WATCH ME WINS THE ROTHSCHILD

Watch Me | Scoop Dyga

Alexander Tamagni-Bodmer and Regula Vannod's Watch Me (Fr) (Olympic Glory {Ire}) had the obvious form claims for Sunday's G1 Prix Rothschild at Deauville and all went to script for last year's G1 Coronation S. winner as she outbattled Half Light (Ire) (Shamardal) and Know It All (GB) (Lord Kanaloa {Jpn}) for the win. Tracking Godolphin's Summer Romance (Ire) (Kingman {GB}) throughout the early stages, the 7-10 favourite got the split on the rail to edge ahead approaching the 300-metre marker and stayed on to score by 3/4 of a length from Half Light, who denied Know It All for second by a short head.

"It was not easy today and we've been lucky the gap opened on the inside so we could save every inch of ground," a relieved winning rider Pierre-Charles Boudot explained. "If I'd had to come around them, it might have been a very different outcome as she was struggling bit at the end. Maybe she needs further now."

Watch Me came to the fore with success in the G3 Prix Imprudence over seven furlongs at Maisons-Laffitte last April and may have been unlucky when subsequently sixth in the G1 Poule d'Essai des Pouliches at ParisLongchamp the following month. Taken to the G1 Coronation S. in a daring move which demonstrated the regard in which she was held by Francis-Henri Graffard, she justified that bravery by upsetting Hermosa (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) in the Royal Ascot feature before earning a break.

GRASS IS GREENER AT KENTUCKY DOWNS

By Kelsey Riley

The most savvy European horse people have long had autumn dates annually etched onto their calendars at courses like Woodbine, Arlington, Keeneland and Belmont, where sizable purses are up for the taking for those enterprising enough to travel.

As the tempo begins to climb toward those fall features, however, there is another American racecourse that has gotten first run, and it is possible you have never even heard of it.

Beginning on Sept. 7 through Sept. 16, The Runhappy Meet at Kentucky Downs–situated 2 1/2 hours southwest of Lexington on the Tennessee border–will stage its annual turf-only meet over six days offering $10 million in purses on the grass with the maximum payout available to Kentucky-breds.

Back with a fourth in the G1 Prix Jacques le Marois over this track and trip in August, the chestnut was trying 10 furlongs for the first time when beaten just under a length in third in the G1 Prix de l'Opera back at ParisLongchamp on Arc day.

Finely-tuned for this with a win in the course-and-distance Listed Prix de la Calonne July 12, she may have been fortunate that the rail opened up when it did as Summer Romance tired quickly but there were no excuses in behind and it would be hard to argue that she was not the best on the day.

"She deserved this--it's very hard to win two of these but she proved in the Opera in October that she was not finished," Graffard commented. "She stays 10 furlongs, which gives her more options and we'll see how she comes out of this. She can run in the Jacques le Marois, the [G1] Jean Romanet or the Opera. Every time she has been beaten, she has had a sound excuse and it's a great credit to the team."

Godolphin's Lisa-Jane Graffard said of the up-and-coming runner-up, who was stepping up off a win in the G3 Hamburger Stutenmeile, "Half Light produced another fantastic performance and we are thrilled with her. She never runs a bad race and it was excellent work by her trainer to bring her back from Germany and get her fresh and ready for this. We will see how she comes out of today before deciding where we go from here, but everything she has done so far has been brilliant. She is by Shamardal and from the family of Galileo and Sea the Stars, so she has really exciting breeding potential for Godolphin."

The third dam Sharaya (Youth) landed the G1 Prix Vermeille and is also the ancestress of the G2 Centaur S. winner Sans Adieu (Jpn) (French Deputy), as well as of the listed scorer and G1 Nunthorpe S. runner-up Hamish McGonagall (GB) (Namid {GB}). Also connected to the G1 Irish Oaks heroine Shawanda (Ire) (Sinndar {Ire}) and the G1 Yorkshire Oaks and Vermeille heroine Shareta (Ire) (Sinndar {Ire}), her 2-year-old colt by the same sire named Watch Him (Fr) (Elvstroem {Aus}) was bought by Amanda Skiffington for €100,000 at the Arqana Deauville October Yearling Sale. Her yearling colt is again by Elvstroem.

IT'S FRANKIE AGAIN AS MISS YODA STARS

Capping a week to remember even by his exalted standards, Frankie Dettori dropped in on Dusseldorf to whip up the crowd as he steered the Westerberg colour-bearer Miss Yoda (Ger) (Sea the Stars {Ire}) to glory in the G1 Henkel-Preis der Diana. On the front from the outset and allowed her own terms, the June 5 Listed Lingfield Oaks Trial winner was only headed briefly in early straight as Silence Please (Ire) (Gleneagles {Ire}) loomed but when shaken up forged a 3/4-of-a-length success from Zamrud (Ger) (Samum {Ger}), who nosed out Virginia Joy (Ger) (Soldier Hollow {GB}) for the runner's-up spot.

"She jumped good and I wanted to be in front--after that she was flowing with a lovely action," commented Dettori who in the last eight days had won on the household names Enable (GB) (Nathaniel {Ire}) and Stradivarius (Ire) (Sea the Stars {Ire}) and ridden a winner for The Queen on his home track at Newmarket. "When I turned for home she was thinking of going back to the stables, so she stopped a bit but I told her to concentrate and away she went." Cont. p4

Losing her unbeaten tag on her third and final juvenile start when runner-up in the G3 Zetland S. over 10 furlongs at Newmarket in October, Miss Yoda had returned to garner the Oaks Trial despite not handling Lingfield's undulations and all Epsom aspirations were dashed there and then. Instead tried in Royal Ascot's G2 Ribblesdale S. June 16, she was sixth there and was too keen when fourth in the 13-furlong G3 Bahrain Trophy back at Newmarket July 9. Enjoying an easy lead despite not always looking at home on this tight circuit, she was hanging left and looking likely to be swamped as Silence Please launched her challenge inside the final 300 metres. Quickly regaining momentum, the 5-1 shot was soon re-asserting as that Irish raider hung away her chance and it was another group 1 for her powerful connections.

Pedigree Notes

The dam Monami (Ger) (Sholokhov {Ire}), whose yearling colt by Kingman (GB) was bought for 340,000gns by Baroda Stud at the Tattersalls December Foal Sale, was the winner of the G2 Diana-Trial and the G3 Preis der Winterkonigin as well as finishing third in the G1 Premio di Vittorio di Capua. She is kin to the G1 Oaks d'Italia heroine Meridiana (Ger) (Lomitas {GB}), whose four stakes performers are headed by Chamois (Smart Strike) who was placed in the GII Dixie S. This is the family of the smart group 3-winning stayer Moonshiner (Ger) (Adlerflug {Ger}) and the G2 Diana-Trial winner Meergorl (Ger), also by Adlerflug. Monami also has an as-yet unraced 2-year-old colt by Amaron (GB) named Mahanadi {GB}) and a foal full-sister to Miss Yoda to come.

CAIRN GORM TAKES THE CABOURG

Unbeaten entering Sunday's G3 Darley Prix de Cabourg, Cairn Gorm (GB) (Bated Breath {GB}) kept his tally secure with a battling effort in the Deauville sunshine. Helped by the fact that his compatriot and the 11-10 market-leader Mighty Gurkha (Ire) (Sepoy {Aus}) was left at the start, the chestnut who was carrying the Hunscote Stud colours tracked the pace and was perfectly positioned before hitting the front passing the furlong pole. Asserting from there under Tom Marquand, the 17-5 second favourite scored by a length from Jubilation (Ire) (Acclamation {GB}), with a head back to Prince Lancelot (GB) (Sir Prancealot {Ire}) in third.

"He's a very nice horse and the ground was quick enough for him today, so he was a little bit hesitant early on," the winning rider commented. "When he found his stride, he really went and is still undefeated. Whether he's good enough for a higher level or not you'd only know when you tried."

This was an inspired piece of placing by connections, with Cairn Gorm having previous won on debut at Windsor June 22 and when under a subsequent penalty at Newbury July 8.

Cairn Gorm | Scoop Dyga

Trainer Mick Channon said, "We thought he was a nice horse, but he had to step up today and he has. He's won a Group 3 going away, so we'll have to think about taking him back here for the [G1] Prix Morny later in the month."

Pedigree Notes

Cairn Gorm is out of In Your Time (GB) (Dalakhani {Ire}), who is a three-parts sister to the G3 Musidora S. winner Time Away (Ire) by Dalakhani's sire Darshaan (GB). Her own descendants are headed by the G1 Moyglare Stud S. heroine Cursory Glance (Distorted Humor), while she is kin to the G1 Prix de Diane runner-up Time Ahead (GB) (Spectrum {Ire}) and the listed-placed Moment of Time (GB) (Rainbow Quest). She is in turn the dam of the G2 Crystal Mile scorer Chief Ironside (GB) (Lawman {Fr}). The third dam is the four-times Group 1-winning champion Time Charter (Ire) (Saritamer) who was also responsible for the G2 Jockey Club S.-winning pair Time Allowed (GB) (Sadler's Wells) and Zinaad (GB) (Shirley Heights {GB}). In Your Time's yearling colt is by Havana Gold (Ire).

SANORA ON TOP AT DUSSELDORF

Third behind the G1 Prix Rothschild runner-up Half Light (Ire) (Shamardal) in the G3 Hamburger Stutenmeile last time July 12, Sanora (Ger) (Soldier Hollow {GB}) gave further credence to that form when winning Sunday's G3 Fritz Henkel Stiftung-Rennen at Dusseldorf. Sent off at 16-1, Stall Chronos's bay benefitted from positive tactics and after shadowing the leader was sent to the front passing two out en route to a half-length success from Runnymede (GB) (Dansili {GB}), with the same margin back to Thorin (Ger) (Soldier Hollow {GB}) in third.

Pedigree Notes

Sanora, who also captured the 9 1/2-furlong Listed RaceBets Podcast-Rennen at Hanover June 7, is a daughter of Still Standing (Fr) (Martillo {Ger}) who hails from the family of Sommernacht (Ger) (Monsun {Ger}), sire of the G2 Prix du Muguet-winning fellow sire Sommerabend (GB) (Shamardal) and the G3 Baden-Wurttemberg Trophy scorer Sommertag (Ger) (Tiger Hill {Ire}). Kentucky Downs Cont. from p1

There are 16 stakes races slated, five of which are graded. The richest opportunity is the $1-million GIII Calumet Farm Kentucky Turf Cup going a mile and a half for 3-year-olds and older–Leopardstown's G3 Kilternan S. run on the same day over the same distance is worth approximately $112,000, and the next day's G2 Prix Foy has a purse of $146,000. The Runhappy Meet at Kentucky Downs will host stakes over a mile and six furlongs for 3-year-olds and older, the Listed Tourist Mile for $750,000 and the GIII Runhappy Turf Sprint worth $700,000 and part of the Breeders' Cup Challenge Series–there are Group 1s happening during the same week in Europe worth less money.

During a time of year in Europe where restricted 3-year-old opportunities at the pattern level have largely disappeared, Kentucky Downs has four stakes for that generation highlighted by the Listed Gun Runner Dueling Grounds Derby and the Exacta Systems Dueling Grounds Oaks over 2100 metres and worth $750,000 and $500,000, respectively. There are four black-type opportunities for 2-year-olds both colts and fillies over 6 1/2 furlongs and a mile with purses from $400,000 to $500,000, while the eight Group 2 and 3 2-year-old races during the same week in Britain, Ireland and France range from $80,000 to $170,000. Even maiden races at the meet are worth $90,000 and allowance races up to $100,000. Purses of black-type races at Kentucky Downs include a 40% to 50% contribution from the Kentucky Thoroughbred Development Fund and those extra funds are restricted to horses bred in the state. Therefore, bringing a Kentucky-bred back to its home turf is the most lucrative option.

Both the purses and the KTDF are fueled largely by Kentucky Downs's on-site casino, which features historical horse racing games where players wager on real races that have already been run but are randomly selected from a library and have had the horses' names removed.

The six-day Kentucky Downs meet in September is worth $10-million | Coady

"Our purses are the largest daily purses in the world except for Japan," said Ted Nicholson, Kentucky Downs's senior vice president and general manager. "The purse structure is generated primarily through historical horse racing, which has become very popular in Kentucky. In a normal year we would generate approximately $20 million in purse money that has to be distributed. Last year our purse structure here was about $11.5 million, and we had sent $5.2 million to Ellis Park. So between the two meets last year we were close to $17 million and we had projected to be just shy of $20 million for this year before COVID kind of put the stop to everybody's fun."

Indeed, COVID-19 threw a bit of a wrench in the track's upward momentum with its casino closed for three months between March and June, but that proved to be a minor blip on the radar. Nicholson reported business to be strong since the casino's patrons were welcomed back on June 10.

The ever-shrinking world of bloodstock trade means that Kentucky-breds are sprinkled across the globe, and Nicholson explained why the Kentucky Downs meeting is a lucrative opportunity for European horsemen to bring their Kentucky-breds back to their place of birth.

"A small percentage of each wager on our gaming floor goes toward the Kentucky Thoroughbred Development Fund," he said. Cont. p8

"Ultimately, our purses are eye-opening because of the KTDF," he continued. "We have a race on Sept. 10 called the Gun Runner Dueling Grounds Derby and it's for 3-year-olds going 1 5/16 miles [2100 metres] and the purse is $750,000. Half of that, $375,000, is from the KTDF. So if you came here with a [non Kentucky-bred] and won that race, you're running for $375,000. But if you're a Kentucky-bred you're running for $750,000. So it's dramatic. Most of the stakes are about a 50% enhancement which comes from the KTDF. If you have a Kentucky-bred and you're not racing here, you need to scratch your head a little bit."

While coronavirus restrictions will make travel details from Europe to Kentucky in 2020 a challenge, the meeting traditionally holds a slot on the calendar where it could be used as a prep some Woodbine's high-profile turf cards or the Breeders' Cup when travel does become commonplace again.

"The way our meet is positioned seven weeks in front of the Breeders' Cup does set us up pretty well to get horses here, have them run for a sizeable purse and if they run well they're going to set themselves up well for a nice run in the Breeders' Cup," Nicholson said.

Kentucky Downs has a 'European style' course | Coady

And while the large prize pots are a nice perk for the humans, the horses will enjoy a course something akin to what they have at home. Kentucky Downs is not a traditional American oval, but rather a wide, sweeping and undulating course.

"In most spots the course is over 120-feet wide," Nicholson said. "When you look at it from the announcer's booth you can see the course elevating up the backstretch and then as they go around the far turn the course does dip down; it's not dramatic but it is noticeable. There is a little jog to the right as they're about to go into the far turn. It's a very unique course. It's 1 5/16 miles [2100 metres] around. Most of the races are one-turn because we can run up a mile and 70 yards going one-turn. When we do run longer races they're typically a mile and a half or 1 5/16 miles. The jockeys love the course. Our track superintendent, Butch Lehr, is very well known in the United States and for about 30 years was the track superintendent at Churchill Downs. So he knows his way around a blade of grass."

During a time when it is becoming increasingly necessary to shop around for the best purses on offer, Kentucky Downs is a bright beacon for trainers with Kentucky-breds in their yards. Already a hidden gem among the American racetrack community, it is not likely to fly under the radar on the global stage much longer.

THREAT ANCHORS TATTERSALLS AUGUST CATALOGUE

MGSW Threat (Ire) (Footstepsinthesand {GB}) is the highest-rated horse at 112 in the 774-strong inaugural Tattersalls August Sale catalogue, which was released on Sunday. Consigned by Richard Hannon's East Everleigh Stables for Cheveley Park Stud as lot 469, the chestnut is one of 541 colts and geldings in and out of training set to go under the hammer from Aug. 24-26. There are also 214 fillies in and out of training, as well as 19 broodmares set to sell in Newmarket. A winner of the G2 Gimcrack S. and the G2 Champagne S. as a juvenile, Threat is out of a daughter of European highweight Shiva (Jpn) (Hector Protector) and is from the same family as European champion Ulysses (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}).

Originating as a response to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, the sale is very similar in format to the Tattersalls July Sale, and features full drafts from Ballydoyle Stables, Godolphin, Juddmonte Farms, Rabbah Bloodstock, Shadwell Stud, The Castlebridge Consignment and Jamie Railton among many others.

Other lots of interest include recent listed winner Surf Dancer (Ire) (Lope de Vega {Ire}) (lot 706) from William Haggas's Somerville Lodge Stables and fellow listed scorer Fort Myers (War Front) (lot 387), one of nine from Ballydoyle. Of Juddmonte's 24 homebreds, GSP Georgeville (GB) (Dawn Approach {Ire}) (lot 436), and the unraced Sophistry (GB) (Make Believe {GB}) (lot 445), a half-sister to G1 Criterium de Saint-Cloud hero Epicuris (GB) (Rail Link {GB}) star. Tattersalls August Cont.

Sheikh Hamdan's Shadwell boasts 61 lots, with the 100-rated Elwazir (GB) (Frankel {GB}) (lot 667) one to watch out for, while 71 lots are slated to enter the ring for Godolphin and Rabbah, featuring the 107-rated Walkinthesand (Ire) (Footstepsinthesand {GB}) (lot 699) and a 95-rated son of Dubawi (Ire) in Country (GB) (lot 701) for Hannon and Haggas, respectively. One of 41 from Jamie Railton, SP Pom Malpic (Fr) (Pomellato {Ger}) (lot 486) earned her black-type with a second in the Listed Prix La Fleche at Chantilly.

The Castlebridge Consignment fields 79 lots, the largest consignment in the sale. Lot 51, Mzyoon (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), a half-sister to the late MG1SW and Group 1 sire Society Rock (Ire) (Rock of Gibraltar {Ire}), will be offered by Castlebridge with her Exceed And Excel (Aus) colt at foot and carrying to sire-on-the-rise Night of Thunder (Ire).

"The COVID related circumstances surrounding the decision to introduce a Tattersalls August Sale are well documented and we have been hugely encouraged by both the quality and quantity of entries," said Tattersalls Chairman Edmond Mahony. "Originally pencilled in for two days, we have extended the sale to three days to accommodate the number of entries and the catalogue has the strength and depth that will appeal to a wide cross section of buyers, both domestic and further afield. Despite the current challenges, our recent July Sale achieved a phenomenal 96% clearance rate which demonstrates the enduring appeal of sales of this nature at Tattersalls, and we have already received extremely positive feedback from our myriad of overseas markets."

ANTOINE BOZO PASSES AT 83

Antoine Bozo | Scoop Dyga

Antoine Bozo, who formerly managed Haras du Mezeray for almost 30 years, passed away on Saturday night, his son Henri announced via Twitter on Sunday morning. He was 83.

"Our dear father Antoine Bozo passed away last night," Henri Bozo tweeted on Sunday morning. "He had a beautiful life. He loved his family. He loved horses and horseracing and made many friends during his beautiful career."

Prior to working at Mezeray, Bozo was part of the team at Haras du Bois Roussel for Count Gerald Moulins de Rochefort. Eventually, Bozo moved again, this time to Haras de Mortree.

In 1975, at the behest of Paul de Moussac, Bozo began his stint at Haras du Mezeray. During Bozo's tenure at the Normandy stud, 1987 G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe winner Trempolino (Sharpen Up {GB}) was foaled. The future Mezeray sire was followed by Subotica (Fr) (Pampabird {GB}), who landed the 1992 Arc. Other notable horses originating from Mezeray during this time period were 1988 GI Arlington Million hero Mill Native (Exclusive Native) and in the 2000's, sire and GI Breeders' Cup Mile victor Artie Schiller (El Prado {Ire}).

Bozo is survived by his wife, Claire, and four children–Henri, Ghislain, Pierre-Antoine, and Anne-France.

Charles-Henri de Moussac told Jour de Galop, "It's more than a collaborator that we lose, it's a friend, a family member."

COX PAIR BOUND FOR MORNY

Supremacy winning the Richmond | Racingfotos.com

GSWs Supremacy (Ire) (Mehmas {Ire}) and Nando Parrado (GB) (Kodiac {GB}), both trained by Clive Cox, will clash in the G1 Prix Morny at Deauville on Aug. 23, all being well. The former won the G2 Richmond S. at the Qatar Goodwood Festival on July 30 and claims two wins from three starts, while the latter broke his maiden at second asking in the G2 Coventry S. at Royal Ascot back in June. Cox is relishing the match up between two group-class colts.

"We're very pleased with the way he's come out of the race this week," Cox said of his Richmond S. winner. "That was the first step and he will have an entry in the Prix Morny--we very much think that six furlongs will continue to be his trip. The G1 Middle Park S. at the end of the year is our plan at this stage and we couldn't be more pleased with what he's done."

A minor injury scuppered plans for Nando Parrado to step forward in the G2 Prix Robert Papin, but the son of Kodiac is now in fine fettle 21 days out from the Morny.

Added Cox of Nando Parrado, "He worked yesterday and we were very pleased that he's come through that work really well. I am very pleased that we're talking about the race [the Prix Morny] for two really high-class 2-year-olds--a Coventry winner and a Richmond winner. At the moment they would both be intended runners, we'll just have to see how it pans out. It's just a huge thrill to be talking in the same breath about two horses of that calibre.

"Nando Parrado would definitely cope with more ease in the ground, if that was the case, but we can't really be sure at this time of year. Supremacy will very much be in charge of his own well being in the mean time, having only run last week, but first impressions are very favourable."

"I would say he [Nando Parrado] could have the potential to go a little further. He's given me that impression--he's a very strong, athletic colt. I think six furlongs is clearly agreeable after winning the Coventry as he did, but I think he has the scope and potential to go a little bit further as well."

DUKE OF HAZZARD AIMED AT MAROIS

MGSW Duke of Hazzard (Fr) (Lope de Vega {Ire}), who G3 Bonhams Thoroughbred S. and G2 Celebration Mile S. at Goodwood last August, will now be pointed at the G1 Prix Jacques le Marois. Unplaced in the G1 Queen Anne S. at Royal Ascot upon resuming on June 16, the 4-year-old improved to third in the G2 Summer Mile S. there on July 11 and went one better in the July 28 G2 Lennox S. last out for trainers Paul and Oliver Cole.

"I think the plan will be to go for the Jacques le Marois in a couple of weeks' time," said Oliver Cole. "We didn't feel he was quite right at Royal Ascot, but he came forward for his next run there and he ran an absolute belter in the Lennox. He is a good horse and going back up to a mile will help him. Hopefully he should be spot on for the Marois."

APPRENTICE JOCKEY TESTS POSITIVE FOR CORONAVIRUS IN UK

An apprentice jockey in the UK has tested positive for the coronavirus, the British Horseracing Authority confirmed on Sunday. The rider in question has not participated in a race several weeks, but did recently attend a race meeting. The identity of the apprentice has not been released. British racing was halted in March until June 1 due to the ongoing coronavirus pandemic. Once racing started up again, all racing personnel have been operating under strict government guidelines and safety protocols to ensure that social distancing is followed and the chance of catching the virus is reduced. No crowds have been allowed to watch the races, with moderate amounts of owners finally allowed back recently. Cont. p11

"Having been notified that an apprentice jockey had tested positive for coronavirus, the BHA has worked with the health protection agency, PJA, the jockey and their yard to assist their employer in following government guidance and managing the jockey's recent close contacts," said a BHA spokesman. "A handful of people have been identified and asked to self-isolate for 14 days as a result. Further tests taken by close contacts have not returned any further positive results.

"The jockey in question has not taken a ride for a few weeks, though attended a recent race meeting as a member of stable staff, prior to showing any symptoms and before their positive test. It remains important that everyone involved in the sport follows government and racing guidelines and protocols around social distancing and environment hygiene at all times."

AMHRAN NA BHFIANN IN ACTION AT NAAS

5.05 Naas, Mdn, €11,000, 3yo/up, 10fT
AMHRAN NA BHFIANN (IRE) (Galileo {Ire}) is a rarity as a G1 Epsom Derby placegetter needing to go back to maiden company, but this is the most unusual of years and Aidan O'Brien is looking for a timely confidence boost for the full-brother to the G1 Epsom Oaks heroine Was (Ire). The form of his third in the July 4 blue riband is far in excess of what his closest rival Zawara (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}) achieved when second on the same day here, but that Aga Khan Dermot Weld-trained homebred is out of a half to Zarkava (Ire) (Zamindar) so improvement is expected. This also features another Ballydoyle blueblood in the unraced Gauntlet (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), a half-brother to the brilliant Danedream (Ger) (Lomitas {GB}).

PISTA (f, 3, American Pharoah--Mohini {Ire}, by Galileo {Ire}), ninth on debut over 10 furlongs at Leopardstown June 21, tracked the leading duo travelling strongly. In front at the top of the straight, the 12-1 shot drew away to score by 6 1/2 lengths from stablemate Lady Dahlia (Ire) (Australia {GB}) and became the 50th winner for her Ashford Stud-based sire. Joseph O'Brien's assistant Brendan Powell said, "She was very slow away at Leopardstown and the ground was quick. She was galloping up and down on the spot and then she ran on past a few in the straight. Shane [Crosse] said on the day that it might not have looked it, but she's okay and softer ground would be a benefit to her. She's done it nicely and Shane said she was still a bit green. She looks like an out-and-out stayer. She's a big filly with a great temperament and she can only improve." Cont. p14

Successful in the Listed Prix Roland de Chambure over seven furlongs at ParisLongchamp and runner-up to Earthlight (Ire) (Shamardal) in this venue's six-furlong G3 Prix de Cabourg last July, Well of Wisdom was also second best in the G3 Zukunftsrennen on what turned out to be his final 2-year-old start at Baden-Baden the following month. Next seen at the Meydan carnival, he took the Listed Meydan Classic at this trip Feb. 27 before adding a seven-furlong Sandown handicap to his tally on his European return June 13. Ninth when forcing the pace in the July 12 G1 Prix Jean Prat here last time, the bay was again kept close to the early pace by Mickael Barzalona and was typically tenacious in gaining the advantage passing the two-furlong pole. Staying on to the line, he was there in time as Kenway failed to shed his tag as one of the unluckiest horses in training in behind.

"He has a very good record in France and I felt he'd run a very good race last time making the running for Pinatubo (Ire) (Shamardal)," the winning rider said. "A furlong from home, he was still in front there and was not disgraced, so I thought he had a good chance today. I knew he'd stay and he's a very tough horse who likes a fight." Cont. p15

WINDSOR PARK MOURNS LOSS OF RIP VAN WINKLE

Rip Van Winkle | Windsor Park Stud

By Bren O'Brien

Windsor Park Stud owner Rodney Schick has described the loss of leading stallion Rip Van Winkle (Ire) after a bout of acute laminitis on the eve of the breeding season as a significant blow to the Cambridge-based farm.

Rip Van Winkle's stud career had reached new heights in the recently completed racing season, with his star son Te Akau Shark (NZ) winning Group 1 races on both sides of the Tasman and Jennifer Eccles (NZ) victorious in the G1 New Zealand Oaks. He finished a career-best sixth in the Grosvenor Award for New Zealand's Champion Sire, with 25 winners in an abridged season, including three stakes winners, while he also had 18 winners in Australia.

He also served five seasons at stud with Coolmore in Ireland producing stakes winners in Great Britain, France, Ireland, Italy, Spain, Germany, Turkey and India and has also had winners in Hong Kong, Singapore, the United States and 18 other countries.

But while momentum was very much behind him, he had been struck down by laminitis in the past week and had to be euthanised on Saturday.

"It's really, really sad. He was a such a terrific racehorse and then to have a stellar year like last year, to have the Oaks winner and the top-rated miler in Australia in Te Akau Shark, it was a hard thing to happen," Schick told TDN AusNZ. "He had acute laminitis. That came on very rapidly, within five days. Unfortunately, he lost the battle."

Schick said the triple Group 1-winning son of Galileo (Ire) had been a model of fitness up until the past week, and his sudden decline had hit the staff at Windsor Park very hard.

"He's been very, very straightforward and it was a bit of a shock really. I didn't want to take him through any more pain. He was a terrific horse and it was just one of those things," he said. "He was a terrific character and a high-class racehorse and it's hard for everyone. The staff did a great job and it's a big loss for them."

It continues a difficult past 12 months for the New Zealand breeding industry, with deaths of several prominent stallions, including Cambridge Stud trio Roaring Lion (USA), Tavistock (NZ), Burgundy (NZ) and Waikato Stud's Sacred Falls (NZ).

From Italian Yearling to Group 1 Glory

Bred by Roberto Brogi, Rip Van Winkle was purchased for €170,000 (AU$280,000) by agent John O'Byrne at the 2007 Italian Yearling Sale at Milan for Coolmore. He won his first two starts as a 2-year-old for Aidan O'Brien, including the G3 Tyros S.

He would run fourth in both the G1 2000 Guineas and Epsom Derby and then second in the G1 Coral-Eclipse before breaking through for his first Group 1 win in the Sussex S. at Goodwood. He then returned to win the G1 Queen Elizabeth II S. at Ascot later in the year. Competing against the best horses in Europe and Great Britain, he added a further Group 1 win in the Juddmonte International as a 4-year-old, also running a place in a trio of other Group 1 contests.

His arrival at Windsor Park Stud in 2011 was a huge coup for the New Zealand industry, as well as the farm, who had enjoyed considerable success with Volksraad (GB), who hailed from the same family. His three winners in New Zealand from just eight runners from his first crop included the stakes-winner Magic Dancer (NZ), who won the G3 Phoenix Park Classic. His stallion profile continued to build in his second season with runners, thanks to G2 Eight Carat Classic winner Capella (NZ), while the Bob Peters-owned First Impressions (NZ) became his first Australian stakes winner in the G3 WA Oaks.

Winners and black-type successes continued to flow but his first genuine star emerged when Te Akau Shark hit the track in the spring of 2017.

Te Akau Shark | Bronwen Healy

Twelve months later, the Jamie Richards-trained gelding stamped his class with a pair of Group wins by big margins in New Zealand and headed to Australia last spring, running second in the G1 Epsom H. and then third in the G1 Cox Plate. His first Group 1 success came in the BCD Group Sprint at Te Rapa in February and he followed that up by winning the G1 Chipping Norton S. at Randwick.

Two weeks later Rip Van Winkle had his second Group 1 winner when the talented filly Jennifer Eccles, trained by Shaune Ritchie, won the G1 NZ Oaks, having been placed in the G1 New Zealand 1000 Guineas in November.

Rip Stamps Them with Quality

For Schick, the quality of his top progeny was a tribute to the quality of stallion.

"To be able to leave high-class gallopers like Te Akau Shark, he's a big loss to the New Zealand industry as well as for us. He was the second-highest-rated son of Galileo behind Frankel, which is quite a feat," he said. "He's got some very nice horses about at the moment and we will see more horses come out in the next season. We will continue to follow them with interest but it's always a hard thing when you lose a stallion of his status."

Windsor Park is well-placed to weather the loss of Rip Van Winkle, with six other stallions on its roster, Shamexpress (NZ), Turn Me Loose (NZ), Vanbrugh, Rageese, Mongolian Khan and Charm Spirit (Ire), who was recently crowned the top second-season sire in New Zealand.

"It's never been an easy business, but you just have to pick yourself up and get on with it. We've got some really nice young stallions," Schick said. "Mongolian Khan was such a good racehorse and we are looking forward to seeing his horses step out as 3-year-olds. With the likes of Turn Me Loose, Rageese and Vanbrugh to come through, we just have to look for the positives and keep on going."

FIGHTING MAD CAPS ANOTHER BIG WEEKEND FOR BAFFERT

Fighting Mad | Horsephotos

Lightly raced Fighting Mad (New Year's Day) zipped away early and held sway late to take Sunday evening's GI Clement L. Hirsch S. at Del Mar and stamp her ticket to the GI Breeders' Cup Distaff. Looking to add to another productive weekend for Hall of Fame trainer Bob Baffert that included Saturday scores in the GI Whitney S. and Shared Belief S., the Gary and Mary West homebred was backed down to 9-5 favoritism from a 4-1 morning line quote and wasted little time seizing command. Under a tight Abel Cedillo hold, the bay doled out splits of :23.15 and :46.55 before being asked to kick away from her competition heading for home. Defending champion Ollie's Candy (Candy Ride {Arg}) and MGISW Ce Ce (Elusive Quality) were scrubbed on to try and reel in the leader approaching the stretch, but Fighting Mad began to open up at the head of the lane as Ce Ce was the first to capitulate. Ollie's Candy kept on gamely to cut things close late, but Fighting Mad found the wire with a half-length to spare. Ce Ce held on for a distant third, while the accomplished Hard Not to Love (Hard Spun) never reached contention and brought up the rear.

"I had the same instructions today that I had yesterday [for Thousand Words {Pioneerof the Nile} in the Shared Belief]--get her out of there and see if you can get to the front," Cedillo said. "She really broke sharply and wanted to go right away. I got her to relax some on the backside, then she went right on with it. She's just an amazing filly." Cont. p3

FAVES FAIL TO SHOW ON SATURDAY, BUT EXCUSES ABOUND

The Week in Review, by T.D. Thornton

This past Saturday wasn't a great day to be a favorite in an open stakes race at the nation's premier race meets. Chalk horses went a collective one-for-seven at Saratoga and Del Mar, and the list of excuses included stutter-step starts, bumps leaving the gate, stretch-run roughhousing, getting disqualified, and being dueled into defeat in internal pace battles.

Tight finishes in several stakes elevated the interest level, although the results in general did not lend clarity to the nationwide divisional races with the GI Kentucky Derby inside the five-week mark and the Breeders' Cup Championships now three months out.

At the Spa, faves went zero-for-five, with the GI Personal Ensign S. setting the tone early in the day. Cont. p5

"I was a little bit worried about her because she was getting pretty warm in the paddock, but Abel knows her pretty well and he knows speed is her weapon," Baffert said. "To look at her you wouldn't think she could go [a distance], but when she started opening up, I figured he must know what he's doing. Basically, she ran them off their feet. The way she acted in the paddock, she ran an incredible race. She was trembling and sweating and I was worried, but once the race started she was pretty serious. "

A nose graduate on debut here in her lone juvenile start two years ago, Fighting Mad resurfaced at Churchill to take an allowance last April.

The 9-1 Vexatious (Giant's Causeway), who hadn't won since scoring in a 1 3/8 miles turf stakes at Del Mar two summers ago, ran the race of her life at age six while attending the pace over nine furlongs on dirt. She got first run on a tiring speedster, then braced for the onslaught of heavy favorite Midnight Bisou (Midnight Lute). Last year's distaff champ looked like she'd inhale the determined bay, but Vexatious dug in for a spirited fight, shifting outward and exchanging bumps in deep stretch before prevailing by a neck and surviving a foul claim and inquiry.

The win was a first Grade I triumph for both Vexatious and trainer Jack Sisterson, who also picked up his first career win at Saratoga in the Personal Ensign. Vexatious earned an automatic entry to the GI Breeders' Cup Distaff Nov. 7 at Keeneland, where Sisterson is primarily based.

In the nine-furlong GI Whitney S., the 3-1 Improbable (City Zip), who has a history of getting hot and bothered in the starting gate, held up the start. The Bob Baffert trainee eventually settled down, but the delay might have contributed to the unraveling of even-money favorite Tom's d'Etat (Smart Strike), who missed the break and came out four lengths behind the field. This altered the pace complexion of the Whitney, leaving 29-1 long shot Mr. Buff (Friend or Foe) sailing solo on the lead through soft splits with Improbable tracking in second and Tom's d'Etat relegated to the back of the pack.

Improbable, on his way to a 106 Beyer Speed Figure, swatted away Mr. Buff at will on the far turn, opening up by two lengths in the stretch under steady urging. By My Standards (Goldencents) picked up the pieces in second. Tom's d'Etat checked in third, ending his four-race winning streak, but with an asterisk attached because of his trip woes.

Tom's d'Etat (#5) stumbles at the start of the Whitney. Winner Improbable (#2), known for his own gate antics, breaks well.
Sarah Andrew

The 7-1 upset by Echo Town (Speightstown) in the seven-furlong GI H. Allen Jerkens S. Presented by Runhappy didn't at all seem fluky despite another favorite--the 2-1 No Parole (Violence)--faltering. The Jerkens was a deep 11-horse affair, and Echo Town broke with alacrity and was initially within three lengths of a hotly contested lead. But he settled nicely at the tail of the main flight on the inside, then edged outward for clear passage, commencing a rally a half-mile out that quickly picked off most of the pack.

The leaders lined up four across the track at the sixteenth pole, but Echo Town's widest bid included a deep-stretch resurgence that none of his peers could match, and the Steve Asmussen trainee ended up drilling a pretty good bunch of 3-year-old sprinters by 3 1/2 lengths.

Shifting, drifting, bumping, and grinding through the final furlong of the GII Bowling Green S. at 11 furlongs on the turf affected five of the six starters, and the stewards placed the blame on Sadler's Joy (Kitten's Joy), who was DQ'd from his neck win and placed fourth. New York-bred Cross Border (English Channel) was elevated to victory after crossing the wire second. The result could portend a nice August start at the Spa for New York-breds, as fellow state-bred Tiz the Law (Constitution) figures to start heavily favored in this Saturday's GI Runhappy Travers S.

In the nightcap, 4-1 Cariba (Cairo Prince), completed the stakes blanking of Spa faves with a half-length tally in the Caress S. over 5 1/2 furlongs on the lawn.

Honor A. P. (Honor Code) looked flat and unmotivated when checking in second at 1-5 odds in the Shared Belief S. at Del Mar. But even before he encountered trip trouble on the track, the pre-race vibe signaled that this could be a "trap" race for the top West Coast candidate for the Kentucky Derby.

Thousand Words takes them all the way in the Shared Belief as Honor A. P. (blaze) can only manage second. | Horsephotos

Honor A. P., who previously performed like a more-distance-the-better type of 3-year-old, was cutting back half a furlong to 1 1/16 miles from his GI Runhappy Santa Anita Derby score on June 6, and the dynamics of the four-horse Shared Belief meant that the ridgling would have be closer to the pace than was ideal for his running style. It didn't help that Cezanne (Curlin) swerved directly into him at the gate break, and jockey Mike Smith (as he often does aboard odds-on favorites in route races) guided Honor A. P. to the back and outside of trouble, even though this meant giving up three paths of real estate into the clubhouse bend.

Thousand Words (Pioneerof the Nile), meanwhile, broke fluidly and settled in at the fence to be the 9-1 pacemaker. Entering the backstretch, Honor A. P. advanced under his own power to shadow the speed a half-length back, but Cezanne again became a pesky presence about a half mile out when he pushed up from between rivals to claim second, causing Honor A. P. to lose a position while edging outward again for another three-deep journey through the far turn.

Cezanne narrowly led off the bend, but Thousand Words punched back under urging at the rail while Honor A. P. couldn't gain any traction on the outside. Honor A. P. re-engaged late to finish second, three-quarters of a length behind Thousand Words. But his resurgence had more to do with Cezanne backpedaling out of the picture than it did with Honor A. P. finding that unmatchable late gear he displayed in his Santa Anita Derby win.

In the aftermath of the Shared Belief, Thousand Words (104 Beyer) has regained some of his early-season luster after the Bob Baffert trainee fell off the Derby radar for a stretch between March and June. But Honor A. P. is likely to emerge as the more dangerous threat heading to Louisville, because trainer John Shirreffs didn't have him fully cranked for his final Derby prep, and nothing about his taxing trip worked in his favor.

Later on the card, the 19-10 Collusion Illusion (Twirling Candy) emerged as the lone unscathed favorite on Saturday's slate of national stakes, rallying from out of the clouds (or out of the Del Mar fog, to be more precise) to nail a GI Bing Crosby S. photo-finish win by a nose after patiently watching a six-way scramble for the lead disintegrate. The Mark Glatt trainee was the lone 3-year-old in the six-furlong field of nine. Cont. p8

Turfway Park Update

During the same earnings conference call last Thursday in which Churchill Downs, Inc. (CDI) chief executive officer Bill Carstanjen detailed long-term plans for the gaming corporation's desire to rid itself of Arlington International Racecourse, Carstanjen also provided an update to the redevelopment of Turfway Park and its "extension" betting facility a dozen miles to the northeast in Newport, Kentucky, that will be generating purse money for the track's Dec. 2-31 holiday meet.

Turfway Park | Patrycja Szpyra

"We finished demolishing the existing grandstand at Turfway Park in the second quarter, and the racetrack itself with a new state-of-the-art artificial racing surface called Tapeta will be completed by the end of August," Carstanjen said. "During the second quarter, we completed the architectural design and site development plans. We will begin construction of the new horse racing machine (HRM) and grandstand facility as soon as we obtain the required permits and complete the necessary site improvements. The updated design reflects a floor plan of approximately 155,000 square feet and includes a simulcast facility, a racing grandstand and event space for groups and banquets, racehorse owner and VIP player accommodations; 44,500 square feet of gaming floor that can accommodate up to 1,200 HRMs, and three food and beverage venues, including a sports bar designed to accommodate sports wagering in the event it is approved in Kentucky.

"Based on the finalization of the design for the facility, total project capital for Turfway Park is projected to be approximately $200 million, which includes the Turfway Park acquisition costs and other previously approved capital. This capital investment will be completed over the next 15 to 18 months. The increase of approximately $45 million over previously provided estimates is primarily driven by increased site work requirements and a larger racing and gaming facility. Cont. p9

"Our team completed an additional analysis of the Northern Kentucky market and believes that the market demographics and competitive landscape can clearly support this level of investment and will generate a strong return on capital for our shareholders.

"With respect to our Turfway Park extension in Newport, Kentucky, we've made excellent progress on this project. Our team has completed all of the site work and the structural improvements needed to the building. We anticipate that the additional interior construction will be completed by the end of September in preparation for a grand opening [with up to 500 HRMs] by early October. This timing will provide two months of operations to generate much needed purse money for Turfway Park's December live Thoroughbred race meet."

TRAVERS LONGSHOT FIRST LINE WILL TRY TO KEEP MOMENTUM GOING FOR NODA

Orlando Noda | Sarah Andrew

by Bill Finley

On paper, First Line (First Samurai) would appear to be in over his head in the GI Runhappy Travers S. But his young trainer insists he "will outrun his odds" and sees the horse starting in the GI Kentucky Derby. Orlando Noda is not lacking confidence.

It's not hard to understand why. Training for just 16 months, Noda, 31, is in the midst of another strong Saratoga meet. With just six horses under his care at the start of the meet last year, he went three for nine. This year, with 18 horses, he is off to a four-for-13 start. The latest win came Saturday with Mystery Bank (The Big Mystery). Making his first start for Noda after being trained by Saffie Joseph Jr., he won a maiden special weight on the grass and paid $18.

"We are grateful everything is working out," Noda said. "We won for owners who have never won before in Saratoga. Everyone is thrilled that we are performing the way we are in Saratoga against the elite."

Still training primarily claimers, Noda has long thought that First Line could be his breakout horse. He was trained by Brad Cox before he made his first career start and then privately acquired by Noda, who gallops many of his own horses.

"When I got him I knew he could run," Noda said. "I'm not a light rider and he was putting in some good works for me. He was immature at the beginning but so game when he came to track. He loves to train. I hyped up the horse even before he started in his first race. I had big plans ever since I got him. I've been telling people he's my Derby horse."

But First Line wasn't delivering. He was a distant fourth in his debut in January at Aqueduct and was still winless in three starts entering the Saratoga meet. Noda was able to find a nine-furlong maiden race on July 29 for the gelding's next start and the result was a narrow win by a neck, good for a 90 Beyer Speed Figure.

"He just needed distance." Noda said. "That made all the difference."

First Line will now be coming back in 10 days for the Travers and stepping up from a maiden to a Grade I race where the competition will include the leading 3 year-old in training, Tiz the Law (Constitution). Noda said the first goal is to earn enough points to get into the field for the Derby, but he's not ruling out a victory. He's so confident in the horse that he said had the maiden race not filled he still would have entered First Line in the Travers.

"I'm entering to win." he said of the Travers. "He might surprise some people."

That Noda even has a Travers horse this early in his career is rather remarkable.

He came up under his father, trainer Jose Noda-Fernandez, who raced in Florida and the Mid-Atlantic. His next stop was Ocala, where he worked for several of the top farms there, including Hartley/DeRenzo and Crupi's New Castle before joining the Mark Casse team. At each stop along the way, Noda tried to learn as much as he could.

"I learned that if you put a foundation into a horse before you work on speed that makes a horse last longer," Noda said. "A lot of sale babies get pressed too early in their careers before they have really matured. Then they don't make it past their 3-year-old year. Over all, everyone has their own opinions on how to train a horse. I think less is more as a baby."

Ready to go out on his own, he joined forces with his brother Jonathan and formed Noda Brothers LLC. For much of 2019 Noda had no outside clients. It was just he and his brother.

He started his first horse in March of last year and after 11 losses won his first race last June.

"You have to start as a claiming trainer to get the owners to notice you and give you those pedigree horses that are bound for stakes races," he said.

During his brief career, Noda has won with 24 of his 126 starters for a wining rate of 19%. He has had only one prior start in a graded race.

It's not just First Line, Noda can be ambitious when spotting his horses and isn't afraid to run them at class levels that may seem to be a stretch.

"A lot of handicappers don't pick me to win because I am always bumping up horses instead of dropping them," Noda said. "It is an easier game when you can claim for $32,000 and drop them in for $25,000. Do that and you will win a high percentage. As long as the horse is doing good I want to test the waters going up in class."

As often happens when a new trainer gets off to a fast start, Noda is getting a lot of inquiries from owners looking to give him horses. He said he has been having problems finding help at Saratoga and can't take on any extra horses right now, but expects to expand his stable once he returns to Belmont. By the end of the year he expects to have about 40 horses. If he can get a big performance out of First Line in either the Travers or the Derby, that number may rise.

"This horse will fight to the end," Noda said. "We have to test the waters. You never know."

RECENT PRIVATE BUY SOUTH BEND WORKS TOWARDS TRAVERS

South Bend (Algorithms), a recent addition to the Bill Mott barn, turned in his final breeze Sunday over Saratoga's Oklahoma Training Track as he eyes next Saturday's GI Runhappy Travers S. The colt was acquired privately from Sagamore Farm and trainer Stanley Hough after finishing second in the June 27 GIII Ohio Derby by a group that includes Gary Barber, Adam Wachtel, Peter Deutsch and Leonard Schleifer of Pantofel Stable. Working outside of recent GII Suburban S. romper Tacitus (Tapit), South Bend was credited with five furlongs in a best-of-11 1:00.70--Tacitus was clocked in 1:01.15 (2/11).

"He went well He went with Tacitus and they breezed nicely and finished up together," said Mott. "He made up a length to the finish. We had him go out a little stronger. He's a nice horse and pretty easy to train."

Tacitus is being pointed to the GI Woodward S. Sept. 5.

UNIQUE BELLA BROTHER WINS SMARTLY ON SAPPORO DEBUT

by Alan Carasso

Vanishing Point (Tapit), a full-brother to two-time Eclipse Award and three-time Grade I winner Unique Bella, was very green, but very good in his racecourse debut Sunday afternoon at Sapporo Racecourse, leading every step of the way en route to a seven-length tally.

The mount of perennial leading jockey Christophe Lemaire, the son of GI Breeders' Cup Ladies' Distaff heroine Unrivaled Belle (Unbridled's Song) jumped alertly from the widest gate in the field of seven and was switching back and forth across his leads while establishing the front passing under the line for the first time. Well rated on the lead, Vanishing Point was asked for a bit of a sprint with a little more than a quarter mile to run, opened a clear advantage while having a look around and once again switching his leads multiple times and crossed the line a convincing winner. The final time for the metric mile and a quarter on firm turf was 2:02.4.

"He is still a big baby," the winning jockey commented. "He didn't stretch out much and his back end is still a bit weak, but he has great potential. Around the turn he showed fantastic speed. I think this was the perfect distance for him."

Vanishing Point was bred by Mandy Pope's Whisper Hill Farm LLC, who acquired Unrivaled Belle for $3.8 million at the 2016 Keeneland November sale carrying a full-sister to Unique Bella. The 3-year-old filly, named Unrivaled Princess, is unraced to date. Through the Timber Town draft, Pope sold Vanishing Point for $1.5 million to Hiroyasu Takeuchi, agent for new owner Yuji Hasegawa, at last year's Keeneland September Yearling sale. Unrivaled Belle was barren to Tapit for 2019, but foaled a full-sister to Unique Bella and Vanishing Point Mar. 19 and returned to the Gainesway stallion this past breeding season. Cont. p11

"The plan is to take him back to Japan and hopefully take him on the Japanese Road to the Kentucky Derby and bring him back over here as a Derby horse," Takeuchi told the TDN's Jessica Martini via translator Kate Hunter following the purchase last fall.

Vanishing Point is the 32nd Japanese winner from 36 runners for his sire, including Testa Matta, winner of the G1 February S.; and Rabbit Run, a Group 2 winner on the turf and a listed winner on dirt. Tapit is also represented in Japan by MSW & GSP Tahltan and MSW Golden Barows.

2YO RACING STALEMATE IN MD ENDS

The Maryland Administrative, Executive and Legislative Review Committee has approved the Maryland Racing Commission's emergency regulation that will facilitate Lasix-free 2-year-old races, it was announced Sunday evening. No races for juveniles have been held in Maryland this year due to a stalemate between the state's racing factions over the use of the anti-bleeder medication. It was announced on July 16 that The Maryland Jockey Club, The Stronach Group and the Maryland Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association had reached an agreement for a Lasix-free pilot program through 2023.

While no 2-year-old races are listed in the current Laurel Park condition book, Maryland Jockey Club President Sal Sinatra said there would be two extra races offered for Friday, Aug. 7: a Lasix-free 2-year-old maiden special weight and Lasix-free 2-year-old maiden special weight for fillies, both at five furlongs.

Relatedly, the MRC Equine Safety, Health and Welfare Advisory Committee July 31 authorized a veterinary survey study of all 2-year-olds that race in Maryland through Dec. 31 of 2020. The objective of the study is to track the incidence of exercise-induced pulmonary hemorrhage in 2-year-olds racing without Lasix using video scopes.

The emergency regulation was approved for the standard six-month period, from July 31, 2020 through Jan. 26, 2021.

THE NEXT GENERATION

THE NEXT GENERATION WITH SHAYNA TILLER by Katie Ritz

The TDN has partnered with Amplify Horse Racing to present "The Next Generation," an ongoing video series featuring young people who were not born into the Thoroughbred business, but are now excelling within the industry.

Click to watch our conversation with Shayna Tiller

Growing up next to Laurel Park, 24-year-old Shayna Tiller always felt a strong attraction to horse racing. But it wasn't until she was in college that she decided to pursue a career in the industry.

On a whim, she applied for an internship with the Saratoga Special. After spending one summer at the Spa, she was hooked for life. Over the past four years, Shayna has been on a whirlwind tour of the industry– doing everything from foaling out mares, chasing down a story on the Saratoga backstretch, working as an exercise rider, and interning for Fasig-Tipton.

Last year, she graduated from the Irish National Stud course. She now works as the Director of Sales for Mill Ridge Farm, and also shares her passion for promoting the stories of the people behind the sport through the 'Riders Up' Podcast she created with roommate Autry Graham.

KR: How did you get involved in horse racing?

ST: I'm originally from Laurel, Maryland and I grew up 10 minutes from the racetrack there. My mom and sister are deathly allergic to horses, ironically, so no one in my family was really into it. But my parents are from Bowie, Maryland and my dad always liked to go to the track and he took me with him a couple times. I did one Pony Pal ride there, and I was sold for life.

So I rode horses growing up, and I did a school project in high school on Lasix in horse racing and I interned with some of the state vets there at Laurel and Pimlico. I learned all about it and was kind of hooked from that point.

When I was in college at the University of Maryland, we had to apply for a fake internship as part of the general education requirements. I found an ad for the Saratoga Special, and just decided to apply. So I shipped up to Saratoga, didn't even know what a blacktype race was, and I was interviewing Todd Pletcher the next day.

They put us up in a barn apartment above the McMahon's Farm. Ann McMahon drives a car with a license plate that says 'Funny Cide One' on it. They raised Funny Cide and he was my favorite horse growing up. So I thought, "Well, I want to come back and learn more." So I spent my winters with them, and any break I had from college, I was there.

I transferred my last year of college to a smaller agricultural school in Pennsylvania to get more hands-on experience. I galloped in the mornings and interned with the Thoroughbred Idea Foundation when it was in its beginning stages. Then I was with Fasig-Tipton for a while before going to Ireland for the Irish National Stud Program last year.

So I guess as a new person in the industry who knew that I knew nothing, I wanted to get a full perspective on the industry and I was just eating it up. I think that's what's so cool, is that people in this industry really allow you to do anything you're interested in.

KR: What was it that drew you to this industry?

ST: I think that it's all rooted in a love for the horse. I went to college to be a vet, but when I was going through it, I realized I didn't really want to do that. When you grow up as a little horse girl you think you're either going to be a barn manager or maybe manage a tack shop or be a vet. So when I found horse racing, I just saw that you can actually go and make a career for yourself and work in a dynamic industry, and that's what drew me in.

Being in Saratoga, it's the most inspiring place you can be, really. I was around the top horses in the country and the top trainers– the people you see on TV. I wanted more and more of it, and it snowballed from there.

KR: What is your favorite part about this business?

ST: I really love the sales. I think what's so cool about them is you sell horses at different stages of life and you're trying to find where they're going to peak. It's also a bit of a matchmaking project with each horse, so it's really neat seeing them grow, especially the foals to yearlings and the yearlings to 2-year-olds. You're trying to find the perfect match of who's going to purchase them and then you get to see them go on and win races and become big bad race horses that you've seen since they were babies. There's really nothing like it.

KR: Tell us about what you do now.

ST: I'm the Director of Sales at Mill Ridge Farm. Mill Ridge was founded by Alice Chandler in 1962, which is really special for me, being a woman in the industry as well. She was just inducted into the Hall of Fame this year. So it's kind of cool to be a female working here and carry on her legacy.

In my position, I oversee all of the sales operations, so that consists of recruiting, seeing the horses prep and placing them in sales, and then working in marketing to make sure they reach the right buyers and communicating with clients to help them succeed. I get to do a lot of different things, which is what's so fun. No day is the same, and obviously going to the sales is a whole other job when I do that.

Another fun thing I do with my roommate Autry Graham is we started a podcast called Riders Up. We're two young girls in racing and we like to have conversations with different people on the podcast and talk about their lives. It's not your stereotypical handicapping podcast. You don't want our picks. We tell the stories behind the business, and it's really fun. You can find us on Spotify or Apple Podcasts, and we have an Instagram that we interact with a lot too.

KR: What are your career goals?

ST: I've always wanted to have my own consignment, so that's something that I'm getting a little taste of here at Mill Ridge. I'm hoping in the next 10-plus years, I'll be able to do that on my own.

KR: If you could change one thing about this industry, what would it be?

ST: I think if I could change one thing, it would be how we interact with the public. I come from a family that knows nothing about horse racing, so every time we have our newest public scandal or whatever the situation may be, I hear it from the public's standpoint, rather than our standpoint as an industry. I think it's so important for us to educate the public and tell them what's really going on and be more transparent, because the more transparent you are, the less you have to lose.

I also think we need to work to appeal to the public. My friends all used to go to the Preakness and they wouldn't even watch a horse race during the day, but they all got hooked on it from there, and it made them want to go back for more. It was more like a sporting event for them than a serious gambling experience. So I think we need to improve our engagement with the public.

KR: What was it like being a total newcomer in the sport?

ST: I was definitely very intimidated when I first started in racing. It just seems completely isolated and you don't really know how you're going to break that barrier. I got into it pretty late. I was in college when I first started, and I was around people who have grown up in it their whole lives and knew all these things that I didn't even know were possible.

I've found though, in racing, how much people do embrace you once you actually get into it and show you want to learn. I have had so many great people who have helped me along the way. It's kind of incredible. I don't know why they've done so much for me. So I think that was the initial struggle, but now I just feel really lucky to be a part of it, and it's amazing how much people help you.

Ready to Repeat battled to a runner-up effort in his 4 1/2-furlong debut over the Tapeta June 14 and moved to the lawn to record a front-running victory over Sunday maiden winner Gretzky the Great (Nyquist) July 12. Back on the Tapeta for this first stakes go, the bay gelding broke a half-step slowly but recovered quickly and strode out to the early lead. He set the tempo through fractions of :22.32 and :44.40 before streaking clear to an authoritative victory.

"He broke a little bit slow--he was kind of nervous today. With lots of wind, that probably affected him a little," said winning jockey Luis Contreras. "It was so windy today. But he just broke a little bit slow and when I asked him, he just [responded] right away."

Winning trainer and co-owner Gail Cox added, "He's always trained well. I was really impressed with him after his first race and Luis said, 'You know, he was just kind of staying with the other horse like he was working in company.' When we put the blinkers on, it was quite a bit of a difference. Mentally, he's little bit immature. He plays around all the time; everything is a big game." Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

Positivity was a 3 1/4-length debut winner going 4 1/2 furlongs at Santa Anita May 22 and came into this second start off a pair of bullet drills. With the pacesetters in the early strides, he was outfooted and settled off the pace as Good With People set fractions of :23.28 and :46.68. The pacesetter was still well in front inside the final furlong, but Positivity unleashed a powerful late rally to reel in the longtime leader and win going away. The winner then survived a claim of foul for interference with Touchdown Brown (Cairo Prince) at the start.

It was the second year in a row a Graduation claim of foul went the way of winning trainer Luis Mendez, whose Big Returns (Mr. Big) was promoted to the win in 2019.

"I know how it goes and I've been here before in this position," Mendez said. "I was worried. But last year the judges made a call for us and this year they were on our side again. First win at Del Mar this year takes the weight off the shoulders."

Of his winning trip, jockey Drayden Van Dyke said, "We had a nice stalking trip, but he got to messing around on the turn. Then when we got to running, I knew I'd catch that horse up front." Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

Factor This scored his fourth-straight victory while defending his title in this event Sunday afternoon. The $62,5000 claim in 2018 has been an ATM for his connections over the past couple seasons, and appears in the best form of his career this term--he ran away with the GIII Fair Grounds S. Feb. 15 at 8-1, then doubled up in the GII Muniz Memorial Classic S. Mar. 21 at 9-1 while earning a 104 Beyer Speed Figure. The public finally wised up for the GII Wise Dan S. at Churchill June 20, and he hung on that day by a neck at even-money. Forced to concede the lead early on from a high draw, Factor This shared pacesetting duties down the backside before taking over nearing the third and final turn. He was challenged in earnest by Ry's the Guy (Distorted Humor) heading home, but stiff-armed that foe and denied Hierarchy's late bid to keep the win streak intact.

"There was obviously another horse up there on the pace," trainer Brad Cox noted. "That's a tough post (11) to win from, the way they angle the gate at the quarter pole. He had to overcome some things today; laid in the two path around both turns. But overall, I was super pleased with the horse. He always shows up. Very happy with Shaun [Bridgmohan] and the position he put him in. We talked it over this morning how we thought the race would come up. Shaun had a good feeling the horse next to us on the lead would be right there, so he was prepared for that. He did a good job evaluating that. He really gets the most out of this horse." Click for the Equibase.com chart.

Moretti added his second career stakes victory while taking the blinkers off for Sunday's Birdstone S. at Saratoga. Settled in a wide third as American Tattoo (Arg) (Not For Sale {Arg}) narrowly led Expert (Point Given) through the early going of this marathon, Moretti was prompted by Javier Castellano exiting the backstretch and broke into a clear advantage with Rocketry locked on his outside shoulder. Head and head with that rival into the stretch, the favorite dispensed of that rival before holding off his oncoming stablemate You're to Blame by 1 1/2 lengths at the wire. Rocketry was third.

"At one point in the race, I thought I might have made a mistake [removing blinkers] because he seemed like he was almost a little too relaxed," said winning trainer Todd Pletcher. "But I know in these kinds of races you can't have a horse that's pulling too much. The main thing is I wanted him to settle into a good rhythm and it seemed like he was doing that. He was always responding well when Javier asked him to maintain his position. He finished up well."

Moretti hit the board in all previous starts this term, including an 8 1/2-furlong Oaklawn allowance win May 2 followed by a front-running score in a soggy renewal of the Flat Out S. over 11 furlongs at Belmont June 11. Most recently, the bay finished runner-up behind Tacitus (Tapit) in the GII Suburban S. July 4.

Wink, a debut winner at this trip over the Belmont lawn June 12, made it two-for-two with a front-running victory at Monmouth Sunday. The chestnut filly sprinted right out to the early lead and raced keenly through an opening quarter in :21.12. In front by three lengths entering the straight, the favorite held sway over her late-closing stablemate Flying Aletha.

"We liked her as soon as we got her on the grass," said winning trainer Wesley Ward. "You put her on the turf and she flies. She's all go and she's five-eighths, so this suited her perfectly. She's a very fast filly."

Flying Aletha, a first-out winner in an off-turfer at Gulfstream in May, was making her stateside return following a 10th-place effort in the G3 Albany S. at Royal Ascot June 19.

"She is going to be all right," Ward said of the runner-up. "She went over to Ascot and came back and that can take a little toll on them sometimes, but she ran a good race here. I wasn't quite sure which one was better. Wink showed us a lot on the grass, but the other one looked very good when we had her in Florida. Flying Aletha is a bigger filly, so maybe the longer they go the better she will be." In foal to Midnight Storm, Dancing My Way sold for $2,500 at the 2018 Keeneland November sale. Her Midnight Storm filly sold for $25,000 at the 2019 Fasig-Tipton November sale. In the clear turning for home, the $280,000 KEESEP yearling appeared to be home free, but despite getting leg-weary in the final sixteenth, the 9-5 choice held on for a neck victory over the oncoming Mo Dean (Uncle Mo). The winner's freshman sire, Nyquist, was registering his third winner, following Gretzky the Great's maiden special weight win minutes earlier at Woodbine. Miss Inclined, a half sister to dual graded stakes winning Rush Bay (Cozzene), produced a colt by Will Take Charge last season followed by a Liam's Map filly this term. Sales history: $280,000 Ylg '19 KEESEP. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $39,600. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

ROLL UP MO MONEY (f, 2, Uncle Mo--Twixy Roll {MSW, $277,172}, by Roll Hennessy Roll) came from off the pace to graduate in her career unveiling at Del Mar Sunday. Overlooked at 15-1, the Jeff Mullins trainee was hustled out from her wide berth and settled in a stalking position as first Hi Con (Nyquist) and then Bonus Fever (Runhappy) set early fractions of :22.48 and :46.83 while favorite Moonlight d'Oro (Medaglia d'Oro) lingered near the back. At the throat latch of Bonus Fever turning into the stretch, Roll Up Mo Money bounded clear midstretch and had enough of a cushion to score by 1 1/4 lengths over the closing Moonlight d'Oro, who found her best stride late. Twixy Roll produced a colt by American Pharoah last term. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $33,000. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

RAINING SUNSHINE (f, 2, First Dude--Due to Shine, by West Acre), third on debut over this track and trip July 15, was the 6-5 favorite in this second try. Settled just off a three-way battle for the lead through an opening quarter in :22.66, the filly ranged up four wide turning for home and seized command at the top of the stretch before storming clear to graduate by 5 3/4 lengths. Shang's Sister (Paynter) was second. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

PRINCESS GRACE (f, 3, Karakontie {Jpn}--Masquerade {MSP, $233,873}, by Silent Name {Jpn}), tabbed a 5-1 shot in this unveiling despite firing a half-mile bullet in :48 3/5 (1/4) over the Fair Hill all-weather on July 27, jumped alertly as the gates flew. Caught three off the fence just behind the leading pair through an opening quarter of :23.28, the dark bay glided up to take second through a half in :48.02. Still traveling with ominous purpose, she surged to the head of affairs at the beginning of the lane and kicked away to win for fun while not switching over to her correct lead. The margin back to the 1-5 chalk Good On Paper (War Front) was 5 1/2 lengths. Out of a MSP dam who placed in two Fair Grounds stakes, Princess Grace is Masquerade's first foal. She has a yearling colt named Catnip (Kitten's Joy) and was covered by Frosted this spring. Masquerade is a half-sister to GIII Turnback the Alarm H. heroine Svea Dahl (Honor Grades) and SW Vuelo Colorido (Meadow Flight). PALIO (c, 2, Twirling Candy--Cat's Garden, by Tale of the Cat), a $60,000 KEESEP yearling, was sent off the crowd's 4-5 favorite in this unveiling. Hustled out of the gate, the dark bay pressed Cyclo (Midshipman) through an opening quarter in :22.16. He forged to the lead in upper stretch and bounded home a 2 1/4-length winner. Cat's Garden, a half-sister to Grade I winner Forest Secrets (Forest Wildcat), produced a colt by Cairo Prince in 2019. In foal to Mo Town, she sold for $16,000 at last year's Keeneland November sale and she produced a filly by that sire this spring before being bred back to Bernardini. The winner's third dam is Rokeby Rose (Tom Rolfe), who produced champion Silverbulletday (Silver Deputy). Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $24,000.

RED PEPPER GRILL (f, 2, Munnings--Windhoek, by Mineshaft), sent off the 6-5 choice off a bullet three-furlong work in :35 flat July 23, shot to the front and raced through an opening quarter in :23.17. Given her cue straightening for home, the Virginia bred darted clear through the stretch and was 6 3/4-lengths clear of Nicolar (Include) at the wire. Who Knows What (Paynter) was third.

Windhoek is responsible for a yearling colt and weanling filly by Distorted Humor. She was bred back to Audible. Sales history: $50,000 Ylg '19 KEESEP. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $24,000. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

PAPPY BOYINGTON (c, 2, Grazen--Sky Marni, by Sky Mesa), a full to Grazen Sky, SW & GSP, $463,852; and S Y Sky, GSW, $709,540, stalked along the inside and rallied up the fence to defeat Champagne Pegasus (Champ Pegasus) by 2 1/2 lengths. The winner has full-sisters foaled in 2019 and 2020 and his dam was bred, unsurprisingly, back to Grazen for 2021. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $21,600. Click for the Equibase.com chart.

BELAFONTE (c, 2, Tonalist--Glenwood Pines, by Mizzen Mast), dismissed as the longest shot on the board at 49-1, was away awkwardly and trailed the field early. The bay colt gradually improved his position down the backstretch and darted into contention with a four-wide move turning for home. He forged to the lead at midstretch and drew clear to win by 2 1/2 lengths. Loumo (Uncle Mo) closed late for second. Belafonte RNA'd for $24,000 as an OBSWIN yearling and sold for $20,000 as an FTKOCT yearling.
