FEDS: MORE DOPING CHARGES COULD BE IN PIPELINE

Jason Servis | Sarah Andrew

by T. D. Thornton

The federal prosecutor leading the case against an alleged network of racehorse dopers underscored several times during a Nov. 17 court hearing that the government might not yet be done bringing new charges that could involve either existing or fresh defendants as it continues to investigate a purported years-long conspiracy to manufacture, mislabel, rebrand, distribute and administer performance-enhancing drugs (PEDs) to Thoroughbreds and Standardbreds across America and in international races.

"There may well be other crimes as to the particular defendants in this case," United States Attorney Andrew Adams said in response to a direct question on that topic from U.S. District Judge Mary Kay Vyskocil. "And [the government] is continuing to look at other people who are not currently charged."

During the Tuesday morning teleconference, 14 defendants pleaded "not guilty" to updated charges in US. District Court (Southern District of New York) stemming from a Nov. 5 superseding indictment that replaced an original indictment filed after a wave of arrests in March.

BETTER THE DEVIL WE KNOW NOW

by Chris McGrath with additional reporting by Bill Finley

He who dares, wins. For commercial breeders, however, that famous military maxim is becoming ever less practicable. Rather than hold their nerve, they rush nervously from one new stallion to the next, few daring to stick around long enough to take a yearling to market once a first crop has actually been exposed to the racetrack.

These cycles often become self-fulfilling, in that few stallions can seize so limited an opportunity in time to maintain adequate momentum. But every now and then, one comes along that, no sooner than he is discarded, promptly rebukes the entire industry for its fickleness. Few have done this quite as dramatically as Daredevil. The headline Thoroughbred industry defendants in the case are the now-barred but formerly above-norm-win-percentage trainers Jason Servis and Jorge Navarro.

A dozen other alleged co-conspirators either appeared via phone or had pleas entered by their attorneys on Tuesday. They include drug manufacturers, distributors, stable employees, and veterinarians allegedly involved to various degrees in the five counts listed in the indictment. They are: Erica Garcia, Christopher Oakes, Michael Tannuzzo, Marcos Zulueta, Rebecca Linke, Kristian Rhein, Michael Kegley, Jr., Alexander Chan, Seth Fishman, Jordan Fishman, Lisa Giannelli, and Rick Dane, Jr.

In addition, five individuals named in the original March indictment were not included in the superseding indictment, which has led to speculation that they could be cooperating with law enforcement authorities to widen the case in exchange for having charges dropped. Two other defendants pleaded guilty in September.

On Tuesday Adams revealed that prosecutors now believe that at least two of the alleged conspirators--Chan and Rhein--were pushing some fake PEDs to Servis that didn't really enhance performance. But, the prosecutor added, the government will be treating those substances as if they were actual PEDs because Servis's true intent was to allegedly dope horses.

Adams explained that the recently added wire fraud charges alleged against those three defendants were brought to light by investigators who uncovered "a false billing scheme relating to certain drugs being administered by Dr. Rhein's veterinary practice, including to horses under the care and training of Mr. Servis." He added that it amounts to false billing when "certain drugs were promoted or intended to be used as performance-enhancing drugs, regardless of the efficacy of those drugs."

The prosecutor then elaborated: "That is, a drug that is promoted and intended to be a performance-enhancer but is, you know, a dud, is nevertheless [considered to be] a misbranded an adulterated drug for the purposes of this indictment..."

And because those allegedly false billing transactions purportedly were conducted via some form of phone, text, or email communications, they constitute wire fraud, the government is alleging.

When Judge Vyskocil asked Adams point-blank to name the victims who were allegedly defrauded via the five counts in the indictment, Adams did not hesitate to answer.

"Horse owners are among the primary or intended victims," with regard to the wire fraud charges, Adams said. "With respect to misbranding, the racetracks, racing commissions, owners [and other] competitors are all among people who were in the minds of the defendants charged with the misleading and deceit," Adams added.

The news that more charges and/or yet another expanded time frame for the alleged crimes could be in the pipeline was not welcomed by defense attorneys, who have already lodged concerns about the massive volume of electronic evidence being introduced in the case and how an elongated discovery and pre-trial period is not in the best interest of their clients' right to a speedy trial.

"We do continue to investigate and continue to look into all aspects of the case," Adams said when pressed by the judge for some sort of timeline on potential future charges. "The wire fraud that has come down now is largely the fruit of investigations that straddled the original indictments. It was built on information from both before and after. And I don't leave aside the possibility that that may happen again, with respect to other false billing practices."

Servis's attorney, Rita Glavin, said she wanted a more definitive answer so she could make the best defense possible for her client without having to start all over if new charges got levied against him. She asked Adams, "Does the government, as we sit here today, think it's likely that there will be a superseding indictment in the next four to five months?"

Adams replied, "The government is not under an obligation to answer that question. And it frankly will not impact, in the government's view, any timelines set for Mr. Servis."

Glavin countered: "Today is the first that I've heard from the government a whisper that there may be another superseding indictment. And I understand the government's representation that they don't believe it would impact Mr. Servis. But I would have to see that when I see it. I don't know what their current investigations are. But I certainly would be concerned about setting a schedule in the case if we're going to see new charges come out."

Despite the open-ended nature of the ongoing investigation and the mounting reams of evidence it is generating, Vyskocil declined to set a deadline for discovery. The judge did, however, aim to set a timetable for future proceedings that allowed the defense proper time to sift through all the relevant materials during the discovery period and to potentially file motions based on what attorneys uncover.

So a Feb. 5 date has now been set for the first round of what the judge termed as "dispositive motions" that the defense could file to put an end to some or all of the charges against defendants. The prosecution would then have a month to reply (Mar. 5), and the defense would get three additional weeks to counter those replies (Mar. 26).

A second round of motions dealing only with defense requests to suppress evidence or expert testimony now has a May 24 target deadline, but a status hearing scheduled 10 days before then will determine if that is a realistic date.

Vyskocil said at this point, it would be "premature" to even consider a pre-trial schedule that extends beyond the time frame of next spring.

In his first three years at stud, the son of More Than Ready covered a total of 376 mares. As his first juveniles approached the track, however, his book plummeted from 140 in 2018 to just 21 last year--a staggering renunciation, even by the flighty standards of today's marketplace. blamed, then, for accepting an offer from the Jockey Club of Turkey last November.

There were, after all, limited signs of precocity in his first 2-year-olds. Of 41 starters, 13 had managed to win. Only one had done so at black-type level, and only Shedaresthedevil had made a graded-stakes impact, when third of six behind a runaway winner in the GI Sorrento S.

The rest is history. This year Shedaresthedevil won the GI Longines Kentucky Oaks, with another of the exile's daughters, Swiss Skydiver, a clear second. Found for just $35,000 by Kenny McPeck as Hip 2997 at Keeneland September, Swiss Skydiver had already won four graded stakes by that stage, including the GI Alabama S. When she proceeded to beat none other than Authentic (Into Mischief) in the GI Preakness S., it was barely two weeks before Lane's End announced a deal to repatriate Daredevil to the Bluegrass.

To be fair, the way he turned things round with his first sophomores illustrates one of the defining functionalities of all markets. For every loser on a deal, there is a winner. The WinStar team may not have gained full reward for their faith in the huge promise Daredevil had shown in the first two of what proved to be only five career starts, highlighted by a blistering success in the GI Champagne S. In turn, however, Daredevil has given corresponding vindication to the talent scouts of the Turkish Jockey Club.

Because while his sojourn besides the Sea of Marmara proved to be a brief one, Daredevil has returned under an arrangement whereby he remains in Turkish ownership, while managed by his host farm. Bill Farish of Lane's End is not aware of any other Kentucky stud that has worked out a similar deal with foreign interests.

"This is a very unique situation," Farish explained. "We were all trying to figure out what it was that they wanted from a farm, to be able to bring him over here: whether it was a horse in exchange, or just dollars. It turns out that their preference was to keep the horse and stand him in North America. They were contacted by a lot of farms, and people with different ideas about how to do this, and there was a lot of back and forth before they decided this was the format they wanted. It is very unique, and pretty smart of them in my opinion. Their plan is to have the horse where he is the most commercially viable. What he can make here probably exceeds what he can make there."

That's not to say that Lane's End will merely be boarding the stallion.

"We will take care of him, obviously, and we will manage him in every way," Farish said. "We will be the ones booking him to mares and we are already getting a tremendous number of calls from breeders to breed to him. We will manage the whole process on their behalf."

An important role in Daredevil's story has been played by Murat Sancal, who represents the Jockey Club of Turkey in Kentucky. He helped bring the horse to Turkey in the first place, and was also central to negotiations for his prompt return.

"I personally liked Daredevil a lot as a racehorse," Sancal said. "Unfortunately he got hurt and his racing career finished too early. But as soon as he was retired to stud, I supported him with some of our mares and also encouraged clients to buy mares in foal to Daredevil. And when I saw his first crop of foals at the sales, I was really happy with their look and temperament. They were all really athletic individuals."

Daredevil covered over 100 mares in Turkey, according to Sancal achieving a fertility rate of 97% and great esteem among local breeders.

"But when his daughters finished first and second in the Kentucky Oaks, beating that unbelievable filly Gamine (Into Mischief), many American farms started to call us," he explained. "At first the Jockey Club was thinking in terms of selling him back to the U.S. But after Swiss Skydiver won the Preakness, the plan changed and our interest turned to sending Daredevil back to stand on behalf of the Jockey Club. About 11 farms approached us, and I want to thank every one of them for their interest."

The two most impressive pitches came from Lane's End and a rival only recently back in the stallion business. In the end, the more established operation just won the tender. Sancal salutes the "huge efforts" made by Lane's End owner William S. Farish and his team.

The sales department will not run out of conversation once having reminded everyone about Daredevil's two millionaire fillies. For this is a half-brother to another Grade I winner, Albertus Maximus (Albert The Great), the pair being out of a Forty Niner half-sister to two very fast horses in Europe: G1 Prix Maurice de Gheest winner King Charlemagne (Nureyev) and his full brother Meshaher, who was Group 1-placed as a juvenile; as well as to the dam of GI Forego S. winner Here Comes Ben (Street Cry {Ire}). Moreover the family has benefited from a fresh upgrade, Here Comes Ben being a half-brother to the dam of none other than Dayoutoftheoffice (Into Mischief), who saw off all bar Vequist (Nyquist) in the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies after beating the same filly in the GI Frizette S. the previous month.

And Daredevil's second dam adds further laurels to the page, as GI Santa Maria H. winner Race The Wild Wind. As a daughter of Sunny's Halo, she also brings his sire Halo into play top and bottom: More Than Ready, of course, being by his son Southern Halo. In counterpoint we find the omnipresent Mr. Prospector with a reciprocal 4x3 footprint in Daredevil. One son, Woodman, is More Than Ready's damsire; and we've already noted that another, Forty Niner, serves the same role for Daredevil himself.

That's a pedigree of real depth and balance. It features plenty of speed, as we should expect behind a horse fleet enough to clock the fastest juvenile Beyer over a mile in over 20 years. But the way Daredevil's sophomores thrived also comes as no surprise in a sibling to Albertus Maximus, who registered his Grade I wins at ages four and five. Here perhaps we find a footprint for the hardiness we often associate with South American blood, Daredevil's third dam being by an uncommon influence in Indian Chief (Arg), a son of the important Argentinian stallion Pronto (Arg). Another son of Pronto, incidentally, sired the third dam of Candy Ride (Arg)--a nice little echo, for those hoping that Daredevil can consolidate on his fairly freakish achievements this year.

Rounding the home turn he lies behind only American Pharoah and Constitution in the second-crop prize money table, the work of only 75 starters (compared with 163 and 129 respectively for his rivals). Unsurprisingly, Daredevil is the only sire to produce individual winners of both the Oaks and Preakness at the first attempt. All this, remember, with a crop bred at an opening fee of $12,500, which had dropped to $7,500 by the time of his export. Moreover his second crop has already produced Esplanade, winner of her first three starts (including two stakes) before chasing home Vequist in the GI Spinaway S.

Lane's End is launching Daredevil back into the American market at $25,000.

"The start to his career has been pretty phenomenal and I don't think we were alone in our desire to bring him back," Farish said. "A lot of farms were trying to get him, and we were fortunate enough to be selected by the Turkish Jockey Club to bring him back. The number of breeders requesting to breed to him is very high. It's great to see but not unexpected because I think the stud fee is very fair. His start has been so amazing, especially when you consider how limited his book was compared to other top stallions in his crop."

Sancal is delighted by the way things have played out. "We are so happy that he is back," he said with enthusiasm. "Daredevil has done a tremendous job with a limited number of foals, and American breeders are already showing huge interest with his book filling up quickly. I really liked when Spendthrift Farm president Mr. Eric Gustavson said in the winner's circle after Authentic won at the Breeders' Cup: 'If you want to be champion, you must beat the best.' And that's exactly what Daredevil's progeny has done: Swiss Skydiver beat the [GI] Kentucky Derby and [GI] Breeders' Cup Classic winner; and both she and Shedaresthedevil beat Gamine. Who does that leave, that his progeny didn't beat? He's coming back, and he's simply the best!"

The long-term aspiration remains for Turkey's imports to keep upgrading the local breed, and that work will be continued by Super Saver (Maria's Mon) and Bodemeister (Empire Maker), also recruited from WinStar; along with the likes of Trappe Shot (Tapit) from Claiborne; Air Vice Marshal (War Front) and Bluegrass Cat (Storm Cat) from California; and Authorized (Ire) (Montjeu {Ire}) and Myboycharlie (Ire) (Danetime {Ire}) from France--all acquired in a very business-like recruitment drive by Turkish interests in 2019.

"The Turkish Jockey Club President, Mr. Serdal Adali, and his team do a great job in finding such nice prospects," Sancal said. "They study their breeding stock very carefully, and then find stallions of this quality to support them. Because of Covid-19, racing and breeding industries all around the world have had to cut purses. Turkey is the only country in Europe where, instead of cutting purses, Mr. Adali was able to increase all race purses by 25% until January, with an additional estimated 33% increase for 2021. We are still working to add new sires and mares to our breeding stock, and to keep improving."

In these unusual circumstances, however, his owners acknowledge that Daredevil can maximize his potential back in his homeland. As such, all parties share the view that the horse is very much here to stay. It is not as though American breeders will let him fall out of favor with the same glibness as they did in 2019. But while second chances are not unknown--WinStar themselves exercised an option to retrieve Take Charge Indy from Korea, for instance--they are rare enough. Daredevil has pulled off something extremely unusual. The bigger picture remains unchanged: if a stallion is abandoned before he has really started, then very often he will have no way back.

"When you are looking at a breeding season and the horse is struggling to get 20, 30 mares, and there is some type of offer to relocate, a lot of times people are going to go ahead and sell," Farish remarked. "If you do have a very small book to a stallion it devalues them by a great deal."

"Giving up on a horse before he has 4-year-olds make the track is dangerous because you can get it wrong. We've had plenty of stallions whose first 2-year-olds didn't exactly light it up and they came on and became champion sires. Our business has become just that, a business. People are trying to get out before the asset is valueless and that is what really drives it."

Sancal took a sympathetic view. "The American racing industry is really tough for young sires like Daredevil," he said. "There are so many great stallion prospects retiring from the track every year and breeders have so many options. I believe sale results affect this as well, but this is how business works here in the U.S.A. and you can't blame anyone for that. Daredevil is not the first stallion to face this--and he won't be the last, either."

HIDDEN SCROLL TOPS KEENOV TUESDAY

Hidden Scroll | Keeneland

'TDN Rising Star' Hidden Scroll (Hard Spun) (Hip 3295) topped Tuesday's session of the Keeneland November Sale, which was highlighted by the horses of racing age section, when selling for $525,000 to Fergus Galvin, who was acting on behalf of Marc Detampel. The 4-year-old colt was consigned by WinStar Racing as agent for owner/breeder Juddmonte Farms.

"He is going to go to Brad Cox," Galvin said. "His pre-race antics are well-documented. We are just hoping a change of scenery might benefit the horse. We know he has a world of talent. It is just a matter of getting it out of him."

He continued, "He has run some huge numbers. On his best day, he is Grade I caliber. He has shown that talent in the past. He is also a beautiful physical. If we can unearth the talent out of him, we are definitely excited to see what the future holds for him."

Trained by Bill Mott, Hidden Scroll romped by 14 lengths in the slop on debut at Gulfstream in January of last year. Off the board in both the GII Fountain of Youth S. and GI Florida Derby last term, the bay was third in a Churchill allowance that May and was subsequently shelved for the season.

Kicking off this season with an optional claimer score at Gulfstream Mar. 1, Hidden Scroll was off the board in the GIII Count Fleet Sprint H. in April and dropped his rider after stumbling at the start next out in a Belmont optional claimer in June. Eighth when trying turf in the GI Jaipur S. 17 days later, he was fifth when last seen in a Saratoga turf test Aug. 1.

The second highest-priced offering of the day was Miss J McKay (Hangover Kid) (Hip 3085), who summoned $300,000 from Jackson Farms. Consigned by Elite, the 3-year-old was campaigned by Maxis Stable, Madaket Stables and Wonder Stables and trainer Cathal Lynch. The MD-bred has been in the money in eight of her nine starts and captured the Anne Arundel County S. last term.

A total of 216 horses brought $5,697,700 with an average of $26,378 and a median of $10,000. There were a total of 25 RNAs. Throughout the nine days of selling so far, 2,060 horses changed hands for a gross of $156,257,200 with an average of $75,853 and a median of $30,000. Overall, 416 Thoroughbreds failed to meet their reserves.

“There were a few soft spots, but the horses that vetted clean and were good race prospects were making money,” said Galvin.

ER NURSE CASHES IN ON KEENELAND NOV BOOK 3 TOPPER

By Katie Ritz

Over the past eight months, there have been very few jobs more demanding, more exhausting, more defeating, than that of an ER nurse.

Malia Hopkins can attest to that. She's the ER nurse manager for not one, but two ERs in Stuttgart, Arkansas.

It's been an unimaginable year for the well-practiced RN, but she said one event last week made the ongoing battle against the pandemic more than worth it.

In the fourth session of the Keeneland November Sale, her first-ever horse to go through a sales ring hammered down as the top-selling weanling of Book 3.

Mendelsohn colt out of Abuntia tops Book 3 of the Keeneland November Sale | Keeneland

Selling as Hip 1269 with the Four Star Sales consignment, her Mendelsohn colt out of Abuntia (Olmodavor) sold for $300,000, the highest-priced weanling of the sale for the first-crop Coolmore sire.

The colt was foaled and raised at Woodstock Farm in Lexington, and while Hopkins was not able to visit him as much as she had hoped in his first few months due to the pandemic, she's been eagerly receiving photos of the youngster since day one.

"Dealing with the pandemic and managing the ERs has made for a very stressful year," she said. "To have something like this occur 100% made my year worth it. Being with Woodstock Farm, they got that colt in shape and made him look like he was a million-dollar colt. They all went above and beyond to make this an amazing end of the year for me."

Hopkins shares her love of horses with her mother, who is also a nurse. The mother-daughter duo were involved in the Quarter Horse breeding industry when Hopkins was a child. But at the age of 21, a car crash left her unable to ride and they were forced to dissolve their business.

Just a few years ago, they decided to venture into the Thoroughbred industry. Hopkins said it took some time to find a few broodmares that piqued her interest, but one in particular caught her eye.

Abuntia came from the family of several notable winners. She was a half-sister to multiple graded stakes winner St. Joe Bay (Saint Anddan), and her third dam was three-time Eclipse winner and Grade I producer Susan's Girl (Quadrangle).

The only catch was her spotty produce record.

Her first foal in 2015, a filly by Regal Ransom, sold for $1,000 at the OBS Winter Mixed Sale and never saw the racetrack. Then over the next two years, the mare couldn't get in foal.

"[The sellers] told us that she was having some difficulties getting in foal, so that's when we got in touch with Jeff Little," Hopkins said. "Jeff got her in shape and got her in foal to Not This Time on the first cover."

The resulting filly, now a 2-year-old, was retained for racing. Hopkins said she is now in training in Kentucky and will race next year at Oaklawn Park.

The mare didn't carry the same luck the next two breeding seasons, failing to catch both years. But Hopkins had high hopes for 2019, as there was one potential stallion that she thought would be a perfect match.

"We saw Mendelsohn on the racetrack and started bugging Coolmore in August," she said with a laugh. "They said they could get us a contract. We went from Arkansas to Kentucky to watch him run in the Breeders' Cup, and I was praying he didn't win so I could continue to afford him."

Abuntia checked in foal, and her Mendelsohn colt was born at the end of February, just before Hopkins stepped onto the Coronavirus front line.

"We were blessed with a beautiful colt that looked phenomenal," she recalled. "With COVID, I couldn't come up to see him as much, but from the very first photos they were sending, I could tell it was a nice individual. He was probably about two months old when he started showing he was a real standout and a class act."

Hopkins was able to make the trip to Lexington to watch her first foal go through the sales ring to the tune of $300,000, selling to Larry Best's OXO Equine.

"I was so nervous I couldn't actually videotape it," she said. "I tried. But thankfully he did amazing and brought what he did. I'm ecstatic that Larry Best has the horse and I'm extremely grateful for Coolmore, Four Star Sales and Tony [Lacy, consignor and advisor] for everything they've done for us. It was an amazing first experience."

Two days later, Hopkins had another weanling go through the sales ring, this one a filly by Not This Time that was born and raised at Hopkins's farm in Arkansas and brought $37,000.

"With her being an Arkansas-bred, I was tickled to death with that," she said.

Hopkins puts no stock in beginner's luck and has even higher aspirations for the future.

Her goal for next year?

"I would love to be able to have a topper in Book 2 next time."

FOG OF WAR TO STAND IN NEW YORK

Fog of War (War Front--Say {Ire}, Galileo {Ire}), winner of the GI Summer S. at two, will stand the 2021 season at Questroyal/Hidden Lake Farm near Stillwater, New York. The 4-year-old stands as property of White Birch Farm Inc. and Three C Stables LLC with a stud fee set at $7,000, live foal stands and nurses.

A $400,000 Keeneland September yearling, Fog of War was purchased by White Birch Farm and raced under the colors of Peter M. Brant his entire career. He was trained by Chad Brown.

Fog of War's dam Say was a Group 3 winner in Ireland. She produced two full-brothers to Fog of War--Invader, a $500,000 Keeneland September yearling who won the John Battaglia Memorial S. by 6 1/4 lengths, and Naval Intelligence, a stakes winner in Great Britain.

Fog of War's second dam Riskaverse was a MGISW. This is the family of 2011 Horse of the Year and champion older mare Havre De Grace.

Chris Larsen commented, "I'm excited to partner with Peter Brant to bring Fog of War to stud in New York. This will give breeders access to the world's most successful sire lines Peter and I love as well as taking advantage of the lucrative NYS breeder awards and restricted racing programs. We think Fog of War is destined to be New York State's great sire."

"Fog of War's win first time out at Saratoga and his Grade I victory in the "Win and You're In" Summer S. at Woodbine beating War of Will, showed us that he was our best colt of that crop and marked him as one of the clear favorites for the 2018 Breeders Cup Juvenile Turf," Brant said. "Unfortunately, Fog bucked his shins and would not make the race but his undefeated 2-year-old campaign managed to show everyone his brilliant turn of foot and class. Fog of War has all the makings of a potentially high-class stallion with his conformation, pedigree and speed. I am so thrilled Fog will have the opportunity to be an exciting freshman stallion in New York and also allow White Birch Farm to be a new player in the New York State breeding and racing program."

FAIR GROUNDS TO BEGIN RACE SEASON WITHOUT SPECTATORS

Fair Grounds | Sarah Andrew

The Fair Grounds Race Course 2020-21 race season, set to begin on Thanksgiving Day, will be closed to the general public. A subsequent announcement in December is likely to follow as to when the general public will be allowed to attend.

Said Fair Grounds President Doug Shipley, "We are happy to be able to present the Fair Grounds' 149th racing season, featuring over $7 million in stakes, and continue this longstanding New Orleans tradition despite these unprecedented times. Out of an abundance of caution given the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic and working with state and local authorities, we will not be opening the season to the general public at this time, with only licensed horsemen and essential personnel allowed to attend. We will continue to monitor the situation closely and hope to make an announcement soon as to when we will be able to share our racing experience with the general public."

The Fair Grounds' slots and twelve off-track betting facilities will maintain their normal hours of operations and safety protocols.

STUD FEES ANNOUNCED FOR ANCHOR & HOPE

Anchor & Hope Farm in Port Deposit, Maryland has released reduced stud fees for 2021. Bourbon Courage (Lion Heart) and Imagining (Giant's Causeway) will each stand for $2,000. Holy Boss (Street Boss) and Long River (A.P. Indy) will each stand for $1,000. Bourbon Courage leads Midatlantic second-crop sires by stakes horses. Imagining is represented by multiple stakes winner Monday Morning QB. Holy Boss will be represented by his first runners in 2021 and Long River will have yearlings of 2021. "In an effort to support the breeding industry in challenging times, we want to do our part for the people who keep this industry alive--the small breeder," Louis Merryman said. "The decline in mares bred nationally and locally has been on our radar, and now combined with the economic impacts of COVID-19 we recognize we all need to do our part to sustain the industry. Our hope is the reduced stud fees will make breeding more feasible for large and small operations alike."

OTTB UNITED APP AVAILABLE

OTTB United, a mobile app that unites sellers, buyers, and shippers of Thoroughbred ex-racehorses and gives back to the Thoroughbred placement community was released by the Retired Racehorse Project and OTTB United Tuesday.

The app is also designed to give back to the Thoroughbred placement community: a portion of the premium subscription fee is donated to the Retired Racehorse Project. Subscribers can select from a list of aftercare organizations and for-profit resellers to receive an additional contribution.

"We are so fortunate to partner with the Retired Racehorse Project," says OTTB United founder Amy Rubin. "The organization's mission is at the center of everything we want to achieve, and helping off-the-track Thoroughbreds is our number-one goal. The Retired Racehorse Project has strengthened the Thoroughbred community, and it's our hope that the OTTB United app produced in partnership will unite that community on one platform."

OTTB United is free to download from Google Play and the App Store. A premium subscription is $4.99 monthly. The app is available in the US and Canada.

Sponsor a Family for Christmas

The NY Race Track Chaplaincy is once again offering the opportunity to our supporters to participate in our Sponsor-A-Family Program. Our Program provides food and gifts to the neediest of our backstretch families during the Christmas season.

This year has been such a challenging one for us all and particularly for those we serve. Our goal is to provide sponsorships for every one of our families in need, which is something we have never been able to accomplish before so please, spread the word among your friends and help us to bless our families this year.

Family Sponsorships can be shared! Groups are encouraged to sponsor large families together.

How It Works

1. Click HERE to send an email, and write "Sponsor a Family" in the subject line. Let us know if you have a preference for the number of members in the family you would like to sponsor, or indicate any questions.
2. We will write back with the details of your family, including the total number of family members, gender of each child, ages and sizes.
3. Go Shopping! Purchase gifts for each child or members of the family as well as a grocery store gift card for their holiday meal.
4. Please wrap all gifts and clearly mark each gift according to each family member.
5. Place all Items into a large box or bag that is clearly marked with the family last name and assigned number. If there are large items that cannot fit into the family box (bike, comforter, etc) clearly mark the item with a tag. This ensures all of your gifts are delivered to your assigned family.
6. Please deliver your gifts to our Belmont Park office, Gate 6, by December 11th. Our office is open Monday- Friday, 10AM - 4PM.

Not a Shopper? No worries!

Please click here to make a financial contribution of your choice to be used toward sponsoring a family.

DISRUPTION TO HORSE MOVEMENT FROM BREXIT DEADLINE

It is recommended to not ship horses between the UK and the EU the first two weeks of January | Racingfotos.com

Ahead of the start of the 2021 breeding season, owners and breeders have been warned to avoid transporting horses between the UK and the EU in the first few weeks of January immediately following the expiry of the Brexit transition period.

A statement issued on Tuesday by the Thoroughbred Industries Brexit Steering Group, which is made up of representatives of the British Horseracing Authority, Thoroughbred Breeders' Association and Weatherbys, advised against horse movement in the early part of the new year "unless absolutely necessary."

It continued, "With less than seven weeks to go before the transition period expires, there will be significant changes to how horses move between the UK and the EU from 1 January, irrespective of whether a Free Trade Agreement is signed."

At present, clarification is still being sought by the group on Britain being granted third country status for animal health purposes, as well as authorisation for British horse transporters to operate in the EU and vice versa, and, crucially, recognition of the General Stud Book, which identifies Thoroughbreds and permits their movements. ## AVERAGE, MEDIAN CLIMB AT AUTUMN YEARLING OPENER

Goffs staged the first of two sessions of its live online Autumn Yearling Sale on Tuesday. With the first-day catalogue of 296 scratched down to 167, 99 were sold (59%) for an aggregate of €662,400, compared to €1,134,400 last year when 192 were sold on the day from 254 offered. The average of €6,691 was up 13%, while the median climbed 11% to €4,200.

Boherguy Stud's New Approach (Ire) colt out of Neophilia (Ire) (Teofilo {Ire}) (lot 192) had originally been slated for the Goffs Sportsman's Sale, but connections opted for this spot when that sale was moved to Doncaster.

While this sale was subsequently forced online, the Apr. 30 foal enjoyed a significant update in the interim, with Gear Up (Ire) (Teofilo {Ire}) under his third dam having won the G1 Criterium de Saint-Cloud on Oct. 24. Cont. p2

EUROPEAN NEWS

The statement read, "Even in the event of agreements on these key areas for British racing being confirmed in the coming weeks, the Thoroughbred Industries Brexit Steering Group is of the view that there will be additional friction in moving Thoroughbreds through key ports from 1 January, with the potential for initial disruption."

Following confirmation of a Free Trade Agreement between the UK and the EU, further clarification will be required in regard to a potential replacement of the current Tripartite Agreement which governs movements of Thoroughbreds between Britain, Ireland and France.

Julian Richmond Watson, chair of the Thoroughbred Industries Steering Group, said, "We know that some people want to make plans for the New Year, but the picture will remain unclear until we know the terms of any new agreements between Britain and the EU.

"Even if there is an overarching trade deal, we will still need specific arrangements to be agreed covering the movement of Thoroughbred horses. If industry members want to avoid the risk of delays or disruption, we advise them not to schedule movements in the first two weeks of 2021.

"Our message right now is 'Stand By, Change is Coming'. We would ask participants to keep up to date with the latest information regularly via the Brexit page on britishhorseracing.com and await direct communication from their membership body once we know the details.

"We continue to work closely with Defra and all other relevant UK government departments, who are well-informed about the needs of the racing and breeding industries. We are also in regular contact with our counterparts in Ireland and France and other EU jurisdictions."

Avg., Median Climb At Autumn Yearling Opener Cont. from p1

E Hannon went to €40,000 for the fourth foal out of the mare, who has produced the winning New Vocation (Ire) from two foals to race. The colt is bred on the same cross as this year's G1 Vertem Futurity Trophy scorer Mac Swiney (Ire), and also shares his breeder, Jim Bolger. The New Approach colt is also from the same family as the Bolger-bred, Boherguy-consigned Teofilo (Ire) colt that topped the Tattersalls Ireland September Yearling Sale at £325,000, he being a full-brother to Gear Up.

Earlsfort Bloodstock went to €30,000 for an Oasis Dream (GB) colt out of the listed-placed Maybe Grace (Ire) (Hawk Wing) (lot 290), who has produced two winners from three runners and is a half-sister to Australian Group 1 winner Magic Hurricane (Ire) (Hurricane Run {Ire}).

The first-crop yearlings by Yeomanstown Stud's Scat Daddy sire El Kabeir have been well received this season, and his name also featured among the top lots at this sale when Noel Meade went to €29,000 for Eyrefield Lodge Stud's colt out of the listed-placed Bee Eater (Ire) (lot 157). That daughter of Green Desert has produced the G3 Marble Hill S. winner Minaun (Ire) (Zoffany {Ire}) among her eight runners and five winners. The third dam is the champion 3-year-old filly Marwell (Habitat). Cont. p3

Pedigree Notes

Circus Maximus is unfortunately the only known foal out of Duntle (Ire) (Danehill Dancer {Ire}), who took the G2 Duke of Cambridge S. and Listed Sandringham H. over this straight mile at this meeting [Royal Ascot] before being denied her Group 1 win in the 2012 Matron S. by the stewards...

...the Airlie Stud-bred chestnut was a rare commodity and an inspired purchase by the Niarchos Family.

Duntle's dam Lady Angola (Lord At War {Arg}) hails from the family of two other top-level winners by that sire in the Turf Classic hero Honor In War and Queen Elizabeth II Challenge Cup winner La Gueriere, as well as the GI John Henry H. and GII Eddie Read H. hero Al Mamoon (Believe It).

The fourth dam Lady Winborne (Secretariat) is a half-sister to Allez France (Sea-Bird {Fr}), France's legendary Horse of the Year and multiple champion.

Van Beethoven ran eight times at two for trainer Aidan O'Brien in the Michael Tabor silks, winning twice including the Railway. He was second, beaten a length, in the GI Secretariat S. at Arlington Park the following summer and hasn't run since the 2019 GI Shadwell Turf Mile at Keeneland.

Van Beethoven is out of a full-sister to the dam of triple Grade I-winning mare Stopchargingmaria (Tale of the Cat).

Samuel Blanchard of Winning Bloodstock told Journal de Galop, "He comes from a classic American line and won the Railway S. at The Curragh in June of his 2-year-old career, running no less than eight times between April and September. This is a real guarantee of precocity, at a time when France Galop is upgrading the juvenile category. At three, he finished second in the Secretariat S. over a mile at Arlington Park. He is a horse that travelled a lot, having raced in Ireland, but also in England, France, Dubai and the United States."

"Van Beethoven didn't win a Group 1, but was a top 2-year-old," Blanchard added. "Among the five best sires of juveniles in France this year, four had not won a Group 1. This is also the case with Mehmas, the leading first-season sire in Europe. Coolmore has [retained] a significant interest in him, while 15 shares will be on the market."

Van Beethoven is an exceptional model: a good size but not too big. Like his father, we can expect him to bring precocity and quality."

STORES TAKE THE STAGE AT ARQANA

Two-year-old stores were in the spotlight during Tuesday's session of the Arqana Autumn Sale in Deauville, where 91 horses (62.8%) changed hands for a total of €2,345,500 as of the close of the session. The average was €25,775, and the median €16,000. Tuesday's session this year included stores that would have typically been sold at Arqana's Summer Sale.

Vincent Le Roy went to the day's highest price of €175,000 for Authoside (Fr) (Authorized {Ire}) (lot 589), a colt offered by Haras des Pierres Follets on behalf of Guy Vimont. He is a half-brother to Grade 1-winning chaser Sceau Royal (Fr) (Doctor Dino).

Colts by Martaline (Fr) fetched the second and third highest prices of the day: Icare d'Estruval (Fr) (lot 562), a half-brother to two stakes winners, was hammered down to Sarl Guillaume Macaire for €160,000, while Andy and Gemma Brown picked up an unnamed colt from Haras du Ma (lot 551) for €140,000. The latter is a half-brother to the multiple Grade 2 winner Irish Saint (Fr) (Saint des Saints {Fr}). Cont.p5

A trio of six-figure buybacks meant that there was just one other that made €100,000. That was the AQPS Isaac des Obeaux (Fr) (Kapgarde {Fr}) (lot 616) who was bought by Highflyer Bloodstock. His dam is a half-sister to the G1 King George VI Chase winner Clan Des Obeaux (Fr) (Kapgarde {Fr}).

Arqana President Eric Hoyeau said at the close of trade on Tuesday, “The market was very difficult today, as we can see from the results. They have without doubt been impacted by the absence of several important buyers. Nevertheless, we will have to wait for the National Hunt yearlings to go through the ring to make a complete assessment of the market for young jumpers.”

The stores section of the catalogue continues on Wednesday, in addition to National Hunt yearlings.

Also a winner of the G1 Prix Jacques le Marois, the Ken Condon trainee's performance has not discouraged his connections.

"I think it served its purpose--it was a prep run and he blew the start," said Condon of the Robert Ng colourbearer. "Billy [Lee, jockey] had to get him into the race, then he was in his hands a bit. He travelled really well through the race, like we know he can, and went to win his race and just took a blow and got a bit tired. If you take him in isolation, it was an interesting exercise as he's run his race faster than anything else, if that makes sense.

"If he'd jumped away with them, it would have been a different story. Billy was particularly happy and he's the one that is the most relevant in this jigsaw."

He added, "We'll see how he is in the next week--we don't have to commit to Hong Kong immediately. But I still think we're on course and he'll get something from the race [at Dundalk], as he'd been off the track a while.

"All things considered, it was a solid run. It's important now to see how he trains in the next week as it's a long way to go and we want to be going there with a horse in top condition. I was initially disappointed that he got beaten, but after I analysed it closely and watched the race several times and listened to everybody, I think he's run well."

ROMANISED CAMP STILL CONSIDERING HONG KONG

G1 Irish 2000 Guineas hero Romanised (Ire) (Holy Roman Emperor {Ire}) is still a potential candidate for the G1 Longines Hong Kong Mile at the Longines Hong Kong International Races in mid-December at Sha Tin. Although third when favoured after a slow beginning at Dundalk on Monday, the 5-year-old won the G2 Minstrel S. earlier this year and was sixth in the G1 Prix du Moulin in September.

ARAPAHO HEADED DOWN UNDER

Arapaho will head Down Under | Arqana

By Bren O'Brien

Trainer Bjorn Baker and bloodstock agent Jim Clarke have been rewarded for their persistence after securing French stakes winner Arapaho (Fr) (Lope De Vega {Ire}) for €140,000 (AU$226,740) at the Arqana Autumn Sale.

Baker and Clarke have been searching for a tried horse out of Europe for much of the year, and with some assistance from Mark McStay of Avenue Bloodstock, they were able to secure former Coolmore-owned 3-year-old Arapaho, a winner of three of his seven starts for André Fabre in France.

"We've been looking at tried horses from Europe all throughout the year. For Bjorn, we've had a small number of them and we've looked to build-up because they have been consistently winning some of our top races," Clarke said.

"We've had an eye on a number of them, but we haven't been successful at getting one until now."

A winner of his first two races at Saint-Cloud and Deauville, Arapaho ended his 2-year-old season with a second in the Listed Prix Francois Boutin, also at Deauville.

The Lope De Vega (Ire) colt then secured his first stakes success in the Prix du Pont Neuf at Longchamp in May before he contested the G1 French 2000 Guineas, where he was sixth. He finished third in the Listed Prix de Saint Patrick at Saint-Cloud and was last seen when down the track in a Listed race at the same track last month.

"He showed up in this sale and I do a lot of work with Mark McStay in the UK. We had a good look at his profile, a good look at his replays and thought he is the right type of horse we could look to bring down to Australia and target some of those good mile races down here," Clarke said.

"We've got The Gong and The Hunter which are the headline races at the moment and he looks to have the right profile for them.

"He's a stakes winner who ran a decent race, probably in the wrong part of the track in the French Guineas, and he is lightly raced."

The pedigree also appealed to Clarke, McStay and Baker, given he is by a sire who has had considerable success in Australia out of a female family with plenty of black-type on the page.

"The stallion has done very well in Australia as we know with Gytrash and Santa Ana Lane. His first three dams are stakes winners and his dam is by Dansili and his second dam is by Pivotal, so from a pedigree point of view, we feel he'll be very good for Australia," he said.

"He's a nice well-balanced horse. He's 15.3hh and he moves very well. He's not your traditional European horse that the Aussies go for. He's not your mile and half time, he's a miler. That's consistent with his pedigree."

Arapaho was the fifth most expensive horse sold on the opening day of the Autumn Sale, with stakes-performed Tax For Max (Ger) (Maxios {Ger}) and promising hurdler Houx Gris (Fr) (Gris De Gris {Fr}) topping the market at €200,000 (AU$323,910).

International Market Still Competitive

Jim Clarke & Bjorn Baker | TDN AusNZ

On a busy day for Australian connections at Arqana, another Warwick Farm trainer, Matthew Smith, secured 4-year-old stakes winner Flambeur (USA) (Mizzen Mast {USA}) for €100,000 (AU$161,960), while OTI Racing's European representative John Hammond purchased two 3-year-olds.

Ashim (Fr) (Stormy Atlantic {USA}) was purchased for €90,000 (A$145,760) and Vardani (Fr) (Charm Spirit {Ire}) for €72,000 (AU$116,660), both from the Aga Khan Studs.

Clarke said despite the impact of COVID-19, the international tried horse market is still very competitive.

"They are not easy to buy and they can become too expensive. We have bid on a number of horses this year, and haven't been successful until now," he said. "It's a matter of waiting for horses that we think are going to slip through the cracks and buy at good value. He fits that mould. It's hard to buy stakes-winning horses, especially a lightly raced 3-year-old who I think has a lot of upside. I think he'll make an impact. Bjorn has a good record with older horses, He's had a good season with mares like Positive Peace and She's Ideal, they have been given time and as they mature he gets the best out of them."

Working Together

Baker has been a major supporter of Clarke since he set-up his own Clarke Bloodstock operation in 2018, with the pair sharing a connection from when Clarke was his racing and bloodstock manager earlier in his career.

"We had a lot of success together when I worked for him. He was, I guess, the launching pad for my career when I finished the Flying Start course. I then had a number of years living and working in Europe for Godolphin which gave me a pretty good grasp on European racing and European form," he said.

"When I started working for myself, Bjorn was the first guy to give me a go and we've bought some really nice horses together."

Clarke and Baker purchased seven yearlings at Magic Millions in January, five at the New Zealand Bloodstock Sale at Karaka, four at Inglis Classic, two at Inglis Melbourne Premier, three across the Inglis Easter Sales and another two at the Magic Millions National Sale, plus an additional 2-year-old at the recent Inglis Ready2Race Sale.

"We have got a number of really promising 2-year-olds in the wings at the moment, and I'm very grateful to him for his support," he said. "It's been good to manage to build things up along the way and I'm looking forward to the next couple of years and what happens."
