MAHONY HAILS ‘EXTRAORDINARY’ TRADE

By Emma Berry

NEWMARKET, UK—A final-session high mark of 250,000gns carried the Tattersalls Autumn Horses-in-Training Sale out in ebullient fashion on Thursday. The buyer was Saudi Arabia’s Najd Stud, which has been the leading purchaser in Newmarket this week with 14 horses bought for 2,791,000gns.

One of the last added to the list was the day’s leader, Shadwell’s Laatansa (Fr) (New Bay {GB}), offered as lot 1447. Ronald Rauscher and Matt Camacho were among the early bidders for the 2-year-old colt but none could match the staying power of the Saudi team.

Back in their home country, the launch for the 2022 Saudi Cup was being held, where it was confirmed that $35.1 million would be on offer for the meeting, which will be held on Feb. 25 and 26. After two years, the Saudi Cup will now be run as a Group 1, with another five races on the undercard being promoted to Group 3 status.

“We could never have imagined the immediate impact the Saudi Cup would have on the international racing landscape, or indeed domestic racing,” said HRH Prince Bandar Bin Khalid Al Faisal at the press conference at the Jockey Club of Saudi Arabia.

They are words which are also pretty apposite when it comes to the trade at Tattersalls this week and the two events are strongly connected, with Najd Stud, assisted by Peter and Ross Doyle, accounting for almost 10% of the sale’s turnover.

BELOVED BLOODSTOCK FIGURE HARRY BEEBY DIES

Harry Beeby, a key figure within Goffs and Doncaster Bloodstock Sales since the 1960s and an internationally renowned auctioneer, died on Thursday morning at his home with his family at his side.

Goffs Chairman Eimear Mulhern said, “Harry was a stalwart of the bloodstock industry for over 50 years. Greatly respected, a mentor to many, a true friend and loyal colleague, he was first and foremost a family man. To his beloved wife Elizabeth, his son, Goffs Group Chief Executive Officer Henry Beeby, daughters Caroline and Belinda and to his extended family and wide circle of friends, we offer our deepest condolences.

Harry had a true zest for life. He was one of life’s gentlemen and one of the great characters of the bloodstock and racing industries. He will be greatly missed and fondly remembered wherever horsemen gather.” Cont. p4

“Maybe new factors have come into play,” acknowledged Tattersalls Chairman Edmond Mahony in his closing statement. That certainly appears to be the case, but then it is also a rarity for this auction to contain such a high number of horses from Shadwell, which is reducing its stock in the wake of the death of its principal, Sheikh Hamdan Al Maktoum, in March this year.

Better Call Saud

With Saad bin Mishraf, who had been present for the purchases made earlier in the week by Najd Stud, having already left England to fly home, he entrusted his colleague, the Saudi trainer and consultant Saud Al Qahtani, to do the bidding for Laatansa, a son of the listed-placed Louve Rare (Ire) (Rock Of Gibraltar {Ire}), herself a daughter of Group 3 winner Louve (Irish River {Frac}). In three starts for Ed Dunlop, the striking chestnut has twice been placed in maidens on Newmarket’s Rowley Mile.

Al Qahtani said, “Saad called and told me not to leave here without this horse. He is a beautiful horse and lovely physical. He is by a very promising stallion, whose progeny are booming. He has a very good family and we hope he will be a very good horse next year.”

He added, “We will have a great race in Saudi Arabia at the end of February, our race will be the destination for all the very best horses from Europe and America, and our Jockey Club racing manager is doing a great job.”

It wasn’t only Saudi interest which boosted this year’s marathon sale way beyond its previous levels. As ever, American and Australian interest was strong, as was the participation from Qatar and Bahrain.

Enhanced international demand for horses to run in countries with eye-watering levels of prize-money for feature races pushed the aggregate to a record high of 31,470,300gns, which was up by almost 50% on a troubled 2020 but also way beyond the 2019 tally of 25,393,400gns. Thirty more horses were sold this time around as the clearance rate soared to 92%, and those 1,003 equines who changed hands did so at an average of 31,407gns (+40%) and median of 16,000gns (+78%). The leading consignor, as easily predicted, was Shadwell, which sold 118 horses for 5,238,500gns, including the eight top lots of the final day. The enthusiasm for bloodstock, even at this final lower tier of the concluding session, saw figures leap from their former base. On Thursday, the average almost doubled to 11,867gns, while the median was up by 38% to 5,500gns and the clearance rate for 204 horses sold—-one fewer than on the same day last year—matched the sale’s overall figure of 92%.

‘An Extraordinary Renewal’

“An extraordinary renewal of a unique sale,” was how Edmond Mahony assessed the week’s action at the close of business on Thursday. “There is no sale in the world quite like the Tattersalls Autumn Horses in Training Sale and there has never been one quite like the sale that has just taken place,” he continued.

“Records for turnover, average and median are always notable landmarks for any sale, but when the record margins are so large it suggests that maybe new factors have come into play and to an extent that may have been the case this week. There is no doubt that the major consignment from the late Sheikh Hamdan Al Maktoum’s Shadwell Estates has introduced a new dynamic. A consignment of that size and quality does not go unnoticed and the buyers have seized the rare opportunity to source horses from one of the finest owner/breeder operations in the world.

Equally important has been the sustained success-driven demand throughout the sale from Australian connections and this has been despite continued difficulties surrounding travel. There will be around 40 horses heading to Australia from this week’s sale and that is in addition to the 30 or so yearlings which were purchased at the recent Tattersalls October Yearling Sale.”

Beeby joined Doncaster Bloodstock Sales as a partner with Ken Oliver and Willie Stephenson in 1964, and was managing director of the auction house from 1976 to 1998, and chairman until 2016. He served as a director of Goffs from 2007 to 2018. Beeby was a very popular and well-loved figure in bloodstock and racing circles and developed lifelong friends and a loyal clientele.

Goffs UK Managing Director Tim Kent said, “The term ‘legend’ is often overused but I don’t think there is a better way of describing Harry Beeby. He was a great mentor to us all and he lived life to the full. He was also passionate about the sales in Doncaster and it is this passion that he has instilled in the current team. He will be sadly missed by us all.”

Beeby’s funeral will be held at St Cuthbert’s Church in Hawick, with arrangements to be announced later. A celebration of life will also take place at Doncaster in association with a sale at a later date.
village of Denholm, just a few miles along the River Teviot downstream from Hawick) between them trained the winners of seven of the 13 Scottish Grand National winners in the years 1970 to 1982 inclusive; while another Denholm-based trainer, John Leadbetter, sent out Rubstic to win the Grand National at Aintree in 1979.

It seemed only natural that such a region, in which racing is as integral a part of life as the grass in the farmers' fields, should be the home of Doncaster Bloodstock Sales. And it seemed only natural that Harry Beeby, who had been recruited by Ken Oliver and Willie Stephenson in 1964 to be their deputy at DBS, should be the man in charge.

To run a sales company, one needs to understand horses, people and business, and to be endowed with so obvious a core of integrity and reliability that it inspires the absolute trust of vendors and purchasers alike. Harry Beeby filled this role in a way that few could or ever have.

In the modern world, an education in business management or a make-over by 'consultants' might be deemed necessary for the holder of such a post. Harry, however, was blessed with qualities that cannot be taught. His impeccable good manners were not learned but were merely an expression of the way that he was. His decency was not an act, but just came naturally. His kindness was innate rather than calculated. To him, treating everyone with equal courtesy and consideration was as normal as breathing. His word was so patently his bond that doubting it would have been unthinkable.

When the time eventually came for Harry to stand down as boss of DBS, he left shoes so big that it was hard to think of anyone other than his son Henry being able to fill them. He had made sure that Henry had had a thorough grounding for the role, but all the experience in the world would have counted for nothing if Harry's personal qualities had not been passed on to the next generation. One could agonise over the nature v. nurture debate forever; but, whatever their source, it must have given Harry enormous pride and satisfaction that the transition from father to son was so seamless that it was clear to all that, as Edmund Burke exclaimed after William Pitt the Younger had made his maiden speech in the House of Commons on 26 February 1781, 'he was not merely a chip of the old block, but the old block itself.'

DBS, now Goffs UK, has been one of the great success stories of British bloodstock over the past 60 years. To the bloodstock world, Harry Beeby will always be synonymous with that success, and we offer our sincere condolences to Elizabeth, Henry, Caroline, Belinda and his extended family.

Nurlan's Bizakov's Sumbe operation has announced its stallion fees for 2022, with flagship sire Le Havre (Ire) remaining at €40,000 and Golden Horde (Ire), who covered his first book of mares this year, being reduced to €8,000 from €10,000.

"Le Havre, the sire of 45 stakes winners, had another stellar year in 2021 and we feel very fortunate to stand such a high-class stallion," said Sumbe's Mathieu Alex, who indicated that Bizakov has supported Golden Horde, a Group 1-winning son of Lethal Force (Ire), with 20 of his best mares.

He added, "Next year looks particularly exciting with the first foals of Golden Horde arriving. We have a lot of faith in this high-class athlete, who was a Group 1 winner at Royal Ascot and a group winner at two. Golden Horde is a beautiful horse and breeders love him when they see him. We have supported him with very good mares and will continue to do so. We really appreciate all the support and thank the breeders for their commitment."

MOHAATHER ANCHORS SHADWELL ROSTER

Last year’s G1 Sussex S. scorer Mohaather (GB) (Showcasing {GB}) will stand his second season at Shadwell’s Nunnery Stud in 2022 for a fee of £15,000, down slightly from his opening price of £20,000. The highest-rated son of Showcasing, Mohaather covered 146 mares this year.

Tom Pennington, nominations and marketing manager at Shadwell, said, “We’ve taken the decision to reduce Mohaather’s fee for 2022 in recognition of the fact that there is a significant premium placed upon first-season sires in the commercial market, and that stallions entering their second year need to be competitively priced to reflect that reality. There is no question, considering how high stallion fees are across the board now, that £15,000 rates as fantastic value.”

“Mohaather was an exceptional winner of the Sussex S., showing a lethal turn of foot so rarely seen in milers, and he was also a group winner at two and three. He was given fantastic support from a diverse cross-section of breeders this year and consequently covered a strong book of mares. We’re really looking forward to welcoming his first foals in 2022.”

Mohaather stands alongside Tasleet (GB) (Showcasing {GB}) and Eqtidaar (Ire) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}), who are both unchanged from 2021 at £5,000. Tasleet’s first yearlings have sold for up to 80,000gns this year, while Eqtidaar’s first foals are now on the ground.

The Nunnery Stud stallions will be available to view at Beech House Stud in Newmarket during the Tattersalls December Breeding Stock sale.

PURPLEPAY TO BE OFFERED ON AUCTAV

Purplepay (Fr) (Zarak {Fr}), winner of the Haras de Bouquetot - Criterium Arqana and third in the G1 Criterium International last weekend, will be offered in an Auctav Flash Sale on Nov. 4.

A €100,000 Arqana October yearling, Purplepay broke her maiden at fourth asking and in her second try over a mile four weeks before taking the Criterium Arqana by four lengths. She was a staying on third behind the colts Angel Bleu (Fr) (Dark Angel {Ire}) and Ancient Rome (War Front) in the Gran Criterium, clocking the fastest final furlong of any horse in the race.

“If she would have been able to kick on at the same time as Angel Bleu, it is sure that the victory would have been hotly contested,” said trainer Cedric Rossi. “She really proved that she was a Group 1 filly by finishing behind the first and third in the Prix Jean-Luc Lagardere. She recovered extremely well and she is today in great shape.”

WALZERTAKT TO STAND AT CHAPEL STUD

Walzertakt (Ger) (Montjeu {Ire}), winner of the 2015 G2 Prix Maurice de Nieul and G3 Prix Gladiateur for Gestut Aesculap and trainer Jean-Pierre Carvalho, moves to Chapel Stud to stand as a National Hunt sire in 2022 after four seasons at Haras de la Croix Sonnet in France.

Chapel Stud Director Roisin Close said, “Walzertakt is a big, strong, good-looking horse, a very typical stamp of his sire Montjeu. His pedigree is rapidly turning into a German masterclass of breeding, full of champions and Group 1 winners of the highest and toughest calibre. For stamina and quality, you really don’t need to look any further. [Stud owners] Simon and Richard have completed a very impressive trifecta with his addition to the stallion roster; we really do have a stallion to compliment every mare.”

IRISH STALLION TRAIL BACK FOR 2022

The Irish Thoroughbred Marketing Irish Stallion Trail will return on Jan. 14 and 15, having taken place in a virtual format in 2021. More than 20 stallion farms are set to participate in the free event, with visitors asked to register which studs they intend to visit on the ITM website. Registration will open in mid-November, and it is mandatory to register for a specific date and time slot for Coolmore Stud.

“It is great to have the ITM Irish Stallion Trail back in its usual format for 2022,” said ITM’s Alex Cairns. “Irish-bred horses have again made their presence felt in the world’s most competitive races in 2021 and much of this success is down to Ireland’s top-class stallions and the farms that they call home. We encourage as many people as possible to get the dates in the diary and support a hugely valuable Irish industry.”

He is kin to a trio of black-type performers headed by G1 Prix Jean-Luc Lagardere-winning sire Ultra (Ire) (Manduro {Ger}).
Coming to the fore with a win in a 12-furlong handicap at Doncaster Sept. 10, Sea la Rosa was 3/4 of a length ahead of Viola getting 13 pounds from that older rival and a fortnight later was third in Newmarket’s G3 Princess Royal S. also at that distance. Now faced with just a six-pound weight-for-age pull with Viola, the chestnut was able to demonstrate the rate of her progression by overpowering her and 10 other rivals in a competitive edition of this prize. Trapped wide reserved behind the leading group early, she was asked for a big move approaching the home turn and responded with a sustained surge to swoop on Pennymoor approaching the furlong pole and draw away with relish.

“Being in a position where you can slide out and down the hill, she gained three lengths for free because of how well she handled the track,” jockey Tom Marquand said. “She actually surprised me when I kicked on--I thought I’d take that traditional Lingfield route and try to gain as much momentum as I could going into the straight--and when I took a sneak peek, I was flying three or four lengths clear. From riding her before, I thought the step up in trip would be fine. I rode her at York over 10 and a half furlongs and she felt like she was crying out to go back up in trip. I thought this looked the perfect race for her from that point of view--a mile and five on an easy track. She is not massive and it helps being nimble and light on your feet around here.”

The listed-winning dam, who also produced the G3 Derrinstown Stud 1000 Guineas Trial runner-up Dean Street Doll (Ire) (Oasis Dream GB), also has a 2021 filly by Golden Horn (GB). She is a full-sister to Hanami (GB), who took the G2 Pretty Polly S., and a half to the listed-winning dam of the dual G2 Prix de Royallieu winner and G1 Prix Vermeille-placed The Juliet Rose (Fr) (Monsun {Ger}).
front approaching the furlong pole before holding the outsider Roman Mist comfortably at bay on the run to the line.

“I think she has probably done enough and I am sure she will be a lovely broodmare,” Ed Crisford said. “She took a little while to come to herself earlier in the year, but she has come good recently. She was second the last twice and this is a good way to go out.”

The dam, who captured the Listed Radley S., produced as her first foal Harlech (GB) (Pivotal {GB}) who was in turn responsible for this year’s G1 Australian Oaks and G1 Vinery Stud S. heroine Hungry Heart (Aus) (Frankel {GB}). The second dam is the Listed Oak Tree S. winner and G3 Supreme S. runner-up Beraysim (GB) (Lion Cavern) from the family of the GI Belmont S.-winning champion and sire Risen Star. Carrying a penalty for her success in the Listed Prix La Fleche over this trip at Chantilly June 6, Dizzy Bizu managed to hold her form to the end of her fruitful campaign and belie that extra burden against tough opposition from Britain and Ireland. Upped to six furlongs after that black-type breakthrough, the grey who provided her first-season sire with his first success in this sphere was a well-beaten fifth in Chantilly’s G3 Prix du Bois June 20 before bouncing back with a runner-up finish in the G3 Prix de Cabourg at Deauville Aug. 8. Second again over this course and distance in the Sept. 2 G3 Prix d’Arenberg, the homebred was tried over six again in the Oct. 9 G2 Criterium de Maisons-Laffitte back at Chantilly but could muster only fifth there. Handed the ideal scenario of a strongly-run flat five furlongs here, she was able to draft behind the leading trio early and when asked earned the advantage 100 metres from the line before outbattling the tenacious Favourite Child.

The winner is currently the only foal out of the Listed Prix Six Perfections-winning dam, who is a half to the G2 Goldene Peitsche winner Donnerschlag (GB) (Bahamian Bounty {GB}) and the G3 Round Tower S.-placed De Boss Man (Ire) (Dandy Man {Ire}). PRIZE MONEY BOOSTS FOR SAUDI CUP CARD

In addition to the previously announced allocation of Group 1 status to the $20-million Saudi Cup and Group 3 status to five undercard Thoroughbred races, the Jockey Club of Saudi Arabia revealed in a press conference on Thursday some key purse increases for undercard races.

The 2022 Saudi Cup meeting, which will take place on Feb. 25 and 26, will be worth $35.1-million, making it the world’s richest race meeting. Prizemoney for the G3 Neom Turf Cup and the G3 1351 Turf Sprint have each been boosted by $500,000, and are now worth $1.5-million apiece.

The JCSA also revealed a series of new qualifying races for the Neom Turf Cup and 1351 Turf Sprint. The GI Pegasus World Cup Turf, G3 Bahrain International Trophy and the G3 Challenge Cup at Hanshin in Japan will be qualifiers for the Neom Turf Cup. The G2 Hanshin Cup has been added as a qualifier for the 1351 Turf Sprint. The three qualifying contests for the Saudi Cup remain the same: the GI Pegasus World Cup, the G1 Champions Cup in Japan and the Custodian of The Two Holy Mosques Cup.

“We could never have imagined the immediate impact The Saudi Cup would have on the international racing landscape, or indeed on our domestic racing product,” said HRH Prince Bandar Bin Khalid Al Faisal, Chairman of the Jockey Club of Saudi Arabia. “In 2020 we launched our first ever international meeting and less than three years later we enter our first racing season as a Part II racing nation, having been promoted by the IFHA earlier this month.” Cont. p13

“We are now looking forward to hosting the world’s most valuable race, The Saudi Cup, as a Group 1 for the first time, as well as five Group 3 races on the undercard. None of this would have been possible without the buy in and support of the international racing community and, on behalf of the Jockey Club of Saudi Arabia, I would like to thank everyone within the industry for the way they have embraced The Saudi Cup.

“As The Saudi Cup makes advances, so does our domestic racing offering. We continue to focus not only the international aspects of this sport but also understand that building strong foundations upon which a sustainable industry can be built is a vital element to securing the future of this incredible and unique sport for generations to come, both in Saudi Arabia and overseas.”

RECORD-SETTING FASIG OCTOBER SALE CONCLUDES

by Jessica Martini
LEXINGTON, KY - The Fasig-Tipton October Yearlings Sale, which had already surpassed its previous highest gross with a day to go, concluded Thursday with new high-water marks for average and median and its lowest buy-back rate since 2013.

“Day four was another outstanding day for the October sale,” said Fasig-Tipton President Boyd Browning. “It was a fitting conclusion to a great horse sale. It’s been a great week. The numbers have been tremendous all four days across the board. There were dramatic increases in gross, dramatic increases in average and dramatic increases in median and a pretty meaningful reduction in the RNA rate also. It was a very vibrant marketplace with tremendous depth in the bidding activity. There was a very diverse group of buyers to the bitter end. The sale exceeded our most optimistic expectations.”

By the close of business Thursday, 1,153 yearlings had sold for $52,607,500. The average of $45,672 was up 33.9% from 2020 and bettered the sales previous record figure of $37,955 set in 2019. The median of $25,000 was up 66.7% from 2020 and bettered the previous record of $18,500 set in 2014.

With just 205 horses reported not sold, the buy-back rate was a sparkling 15.1%.

Jacob West, bidding on behalf of Vinnie Viola’s St. Elias purchased four of the auction’s top five lots.

PASTURES NEW MAINTAIN OLD STANDARDS AT MILL RIDGE

by Chris McGrath

For a farm so steeped in heritage, and so properly respectful of it, there’s no mistaking the vitality, the aversion to complacency, animating Mill Ridge with a sixth generation now at the reins.

Back in April the Bell family grieved farm founder Alice Headley Chandler, a revered matriarch not just around their own hearth but among the whole Bluegrass community. But their loss, while poignantly refreshing their gratitude and sense of privilege, could only reinforce an engrained determination that her legacy be honored by all the ambition that had characterized her own, pioneering tenure.

West signed on behalf of the partnership of Viola and Mike Repole at a record-equalling $925,000 to secure a colt by Street Sense Wednesday. He made the highest bid of Thursday’s final session of the auction when going to $500,000 to secure a colt by Nyquist (hip 1281).

Thursday’s session topper was consigned by St. George Sales.

“It’s been a really good sale, top to bottom,” confirmed Archie St. George. “We have sold nearly everything through the ring. There is money here, obviously, for good horses, but the middle and bottom market is good. I’d say it’s carried on from September. Everything is positive. Long may it last. It’s a fun time to sell horses.”

Patience Pays With Nyquist Colt

Vinnie Viola’s St. Elias Stable added a colt by Nyquist (hip 1281) to its October haul when Jacob West, bidding over the internet, went to $500,000 to acquire the yearling from the St. George Sales consignment Thursday. The dark bay is out of Froyo Star (Rockport Harbor), a half-sister to multiple Grade I winner Sweet Reason (Street Sense) and graded winner Don’t Forget Gil (Kafwain).

“He’s a beautiful colt,” said Archie St. George. “He's got a lot of quality and presence. I'd like to thank Vinnie Viola and St. Elias for purchasing him and wish them the best of luck with him. We loved him and hopefully Vinnie will love him down the road.”

St. George and partners purchased the colt for $270,000 as a weanling at last year’s Fasig-Tipton November sale. The yearling was making his second trip through the sales ring this year after RNA’ing for $295,000 at the Fasig-Tipton Saratoga sale in August.

“He was probably in a bit of a growthy spurt then,” St. George said of the yearling’s trip to Saratoga. “He did really well when he came home. The extra month to October helped. He just matured and filled out. To me, he’s the whole package and I hope he runs now. We bought him here last November. We gave him a lot of money for him, so it’s nice when it turns out.”

St. George has had success selling into a competitive yearling market. Asked if he was concerned about buying weanlings in that market when the calendar shifts to bloodstock sales in two weeks, he said, “It will be tough, but it always is. It’s always very competitive to buy foals. There are a lot of good judges out there, people who do well year in and year out. And you have to work the sale hard. We are lucky between my wife, Michelle, and Roger O’Callaghan, we have a great team and we’ve had a lot of luck together. So we just have to work hard and hope we get lucky.”

Glen Hill Gets Its Gun Runner

After getting outbid on yearlings from Saratoga to Kentucky, bloodstock agent Donato Lanni finally signed a ticket on behalf of Glen Hill Farm when going to $335,000 to acquire a filly by Gun Runner (hip 1584) just two hips before the end of the Fasig-Tipton October sale Thursday night.

“If there is a good horse here, people will wait around for her,” Lanni said. “We've been trying to buy a horse for Glen Hill all year and we've been outbid all year. This is the first horse I bought for [Glen Hill’s Craig Bernick] all year. We waited for the last sale of the year and one of the last horses through the ring. He said he wanted to buy something. We stretched a little bit for her, but we had been outbid at Saratoga, September and here. So we feel fortunate we were able to get her.”

The bay filly is the first foal out of stakes-placed Lunar Gaze (Malibu Moon). She was bred by Waymore LLC of the late Tom Conway and Charles Moore and was consigned by Taylor Made. Waymore purchased Lunar Gaze, in foal to Pioneerof the Nile, for $450,000 at the 2018 Keeneland November sale. The mare sold in foal to Vino Rosso for $90,000 at the 2020 Keeneland November sale.

“Gun Runner is off to a great start,” Lanni said. “And this filly was very nice. She had a lot of tone to her and a lot of strength to her.”

Zacney Strikes for Two Thursday

Chuck Zacney had been outbid on a couple of horses earlier in the October sale, but came back strong to take home two yearlings in the name of his Cash is King Thursday. First up, bloodstock agent Michael Hernon signed the ticket for the operation at $230,000 on a colt by Bolt d'Oro (hip 1332) and, as the sale was winding down Zacney, bidding on the phone, went to $290,000 to acquire a colt by Street Sense (hip 1580) from the Burleson Farms consignment. WE LOOK FORWARD TO SEEING EVERYONE THIS NOVEMBER
Hip 1580 is the first foal out of Lucky Cover (Medaglia d'Oro), a daughter of multiple graded stakes winner Teammate (A.P. Indy).

“He was a big, strong, athletic colt with a great page,” Zacney said of the colt. “With Medaglia d’Oro on the bottom and I’m a big fan of Street Sense. When I saw him, I loved everything about him.”

The yearling was bred by Nice Guys Stable, which purchased Lucky Cover for $195,000 at the 2018 Keeneland November sale.

Hip 1332 is out of the unraced Gwithian (Street Sense), a half-sister to multiple Grade I placed Solomini (Curlin). He was bred by Clark Brewster and was consigned by Fort Christopher’s Thoroughbreds.

“We are hearing a lot of good things about Bolt d’Oro, so we decided to jump in and get one,” Zacney explained. “We thought he was one of the better ones.”

Of his October shopping, Zacney said, “I actually came in last night and bid on one or two earlier in the sale and didn’t get them. They were fillies, so I had to step up my game a little bit and jump a little higher for the colts, and I did.”

Zacney said both yearlings will likely be trained by Butch Reid.

Legion Bloodstock Takes Off

A group of four friends, each with sales and racing interests, decided to pool their resources and their talents under one umbrella and Legion Bloodstock was formed. Travis Durr, Evan Ciannello, Kristian Villante and Kyle Zorn debuted the new agency at the Keeneland September Yearling Sale and came away with 17 yearlings for a total of $2,110,000. The group continued to be active at this week’s Fasig-Tipton October sale, signing for five yearlings for a total of $373,000. Leading the Fasig purchases was a $250,000 filly by Good Magic. Cont. p6
“Travis Durr is a good friend of ours and he breaks all of our yearlings for us,” Ciannello said. “He approached us and said, ‘What if we combine forces? We can work on marketing and getting our name out there.’”

Ciannello continued, “We have another syndicate, and we have other clients that we’ve bought for in the past, we had never bought under a banner. We’ve used different agents, but we mostly use different trainers and then the trainer would get the horse. So it just made sense to pool our talents.”

Also joining the new venture was Kristian Villante and Kyle Zorn.

“Kristian Villante is a bloodstock agent, he’s been doing this and he has his own clients,” Ciannello said. “Kyle works for Hagyard Pharmacy. He worked for [trainer] Pat Byrne for years and now he manages Chuck and Maribeth Sandford’s racing operation. So he brings that background with the horsemanship and the racing side of it.”

Pooling their talents and resources, the group works as a committee.

“At the sale, we will look at everything and everyone will say, ‘OK, here are the horses I like.’ We will all go off of different short lists and everybody splits up and then we compare notes. Then we do a second look and, if everybody signs off, we go after that horse.”

Joining forces has also allowed the agency to have coverage at, not just all the major sales, but also regional auctions. In addition to Keeneland September and Fasig October, Legion Bloodstock was on the results sheets at the Fasig-Tipton Saratoga Fall Sale, the Fasig-Tipton Midlantic Fall Yearlings Sale, and the Ocala Breeders’ Sales Company’s October Yearling Sale.

“We buy at every level, from the bottom, the top and everywhere in between,” Ciannello said. “We do some pinhooking. We have a partnership where we bought four yearlings this year all for $30,000 or less and the goal is to sell them. Hopefully they will be precocious, maybe get a start at Keeneland in April and have a good showing and get sold privately. If not, the July Horses of Racing Age Sale here [at Fasig-Tipton] will be the end of the road.”

Have a broad base of clients to draw from also gives Legion Bloodstock the flexibility to put together various partnerships to better compete in a competitive market.

“We will get creative,” Ciannello said. “We will put together partnerships. We aren’t afraid to partner with partners. We bought a filly Tuesday for $250,000, a Good Magic filly, and we had to stretch, but we got her. For the perceived good ones, they are hard to buy. So we go back to the drawing board at the end and talk to everybody and say this is what we got and who wants what percentage. It's very flexible and everybody is like-minded. We can say these people will gel well with these people, so we can put together a group. Let’s face it, the partnerships are the future. Even the billionaires out there are partnering, so if we want to compete, we have to do the same thing.”

Legion Bloodstock has already gained a toe-hold in the sales arena.

“So far, it's been very encouraging,” Ciannello said of the agency’s early reception. “I didn't think it would grow so far this fast, but already we have our hats and people saying, ‘Hey, Legion Bloodstock!’ So it's been pretty cool so far. Hopefully, some horses from this first group hit. That would be great for us and we can keep it growing.”

And now, in a confident invitation to traffic from the impending breeding stock sales, they have just extended capacity with the acquisition—or retrieval, rather—of 288 acres from Calumet.

Retrieval, because this parcel of land was once part of the Beaumont Farm where Mrs. Chandler’s father Hal Price Headley raised the likes of Menow and Alcibiades. On his death, in 1962, she inherited just a nook of the farm, around 1/16th of its extent; while this portion was left to her sister. Later on, it was actually leased by Mill Ridge for a few decades until the farm shared in the shocks absorbed by the industry after 2008, and it was sold to Calumet in 2015. Its return to the fold, then, is expressive of a striving for regeneration by the heirs to the breeder of the game-changing Sir Ivor.

"It’s the type of land we all covet," says Price. "Big, open spaces for horses to develop, 40-acre pastures with big slopes and big trees. But this is also about our team, our human capital. Our infrastructure was developed to handle 130, 140 mares. As our numbers declined with the foal crop, we didn’t adjust our team. So we have talented people, blessed by incredible horsemanship and experience. To utilize that to the full, we need more volume; and to accommodate that, we needed more land. So that’s how we hope to make this thing go. We’re lucky to have people who are so passionate about the horse, and about the farm. Now we just need to make sure they have the stock to do what they do so well."

This kind of calculation is as educated as you could find in our community, Price having returned to Mill Ridge not only bearing the laurels of an MBA from Vanderbilt’s Owen School, but having already cut his teeth in the wider business world. Cont. p12

GIANT'S CAUSEWAY - MISS MACY SUE, BY TRIPPi | 2022 FEE: $45,000 S&N
Straight out of college—and it’s easy to imagine his livewire interview—he was appointed CEO of a $40 million commercial real estate asset in Charlotte, North Carolina.

“That was a very service-minded framework, which I really enjoyed and have carried with me since,” he says. “Charlotte was booming, but after things went well there the company decided to move me to Nashville—at a time when there were then less than 1,000 people living downtown. Still in my mid-20s, I found myself with nearly half a million square feet of 30-year-old office space with a significant leasing problem."

The point of this recollection, however, is not that the precocious salesman filled the vacant premises—though he duly did. What really told in Nashville was learning the organic connection between the commercial interests he happened to be serving, on the one hand, and improved viability for the city as a whole, on the other. Invited onto the board of a non-profit organisation devoted to downtown development, he embraced their agenda with a zeal that entitles him to a modest share of pride in Nashville’s “meteoric” progress since.

That experience was not lost on Price after he accepted his father’s offer to return to a world in which he had, naturally, been given a thorough grounding in his youth—initially by joining the Nicoma Bloodstock agency that can count Street Sense (Street Cry [Ire]), Barbaro (Dynaformer), Havre de Grace (Saint Liam) and Bricks and Mortar (Giant’s Causeway) among counselled matings. In the 10 years since, Price and his father have been pivotal to the evolution of Horse Country, the open-our-gates tours that have transformed public engagement with Bluegrass farms. Horse Country, of course, obeyed much the same principles that Price had seen validated in Nashville: namely, that businesses will always thrive if embracing and enhancing their social and cultural setting. Cont. p13
A few days ago, Mill Ridge hosted a six-term congressman from Georgia on a Horse Country tour. He was entranced, stuck around for a coffee, chatted. At one point he looked Price in the eye. "Don't you ever sell this place," he said. The next day Price found himself driving another septuagenarian visitor round the farm: a woman from upstate Ohio who had been drawn to the sport by Zenyatta—not a fanbase, it must be granted, always received with patience by busy professionals.

"This woman had become our biggest 'virtual tour' fan," Price explains, referring to the enterprising solution adopted when lockdown broadsided Horse Country. "As we drove around she kept stopping me to take in the view, kept saying, 'I just can't believe where I am right now...' It made me feel as close to John Lennon as I'm ever likely to feel! So here we had a woman who's been around the sun 75 times, speechless, within 24 hours of our visitor from Georgia. Two such different people, both entering our orbit for a very brief time—and it was interesting to me that not only did we have that impact on both of them, but they each had an impact on us, too.

"Because it's that kind of experience that reminds us how special this all is, how very lucky we are to do what we do--and the responsibility we all have, to share the horse, to share the land, to share Lexington. At the end of the day, this business is about humans and horses. And that is not something we can assign to associations, to NTRA or TOBA or the Jockey Club. It's the responsibility of all of us, as individuals."

Happily, Price feels that horse evangelism is a little easier now than has previously been the case. Behind Mill Ridge's roll of the dice, in expanding capacity, is a conviction that the whole sport has a new spring in its step: that people are eager to go out and enjoy life, to put the economic and social trauma of the pandemic behind them. Cont. p14
"I feel there's a lot of good momentum," he says. "In taking on this risk, this big investment, we feel there are great opportunities going forward for the industry, and for Mill Ridge as well. Finally it feels like we're rowing together a little more than we have been. We see great hope for our sport, for our community, and we're investing in ourselves and welcoming new clients. I guess it feels like the first time, really since the '08 crash, that everything is really growing again.

"Back then we all felt like we were battening hatches down, constantly bailing out water: the foal crop adjustment, PETA, Santa Anita, aftercare. With no fan engagement, that could have knocked us out. Quite frankly, if we'd continued being complacent in our racetracks, our horses, our fans, we'd beshrivelling and wilting away. We still have some big issues, obviously. But the key tenets of what we do, and how we share those, have been restructured. And I'd say the foundation is now stronger than it has been in my lifetime. We're excited by that."

Horse Country had an incidental benefit, too. With such a delicate margin between family and professional life, Price and Headley treated the enterprise as a useful "test drive" for how they might work together in their own business.

"In working so closely on a passion project, on something that wasn't our core business, Dad and I could develop a confidence in each other that has ultimately allowed this transition to take place," Price says. "We saw that we could work as teammates, as opposed to me coming in and saying, 'This is how you should be doing everything,' or him looking at me saying, 'You haven't proven you can do anything.' Mill Ridge is here today, and successful, because of my dad and my grandmother, because of my uncles, and because of our clients. And Mill Ridge tomorrow will be successful for the same reason."

At this point Headley joins the call. A man of such courtesy and dignity was never going to cling resentfully to the authority of a parent, and he discusses the situation with candour and quiet pride.

"We're fortunate that in Price, and the team he's building, we have a lot of talent," he says. "He happens to be our son, but he's always been visionary, always been willing to take a position and back it up, always been a team player. When he was president of his class in high school, that wasn't because he was some super jock. It was because he was inclusive of others, and elevated those around him. And he brings in people with similar strengths. So not only is Mill Ridge better off, but the industry will be, too."

Headley likes the way the transition evolved almost of its own volition. There was no turning point, no formal deadline. It gradually became clear, during lockdown, that the time was right; but that realization had been reached by lifelong increments.

They fortified the arrangements by involving Price's mother, sister and wife; and there was so much counsel and support at hand: from "Doc" Chandler, from Headley's brothers, from Duncan Macdonald who worked here for 38 years.

"Remember, there had never been any pressure for me to go on with this, and nor was there any pressure on Price," Headley says. "It did not have to go on. What I've done with Nicoma for 45 years has been very fulfilling. Mill Ridge, I'd long been part of the team parallel to Nicoma but stepped in only in '07, when Mom was 82.

"And out of that evolution, when Gatewood [Bell, nephew] was going out on his own, I approached Price and said: 'If you're interested, here's where we're at.' And do you know what he said? 'Let me get back to you, Dad.' He's going to get back to me! But about three months later, he did come back. And he said: 'Three things, Dad. Number one: I would never want to do anything to jeopardize our relationship.' So that was, like, wow. 'Number two: I'm bringing what I believe to be my future wife into this environment. Is that fair to her? And number three: am I qualified to do it?'"

But just to ask those questions, in effect, was to answer them. It's not just the equine graduates of this regime that you can judge by the results. Cont. p15
"I've been very fortunate through my time, to be successful enough to have the liquidity to navigate the water," reflected Headley. "That's positioned us to build for the next generation, without, say, needing someone to come in and partner. There's nothing more enriching than being able to include your children in whatever you're doing, especially something like this. And that's something we feel every day, with these Horse Country tours. People say, first off: 'Thank you very much for sharing.' But then also: 'Wow, do you know how lucky you are to do what you do?!' So all we ever have to do is step out the door and look. We don't take anything for granted.

That can seldom have been so true as when the family shared its memories of Headley's mother this spring.

"Really, she stays alive through this effort," remarks Headley. "I say that to people often. We feel her presence here, in our efforts. Dr. Chandler has always been such a great team-mate. It's been difficult for him, of course, but he really embraces Price and his energy."

Price, for his part, will always view his grandmother as a model of how to be a good citizen of the Turf. "Reflecting on her life, I think the great inspiration is that she didn't ever back down from any challenge," he says. "Not just at the farm, but in the industry too. KTA, KTOB, Gluck Center, dozens of causes. She was a very thoughtful person and passionate too: when she had a conviction, she worked tirelessly with many like-minded people to make things better."

And, with that inherited sense of the bigger picture, Price is adamant that connecting fans with the horse is not just good public relations, but good business. "Our personal experience is that the magic we really need to push comes from bringing people to the farm, bringing them to the races, introducing people to horses," he says. Cont. p16

FASIG-TIPTON KY OCTOBER YEARLING

CONGRATULATIONS TO CONSIGNOR SUSAN Y. FOREMAN AGENT
AND BUYER GRADE ONE BLOODSTOCK
"That's not to diminish everything else that's being done: the TAA, the improved screenings and accountability at the racetrack. But that's where we felt we could contribute: connecting people to horses. There's great curiosity out there as to how you breed a horse, raise a horse, choose a horse to get to the finish line first. That's the elixir we have, and I guess sharing that with more people has always inspired me."

Of course, you can only engage people with horses if you know how to engage with people. And that's what really augurs so well for the new era at Mill Ridge--though that MBA presumably won't do any harm, either.

"In the end I guess I'm curious by nature," Price says. "Maybe that additional schooling gave me the confidence to be inquisitive, and to learn from the type of people who are now our customers. But more importantly it also gave me even greater confidence that what we have is very special; and that we're very lucky. It's just that sometimes we don't recognize that, or don't package it quite right."

Its pastures new contain an apt analogy for what is happening at Mill Ridge. Because if the horse-lore handed down between generations represents deep soil, dense roots, then you don't just leave turf to grow rank or parched. It's by keeping active, by mowing or grazing, that you foster its healthy renewal.

"While we're in transition, the industry is also in transition," notes Headley. "You see it on the racetrack, you see it in these partnerships, you see it with NYRA. There's an evolution. All you had to do is look at Keeneland recently, when Gatewood filled up the winner's circle with family and friends, maybe 60 strong--and probably 30 of them under the age of eight! It's certainly not just Price, there's a lot of talent in his generation. So this feels very natural, fitting well with what's happening in the industry as a whole. This is a really exciting time."

COBB’S DELAWARE LICENSED REVOKED THROUGH 2022
by T.D. Thornton

Amber Cobb, the Thoroughbred owner and trainer who had been summarily suspended by the Delaware Park stewards last month after having already served a 60-day penalty earlier in the summer for “improper or inhumane treatment” of a horse, had her license yanked again Thursday for the remaining term of its three-year issuance, through Dec. 31, 2022.

Among the reasons listed in the Oct. 28 revocation ruling by the Delaware Thoroughbred Racing Commission (DTRC) were that Cobb failed to appear at a disciplinary hearing Oct. 22 that had been scheduled in relation to her Sept. 10 summary suspension.

The DTRC ruling also stated that, “Cobb was involved and was still participating in horse racing while under suspension” and that she failed to attend an anger management program as had been directed by the stewards.

Cobb, 33, could not be reached for comment prior to deadline for this story.

Cobb’s 60-day suspension earlier this year involved a video recorded by a stable employee back in February in which Cobb shouted at a horse and struck at the animal with a plastic pitchfork, causing the horse to fall.

The Oct. 28 ruling stated that the hearing that Cobb skipped had been scheduled for the purpose of having her “answer to complaints and allegations of past abuse and neglect of horses in her care that did not involve her recent suspension.”

In addition, the ruling stated that “Ms. Cobb failed to get approval by the stewards for bills of sale and horse transfers [for] horses that were in her care remained on the grounds of another trainer during the term of her suspension. Ms. Cobb solicited the services of another licensed Delaware trainer that brought horses on the grounds that were not approved by the stewards.”
2022 MARYLAND DATES TO INCLUDE AUGUST MEET AT PIMLICO
by T.D. Thornton

The inclusion of an August race meet at Pimlico Race Course for the first time in 17 years was the only major change in the 2022 slate of racing dates approved Thursday by the Maryland Racing Commission.

Although not discussed at the Oct. 28 meeting, one obvious benefit to the mid-summer move from Laurel Park to Pimlico will be the ability to give Laurel’s turf course a break during the hottest time of the year in Maryland.

Pimlico last ran in the late summer back in 2005, when its calendar also included dates in January, April through June, and August.

In 2006, Pimlico’s schedule got cut to an April-through-June meet. Between 2007 and 2015 it raced just April and May. In 2016 Pimlico raced May and June, and from 2017 to 2019 the schedule was pared down to only 12 dates in May in conjunction with the GI Preakness S.

The schedule for the last two years at Pimlico got thrown into an aberrational flux.

In 2020, the COVID-19 pandemic wiped out spring racing in the state, so Pimlico raced just six dates over two weeks in September and October in conjunction with the repositioned Preakness.

In 2021, Pimlico had to pick up dates in April through August because of the emergency closure at Laurel to install a new main track.

After years of debate over what to do with the decaying Pimlico, its owner, The Stronach Group (TSG), has recently partnered with the city and the state for an approximately $400-million redevelopment plan that will keep the Preakness in Baltimore while revitalizing the track’s surrounding neighborhoods.

The Washington Post recently described the plan, which is just getting started, like this: "TSG will turn Pimlico over to the city. Its clubhouse and grandstand will be demolished and the racetrack rotated 30 degrees to free up parcels to sell for other development. A new clubhouse and event center will be erected, but horse training and stable operations will be consolidated at Laurel Park. All racing will move to Laurel, except for a short spring meet in Baltimore that will include the Preakness."

Maryland’s full 2022 Thoroughbred calendar follows:
- Timonium (7 dates): Aug. 25-Sept. 5.

JAPANESE RUNNERS CONFIRMED FOR DIRT MILE

The connections of Jasper Prince (Violence) and Pingxiang (Speightstown) confirmed Thursday morning that the runners will compete in the GI Big Ass Fans Breeders’ Cup Dirt Mile Nov. 6 instead of the G1 Qatar Racing Breeders’ Cup Sprint.

Both Jasper Prince, owned by Kazuo Kato, and Pingxiang, owned by Naoya Fuji, are trained by Hideyuki Mori. The Dirt Mile was the first preference of both at pre-entry.

It was also announced Thursday that four horses are not traveling to Del Mar for next weekend’s World Championships.

La Joconde (Ire) (Frankel {GB}), owned by Michael Tabor, Derrick Smith, Mrs. John Magnier and Westerberg is not traveling for the GI Maker’s Mark Breeders’ Cup Filly & Mare Turf. Cont. p18
That moves the first also-eligible, Juddmonte’s Acanella (GB) (Dansili (GB)) into the race. Bonne Chance Farm and Stud R D I’s Imperador (Arg) (Treasure Beach (GB)) is not coming for the GI Longines Breeders’ Cup Turf. That moves the first also-eligible, Masaaki Matsushima, Derrick Smith, Mrs. John Magnier and Michael Tabor’s Japan (GB) (Galileo (Ire)) into the race. Peter Stokes and Scott Krase’s Crazyland (GB) (Kodiac (GB)) is not shipping for the GI Breeders’ Cup Juvenile Fillies Turf and Kazuo Kato’s Jasper Krone (Frosted) will not ship from Japan. He was pre-entered in both the GI Breeders’ Cup Juvenile Turf, his first preference, and the GI TVG Breeders’ Cup Juvenile.

CRAZY BEAUTIFUL RETURNS TO TURF IN DEEP VALLEY VIEW

Four-time stakes winner Crazy Beautiful (Liam’s Map), who raced once on turf in her career debut, will return to the lawn Friday at Keeneland in an extremely deep renewal of the GIII Rubicon Valley View S. for 3-year-old fillies going 1 1/16 miles on turf.

Running away to a 3 1/2-length score first out on the Ellis turf last summer, the gray repeated by 3 3/4 lengths in the Runhappy Debutante S. on dirt there to earn ‘TDN Rising Star’ honors before recording runner-up finishes in the GII Pocahontas S., GI Darley Alcibiades S. and GII Davona Dale S. Back in the winner's circle after a score in the GII Gulfstream Park Oaks, the $250,000 Fasig-Tipton October grad has added victories in the GII Summertime Oaks, GIII Delaware Oaks and last out in the Seneca Overnight S. Oct. 1 at Churchill.

HALF-BROTHER TO ARC WINNER, ECLIPSE CHAMPION THRIVING IN SECOND CAREER

by Bill Finley

Nearly 200 Thoroughbreds competed in The Jockey Club Thoroughbred Incentive Program (T.I.P.) Championships held earlier this month in Aiken, South Carolina. There were classes covering seven disciplines and there were 26 divisions spanning hunters, jumpers, dressage, combined tests, Western dressage, English pleasure and Western pleasure. That meant a lot of variety among the competitors, all of them with a unique story. There was a 27-year-old horse and a 2-year-old horse. There were horses that didn’t accomplish much of anything during their racing careers and then there was one, Two Notch Road (Partner’s Hero), who made $536,139 on the track and had two stakes wins. Cont. p19
Then there was Radiant Child (Ire) (Charm Spirit {Ire}). He is as well-bred as a horse can be.

Radiant Child’s story didn’t start well as he never made it to the races. But it will end well. He was placed in a loving home and is now enjoying his second career as a show horse. It shows that any horse, even one who is a half-brother to the winner of the G1 Qatar Prix de l’Arc de Triomphe, as well as to an Eclipse Award winner, can be in need of a soft place to land once retired.

Out of the dam Starlet’s Sister (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), Radiant Child was purchased for €400,000 at the 2018 Arqana August Yearling Sale by Peter Brant’s White Birch Farm and comes from a family that has been very good to the owner. Brant also owned his half-brother, 2020 Arc de Triomphe winner Sottsass (Fr) (Siyouni (Fr)), and his half-sister, Sistercharlie (Ire) (Myboycharlie {Ire}), the 2018 champion turf female. There’s also another talented half-sister that Brant owns, My Sister Nat (Fr) (Acclamation {GB}), the winner of this year’s GIII Fasig-Tipton Waya S. for the second time. She has been pre-entered for the GI Breeders' Cup Filly & Mare Turf.

Even when a horse has a superstar pedigree, everything must go right for the horse to be a success on the racetrack. In this case, it didn’t. It turned out that Radiant Child had a problem with a tendon in his left hind hock. The Brant team tried everything, including stem cell treatments and gelding the horse, to get him to the races, but, in the end, it was decided that it was in his best interests to retire him without his having had a start.

Brant is one of the most successful owners in the business, but even he will have horses that don’t work out. Jean Bickley, Brant’s racing manager, said he makes it a priority to find a good home for each and every one. In this case, Brant didn’t have to look far. Bickley decided to adopt him.

"When the [2020] season at Payson was ending, the team didn’t think he’d ever have the push behind to stay sound so the decision was made to rehome him," Bickley said. "I’d always loved the horse since we got him, and always said if he ever needed a home I wanted him. Mr. Brant offered Radiant Child to me because the family is very important to him and he knew the horse would have the best of everything. I’ve worked for him for 34 years and he’s been aware of many of my horse pursuits over the years."

Bickley was looking for a horse she could spend some time with and enjoy.

"My other Thoroughbreds are both older and I was looking for an all-around horse," she said. "I bought a home in Aiken three years ago so that I could ride out, do a little bit of showing. At this point in my career, I just want to enjoy my horses and maybe show a little. I wanted to have an all-around horse and I thought he fit the bill."

Radiant Child is now “Dudley,” the barn name given to him by Bickley.

"Dudley is the angel in the film “The Bishop's Wife,” which was my mother’s favorite Christmas movie, and Dudley was played by Cary Grant," Bickley explained. "He’s handsome and funny, just like the horse, and charming and everyone liked him. It is the perfect name for him."

It seems that Dudley has quite the personality. He loves donuts and gets glazed donuts from Dunkin' Donuts every day but Sunday. On Sundays, he feasts on donuts from Krispy Kreme. He’s smart and friendly and likes people and other horses. Bickley says he’s a dream to own.

"Everyone who had him said he was just the kindest, sweetest, smartest horse," she said. "He’s very unique because he’s probably the most chill Thoroughbred you will ever see."

“He is beautiful and he comes from a really good family, so, because of that, he gets a lot of attention,” she continued. “He loves all horses. My other horses are quirky, but he doesn’t have any quirks. He’s just friendly and fun. He’s a good ambassador because he’s not at all like what some people think of when they think of the Thoroughbred. He has a laid-back personality and is kind. People have misconceived ideas that these horses come off the track and they are all crazy. He is a very good ambassador for Thoroughbreds and how versatile they are and the variety of things they can do if people just take the time to transition them into new careers.”

Radiant Child is a rookie when it comes to his new career, but he’s showing promise. Bickley said she will only enter a few shows a year, ones like the T.I.P. Championships, where Radiant Child won the In-Hand Class for 2-year-old to 5-year-old geldings and colts out of 20 horses and was third in the Championship In-Hand Class.

The Thoroughbred Incentive Program was launched by The Jockey Club in 2012 as a way to encourage people to adopt off-track Thoroughbreds. More than 58,850 eligible Thoroughbreds have taken part and there have been more than 6,500 horse shows and events that have included T.I.P. classes or awards. Any horse that has been registered with The Jockey Club or a foreign Thoroughbred stud book recognized by The Jockey Club is eligible to take part. The 2021 T.I.P. Championships included $60,500 in prize money.

Radiant Child also competed in the New Vocations All-Thoroughbred Charity Horse Show in September.

Bickley would like to see Dudley excel in the show ring, but it’s more important to her that he have a good home and a good life. So far, so good.

“He loves this,” she said. "He eats donuts and he hangs out with dogs. He’s as happy as a clam.”

LANE'S END SURFBOARDS TO BENEFIT PDJF

Twenty-four handcrafted surfboards representing the entire Lane's End Farm stallion roster will be on display at Del Mar and at Breeders' Cup partner hotels from Nov. 3-6 and will be auctioned off to benefit the Permanently Disabled Jockeys Fund, according to a press release from the farm Thursday.

The PDJF is an independent charitable organization that provides financial assistance to jockeys who have suffered catastrophic injuries.

The unique boards will be on public display at the Hyatt Regency, Fairmont Grand, Lodge at Torrey Pines, and L'Auberge—as well as Del Mar Racetrack Nov. 3-6.

During this time, the boards will be sold to the highest bidders via live online auction and 100% of proceeds will be donated to the PDJF.

“This cause has been one of the major focuses of my parents' philanthropy,” said Bill Farish of Lane's End Farm. “It's been underfunded for a long time and it's very important to us that we support the often forgotten jockeys who risk their lives for our entertainment and our business.”

As part of the activation, TVG will air a segment filmed in Los Angeles featuring the custom Lane's End surfboards and some of racing's most respected jockeys. Cont. p21
Mike Smith, Joe Bravo and Drayden Van Dyke will all receive a surfing lesson from Paul Naret of Chilli Surfboards. Those interested in bidding on the Lane’s End custom surfboards benefitting the PDJF can do so at www.lanesend.com/auction.

AQUEDUCT TO RE-OPEN TO FANS NOV. 11

Aqueduct Racetrack will re-open to the public on Thursday, Nov. 11, opening day of the 2021 fall meet. Originally closed to fans during the height of the COVID-19 emergency in March of 2020, Aqueduct then became the site of a New York State mass vaccination center in January 2021. The vaccination center, which has distributed more than 300,000 COVID-19 inoculations to date, was a critical piece in the New York State led effort to quickly and efficiently vaccinate New Yorkers. The size and scope of the center, which occupied the entirety of Aqueduct’s first floor, required the continued closure of the facility to the general public.

“We are proud to have partnered with New York State so that so many New Yorkers had easy access to these incredibly important vaccines,” said NYRA President and CEO Dave O’Rourke. “NYRA would also like to thank our loyal fans for their patience as we worked to bring them back to the Big A. Aqueduct is New York City’s racetrack, and we couldn’t be happier to finally be able to open the doors once again on Nov. 11.”

While the vaccination center will remain in operation, its footprint will be reduced and consolidated. Appointments are optional and walk-ins are currently being accommodated for COVID-19 vaccinations at Aqueduct.

TCA NAMED CO-CHARITABLE BENEFICIARY OF DERBY ROCKIN’ EVE

Thoroughbred Charities of America has been name the co-charitable beneficiary of Paristown’s inaugural Derby Rockin’ Eve, presented by Woodford Reserve, a star-studded Derby Eve party that will feature a performance from country music recording artist Jake Owen, with a portion of the evening’s proceeds benefitting the Norton Healthcare Foundation’s Derby Divas, as well as TCA.

“We will be tenting and showcasing the entire Paristown seven-acre Cultural Arts and Entertainment District for this Rockin’ Derby Eve extravaganza,” said Steve Smith, Managing Partner of Paristown.

Tickets will be limited to just 1,000 VIP guests who will be greeted with champagne as they enter Christy’s Garden, which will be transformed into an outdoor garden party with all food and beverage included with VIP admission. After the garden party, guests will be treated to an up close and personal Jake Owen concert in Old Forester’s Paristown Hall, a state-of-the-art music venue that just opened in 2019.

To learn more about becoming a founding sponsor of Rockin’ Derby Eve in Paristown, contact Joey Wagner at: joey@jwagnergroup.com. VIP tickets are $850 and are available at derbyeve.com.

LATEST FOAL OUT OF LESLIE'S LADY EARN 'RISING STAR' TAG

Clarkland Farm homebred MARR TIME (Not This Time), the penultimate foal out of outstanding blue hen Leslie's Lady (Tricky Creek), made her debut a winning one at Keeneland and earned the 'TDN Rising Star' tag in the process. Showing good early speed, the 3-5 chalk sparred with 20-1 longshot Roll Baby (Runhappy) through a :22.84 opening quarter. Shaking off that foe on the backstretch, the bay jumped clear in the lane to win going away by 2 3/4 lengths. Dame Joviale (Into Mischief) was the runner-up. Marr Time is the second 'TDN Rising Star' for her young sire Not This Time, joining GISW Princess Noor.

Fred & Nancy Mitchell's Clarkland Farm purchased the golden goose that is Leslie's Lady for just $100,000 in foal to Orientate at the 2006 Keeneland November Sale and it would prove to be the bargain of a lifetime. Her 2005 foal Into Mischief (Harlan's Holiday) won the GI Cashcall Futurity S. for Spendthrift 13 months after that purchase. He went on to become one of the most prolific stallions of his generation and seems to just get better each year. Her fourth foal for the Clarkland team was none other than future Hall of Famer Beholder (Henny Hughes), a $180,000 KEESEP purchase by Spendthrift. The bay mare won four Eclipse awards, three Breeders' Cup races and seven other Grade I events, earning over $6.1 million before retiring to the breeding shed.

Leslie's Lady's 2013 foal, a Curlin filly named Leslie's Harmony, summoned $1.1 million from Bridlewood Farm at Keeneland September, but she did not reproduce her siblings' racetrack prowess. However, Leslie's Lady's 2015 foal outdid that filly in the sales ring and on the track. Mendelssohn (Scat Daddy) topped the 2016 KEESEP sale on a final bid of $3 million from Coolmore and captured the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf and G2 UAE Derby. The GI Travers S. runner-up currently stands at Ashford Stud and his oldest foals are yearlings, who have been well received in the sales ring. Leslie's Lady's last foal to be offered at auction, an American Pharoah filly named America's Joy, set a new record when summoning a whopping $8.2 million from Mandy Pope's Whisper Hill Farm at Keeneland September. Sadly, the 3-year-old filly was euthanized over the summer after suffering a career-ending injury in a workout. The 25-year-old mare's final foal is the now-yearling filly Love You Irene (Kantharos), who, like Marr Time, was retained by her breeder.

Marr Time (Not This Time), a daughter of Leslie's Lady) was one of two 'TDN Rising Stars' at Keeneland Thursday.

Wertheimer and Frere homebred ZATIP (Tapit), a son of Grade I winner Zaftig (Gone West), turned on the after burners late to become the second ‘TDN Rising Star’ of the day at Keeneland Thursday afternoon. Off slow in his turf sprint unveiling at Laurel Oct. 1, he rallied to be fifth and was given a 5-1 chance in this switch to the main track over a wet surface. Drawn in post 11 of 12, the chestnut was hustled away from the stalls this time by James Graham and went straight to the front, contesting the pace alongside Coffee With Alex (Quality Road) through a :22.98 opening quarter and :46.08 half-mile. The pair turned for home together and continued to battled down the lane, but Zatip kicked it into high gear in the final sixteenth, charging clear to win by 4 1/2 lengths. Jego (Uncle Mo) made a late run to take second from Coffee With Alex. Zatip is the 48th ‘TDN Rising Star’ by perennial leading sire Tapit.

Wertheimer and Frere purchased GI Acorn S. victress Zaftig for $1.4 million in foal to Candy Ride (Arg) at the 2011 Fasig-Tipton November Sale. She produced a full-brother to the winner named Rugbyman, who was also tabbed a ‘TDN Rising Star’ for these connections and finished second in the Easy Goer S. She is also the dam of SW & MGSP Spinoff (Hard Spun). The 16-year-old mare has not produced a foal since Zatip. Zaftig is a daughter of fellow Grade I winner Zoftig (Cozzene), who also produced GISW Zo Impressive (Hard Spun), dam of MGSW Souper Tapit (Tapit).

BOLDISH (c, 3, Dialed In--Bold Lady, by Aikenite) drew in as a main-track-only entrant and took full advantage of a scratch-depleted field to take his current winning streak to three. Claimed from his breeder out of a third facing $40,000 maiden claimers off-the-turf at Saratoga Aug. 22, the chestnut broke through against $75,000 maidens in another rained-off event Sept. 2 and wired a $50,000 starter-allowance field by 2 1/2 lengths over this track Oct. 9. Clearly last from the stalls, the even-money chalk was content to trail the leading trio while unhurried down the backstretch. Asked to come after them five furlongs out, Boldish was up into second at the five-sixteenths, hit the front in upper stretch and kept on to take it by 2 1/4 lengths. Bold Lady is also the dam of a colt by Calumet’s Ransom the Moon that fetched $170,000 at the recent OBS October Sale after making $11,000 at KEENOV last fall. The colt’s third dam Weekend in Seattle (Seattle Slew) was a full-sister to A.P. Indy and produced SW Mambo In Seattle (Kingmambo), the luckless loser of the 2008 GI Travers S. DYN O MITE (c, 3, Goldencents--Boom Boom Dynamite, by Langfuhr) missed by a neck on the grass at Arlington July 25 and was sent to Catherine Day-Phillips at Woodbine to run in the Greenwood S., where he finished fourth Aug. 14. Sent back to Desormeaux, he crossed the line first in Indiana's Caesars S. Sept. 8, but was disqualified and placed second. Dispatched at 8-1 this time over a yielding course, the bay broke on top from his rail draw and was pressed by Parkland (Midnight Lute) through a :23.63 first quarter. Gaining a clear advantage through a half in :48.40, Dyn O Mite was confronted once again by Parkland, but shrugged him off turning for home, where he was joined by Mutakatif (Ire) (Acclamation {GB}). He turned back that foe late to win by a half-length. Boom Boom Dynamite’s only foal since the winner is a weanling colt by Texas Red. Lifetime Record: MSP, 16-3-6-1, $227,894. TRIKITRAKI (g, 2, Maclean's Music--Eileen's Song, by Kitten's Joy) graduated by 3 1/2 lengths in a modestly rated off-the-turfer at this venue Aug. 14 and was the 13-5 third choice to keep the streak alive while trying the Tapeta for the first time. Straight into the box seat, Trikitraki was asked to accelerate midway on the turn, ranged up to grab command off the home corner and skipped away late to score by 3 3/4 lengths. The unraced Eileen's Song is a daughter of GI Del Mar Oaks winner Rutherienne (Pulpit) and is a half-sister to Green Lantern Stables' Curly Ruth ( Curlin), an allowance winner over the Keeneland turf Oct. 15. Eileen's Song is the dam of a yearling Candy Ride (Arg) filly, a weanling filly by Gun Runner and was bred back to Twirling Candy. Sales history: $3,500 Wlg '19 KEENOV. BUY THE BEST (f, 2, Tapiture--Sister Dawn {SW & MGSP, $186,655}, by Indian Charlie) was second in her career bow at Pimlico May 23 and faded to fourth after setting the pace next out here June 21. Graduating by 4 1/2 lengths at this oval last time Sept. 29, she was heavily favored at 4-5 in this event. Unhurried early, the bay set back off respectable early fractions and made a bold four-wide run to win by 2 1/4 lengths. Maestria (Mastery) crossed the line second, but was disqualified for interference and placed third behind Boss Lady Kim (Street Boss). She was heavily favored at 3-5 in this first try on synthetic for Saffie Joseph. Stalking the early pace, the dark bay moved up outside to challenge entering the lane. Li Li Bear dueled with Hot Peppers (Khozan), edging ahead late to win by a neck. The winner's dam produced a Tapwrit colt last year. Lifetime Record: 3-1-0-0, $33,600. The dark bay raced off the pace in mid-pack through a :22.69 first quarter. Making a bold three-wide move on the backstretch, she was four wide turning for home and powered clear in the lane for a five-length graduation. Get Serious (Practical Joke) completed the exacta. Trapped out and unable to get on the track down the back, the bay was ridden along three wide past the three-sixteens, took command with less than a furlong to travel and reported home a 2 3/4-length winner at 5-1. A maternal grandson of GI Breeders' Cup Ladies' Classic winner Life Is Sweet (Storm Cat)-- whose Eclipse Award-winning full-sister Sweet Catomine was a GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies heroine--Mo Tap has a yearling half-sister by Union Rags and a weanling half-sister by Twirling Candy. Hammered down to even-money favoritism, the $600,000 FTKOCT purchase kept tabs on the leaders from a joint third through soft early splits. Moving up to challenge the leader on the backstretch, Bloodline took control turning for home and splashed home a dominant 7 3/4-length winner. Pure Rocket (Lord Nelson) was best of the rest in second. The winner is a half to Wind Fire (Distorted Humor), MSW & MGSP-Eng, $201,294. A. P. Llanarmon foaled this colt Apr. 28, 2019 and was subsequently bred to Mendelssohn prior to her export to Japan. She foaled a filly by the GI Breeders’ Cup Juvenile Turf-winning half-brother to Into Mischief last April. B-Shadai Farm (KY)

TOSEN CHIARA (JPN) (f, 2, American Pharoah--Giulia, by Sky Mesa) is the first produce of a dam who broke her maiden by many at two in Brazil before continuing her career in Uruguay, where she won the G1 Gran Premio de Ciudad de Montevideo on the dirt by 10 1/2 lengths in 2016 (video, SC 7). Well beaten in two starts for trainer Michael Matz in this country in 2018, Giulia was acquired privately by this breeder and was covered by American Pharoah before continuing on to Japan. The bay hails from the extended female family of champion Chief’s Crown (Danzig), winner of the inaugural GI Breeders’ Cup Juvenile in 1984. B-Takaya Shimakawa

1st-TOK, ¥13,400,000 ($118k), Newcomers, 2yo, 1400m

SHIRAKINU (f, 2, Frosted--Meets Expectations, by Valid Expectations), a half-sister to dual-surface GSW and Hill ‘n’ Dale stallion World of Trouble (Kantharos), SW Money Or Love (J Be K) and SP Alfie Solomons (Kantharos), cost Harry Sweeney’s Paca Paca Farm $335K on behalf of Godolphin to buy out breeding partners Darsan Inc. at the 2019 Fasig-Tipton November Sale. The Florida-bred filly’s dam is a half-sister to dual GI Woodford S. winner, two-time GI Breeders’ Cup Turf Sprint alum and popular young Florida stallion Bucchero (Kantharos). B-Darsan Inc & Godolphin (FL)

LADY SHIKA (f, 2, American Freedom--Lakefront, by Deputy Minister) becomes the first Japanese starter for her freshman sire (by Pulpit). The Feb. 18 foal, a half-sister to SW Dattts Our Girl (Thunder Gulch), was produced by an unraced daughter of Lakeway (Seattle Slew), a four-time Grade I winner and runner-up in the 1994 GI Kentucky Oaks and third behind Inside Information (Private Account) in her romping 1995 GI Breeders’ Cup Distaff score. Lakeway’s SW daughter Sluice (Seeking the Gold) was responsible for GSW Mushka (Empire Maker), second to Life Is Sweet (Storm Cat) in the 1999 GI Breeders’ Cup Ladies’ Classic. Sluice is also the dam of Aqua Julia (Exaggerator), who flew home from far back to graduate at first asking on Santa Anita debut Oct. 8. A $22K short yearling at KEEJAN last year, Lady Chika was RNAd for $45K at KEESEP and fetched $160K from Hideyuki Mori at this year’s OBS March after breezing an eighth of a mile in the bullet time of :9 4/5.
