A MIGHTY DAY FOR WOODBINE FANS

Mighty Heart narrowly prevails in Churchill's Blame S. | Coady

by Chris McGrath

What a singular coincidence, and literally so, that two of the best horses recently bred in Canada--and that has never been a negligible distinction--should both have only one eye. True, the origins of Hard Not to Love (Hard Spun) and Mighty Heart (Dramedy) could scarcely be more diverse. The 2019 GI La Brea S. winner, who was retired a few weeks ago, graduated from one of the most admired breeding programs in North America, which routinely sends yearlings to Keeneland as coveted as any making a shorter trip from the storied Bluegrass farms. Much like the pioneering E.P. Taylor, indeed, Anderson Farms rebukes any condescending misapprehensions about raising top-class Thoroughbreds in "ice and tundra." The way Mighty Heart has defied their shared adversity, in contrast, confounds the odds in a fashion--out of the only mare then in his breeder's ownership, by a sire since exported from Oklahoma to Saudi Arabia, and named for the eyedropper-fed runt of a Sphynx cat litter--that nourishes hope for smaller operations everywhere, from Ontario to Ocala.

After a promising spring south of the border, Canada's Horse of the Year returns home Thursday in the most auspicious of contexts. He not only lines up for the GIII Dominion Day S., but does so on a Canada Day when fans are finally restored to the Woodbine stands after a second lockdown trauma that brought the local racing community to its knees. Cont. p3

JOCKEY CLUB TO COURT: BAFFERT ALONE BEARS RESPONSIBILITY FOR BANISHMENTS

by T.D. Thornton

The Jockey Club (TJC) on Wednesday told the judge in Bob Baffert's federal lawsuit against the New York Racing Association (NYRA) that in deciding whether or not to lift the trainer's banishment from Saratoga, Belmont Park and Aqueduct, it is imperative to consider the larger issue that tracks should be entitled to bar anyone "credibly responsible for the administration of medication resulting in a substance violation" in order to "protect the health and safety of the sport's participants."

Mighty Heart's return to the scene of his runaway success in the Queen's Plate last September, then, serves as the perfect tonic. Even before the pandemic, after all, the Ontario industry had been through years of crisis following the abrupt loss of slots. For all those who have been striving to rally investment, and all those who have resisted fresh despair during the past year, the big heart of this one-eyed wonder has become an inspiration.

"I find it so funny that he got the name he did, before all this," says his trainer Josie Carroll. "Because it just sums up this horse. Like in his last race, at the head of the lane, I thought, 'Okay, he's going to run a good race.' But he just dug in. He's just a scrappy little horse."

That was in the Blame S. at Churchill last month, where Mighty Heart refused to be denied in a three-way photo finish. Having previously made a promising return at Keeneland, he has laid a solid foundation for his second campaign after exploding onto the scene last year, winning the first two legs of the Canadian Triple Crown. Carroll had always planned to get him rolling again in the U.S., but his peregrinations from Florida to Kentucky obtained a melancholy background as the news from the home front became ever more frustrating.

Woodbine finally reopened for business on June 12, albeit behind closed doors, with a jackpot carryover that had been gathering dust ever since Nov. 22. That was when the meet came to a premature end, despite an exemplary record of functioning within COVID protocols in 2020, while a resumption scheduled for Apr. 17 had then been thwarted by government orders that permitted training but not racing. The ensuing limbo became an excruciating new test for the demoralised backside community and its patrons. Cont. p4

Josie Carroll with Mighty Heart | Michael Burns

"You know, I have such a great appreciation for our owners," says Carroll. "They stuck it out. They had the opportunity to race elsewhere, every other major track was open, but they left their horses here to race. We're all very appreciative, and it makes me so happy to see them coming back to the races, and back to the backside. Some of them haven't even seen their horses for a year and a half, yet they've been hanging in there."

As Carroll acknowledges, that can represent the entire span of a horse's evolution into a measurable talent. There will certainly have been many a Woodbine project that has run its course in the meantime. And the excitement for many owners, as such, will often be the journey sooner than the destination.

Mighty Heart's Queen's Plate | Michael Burns

"For the majority of owners, half the fun is in the participation," Carroll confirms. "That's what makes the relationship between the people and the horses."

But it's a parallel relationship that has been under no less painful strain: the one connecting the morning toil of backstretch workers with the fulfilment available in the afternoons.

"It's been very hard for them, to keep their spirits up," Carroll says. "Because the fun part, when you have put all that work into your horse, is going over there and seeing them run a big race. That's when you see the excitement on all your people's faces. So just to sit for months and months, without getting the opportunity to run, was very tough on them. And we all know that your basic pay rate, for backside help, is not that strong. They supplement their income with their percentages, from the horses' earnings, so it's a dent in their income too."

Fortunately, times of trial will draw the best out in people, too, and fortify a sense of community.

"I tell you, everybody in this industry has been great," Carroll says. "I think we were all shocked when we got shut down at the end of November. Everybody had done such a great job, I think we had two cases out of the thousands of people back here. The same people that were working with these horses in the mornings were also handling them in the afternoons, so it didn't really make a lot of sense. It just felt like we got grouped with a whole lot of other sports and activities, without being looked at individually.

"Since then, everybody has worked so hard together. To get everyone on the backside vaccinated, for instance, so that when we presented to the government we could show them that the majority of people had had their shots. Woodbine did pop-up clinics, for people who live here and don't have a lot of access to transport, so that when Ontario began to open it would have been very hard to deny us, when we could show such a rate of coverage."

For trainers, of course, the uncertainty created a particular challenge: how do you train up to a target, if the target keeps moving? After all, judging that fever pitch for race day is perhaps the key to their whole profession. But Carroll showed just why she was inducted into the Canadian Hall of Fame in 2019 when priming Boardroom (Commissioner) to win the first graded stakes of the Woodbine calendar, the GIII Whimsical S., after a seven-month absence.

"It's been a very challenging year for all the Woodbine trainers," she says. "Every other jurisdiction was open. We were aiming for an April start, and getting horses ready for that. But it's very difficult when you haven't got an exact date, and things keep moving, and you're trying to keep horses ready to peak: you don't want to go over the top but you don't want to back off them too much, either."

Mighty Heart himself was always going to have to regroup, regardless, having disappointed behind barnmate Belichick (Lemon Drop Kid) in the final leg of the Triple Crown before running fourth in the GIII Ontario Derby. Belichick, second that day, will again be in opposition Thursday after an excellent comeback run of his own when beaten a nose in a Churchill allowance.

Michael Burns

"Mighty Heart is not a big horse but he's well put together, very athletic-looking, and he's definitely rounded out into a much more mature shape than he had last year," Carroll reports. "Mentally, he's always been pretty uncomplicated--for a one-eyed horse! He's got a few little quirks, but if you can deal with those, he will just soldier on.

"I had always intended one start before we got up here, and initially we were going to do that at Gulfstream. But a race didn't come up when he was ready, so we had our one start at Keeneland. The intention then was to come home but when things got delayed, and he was doing so well down there, I just said that now is not the time to backtrack.

"Belichick I sent back down to Kentucky when racing didn't reopen, and he ran a nice race. We're looking at the Niagara S. on the grass [July 25] but he's been 50 days without a run, he needs a race and he's good enough to run in this one."

NTRA REPORT FROM CAPITOL HILL

Even at 25% of capacity, the return of fans on such a resonant occasion will represent another psychological breakthrough as Woodbine horsefolk seek to put a nightmare year behind them.

"We've gotten so used to it being quiet over there!" Carroll says. "But yes, the energy of the fans is part of what makes any sport."

It feels only fitting, then, for this particular race, on this particular day, to be dignified by the participation--besides three runners trained by another great ambassador for Woodbine, Mark Casse, who this summer receives his postponed induction to the Hall of Fame in Saratoga--of a horse who so captured the hearts of the Canadian horseracing public. Nobody could have predicted what lay ahead after Mighty Heart lost his left eye in a paddock accident when just two weeks old. Carrying the silks of breeder Larry Cordes, he won the Queen's Plate by 7 1/2 lengths in the second-fastest time since the race arrived at the new Woodbine racetrack--the opening of which in 1956 was, of course, one of the many benedictions to the Canadian sport owed to the drive of E.P. Taylor--before following up in the Prince of Wales S. on dirt at Fort Erie.

With so many skilled Canadian horsemen doing their utmost to build on Taylor's legacy, they could have no better model for the underdog spirit than Mighty Heart.

"Our breeding numbers are down, but if you look at racing in North America, for the foal crop we have, a lot of very good horses come out of Canada," Carroll says. "I just hope things pick up and our industry starts to grow, because we breed such nice horses here. I think that's what made me really proud, going down there with Mighty Heart as our Horse of the Year. He showed he could really do it on the North American stage, and I just hope that helped showcase Canadian racing, and the quality of the breeders we have."

Using a “friend of the court” brief, which is a legal document filed by an entity not named in a suit but interested in influencing the outcome of the case in alignment with one of the parties (in this case, defendant NYRA), Susan Phillips Read, an attorney for TJC, wrote that the court should deny Baffert’s motion to prevent his exclusion from those tracks because Baffert “has not demonstrated the irreparable injury necessary to support [the] issuance of a preliminary injunction.”

Separately on Wednesday, attorneys for NYRA filed a 238-page memorandum in opposition to that same injunction based on three assertions: “First, Plaintiff fails to demonstrate that he will suffer irreparable injury in the absence of emergency relief…. Second, Plaintiff fails to establish that he is likely to succeed on the merits of his claims….Third, the public interest and balance of equities weigh clearly in favor of NYRA.”

Baffert was told May 17 that he was not welcome to stable or race at NYRA’s three tracks in the wake of his disclosure that Medina Spirit (Protonico) had tested positive for betamethasone after winning the GI Kentucky Derby. That revelation by Baffert was later confirmed by split-sample testing at two different labs approved by the Kentucky Horse Racing Commission, but no ruling has yet been issued over those findings.

On June 14, Baffert filed a civil complaint against NYRA, alleging that the association’s ban violates his Fourteenth Amendment constitutional right to due process. A hearing is scheduled July 12 in United States District Court (Eastern District of New York).

Bob Baffert | Benoit

“The source of damage to Mr. Baffert’s reputation is not the NYRA temporary suspension,” Read wrote in the June 30 brief. “Rather, the cause is a record of repeated drug testing failures, including most recently after American racing’s most famous and highly visible race, the Kentucky Derby.”

The filing continued: "This is a high-profile dispute, involving, as it does, whether Mr. Baffert, a well-known figure whom many of the public identify with Thoroughbred racing, is entitled to immediate access to two of the sport's most iconic venues, Saratoga and Belmont, despite repeated drug violations…

"Equine medication rules are intended to protect health and safety and to ensure a level playing field for racing and wagering. Whether through malfeasance, carelessness or a cavalier attitude toward the medication rules, horses in Mr. Baffert's custody and care have proved to be significantly embroiled in medication violations. He alone bears responsibility for this state of affairs."

The betamethasone finding in the 2021 Derby was the fifth positive drug test in a Baffert trainee within the past year (two others were for lidocaine, one was for dextrorphan, and another also for betamethasone). It was the trainer's third during that time frame in a Grade I stakes, and it led to a June 2 banishment from the entire Churchill Downs corporate family of tracks for a period of two years.

Simultaneously, Baffert has been embroiled in a drawn-out court battle in California over whether to disqualify 2018 Triple Crown winner Justify (Scat Daddy) from that year's GI Santa Anita Derby because of a scopolamine finding.

And in 2013, after seven sudden horse deaths in Baffert's Hollywood Park barn, a California Horse Racing Board (CHRB) investigation concluded that although "the blanket prescribing of thyroxine to all horses in Baffert's barn does appear unusual" the fatalities remained "unexplained [and] there is no evidence whatsoever CHRB rules or regulations have been violated or any illicit activity played a part."

Read wrote in the brief that TJC's interest in this case "is broader than any particular personality or racetrack. From TJC's perspective, in order to protect the health and safety of the sport's participants and retain the public's confidence in the integrity of racing and wagering, racetrack governing officials should be entitled to suspend immediately a trainer or anyone else credibly responsible for the administration of medication resulting in a substance violation.

"These decisions will almost always have to be made swiftly to be meaningful. In this case, the data… belie Mr. Baffert's protestations that the NYRA temporary suspension will cause him to lose his business, as his livelihood does not depend on access to NYRA tracks.

"In the run-up to the [GI] Belmont S. NYRA acted in the best interests of New York racing to temporarily suspend Mr. Baffert from entering horses in races and occupying stall space at NYRA tracks. In TJC's view, NYRA had no choice under the circumstances, created entirely by Mr. Baffert, which undermined public confidence in the treatment and well-being of the sport's equine and human athletes…"

Baffert had alleged in his civil complaint that the current NYRA suspension will cause him to lose the "ability to pursue and practice in his chosen profession and livelihood" while damaging his reputation and causing a "mass exodus from his care of horses worth tens of millions of dollars as owners cannot allow themselves to be excluded from participation in the lucrative Belmont/Saratoga race meets."

Read countered that those allegations "are conclusory and speculative" and that Baffert's suit failed to provide a foundation of evidence to support those claims.

"Here again, Mr. Baffert provides no evidentiary support for his assertion that the NYRA temporary suspension has damaged his reputation," Read wrote. "Mr. Baffert does not say how many horses this might involve; he does not say that [an owner who moved out horses] attributed the transfer to the NYRA temporary suspension, as opposed, for example, to his record of substance violations or the two-year Churchill Downs suspension…

"Further, Mr. Baffert has typically entered very few horses in races held at Saratoga: during the past 10 years, his starts there have ranged from a low of one (2015) to a high of eight (2011 and 2020), with an annual average of five," the brief stated.

"To the extent that Mr. Baffert brings horses to NYRA tracks, he usually does so to race in graded stakes races…. [T]here are many alternative graded stakes races available to Mr. Baffert at racetracks in the United States other than those operated by NYRA…. [O]ver 95% of Mr. Baffert's starts annually for the past 10 years have been at non-NYRA tracks, and the lion's share of his horses' earnings in graded stakes races derive from his successes at those non-NYRA tracks," the brief stated.

W. Craig Robertson, an attorney representing Baffert in this case, did not reply to an emailed request for comment on Wednesday's filings by TJC and NYRA prior to deadline for this story.

BETMAKERS' DALLAS BAKER TALKS FIXED-ODDS WAGERING ON WRITERS' ROOM

Sorely needed in the American horse betting landscape, fixed-odds wagering--bets where the player is guaranteed the odds displayed at the time he or she bets a horse and isn't affected by late parimutuel odds drops--is set to debut in the States later this month at Monmouth Park via Australian bookmaking company BetMakers. Wednesday morning, BetMakers' head of international operations Dallas Baker joined the TDN Writers' Room presented by Keeneland to discuss the logistics of implementing a fixed-odds system to try to replicate its success in Australia, how confident he is that the technology will eventually be adopted nationwide, potential crossover with traditional sportsbooks and more.

Calling in via Zoom as the Green Group Guest of the Week, Baker explained how a horseplayer at Monmouth can place a fixed-odds bet, saying, “There will be separate tellers for tote bets and fixed-odds bets, but you just go up to the teller as you normally would with a tote bet and say, 'I want $20 to win on number one in race one' or whatever it is, and away you go. There will be displays all around the course with what the fixed-odds market is. When you're betting fixed odds, the price at that time is the price you get, which is very important to the customer, but you'll also get to see the most recent fluctuations of that horse, since it's a liquid market. So you'll get an idea about what the popularity or the unpopularity of that horse has been as well.”

One of BetMakers' ultimate goals is to have fixed-odds wagering be available and attractive for sports bettors, and Baker said carving out even a small slice of the exploding sports betting market in America would be a major boon to racing.

“We've seen this great boom of sports betting in the past three years since PASPA [the Professional and Amateur Sports Protection Act, which effectively banned sports betting outside of a few states] was repealed, and the team that repealed it has been part of our team,” he said. “If you look in New Jersey alone, at the moment we're seeing close to $1 billion a month that's being invested in sports betting. As a racing industry, if we can tap into that and be moderately successful, get 10% of that figure, that's another $100 million being invested into racing, which, with the right modeling, can then go back towards funding the sport. The key to getting the sports gambler is giving the bookmakers something to market and fixed-odds betting is something the bookmakers want to market. I've spoken to a lot of the betting firms and they say they actually want to spend the majority of their marketing budget in the next few years on horse racing. That opens up a whole new gambit of people and organizations with deep pockets who really want to aggressively market racing to acquire new clients.”

Elsewhere on the show, which is also sponsored by West Point Thoroughbreds, the Minnesota Racehorse Engagement Project and Legacy Bloodstock, the writers laid out what to watch for on a blockbuster holiday weekend of racing, analyzed the most recent story about Bob Baffert in the Washington Post and announced a special on-scene show for the Writers' Room's upcoming 100th episode. BODY & SOUL: ANOTHER FRESHMAN FUTURE BOOK

by Robert D. Fierro

Following the completion of the last major 2-year-old sale of the season in each of the past three years, we looked at the potential success of the freshman sires by creating a handicapping event, noting that the freshman sires of each year were very competitive bunches, i.e., many of them were capable of rising to the top five or so of their contemporaries after a few crops had raced.

With the aberration in sales dates last year caused by the COVID-19 situation behind us, this season's major sales proceeded as traditionally scheduled, from March through June. Now that the graduates of those sales are starting to race some observers might infer that we will prejudice our picks toward some stallions that have already had a few impressive winners.

To answer that: 1) Fewer than two dozen graduates of the sales sired by freshman have started thus far; 2): Our task is to lay odds on how the offspring of these sires are likely to compete over the long term, not to identify the Leading Freshman Sire--although both outcomes could be the case in some years. Cont. p9

Gun Runner | Sarah Andrew

We concentrated on freshmen of 2021 that had at least 10 of their offspring breeze at the major 2-year-old sales. While we look at pedigrees in context of commercial appeal, we utilize only video and biomechanical data to assist us in our prognostications. The video data details how their offspring compared as individuals to all the other 2-year-olds which breezed regardless of their sires. The components of this data are included in DataTrack's BreezeFigs™ service which is partially based on breeze time, stride length, and efficiency of angulation. Since 2006, this product has been utilized at sales by buyers and sellers, as well as being offered every day as a handicapping tool at Daily Racing Form's website.

We also took into consideration the results of stallion projection profiles which were compiled in 2018 when these horses went to stud. These profiles are based on biomechanical measurements and the probabilities of these stallions siring race-efficient foals from books of biomechanically balanced mares.

Arrogate | Asuncion Pineyrua

We also took into consideration the biomechanical profiles of their offspring taken at the 2021 2-year-old and the 2020 yearling sales.

As mentioned, we limited our interest to stallions for which we have biomechanical data which also had at least 10 offspring that breezed at the major sales--that came down to 17 that began their careers in Kentucky (one, Arrogate, has since died), plus one in New York. In addition, we separated each sire's offspring by sex and in the process discovered that while a few had solid data for both colts and fillies, several others were stronger for one sex. However, several, including some with huge crops represented, returned disappointing results for both sexes.

Fifteen of the Kentucky stallions were separated into three groups according to stud fees that were in effect when they retired to stud--ironically, there are five in each of those groups. Theoretically, they are competing against each other in "races" according to a hypothetical condition book. In addition, Arrogate was set apart because he left only one crop behind, and the other, Mohaymen, entered stud for $7,500 and was grouped with Union Jackson, who stands in New York.

Based on our dataset, which has more than a half-dozen components, what follows is our "Future Book" on how each of these stallions stack up as the best long-term prospects within their individual groups.

Group 1 (Stud Fee = $25,000 Plus, Kentucky)

- 8-to-5 Gun Runner (Candy Ride {Arg})
- 5-to-2 Lord Nelson (Pulpit)
- 5-to-2 Practical Joke (Into Mischief)
- 3-to-1 Mastery (Candy Ride {Arg})
- 6-to-1 Classic Empire (Pioneerof the Nile)

Comment: Gun Runner was a heck of a runner and despite that he had fewer 2-year-old representatives than any other in this group, this guy delivered all the promise his biomechanical profile suggested he possessed--and along with Mastery gives his sire a super shot of continuing on his path as a serious sire of sires. Indeed, this group is so close together on the datasets that it may take a couple of years before one or two of them can shake loose from the pack--or battle each other through their lifetimes. Practical Joke was a talking-sire at the sales and they are off and running fast. Lord Nelson popped up as a bit of a surprise and adds credence to the belief that his sire left us too soon (viz Tapit, California Chrome, and see American Freedom in Group 3 as well). Classic Empire has a strong chance of moving up as his crops mature.

Group 2 ($12,500 to $20,000, Kentucky)

- 8-to-5 Midnight Storm (Pioneerof the Nile)
- 5-to-1 Astern (Aus) (Medaglia d'Oro)
- 8-to-1 Connect (Curlin)
- 10-to-1 Cupid (Tapit)
- 15-to-1 Bal a Bali (Brz) (Put It Back)

Midnight Storm | Taylor Made Stallions/Amy Lanigan

Comment: Irony here is that Midnight Storm, whose dataset is strong across the board, has a shot at topping off this entire crop and along with Classic Empire solidify their sire as another who left us too soon. Astern (Aus) is another example of his sire's ability to get serious prospects in two hemispheres and his dataset is strong. Connect and Cupid will probably not be contending for Leading Freshman Sire honors but when they go farther, they could emerge sharply, Bal a Bali (Brz) is his sire's first shot at proving his exportation was a premature event, and he has the goods to send them out early.

Group 3 ($10,000, Kentucky)

- 3-to-1 American Freedom (Pulpit)
- 5-to-1 Gormley (Malibu Moon)
- 8-to-1 Unified (Candy Ride {Arg})
- 15-to-1 Keen Ice (Curlin)
- 15-to-1 Klimt (Quality Road)

Comment: American Freedom was consistent in sending out offspring that were consistently good performers on the track --watch out Lord Nelson! Gormley and Unified sent out huge numbers of breezers who look like they might get runners that can perform at any distance. Keen Ice and Klimt are likely to need to wait to see their kids score big time, but that could happen toward the end of the year.

Group 4 (Below $10,000, Kentucky & Regional)

- 5-to-2 Mohaymen (Tapit) (Kentucky)
- 5-to-2 Union Jackson (Union Rags) (New York)

American Freedom | Sarah Andrew

Comment: Everyone should keep in mind that Mohaymen was a terrific early juvenile, so his stud fee may look like a bargain soon. Union Jackson comes from a very clever outfit and more of them came out than is usually the case for a freshman not based in Florida, and they impressed.

And then there is Arrogate. Suffice it to say that if had more than one crop he'd be up there challenging Gun Runner for long-term honors. We would not be surprised if he battles for the lead at the end of this year, thus underscoring what might be a growing legacy for Unbridled's Song--his best siring sons were, as they said in other times, the last of the wine.

There you go, place your bets!

Officials worked secretly to clear Bob Baffert's Justify amid 2018 Triple Crown run, records show

In 2018, as star trainer Bob Baffert led his thoroughbred Justify to the Triple Crown, California regulators embarked on a secret effort to exonerate Baffert after the horse's positive test for a banned substance, according to confidential records obtained by The Washington Post that fully detail the saga for the first time. Gus Garcia-Roberts, *The Washington Post

RECORD STAKES SCHEDULE FOR KEENELAND FALL MEET

Keeneland, which is celebrating its 85th anniversary this year, will offer a record $6-million in stakes purses and expanded 22-race stakes schedule at its upcoming fall meet. The meet, which covers 17 days of racing from Oct. 8-30, will open with the signature Fall Stars Weekend, feature 10 Breeders' Cup "Win and You're In" races, offer two new $150,000 stakes for 2-year-olds and reposition several stakes to create a total of six race cards with multiple stakes.

"The Keeneland Fall Meet is incredibly important, and 85 years of racing at Keeneland is a testament to the uncommon vision of our founders, who tirelessly worked to create an entity that would take a leadership role in the global Thoroughbred industry and in the Central Kentucky community," Keeneland President and CEO Shannon Arvin said. "This summer, as we look forward to welcoming back fans and the superstars who will compete here, we feel the anticipation building for the Fall Meet and we look forward to celebrating the anniversary."

All existing stakes for the 2021 Fall Meet have been restored to 2019 purse levels except for the GIII Rood & Riddle Dowager S., which received a boost from $125,000 to $150,000, and the GI Keeneland Turf Mile and GII Bourbon S., which remain at 2020 levels of $750,000 and $200,000, respectively.

"After thoughtful review by our racing team and input from horsemen, we made adjustments to our fall stakes program that will further elevate the quality of racing throughout the meet," Keeneland Vice President of Racing Gatewood Bell said. "We feel the lucrative purse money and expanded racing opportunities, including two new stakes for 2-year-olds, now in place will broaden Keeneland's appeal to horsemen and fans alike."

During Fall Stars Weekend, nine stakes are included in the Breeders' Cup Challenge Series Presented by America's Best Racing. Each winner receives an automatic starting position and fees paid into a corresponding race of the Nov. 5-6 World Championships at Del Mar:

- $400,000 GI Darley Alcibiades (GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies) and $250,000 GII Stoll Keenon Ogden Phoenix (GI Sprint) Friday, Oct. 8;
- $750,000 GI Keeneland Turf Mile (GI FanDuel Mile), $500,000 GI Claiborne Breeders' Futurity (GI TVG Juvenile), $400,000 GI First Lady Presented by UK HealthCare (GI Maker's Mark F/M Turf) and $250,000 GII Thoroughbred Club of America (GI F/M Sprint) Saturday, Oct. 9; and
- $500,000 GI Juddmonte Spinster (GI Distaff), $200,000 GII Bourbon (GI Juvenile Turf) and $200,000 listed Indian Summer (GII Juvenile Turf Sprint) Sunday, Oct. 10.

The fifth stakes on Fall Stars Saturday, Oct. 9, is the $200,000 GII Woodford S. Presented by TVG.

On Wednesday, Oct. 13, Keeneland will present its 10th Breeders' Cup Challenge race, the $200,000 GII JPMorgan Chase Jessamine S. (GI Juvenile Fillies Turf).

The Fall Meet's sixth Grade I stakes is the $500,000 Queen Elizabeth II Challenge Cup Presented by Dixiana, an invitational turf race for 3-year-old fillies at 1 1/8 miles, to be run Saturday, Oct. 16.

For the season, Keeneland has shifted the dates of several stakes. The first is the $150,000 GIII Sycamore S., a 1 1/2-mile turf event for 3-year-olds and up, which has been moved from Thursday to Friday, Oct. 22. Cont. p12

To enhance the final days of the Fall Meet, Keeneland has introduced two new $150,000 juvenile stakes, the Myrtlewood S. and Bowman Mill S.; revived the Perryville S. and Bryan Station S., both fixtures for 3-year-olds, and scheduled the GIII Valley View S. and GII Hagyard Fayette S. to create multiple stakes cards:

Joining the $250,000 GII Lexus Raven Run S. Saturday, Oct 23 is the $150,000 Perryville, a seven-furlong race for 3-year-olds.

The $150,000 Valley View S.will be run Friday, Oct. 29 alongside the new $150,000 Myrtlewood for 2-year-old fillies at 6 furlongs.

The $200,000 Hagyard Fayette, for 3-year-olds and up at 1 1/8 miles, resumes its traditional role as the Fall Meet's closing-day feature. Joining the Hagyard Fayette Saturday, Oct. 30 are the $150,000 Bryan Station for 3-year-olds at one mile on the turf and the new $150,000 Bowman Mill for 2-year-olds at six furlongs.

LOS AL DERBY WON'T BE RUN SATURDAY, WILL BE BROUGHT BACK SUNDAY AS EXTRA

The GIII Los Alamitos Derby will not be run as originally scheduled Saturday, July 3, Los Alamitos announced Wednesday. The race for 3-year-olds at 1 1/8 miles will be brought back as an extra for Sunday, July 4 in hopes of drawing more entrants. Sunday is the penultimate day of Los Alamitos's Summer Thoroughbred Festival.

Entries for the July 4 program will be taken Thursday, July 1.

SARATOGA GENERAL ADMISSION TICKETS ON SALE JULY 1

Single-day general admission tickets for the 2021 Saratoga race meet will go on sale July 1 at 10 a.m. through ticketmaster.com. General admission tickets may also be purchased on the day of the event at all track admission gates. Single-day grandstand admission is $7 and Clubhouse admission is $10.

General admission tickets for the Aug. 28 GI Runhappy Travers S. are $15 when purchased in advance. Tickets may also be purchased at the gates on the day of the event for $20, pending availability. A limited number of Clubhouse admission tickets are available for $25.

"There is no change to our general admission policy for the 2021 summer meet," said New York Racing Association's Senior Director of Communications Pat McKenna. "Fans can purchase their general admission tickets in advance or at the gates. We do, however, encourage fans to plan ahead and purchase their Runhappy Travers tickets in advance to save $5 and guarantee admission to the signature day of the summer meet."

MYFAVORITEDAUGHTER (f, 2, Carpe Diem--Momma's Favorite, by Sky Mesa) completed the trifecta in her main track unveiling here May 13 and was fourth next out going five panels on the local lawn June 3. She was hammered down to 4-5 favoritism in this sloppy off-the-turf affair, which was scratched down to four horses. Breaking on top, the dark bay clicked off opening splits of :23.40 and :47.12. Well clear entering the lane, she cruised home to win by a whopping 25 lengths. Kelsey's Shot (Astern {Aus}) was best of the rest in second. GOFFS ORBY SALE MOVES TO PARK PADDOCKS

Goffs Group Chief Executive Henry Beeby | Goffs

The Goffs Orby Sale will for the second straight year be staged away from its traditional home in Co. Kildare, this year taking place at Tattersalls's Park Paddocks in Newmarket as the result of an agreement between the two sales companies. Originally slated for Sept. 28 and 29, the sale will now be held across two evening sessions on Sept. 24 and 25 after racing at Newmarket and with a daytime session on Sept. 26. The sale will, therefore, be held in conjunction with the Cambridgeshire meeting that features the G1 Cheveley Park S. and G1 Middle Park S.

The Goffs Sportsman's Sale, which traditionally follows on from the Orby Sale, will remain in Ireland and be held in conjunction with the Goffs Autumn Yearling and HIT Sale on Nov. 1 and 2.

The Goffs changes were announced after the Irish government announced it will scrap plans to resume indoor hospitality from July 5 amid concerns about the Delta Covid-19 variant. Ireland's travel and quarantine rules remain among the strictest on the continent. Last week, a UK buyers' bubble established by Tattersalls Ireland that facilitated around 100 UK residents to travel to Ireland for the Derby sale was quashed by the government on the morning of the sale. Referring to that episode, Goffs Group Chief Executive Henry Beeby said, "Last week's events mean that there is currently no confidence in our ability to hold the prestigious Orby Sale in Ireland whilst the current travel restrictions into Ireland remain in place." Cont. p2

TATTERSALLS IRELAND SEPTEMBER YEARLING SALE TO NEWMARKET

The Tattersalls Ireland September Yearling Sale will for the second consecutive year be moved from its base at Fairyhouse to Tattersalls's headquarters at Park Paddocks in Newmarket due to ongoing concerns surrounding the coronavirus pandemic in Ireland, specifically whether international buyers will be able to attend without undergoing lengthy quarantines. The three-day sale will now take place a week earlier than originally scheduled, with Part I on Sept. 14 and 15 and Part II on Sept. 16.

Tattersalls Ireland Chief Executive Officer Simon Kerins said, "The decision to relocate to Newmarket has not been taken lightly, especially having had to relocate the September Yearling Sale in 2020 but, given the disruption we experienced at the Derby Sale, it is now clear to us that we cannot rely on a 'bubble' which would allow overseas buyers to visit Ireland without onerous quarantine requirements." Cont. p2

EUROPEAN NEWS

Beeby continued, "The overseas buyers 'bubble' that worked so well for the Goffs Land Rover Sale was being replicated at the Derby Sale but was inexplicably withdrawn at the eleventh hour and there is simply no way that vendors, or Goffs, can take the risk that the same thing could happen on the eve of the Orby Sale as there is too much at stake.

"In 2020 we took a later decision to move Orby to our UK sales complex in Doncaster but it is well known that the results were disappointing to say the least and potential Orby vendors have made it clear that is not an option that would be embraced. Therefore we feel it is in the best interests of Irish vendors selling in Orby to clearly state that the sale will be held in Newmarket in conjunction with some top class racing, as we cannot confidently deliver overseas buyers to Kildare, making it impossible for us to properly promote our world-class catalogue to an international audience.

"In many ways this is a disappointing move to have to make but we feel we have been left with no choice by recent events, as yearling vendors need certainty given the value of the yearlings we are asking them to commit to Orby. Our fervent hope and belief is that we will back in Kildare Paddocks for Orby 22 as the Irish National Yearling Sale belongs in Ireland.

"At this point I would like to thank Edmond Mahony and his Tattersalls' colleagues for giving us the option to essentially rent Park Paddocks and accommodate what is a competitor sale. The last 18 months have required all of us to work together in ways we could never have imagined and, whilst there has been plenty of mutually beneficial cooperation and give and take, this is a step further than anything else. We do not underestimate the magnitude of this generous gesture."

Kerins continued, "The September Yearling Sale traditionally attracts large numbers of overseas visitors and at present Britain, while also being the main source of our buyers, is considerably more accessible than Ireland.

"We are hopeful that this will be the last change to our 2021 sales calendar and have taken the decision at this early stage to provide clarity to our loyal vendors prior to entries closing next week. We are confident that relocating the sale to Park Paddocks will again allow Tattersalls Ireland to achieve our constant objective of providing a vibrant market by attracting the widest and most diverse group of buyers that we possibly can. The relocated 2020 Tattersalls Ireland September Yearling Sale returned record breaking figures with a top lot of £325,000 and more horses selling for £150,000 or more than ever before. Vendors have already been supporting the sale this year with their better quality stock and we look forward to another successful renewal of the Tattersalls Ireland September Yearling Sale at Park Paddocks in Newmarket."

ADDEYBB TO STAY IN ECLIPSE

Addeybb | Bronwen Healy

Despite his reputation as a soft-ground specialist, Addeybb (GB) (Pivotal {GB}) will run in Saturday's G1 Eclipse S. at Sandown whatever the underfoot conditions, trainer William Haggas said. A triple Group 1 winner last year, Addeybb has not been seen since returning this spring from his latest stint in Australia, where he defended his title in the G1 Queen Elizabeth S. and finished second in the G1 Ranvet S., both times over ground drier than his preference. Addeybb romped in last year's G1 Champion S. over the heavy Ascot going.

"He's fine and he's ready to race. We've had this in mind since he got back from Australia so we're pleased to be there," Haggas told Sky Sports Racing. "I'd be pretty loath to take him out because he needs to race. You can't keep practising on the [Newmarket] Heath and in the nets and not get out in the middle. He needs a run."

The Eclipse has come under some criticism this week for its small field size, but Haggas said he think it will be an intriguing clash of the generations.

"Here you've got a really top-class speedier 3-year-old [St Mark's Basilica] who's won two Classics and won the Dewhurst last year, so he's obviously a very good horse. You've got Mishriff, who won a French Derby and really excelled in Saudi Arabia and Dubai, and then our fella who keeps battling away and bashing away. He's as reliable a yardstick as you can get. If the ground came up soft, heavy in places, our chance would increase and maybe St Mark's Basilicia's wouldn't, so who knows what's going to happen."

Haggas also provided an update on Shadwell's G3 Hampton Court S. winner Mohaafeth (GB) (Frankel {GB}), who goes next to the G2 York S. on July 24. Mohaafeth will be ridden by Dane O'Neill, with first-call stable jockey Jim Crowley required at Ascot for Al Aasy (Ire) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) in the G1 King George VI and Queen Elizabeth S.

"We knocked the Eclipse on the head last weekend and he's going to go for the Sky Bet race at York on July 24, which is unfortunate for Jim, but good for Dane, because that's the same day as the King George," Haggas said. "The horse that won the King Edward [Alenquer] is hopefully going for the [G1] Grand Prix de Paris on July 14, so we've got a busy few weeks coming up."

The G1 Coronation S. runner-up Al Aasy has the option to warm up for the King George in next week's G2 Princess of Wales's S., but his trainer said it is likely he will head straight to Ascot.

"The King George is very much the plan. Whether he goes for the Princess of Wales's S., I'm not sure--I doubt it," Haggas said. "He'll probably go straight for the King George. He worked beautifully again yesterday and is on target to go where we want him. We just have to decide whether going to Newmarket might take the edge off him for Ascot, which wouldn't be sensible. My gut feeling is he'll probably go straight to Ascot."

WOKINGHAM HERO ROHAAN SUPPLEMENTED TO JULY CUP

Rohaan winning Royal Ascot's Wokingham S. | Megan Ridgwell

Rohaan (Ire) (Mayson {GB}), winner of the Wokingham S. at Royal Ascot June 19, will be supplemented to the July 10 G1 Darley July Cup at Newmarket. The 3-year-old was precluded from running in the G1 Commonwealth Cup during the Royal meeting since the event precludes geldings from competing. In the Wokingham, the Irish-bred closed from last to defeat 20 rivals.

"He was unbelievable in the Wokingham with top-weight [9st 8lb], said trainer David Evans. "Rohaan is fine, he's very well. The plan is to supplement for the July Cup, especially if they get a bit of rain, which they might."

He added, "There's still more to come from him, I think. He's the horse of a lifetime, I'm lucky to have him."

Prior to his Wokingham victory, Rohaan edged out Dragon Symbol (GB) (Cable Bay {Ire})--first across the wire but demoted to second in his latest start in the Commonwealth--in the G2 Sandy Lane S. at Haydock May 22.

CREATIVE CAUSE COLT LEADS SUMMER SALE BREEZERS

Creative Cause colt, the top-priced breezer on Wednesday | Zuzanna Lupa

A 2-year-old colt by American-based sire Creative Cause is bound for the stable of trainer Simone Brogi after Nicolas de Watrigant of Mandore International Agency went to €100,000 to secure the colt on behalf of Middleham Park Racing and partners during the opening session of the Arqana Summer Sale on Wednesday. Lot 8, out of the winning Proud Citizen mare Fight With Pride, represented a good pinhook for Willie Browne of Mocklershill, having cost $12,000 at Keeneland September last year. The colt was bred by Brereton Jones and his son Bret Jones, who own Airdrie Stud in Kentucky and stand the sire and also stood the damsire. He was the top-priced lot of the early breeze-up portion of the session, where 70 youngsters were offered, with 48 sold (68.6%) for an aggregate of €721,500. The average for the 2-year-olds was €15,031, and the median €8,500.

"He's a lovely looking colt, the horse of the sale if you ask me," said de Watrigant. "He was meant to go to the breeze-up in May, but after a setback he came here. I've bought him for an association between Middleham Park Racing, Tim Palin, a client of Simone Brogi's, Thomas Bernereau and Pierre Pilarski, whose colours he will run in. He'll be trained by Simone Brogi."

Also among the leading juveniles offered on Wednesday was Knockanglass Stable's Night Of Thunder (Ire) colt out of Clowning (Distorted Humor) (lot 81i), who was bought by Jean-Pierre Deroubaix of F.B.A for €70,000, having been bought back for €48,800 from Arqana's breeze-up sale at Doncaster and having originally been a 75,000gns yearling. He was bought for Jurgen Sartori, who is making a return to racing having also bought Group 3 winner No Limit Credit (Ger), also by Night Of Thunder, for €480,000 at Arqana December last year. Lot 81i will go into training in Germany. Like the top-priced breezer, he comes from an American family; he is out of an unraced daughter of dual Grade I winner Flashing (A.P. Indy), who has produced the French listed winner and group placed Floodlight (Medaglia d'Oro).

Edging the Creative Cause colt for top lot of the sale was a gelded son of Zarak (Fr), a first-season sire who was a Group 1 winner on the flat but those headline-making son on Wednesday was catalogued as a 2-year-old store. That is because he is the first foal out of the listed-placed jumper Boreal Du Berlais, and from a quality family in that realm. Lot 214 was bought by Paul Basquin from Haras du Saubouas for €110,000. Two additional 2-year-old stores reached the six-figure mark: lot 234, a son of Authorized (Ire), and lot 192, a son of No Risk At All (Fr), each fetched €100,000.

The session was largely comprised of the breeze-up and store 2-year-olds, but also contained a small group of 3-year-old stores and horses in training. A total of 169 horses were sold on the day (73%) for €3,517,500, at an average of €20,814 and a median of €14,000.

KEATLEY TAKES TOP STABLE STAFF HONOUR

Valerie Keatley | Patrick McCann

Valerie Keatley, head girl for trainer Johnny Murtagh, was honoured with the Irish Racing Excellence Award at the 2021 Godolphin Stud and Stable Staff Awards on Wednesday. Keatley, who also won the Leadership Award (Stable), has been with Murtagh since shortly after he set up his training business and Murtagh credits her contribution as one of the reasons behind the yard's success.

Keatley said, "It was a huge honour to be nominated and be chosen as one of the finalists. To win the Leadership Stable Award and then win the Irish Racing Excellence Award is just unbelievable--I am over the moon, especially when I was nominated with all the other brilliant finalists and winners this year."

The other award winners are Helen O'Sullivan, career coach with the Irish Jockeys Trust who received the Racing and Breeding Support Services Award; Anne O'Connor, racing secretary to Michael Halford who earned the Administration Award; Ringfort Stud's Keith Lynam, who took the Newcomer Award; Henry de Bromhead's Emmett Raher, winner of the Horse Care Award; Dermot Weld stable lad David Glennon, who took the In The Saddle Award; Caroline Hannon, manager of Newtown Stud who received the Leadership Award (Stud); Ger Brabston, Derrinstown Stud's horsebox driver who earned the Dedication To Racing and Breeding Award; and Jennifer Pugh, the Irish Horseracing Regulatory Board's senior medical offer who earned a Special Recognition Award. Tramore Racecourse took the Racecourse Award.

The 11 award categories carry over €85,000 in prizemoney which is divided among the winners, finalists, and their employers. The Newcomer Award winner also receives a trip to Dubai.

In addition, the winner in each category receives a specially commissioned trophy by sculptor Ani Mollereau.

Joe Osborne, managing director of Godolphin Ireland, said, "On behalf of Godolphin and our fellow sponsors I congratulate the winners announced today. It is an inspiring array of talent, dedication and enthusiasm--talents which have helped us all navigate our sector through a difficult time. Valerie Keatley deserves particular mention as winner of the Irish Racing Excellence Award. She is a great role model for everyone in our industry and we are delighted that her leadership skills have been credited with that prestigious award by the judging committee."

BOLGER NOT EXPECTED TO ATTEND HEARING

Jim Bolger is not expected to attend the parliamentary hearing he was invited to to discuss doping in Irish racing. Bolger made headlines last autumn and again this spring when describing the use of performance-enhancing substances as the "number-one problem" in Irish racing and saying "there will be a Lance Armstrong in Irish racing."

Bolger was invited to the agriculture committee hearing alongside representatives of the Irish Horseracing Regulatory Board, Horse Racing Ireland, the Department of Agriculture and the Irish Racehorse Trainers Association, but Racing Post reports that a government source has confirmed that, after seeking legal advice, Bolger will not attend the meeting.

INJURED CAMERAMEN EXPECTED TO MAKE FULL RECOVERY

A pair of RaceTech camera operators who were injured after falling from an elevated platform at Hamilton Tuesday are expected to make a full recovery. According a Scottish Fire and Rescue Service spokeswoman, the pair had fallen on to the roof of a vehicle at the track prior to the day's first race. After a lengthy delay while emergency services attended to the two men, the fixture was eventually called off.

RaceTech tweeted: "We are pleased to report our two injured camera operators are receiving hospital treatment and early indications are that both are expected to make a full recovery. We will continue to update, thank you for all the good wishes."

An investigation into the incident is under way.

SAFRA (f, 2, War Front--Tell Me Now {Ire}, by Galileo {Ire}), who was sporting a visor for the first time after finishing fifth on debut over six furlongs here June 2, gave instant feedback to that measure by breaking alertly and racing freely behind the other 5-2 joint-second favourite Before Dawn (Ire) (Dark Angel {Ire}). Chasing down that long-time leader inside the final two furlongs, the bay needed every yard of the trip to get past and managed it in the shade of the post to prevail by a short head. The dam, who was sold for $410,000 to Walmac Farm at the 2019 Keeneland November Sale, is a daughter of Sing Softly (Hennessy) who took the Listed Loughbrown S. and was runner-up in the G3 Nell Gwyn S. Also connected to the G1 Yasuda Kinen and G1 February S. Hero Mozu Ascot (Frankel {GB}) and the GI Woodward S. and GI Cigar Mile H. winner To Honor and Serve (Bernardini), her yearling is a full-sister to the winner. CHIASMA (IRE) (f, 3, Galileo {Ire}--Kind {Ire} {MSW-Eng, GSP-Ire, $132,320}, by Danehill), the seventh foal out of the now-deceased broodmare supreme, was third on debut at Sandown Apr. 23 and a well-beaten second at Goodwood on soft ground May 22 and started as the 2-1 second favourite with Frankie Dettori making the trip for the ride. Breaking professionally before being settled in third, the bay full-sister to the legendary Frankel (GB) and the G1 Champion S.-winning Noble Mission (GB) moved to the 5-6 market-leader Sea Sylph (Ire) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) approaching the final furlong and soon drew away to score with authority by two lengths. Sacred Bridge is a full-sister to Grade I winner Viadera | racingfotos.com

Dropping back from six furlongs, the full sister to last year's GI Matriarch S. heroine Viadera (GB) pursued the early pace-setters Misty Ayr and Harmony Rose and after taking their measure passing the furlong pole asserted to score relatively comfortably. Amalfi Coast was well beaten when sustaining the catastrophic injury near the line. "We have obviously done very little with her and she actually put weight on since and was giving us all the signs she wanted to go back," Shane Lyons said. "She did that very genuinely and Colin [Keane] loves her temperament. She'll mix and match it between five and six. She has an exciting future. This filly is smaller than Viadera, but has the same temperament and oozes class." The aforementioned Viadera captured the Listed Cairn Rouge S. and was runner-up in the G3 Anglesey S. for this stable prior to shipping Stateside to win the Matriarch and the GIII Noble Damsel S. The dam also produced Crossed Baton (GB) (Dansili {GB}), who took the Listed Blue Riband Trial and Listed Churchill S. and was runner-up in the G2 Grand Prix de Maisons-Laffitte, G2 Prix Eugene Adam and G3 Hampton Court S. The listed-winning second dam Quandary (Blushing Groom {Fr}) was also responsible for the Listed Lingfield Oaks Trial winner Double Crossed (GB) (Caerleon) who is best known as the dam of the four-times Group 1-winning European champion Twice Over (GB) (Observatory). Quandary is also the second dam of the Group 1 heroines Passage of Time (GB) (Dansili {GB}) and Timepiece (GB) (Zamindar) related to the G1 Prix du Moulin de Longchamp winner All At Sea (Riverman). Sacred Shield's yearling colt is by Camacho (GB), while she also has a foal full-sister to the winner and Viadera.

Pressured by Howth (Ire) (Churchill {Ire}) in the straight, the 13-8 favourite found plenty to defy his penalty by 1 1/2 lengths. "I was back to the same tactics as Leopardstown and he's done very well as it's hard to give penalties away," jockey Kevin Manning said. "He enjoys that quick ground and I always felt he had the race in control. He is quick enough for six, but he gets that trip as well so he's versatile. His form is very solid and he hasn't done a great deal wrong." Allowed an inch of rein passing the quarter-mile marker, the 8-1 chance swooped for control soon after and kept on strongly, changing leads, inside the final furlong to comfortably hold the late rally of G2 Queen Mary S. eighth Orinoco River (War Front) by 3/4-of-a-length, becoming the fifth winner for her freshman sire (by Galileo {Ire}). "We've always liked her and she came on an awful lot from the first day," said winning rider Ben Coen. "She was good and straightforward, she jumped and travelled and quickened up well. She idled a bit when she got to the front, but she is nice. Her form was good and we liked her from day one so, hopefully, she can build on that again. I think she'll be better again when she steps [back] up to six [furlongs]." Don Chicco, a debut second going five furlongs in Rome on May 1, graduated by three lengths when upped a furlong and switched to the all-weather at the same course just eight days later, and earned a first black-type rosette here while giving his first-season sire El Kabeir (Scat Daddy) a first stakes winner.

El Kabeir | Yeomanstown Stud

Racing two lengths off the pace and on the outside without cover through the opening furlongs, Don Chicco moved to the fence rounding the turn. Switched to the middle of the course once again upon straightening, Don Chicco was put to a drive and, once passing his rivals, kicked clear to win by 2 1/4 lengths. El Kabeir, who stands at Yeomanstown Stud for €6,000, raced in the U.S. for Zayat Stables, winning the G3 Jerome S. and G3 Gotham S. over 1700 metres and finishing third in the GI Wood Memorial. Click for the SNAI chart and video.

AUSTRALIAN GROUP 1 BREAKDOWN

Frankel (GB) | Browen Healy

by Bren O'Brien

With the final Australian Group 1 race of the 2020/21 racing season having been run, TDN AusNZ breaks down the stats across the 74 Group 1 races to see who the most successful sires, trainers, jockeys and breeders were.

This racing season featured somewhat of a peculiarity in that while there were 74 Group 1 races, there were 75 Group 1 victors, because of a rare Group 1 dead heat in the Oakleigh Plate between Portland Sky (Deep Field) and Celebrity Queen (Redoute's Choice).

Those 75 Group 1 victories were split between 60 different horses, 37 separate trainers, 29 individual jockeys, 46 different sires and 51 different breeders.

Those stats are quite similar to the numbers from 2019/20, which we summarised around the same time last year.

The most successful sire, in terms of total Group 1 wins, was Grangewilliam Stud's Zed (NZ), with all five of his victories coming through the season's most prolific top-flight horse, the star mare Verry Elleegant (NZ), who looks a huge chance to be the first New Zealand-bred horse to be named Australian Racehorse of the Year since Sunline (NZ) (Desert Sun {GB}) in 2001/02.

Global phenomenon Frankel (GB) had four Australian Group 1 victories from his progeny, two from star filly Hungry Heart, and one each from Converge and Mirage Dancer (GB), while Waikato Stud's Ocean Park (NZ) had four top-flight wins, two each from Tofane (NZ) and Kolding (NZ).

The Australian-based sire to have four Group 1 wins was Written Tycoon, who heads to Yulong Stud in 2021 off his best-ever season which included dual Group 1 wins from Ole Kirk and elite victories from his daughters Pippie and Odeum.

In terms of the most individual Group 1 winners for the season, on three each are both Written Tycoon and Frankel, and joining them is Rosemont Stud's Shamus Award, whose breakout season included Group 1 wins from Mr Quickie, Duais and Media Award.

The Source

Of the 75 Group 1 victories in Australia in 2020/21, 45 of them were by horses bred in Australia, a ratio of 60 per cent. That is a slight drop from last season, when it was 63 per cent. Those 45 races were won by 38 individual horses.

It was a particularly fruitful year for New Zealand-bred horses, which had 17 wins, 24 per cent of the overall total and a jump from the 10 victories of 2019/20. Verry Elleegant's dominance helped this but it is also noteworthy that New Zealand-bred 3-year-olds won all four Group 1 Derbies in Australia, led by Explosive Jack (NZ) (Jakkalberry {Ire}), who won both the Australian and South Australian Derbies.

Bob Peters bred four Group 1 winners | TDNAusNZ

There was a season-on-season drop off in the number of Northern Hemisphere-bred victories in Australian Group 1 races, with five from Ireland, four from Great Britain, one from South Africa, one from Japan and one from the United States. That's a total of 12, down from 15 in 2019/20.

The most successful breeder in terms of Group 1 wins was Don Goodwin, the breeder of Verry Elleegant, while Godolphin and Bob Peters had four apiece.

Three of Godolphin's four winners were bred in Australia in Bivouac (Exceed And Excel), Anamoe (Street Boss {USA}) and Savatiano (Street Cry {Ire}), while the other, Cascadian (GB) (New Approach {Ire}) was bred in the UK, and raced in France for André Fabre before coming to Australia.

Peters' remarkable record only got stronger in 2020/21. He had four Group 1 wins as a breeder, two from Arcadia Queen (Pierro) and one apiece from Celebrity Queen and Truly Great (Dundeel {NZ}). Peters also had an additional Group 1 winner in his colours as an owner, in Inspirational Girl (NZ) (Reliable Man {GB}), who he purchased as a yearling.

Ole Kirk | Vinery Stud

Other notable breeders with multiple Group 1 winners for the season include Gilgai Farm, with Ole Kirk and Masked Crusader (Toronado {Ire}) and WA's Anita Vale Stud with Elite Street (Street Boss {USA}) and Portland Sky.

In terms of broodmare sires, Redoute's Choice and Danroad were tied on five Group 1 victories apiece. Danroad is the damsire of Verry Elleegant, while Redoute's Choice's influence continues to be felt with four individual Group 1 winners for the season as a broodmare sire with Arcadia Queen (two), Anamoe, Savatiano and Artorius (Flying Artie).

The former Vinery Stud shuttle stallion More Than Ready (USA) also had four individual Australian Group 1 winners from his mares this season in Celebrity Queen, Bivouac, Media Award and Forbidden Love (All Too Hard).

The Cost of a Group 1 Winner

In terms of their yearling prices, the most expensive Group 1 winner for the season was Ole Kirk, who cost $675,000 at the 2019 Inglis Melbourne Premier Yearling Sale.

The G1 VRC Oaks winner Personal (Fastnet Rock) cost $640,000 at the 2019 Inglis Australian Easter Yearling Sale, while G1 Champagne S. winner Captivant (Capitalist) was a $550,000 yearling purchase at the 2020 Magic Millions Gold Coast Yearling Sale.

At the other end of the spectrum were a trio of Group 1 winners which cost less than $10,000 as yearlings.

The G1 Australasian Oaks winner Media Award was a $5000 buy at the Inglis Melbourne Gold Sale in 2019, while dual Group 1 winner Behemoth (All Too Hard) cost $6000 from the Magic Millions National Yearling Sale in 2017. The G1 Goodwood H. winner Savatoxl (Kuroshio) was initially purchased for $8000 at the Inglis Melbourne Gold Sale, before then being sold for $18,000 at the Red Centre Sale later in his yearling season.

All in all, 31 of the 60 Group 1 winners, or just over 50 per cent, were sold at a yearling sale in either Australia or New Zealand. The average price of those horses as yearlings was $194,645, at a median of $130,000.

Star Graduates

Ten of those 31 Group 1 winners were sold through the Magic Millions Gold Coast Yearling Sale, while seven were purchased through the New Zealand Bloodstock National Yearling Sale at Karaka. Four were purchased from the Inglis Melbourne Premier Yearling Sale (Nature Strip (Nicconi) was offered but passed in through that Sale), while three were sold through the Inglis Australian Easter Yearling Sale and the Inglis Melbourne Gold Sale.

"In terms of the most successful vendors from Australasian yearling sales, Waikato Stud had three sales graduates win Group 1 races in Australia this season."

In terms of the most successful vendors from Australasian yearling sales, Waikato Stud had three sales graduates win Group 1 races in Australia this season, Probabeel (NZ) (Savabeel), Mo'unga (NZ) (Savabeel) and Kukeracha (NZ) (Night Of Thunder {Ire}). Gilgai Farm, Newhaven Park, Riversdale and Rosemont Stud had two Group 1-winning graduates apiece.

Also noteworthy as a vendor is Tyreel Stud, who sold dual Group 1 winner Montefilia (Kermadec {NZ}) as a weanling and a yearling, but also sold Behemoth as a weanling. They were two of the four Group 1 winners who were sold as weanlings in Australia, both of them coming through the Inglis Great Southern Sale while Krone (Eurozone) and Stay Inside (Extreme Choice) came through the Magic Millions National Weanling Sale.

Waller to the Fore Again

Trainer Chris Waller's incredible run of success continues with his 15 Group 1 wins in total, which was the equal second best seasonal tally of his illustrious career. Those 15 wins came from eight individual horses with four of them, Verry Elleegant, Hungry Heart, Kolding and Nature Strip winning multiple Group 1 races.

Perth-based Grant and Alana Williams had five Group 1 wins across four Group 1 winners, who were all owned by Bob Peters, while Ciaron Maher and David Eustace as well as James Cummings had four Group 1 victories for the season.

The season was also notable for trainers getting their first Group 1 wins, with Paul Preusker, Annabel Neasham, Kerry Parker, Edward Cummings, Denis Pagan and Chris Calthorpe all joining that club along with partnerships Richard and Michael Freedman and Tom Dabernig and Ben Hayes.

James McDonald led the way in terms of jockey successes with eight Group 1 victories for the season, three more than he achieved last campaign. Craig Williams had five, including the final two Group 1s of the season aboard Tofane.

Tommy Berry and William Pike each had five Group 1 wins, while a resurgent Glen Boss and an emerging Jamie Kah had four apiece along with experienced hands Luke Currie and Nash Rawiller.
