STONESTREET LAUNCHES YEARLING WARRANTY

Blood samples being drawn at Stonestreet Farm

In response to reports of off-label bisphosphonate use in growing horses, Stonestreet Farm has announced the development, in partnership with The University of Kentucky’s Gluck Equine Research Center, of a unique blood sampling, testing and secure storage protocol. The protocol, combined with newly available post-sale testing offered by auction houses, should provide buyers of a Stonestreet-bred and raised yearling the opportunity to review a blood-health window of at least six months prior to their purchase.

“Last year we raised and sold nearly $20 million of yearlings, but our focus has always been to raise racehorses, not sale horses. We are proud of what we do and I think transparency in raising a racehorse is so important. We want our buyers to have the utmost confidence in our yearlings” said Stonestreet Farm owner Barbara Banke.

During 2019, blood samples were drawn from each Stonestreet yearling on a regular schedule developed by the Gluck Equine Research Center using current bisphosphonate detection periods, according to the farm’s release. The samples were drawn by a third-party veterinarian experienced in handling samples within a regulatory environment who was hired by the Gluck Equine Research Center.

WELL-NAMED PRESERVATIONIST READY FOR WHITNEY by Mike Kane

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. - Surely, there is a joke to be crafted about Preservationist’s (Arch) name and how little he has raced in what is now a four-year career for trainer Jimmy Jerkens and Centennial Farms. With a mere eight starts, he has spent way more time on the injured list than in the starting lineup, but the 6-year-old is finally rewarding the patience of his connections, who have been true believers in his potential to become a top-level competitor.

A decisive 4 1/2-length victory over Catholic Boy (More Than Ready) in the GII Suburban S. July 6, his first try in a graded stakes, has carried Preservationist to the Aug. 3 GI Whitney S., where he will tangle with four Grade I winners: Thunder Snow (Ire) (Helmet (Aus)), McKinzie (Street Sense), Yoshida (Jpn) (Heart’s Cry (Jpn)) and Vino Rosso (Curlin). Though Jerkens said after the Suburban victory that he might wait for the Aug. 31 GI Woodward S., the $1-million Whitney rather quickly became the target. Cont. p4

Sample collection was supervised by Dr. Scott Stanley, professor of analytical chemistry at the Gluck Equine Research Center, who ensured a strict chain-of-custody and authored documentation connecting each sample to the yearling from which it was taken. Samples were stored and frozen in accordance with the normal regulatory laboratory standards established for pre- and post-race blood samples in a dedicated freezer.

The samples were tested by Gluck for bisphosphonates and anabolic steroids. The purchaser of any Stonestreet-bred and raised yearling in 2019 may request a report stating the test results for the individual that they purchased. Further, at their own expense, they may also request testing for anabolic steroids and/or bisphosphonates on the blood samples which remain in secure storage at the Gluck Equine Research Center. Purchasers have the opportunity to request any additional testing during the seven days following the fall of the hammer by completing the Request to Test form available at stonestreetfarms.com. Following completion of the secure storage period the blood samples will be donated to Gluck and used in research projects.

“We applaud Stonestreet’s efforts to employ an approach driven by transparency and good science as part of their sales operation. We look forward to further results of this project as time goes on,” said Nancy Cox, dean of UK’s College of Agriculture, Food and Environment. “This kind of project is what we do best, to merge our college’s scientific capacity with a worthy industry goal. It also displays our commitment to safety in all aspects of the equine industry.”

Banke added, “We invite everyone to join us, because demonstrating that we breed and raise the healthiest and strongest racehorses is not only good for our business, it’s good for the entire sport.”

“Some horses thrive in Saratoga. He’s doing well,” said Centennial president and co-owner Don Little, Jr. “There are only so many opportunities in life. The horse is doing very well and if he can repeat some of the performance from last time, why not?”

Little agreed that Preservationist is being asked to face a tough crew in the 1 1/8 miles, a “Win and You’re In” race for the GI Breeders’ Cup Classic.

“It’s very salty, but at some point you’re going to have to face the music and take on the big guys,” Little said. “We think that we’re one, that we deserve to be there after that performance.”

The Suburban score was Preservationist’s third straight win and pushed his record to 5-1-2.

Jerkens worked Preservationist on Saratoga’s main track July 27, in what was officially recorded as five furlongs in 1:00.60, the third-fastest of 30 at the distance. Little said that Jerkens was looking at it as a seven-furlong breeze but that time was not captured. Jerkens had the horse doing six furlongs in a tick or so over 1:13.

“The thing that is so exciting watching him is that it just looks like he’s doing a strong gallop, because he’s so athletic,” Little said. “It looks like a strong gallop and he’s doing it pretty easily. The rider almost stands up on him and lets him do his work and doesn’t bother him.”
Far more important to the partners than the time was that Preservationist looked sharp in the work and was en route for his fifth start in 2019. That is more than the combined total of his races in 2016, 2017 and 2018. He debuted midway through his 3-year-old season of 2016 with a second, but did not race again until December, 2017. After three starts in a little over three months, he was off again for nearly 11 months.

“He’s just always had some nagging things that we had to stop on him. It was getting frustrating,” Jerkins said. “He’s finally put it all together, it looks like. Obviously, the fact that he’s only run the few times that he’s run and he’s six years old there have been problems.”

Little said that Preservationist did not have a major physical issue and that time may be the most important reason for the turnaround.

“I think it’s the type of horse that he is, just a big, robust horse,” Little said. “It’s like any athlete you have to wait out the little hiccups. There wasn’t anything really wrong with him. He’d get a foot bruise. He’s a little bit of a heavy horse and you just needed to wait it out, let him grow into himself and be able to handle the talent that he had. The old saying that the horse is too fast for his own good, well, he’s a good example of that. He had so much talent that his body wasn’t grown up enough to handle it all.”

Centennial was founded in the early 1980s by Little’s late father, Don Sr., and has had plenty of success through the years. The highest point was the 1993 GI Belmont S. win by Colonial Affair. Rubiano was a champion sprinter. Five years ago, Wicked Strong won the GI Wood Memorial and the GII Jim Dandy, was nipped by stablemate V.E. Day in the GI Travers S. and was fourth in both the GI Kentucky Derby and the GI Belmont S.
OLLIE’S CANDY WINS THE CLEMENT L. HIRSCH S. (G1)

Adding the second graded stakes victory to her resume at Del Mar. She becomes the 15th grade 1 winner for perennial leading general sire Candy Ride

Congratulations to owners and breeders Paul and Karen Eggert
Some of the Preservationist partners have been involved in Centennial horses for decades, while others were first-timers with the horse bred by Emory A. Hamilton, a granddaughter of the late Robert Kleberg, who built the King Ranch bloodstock empire. Little said he was blown away by the reaction to Preservationist’s graded stakes victory.

“It’s been gratifying for everyone involved with the Suburban win. The partners were ecstatic,” he said. “I had never had more texts and phone calls, even when we won the Wood with Wicked Strong and going to the Derby for the first time. It was not even close. This was by far the most gratifying win.”

Veterinarian Dr. Steve Carr has been with Centennial since 1983, is its racing manager and heads the company’s bloodstock selection team. Carr said that Hamilton’s Arch yearling colt stood out as a tantalizing prospect at the 2014 Keeneland September sale.

“Top and bottom pedigree, of course. It’s blue hen on the top and bottom,” Carr said. “The top, Arch, goes back to the Courtly Dee, Althea family. The bottom goes back to the Too Chic, Chic Shirine, Verrazano family. So you’ve got the two big King Ranch families top and bottom.

“And he met all of the criteria that all of our horses do: very athletic, nice walker. The only thing that might have made him a little different from some of the others is that he’s a big, strong horse. He was just bigger and stronger than a lot of them that we buy. For a horse of that size to walk and handle himself as well as he did is what attracted us to him.

“Because of that and because we liked him so much we actually spent a little bit more on him than we usually do. We’re normally in the $250,000 to $400,000 range, at the most. We paid $485,000 for him because we liked him so much.”

Nearly five years later, Preservationist is set for his first try in a Grade I. Little said there was no plan in place and that the Whitney just happened to be the stage because Preservationist has shown he is at long last ready for the challenge.

“Race horses only have so many years of their career. You don’t know when their best is,” he said. “Sometimes it’s cut short for whatever reasons. We’ve waited and the education process was good for everybody, I think. I learned a lot from it in how to deal with people and the business.

“I think it’s just a good story, too. You don’t have too many stories like that and racing needs good stories. I would hope that he could continue on. He’s a nice, rugged horse and everything is good now, so let’s go.”

“"We’ve had two or three very nice fillies and racing partnerships that I’ve put together. DAYATTHESPA being the first one that sold at the ‘Night of the Stars’ at Fasig-Tipton. She flew from California to Fasig-Tipton and went through the sales ring to bring $2.1 million dollars.

NBC AMONG NETWORKS TO BROADCAST QATAR GOODWOOD FESTIVAL

The UK’s Racecourse Media Group and Goodwood Racecourse have generated increased international interest in the Qatar “Glorious” Goodwood Festival from July 30-Aug. 3, and, as a result, NBC will broadcast part of the event for the first time. NBC Sports will provide two hours of coverage of the meeting from 9-11 a.m. ET Wednesday. The network will also be on course to film the story of Richard Raven’s Maven (American Pharoah), who is entered in that day’s G3 Markel Insurance Molecomb S. by trainer Wesley Ward. All five days of the festival are available in Canada via the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. TVG and HPI TV will also broadcast the content to the US and Canada, respectively.

In Australia, Network 10 will show live coverage on Saturday, while Sky Thoroughbred Central Channel will cover the entirety of the festival, as will Trackside in New Zealand. Thursday’s races will appear on Japan’s Green Channel, as the mare Deirdre (Jpn) (Harbinger {GB}) contests the G1 Qatar Nassau S. Other networks covering the event include ITV (UK), Racing TV (UK/Ireland), Virgin Media (Ireland), TV Poland, Match (Russia), Silnet (Georgia), Equidia (France), Teleippica (Italy), Al Kass (Qatar), Sportsmax (Caribbean) and Tellytrack (South Africa).

"The Qatar Goodwood Festival is five days of top-class international racing in a relaxed and quintessentially English setting on the Sussex Downs," said Goodwood Racecourse Clerk of the Course Ed Arkell. “We’re delighted that so many international broadcasters have recognised that and are showcasing Goodwood across the world."
NYRA, SARATOGA TO HONOR WHITNEY’S LEGACY

The New York Racing Association has announced plans to honor the memory of the late Marylou Whitney, who passed away July 19 at the age of 93. The clubhouse entrance at Saratoga Race Course will officially be named the “Marylou Whitney Entrance.” Two jockey statues adorned in the Eton blue and brown silks representing the classic colors of Marylou Whitney stables will adorn the entrance. The statues will commemorate the 2004 victories of Whitney’s colt Birdstone in the GI Belmont S. and GI Travers S.

Whitney will be inducted into the National Museum of Racing and Hall of Fame Friday. The induction will take place at 10:30 a.m. at the Fasig-Tipton sales pavilion.

NYRA will formally celebrate Whitney at Saratoga Race Course Saturday, in conjunction with her family’s namesake race: the $1-million GI Whitney S. The day will include a special video tribute to the “Queen of Saratoga.” Fans are encouraged to wear pink in celebration of Whitney and her signature hue.

“Marylou was integral in making our summer meet at Saratoga the success that it is today. It is truly fitting to have her name serve as a warm welcome to the many racing fans who pass through our clubhouse gates each summer,” said NYRA CEO and President Dave O’Rourke. “Marylou’s impact on racing and the community as a whole cannot be overstated. She was a passionate horsewoman who demonstrated unmatched generosity and grace. We look forward to honoring her memory while celebrating her many contributions to the Spa.”

The City of Saratoga Springs also announced plans to rename Centennial Park for Whitney. The park, located at the base of Union Avenue, will now be known as “Marylou Whitney Park.”

PURSE HIKE AT CHARLES TOWN

Beginning Aug. 8, purses at Charles Town will receive a boost due to a measure passed in the West Virginia legislature earlier this year. The bill that originally started as Senate Bill 13 and was passed by the Senate and House of Delegates before being signed into law by Governor Jim Justice, returned a chunk of funds originally diverted from the purse fund in the mid 2000’s to address the state’s struggling workers compensation program. Based on the proportion of overnight races run so far in 2019, Charles Town’s blended purse increase equates to a hike of slightly more than 17% in the daily distribution of overnight purses.

Maiden special weight purses will receive an increase of $4,000 to $27,000, while existing allowance conditions will be augmented by anywhere between 12 and 22%. Claiming events will be increased in a similar range of percentages as the allowance ranks. Allowance races going longer than seven furlongs will also carry a $1,000 premium over events run at shorter distances while claiming races going longer than seven furlongs will similarly see purses bumped an additional $500 over those run up to and including that distance.

Additionally, the Charles Town HBPA and Jockey’s Guild have reached an agreement that will bump the losing mount fees to a minimum of $100.

“This is certainly a significant help in bolstering our purse structure which had taken a hit in recent years due to a diminishment in gaming revenues going into it,” said Charles Town’s Director of Racing Operations Charlie McIntosh. “We understand it won’t happen overnight, but this will unquestionably make the racing program here at Charles Town and racing in West Virginia in general more desirable places to run which we hope in turn leads to a reinvigoration of our product.”

FIRST WINNER FOR FRESHMAN SIRE

6th-Finger Lakes, $26,500, Msw, 7-29, 2yo, f, 5f, 1:00.51, ft.
WHARF CAT (f, 2, Majestic City--Harbor Cat (SW, $149,303), by Rockport Harbor), runner up over this track and trip July 15, was backed down to 1-5 favoritism to go one better here. Settled behind Beautiful Amaila (Bank Heist) through opening fractions of :22.58 and :46.83, she dug in late and made it up in time to defeat the early frontrunner by a neck. Wharf Cat is the first winner for her freshman sire (by City Zip). The winner’s dam, Harbor Cat, has an unraced 3-year-old filly by Revolutionary in addition to a yearling full-sister to Wharf Cat. She was bred back to Unified. Lifetime Record: 2-1-1-0, $21,200. Click for the Equibase.com chart.

IN ORDER OF PURSE:

8th-Del Mar, $62,755, Msw, 7-28, 3yo/up, f/m, 8.5f, 1:42.06, fm.
DESERT OASIS (GB) (f, 4, Medaglia d’Oro--Shumoos (GSW-Eng, GSP-US, $242,321), by Distorted Humor) finished off the board in a handful of French starts for trainer Rodolphe Collet before marking his U.S. debut with a productive fourth for Neil Drysdale at Santa Anita June 23. Getting blinkers on for her Del Mar debut, the 3-1 chance was pinched back slightly at the start and found herself a midpack sixth rounding the first turn. Taking closer order as frontrunner Objective (Super Saver) went a half in :47.75, the English bred was on even terms with that rival as the pair hit the quarter pole. In control from there, Desert Oasis drew off late and was 1 1/2 lengths ahead of favored Unicorn (Bodemeister). Mo Me Mo My (Uncle Mo) was third. The winner’s dam, Shumoos, has a 3-year-old colt named Massam (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}), and Awaal (GB), an unraced juvenile gelding by Muhaarar (GB). More recently, she produced a filly by Frankel (GB) last year, followed by a filly by Ribchester (Ire) this term. This is the family of dual Grade I-winning Strategic Maneuver (Cryptoclearance). LOVELY BROWN (f, 2, Atreides--Hike, by Stroll), given an 8-1 chance in this unveiling, settled in an unhurried fifth as Pictureperfect Usa (Munnings) cut out opening fractions of :23.81 and :47.21. Kicked into gear nearing the quarter pole with Duniverse (Sky Kingdom) assuming the fore, Lovely Brown swung out several paths wide into the turn, bore down on the narrowly leading Duniverse late and was up in time to graduate by a neck. Pleasant Mo (Uncle Mo) closed briskly after a slow start to be third. Hike, out of the Grade I-placed mare Izarra (Distorted Humor), is a granddaughter of Arlucea (Broad Brush), most notably responsible for multiple Grade I winner and earner of over $4 million Fort Larned (E Dubai). LEMON SCAT (f, 2, Lemon Drop Kid--Queen of Scat (SP, $144,466), by Scat Daddy) settled near the back through moderate early splits. Swung out several paths wide turning for home, she ground her way to the front late and drew clear to post a 1 1/2-length victory over Emily’s Oasis (American Pharoah). The winner’s dam, Queen of Scat, produced a colt by Shackleford last season. Lifetime Record: 2-1-0-1, $35,000. Click for the Equibase.com chart.

STRADIVARIUS NEXT UP FOR FRANKIE

Frankie Dettori’s golden summer stretches on without a hint of relenting and after basking in the glory of major victories at Epsom, Royal Ascot, Saint-Cloud, Sandown, Deauville, The Curragh and back at Ascot he is at Goodwood on Tuesday with the promise of more. Seven of his nine group wins over the past two months have come for John Gosden and one of the most prized of them all came on Stradivarius (Ire) (Sea the Stars [Ire]) in the June 20 G1 Gold Cup at the Royal meeting. Were Bjorn Nielsen’s incredible chestnut to add to his rider’s sequence in the G1 Qatar Goodwood Cup and increase his own tally to eight consecutive triumphs, it will be the stuff of which dreams are made for connections. Already a dual winner of this, he will have most of the hearts of the nation willing him on in what could be his toughest test to date.

“Everything has been good and I’ve been happy with him,” Gosden said. “They went harder in the Ascot Gold Cup last year, so he had to race harder. This year’s was quite steady and then they quickened. We gave him a nice, easy fortnight after that. The old boy seems to be back in the zone, so we are looking forward to the race. I think the drop back to two miles will help the others as he gets two and a half miles well. As long as he gets there in good order, I will leave it up to the jockey and him.”

PEDIGREE INSIGHTS: EUROPEAN 2-YEAR-OLD SCENE HOTTING UP by Andrew Caulfield

As John Berry rightly pointed out in his Weekly Wrap yesterday, it was great to see a magnificent edition of the King George dominated by four horses which were in their fourth season of racing. While the sport certainly benefits if its biggest stars stay around long enough to become household names, I also draw considerable pleasure from the emergence of potential new stars among the 2-year-olds.

Last week saw five two-year-old group races contested in Ireland (2), France (2) and Britain (1) and all five had something to tell us.

The Irish races simply underlined Galileo’s potential for siring top performers from daughters of Danehill Dancer and Pivotal. With the G3 Tyros S. falling to the highly progressive Armory, Galileo’s statistics with Danehill Dancer mares now stand at 20 black-type winners from 107 foals of racing age. Cont. p6

Stradivarius is bidding to join Double Trigger (Ire) (Ela-Mana-Mou {Ire}) in bringing up a treble in this prestigious staying affair. As that former Mark Johnston luminary succeeded in 1995, 1997 and 1998 Stradivarius will be the first in its long history to win three on the bounce so after the pressure of Enable on Saturday it is straight back into the cauldron for the trainer-jockey combination. “I think any of these great staying horses are very important to the whole tapestry of the racing programme in Europe, let alone here in England,” Gosden added. “Any great Cup horse, whether it is an Ardross or a Sagaro, they very much capture the imagination and Double Trigger was no exception. It would be exciting if he could win it three times like him.”

Back in opposition are the Gold Cup second and fourth Dee Ex Bee (GB) (Farhh {GB}) and Cross Counter (GB) (Teofilo {Ire}), who filled the first two positions in last year’s G3 Gordon S. On that occasion, Godolphin’s eventual G1 Melbourne Cup hero put 4 1/2 lengths between them and broke the track record as a result so he is obviously at home on what is one of the country’s trickier venues. “He is a horse that handles the track, as he is the track record holder over a mile and a half,” trainer Charlie Appleby confirmed. “He has come out of Ascot in good shape and dropping back to two miles is a positive. They didn’t go an overly-strong gallop at Ascot and we purposely dropped him out to get the trip and the way the race worked out, you probably wanted to be further forward. I’m not going to be bold and say we will turn things around, but I feel this race will play more to the strengths of our horse.” Cont. p3

Dee Ex Bee may have the misfortune to be racing at the same time as one of the true greats of the staying scene, but he is still unexposed in this category, hails from a stable in potent form and is ridden by a master in Silvestre de Sousa. Mark Johnston’s son and assistant Charlie said, “He’s in great order and it’s a repeat of Ascot really, apart from it’s half a mile shorter. I don’t see any reason why he shouldn’t be as effective over two miles as he was over two and a half in the Gold Cup. Hopefully he’ll run up to the level of his Ascot form and if for whatever reason Stradivarius has an off-day, we’ll be there to pick up the pieces.”

Of the 3-year-olds getting 15 pounds weight-for-age, the Marsicottis’ June 19 G2 Queen’s Vase winner Dashing Willoughby (GB) (Nathaniel {Ire}) goes up in trip having been fourth in Newmarket’s G2 Princess of Wales’s S. at a mile and a half July 11, while Ballydoyle’s chief prospect South Pacific (GB) (Galileo {Ire}) is also sent over a half mile further than when winning Royal Ascot’s King George V H. June 20. Andrew Balding said of the former, “I’m delighted with the horse and he has improved all year. I thought it was a good run back over a mile and a half last time and two miles should be no problem for him. It’s a big lump of weight he receives and any rain will help his chances.”

A star-studded opening card also sees Godolphin’s Pinatubo (Ire) (Shamardal) bid to confirm superiority over ‘TDN Rising Star’ Lope Y Fernandez (Ire) (Lope de Vega {Ire}), having beaten him by 3 1/4 lengths in Royal Ascot’s Listed Chesham S. June 22. He is arguably Britain’s leading juvenile colt of 2019 as it stands and Charlie Appleby is hoping he can confirm that status in a strong edition. “He’s come out of the Chesham in good form. I think he should suit the track with the style of how he races,” he said of the unbeaten homebred, who has already handled Epsom’s undulations when taking the May 31 Woodcote S.

“Hopefully it will play to our strengths. He has got pace, but the step up to seven was always going to help him and he showed his class at Ascot. It was not a weak race as the second horse was strongly fancied and some nice form is coming out of the race, with the fourth horse finishing second in a listed race at Ascot on Saturday. I definitely think this is the best 2-year-old race we have seen this year. Hopefully he will step forward again.”

Hot favourite for the G2 July S. at Newmarket July 11 after his impressive winning debut over the same six-furlong strip June 8, Rob Ferguson’s TDN Rising Star Visinari (Fr) (Dark Angel {Ire}) was beaten about a neck when third in a three-way go behind Ballydoyle’s Royal Lytham (Fr) (Gleneagles {Ire}) and Godolphin’s Platinum Star (Ire) (Lope de Vega {Ire}). Equipped with the best physical material of all these runners, he now has to put it all together to meet his potential. Cont. p4

“I was annoyed when I read somewhere that he disappointed in the July S.,” trainer Mark Johnston’s son and assistant Charlie said. “The market might have been disappointed, but we certainly weren’t—he ran a screamer. The extra furlong will help, but even more so we think the experience he gained from running in a top-class race like that will help him improve enormously. I think this is probably the hottest 2-year-old race run all year in many ways. He does need to step up and it’s a big ask, but we’ll give it a go.”

Surprisingly, Richard Hannon has opted to let King Power Racing’s G2 Superlative S. winner Mystery Power (Ire) (No Nay Never) shoulder a three-pound penalty for that July 13 Newmarket success. That decision speaks volumes about the regard in which the unbeaten colt is held and his trainer is relishing seeing him in action again. “I didn’t quite think he would go to Newmarket and win a Group 2 like he did. He won it the hard way,” he explained. “He was going away at the line and I think he has improved again for that. Olympic Glory won the July S. and then the Vintage and King Torus did the same with a penalty. I think any more than three pounds has a massive effect. You see with these 2-year-olds in novice races that five-pound and six-pound penalties gets these good horses beat, but I think three is doable.”

The day’s third pattern-race is the G2 Qatar Lennox S., where Ahmad Alotaibi’s Zaaki (GB) (Leroideesanimaux (Brz)) reverts to seven furlongs after losing out narrowly to the ill-fated Beat the Bank (GB) (Paco Boy {Ire}) in the July 13 G2 Summer Mile at Ascot. If he handles the sharp test and overcomes his wide draw, the May 1 Listed Pavilion S. and June 1 G3 Diomed S. scorer will be a serious contender.

“He is in good shape and I think he is a well-balanced horse that will go round Goodwood and he is a strong-travelling horse which you need there,” trainer Sir Michael Stoute’s assistant James Horton said. “He is back at seven furlongs so we are going into the unknown a bit, but he seems in very good shape. His last run was very strong and he was beaten by a warrior. Although he could have been drawn better, he is a horse that needs to be ridden patiently. He was very consistent last year and although his last two runs were a bit below average he may have been over the top then. He has come of age this season and strengthened up.”

Drawn in five, Sultan Ali’s forward-going May 30 G3 Prix du Palais-Royal scorer Hey Gaman (GB) (New Approach {Ire}) is backed up 10 days after going under to Romanised (Ire) (Holy Roman Emperor {Ire}) in the G2 Minstrel S. over this trip at The Curragh. Few horses could have lived with last year’s G1 Irish 2000 Guineas hero that day and he lost little in defeat, but James Tate is hoping this is not a case of coming back too soon. “It didn’t quite go to plan in the Minstrel, he lost a front shoe coming out of the stalls, the pacemaker was up with us the whole way and possibly softened us up for when Romanised came at the end,” he said. “We’ve done little with him, obviously, but he’s a big, strong horse and has put all his weight back on. We’ve given him a light campaign to aim for these races, with the Hungerford and the Foret also in the mix.”

Joseph O’Brien steps Chantal Regalado-Gonzalez’s Speak In Colours (GB) (Excelebration {Ire}) up in trip after winning the six-furlong Listed Dash S. at The Curragh June 29 and as a colt capable of almost placing in the June 22 G1 Diamond Jubilee S. is a fascinating runner. Only one 3-year-old lines up and that is Clipper Logistics’ June 22 G3 Jersey S. winner Space Traveller (GB) (Bated Breath {GB}). “I would just like to see him back up what he did at Ascot to give us a bit of confidence in him,” trainer Richard Fahey said of the talented but mercurial performer. “There’s no reason why he shouldn’t and we’ve no worries about the ground.”
Moving on to Britain’s juvenile group race, the G3 Princess Margaret S. at Ascot, it provided a first group winner for the 2014 G1 2000 Guineas winner Night of Thunder, in the shape of the unbeaten Under The Stars. Night of Thunder was a little unlucky not to complete a black-type double later in the Ascot card, when Sun Power was caught in the final strides after appearing to have victory in the bag in a seven-furlong listed race.

Night of Thunder now has the impressive total of 13 individual winners from only 24 runners. However, it hasn’t all been plain sailing for this top-class performer whose pedigree combines Dubawi and Galileo. Having started his career with two seasons at Kildangan Stud, priced firstly at €30,000 and then €25,000, Night of Thunder was transferred to Dalham Hall, with his fee further reduced to £15,000 for his third and fourth seasons. His book fell from 138 mares in his first year to 103 in his second, but he is doing so well that his fee and book size can be confidently expected to rise again next year. It isn’t surprising that his progeny are proving very effective at two, as Night of Thunder won both his juvenile starts, by margins of six lengths and three lengths.

Over in France, there must have been some relief that both the G3 Prix Six Perfections and the G3 Prix de Cabourg fell to youngsters trained in France, by Andre Fabre.

First to shine was the filly Tropbeau, carrying the colours of Lady Bamford. Her decisive win in the Prix Six Perfections over seven furlongs suggests we may be about to see a somewhat new dimension to Showcasing’s career as a stallion.

Thanks to the likes of Advertise, Quiet Reflection, Tasleet and Soldier’s Call, we are already fully aware of Showcasing’s prowess as a sire of fast 2-year-olds and sprinters. However, the possibility now exists that several of his 2019 juveniles are going to shine over seven furlongs and a mile, rather than over five and six furlongs.

Two of his Irish-trained juveniles have earned TDN Rising Star status, with the filly Windracer (who performed inexplicably badly in the Silver Flash S.) defeating Love by a neck on her debut over seven furlongs, and the colt Free Solo leading all the way to win easily over a mile at Leopardstown. We have also seen the Showcasing filly Picture Frame win well when stepped up to seven furlongs at Newbury.

Tropbeau has gained both her wins over seven furlongs on ground softer than good, so she clearly stays the distance well, even though she comes from a family noted for its speed. Her dam Frangipanni scored over six and seven furlongs as a 3-year-old but her second dam Frizzante was fast enough to win the G3 Palace House S. and G1 July Cup, as well as finishing third in the G2 King's Stand S. Frizzante was herself a half-sister to the very useful six-furlong specialists Zidane and Firenze. Perhaps the presence of Dansili as Tropbeau's broodmare sire is the explanation for the filly’s prowess over seven furlongs.

Earthlight | Scoop Dyga

We had the reverse situation in the Prix de Cabourg, with the four-length winner Earthlight showing more speed that could reasonably be expected of a colt of his breeding. His sire, the excellent Shamardal, was racing over seven furlongs at a similar stage of his career, winning the G2 Vintage S. as a prelude to his Dewhurst S. triumph. Shamardal of course went on to win the Prix du Jockey-Club over an extended mile and a quarter.

The unbeaten Earthlight can safely be expected to improve further when he steps up to seven furlongs or a mile, as his dam Winters Moon was once a close third in the G1 Fillies' Mile. Although largely disappointing at three, Winters Moon should have been at home over middle distances, as her sire New Approach won the Derby and her dam, the Darshaan mare Summertime Legacy, was third in the G1 Prix Saint-Alary.

It’s going to be fascinating to track these promising youngsters as they step up further in grade. (Return to p1)

Delia Bushell new group CEO of The Jockey Club

Delia Bushell, the former BT Sport and Sky executive, has been appointed the Group Chief Executive of The Jockey Club. Bushell, who has more than 20 years of experience in the field, was managing director of BT Group’s TV and Sport division for three years. Earlier in her career, she spent 14 years working for Sky in various roles, including as Chief Commercial Officer of Sky Italia, Director of Broadband & Telephony for Sky UK and Managing Director for Sky Ireland. Prior to assuming The Jockey Club role, Bushell was UK CEO and European COO at Afiniti, a US tech company that specializes in artificial intelligence.

Also a non-executive director of the England & Wales Cricket Board (ECB) and of Commonwealth Games England, Bushell is on the Advisory Board of The Telegraph Media Group. She will begin her new role in early September, and will officially succeed current The Jockey Club Group CEO Simon Bazalgette in October.

“I’m excited and honoured to lead this iconic institution,” said Bushell, who holds an MA in Modern History and an MPhil in International Relations from Oxford University. “Racing is such an important part of British national life and I’m looking forward to working with the talented team at The Jockey Club and wider industry stakeholders to drive its future success.”

2.20 Deauville, Mdn, €27,000, 2yo, c/g, 6fT
WINWOOD (GER) (Siyouni {Fr}) bidders to continue Andre Fabre’s bright start to the Deauville festival as he debuts in the Godolphin silks. Out of the G1 Preis der Diana third Waldrat (Ger) (Oasis Dream {GB}), he faces seven rivals with six having experience over him.

INNISFREER (Ire) (c, 2, Galileo {Ire}--Palace {Ire} {SW & GSP-Ire}, by Fastnet Rock {Aus}), who was an eyecatcher on debut when runner-up to stabledmate Year of the Tiger (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) over this trip at Naas July 6, broke alertly from his inside stall and held a narrow lead from his market rival Shekhem (Ire) (Zoffany {Ire}). Headed a furlong from home, the 4-9 favourite was organised to reassert in the final 50 yards and register a neck success, with 6 1/2 lengths back to Cap D’Essais (Ire) (High Chaparral {Ire}), the listed-winning and group-placed Mystical Lady (Ire) (Hallying) and the Lincoln H. winner Bravery (Ire) by Innisfree’s sire Galileo. Mystical Lady is the dam of three black-type performers for Ballydoyle including the listed Dee S. winner and G1 Irish Derby and G1 Ascot Gold Cup runner-up Kingfisher (Ire) also by Galileo. The third dam is the high-class Sonic Lady (Nureyev), heroine of the G1 Irish 1000 Guineas, G1 Sussex S. and G1 Prix du Moulin de Longchamp. The dam also has a yearling full-brother to Innisfree. Lifetime Record: 2-1-1-0, $15,050. Video, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

BERLIN TANGO (GB) (c, 2, Dansili {GB}--Fantasia (GB) {MGSW & G1SP-Eng, GSW & GISP-US, G1SP-Fr & SW-Can, $724,401}, by Sadler’s Wells), a July 13 first-up fifth going a shade under seven furlongs at Salisbury last time, was sharply into stride and led from flagfall in this return. Last off the bridle in the straight, the even-money favourite was nudged along passing the quarter-mile marker and powered clear under mild urging in the closing stages to easily defeat Itkaann (Ire) (Gutaifan {Ire}) by 4 1/2 lengths. “He ran a good race first time, he’s clearly progressed since then and we like him a lot,” said rider Oisin Murphy. “He’s got a lovely pedigree and I hope he’ll improve further. This was a good spot for him, it’s nice to get a win under his belt and he’s got a decent future.” Half-brother to a yearling filly by Lope de Vega (Ire), the homebred bay is the fifth foal and third scorer out of MGSW G1 Fillies’ Mile, G1 Poule d’Essai des Pouliches and G1 Just a Game S. placegetter Fantasia (GB) (Sadler’s Wells), herself kin to Give Thanks S. victress Pink Symphony (GB) (Montjeu {Ire}) and to the dam of MGSW G2 Prix Eugene Adam victor Western Hymn (GB) (High Chaparral {Ire}). His third dam is G1SW European champion Blue Duster (Danzig). Lifetime

Faring no worse than fourth in nine lifetime starts, Birch Grove went postward for this first overseas foray coming back off a fourth in Newmarket’s June 29 Listed Fred Archer S. and a July 12 handicap second at Ascot last time. Settled off the pace in fifth for the most part, she took closer order rounding the home turn and stayed on resolutely under a drive once taking over at the quarter-mile marker to register a career high in game fashion and become the 300th black-type winner for her Coolmore sire.

INDUSTRY MENTORS WITH CRAIG ROUNSEFELL

by Paul Vettise

Continuing our series on mentors in the Thoroughbred industry, we chat to bloodstock agent Boomer Bloodstock’s Craig Rounsefell about major influences throughout his career.

Craig Rounsefell has worked with a number of widely-respected Australian horsemen and international identities, household names in the racing and breeding world, and he’s made the best use of the bloodstock knowledge and life skills gleaned from them.

The principal of Boomer Bloodstock operates across the globe, attending all major domestic and overseas sales with a Group 1 track record that has earned him a growing following. And when it came time to come home to Australia and establish his own company, Rounsefell didn’t have to think hard about a trade name.

“I got the nickname of Boomer in the first week when I was on the Flying Start programme,” he said. “It stuck and then after the course I was working in Kentucky and everybody referred to me there as Boomer.”

Precisely how he earned the moniker is a story for another day, but he’s universally known as Boomer in and outside the bloodstock world.

“Even my mother in law and father in law called me Boomer,” he said. “Most people call their agencies by their name, but everybody uses Boomer so it was an easy choice to make.”

Family Connection

Boomer’s earliest introduction to the industry came through his parents John and Diane.

“My father had an insurance business and he was best mates with Bob Logan and he looked after Queensland for him,” he said. “I’d always go to the sales with him growing up. My great-grandfather and great-great grandfather on his side, the father was a trainer and the son a jockey, and they had a horse called Master Bernie.

“He won the 1899 Queensland Derby and 1900 St Leger. My grandfather on Mum’s side was an amateur jockey in central Queensland.”

While attending school in Brisbane, Boomer worked during the holidays with Terry Catip.

“He’s a long-time family friend and my first mentor. In my early teenage years I spent all my time working with him,” he said. “I still work with him now. He’s one of the best horsemen I’ve been around and he’s got a lot of knowledge through his time spent as foreman for TJ Smith and with Percy Sykes, legends of the Australian turf.

“He instilled all the basic horsemanship in me from the start and focussing on core values. He’s part of my team, he does all my spelling and transport and helps me at the sales.” Cont. p2

Boomer also excelled in whites and his skills as an opening bowler and batsman earned him representative cricket honours and sent him overseas where he gained further thoroughbred experience.

“I got the opportunity to be play cricket overseas and made contacts while away,” Boomer said.

In 2001, he landed a role as a sports coach at The Royal Military School in England and a trip to Ireland led to a chance meeting with famed trainer John Oxx. Every ensuing holiday was spent at Oxx’s Curragh Stable in County Kildare.

Boomer returned to Australia to attend the University of Queensland for a Bachelor of Commerce degree and took the opportunity to work at Tulloch Lodge for Gai Waterhouse during breaks.

“Obviously, Gai was a strong influence and so was the late Steve Brem,” he said. “From that time until he sadly passed he was a real mentor in that bloodstock role.

“Steve was a very well read man, he instilled knowledge. You can have your ideas when you look at a horse, but you need to back it up with the integrity aspect. He drove home how important that was.”

When Henry Field, these days successfully operating Newgate in the Hunter Valley, left the Waterhouse operation to attend the Godolphin Flying Start course, it left an opening for Boomer.

“I took Henry’s role with Gai and when I finished university I went full-time with her,” he said. “Then when I got on the Flying Start, James Harron took my role there.

“The first week I was on Godolphin Flying Start there was a sale in Ireland at Goffs and met John Tyrell, part of the BBA. From that time in 2005 to now we’ve been very close and he’s been a mentor to me on the bloodstock side. The thing that he really instilled was building relationships - playing the long game and having clients for life.

“When I was with Flying Start I was in Dubai and met Neil Drysdale, a trainer in California, and he offered me a job. After I finished Flying Start I already had a position at Keeneland doing an internship there for seven months through the sales and during that time I met Mr. Arthur Hancock of Stone Farm.”

Hancock Influence

That introduction in 2007 led to Hancock having a profound effect on Boomer.

“I got to know Mr. Hancock and he was a mentor to me. He’s been so successful in breeding and racing and the one thing that sticks out is to be uncompromising on integrity, honesty and transparency. He’s someone that I really admire.”

With his internship over, Boomer headed to Neil Drysdale’s stable.

“I spent a year with Neil and in a month or so of arriving I met my future wife McCall and her father Mike Mitchell was also a trainer in California. He was another huge influence to me during the five or six years we had before he passed.

“He taught me how to look at a horse, he was one of the kings of claiming horses in America. He had a lot of horses through run through his hands with flaws and various conformational issues and he taught me horses to steer clear from. Mike was the one that really supported me when I kicked off. I was engaged and we moved to Australia to set up Boomer Bloodstock in 2008.

“Through the first five years we didn’t get a lot of support in Australia and he was really supporting me and we had a lot of success together. It was headlined by Obviously who won a significant number of group races.”

Mitchell retired soon after and handed the reins to his assistant Philip D’Amato. Under D’Amato’s care, Obviously went on to win two more Grade I races including the 2016 Breeders’ Cup Turf Sprint. That Breeders’ Cup victory led to a very exciting three weeks of racing, including the Boomer-purchased Scales of Justice (Not A Single Doubt) winning the G1 WATC Railway S., earning him Western Australia’s Horse of the Year title for 2016-2017.

“Unfortunately, I lost two of my mentors in Steve Bren and Mike Mitchell, who have passed away. Terry Catip, Arthur Hancock and John Tyrell are people I speak to regularly and still seek advice from,” Boomer said. “Tony Patrizi is another person I regularly seek advice from. I went to a dispersal sale in Western Australia five or so years ago and met him.

“He’s very successful in the mining industry. He became a client and a very good friend.”

Patrizi also enjoyed an ownership in the multiple Group 1 winner Northerly (Serheed (USA)).

“I try to uphold the values my mentors have taught me along the way. Being successful in bloodstock is built on playing the long game and doing the right thing by my clients,” Boomer said. “I’m very close to my mother and father, my family has been very supportive, as is my wife McCall who is involved in the business.”

With growing trade in Australia, Boomer doesn’t spend as much time overseas as he has in the past.

“I don’t spend as much time in America as I used to. My business here has significantly increased, but I would still spend a minimum of three months in a year in America.

“I’m also the North American representative for Inglis. It’s an exciting role and I think North America is a market in the future that’s going to step up investment in Australia and make more of an impact here in the next five or 10 years.”
