner Peintre Celebre. Her half-sister Bartzella (GB) (Golden Horn {GB}) was a convincing listed winner for William Haggas.

The exploits of the progeny of young stallion Havana Grey speak for themselves, and that no doubt had a hand to play in this filly realising 140,000gns. The hammer fell at five times the price of 28,000gns, which was originally paid when she last walked through the ring just ten months ago at the December Foal Sale. Katie Walsh was the final bidder and signed for the filly in the name of her husband, trainer Ross O'Sullivan.

For a start, the sire doesn't need any explaining and the mare, who was black-type herself, is a sister to Alice Springs (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}).

Whether this colt runs in the Wathnan Racing silks, the major owner that Brown has been buying on behalf of recently, or any number of the major clients that the top agent represents, he could be one to keep an eye on for next year.

Thought For The Day

Is it any wonder why we're all running around with little pot bellies on us in the height of sales season? Whether it's the toasted sandwiches and the carrot cake at Newsells or the breakfast down at Castlebridge, it's hard to resist some of the [free!] grub on offer at Park Paddocks. Just wait until the Tweenhills van arrives in December! We'll be rolling out of Newmarket for Christmas.

A statement released by the BHA on Tuesday read, "The changes aim to grow British racing by increasing engagement among new and existing customers, improve revenues across all areas of the industry, promote investment in the sport through the recruitment and retention of owners, and encourage the best horses to be trained and raced in Britain.

"Industry modelling projects an estimated £90m improvement to British racing's finances over a five-year period from 2024 to 2028 as a result of the work of the industry strategy, when compared with a 'do nothing' scenario, in which industry revenues would continue to decline."

The announcement also contained the caveat that the success of the 'premierisation' trial period would be strenuously assessed to review "a range of factors, including economic, attendance, fan and TV audience engagement, betting, ownership, performance of the racing product, customer feedback and participant wellbeing."

Julie Harrington, chief executive of the BHA, said, "Compiling this year's fixture list was a truly collaborative process on a scale which I have never before seen in our industry, with the sport pulling in the same direction to achieve a shared objective. I am extremely grateful to my teams at the BHA and everyone across the sport who has engaged so constructively in this process.

"There was agreement across the industry that steps were required to increase racing's appeal to customers at the earliest opportunity, as well as addressing the current headwinds facing the sport."

Harrington acknowledged the disquiet felt in some quarters to the concept, particularly by certain racecourses that will either lose some key Saturday fixtures from next year, or be forced to race earlier or later in the day. A total of 41 fixtures in 2024 have been moved from Saturday afternoon slots, with 36 of those being run as late afternoon meetings and five being staged in the morning.

She added, "We accept and expected that, with significant change, there will always be some who feel that the cards have not fallen their way. However, the objective for these changes is that they grow the sport as a whole, with benefits that reach throughout the entire industry in the medium to long-term.

"This is the first major step in what is a long-term transformational plan. The expectation is that the changes should generate more revenue, which will allow us to invest in other key areas—including attracting new fans and new owners and increasing the reward and recognition of all our existing participants.

"All of these changes are being introduced on a trial basis. They will be closely monitored and measured."

HBLB Announces 2024 Contribution

In a separate announcement on Tuesday, the Levy Board confirmed its contribution of £70.5m to British prize-money in 2024, an increase of £3.2m from this year and around £11m more than for each of 2018 and 2019 in the seasons immediately preceding the pandemic.

Referring to the "substantial time" in consultation with the BHA prior to the publication of the new-look fixture list for 2024, the HBLB statement read, "The Board's increased funding in 2024 has been made possible by the significant upswing in Levy in the latter part of the 2022/23 year, resulting in higher than forecast Levy income of £100m and a small budget surplus, the first in three years.

"After providing markedly bigger contributions than usual to prize-money in 2021 (£81m) and 2022 (£74m) in light of Covid, the Board had signalled that it would need to scale back expenditure in 2023, in part because of the repayment of the first instalment of the £21.5m Sport Survival Package (SSP) loan taken from Government to assist with racing's recovery from the effects of Covid.

"HBLB reported in May 2023 that, over the Levy year to 31 March 2023, there had been a continuing decline in betting turnover on British racing which was being partially mitigated by profit margin exceeding recent comparative levels. This pattern has continued since." Cont. p12

The extra financial support of the BHA's Premier race days by the HBLB will be reviewed in 2024 | Racingfotos.com

HBLB chairman Paul Darling noted that the Levy Board's extra financial support of the BHA's Premier race days will be reviewed next year despite this being a two-year trial.

He said, "As a principle, the board fully supports racing's aspiration to make change to ensure the sport is relevant and attractive now and in the future. A number of changes are being made simultaneously for 2024 but it is recognised that a consensus has been reached through the sport's complex infrastructure.

"The board has been in discussion with BHA and others in the sport to probe and question appropriately. This is the duty of the board in fulfilling its functions before the release of monies. We are pleased to see the commitment by BHA to the publication of clearly defined objectives, reasonable expectations of outcomes in key areas and regular updates through the year on progress."

He continued, "Although racing sees this as a two-year trial, we have given a funding commitment for 2024 with a formal review point in autumn next year before we confirm funding for 2025. We have been consistently assured by Racing that the initiatives being trialled are all capable of being unwound if deemed to be unsuccessful. This has been a key factor for the board in its decisions."

SIBLINGS TO CHALDEAN AND VANDEEK HEAD TATTERSALLS DECEMBER FOAL SALE

A Showcasing (GB) half-brother to this year's 2,000 Guineas winner Chaldean (GB) (Frankel {GB}) is among 1,084 weanlings to be consigned to the Tattersalls December Foal Sale. The sale begins on Tuesday, November 28 and runs until Saturday, December 2 with a 'dark day' for viewing of the later foals on Thursday.

Bred by Whitsbury Manor Stud, Chaldean is himself a graduate of the foal sale, having been bought for 550,000gns by Juddmonte. His dam Suelita (GB) (Dutch Art {GB}) has produced five black-type performers, including the G2 Mill Reef S winner Alkumait (GB), who is a full-brother to this year's foal.

Another well-related individual to be offered for sale by Kelly Thomas's Maywood Stud is the Starspangledbanner \(Aus\) half-brother to the dual Group 1 winner VandeeK (GB) (Havana Grey {GB}), who was also sold at Tattersalls as a foal for 52,000gns. The draft from Fittocks Stud is headlined by a Frankel three-parts-brother to the G1 Nassau S. winner Lady Bowthorpe (GB) (Nathaniel {Ire})

Announcing the release of the catalogue online, Tattersalls Chairman Edmond Mahony said, "The Tattersalls December Foal Sale is the premier fixture of its kind in Europe, consistently attracting the cream of the British and Irish foal crop, and this has been reflected in an outstanding year on the racecourse with a Classic winner and the highest rated two-year-old colt in Britain. As well as consistent racecourse success, the Tattersalls December Foal Sale has consistently been the source of some spectacular pinhooking triumphs. We have some outstanding foals entered this year, and the catalogue has the quality and diversity to appeal to buyers from throughout the world at all levels of the market."

BREEDERS' CUP ON THE CARDS FOR MQSE DE SEVIGNE

Mqse De Sevigne | Emma Berry

Edouard de Rothschild's homebred Mqse De Sevigne (Fr) (Siyouni {Fr}) looks likely to continue her travels with an intended next start in the GI Breeders' Cup Filly & Mare Turf at Santa Anita.

A dual Group 1 winner this season, over a mile in the Prix Rothschild and 10 furlongs in the Prix Jean Romanet, the four-year-old was runner-up to Inspiral (GB) on Saturday in the Sun Chariot S. on her first start outside her native France. In six runs this year she has never finished out of the first two.

Her trainer Andre Fabre, who caused an upset in the Breeders' Cup Classic 30 year ago with Arcangues and took the Filly & Mare Turf in 2001 with Banks Hill (GB), said, "The Breeders' Cup is the plan and if she is in good shape she will go there. I think the two extra furlongs will suit her better."

He added of Mqse De Sevigne's record this season, "She was probably a bit backward and a bit unlucky in her races before. But I have been delighted with her."

Fabre has also won the Breeders' Cup Turf on three occasions with In The Wings (GB), Shirocco (Ger) and Talismanic (GB). He may be represented in this year's race by Junko (GB) (Intello {Ger}), the last-start winner of the G3 Prix de Reux in Deauville who was also third in the G1 Grand Prix de Saint-Cloud behind Westover (GB) (Frankel {GB}) and Zagrey (Fr) (Zarak {Fr}).

ONESTO WILL STAND AT HARAS D'ETREHAM UPON RETIREMENT

Group 1 winner Onesto (Ire) (Frankel {GB}--Onshore {GB}, by Sea The Stars {Ire}), who is bound for the Breeders' Cup next month, will stand at Haras d'Etreham in 2024, the French stud announced on Tuesday.

Bred by Diamond Creek Farm in Ireland, the Fabrice Chappet runner was a debut winner at Chantilly in September of his 2-year-old year, and won the G2 Prix Greffulhe in his second start at three. Fifth in the G1 Prix du Jockey Club, he claimed the Grand Prix de Paris last July and the colt was second in the G1 Irish Champion S. that September. Currently racing for Gerard Augustin-Normand, Jean-Etienne Dubois, Ecurie Hunter Valley, Haras d'Etreham, Ecurie Billon, Ecurie Elag, Chappet, and Hubert Guy, the 2023 G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe third is poised for a GI Breeders' Cup Turf bid at Santa Anita in less than a month, having exited the Arc in good order. His record stands at 12-3-2-1 and $1,327,473 in earnings.

Haras d'Etreham's Nicolas de Chambure said, "Selected by Hubert Guy at the breeze-up sales in America, Onesto has always shown great speed for a Classic horse. He possesses a most remarkable pedigree, which is why we acquired him as a 2-year-old. He was a magnificent colt and has become a very handsome horse with the conformation of a miler and a strong physique. Our hopes of seeing him becoming a stallion prospect have been realised thanks to his high-class performances at the top level. In addition to his natural speed, he boasts a rare capacity of acceleration and the mentality of a warrior."

The 185,000gns Tattersalls October Book 1 yearling turned $535,000 OBS Spring Sale 2-year-old is out of the unraced mare Onshore. She is a half-sister to Group 3 winner Jet Away (GB) (Cape Cross {Ire}), while her Kahyasi (Ire) dam Kalima (GB) is a full-sister to the tremendously influential blue hen Hasili (Ire) and her brood of top-level winners.

"His racing career has been a wonderful adventure alongside a group of enthusiastic associates and we are delighted to welcome Onesto to stud as he represents a unique opportunity for us, and a first-rate profile for French breeders and the French stallion ranks," Chambure added. Cont. p14

CAGNES-SUR-MER 2024 WINTER MEETING ALTERED BY FRANCE GALOP

The Cagnes-sur-Mer Flat winter meeting, which lasts from Jan. 15-Feb. 26, has been modified by France Galop.

The aim of the various measures is to provide a new impetus to the Flat meeting with the goal to regain a positive dynamic in terms of runners, according to Francois Forcioli-Conti, president of the Association des Courses de la Cote d'Azur. In 2024, there will now be an even split between races conducted on the turf and those run on the all-weather track. Previously, that ratio had been 40% to 60%. In addition, two February race meetings at Marseille-Vivaux (AWT) will now take place that month at Marseille-Borely on turf. These adjustments will result in an additional 30 grass races available in the South-East of France.

Some other changes are as follows:

- Listed Grand Prix de la Riviera Cote d'Azur will be moved to Jan. 27 and remains at 2000 metres on the AWT
- Listed Grand Prix du Departement, the first stage of the Defi du Galop, will have its distance shortened to 2150 metres and will be run in its usual time slot
- Listed Prix Saonois will be held earlier on Feb. 11 over 1600 metres on the AWT per usual
- Listed Prix de la Californie returns to the turf and will be run over 1500m on Feb. 25
- Cagnes-sur-Mer will host the finals of the Challenge PSF, with two bonuses up for grabs—one horse will be rewarded a bonus for the most points in races run over 1400m-1600m and another is available for the horse with the most points from 1900m-2500m.
- The Challenge PSF Sprint/Mile Division will consist of the Listed Prix Irish River (1400m, Deauville on Nov. 5), Listed Prix Luthier (1500m, Deauville on Dec. 3), and the Listed Prix Saonois (1600m, Cagney-sur-Mer on Feb. 11)
- The Challenge PSF Intermediate/Classic Division contains the Listed Prix Lyphard (1900m, Deauville on Nov. 28), Listed Prix Arcangues (2500m, Deauville on Dec. 16), and the Listed Grand Prix de la Riviera Cote d'Azur (2000m, Cagnes-sur-Mer on Jan. 27).

Lady Invincible | Scoop Dyga

Making eye-catching headway out wide in the straight, the 17-10 favourite quickened to the fore approaching the two pole and powered clear in style inside the final 100 metres to outclass Marjane (Fr) (Fast Company {Ire}) by an impressive three lengths. Lady Invincible is the second foal and scorer out of a half-sister to MG1SW European champion Shamardal (Giant's Causeway), G2 Beresford S. victor Geoffrey Chaucer Montjeu {Ire}) and Listed third Diamond Necklace (Unbridled's Song). Descendants of the latter include G1 Arturo Lyon Pena-winning Chilean champion Sos Genia (Chi) (Seeking The Dia) and MGSW G1 Caulfield Guineas and G1 Makybe Diva S. third Osipenko (NZ) (Pierro {Aus}). The May-foaled bay is half to a yearling colt by Siyouni (Fr), who was the highest-priced colt when knocked down to M V Magnier and White Birch Farm for €2.2 million at this year's Arqana August sale. Sales history: €300,000 Ylg '22 ARQAUG. Lifetime Record: 2-1-0-0, €19,000.

SHADIZI (FR) (c, 2, Siyouni {Ire}--Shanndiyra {Ire}, by King's Best), a Sept. 19 last-out third tackling six furlongs in the second of two starts at Chantilly, was several lengths off the tempo in sixth for most of this one. Coaxed closer once into the straight, the 23-10 second choice was shaken up to go second with 350 metres remaining and surged beyond Bellano (Fr) (Zelzal {Fr}) inside the final furlong to easily defeat that rival by three lengths. Shadizi is the sixth of seven foals and third scorer out of a half-sister to G2 Prix Chaudenay victrix and G1 Prix Royal-Oak third Shankardeh (Ire) (Azamour {Ire}) and G1 Prix de l'Opera heroine Shalanaya (Ire) (Lomitas {GB}), herself the dam of G3 Premio Ambrosiano third Shalamba (Ire) (Zoffany {Ire}). The April-foaled homebred bay is a half-brother to MGSP Listed Prix de la Seine victrix Shahnaza (Fr) (Azamour {Ire}) and a yearling colt by Persian King (Ire). Lifetime Record: 3-1-0-1, €23,500.
