EBRO RIVER BEST IN THE PHOENIX

On the premises but off the board in a trio of Group 2s in his native Britain, Al Shaqab Racing’s Ebro River (Ire) (Galileo Gold {GB}) benefitted from a change in tactics to make virtually all in Sunday’s G1 Keeneland Phoenix S. at The Curragh.

In front before racing a furlong, the Hugo Palmer-trained 12-1 shot had the stand’s rail to help and gave generously for Shane Foley as TDN Rising Star Dr Zempf (GB) (Dark Angel {Ire}) joined battle approaching the furlong pole. As that rival and the G2 Railway S. first and second Go Bears Go (Ire) (Kodi Bear {Ire}) and Castle Star (Ire) (Starspangledbanner {Aus}) made it four across the track racing to the line, it was the British raider who gave most to see off Dr Zempf by 3/4 of a length with the 6-4 favourite Go Bears Go a head behind in third.

Foley, who was in Saratoga on Saturday and returned to home soil in the morning, said, “Hugo fancied the horse. He’s tough and genuine and I just said I wouldn’t mind changing tactics, as they had been dropping him in. It looked like there wasn’t much pace today and with that tailwind it’s hard to get them back.”

Impressive when the 3 1/4-length winner of the Listed National S. over five furlongs at Sandown May 27, Ebro River was a creditable fifth in the G2 Coventry S. at Royal Ascot June 15 before finishing fourth in the G2 July S. at Newmarket July 8.

SUN CHARIOT NEXT FOR SNOW LANTERN

Group 1 winner Snow Lantern (GB) (Frankel {GB}), who races as a homebred for Rockcliffe Stud, is targeting the Oct. 2 Kingdom of Bahrain Sun Chariot S. at Newmarket. The ‘TDN Rising Star’, was second to Alcohol Free (Ire) (No Nay Never) in the G1 Coronation S. at Royal Ascot in June before relegating that filly to third in the G1 Tattersalls Falmouth S. at Newmarket on July 9. In her latest outing, the grey was third to Alcohol Free in the G1 Qatar Sussex S. at Goodwood on July 28.

Jockey Sean Levey, who was aboard Snow Lantern for four of her six starts and is her regular rider, said, “I think she goes for the Sun Chariot, I think that’s why she ran in the Sussex as they wanted to stay at the mile for now. She ran a blinder in the Sussex on ground which I personally don’t think she likes.

“When she had good to firm at Newmarket, I think we all saw the true Snow Lantern there. She’s a very good filly with plenty of potential and I just feel as though she keeps improving as the year goes on and it’s exciting to know she’s going to be in training again next year.” Cont. p12

Again in that position in a slowly-run renewal of the G2 Richmond S. at Goodwood July 29, the chestnut enjoyed being allowed to bowl along and as his sire had done in the 2016 G1 2000 Guineas, got the rail and refused to relinquish.

“He jumped and probably travelled too strongly if anything—we went end-to-end but I had a willing partner,” Foley said. “He had a good run in the Coventry, but had been keen and awkward and doing things wrong. It was an ideal day to make it, as we had the draw and it’s all come together. I thought he’d be vulnerable, as he’d travelled so strongly in my hands for the first three and I thought they might swallow him but he dug in and I was comfortable in the last 100 yards. I think he’s a horse with a lot of talent and the softer the ground the better you’ll see of him. He felt like he would get seven furlongs no problem if he learns to relax. He was a lot better today and I felt that even if they went another half a furlong he’d still be in front.”

Pedigree Notes
Ebro River has a chance of emulating the last two years’ Phoenix winners Siskin (First Defence) and Lucky Vega (Ire) (Lope de Vega (Ire)) in getting a mile next year, but his dam Soft Power (Ire) (Balmont) has mainly sprinters in her immediate family. She is kin to Key Rose (Ire) (Key of Luck), who was third in the Listed Flame of Tara S. in its former guise as a six-furlong contest and is a full-sister to the dam of the G1 King’s Bishop S. hero The Big Beast (Yes It’s True) and the GI Hollywood Derby hero Slew the Dragon (Seattle Slew). Soft Power’s yearling filly is by Mehmas (Ire), while she also has a filly foal by Inns of Court (Ire).

MARIANAFoot KEEPES THE MAURICE DE GEHESTAT HOME

There were just three of the dozen to contest Sunday’s G1 LARC Prix Maurice de Gheest at Deauville trained in France, but despite extremely tough foreign opposition the home team managed a surprise one-two led by Marianafoot (Fr) (Footstepsinthesand {GB}).

Prolific at a lower level of late, Jean-Claude Seroul’s 6-year-old had captured the seven-furlong G3 Prix du Palais-Royal and G3 Prix de la Porte Maillot on ParisLongchamp’s turning track May 30 and July 1 but was equally at home over the straight course here with Mickael Barzalona burying his mount in the stand’s-side group early. G1 Prix Maurice de Gheest Cont.

Tacking on to the heels of the G1 July Cup hero Starman (GB) (Dutch Art (GB)) inside the final two furlongs, the 9-1 shot sliced his way through a gap to swamp that 9-5 joint-favourite passing the furlong pole. Readily asserting from there, the chestnut who was extending the amazing run of his owner-breeder and trainer Jerome Reynier in 2021 following the success of their Skalleti (Fr) (Kendargent {Fr}) had 1 3/4 lengths to spare over compatriot Tropbeau (GB) (Showcasing {GB}) at the finish. That 92-1 shot was the shock of the race as she denied Starman by a nose for the silver medal.

“We’ve been targeting this for a while and in all his races beforehand we had in mind that they were preps for this,” Reynier explained. “We know he stays seven easily and I think he’ll go a mile, so we had it in mind to make the running and turn it into a stamina test if need be. It was just a matter of getting an opening and he settled it within a matter of strides.”

With France winless in the six preceding domestic Group 1 races, Marianafoot looked to have a tall order to stop that trend especially with such a potent international threat including the title holders of the July Cup, G1 Prix Jean Prat, G1 Commonwealth Cup, G1 QIPCO British Champions Sprint S. and G1 Vincent O’Brien National S. Even allowing for his relentless progress since December, where he began his winning sequence in a conditions event over this trip on this venue’s Polytrack, the idea of him upstaging such a stellar cast was in part fanciful and few would have predicted that the finish would involve a duo who were yet to figure at this level. Tried over a straight track on his fourth start this year in Chantilly’s Listed Prix Servanne over six furlongs Apr. 26, he proved that held no fears before twice inflicting defeats on Duhail (Ire) (Lope de Vega {Ire}) at ParisLongchamp. G1 Prix Maurice de Gheest Cont.

After that rival had run such a fine race to be on the premises in the G1 Sussex S. last week, the portents were strong that he would at least be there at the business end and he was drawn favourably low which would aid his cause.

With the other 9-5 joint market-leader Campanelle (IRE) (Kodiac (GB)) proving difficult behind the stalls and fly-leaping and nearly unshipping Frankie Dettori exiting the stalls, she could almost be ruled out of contention even before she took too hard a grip racing far side. In a fascinating tactical affair, Maxime Guyon opted to pursue the Stonestreet sensation on Thunder Moon (IRE) (Zoffany {Ire}) as they raced in isolation with Hollie Doyle adopting her usual front-running ploy on Glen Shiel (GB) (Pivotal {GB}) up the centre and it may be no coincidence that this trio eventually filled the last three places. Following Glen Shiel was the G2 Lennox S. winner Kinross (GB) (Kingman {GB}) and Tropbeau, while stand’s side the third of the French runners Ocean (Fr) (Exosphere {Aus}) led the Jean Prat hero Laws of Indices (IRE) (Power {GB}) and Starman with the winner tucked in behind. Starman had forged ahead with 300 metres remaining, but Marianafoot was really picking up in his shadow and as that rival found extra the July Cup winner faded close home to lose second to Tropbeau who emerges with great credit.

“When I ran him over six furlongs at Chantilly, I considered it a test over a straight course and although the owner wasn’t too keen to run I told him we needed to teach him something,” Reynier said. “That proved to be the right move, as since then he has been perfect. He is now a Group 1 winner and a stallion prospect. We’ll keep him in Deauville and keep him fresh to see if we go for the [G1 Prix Jacques le] Marois next week. I know Palace Pier is coming and he’ll be a tough nut to crack, but if he’s doing well we might well take our chance.” Cont. p5

He added, “Later, the obvious target is the [Oct. 3 G1 Prix de la] Foret [at ParisLongchamp] if the ground hasn’t turned too soft by then. If we are lucky, we might finish in the Breeders’ Cup Mile.”

Stephane Pasquier said of Tropbeau, “The filly showed very good acceleration to pip Starman and take second. It’s all very satisfying.”

Starman’s owner David Ward commented, “Starman was beaten by the ground. We will have to travel outside Europe at some point to find ground that suits him. He still ran well, despite the conditions not being to his liking. The jockey confirmed our impression. On good ground, he’s a different horse.”

Pedigree Notes

Marianafoot’s dam Marianabaa (Fr) (Anabaa) is also responsible for the stable’s 4-year-old Padron (Ire) (Gris de Gris (Ire)), who captured this year’s Listed Prix Altipan and was third in the G3 Dusseldorfer Frühjahrs-Meile. The second dam is the Listed Prix des Lilas scorer and G3 Prix Chloe runner-up Maria Gabriella (Ire) (Rock of Gibraltar (Ire)), who produced the listed scorer Mariafoot (Fr) from a mating with Marianafoot’s sire Footstepsinthesand. Maria Gabriella is kin to the Listed Prix Volterra winner and G3 Prix d’Aumale and G3 Prix Miesque runner-up Night of Light (Ire) (Sea the Stars (Ire)) and to last year’s G2 Dante S. runner-up Highest Ground (Ire) (Frankel {GB}). Marianabaa’s 3-year-old full-sister to Marianafoot named Marianansand (Fr) was fourth in the Listed Prix Aymeri de Mauleon this term, while she also has the unraced 2-year-old colt Mariananchic (Ire) (Authorized {Ire}).

ALPINISTA IN COMMAND IN BERLIN

Coping with easy ground well enough to record a workmanlike success in the G2 Lancashire Oaks at Haydock last time July 3, Alpinista (GB) (Frankel {GB}) relished the slicker surface available at a sun-baked Hoppegarten to continue her owner-breeder Kirsten Rausing’s annus mirabilis by garnering Sunday’s G1 Longines 131st Grosser Preis von Berlin.

Settled fourth early by Luke Morris as Godolphin’s G2 Dubai City of Gold scorer Walton Street (GB) (Cape Cross {Ire}) cut out the running, the 19-5 shot was launched in early straight to swamp her neighbour passing the 300-metre marker. Pulling clear on the run to the line, the grey had an authoritative 2 3/4-length margin to spare over last year’s winner and 9-5 favourite Torquator Tasso (Ger) (Adlerflug {Ger}) there, with Walton Street ending up third a length away.

“I was very pleased with her, she stays really, really well,” trainer Sir Mark Prescott said. “She wasn’t going particularly well early on, turning in she was perhaps going less well than anything but for two but she stuck on really well and I was enormously pleased with her.”

Alpinista was emulating the achievement of her second dam Albanova (GB) (Alzao) in registering a top-level victory in Germany and she has two more to annex to match the treble achieved by her predecessor in the 2004 G1 Deutschlandpreis, G1 Rheinland-Pokal and G1 Preis von Europa. She is certainly capable of that based on all known evidence since bursting onto the scene a year ago with a clear-cut success on firm going in Salisbury’s 10-furlong Listed Upavon Fillies’ S. a week prior to chasing home Love (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) when second in the G1 Yorkshire Oaks. Kept at this mile-and-a-half trip thereafter, she was a touch below-par when runner-up in the G3 Princess Royal S. at Newmarket on her 3-year-old finale in September and also when gaining a narrow verdict in the Listed Daisy Warwick Fillies’ S. at Goodwood on her return Apr. 30. Even in the Lancashire Oaks, where the soft ground was against her, she was unconvincing dealing with the 3-year-old Lady Hayes (Ire) (Kodiac {GB}) but this tour de force confirmed her effectiveness when conditions are right. Cont. p7

“Obviously Miss Rausing has a big say in it, but I think we have probably sort of earmarked the [G1] Preis Von Europa at Cologne on Sept. 26 and we’ll just see if something comes in between,” Prescott added. “She had Albanova with me a few years ago, Albanova won this and that race, so we might follow the same pattern because of course they are very closely related. It’s just interesting that she should follow in the hoofprints. She stays really well this filly, she would go a bit further if we had to.”

Kirsten Rausing commented, “In numerical terms, it’s my best season so far. That’s 23 winners in my own colours to date and that is the same as my best ever year, which was 2011, but obviously that was by the end of the season. Out of the 23 wins, we have eight black-type wins this year: a Group 1, two Group 2s, a Group 3 and four listeds. It’s fantastic, all my ships are coming in, it happens every 25 years or so.”

Of Alpinista, she added, “We always thought she was pretty good. She’s possibly improved from three to four, but the ability was always there from her 2-year-old days. I think she’s very typical of the family in that she is very brave. Her illustrious ancestress Albanova, her granddam, could do the same, and of course her own sister Alborada was particularly brave, only small, but very brave. Alpinista is longer—physically to look at she perhaps isn’t as beautiful as some of them, but I’m absolutely not in any way denigrating her!”

“The main job is done now. It’s a lot to ask of her to run in the Yorkshire Oaks again,” she concluded. “The journey to Berlin is long, it’s two days in either direction, so I wouldn’t mind letting her have a break, but she will tell us what she wants to do, I’m sure. She is not an easy mare to mate externally, being by Frankel, but of course I have just the right horse for her at home, Study of Man, but we won’t decide about that until she’s run her last race.” Cont. p8

Alpinista, who becomes Frankel’s 18th Group 1 winner, is the first foal out of Alwilda (GB) (Hernando {Fr}) who raced for these connections and gained her black-type success in this country in the Listed Silbernes Band over two mile and an extended three furlongs. She is one of four black-type winners out of the aforementioned Albanova including the G3 Dubai Duty Free Legacy Cup scorer Algometer (GB) (Archipenko) and the triple listed scorer All At Sea (GB) (Sea the Stars {Ire}). The listed-winning third dam Alouette (GB) (Darshaan {GB}), who is best known for producing Albanova’s full-sister Alborada (GB) who provided these connections with two renewals of the G1 Champion S., is kin to the G3 Doncaster Cup winner Alleluia (GB) Caerleon). She is the dam of the G1 Prix Royal-Oak heroine Allegretto (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) and the G2 Nassau S. winner Last Second (Ire) also by Alzao who in turn was responsible for the G1 Poule d’Essai des Poulians hero and sire Aussie Rules. Alwilda’s unraced 2-year-old filly by Kendargent (Fr) named Alpenblume (GB) is also in training with Prescott, while she is in foal to Iffraaj (GB).

GLYCON SHINES IN THE REUX

Going beyond a mile and a quarter for the first time on Sunday, Haras de Saint Pair’s Glycon (Fr) (Le Havre (Ire)) relished the 12 1/2-furlong trip of Deauville’s G3 OSAF Prix de Reux to add to his success in the G3 La Coupe de Maisons-Laffitte in September.

Last seen finishing sixth in the G3 La Coupe at ParisLongchamp June 13, the 13-1 shot raced under restraint with one behind early as Cristian Demuro looked to conserve energy for the extra stamina demand. Granted ample space as the field fanned out across the track at the top of the home straight, the homebred stayed down towards the rail and burst to the front a furlong out en route to an authoritative two-length defeat of the long-time leader Alter Adler (Ger) (Adlerflug (Ger)).

“I always thought a lot of him, but he’d been disappointing so far this year,” trainer Jean-Claude Rouget commented. “He was making his return and I was also uncertain that he’d stay, but there was not a suitable race over a mile and a quarter so I decided to give it a try. I’m happy he’s bounced back and now that he’s shown he stays I’d imagine the next step will be the [Aug. 29 G2] Grand Prix de Deauville.”

Pedigree Notes

Glycon is the third foal out of Glorious Sight (Ire) (Singspiel (Ire)), the Listed Prix Finlande winner who was placed in the G1 Poule d’Essai des Pouliches and G1 Prix de Diane and who sold for €1.7million at the 2011 Arqana Arc Sale. Her dam Zelding (Ire) (Warning (GB)) captured the G3 Prix du Bois before producing the G2 Prix du Gros-Chene winner Beauty Is Truth (Ire) (Pivotal (GB)), who is in turn responsible for the G1 English and Irish 1000 Guineas heroine Hermosa (Ire), the G1 QIPCO British Champions Fillies & Mares S. and G1 Matron S. winner Hydrangea (Ire) and the G1 Ranvet S. hero The United States (Ire) all by Galileo (Ire).

GUSTAVUS WESTON ON TOP AGAIN AT THE CURRAGH

Brushing aside the fact that he was carrying a five-pound penalty for his success in the May 22 G2 Greenlands S., Alfred Sweetnam’s Gustavus Weston (Ire) (Equiano {Fr}) continued his revival on Sunday to win a second renewal of G3 Phoenix Sprint S. over the same Curragh venue and six-furlong trip he so appreciates.

Always happy bowling along on the front under Gary Carroll, the 7-2 second favourite was not for catching on his happy hunting ground and hit the line with a commanding 2 1/4-length margin to spare over Power Under Me (Ire) (Mehmas {Ire}) for a career-best success.

“We’ve found the key to him. He’s a more relaxed horse now and he’s stronger,” trainer Joe Murphy said. “He keeps on improving all the time. It’s amazing, since we’ve put him into a big stable on his own, he has a whole barn to himself, he’s just thrived. That’s the thing with horses, whether they can sing or not you have to get the voice out. We have to make him sing and he’s giving us memories that will last a lifetime.”

Now established as one of his country’s leading sprinters, Gustavus Weston who was undone only by the 3-year-old filly Mooneista (Ire) (Dandy Man {Ire}) in the G2 Sapphire S. over five furlongs here last time July 17, will tackle the big guns of England now.

“That’s a stepping stone to [the G1 Sprint Cup at] Haydock on September 4th,” his trainer added. “Then we might come back for the [G1] Flying Five here [Sept. 12] and maybe the [Oct. 3 G1 Prix de l’] Abbaye [at ParisLongchamp]. That was a very good performance and the time was good.”

Pedigree Notes

Gustavus Weston’s dam Chrissycross (Ire) (Cape Cross {Ire}) hails from the family of the Listed October S. winner and G1 Cheveley Park S. third Badminton (GB) (Zieten), the G3 Nell Gwyn S. runner-up Cala (Fr) (Desert Prince {Ire}) and the G2 Vintage S. third Fox (GB) (Diktat {GB}). Also connected to the GII Las Palmas H. winner Roshani (Fantastic Light) and the GII Hollywood Oaks scorer Kumari Continent (Kris S.), her unraced 2-year-old Kape Moss (GB) is a full-sister to Gustavus Weston, while she also has a yearling colt by Tasleet (GB).

FRANKEL’S RACLETTE ACQUIRES RISING STAR TAG ON DEBUT

Sent postward as the well-backed 21-10 favourite for Sunday’s Prix Hipodromo de Chile (Prix des Marettes) at Deauville, Juddmonte’s hitherto unraced Raclette (GB) (Frankel (GB)) returned to the winner’s circle with a ‘TDN Rising Star’ rosette after a taking performance in the 7 1/2-furlong debutantes heat.

The eventual winner broke in mid division and found a rhythm in rear through halfway. Nudged along in traffic once into the home straight, she quickened into contention approaching the final furlong and went through an array of gears in the closing stages to easily outpoint Subahiyah (IRE) (Le Havre (Ire)) by more than the winning margin of 3/4-of-a-length would imply.

“She has a lovely attitude, but was slightly green through the race and certainly has more to learn,” said winning rider Mickael Barzalona. “She really impressed me with the manner in which she quickened in the straight. Hopefully, she will improve more and have a big future.”

Raclette is the fourth of five foals and third scorer produced by four-time Grade I heroine Emollient (Empire Maker), herself a half-sister to GI Belmont S. and GI Florida Derby placegetter Hofburg (Tapit) and GII Hall of Fame S. third Courtier (Pioneerof the Nile). The April-foaled homebred bay, whose dam was bred to Into Mischief this year, is full to a yearling colt and a half to G2 Balanchine S. and G3 Naas Juvenile Fillies Sprint placegetter Peace Charter (GB) (War Front). Raclette’s dual stakes-winning third dam Glia (A.P. Indy) is a daughter of MG1SW matriarch Coup de Genie (Mr. Prospector).

“Obviously she had experience over a lot of her rivals, but Ger doesn’t want to over-race her this year,” Shane Lyons said of the winner, who is currently the last known foal out of the dam who was third in the G2 Debutante S. here. “It’s all about next year and she has been telling us that she is crying out for a run. She got away with that ground. We won’t be rushing her back and that’s why she has no early-closing race entries. If she tells us, we will supplement her for the autumn. She will run again, but it’s all about next year and we’ll let her grow into herself. OP/ED: MAGIC MILLIONS RELEASES STATEMENT ON THE PATTERN

by Magic Millions Managing Director Barry Bowditch

Following on from the statement from the Federation of Bloodstock Agents Australia (FBAA), of which Magic Millions is an associate member, we unequivocally endorse our full support for the continuation and most critically the progression of The Pattern of racing in Australia.

Australian bloodstock is seen amongst the world’s leaders, and one of the very few things that could jeopardise this status which is key to investment in our product is the lack of progression with The Pattern.

In recent years, The Pattern Committee has become completely ineffective with inadequate upgrading and downgrading of races Australia-wide. Black type is fundamental to the bloodstock world and without regular improvements we are at risk of damaging our product both domestically and internationally. Racing Australia needs to bring everyone back to the table and collaborate to resolve the issues at hand.

As a member of the Society of International Thoroughbred Auctioneers (SITA), Magic Millions has obligations to ensure catalogue standards, in the consistent presentation of black type.

An effective and collaborative Pattern Committee with a national perspective that can consider the parameters of today’s racing is entirely crucial for everyone invested in the thoroughbred industry.

The views and opinions expressed in this article are those of the author and do not necessarily reflect those of the publishers of Thoroughbred Daily News AusNZ.

This letter was written in response to an article in TDN AusNZ’s Wednesday, August 6 edition, The ongoing challenge of The Pattern.
WICKED HALO COMES FULL CIRCLE FOR ASMUSSEN IN ADIRONDACK

One day after breaking the all-time North American wins record, Steve Asmussen got right back to business in a big way Sunday at Saratoga, as his Wicked Halo (Gun Runner) shook off intense pace pressure and kicked clear in the lane to capture the GII Adirondack S. Adding to the significance of the moment, Wicked Halo is both by and out of Asmussen trainees, and her dam won the same race at the Spa in 2015.

Unveiled going five furlongs in the mud at Lone Star June 5, the homebred broke on top from the rail, won a pace fight and kept going for a two-length success, with the second and third finishers coming back to win next out. Tried in the Debutante S. three weeks later at Churchill, the gray was not off as well and dictated sizzling fractions before just fading late to be third.

Drifting up a bit to be the biggest price among four rivals who took the bulk of the play here, Wicked Halo was beaten out of the gate by Microbiome (Twirling Candy), but Jose Ortiz stayed aggressive and sent the Winchell colorbearer through inside of that one to eventually make the front through a scorching :21.55 quarter. Those two continued to spar past a :44.80 half as GIII Schuylerville S. runner-up Mainstay (Astern {Aus}) looked to launch a three wide bid approaching the stretch, but that filly soon flattened out and Wicked Halo remained the last pace player standing going by the eighth pole. FASIG-TIPTON MARKS 100 YEARS IN SARATOGA by Jessica Martini

SARATOGA SPRINGS, NY--The Fasig-Tipton Saratoga Selected Yearlings Sale, swept away by the pandemic last summer, marks its 100th anniversary when bidding on the two-day boutique auction starts Monday evening at 6:30 p.m. in the Humphrey S. Finney Pavilion.

“We are thrilled to be back,” Fasig-Tipton President Boyd Browning said while overseeing action at the sales barns on a brilliantly sunny Sunday morning in upstate New York. “It’s wonderful to be here and to feel the excitement and the energy on the sales grounds. And there is that same energy and excitement on the racetrack and on the backside and when you walk around town. People feel so upbeat and positive. There is a bounce in their steps. I think the year’s absence has made us all appreciate Saratoga even more.” Cont. p5

She slammed the door soon after and hit the line clearly in charge while understandably getting a little leg-weary. Deep-closing longshots Interstatedaydream (Classic Empire) and Saucy Lady T (Tonalist) rallied mildly to get into second and third, respectively. Mainstay was fourth, while race favorite Ontheonesandtwos (Jimmy Creed) never factored, checking in sixth.

The win was Asmussen’s second consecutive and fourth overall conquest of the Adirondack.

“Ron [Winchell, owner-breeder] giving us horses like this makes all the accolades possible,” he said.

Asked about Wicked Halo surviving pace pressure and still emerging victorious, Asmussen said, “That’s Saratoga tough. The filly on the outside [Microbiome] outbroke her a little bit. They ride aggressively here and horses either respond or get beat and she responded. For a 2-year-old filly, and the way she acted in the paddock off hard races, it’s a level of class that is hard to come by.”

“In these 2-year-old stakes races there’s going to be pace because a lot of them break their maiden wire-to-wire or are just sitting off it,” said winning rider Jose Ortiz. “A lot of times, the pace is going to be hot in races like this, and it was hot this time. Tyler [Gaffalione, aboard Microbiome] broke better than me. I put her up there and she responded well. They were going fast, but she was ready. Steve had her ready to run.”

Asmussen added that he’s unlikely to run Wicked Halo back in the Sept. 5 GI Spinaway S., saying, “I think we may give her a break. I got overly aggressive with the mother and being fortunate to have the family continuously, you need to learn from it.” Cont. p4
Pedigree Notes:

Wicked Halo’s victory gives Three Chimneys Farm’s freshman sire Gun Runner two graded stakes winners in as many days, following Pappacap’s score in the GII Best Pal S. Saturday at Del Mar. She is the first foal to race out of Just Wicked, a full-sister to Grade II winner My Miss Lilly out of SW Wicked Deed. Just Wicked is responsible for a yearling full-brother to the winner and produced another Gun Runner filly this season before returning to the dual champion once more.

While uncertainty kept much of the market in check in 2020, Browning said he is expecting plenty of competition this week in Saratoga.

“There are a lot of positive things happening in our business right now,” he said. “People feel good about the economy and the racing industry and there is vibrancy which I think is pervasive now.

He continued, “I think there was certainly some scale back at the top of the market last year—I think there was less competition for the really expensive horses overall. Lack of certainty in any aspect of life is tough and I think last year people didn’t know how long the pandemic was going to go on and what was going to be the outcome. I think that psychologically changed some buying habits or limits. I think the top end was compressed last year and I would expect it to be more vibrant this year. To me, the top end is $500,000 and up. I don’t think we are going to see the return of crazy, expensive yearlings, but I think there will be increased competition at the upper level of the market this year.”

Consignors were kept busy at the sales barns Sunday, with a strong contingent of pinhookers making the rounds alongside trainers and end-users.

“I think everybody is delighted to be back,” said Hunter Valley Farm’s Adrian Regan. “There is a great buzz around the place. The action at the barn has been good. It was steady yesterday and very busy today. As usual, Fasig has done a great job creating the atmosphere and attracting the people. So we are very hopeful of a good sale.”

The Saratoga sale comes on the heels of an exciting weekend of racing at the track across the street and the energy permeates throughout the town. Cont. p6

Cream of the Crops

Nyquist has the $2.6m top-priced juvenile of 2021 from his second crop. Plus: four G1 two-year-olds from his first crop – an achievement no stallion has ever bettered. Third-crop Saratoga yearlings selling now.
“I think there are a lot of people around town and I think everybody is happy to be back here,” said Paramount Sales' Gabriel Duignan. “The racing is very good at the moment. The town seems to be hopping and it’s been very busy here at the sales grounds. I am optimistic it will be a good sale—everything is pretty healthy in our business at the moment. The 2-year-old game was good, the racing is good. So I am optimistic.”

With travel between countries still difficult because of the ongoing pandemic, foreign participation will likely be lighter than in recent years, according to Browning.

“There is a reasonable representation of foreign buyers here,” Browning said. “There are still some restrictions, both getting into the United States and returning to some countries. The Japanese have a really hard time going back to Japan. And certainly there are some initial barriers for folks coming from Europe. We’ve been able to work with various representatives to accommodate some travel requests. But I would expect less international participation than we have had in recent years—obviously not 2020—but the North American buyer bench will be very, very strong and very enthusiastic.”

Fasig-Tipton will again be offering internet bidding for buyers unable to make it to the auction and, already positioning itself for the next 100 years, is unveiling an option to buy horses with cryptocurrency.

“It will be interesting to see what happens,” Browning said of the company’s first foray into cryptocurrency. “I don’t think it will dramatically change the impact of this sale or the immediate future. But we are always open to new ideas. We should be forward looking. I think if a lot of people before us hadn’t been innovative and creative, this company wouldn’t be here for 100 years. I think we have a responsibility to position the company moving forward to be successful. Not everything you try is going to be successful, but you certainly have to be looking for new ideas and new ways to attract new people to the business. And we think this is a possibility, so we are going to see where it goes. We are not going to measure success based solely on the activity of this one sale. That’s certainly not our intent.”

Of overseeing the Saratoga sale’s centenary celebration, Browning said, “It feels like an awesome responsibility. There is a lot of pride. I am proud of the way we do business. And I think we continue, as the organization has done for a long time, to provide a high level of customer service. We are going to strive to do that and do an even better job of it when possible. It’s an honor, but it’s also a responsibility to make sure you position the company, not only for the company’s success, but there is a responsibility to the industry as well.

“I have believed for years that there is no better place in the world to introduce people to Thoroughbred racing and Thoroughbred sales than Saratoga,” Browning said. “If somebody is interested in the business and they can’t come here and enjoy the experience and get an adrenaline rush, whether it be at the racetrack or the sales grounds, then this game is probably not for them. So we have a responsibility to the industry to continue to make this place—and this place is Saratoga in its totality, with the racetrack and with us and with the local community—to take this opportunity to let people see the passion and the enthusiasm that we have for what we do in our sport. And we take that seriously because we love it.”

At the 2019 sale, four horses sold for seven figures, with a pair of colts by Curlin sharing top price of $1.5 million. A total of 135 yearlings sold in 2019 for $55,547,000. The average was $411,459 and the median was $350,000.

A total of 210 yearlings have been catalogued for this year’s Saratoga sale, which will be held Monday and Tuesday evenings with bidding beginning each day at 6:30 p.m.

ASMUSSEN’S NEXT TARGET: JUAN SUAREZ
The Week In Review, by Bill Finley

Steve Asmussen moved past Dale Baird Saturday to become North America’s all-time leading trainer in wins with 9,446. But for such a goal-oriented individual, it’s no time to rest. To be number one in the world, Asmussen still has to catch Peruvian trainer Juan Suarez. And it won’t be easy.

Suarez, as of Saturday, had 9,886 wins—or 440 more than Asmussen. On the same day that Asmussen won one race from 13 starters spread across four racetracks, Suarez had three wins on the Saturday card at Peru’s only racetrack, the Hipodromo de Monterrico, which is in Lima.

Over the last five years, Suarez, 71, is averaging 315 wins a year, while Asmussen is averaging 390. That means he will likely chip away at Suarez’s lead but could spend years trying to catch him. The main advantage Asmussen has is his age. He is 16 years younger than Suarez and will surely outlast him.

Suarez was born in Santiago, Chile and moved to Peru in 1963 at the age of 13. The family moved because Suarez’s father, Juan Suarez, Sr., was hired as the trainer for Haras Barlovento, then among the leading stables in the country. The elder Suarez won the most prestigious race in Peru, the G1 Derby Nacional, eight times. Suarez worked as an assistant to his father before going out on his own in 1980 and won 116 races that year.

Much like Asmussen, he built up a huge stable that delivered year after year. From 2001 on, he has not had fewer than 200 winners in a year. He had a personal best 368 in 2013. Cont. p8

He currently trains 210 horses and has had as many as 300 at times.

Asmussen enjoys advantages Suarez will never have. Not only does he have more horses than Suarez, but he has the ability to race at four or five tracks at a time. Suarez is restricted to running at Hipodromo de Monterrico.

Through an interpreter, Suarez said that his numbers are down because the stable is still dealing with COVID-19 issues. Though in his seventies, he shows no signs of slowing down and he is not contemplating retirement.

“I live for this activity and I do not have any plans for retirement,” he said. “I am still active in the field here in Peru and many horse owners still look to me because of my experience and our friendship.”

It seems that Asmussen and Suarez share many of the same attributes and both believe the key to success is hard work, putting together a good team and paying attention to every last detail.

“The most important thing is having a dedicated work team,” Suarez said. “You must also have support from your family because the job takes up so much of your time.”

“I was reading about Steve Asmussen and his having such a great memory,” said Suarez’s nephew, Lexington-based bloodstock agent Dante Zanelli, Jr. “My uncle is just like that. He has a photographic memory. He has had as many as 300 horses at a time and he knows everything about every horse. He knows his horses and he remembers everything about them. That has a lot to do with his success. He is also an extremely good trainer and has great people working for him. It’s very similar to what Steve Asmussen has.”

Steve Asmussen celebrates his record-breaking win Saturday at Saratoga | Dom Napolitano/Coglianese

“I don’t focus too much on the wins,” he said. “I pay more attention to the work. I want everything to be OK, and then to see the result of the hard work done by my team and I.”

Suarez has had just one starter in the U.S. For the 2012 GI Breeders’ Cup Marathon at Santa Anita, he brought over the Peruvian-bred mare Almudena (Per) (Silver Planet {Arg}). A Group 1 winner in her native country, she finished 10th with Jose Valdivia, Jr. aboard. Valdivia is Suarez’s nephew. He is also related to retired jockey Fernando Toro, who is his brother-in-law.

“That was a great experience,” Suarez said. “We did not have much luck in that race but the experience and being able to celebrate the experience was amazing. I love how in the USA they make the experience even greater with the Breeders’ Cup organization and all the attention to detail.”

He has also exported horses to the U.S., including a stakes winner at Hialeah. He trained Tomcito (Street Cry {Ire}) before sending him to Zanelli, then a trainer, for the 2008 GI Florida Derby, where he was third.

“We have talked about that and the logistics involved and how to make it work,” Zanelli said “He’s been talking to his owners about this and has been trying to get permission from the Jockey Club of Peru to open a stable at Del Mar. He’ll explore that again for next year. He has a couple of pretty good horses that could win there. He’d like to have a stable with six to nine horses.”

With 12 horses entered Saturday at the Hipodromo de Monterrico, Suarez didn’t have time to watch Asmussen move past Dale Baird, but he is well aware of Asmussen’s accomplishments and he is an admirer.

“I know that Mr. Steve Asmussen is one of the top-tier horse trainers in the USA,” he said. “I also know that he has a lot of horses and a great work team and family. That shows why he is so successful. His breaking the record in the USA shows the great work ethic that he has. I know the sacrifices you must make to train horses, for the trainer, the family and the team that works with him. It is particularly difficult in such a competitive horse racing country as it is in the USA. I wish the best to Mr. Asmussen and congratulate him for the enormous achievement he has accomplished.”

Panza Left His Mark on Saratoga and NYRA

The paid attendance Saturday at Saratoga for the card topped by the GI Whitney S. was 38,525 and the all-sources handle was $36,820,234. Yes, Saratoga sells itself, but those numbers may not have been possible without NYRA Senior Vice President of Racing Operations Martin Panza. Panza announced his resignation last week. He will work through the end of the Belmont fall meet.

Panza “got it.” He loves racing and is always happy to roll his sleeves up and get to work to make it better. Two of his primary innovations were on display Saturday and contributed to the card’s success. He put together the successful turf series for 3-year-olds and fillies that includes the $1-million GI Saratoga Derby Invitational run Saturday. He’s also an advocate of creating “Super Saturdays” at the NYRA tracks. Saturday’s card didn’t include just the Whitney, it had five stakes races and three Grade I’s. He turned the card for the GI Belmont S. into a day that goes well beyond the Belmont itself. Next to the two Breeders’ Cup Days, it is the best card on the year.

His successor will have big shoes to fill.
DIVISIONAL DOMINANCE FROM COAST TO COAST

A day before Wicked Halo’s impressive win in the Adirondack (G2) in Saratoga, Pappacap remained undefeated with a facile 4 3/4 length victory in the Grade 2 Best Pal at Del Mar.

Eclipse Thoroughbred Partners' Con Lima was afforded an easy lead under Flavien Prat, opened up in the stretch and held sway late to annex the GIII Saratoga Oaks Sunday at the Spa.

Originally just a $15,000 Keeneland November weanling buy, the dark bay was privately purchased out of a sharp main-track graduation for trainer Carlos David last July at Gulfstream and was runner-up in the off-turf P.G. Johnson S. and Our Dear Peg S. Scoring a wire-to-wire 5 1/4-length success in her grass bow Dec. 12 at Gulfstream, she repeated in the Ginger Brew S. and was second in the GIII Sweetest Chant S. before being elevated into a GIII Herecomesthebride S. victory via disqualification.

Taking one more crack on dirt in the GII Gulfstream Park Oaks, she faded to fourth after setting a slow pace, her only finish out of the exacta thus far, but bounced back when returned to the lawn with triumphs in the Honey Ryder S. and GIII Wonder Again S.

Just run down late when second in the GI Belmont Oaks Invitational S. last out, Con Lima was made a narrow favorite over Godolphin invader Creative Flair here and broke a bit outwardly. Easing her way to the front as no one else took the initiative, she clicked off comfortable fractions of :23.64, :50.02 and 1:14.34 with ears pricked. Turning aside a brief bid from Gam's Mission (Noble Mission {GB}) past the three-sixteenths pole, she skipped clear into the final furlong as Higher Truth came off the rail to take her shot. Jumping back to her left lead at the sixteenth marker, it briefly appeared that Con Lima was in danger, but Prat kept her to task to score by a fairly comfortable margin in the end.

"I was analyzing the race beforehand and we were the only speed but I wasn't 100% sure if a couple of the Euros if they would show some initiative," said winning trainer Todd Pletcher, capping off a weekend that started with his Hall of Fame induction. “I left it in Flavien's hands and Plan A was to break well and see if anybody would try to take the lead away from us and if they didn't, we'd be happy to have it. It worked out really well. He just gradually got up there instead of having to hustle her and use her. She relaxed really well. You could see when she turned up the backside and her ears were flicking back and forth that she was in a happy zone."
The speed was pretty much me and the Godolphin filly and it seems she broke a step slow,” said Prat. “I broke better than her and I ended up on the lead. Going to the first turn I felt really comfortable. I was really pleased with the way she was traveling and I felt we were doing some easy fractions. She really kicked on well. I got her ready to kick and she really did. When she swapped leads, she responded well from that point.”

Pedigree Notes:

One of nine stakes winners and three graded stakes winners for 2014 GI Belmont S. runner-up Commissioner, Con Lima is the first foal to race out of her stakes-winning dam. She is followed by a yearling Point of Entry colt named Pico de Gallo and a weanling colt by Lord Nelson. Second Street City was bred to Game Winner this spring.

Also Ran: Wyfire, Stiletto Boy, Cathkin Peak (IRE).

Zoffarelli, second after a rough stretch run, was elevated to the top spot in Sunday’s Gill La Jolla H. following a lengthy inquiry to score his first stakes win while making his U.S. debut.

A bridesmaid three straight times to open his career in Great Britain, the gelding earned his diploma going seven furlongs on the Kempton all-weather last September before finishing second again over soft turf in his seasonal finale at Newmarket. Fourth upon return on the Sandown Park grass June 12, he completed the exacta one more time 18 days later at Bath in his last start for trainer Ralph Beckett.

Drifting all the way up to a dime below 8-1 off a 3-1 morning-line quote here, the bay broke cleanly and settled second-last as Stiletto Boy (Shackleford) and Cathkin Peak (IRE) (Alhebayeb {IRE}) went at it through splits of :23.38 and :47.16. Scrubbed on by Drayden Van Dyke past six furlongs in :41.15, Zoffarelli awaited room behind rivals turning for home and was still boxed as Sword Zorro overhauled tiring Stiletto Boy at the eighth pole. Finally finding some daylight between that foe and favored Hudson Ridge a sixteenth out, he was bumped by the drifting Sword Zorro and the top three pinballed several times approaching and through the wire as Sword Zorro got his nose down first. Seeming a fait accompli upon review of the replays, the stewards indeed demoted Sword Zorro to third, giving Zoffarelli the victory.

“If I don’t get banged that last time, I’m going to go on by and win it on my own,” Van Dyke said. “But he [Sword Zorro] kept constantly drifting out and out. It was the right call. I knew this horse was going to run big today. I did my homework. I was over at the barn with [trainer] Jeff [Mullins] the other morning watching this horse’s races in England. The owners know what they’re doing when they go over to Europe and buy one. They got another good one here.”

Pedigree Notes:

With the victory, Zoffarelli becomes the 45th stakes winner and 25th graded stakes winner for Zoffany, who was euthanized in January at the age of 13 due to liver failure. He is the first foal to race out of his stakes-placed dam, whose subsequent produce is a Ribchester (IRE) colt named Let Em Have It (IRE) and a weanling full-sister to the winner. Second dam Genuine Devotion recorded three triple-digit Beyers while going four-for-six over turf in her career, including a 103 when capturing the Gill Locust Grove H. in 2008. She is also a half-sister to European champion and MG1SW Mastercraftsman (IRE) (Danehill Dancer {IRE}) and G1SP Famous (IRE) (Danehill Dancer {IRE}).
EMBRACING NEW TECHNOLOGY

Periodically I find myself on the other end of a call with a client seeking a nonexistent 'tool' in my bag of tricks. It can be awkward to expose one’s own ignorance on a topic, not to mention uncomfortable. In these instances, I suspect most farriers don’t make it a habit of turning away 'good' clients and some of them reply, “Oh sure, I do that, or use that product all of the time.” Shoeing sometimes requires a certain degree of salesmanship; I believe the Irish call it malarkey.

Given the range of innovation and abundance of out-of-the-box thinkers attempting to bring new ideas and products to market within the farrier industry, it has become essential to have Google and/or YouTube on your speed dial (if that still exists). One click of a button, 'virtually' makes you an expert. When necessary, I’m not ashamed to say, that’s what I do too.

Recently, I was advised about a client horse, “Ellie,” who was returning home from an extended stay at the clinic after a severe bout with laminitis. Laminitis, also commonly known as founder, is a painful condition affecting the tissue (laminae), which bonds the hoof wall to the coffin (pedal) bone. The root cause and remedy continues to elude investigators. The mare was reportedly comfortable and stable enough for the van ride home. Additionally, I was advised that she was due, and that a product called 'FormaHoof' was successfully being used by the clinic’s farrier. In truth, I was initially skeptical. After multiple phone calls with veterinarians, followed by calls to the clinic’s farrier, and activating my online speed dial to view multiple application videos, I acquiesced.

FormaHoof had already been on my radar. After some further investigation, the concept seemed interesting and possibly useful in certain cases. However, when a new product or concept makes landfall at your doorstep, there also can be some level of anxiety. In an industry that is built on sayings like, "you're only as good as your last horse," undoubtedly there is some pressure to perform.

FormaHoof essentially creates a glue cast, by the use of a mold and a type of fast-set glue which encapsulates the hoof. The process basically creates a cuff, with the glue covering the outer wall to a midway point, as well as the sole and frog. Additionally, there are multiple types of molds: barefoot, traction, or performance. Fortunately, Ellie’s front hooves were a similar size which only required the purchase of one mold. (It should be noted: a horse with differing hoof sizes may require the purchase of an additional mold, making the undertaking costlier).

The application requires glue and tips for every application, with the one-time expense of the applicator glue gun. Also provided was a length of plastic/fabric mesh, which is cut and inserted into the mold prior to the hoof and acts as an additional structure for the glue to adhere to. Theoretically, the mold should also be a one-time purchase, but that is dependent upon hoof size and growth which may require the future purchase of a larger or smaller-sized mold. Multiple applications seem likely for reuse, especially when care is taken ensuring the proper maintenance and storage of the mold(s), which in this instance consists of one horse, two feet, once a month. Cont. p13
A degree of patience is necessary for both the applier and horse, as there is a slight learning curve for correct application. Additionally, some degree of agility and maneuverability are required. The application process requires contorting oneself with steps that include elevating the hoof with the mold and injecting glue into multiple points, followed by lowering the hoof to the ground and maneuvering around the foot to additional glue injection points. Throughout the duration of this hoof/mold/glue ballet, cartridges and tips will likely need to be exchanged, including keen observation of the glue's path and attempting to predict where to move next. I definitely recommend giving oneself some extra time when first attempting this process, and I would advise the purchase of extra glue cartridges and tips until your technique is perfected. It is probable that a few spots will need touching up, but with additional attempts, it does get slightly easier. Admittedly, the ability to perfect the application on the initial go around continues to remain elusive after multiple attempts.

A cost benefit analysis is recommended as some may consider the investment cost prohibitive.

There are multiple scenarios where FormaHoof use would be appropriate, specifically on a barefoot horse where the ability to conventionally affix a shoe is difficult and/or impossible. However, 'flat-footed' horses may not be able to take sole or increased frog pressure as a result of the hoof's encapsulation, an unfortunate reality which may not be initially apparent until after the product is applied requiring the product's immediate removal. In my conversation with the clinic's farrier, he mentioned occasionally experiencing the pressure problem and indicated it was alleviated by the placement of some impression material. Additional concerns may include a horse's transition out of the product and the experience of possible soundness issues with the removal of a 'cuff' glue-on or a hoof cast, when the hoof wall has a negative reaction to the loss of the artificial support created by those interventions. Lastly, the hoof's preparation is key to ensure reducing opportunity for bacteria promotion and/or eliminating the possibility of abscessing which would require the product's removal.

On hand for the initial application for Ellie, Dr. Mark Ketner, DVM of Ketner and Associates, a seasoned practitioner and Monmouth Park veterinarian since 1987, admitted he was "very impressed" with the product. When discussing other scenarios that might warrant the product's use, Ketner said, "[FormaHoof] should be great in situations with significant hoof wall defects, or prolapsed soles."

He added, "There should be minimal soft tissue effects."

When asked specifically about the appropriateness for racing, he replied, "Not sure about racing; it would depend on the reason the horse needed the product, assuming significant rotation and sole prolapse would preclude a racehorse from being sound."

As with all stories, the hope is that they will end happily. Unfortunately, far too many stories of laminitis most often don't. Fortunately for Ellie, this story does. Recently while turned out in the paddock, she decided to take a number of trot steps and then proceeded to successfully exit the paddock with a jump over the four-foot gate! I think it's pretty clear she is feeling good and at the end of the day that's what every farrier strives for.

EMILE ALLAIN, SUCCESSFUL ONTARIO TRAINER, HORSE LOVER PASSES AT 91

Courtesy Jennifer Morrison, Canadian Thoroughbred

A horseman and a gentleman, Emile Allain had a love of horses from an early age. Born in France, Allain set up an equestrian centre in Montreal with his wife Margaret, helping young people learn to ride and discover their own love of the horse.

Allain stepped out in the 1960s to try his hand at training Thoroughbreds, first at Montreal's Blue Bonnets and then opening a stable at Canada's biggest racetrack, Woodbine. He quickly formed a clientele of prominent owners, including Banham Yousif's BKY Stable, Harry Hindmarsh, George Hendrie, the Schemmer family's Arosa Farms, Terfloth Farm, Jean Josephson and Dick Bonnycastle's Harlequin Ranches.

One of Allain's first big wins as a trainer was the 1979 Canadian Oaks with Kamar who overcame knee surgery in her 2-year-old season to become Canada's champion 3-year-old filly that year. Kamar, a daughter of the blue hen mare Square Angel, went on to become a Classic producer herself.

Allain won the Nettie S. (now the E.P. Taylor S.) twice with European imports Neatrice and Senorita Poquito. In addition to developing young horses and plenty of talented turf females, Allain also conditioned Knight's Turn, who was one of Canada's top handicap horses in the late 1970s.

Phoenix Factor, a juvenile filly owned by Adrian Anderson, was named Sovereign Award champion in 1987 based on her impressive speed and stakes victories.

Allain consistently landed in the top 10 trainers at the various Ontario race meetings and top three on a few occasions. For more than a dozen years his win total was often 25 to 35 wins.

Allain also developed more than a few top horsepeople who worked in his stable. Successful New York trainer Rick Violette, also an influential figure as advocate for horsepeople and horse care, worked as an assistant for Allain for several years before beginning his career. And Allain's daughter Josee galloped horses at Woodbine.

Upon retiring from training in 2004, Allain lived on a small property near Montreal, but had been known to visit Woodbine and he kept in touch with many fellow horsepeople.

Allain passed away this weekend at the age of 91, about four years after he lost his wife Margaret.

Statistics aside--533 wins from 4,341 starters and earners of over $11.6 million--Allain was well respected, soft spoken and proud of his horses and his staff. He will be missed.

Regal Glory, who won the 2019 Gill Lake George S. and Gill Lake Placid S. over the Saratoga turf and the 2020 Gill Ladies' Turf S. at Kentucky Downs for her late breeder Paul Pompa, was the co-topper of this year's Keeneland January sale when bringing a final bid of $925,000 from Peter Brant's White Birch Farm. In her first start in Brant's colors, the chestnut mare captured the Plenty of Grace S. at Aqueduct in April and she was most recently fourth in the June 5 GI Just a Game S.

"She got a really bad trip in the Just a Game, which was unfortunate because she was really primed to run a big one and she did, it just didn't work out for her," said winning trainer Chad Brown. "But we regrouped. I spoke to Mr. Brant and said, ‘Let’s get her to Saratoga and let’s put her in a race where she can get a good trip,’ and hopefully put a W under her belt with the eye of trying to win a Grade I with her this year, which is why he kept her in training after he bought her. We’ll see what’s next for her, but for now we’ll just enjoy this."

Brown also saddled favored Viadera (GB) (Bated Breath [GB]), who finished a troubled fourth.

"She had a rough trip for her first time back," Brown said of the beaten favorite. “It happens sometimes when you have a late-running horse like that. I spoke to Joel [Rosario] briefly and he was frustrated because he had to stop a couple of different times and by the time she got clear, it was just too late. She got started a lot later than we had hoped this year. Now that she has a race under her belt, hopefully she’ll move forward. She’s another one that, already being a Grade I winner, we’re probably headed into Grade Is with her. It’s her abbreviated last season of racing and we’re going to try and make the most of it."

Two-time graded stakes winner Mary’s Follies also sold as part of the Pompa dispersal at Keeneland January, bringing a final bid of $500,000 from BBA Ireland. She aborted her Curlin foal and was bred back to American Pharoah. The 15-year-old mare also has a 2-year-old colt by Candy Ride (Arg) and a yearling colt by Connect, who sold for $185,000 at Keeneland January. Fourth in the GIII Gallorette S. at Pimlico last October, the 5-year-old filled that placing again in the Unbridled Sydney S. beneath the Twin Spires making her seasonal bow at the end of April. The bay turned in a career-best performance with a third in the GIII Mint Julep S. at Churchill in June and defeated Sunday’s rival Dominga in the Ellis Park Turf S. July 4.

Perched in an ideal position glued to the rail in sixth through the early going, She’sonthewarpath was asked for her bid as noses pointed toward home. Switched to the outside, the dark bay zipped up the center of the course to come over the top and win going away in a new course record.

“She’s really confident in herself,” said winning conditioner Steve Margolis. “She’s a cool mare and she always gives it her all. She always has that swag about her anyway. She’s confident, she knows how to win and she fights when you ask her to go.”

As for heading on to the GIII Ladies Turf S. at Kentucky Downs Sept. 11, Margolis said, “That’s a little quirky track, but the Grade III for $750,000 is really exciting. We’re stabled here. Ellis has really done well for us, the filly has really trained great over the track, handled everything great. So I’m excited. She’s an easy horse to train, gets a lot of her training. Just thanks to [owners] Robert and Lawana [Low] for keeping her in training.”

One of three foals out of SW Ha Ha Tonka, herself a half-sister to MGSW and MGISP Catapult (Kitten’s Joy), She’sonthewarpath has a 2-year-old half-brother by Dialed In. The third dam is GI Test S. heroine Capote Belle (Capote). Click for the Equibase.com chart.

Lightly raced Raased got his first black-type in Sunday's Oceanport S. at Monmouth by a jaw-dropping 19 1/4 lengths. With the race taken off the turf and depleted by scratches, the gray broke from the inside and dueled through the opening :23.56 quarter, then relented to sit in second under a hold until about the :47.39 half. Patience run out, Raased went around leader Island Commish, splashed to the front with ease, and drew powerfully away by the huge margin under his own power while rider Heriberto Figueroa sat motionless.

Raased had a belated start to his career, first seeing official competition this February at Tampa Bay as a 5-year-old. He won second out in March when moved to the turf and a route, then made his way north for an off-the-turf allowance at Monmouth in May, where he also romped--that time by 10 1/2 lengths--and garnered a 90 Beyer. He didn't make an impact when testing graded waters on the lawn at Belmont in the June 20 GIII Poker S., but reappeared in the Oceanport for another crack at stakes company.

This was the first stakes win for trainer Alison Escobar since he relocated from Puerto Rico in 2019.

“It feels very good,” he said. “I have won many stakes races in Puerto Rico, but to get the first one here feels great.”

The winner’s dam, a half to GSW Corinthian (Pulpit) and to GSW & GISP Desert Hero (Sea Hero), also has the 2-year-old filly Tahaweel (Mohaymen), who finished eighth earlier Sunday at Saratoga in her race debut for Shadwell and Todd Pletcher. Margins: 4 1/4, 2 3/4, 8 1/4. Odds: 0.70, 2.10, 3.20. Also Ran: Northvale Road. Scratched: Fowler Blue, Thirsty Always.

Leading California sire Stay Thirsty swept the trifecta in Del Mar’s Graduation S. with Rock N Rye prevailing for his first black-type score. The dark bay stayed in contact with the leaders through a :21.52 quarter and a :46.03 half. He circled wide on the turn, shifted to the inside, and was slow to change leads, but drew away with ease to win by 4 1/4 lengths.

Rock N Rye debuted with a third in a May 2 maiden at Santa Anita behind Big City Lights (Mr. Big), who would go on to capture the $100,000 Fasig-Tipton Futurity, then broke his maiden next out May 30. He had been freshened since then. Discreet Dee has a yearling full-brother to Rock N Rye. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.
