

WOODS SIGNS FOR TOP TWO AT OBS OCTOBER FINALE

Sales-topping hip 507 | Judit Seipert

by Alan Carasso

Under his Quarter Pole Enterprises banner, noted yearling-to-juvenile reseller Eddie Woods signed for the two top horses during Wednesday's second and final session of the OBS October Sale in Central Florida. The veteran horseman paid $250,000 for a colt by promising young sire Mitole about a third of the way through the session and hung around to the bitter end, when he gave $150,000 for a colt from the first crop of Global Campaign (Curlin). The topper was the most-expensive at the October Sale since 2018, when a colt by Cairo Prince was knocked down for $340,000.

Over the course of two days of trade, OBS reported sales on 386 yearlings for gross receipts of $7,692,100, good for an average price of $19,928. The number declined by 25.7% from last year's sale--which featured a 'select' session followed by an open session--when 394 horses sold for $10,560,900 or an average of $26,804. The median also took a hit, dropping 26.5% to $12,500. In 2022, some 15 horses sold in excess of $100,000, while seven crossed the six-figure threshold this year.

"The horses near the top of the market sold good, but at the lower levels of the market, there certainly was some weakness," said OBS President Tom Ventura. "I think it's the nature of the market reacting."

ARON WELLMAN JOINS THE TDN WRITERS' ROOM PODCAST

It was a huge week for Eclipse Thoroughbred Partners and its President and Founder Aron Wellman. Over a 24-hour period, Eclipse swept the two Grade I stakes races run during Keeneland's Fall Stars Weekend.

It began with a win by Candied (Candy Ride {Arg}) in the GI Alcibiades S. on Friday. Twenty-four hours later, 'TDN Rising Star' Locked (Gun Runner) came through with a determined win in the GI Breeders' Futurity.

Both will now head to Santa Anita for the Breeders' Cup.

Eclipse couldn't quite pull off the trifecta when Anisette (GB) (Awtaad {Ire}) ran a game second in the GII Rodeo Drive S. at Santa Anita.

"We have been spoiled somewhat post-pandemic where the market has been moving, even in the face of increased interest rates and the financial markets and the general financial situation," continued Ventura.

"We just keep doing what we can, recruiting horses, recruiting people trying to put the best product we can in front of our clientele."

Woods struck first for hip 507, a Sue Vacek-consigned Florida-bred son of Mitole and Midnight Magic (Midnight Lute) and was the recipient of a positive update when his half-sister, last year's GIII Delaware Oaks heroine and two-time OBS graduate Midnight Stroll (Not This Time), padded her resume with a close runner-up effort in the GII Presque Isle Downs Masters S. Sept. 18.

With time ticking away on the sale, Woods snapped up hip 745, another Florida-bred, who fetched $82,000 when offered as a short yearling at the OBS January Sale. The late February foal was consigned to the October Sale by Richard Kaizen's Kaizen Sales, agent.

"The two horses I bought, I loved. I didn't think I could get them bought, but I did," Woods said. "I might have stretched on the [Mitole] a little bit, but gosh, he's gorgeous, by a sire that's on the come with a fashionable pedigree, he just did everything right and that mare throws a good-looking horse."

"The Global Campaign was a magnificent-looking horse, it's just a family of runners. He looked a bit like [the stakes-winning] A. J. Melini (Matty G) [who appears in the second dam], that's a horse I had for Marion Montanari once upon a time, just a bit of a stronger version of him. Two really good, strong, physical colts."

Ice Cold, a 2-year-old daughter of Mitole and a graduate of the Woods program, won the Oct. 4 Miss Indiana S., and the consignor thinks Mitole is a stallion with a bright future.

"They're showing up and as they get older, they're starting to get a little bit better, which is a good sign," he said. "I thought they may be a little quick and early, but they're getting a route of ground and that usually augurs for a decent kind of stallion."

Both of Woods's purchases are naturally ticketed for next year's breeze-up sales, and Woods is equal parts pragmatic and optimistic.

"We've got a long ways to go," he said. "If everything goes right, they're perfect for resale candidates. They need to be quick, they need to vet well and have good videos. But they both move really well, they're both quite handsome and there's no reason to think they wouldn't do well going forward."

To talk about his Keeneland wins, his Breeders' Cup plans and the latest on Nest (Curlin), who did not run well in the GI Spinster S., Wellman was this week's Green Group Guest of the Week on this week's TDN Writers' Room podcast presented by Keeneland.

Wellman admitted that he wasn't overly confident with Candied. She was coming off a three-quarter length win in a maiden special weight race at Saratoga and would be facing the likes of 'TDN Rising Star' V V's Dream (Mitole), who won the GIII Pocahontas by 8 3/4 lengths, and the undefeated Grade I winner Brightwork (Outwork).

"I'll give (trainer) Todd Pletcher, of course, the credit," Wellman said. "Any time you train a filly to win her debut going six furlongs and then win a Grade I race after that with just that one start under her belt, well, that is just an epic achievement. I would say I was mildly surprised by the win. We were hoping to get valuable Grade One black type with her. We thought we would accomplish that, and anything beyond that would be cherry on top of the cake. She's a very gifted filly. She's done nothing wrong."

While Candied was 4-1, Locked was sent off at 3-5, not surprising since he was coming out of a super maiden effort at Saratoga, where he got a 96 Beyer figure in a 7 1/4-length win. This time around, it wasn't easy. Locked was caught four to five wide on both turns and then he had to battle a determined The Wine Steward (Vino Rosso) in the stretch before edging clear to win by a half-length.

"In my handicapping, I didn't make him 3-5 by any stretch of the imagination," Wellman said. "When the post positions came out, I didn't mind that he was drawn wide because he's such a big, long-striding, high-cruising speed type individual. I thought that if we could keep him in the clear, that would be okay. We just didn't want to be five wide going into the first turn and five or six wide around the far turn. But Jose (Ortiz) had to make some decisions during the course of this race. He was wide and chasing into a pretty soft pace and Jose pushed the button at the right time, which under normal circumstances probably would have been a little premature. But considering the slow fractions, knowing that it was the short stretch finish, I thought it was a really smart ride on Jose's part. It did concern me a little bit when he had so much momentum coming off the elbow of the turn and then didn't separate from The Wine Steward. I was very concerned inside the eighth-pole that The Wine Steward, who was an undefeated horse with three races, wasn't going to back down and he didn't. But you could tell that Locked was kind of reserving something in the tank."

The one thing that didn't go right for Eclipse was Nest's race in the Spinster. She was fourth, beaten 11 1/4 lengths. In her prior start, the GI Personal Ensign, she finished third, losing by 4 1/4 lengths. Eclipse co-owns Nest with Mike Repole.

"Nest didn't have her best day on Sunday in the Spinster," Wellman said. "So far as going to the Breeders' Cup, I think we're just going to have to evaluate her over the next 10 days to two weeks and see how she responds. Todd Pletcher is going to consolidate all of his Breeders Cup hopefuls at Keeneland, so she's already there, which is nice." Cont.

Elsewhere on the podcast, which is also sponsored by the 1/ST Racing, the Pennsylvania Horse Breeders Association, WinStar Farm, the KTOB, XBTv and West Point Thoroughbreds, the team of Zoe Cadman, Randy Moss and Bill Finley took a look back at the dozens of major stakes races run over the weekend. Finley said that the win by Up to the Mark (Not This Time) in the GI Coolmore Turf Mile S. was the performance of the weekend. The team was also high on the win by 'TDN Rising Star' Muth (Good Magic) in the GI American Pharoah S. Repole's pronouncement that the owners need to take greater control of the sport was a major subject of discussion. The consensus was that it will be hard for Repole to pull this off, but that if anyone can do it it is him.

NYRA ACQUIRES SUGAR MAPLE FARM

New York's Sugar Maple Farm, comprising 466 acres and located about one hour from Belmont Park and two hours from Saratoga, has been acquired by the New York Racing Association (NYRA).

NYRA's Patrick McKenna released the following statement Wednesday afternoon:

"NYRA, through a wholly owned subsidiary, has acquired a large parcel of land in Dutchess County, N.Y. known as Sugar Maple Farm. The 466-acre property, which was previously utilized as a breeding farm, could be appropriate for a wide array of uses including as a new center for equine health and safety research, veterinary education programming, Thoroughbred aftercare as well as off-track training and layup services." Cont.

He continued: "The acquisition of Sugar Maple Farm will, for the first time, allow NYRA to directly contribute to New York's breeding industry and strengthen the NY-bred program.

"NYRA jumped at the opportunity to protect Sugar Maple Farm because it will strengthen the foundation of New York State's Thoroughbred racing ecosystem, create jobs in the Hudson Valley, enhance equine safety and preserve important open space."

The transaction record can be found by doing a search at gis.dutchessny.gov/parcelaccess/. The transaction record appears to show the sale date as Dec. 29 of last year with a price of $12.1 million.

Najja Thompson, executive director of the New York Thoroughbred Breeders, Inc., added an additional statement:

"Sugar Maple Farm has had a storied history in New York breeding as one of the largest breeding and boarding operations in the state. Standing stallions, caring for mares, foals, yearlings, and racehorses on layups.

"The news of NYRA purchasing the farm with plans to modernize the facility for a multitude of purposes with the overall goal and intent of helping to further improve the landscape of New York breeding and racing is exciting and we look forward to working with NYRA toward these goals."

The estate was first listed for sale in 2015, when Christie's provided the following details:

"Sugar Maple Farm, a 460-acre equestrian estate in the New York town of Poughquag, is on the market for $23.5 million. At about 80 minutes from Manhattan, the Georgian-style manor sits at the end of a driveway lined with Linden trees. Inside, the 4-story home features high ceilings and custom millwork. There are eight bedrooms, nine full bathrooms and three partial bathrooms. A crow's nest staircase leads to the fourth floor where a balcony overlooks the grounds. The home's lower level includes a wine cellar, an indoor swimming pool and a basketball half-court. The property also features a tennis court and a putting green.

"A respected facility for racehorse breeding and training, the estate includes paddocks, outbuildings and six barns with 94 stalls. The property belongs to the entrepreneur Howard Kaskel and his wife, Susan. The couple is selling the home because they plan to downsize, according to listing agent John Friend of Houlihan Lawrence, an affiliate of Christie's International Real Estate. While the couple intends to continue breeding horses, they no longer wish to maintain a farm of this size, he said."

WITWATERSRAND TOPS FASIG-TIPTON OCTOBER DIGITAL SALE

Fasig-Tipton Fall Sale | Fasig-Tipton

The Fasig-Tipton October Digital Sale closed Tuesday afternoon with 100 horses sold for $1,820,000. Offerings included breeding stock, horses of racing age, yearlings, and a stallion.

Racing prospect Witwatersrand (Hip 8) topped the sale when sold for $230,000 to Deputy from the consignment of Taylor Made Sales Agency, agent for DJ Stable Graduate. A 2-year-old daughter of Connect, Witwatersrand broke her maiden on debut at Woodbine on Sept. 1 for owners DJ Stable and Quintessential Racing Florida and trainer Mark Casse. The chestnut filly was offered and sold from her trainer's barn at Woodbine.

America's Thoroughbred Investors LLC went to $115,000 to secure the sale's second highest-priced offering, Managing Mischief (Hip 121), a 2-year-old racing prospect consigned by Taylor Made Sales Agency, agent.

Managing Mischief is a daughter of current leading first-crop sire Maximus Mischief out of a winning Midshipman half-sister to two-time Canadian champion and millionaire Essence Hit Man. Cont.

Rounding out the top three prices of the sale was Glider (Hip 12), a 3-year-old gelded son of Quality Road purchased for $100,000 by YMT Farm from the consignment of Taylor Made Sales Agency, agent for DJ Stable Graduate. A winner at two and three, Glider has won or placed in half of career starts to date and earned $167,006 for DJ Stable and trainer Mark Casse. Glider was offered and sold from his location at Casse Training Center in Ocala, Florida.

"These results represent real growth for the Digital platform," said Leif Aaron, Fasig-Tipton's Director of Digital Sales. "We offered nearly four times as many horses as we did in last October's digital sale and the gross rose accordingly. Our clearance rate this week was nearly 80% and we had nearly 450 bidders registered."

"The online sales provide the free market the opportunity to buy 'ready-made horses,'" DJ Stable's Jon Green said. "Since we never have to interrupt their training, the new owners have a chance to earn an immediate return on investment."

The next Fasig-Tipton Digital will be the December Digital Sale, which opens for bidding on Thursday, Dec. 7 and closes on Tuesday, Dec. 12.

SPENDTHRIFT FRESHMEN ROSTER LED BY OMAHA BEACH

Omaha Beach | Autry Graham

Fees have been set for Spendthrift's four first-crop sires, currently occupying four of the five top spots on the leading freshman sire list in North America, according to a release from the Central Kentucky farm Wednesday. Their fees for the 2024 breeding season were held back when Spendthrift announced the farm's roster and fees in late September.

The Spendthrift roster will feature three new stallions in 2024: Taiba (Gun Runner), Arabian Lion (Justify), and Zandon (Upstart). Taiba is already at the farm and will stand for $35,000, while the other two are being pointed toward the Breeders' Cup and fees will be determined upon retirement. The stallions at Spendthrift are led by four-time leading sire Into Mischief, who will stand for $250,000.

Spendthrift's current freshman sire roster for 2024, with fees, includes Omaha Beach ($40,000), Maximus Mischief ($25,000), Vino Rosso ($20,000), and Mitole ($15,000).

THEATER REVIEW: GABE MOLLIKA'S 'SOLO, A SHOW ABOUT FRIENDSHIP' by Sue Finley

I first met Drew Mollica in 1988 when I was assigned by the Thoroughbred Record to write a cover story on Chris Antley, for whom Mollica was serving as a jockey agent at the time. I found Mollica hysterically funny and, full disclosure, we have been friends ever since. Having since earned his law degree, Drew now practices what might be called racetrack law, and counts the TDN among his clients.

Tuesday night, I attended the opening night of his son Gabe's one-man show, Solo, in New York City's East Village and found that the sense of humor trait has undoubtedly been passed on from father to son.

Solo is a one-hour-and-20-minute show which counts several racing luminaries among its executive producers, including Terry Finley, Dave Johnson, Tommy and Karen Bellhouse, Len Green, and Michael Katzer. More a storytelling session than stand-up comedy, it is at times thoughtful, poignant, honest, and very, very funny.

He calls it "A Show About Friendship," and over the eighty minutes, Mollica explores the differences between friendship among men and those among women. After he spends a day playing video games with his friend Nick, he goes to his parents' house and his mother, Joy, says she has just seen on Facebook that Nick's sister has just had a baby. Cont.

"How does Nick feel about being an uncle?" she asks him. "How does Nick feel?" Mollica replies. "I've known Nick my whole life and I don't know how he feels about anything."

Men, he muses, hang out together with another activity as the focus--sports, video games, or anything else to watch--while women hang out to talk to and focus on one another.

It's one of many observations that had the audience not just laughing out loud, but nodding their heads in recognition.

But the central story of the show revolves around a friend breakup, not with one of his 'bros' as he calls his video-game-playing friends, but with someone he considered his best friend, Tim. This story, and Mollica's inability to come to terms with what Tim has done, how it was handled, and to resolve what has happened to the friendship, is not only the central heart of the show, but a story which will resound with anyone who has been through a similar experience.

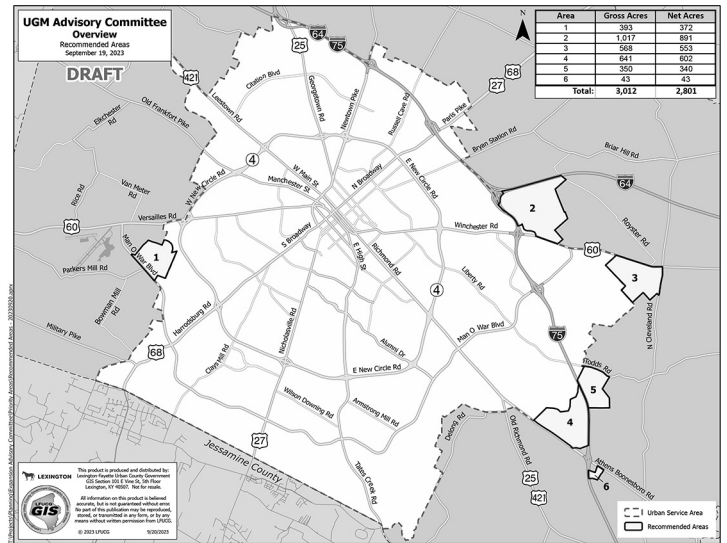

I may have embarrassed myself laughing in the intimate space of the theater when Mollica explains to his childhood friends just what it is that a jockey agent does, asking them, "You mean your father doesn't have a little man?"

The New York Times has called the show, "Very funny, sweet not sappy, intricate, Birbiglian storytelling," and it was featured last month on an episode of This American Life. It has also had a run in Edinburgh, Scotland.

The show runs Tuesdays through Sundays through Oct. 28 at the Connelly Theater, 220 E. 4th Street, in New York (click here for tickets) and then hits the road, heading to Chicago, Los Angeles, and Boston, among other stops. NO DECISIONS MADE IN FIRST HEARING IN URBAN SERVICE BOUNDARY LAWSUIT

Lexington's Urban Service Boundary | Fayette Alliance

The first hearing in the lawsuit filed by the Fayette Alliance against the Lexington, Kentucky Urban County Council over the Urban Service Boundary's produced no decisions at the Oct. 5 meeting; instead, both parties were asked to file additional briefs over the next two weeks. The news is according to a press release distributed by the Fayette Alliance.

The Fayette Alliance is alleging that the Council's decision to expand Lexington's Urban Service Boundary--a circular boundary around the downtown designed to protect Kentucky farmland--was not legal. The Alliance claims that the decision, "violated the Kentucky statutes governing the drafting of comprehensive plans, which require that those plans be based on data, research and analysis." Moreover, they say, "the decision defied historical precedent, which is clear that any decision to expand the USB in the past has been made by the Planning Commission."

Attorneys for the city of Lexington have filed a motion to dismiss the case, arguing that since the formal re-zoning has not yet taken place, the Alliance does not have the right to pursue litigation.

The Alliance said that the planning commission will be discussing recommendations on which of the five proposed areas might be rezoned for construction at a meeting Thursday, Oct. 19 at 1:30 p.m. in the Phoenix Building at 101 East Vine Street in Lexington. The meeting is open to the public.

2017 JUVENILE TURF WINNER

MENDELSSOHN

Mendelssohn (2015 bay horse, Scat Daddy--Leslie's Lady, by Tricky Creek)

Lifetime record: Hwt. at 3-U.A.E, GISW-U.S., GSW-U.A.E., G1SP-Eng, SW-Ire, 13-4-2-2, $2,542,137

Breeders' Cup connections: B-Clarkland Farm (KY); O-Michael B. Tabor, Mrs. John Magnier, and Derrick Smith; T-Aidan O'Brien; J-Ryan Moore.

Current location: Coolmore America, Versailles, Ky.

If ever there was a horse whose CV matches his pedigree, it is Mendelssohn. He topped the Keeneland September sale on a bid of $3 million from Coolmore in 2016, the year before he captured the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf. And that pedigree? When he won the Breeders' Cup, he pushed his dam, the reigning Broodmare of the Year Leslie's Lady, into rare territory: she became what was then one of five mares to produce two Breeders' Cup winners. The year prior, her multiple champion daughter Beholder had captured her third Breeders' Cup. If that isn't enough of a 'wow' factor, Mendelssohn has another pretty well-known half-sibling as well, four-time leading sire Into Mischief.

The rich heritage of the Breeders' Cup is woven into horse racing's history. Thirty-nine years and more than 360 champions later, the world-class festival of racing has transcended the sport itself.

JOIN US IN CELEBRATING THE 40TH RUNNING ON NOV 3 & 4

To celebrate the 40th running of the Breeders' Cup, the TDN will share a photo and catch up with a past winner in each of the 40 days leading up to the event. Today, we have 2017 Juvenile Turf winner Mendelssohn. | Sarah Andrew

"All of our team loved Mendelssohn from the first time we saw him as a yearling and he developed into a magnificent-looking horse," said Coolmore's Charlie O'Connor. "Being by our own Scat Daddy and a half-brother to Into Mischief and Beholder, you couldn't ask for a better pedigree and he showed real brilliance when winning the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf at Del Mar and the [G2] U.A.E. Derby by a street, recording a new track record. He is currently the No. 4 leading sire of 2-year-olds in North America... With big crops to come he should keep rising up the ranks." --Jill Williams

40 DAYS OF GIVING' BENEFICIARIES SPEAK UP: 'FOR US, IT'S PERSONAL' by T.D. Thornton

The Breeders' Cup is in the midst of its "40 Days of Giving" program that puts key Thoroughbred industry charities in a collective spotlight with a fundraising twist: This year's initiative involves a money-matching effort in which donors selected by each charity will match up to $1,000 raised by the general public on that charity's designated day. On the final day of the drive, the Breeders' Cup itself will match up to $20,000 in donations, with funds raised on that 40th day to be distributed evenly to all participating charities.

"It's the lead-up to the 40th running of the Breeders' Cup championships. So we're taking 40 days and 11 different charities, and we're trying to raise as much money as possible for all of these charities that are doing incredible work within our industry," said Stefanie Palmieri, the vice president of events for Breeders' Cup, Ltd. Cont.

"And the idea behind the match is that we can engage the public knowing that if they donate, there's a potential for their donations to be doubled."

The charities that will benefit are the California Thoroughbred Horsemen's Foundation, the Ed Brown Society, the Edwin J. Gregson Foundation, The Foundation for the Horse, the Grayson-Jockey Club Research Foundation, the National Museum of Racing and Hall of Fame, the Permanently Disabled Jockeys Fund (PDJF), the Race Track Chaplaincy of America, The Jockey Club Safety Net Foundation, the Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance (TAA) in partnership with the California Retirement Management Account, and the Winners Foundation.

"We started on Sept. 21, and the last day of the match program is Oct. 30," Palmieri said. "But all of the links to donate will remain open through all of the Nov. 3-4 Breeders' Cup races so we can continue promoting and drive as many donations as possible.

"So far, we have hit our matches on quite a few of those days. I think people are really interested and engaged with it," Palmieri said. "The program is really designed to support a variety of different causes within the Thoroughbred industry, and we selected the charities to represent a cross-section of focus areas."

Two points stood out when TDN spoke with executives of some of the charities that the Breeders' Cup selected to participate. The first is that our sport operates differently than others in that it relies on a multitude of industry-facing organizations to keep the game going on a daily basis. The second is that most of these worthy causes generally have to compete for the same relatively small pool of Thoroughbred-supportive donors.

Yet those who run the charities say they welcome this opportunity to have so many good causes featured together under one fundraising umbrella, because a program like 40 Days of Giving raises not only money, but the profiles of everyone involved.

"When an organization like the Breeders' Cup says they're going to dedicate weeks of bringing awareness to the charities, we're obviously thrilled," said Shannon Kelly, the executive director of The Jockey Club Safety Net Foundation. "And I always have felt the Breeders' Cup should be the moment we're promoting our industry's charities, because all eyes are on the Breeders' Cup."

Since 1985, The Jockey Club Safety Net Foundation has operated as a charitable trust that provides, on a confidential basis, financial relief to needy members of the Thoroughbred industry and their families. Its assistance recipients range from jockeys, trainers, exercise riders, and grooms to office personnel and other employees of tracks, racing organizations, and breeding farms.

"Obviously, the Breeders' Cup has a huge platform to promote the work of charities," Kelly continued. "They have a lot of eyes and followers. A lot of charities like us in the industry, we have small staffs and we're working quietly as best as we can. So having an arm like the Breeders' Cup's marketing arm push this is fantastic. And I think it's just a nice way to show they're dedicated. It gives us a boost, some traction to what we do."

"The reality is we're all asking the same donors," Kelly said. "We're a small industry. So I think it's good to make it a collective program, and not everyone on their own going after the same donors. I think it makes it a little bit easier from a fundraising perspective."

Nancy LaSala has been the PDJF's president since its inception in 2006, and she accepted the dual role of executive director three years later. The PDJF provides financial assistance to some 60 former jockeys who have suffered catastrophic on-track accidents, most of which involve paralysis or traumatic brain injury. She said that although each specific charity focuses on its niche, they all fall into broader categories that she likened to three-legged stool that needs even support to remain standing.

"We need to care for our human athlete. We need to take care of our equine athlete. And we need to take care of our racing community infrastructure, which is basically the backside. If we could support those three bases, I look at them as the three prominent prongs of horse racing," LaSala said.

"I don't think our donor base resides much outside of racing," LaSala said. "It's nice to be part of a platform that includes so many industry charities. We very seldom get the chance to do that, for the greater benefit of all." Cont.

Stacie Clark Rogers has been with the Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance since its inception in 2012, and has been the organization's operations consultant since 2014. The TAA accredits, inspects, and awards grants to more than 80 approved aftercare organizations at around 180 facilities to retrain, retire, and rehome Thoroughbreds using industry-wide funding.

"As the official aftercare charity of the Breeders' Cup, we're always happy to be included in the event and to have the recognition for all the 80-plus organizations that we have," Clark Rogers said. "It's the one time where we can help them raise some attention for aftercare on the national and international level. It's really inclusive that they've had so many charities be a part of this. It's great to have such a community spirit with the Breeders' Cup."

Palmieri said the Breeders' Cup left it up to each charity to select their own donors who are providing the matching incentives.

"I like the idea of choosing our match donor because it's helped me identify some people that we wanted to draw attention to," Kelly said. "I went for people who support us throughout the year and are always looking to support more, and I think it gives them some publicity as being actively involved in supporting the industry, not just owning horses or breeding horses or whatever their business is. I think it's good promotion for them, too, to say we have some really good people and groups that want to help."

"We're a really unique industry, because not a lot of other big sports have in-house charities," Kelly said. "Our charities are there for the future of the sport, to keep it moving. For us, it's personal."

MIDDLE EAST CONFLICT HITS HOME FOR ROSENBERG

The niece of Dan Rosenberg, who served Three Chimneys Farm in a variety of roles for three decades, and her husband were among those killed by Hamas in their attacks on Israel, according to a story from NBC affiliate WLEX TV in Lexington.

Deborah Matias and her husband Shlomi died shielding their 16-year-old son Rotem, who survived after Hamas fighters stormed their apartment.

"There is not a single Israeli who doesn't know somebody personally who has been killed," the Israeli-born Rosenberg told reporter Leigh Searcy. "Imagine if every single American knew somebody killed in a terrorist attack--imagine what that would feel like."

Rosenberg told WLEX that his niece and her husband were musicians.

"My niece and her family lived in a peaceful, peace-loving [kibbutz], working for peace...looking to work with Palestinians and help solve this problem," Rosenberg said. "I understand the Palestinians' grievances and I do not fully support some of Israel's policies, but nothing, nothing justifies this kind of behavior," Rosenberg added.

Rosenberg came to Three Chimneys as its general manager in 1978 and was named the farm's president and chief operating officer in 2001. He left Three Chimneys in an official capacity at the end of 2007 to launch a Thoroughbred management consulting service.

According to the most recent reporting, an estimated 2,200 people have lost their lives in the conflict, including 22 Americans.

ARCANGELO CONNECTIONS FIRST TO TAKE THE NEW VOCATIONS BREEDERS' CUP PLEDGE

Arcangelo and his connections that day after the Travers S.
Sarah Andrew

New Vocations, the largest racehorse adoption agency in the country, has received its first pledge which was made by MGISW Arcangelo (Arrogate)'s trainer Jena Antonucci and owner Jon Ebbert of Blue Rose Farm, the organization said in a release Wednesday morning.

This is the 14th annual Breeders' Cup Pledge, in which connections of Breeders' Cup contenders are encouraged to earmark a percentage of their championship earnings to support the charity's mission to rehabilitate, retrain and rehome retired racehorses. To date, the initiative has raised over $1,090,000 in support.

"It's no secret how important it is to our team that we continue to properly transition Thoroughbreds to their next careers," said Antonucci. "The tireless work New Vocations does is and always has been leading this sector of the industry. We are proud to pledge our support for their continued work and commitment to ensuring the best placement through their program."

"We are thrilled to have Jena and Jon's support in helping us launch this year's Pledge," said Anna Ford, New Vocations' Thoroughbred Program Director. "The last two years have been very challenging as the costs associated with caring for the horses and running the program continue to increase. The Pledge offers an easy way for owners and trainers to give back to the horses and support their transition into new careers."

Last year's pledge raised over $140,000, in which over 60 championship contenders had owners and/or trainers who pledged a percentage of their Breeders' Cup earnings. The total from a year ago was driven by a record nine horses with pledging connections--Caravel (Mizzen Mast), Flightline (Tapit), Forte (Violence), Goodnight Olive (Ghostzapper), Malathaat (Curlin), Meditate (Ire) (No Nay Never), Tuesday (Galileo {Ire}), Victoria Road (Ire) (Saxon Warrior {Jpn}) and Wonder Wheel (Into Mischief)--winning their races on Future Stars Friday and Championship Saturday.

New Vocations will continue to seek pledges from owners and trainers until Nov. 2. Click here for pledge information or by contacting anna@horseadoption.com or carey@horseadoption.com.

MOUNT FEE INCREASE FOR KENTUCKY TRACKS

The Jockeys' Guild has reached an agreement with the Kentucky HBPA and the Kentucky Thoroughbred Association on a mount fee increase effective Nov. 29, which is opening day of the Turfway Park Holiday meet, the organization said in a release Wednesday.

The mount fee schedule calls for a minimum fee of $125 at all Kentucky racetracks, including Churchill Downs, Keeneland, Ellis Park, Kentucky Downs and Turfway Park. This agreement also provides for $500 minimum fee in races with purses of $1 million or more.

"On behalf of our members who ride in Kentucky, I would like to thank the Kentucky HBPA and the Kentucky Thoroughbred Association for working with the Guild to reach this agreement," said Terry Meyocks, President and CEO of Jockeys' Guild.

"Special thanks to Senator Damon Thayer, for his assistance in reaching this agreement. Without his support, it would not have been accomplished."

The Kentucky Horse Racing Commission's Rules Committee passed Oct. 4 a unanimous motion recommending this scale to the full commission for consideration and anticipated approval. Once approved, the proposed amendment to the administrative regulation will be filed with the Legislative Research Commission to follow the rule making process and allow for written and public comment. The agreements with the Kentucky HBPA and the KTA will remain in effect until the regulation has been formally adopted, which will likely be next year.

"I was pleased to advocate for a pay increase for the jockeys," said Sen. Damon Thayer, Majority Leader of the Kentucky Senate. "Those who risk their lives every day at our tracks should be paid a fee commensurate with Kentucky's position of having the top purses in North America. In particular, I would like to thank trainer Dale Romans as a leader in the KHBPA, for facilitating in reaching the agreement and to Commissioner Charlie O'Connor for his role at the Commission in moving forward with the adoption of the new regulation."

TAA HAS SUCCESSFUL PRESENCE ON AFTERCARE ALLIANCE DAY AT WOODBINE

The Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance (TAA) participated in Aftercare Alliance Day at Woodbine Sunday, Oct. 8, with a variety of activations on-site over the course of the afternoon.

The Grade II Nearctic S. presented by Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance was won by Big Invasion (Declaration of War), owned by TAA supporters Reeves Thoroughbred Racing of Dean and Patti Reeves. The winner's circle presentation included a Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance-branded blanket and a TAA swag bag. Woodbine Entertainment Group (WEG) made a donation to the TAA, one of many ways WEG emphasized and demonstrated the importance of aftercare throughout the day.

Jockeys and their valets were given the opportunity to designate their earnings to TAA for any races won during the program.

The TAA also presented 'best turned-out' awards, sponsored by Josham Farms in conjunction with the afternoon's four stakes.

"Woodbine Racetrack serves as a unifying epicenter, consistently attracting a substantial and diverse community of passionate and dedicated Canadian horse racing enthusiasts," said Stacie Clark-Rogers, Operations Consultant, Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance. "There are a large number of aftercare supporters from Woodbine, where the welfare and post-career support of these athletes remains a top priority."

'A SIMILAR HIND END TO BAAEED' - SEA THE STARS COLT LEADS WAY AT BK 2

Blandford Bloodstock's Richard Brown bought the top lot at Book 2 on Wednesday | Tattersalls

By Brian Sheerin

Many hands make light work. Or in this case, it was many feet and steps that allowed Richard Brown of Blandford Bloodstock to find and then secure the Sea The Stars (Ire) colt (Lot 1309) who topped the final session of Book 2 of the Tattersalls October Yearling Sale on Wednesday at 425,000gns.

It was Juddmonte's Sam Guyette, shortlisting for the top bloodstock agent this week, who first lauded the Norelands Stud-drafted colt as a potential nap.

Brown revealed that, after taking this nugget with a heavy pinch of salt initially, he was then bowled over by Wednesday's topper when he made his way down to Highflyer. Cont. p3

AUCTAV TAKES NEXT STEP WITH FLAT SALE AT HARAS DE BOIS ROUSSEL By Emma Berry

A new name appeared on the European sales circuit in 2021 with the birth of the French company Auctav, a composite of the words 'Auction Advantage'.

Auctav sought to create an opportunity to the advantage of the bloodstock industry in France and beyond from the chaos wrought on the bloodstock industry by the Covid-imposed travel restrictions. It founded an online sales platform across the range of racing disciplines, featuring not just Flat and National Hunt sales, but also those for trotters and Arabian horses. As the established sales houses explored this type of venture and added online platforms to their own major sales bases in Newmarket, Doncaster, Kildare, and Deauville, Auctav has grown in the opposite direction and now has a physical presence of its own, at the historic Haras de Bois Roussel in Bursard, between Deauville and Le Mans. It is here on Saturday that Auctav will host its first 'in person' Flat sale.

"We had two sales here for trotters in August and one for jumpers last month," says Auctav's director general Arnaud Angeliaume of the company's progression from holding 'Flash sales' online on an almost monthly basis to hosting the sales crowd at a beautiful stud farm in the Alencon region. Founded in 1902, Haras de Bois Roussel has previously been owned by the Wildenstein family and Leon Volterra, among others, and is now home to the Auctav offices and sales complex."

"A lot of credit has to go to our spotters because it's very hard to get around these numbers," Brown said after securing the colt for his existing client. "Sam Guyette, who works for Juddmonte, has been helping us get through the numbers this week and told me very early that there was a special horse for me to see. I sort of raised my eyebrows and went down to see him and went, 'wow, this is a very serious horse.'"

"I knew he'd be hard to buy. He's by one of the greatest stallions around and has a proper back page. Luckily, I had somebody who was willing to stretch and have a proper go. He'll stay in England."

The Sea The Stars colt is out of Dawn Approach (Ire) mare

Miss Aiglone (GB), who is a half-sister to Group 1 winner Mekhtaal (GB) (Sea The Stars). It was a combination of that strong pedigree and likable physical attributes that enticed Brown to go to 425,000gns.

"He's not a huge horse," the agent explained. "He's a perfectly-sized horse for me. I got to see Baaeed (GB) quite a lot in William Haggas's. Baaeed had this huge, flat quarter and great width of hip. He wasn't actually a huge horse. This horse had a similar hind end to Baaeed. He has great movement and is just a classy animal."

Brown added, "We're all realists and know that most horses are not very good. But, buying a horse who looks like that and is by Sea The Stars, it gives you a chance of having a top Group 1 horse."

Similarly to Book 1, the trade at Park Paddocks this week didn't quite compare to last year, but Brown was left focussing on the positives at close of play on Wednesday.

He concluded, "I think the market has been strong. I think it's been really good. It has been well documented that last week was tricky. This week has been hard to buy.

"I didn't buy as many this week as I did last week and I've tried on plenty. There's definitely cracks and it would be foolish for everyone involved to say it was completely smooth sailing. But, overall, you'd have to have a positive take away from the sale."

Key Figures Fall At Book 2

The key figures took a dip at Book 2 this year; the aggregate fell by 11% at Book 2 compared to 12 months ago. There were similar dips with the median and average which fell by 11% and 10% respectively. The clearance rate fell by 1% to 85%.

Tattersalls chairman Edmond Mahony said, "As referenced last week the 2022 Tattersalls October Yearling Sales reached extraordinary heights the like of which we may not see for many years to come, so for Book 2 of the October Yearling Sale to produce returns which, although falling short of last year, compare favourably with all bar two renewals of Europe's largest yearling sale gives some perspective.

"As recently as 2016 the turnover at Book 2 of the Tattersalls October Yearling Sale was below 40 million guineas, with a then record average price of 65,000 guineas, a record-equalling median of 50,000 guineas and an unprecedented 117 lots selling for 100,000 guineas or more. This year's sale has achieved an average in excess of 80,000 guineas, a median second only to last year's runaway record and a clearance rate of 85%.

"The outstanding Dubawi filly who topped the sale at 725,000 guineas was the second highest priced filly ever sold at this sale, 55 lots have sold for 200,000 guineas or more which is fractionally fewer than last year and the diversity of buyers has been notable at all levels of the market."

He added, "As ever the support from the consignors has been outstanding. Year after year horses purchased at Book 2 of the Tattersalls October Yearling Sale are successful at the very highest level throughout the world, annually demonstrating the extraordinary quality of yearlings that British and Irish consignors, alongside many from mainland Europe, commit to this sale. Buyers, both domestic and international, derive huge confidence from the consistent racecourse achievements of Tattersalls October Yearlings and buyers from throughout Europe and the Gulf region, as well as Australia, China, Hong Kong, Japan and the USA have all made valuable contributions this week alongside the domestic British and Irish participants who will always be the backbone of the October Yearling Sales.

"It is a source of pride that Books 1 and 2 of the Tattersalls October Yearling Sale showcase so many of the best yearlings to be found in Europe, but as we move on to Books 3 and 4 we should also highlight the quality of the yearlings to be offered in the next few days. The likes of last year's G1 Cheveley Park S. winner Lezoo and recent G2 Beresford S. winner Deepone were both bought at Book 3 of the October Yearling Sale and are graphic illustrations of the opportunities still to be found at Tattersalls this week."

Owner Makes Hay At Book 2 By Splashing Out On Nine Yearlings

Jim Hay, whose wife Fitri's colours have been carried by Irish Derby winner Fame And Glory (GB) and more recently by smart sprinters Khaadem (Ire) and Equilateral (GB), outlined his passion for British racing after buying nine yearlings at Book 2. That outlay was headed by a 325,000gns Gleneagles (Ire) colt (Lot 1242) from Whatton Manor Stud on Wednesday. Hay had been active at the yearling sales from Arqana through to Keeneland, Goffs and now this week at Tattersalls.

Shortly after snapping up the Gleneagles, the owner's Ciro Di Marzio (Justify), a €518,519 purchase from the Goffs Dubai Breeze-Up Sale earlier this year, won a Kempton novice for trainer Ralph Beckett.

Hay, who expects to be represented at the Breeders' Cup by Nakatomi (Firing Line) [who he owns in partnership with Sheikh Fahad] and Starlust (GB) (Zoustar {Aus}), admitted that his love for British racing comes fraught with frustrations, but put on the record his commitment to racehorse ownership after bolstering his team for next year.

Hay said, "We bought a few today. We like Gleneagles and have had a lot of success with them--Royal Scotsman and Highland Chief--so we like the bloodline."

The next Blue Point?

Shamardal's record-breaking Champion at two whose first yearlings are in hot demand with a top price of 325,000gns. More selling now...

He continued, "The one we bought today is out of a Pivotal (GB) mare, the same as Royal Scotsman, so we like that cross. The experts [agents Ed Sackville and Dermot Farrington] tell me that he looks the business."

He added, "UK racing is in a terrible bloody state financially. But that's okay, we'll keep doing what we've been doing for 20-odd years. We'd love UK racing to actually become sensible and be funded properly."

Hay ran 34 individual horses in Britain this year alone and, along with Beckett, he supports Andrew Balding, Paul and Oliver Cole, Richard Hannon, Charlie Hills and more. A 310,000gns Churchill colt (Lot 1154) bought from Clare Castle Stud also featured on Wednesday's shopping list for a man who spent $1 million at Keeneland earlier this year. However, Hay relayed his ongoing worry over what the future lies for the industry in Britain due to affordability checks on punters.

Jim Hay | Tattersalls

He said, "The big dream with all of this for everyone is to produce a stallion that could potentially be worth a lot of money. Otherwise, the whole thing is just basically shredding money. The other thing is these affordability checks.

"A bookie won't let me put a fifty quid each-way bet on but I've just spent over three-hundred-grand on a horse. This is the nonsense in all of it. All this kind of stuff needs to come to a halt."

The Gleneagles colt was consigned by Whatton Manor Stud, who were also in lights when selling a Too Darn Hot (GB) colt (Lot 1163) to Highclere for 320,000gns. Those figures elevated Whatton Manor Stud to end Book 2 as the second busiest consignors with 22 selling for 1,879,000gns. That was only bettered by the 2,628,000gns aggregate posted by Tally-Ho Stud for 28 yearlings.

Without Parole

Frankel's fastest son at stud

"Without Parole is getting extremely athletic looking offspring, very much in his own mould. They have lots of size, strength and quality. I've been extremely impressed by what I've seen and he looks set to make an impact with his first crop of 2yos next year."

Mark McStay, purchaser of a $95,000 colt out of Mama Tembu at Keeneland September

"He's a very good model with substance. I can see him coming together at two. I'm thrilled to get one by a sire who we've bred to and admire."

Reflecting on the week, Whatton Manor's Ed Player said, "Trade feels tough when you are selling quite a few horses. We had four horses in Book 1 and 25 in Book 2. It has been quite tough but, if you have nice horses, there are plenty of people for it. It definitely feels tougher than it has done in previous times but trade just can't keep going up year after year. But, if you have a nice horse, there is still great trade."

He added, "A lot of work has gone into these two weeks. The guys at home work incredibly hard and you've just got to try and show the horses as best you can. If people don't like them, that's the market value at that given time. When Tattersalls come and inspect the horses in June, obviously some progress a lot and others don't do as well. Overall, trade is perfectly okay but it's just tougher this year than other years."

O'Brien Lands Colt By 'One Of The Top Sires In The World'

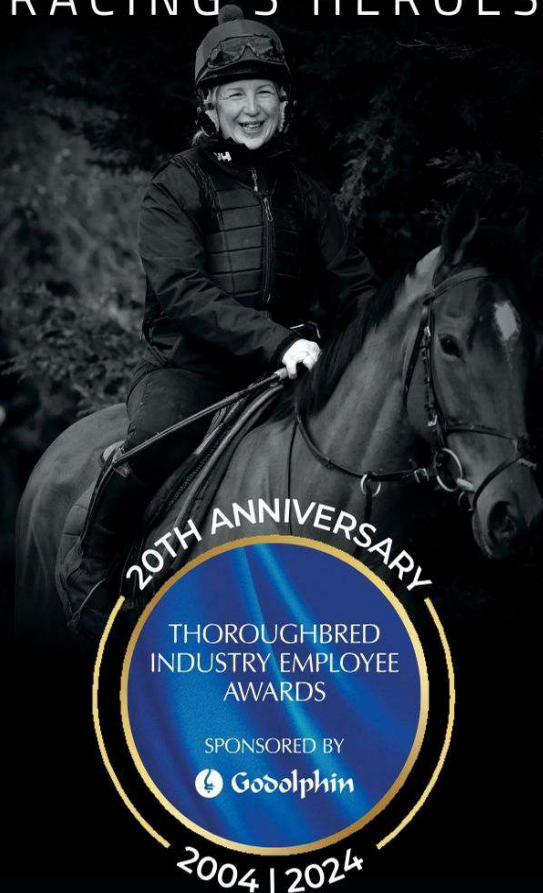

Joseph O'Brien & MV Magnier | Tattersalls

Joseph O'Brien has been a constant presence at Tattersalls since Book 1 and bought horses at every level in the past week. The leading trainer picked up a 310,000gns Siyouni (Fr) (Lot 1194) under the banner of Opm Equine, a partnership that includes American bloodstock agent Justin Casse.

O'Brien commented, "Siyouni has had an exceptional year. This is a nice strong colt and we're lucky to have gotten him. We've had a few by Siyouni and he's one of the top sires in the world. We're delighted to have him. He's been bought with Justin Casse and Olivia Perkins-Mackey, who works with Justin. We're looking forward to hopefully a mature 2-year-old."

The Siyouni was expertly pinhooked by Guy O'Callaghan of Grangemore Stud from Etream at Arqana last December for €78,000. He is out of an unraced Invincible Spirit (Ire) mare whose dam is a sister to high-class Ballydoyle-trained runners Rhododendron (Ire), Magical (Ire) and Flying The Flag (Ire).

TATTERSALLS OCTOBER YEARLING SALE BOOK 2 DAY 3

By Georgia Cox

Lot	Sex	Sire Dam	Price (gns)
1270	c	Mohaather (GB)--Maid For Winning (GB)	100,000
		Bred by Claiborne Farm
		Consigned by Ballyvolane Stud
		Purchased by Howson & Houldsworth Bloodstock
		for the Guest Family

This colt is out of the well-named Maid For Winning, who has produced seven winners from eight runners including three black-type performers. Most notable of which is the Group 3 winner Yourtimeisnow (GB) (Charm Spirit {Ire}). Bought by John Foley under the banner of GHS Bloodstock at the Tattersalls December Foal Sales for 55,000gns, the Mohaather colt almost doubled in price when selling to Howson and Houldsworth Bloodstock on behalf of the Guest family for 100,000gns on Wednesday. The Guest family are big supporters of George Margason and the trainer could have plenty to look forward to with this colt by freshman sire Mohaather, the progeny of which have been snapped up by notable buyers, including Shadwell, Highflyer, Ed Sackville, Dermot Farrington and Paddy Twomey this week alone.

BUY OF THE DAY

TATTERSALLS OCTOBER YEARLING SALE

A strong case can be made for the last horse [lot 1351] in the ring on Wednesday, a belter of a Blue Point colt, being the best bought horse on the day. Consigned by Hascombe & Valiant Stud, this colt snuck marginally under the average [133,900gns] posted by the stallion this week at 130,000gns, but he was anything but average. He was bought by Thomond O'Mara, a prominent breeze-up handler and, assuming the colt breezes well, he could be one to turn a profit. He'd fit in nicely at the Craven Breeze-Up Sale here next spring and looks very well-bought.

Thought For The Day

Some of the talent displayed by the sales staff on the sales ground over the past few days has been off the charts. We have had the odd yearling get loose in the parade ring, but thankfully, there was no harm done. That's been down to the quick-thinking and skill displayed by the men and women on the ground. A job well done.

"Auctav does things step by step," he continues. "We started with trotters and National Hunt horses because they are easier markets to start with, but now we are better known and are confident about how we do things it is the time to have Flat sales. That is a very competitive market but what has helped us is some publicity from our Flash sales through Go Athletico (Fr). He has run really well since we sold him. He was a Listed winner when we sold him and since then he has won a Listed and a Group 3.

"We have had a huge selection of horses offered to us. We had more than 200 horses proposed to us and we have just kept it to 80 to 90."

Also catalogued, as lot 76 from Jedburgh Stud, is Piscine De Ruinart (Fr) (Zoffany {Ire}), a three-year-old half-sister to the Group 3 winner and Grade I-placed Indian Blessing (GB) (Sepoy {Aus}) as well as to the black-type earners Montalbano (GB) (Monsieur Bond {Ire}) and Glade (GB) (Bertolini). And, perhaps surprisingly for the time of year, 11 foals complete the catalogue, including six by Muhaarar (GB), and colts by Galiway (GB) and Kendargent (Fr),

"Alain Chopard, who stood Muhaarar at Haras des Faunes for the 2022 and 2023 seasons, was happy to work with us on this project and to select several foals to sell by the stallion, who has had very good results this year," explains Angeliaume. "It made economic sense to strike while the iron was hot. It is a little earlier in the year to sell mares and foals than is traditional, but for breeders it is helpful to have cashflow."

Arnaud Angeliaume | Auctav

There are 120 permanent stables at Haras du Bois Roussel with the capacity to house more horses in temporary stabling. However, Angeliaume acknowledges that the timing of the sale, coming as the two-week Tattersalls October Sale closes and three days before the start of the Arqana October Sale, is part of the reason that Auctav restricted its catalogue for the forthcoming sale.

"There are so many sales through this period, so if you want the buyers to really look at your catalogue it has to be selective," he says. "We want buyers to know that every page has been selected for a reason--because it is a black-type family, or because there have been good results in the family."

"This Saturday is a time when some bloodstock agents come back from Tattersalls and start to look at Arqana, so there is the option to come to Bois Roussel, but what is our strength is that even if they can't come to the sale there is still the possibility to bid online."

He adds, "That's how we started and we worked a lot at first on the online side. We work a lot on the photos and we prefer to go to see the horses at the stud. We have a huge repository and that is very important because we want no bad surprises for the purchaser."

Auctav's 'Vente de Plat' takes place on Saturday, October 14, from 12.30pm local time.

CLASSIC WINNER CHANNEL TO SELL AT ARQANA'S VENTE D'ELEVAGE

La Motteraye Consignment will offer Classic heroine Channel (Ire) (Nathaniel {Ire}) during the Arqana Vente d'Elevage from Dec. 9-12. A winner of the G1 Prix de Diane, the 7-year-old is a daughter of the G1 Cheveley Park S. winner Magical Romance (Ire) (Barathea {Ire}). Carrying to Wootton Bassett (GB), the daughter of Love Magic (GB) (Dansili {GB}) is also from the same line as standouts Alexandrova (Ire) (Sadler's Wells), Magic Wand (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), Chicquita (Ire) (Montjeu {Ire}), Philomene (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}) and Pacifique (Ire) (Montjeu {Ire}). Her eldest foal is the 2-year-old filly Million Miles Away (Fr) (Sea The Stars {Ire}), while her yearling colt is by Kingman (GB) and she has a Wootton Bassett filly born this year.

Bred by Kilcarn Stud, the €18,000 Goffs Orby yearling turned €70,000 Arqana May juvenile won half of her six starts and over $670,000 for Francis-Henri Graffard and Samuel de Barros.

INSPIRAL FACING BC OR CHAMPIONS DAY CHOICE; POTENTIAL TO STAY IN TRAINING NEXT YEAR

Inspiral (GB) (Frankel {GB}), a five-time Group 1 winner, will start in either the GI Breeders' Cup Mile or QIPCO British Champions Day, as connections mull their options. The star homebred of the Cheveley Park string, the 4-year-old could also potentially stay in training in 2024.

Cheveley Park Stud's managing director Richard Thompson said of the John and Thady Gosden trainee, "We're looking at the QEII or the Breeders' Cup this season. It will be one of the two, we just don't know which one yet. It depends on how she comes out of Saturday, it depends on the ground at Ascot--there's a few factors."

After three seasons racing with top-level victories in the G1 Fillies' Mile at two, the Coronation S. and Prix Jacques le Marois at three, another Marois and the Sun Chariot S. last Saturday as a 4-year-old, this season might not be Inspiral's last.

He added, "She could potentially stay in training next season, but that depends on how she comes out of her final race this year, whichever race that is going to be."

"The trainer will give us his steer and if he feels she's ready to go next season, we'll go with it and give her another go next season, absolutely, subject to him [John Gosden] giving us that confirmation."

EPSOM PROTESTER HANDED SUSPENDED SENTENCE FOR CONTEMPT

Ben Newman, a "committed animal rights campaigner" who was filmed running onto Epsom Downs during the running of this year's G1 Derby in June, has been given a suspended prison sentence for breaking a High Court's injunction.

The Jockey Club, which owns and operates Epsom Downs, had received an injunction banning the animal rights group Animal Rising of which Newman is a member, prior to the Derby in June. Newman's two-month prison sentence was suspended for 18 months during contempt of court proceedings on Wednesday. Tim James-Matthews, for Newman, said he "reiterates his sincere apologies to the court, the claimant and those affected by his conduct". James-Matthews stated that although Newman had entered the track during the race, that there was still time for the horses to stop.

Justice Miles accepted that Newman was "motivated by conscientious objectives" but did not rule on their legitimacy. He continued, "The only issue for the court at this hearing is the appropriate sanction to be imposed on the defendant in respect of his admitted contempt of court."

"He deliberately flouted the order. His actions were planned in advance. He was not acting under pressure or compulsion and his actions were his own."

Miles was also told that Newman pled guilty to causing a public nuisance in related criminal proceedings previously and had spent more than 30 days in custody prior to his sentencing in July. Handing down the suspended sentence, the judge noted Newman had apologised and "tasted imprisonment".

Nevin Truesdale, the Jockey Club's chief executive, said after the sentencing, "Ben Newman's decision to breach security and run on to the track while the Derby was under way was a reckless stunt which could have compromised the safety and security of humans and horses."

"We were always very clear that if anyone chose to breach the injunction then we would not hesitate to take further action."

"It has always been our intention for that action to be both clear and proportionate and we accept the sanction imposed on Mr. Newman by the court today."

"More widely, it is our sincere hope that by pursuing this matter in the High Court it sends a very clear message to anyone who might in future consider disrupting races in such a way, that we will never tolerate illegal and reckless behaviour of this kind."

ARENA RACING, STEPHEN LAWRENCE DAY FOUNDATION OFFER APPRENTICESHIP SERIES AT LINGFIELD

Arena Racing Company has partnered with the Stephen Lawrence Day Foundation to create a series of apprenticeships at Lingfield Park Racecourse. The partnership, brought together by The Racing Pathway, will build an employee pipeline with diverse lived experiences and cultures, as well as supporting succession into more senior roles within the business.

The Stephen Lawrence Day Foundation, which fosters opportunities for marginalised young people in the UK, provides mentorship, coaching, work experience opportunities, and bursaries for education and training.

Lingfield is seeking applicants aged between 16-24, from ethnically diverse backgrounds, for four entry level roles at the racecourse. Each of the roles will focus on a different aspect of the business--Business Administration, Maintenance, Hospitality and Groundskeeping. The apprenticeship programme at Lingfield is the first step in a long-term partnership which is expected to evolve to support the future needs of the wider Arena Racing Company and its 21 venues.

GOING THE DISTANCE (IRE) (c, 2, Lope De Vega {Ire}--Colonia {Fr} {GSW-US, $280,744}, by Champs Elysees {GB}), who shed maiden status going an extended seven furlongs in the second of two starts at Ffos Las in August when last seen, was positioned in third racing under a six-pound penalty for the most part here. Making relentless progress under pressure in the straight, the 11-8 pick seized control entering the final furlong and stayed on strongly to assert by an ultimately snug 1 1/4 lengths from Surrey Fire (GB) (Masar {Ire}). Going The Distance is the first of three foals produced by GIII Valley View S. victrix Colonia (Fr) (Champs Elysees {GB}), herself out of an unraced half-sister to MGSW G2 Prix du Muguet victor Don Bosco (Fr) (Barathea {Ire}) and three-time Listed Prix Lyphard winner Vodkato (Fr) (Russian Blue {Ire}). CIRO DI MARZIO (c, 2, Justify--Say {Ire} {GSW & G1SP-Ire, SP-Eng, $158,325}, by Galileo {Ire}), ninth on debut at Leicester last month, raced close to the early leader. Marginally in front three out, the 4-1 shot shrugged off all challengers en route to a neck success from Treasure Time (GB) (Time Test {GB}). The winner is the fifth runner produced by the G3 Dance Design S.-winning and G1 Matron S.-placed dam, with the first three being War Front's Listed Sir Henry Cecil S. scorer Naval Intelligence, GI Summer S. hero Fog Of War and stakes winner Invader. A daughter of the dual GI Flower Bowl Invitational and GI Queen Elizabeth II Challenge Cup heroine Riskaverse (Dynaformer), she has a filly foal also by Justify and was bred to Not This Time for 2024. ZOOM ZOOM (GB) (g, 2, Zoustar {Aus}--Richenza {Fr} {SW-Eng}, by Holy Roman Emperor {Ire}), an 8-1 shot, raced in mid-division throughout the early stages. Staying on in the straight to reel in Imperial Guard (Ire) (Night Of Thunder {Ire}) with half a furlong remaining, the homebred of Guy Brook and Lynn Turner's Sanctuary Stud asserted to score by 1 1/4 lengths as they pulled seven lengths clear of the third. The winner is the first foal out of the Listed Boadicea S.-winning dam, whose dam Nantha (Ire) (King's Best) was runner-up in the G3 Premio Dormello. She also has a yearling filly by Mohaather (GB) and a filly foal by Advertise (GB). Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $4,511.

NEW-LOOK MELBOURNE CUP CELEBRATIONS FOR 2023

Willie Mullins in the Melbourne Cup Parade in 2017; he trains this year's favourite Vauban | Emma Berry

This year's G1 Melbourne Cup carnival celebrations are set for a different look, with the iconic street parade, which has been a feature since 1983, set to be replaced by an alternate event.

Significant road closures and major infrastructure works in the Melbourne CBD will prevent access to key streets, meaning the event, in its traditional format, is not possible this year.

Instead, the Victoria Racing Club will host a Cup Week live site at Petanque Social on Crown Riverwalk, with that announcement set to take place on Thursday.

Contrary to some reports, the amended format does not have anything to do with animal rights activists. The VRC has vowed to bring back the traditional event next year.

"The traditional Lexus Melbourne Cup parade has been disrupted by Victoria's Big Build across the city," said VRC CEO Steve Rosich. "We are clear that our intent is to bring the parade back to the city when we can again next year."

"And whether that means we end up with this live site and a parade, we will certainly look at that possibility as well."

FLEMINGTON KICKSTARTS RUN OF AUSTRALIAN WORLD POOL MEETINGS

Kicking off the World Pool meetings, last weekend's Turnbull Stakes Day at Flemington drew HK$133.4 million (approx. A$26.6 million) in wagering. The card consisted of five races from Flemington combined with four from Newmarket and one, the Gran Premio Latinoamericano, from San Isidro.

Defending G1 Melbourne Cup champion Gold Trip (Fr) (Outstrip {GB}) took the featured G1 Turnbull S. The combined Win pool on the five World Pool races (A$6,545,489.82) was almost nine times the combined pool on the five non-World Pool races with the Victorian tote ($743,831.06).

Meanwhile, the combined Duet (Quinella Place) pools on the final five races (A$6,732,853.78) represented a 36.8% increase on the same pools for the first five races (A$18,226.68).

The first ever World Pool on a Sydney meeting will take place Oct. 14 when nine races from Randwick, including the A$20-million The Everest, will be available for betting on six continents. World Pool meetings will follow in Melbourne for Caulfield Cup Day (Oct. 21), Cox Plate Day (Oct. 28) and Victoria Derby Day (Nov. 4). British Champions Day at Ascot Racecourse will also be included Oct. 21.
