TESSA BISHA DEVELOPS NEXT CLASS OF COX STABLE STARS

by Katie Petrunyak

Impressive GIII Sanford S. victor Mo Strike was the first Brad Cox-trained 2-year-old to make it to the winner's circle at Saratoga this year, but the son of Uncle Mo probably won't be the last. At last year's meet, Cox saddled five juveniles winners at the Spa, including the future multiple stakes-winning filly Bubble Rock (More Than Ready).

In recent years, the Cox barn's arsenal of talented 2-year-olds has rapidly developed in terms of both quality and quantity. While many of the stable's runners have reached future success alongside their back-to-back Eclipse Award-winning trainer, nearly all of them received their early schooling at Keeneland under Cox's assistant trainer Tessa Bisha.

Mo Strike was one of the first juveniles to arrive at the Brad Cox barn at Keeneland this spring, putting in three recorded works in May. When the colt showed early talent, he was among the first group that Bisha sent on to Churchill Downs. A few weeks later, he broke his maiden there on debut and is now pointing toward the GI Hopeful S.

Bisha is passionate about training 2-year-olds. While she enjoys overseeing the older horses, she said that they usually have a good handle on their job already. Cont. p3

VAZQUEZ BANNED IN NEW YORK

Trainer Juan Carlos Vazquez has been banned from running horses in the state of New York, according to a release from the New York State Gaming Commission.

In a ruling issued July 7, the Pennsylvania Board of Stewards suspended Vazquez through Jan. 26, 2025, alleging that a horse under his care was shipped from Belmont Park to Parx Racing who was in such poor health that it had to be euthanized after its arrival. The stewards labeled Vazquez's behavior "grossly negligent, cruel and abusive."

It its statement Monday, the NYSGC confirmed that it would be honoring the reciprocity of the suspension and would be prohibited from running horses at any New York track, including those run by the New York Racing Association (Aqueduct, Belmont and Saratoga) and Finger Lakes.

New York is one of 38 racing states that honors out-of-state suspensions issued by regulators. Reciprocity is addressed specifically in N.Y. Racing, Pari-Mutuel Wagering and Breeding Law Section 910. Cont. p6

PA RACING COMMISSION RELEASES SAFETY REPORT 6

The Pennsylvania Horse Racing Commission released its quarterly welfare and safety report Monday, reporting on fatality totals at Parx, Penn National and Presque Isle as well as the number of tips reported to its tip line from Apr. 1-June 30.

JOCKEY CLUB ROUND TABLE RETURNS TO IN PERSON 8

The popular Jockey Club Round Table Conference on Matters Pertaining to Racing will be back as an in-person event Aug. 14 in Saratoga Springs after it was forced to be a virtual event in 2020 and 2021 due to COVID-19.

With 2-year-olds, however, she has the opportunity to teach them and get their racing career off on the right foot.

"I'd say judging the 2-year-olds is the biggest part of my job--making sure that they get on the right pathway for success for whatever life has in store for them as far as racing goes and I feel like beyond that as well," Bisha said. "What I look for is I want them to be comfortable with what we're asking them to do. They need to come in with an open mind and a good attitude, and we try to help them get there if they're not when they come in. We go back to the gate early and often and we make it a laid-back and calming experience. We really focus on making everything a good experience for them."

Every year after the Keeneland Spring Meet has wrapped up, Bisha's incoming class of 2-year-olds starts to arrive. During her busiest months of May and June, she will have up to 85 juveniles under her care. The most precocious among the group will head to the Churchill Downs race meet and later, other promising youngsters will ship to Saratoga. When training at Keeneland concludes for the summer, the remaining pupils will stay under Bisha's care either at Ellis Park or Turfway Park.

"It's a bit of a revolving door in that sense," she said. "We really try to watch them breeze every week without trying to say if this horse is going to win the Derby or if it's going to be an absolute bust because they can grow and develop so much. They love proving you wrong and showing you how little you know, so we try to make sure that they all have the opportunity to basically become the best individual they can be with whatever talent and heart they bring to the table."

With that mindset, Bisha said she aims to keep an open mind when a horse joins her stable, regardless of any reputation that might precede them. Cont. p4

"You have to create an environment where they know what's expected of them," she said. "With the babies, you have an opportunity to develop them into being an individual that's not too tough on the track, not silly in the gate and not fractious in the barn. If you can get them to act right, they're usually kinder on themselves and handle their job better."

Bisha first began working for Cox in 2016 as an exercise rider before taking on the role of assistant trainer. In her first year overseeing the incoming 2-year-olds, she estimates that she had about 30 or 40 juveniles in her care. When stable star Monomoy Girl (Tapizar) came onto the scene, the influx of new trainees began soon after.

With the growth of their program, Bisha said that she has had to evolve her managerial role. She finds herself spending more time in the office checking and rechecking registration papers and set lists, going over charts with Cox, and putting in notes from blacksmith visits or for vaccination schedules.

"We have a staff that helps with all that, but I always feel better if I have a hand in it too," she admitted. "The more people that can check the boxes, the more you know it's thoroughly done."

Bisha and a barn favorite, 2021 GIII Matron S. winner Bubble Rock (More Than Ready) | Sara Gordon

Countless top-level horses have been under Bisha's care since Monomoy Girl's outstanding career. Essential Quality (Tapit) will always be one that stands out to Bisha. The four-time Grade I winner spent his early days at Keeneland and returned to Lexington to race several times during his juvenile and sophomore campaigns.

"He came in here and was just head and shoulders above everybody else," Bisha said. "Things with him were really streamlined, so there was no guesswork. He followed his own mind and liked to do his thing, but for the most part he never missed a work, he went straight to the races, and that was just him." Cont. p5

Asked which horses she is most proud to have had a hand in bringing up, Bisha named a few trainees that required a bit more legwork. One recent favorite is GIII Ohio Derby winner Tawny Port (Pioneerof the Nile), who was in her care almost all of last year as a juvenile.

"He actually broke his maiden at Turfway over the winter," she recalled. "I think those types of horses are really rewarding because they have more of, I guess a longshot feel in our barn. To know that you helped develop them and you let them go on their schedule, that can be very hard, but it's a big success when it works out."

Bisha said that as their program has continued to develop, one thing she believes they do best is keeping an open mind when it comes to helping their trainees progress.

"When we launched into this 2-year-old program and it started to really take off and get the numbers behind it, Brad and I would have heated discussions over how it was working out and what we were seeing," she said. "After horses showed us how wrong we were and us eating crow a few times, I think we kind of learned that you really just have to let the horse develop and show you who they want to be."

Bisha explained that every year, they make an effort to try something new or use a certain tool more frequently--maybe putting blinkers on more readily for a workout, warming up without the pony with a first-time starter, or going back to the starting gate one extra time before breezing.

"It might just be something small, but we try to stay open minded and focus on improving all the time and not just using our ego or what we think we know to get in the way of improving the program," she noted.

Last year, Bisha was a finalist for the TIEA Dedication to Racing Award. Prior to her time with Brad Cox, the Washington native worked at tracks in Southern California and all along the East Coast. These days, as her former pupils are making headlines at high-profile racetracks like Saratoga, she prefers to stay back home in Lexington training up the next class of future stars.

"I've been to a lot of different tracks so I feel like I've seen enough and done enough to where I'm pretty content just staying here and doing this," she said. "I don't mind traveling, but I find myself most fulfilled by training the 2-year-olds, so I don't feel any need to stray away from that."

The statute says, “§ 910. Reciprocity of licenses. All license denials, suspensions and revocations imposed by the pertinent racing and gambling authorities of other jurisdictions, including states, United States territories, and Canadian provinces shall be recognized and enforced by the commission …”

In February, Vazquez was handed down a stay of another suspension, at which time NYRA officials were forced to allow the trainer to run horses, while suggesting they reserved the right to file charges of their own.

There was some uproar on social media in the last week after Vazquez was permitted to enter and run horses at Saratoga. Over the course of the first four days, Vazquez saddled six horses, including Suprise Boss (War Dancer), who was third in Sunday's GIII Quick Call S.

PA RACING COMMISSION RELEASES WELFARE AND SAFETY QUARTERLY REPORT

The Pennsylvania State Horse Racing Commission reported Monday on the progress of its Equine Safety and Welfare Plan, a list of tangible steps intended to increase protections for horses racing at Pennsylvania's six tracks. The measures, which the commission began implementing Mar. 1, 2022, included an Integrity Hotline for reporting suspected illegal or unethical behavior.

"Early results from the hotline and other measures have been promising and reinforce the thorough consideration that went into developing the action plan," said Agriculture Secretary Russell Redding, who chairs the commission. "Implementing the strategy will be a long-term effort. The commission is committed for the long haul to protecting the integrity of the sport and the safety and welfare of the horses and participants."

The development of an equine fatality database was among the plan's 10 measures. Thoroughbred fatalities from Apr. 1-June 30 were 30 in 2021 and 17 in 2022. Fatalities to date in 2022 include 10 at Parx Racing in Philadelphia, five at Penn National in Dauphin County, and two at Presque Isle Downs in Erie County. Harness racing fatalities included three in 2021 and two during the same period in 2022--one at The Meadows in Washington County and one at Pocono Downs in Luzerne County.

Other new measures included an independent, third-party analysis of the racing surfaces at each track. No racing surface issues were flagged as a result of the analysis.

As a result of increased commission veterinary oversight of morning workouts, eight horses were placed on the veterinarians' list and deemed ineligible to race. Cont. p7

Racing at Parx | Sarah Andrew

As a result of enhanced post-race supervision and stricter criteria, 17 horses were placed on the veterinarians' list and six horses were retired from racing.

Five horses were deemed ineligible to race in Pennsylvania based on the new rule providing for the disqualification of any horse that finished 12 or more lengths behind the winner in five consecutive starts.

The Integrity Hotline received 51 calls from Mar. 1 through June 30. Every call is investigated and referred for action as warranted. Ten calls are pending investigation and 41 alleged issues have been closed. No fines or penalties have been issued as a result of issues alleged in calls.

Allegations at Thoroughbred tracks accounted for 32 calls, including unethical conduct by race officials and horsemen, use of illegal devices by a jockey, unethical treatment of horses, unauthorized ingress or egress by horses, wagering irregularities and monetary disputes.

Among 17 allegations made regarding standardbred race tracks were incorrect decisions by judges, unethical conduct by horsemen and training center officials, unethical treatment of horses, licensing concerns, and administration of performance-enhancing medications.

Two calls without a specific location included an allegation of unethical treatment of horses, and a question about standardbred racing.

Tips can be reported to the hotline anonymously at any time by leaving a detailed message at (717) 787-1942. More information about the Pennsylvania State Horseracing Commission can be found at agriculture.pa.gov.

SANTA ANITA TO OFFER 'SHIP & WIN' PROGRAM DURING FALL MEET

Santa Anita Park will once again offer its 'Ship & Win' program, which has successfully attracted significant numbers of horses based outside of California over the last two years, at the track's 18-day fall meeting, which is set to begin Friday, Sept. 30.

The program offers a $5,000 bonus for eligible horses making his or her first start, and a 35% bonus, excluding stakes races, is also available. The 'Ship & Win' program is a joint venture with the Del Mar Thoroughbred Club.

“Ship and Win has proven to be a very effective catalyst in attracting new equine talent and we’re very hopeful that many horsemen will opt to stay in Southern California following Del Mar and to participate in this lucrative program here at our Autumn Meet,” said Chris Merz, Santa Anita Director of Racing and Racing Secretary.

Horses that are qualified for the Del Mar 'Ship & Win' incentive will retain eligibility for one start at Santa Anita this fall, provided they do not make a start elsewhere following the conclusion of the Del Mar meet Sept. 11. To be eligible for both programs, horses must have made their most recent start outside of California and must not have started in the state within the past 12 months.

For additional information, contact Chris Merz or Jason Egan in the Santa Anita racing office at (626) 574-6352.

PURSE INCREASE AT ASSINIBOIA

Effective Monday, July 18, 2022, purses at Assiniboia Downs have been increased across the board. The highlights include a 25% increase in maiden special weight races to $20,000 and a 20% hike for open allowance heats for $24,000 while the new minimum purse for 'open' stakes races has been raised to $40,000.

"Our community of owners, trainers and jockeys continue to be so supportive of the racing program here," said Darren Dunn, CEO of the Winnipeg, Manitoba-area track. "We are happy to be in a position that we can introduce these increases to the purses. We fully appreciate what it takes to put on a season of competitive racing and we look forward to continuing to work together to deliver the best show we possibly can."

The track reports better than 60% wagering growth in the furst part of the season. According to a release, competitive racing along with reduced takeouts and the free Player Portal have been attributed to that success.

Assiniboia Downs races nightly Monday through Wednesday. The track stages the Manitoba Derby Aug. 1.

JOCKEYS TO PAY TRIBUTE TO NATIONAL DISABILITY INDEPENDENCE DAY, FUNDRAISE FOR PDJF JULY 30

Jockeys competing on Saturday, July 30 (or another mutually agreed upon date that week at racetracks not racing that day) will pay tribute to National Disability Independence Day and raise awareness and funds for the Permanently Disabled Jockeys Fund. Last year's event raised more than $50,000 at racetracks across the country.

Jockeys at some 20 racetracks are expected to participate in various activities to support the PDJF while also saluting National Disability Independence Day, which marks the 32nd anniversary of the passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). Throughout the day, fans and industry participants will be encouraged to contribute to the PDJF at PDJF.org. The PDJF is a 501(c)(3) public charity that provides financial assistance to approximately 60 former jockeys who have suffered catastrophic on-track injuries.

"The PDJF welcomes teaming up with the Jockeys' Guild and NTRA to honor the passage of this very important piece of legislation that has changed the lives for all Americans living with a disability," said Nancy LaSala, Board President of the Permanently Disabled Jockeys Fund. "The lives of PDJF recipients are improved as a result and for this we are very grateful."

Racetracks and jockey colonies set to participate in the promotion include: Arizona Downs; Colonial Downs; Del Mar Thoroughbred Club; Delta Downs, Horseshoe Indianapolis, Monmouth Park, Prairie Meadows, and Saratoga Race Course. A complete listing of participating outlets will be released prior to the event date(s).

The hard-knocking Change of Control returned to the winner's circle for the first time this season with a professional victory at Colonial Downs Monday. The bay mare rushed up three wide to contest the pace after a quarter in :23.63. She took charge with a furlong to run and inched away to the wire.

Change of Control, winner of last year's GIII Intercontinental S. and GIII Buffalo Trace Franklin County S., concluded her 2021 campaign with a win in the Nov. 28 Autumn Days S. at Aqueduct. She was just nosed out of a win in her 2022 debut when second in the Jan. 29 Frederick P Aime Memorial S. at Fair Grounds. Third in the Mar. 1 Mardi Gras S. and fourth while attempting to defend her title in the Giant's Causeway S. at Keeneland Apr. 16, she was just a neck short when second in the May 5 Unbridled Sidney S. at Churchill and was coming off a fourth-place effort in the June 11 GI Jaipur S. at Belmont.

America's Blossom has a 2-year-old colt by Karakontie (Jpn) who sold for $31,384 at this year's Tattersalls Ireland Goresbridge Breeze Up after RNA'ing for $30,000 last year at Keeneland September.

The mare also has a yearling filly by Karakontie and, with no foal reported this year, she was bred back to Dialed In for 2023. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.

Margins: 4, 4HF, 7HF. Odds: 1.45, 2.40, 1.00.

Also Ran: State Planning. Scratched: Grabbing the Money.

Barese got back to winning ways with an easy victory at Finger Lakes Monday. Favored on the morning line, the bay colt was the crowd's second choice in the short field of four as Aggregation was sent off the even-money choice. Aggregation was quickest away, but Barese challenged that foe three wide into the first turn. He shadowed the favorite through fractions of :23.88 and :48.07 and asserted control into the stretch. Aggregation had no answer to the challenge and faded to third as Barese strode home a confident winner while Best Idea chased home in second.

A debut winner at Belmont last May, Barese resurfaced eight months later to win the Jan. 9 Rego Park S. and added the Feb. 12 Gander S. before attempting graded company when fifth stretched out to nine furlongs for the Apr. 9 GII Wood Memorial. Turned back to 6 1/2 furlongs and back against state-bred foes, Barese was a well-beaten third in the Apr. 23 New York Stallion S. He was coming off a fourth-place effort in the June 25 GIII Ohio Derby.

The unraced Right Prevails, a full-sister to 2005 GI Kentucky Derby runner-up Closing Argument, produced a filly by The Lieutenant in 2020, a colt by Mission Impazible in 2021 and a colt by Catalina Cruiser this year. Click for Equibase.com chart.

Roses for Debra bound home an easy winner of her stakes debut at Presque Isle Downs Monday. The gray filly chased the pacesetters down the backstretch, waited for racing room at the top of the lane, was tipped out a path and produced a powerful stretch run to come home a much-the-best winner.

Roses for Debra finished two lengths in front in her 5 1/2-furlong debut at this oval May 23, but was disqualified for interferance and placed second. She officially graduated with a 5 3/4-length romp going six furlongs here June 9.

Essential Rose, a daughter of graded stakes winner Essential Edge, has a 2-year-old filly by Justify, who sold for $625,000 to MyRacehorse at last year's Fasig-Tipton Saratoga sale. The mare also has a yearling filly by Palace Malice and a weanling filly by American Pharoah. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.

DIDIA (ARG) (f, 4, Orpen--Delambre {Brz} {G1SP-Brz}, by Rainbow Corner {GB}), a two-time Group 1 winner in her native Argentina, was making her U.S. debut as a 7-2 shot here. The bay filly raced keenly just off the pace into the first turn. She was well held while tracking the pacesetter through pedestrian splits, but fell off the pace slightly as the leader was challenged into the far turn. Didia was tipped to the center of the course at the top of the lane and finished steadily to just get by Gogo Shoes (Carpe Diem) in the dying strides to win going away by one length. Didia is a full-sister to Davide (Arg), Ch. All-weather Horse-Sin, SW-Sin, $549,642; and to Dedini (ARG), MG1SP-Arg; and a half to Desvelo (Arg) (Sunray Spirit), MSP, $181,511. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.

RICCIO (c, 2, Cross Traffic--Richetta {MSW, $296,848}, by Polish Numbers), a narrowly beaten runner-up in his 4 1/2-furlong debut at Laurel May 1, romped to a 7 1/4-length graduation going five furlongs at Delaware Park June 16. Sent off at 2-1, the dark bay colt settled off the pace behind a pair of dueling leaders. He rallied four wide into the lane and raced greenly before finally kicking into gear in the final yards to power past pacesetting favorite Fit to Fly (West Coast) for a half-length victory. A $15,000 EASOCT yearling, the winner is a half-brother to Concealed Identity (Smarty Jones), MSW & GSP, $461,140 and to Peach of a Gal (Curlin), SW & GSP, $101,155. ADVANCE PHAROAH (c, 2, American Pharoah--Fair Huntress, by Tiznow) stayed on late to be an educational second on his 1400-meter debut over the Toyko dirt June 19 and was the 37-10 fourth choice to improve for the experience. Drawn widest in this field of 10, the $140,000 Keeneland September purchase landed better than midfield and improved to sit handy to the pace from second into the turn. Asked to accelerate with a quarter-mile to race, he swapped leads nicely and ran out a comfortable 2 1/2-length winner. The winner's dam, a $22,000 purchase by John Gunther at the 2017 KEEJAN sale, is a half-sister to Grade III winner Devil By Design (Medaglia d'Oro), the dam of GI American Oaks victress Competitionofideas (Speightstown), who was bred by Gunther in partnership. Fair Huntress is the dam of a yearling colt by the Gunther-bred GI Breeders' Cup Classic hero Vino Rosso and a colt foal by Uncle Mo. She is back in foal to Not This Time. American Pharoah is now the sire of 24 winners from 30 Japanese starters, including MG1SW Cafe Pharoah. Sales history: $140,000 Ylg '21 KEESEP. Lifetime Record: 2-1-1-0, $58,273. VIDEO (SC 10)

SEVEN DAYS: MERCURY RISING

Misters help to beat the heat | racingfotos.com

By Emma Berry

An awful lot of people have been getting hot under the collar this week, and not just because a heatwave is currently sweeping Europe, leading to the cancellation of five race meetings in England and some rejigging of times and locations on the continent.

The BHA's whip report was published last Tuesday sparking a predictably wide range of views being aired on both sides of the debate. While some believe that by enforcing changes racing is pandering to those who don't understand the sport and need educating as to horse welfare, others feel the 20 new recommendations by the 15-strong panel of industry experts don't go far enough. This column doesn't like to sit on the fence but feels largely unmoved by the rule changes. The potential for disqualification for any jockey exceeding the maximum whip use by four strikes is hopefully enough of a deterrent for such behaviour.

Of course we must be mindful of the sport's perception by a wider audience than just we tragics who watch racing day in and day out, but plenty of members of that latter category, this one included, would feel far more at ease if the authorities worked harder on ensuring stewards properly policed incidents of dangerous riding.

TORQUATOR TASSO AND WESTOVER TO CLASH IN KING GEORGE

Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe winner Torquator Tasso (Ger) (Adlerflug {Ger}) is among the six five-day confirmations for the G1 King George VI And Queen Elizabeth QIPCO S. at Ascot on Saturday, along with Irish Derby hero Westover (GB) (Frankel {GB}) and Oaks runner-up Emily Upjohn (GB) (Sea The Stars {Ire}). The 5-year-old German raider was given the green light after a gallop on Monday morning at Mulheim, where he is trained by Marcel Weiss for owner Gestut Auenquelle. He bids to emulate compatriots Danedream (Ger) (Lomitas {GB}) and Novellist (Ger) (Monsun {Ger}), who won Britain's premier weight-for-age race in 2012 and 2013, respectively.

Seven Days

The problem is that the British stewards in particular don't appear to view any incidents as dangerous as categorised by the Rule Book, instead usually opting for a careless riding charge for infringements and short bans here and there--that's if they even call an enquiry in the first place.

This certainly doesn't help the connections of the horses hampered in such incidents, and it means this attitude of carelessness (which is putting it very mildly) pervades. It seems extraordinary that some jockeys decide to adopt an approach that puts their colleagues, their mounts, and even themselves at risk of injury, but they can do so apparently safe in the knowledge that any penalties usually amount to nothing more than a couple of days sitting on the sidelines with that extra win to their name.

Frankly, one or two extra taps with a ProCush whip are nothing compared to the utter recklessness on display on the racecourse on a frequent basis. If the BHA really cares about horse welfare (not to mention that of their riders), then it is hoped that this is an issue which will be addressed with the utmost urgency.

Magical Memory of Galileo

It's quite fun for those of us who voted against Britain leaving the EU to blame everything on Brexit. Sadly we can't apply this to the failure of Emily Upjohn (GB) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) to make it to the Curragh for the Juddmonte Irish Oaks, but her absence was a great pity for she surely would have had an excellent chance in a race that was also deprived of her narrow conqueror at Epsom, Tuesday (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}).

In the end, the Irish Classic may have lacked a bit of dazzle, though Magical Lagoon (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) was a very determined and deserved winner for Zhang Yuesheng, who has certainly been making his presence felt at the sales of late. As a Galileo half-sister to the King George winner Novellist (Ger) (Monsun {Ger}), Magical Lagoon is a rare example of one that got away from Coolmore, who bred her and then sold her at 305,000gns at Book 1 of the Tattersalls October Yearling Sale, where she was consigned for them by Mimi Wadham and Violet Hesketh's WH Bloodstock.

Fabrice Chappet and Stephane Pasquier celebrating Onesto's win
ScoopDyga

She is an admirable filly, clearly very much on the up, and even though it can't have helped her main challenger Toy (Ire) that it appeared as if winning jockey Shane Foley may have unintentionally struck her across the face with his whip in the closing stages, one feels that on this day Magical Lagoon was not for passing anyway. Toy finishing half a length behind her in second gave Galileo yet another one-two in a Classic. We won't be saying that for much longer, so let's enjoy it while it lasts.

Onesto, Perfetto

It is extremely unlikely that the coming years will see a shortage of stakes winners by Frankel (GB) and the champion sire is having another ripsnorter of a season. To Classic winners Westover (GB), Homeless Songs (Ire) and Nashwa (GB), and Group 1 winners Inspiral (GB), Alpinista (GB) and McKulick (GB), we can add his latest top-level scorer, Onesto (Ire). This last week alone has also seen Raclette (GB) win the G2 Prix de Malleret and Eternal Pearl (GB) land the Listed Aphrodite S.

Onesto, like Galileo's Group 2-winning daughter Lily Pond (Ire) on Sunday, is another to feature inbreeding (in his case 3x3) to the great Urban Sea, and he provided his broodmare sire Sea The Stars (Ire) with his first Group 1 victory in that division. Incidentally, the latter's half-brother Born To Sea (Ire) was also represented as a black-type broodmare sire courtesy of the G2 Prix Robert Papin winner Blackbeard (Ire) (No Nay Never).

Onesto's win in the Grand Prix de Paris capped a good week for Adam Bowden of Kentucky-based Diamond Creek Farm, for whom it was a first win at the highest level as breeder. Diamond Creek also bred the top lot at the Fasig-Tipton July Sale as the yearling season got underway in America. Their Curlin half-brother to Belmont S. runner-up Gronkowski was bought for $600,000 by DJ Stable.

Trainer Fabrice Chappet has made no secret of the regard in which he holds the diminutive Onesto, and he confirmed that the Arc is very much in his future plans for the colt, who hails from the top-drawer Juddmonte family of Hasili (GB). It was also a good week for the Chantilly trainer, with four winners from his ten runners, including the TDN Rising Star Gain It (GB), a son of De Treville (GB), the relatively unheralded Oasis Dream (GB) half-brother to Too Darn Hot (GB).

Also making his mark from the Chappet stable last week was Good Guess (Ire) (Kodiac {GB}), a grandson of Russian Rhythm who was bred by Cheveley Park Stud and bought by Sebastian Desmontils for owner Hisaaki Saito for 420,000gns at Tattersalls October Book 1. The colt is now two wins for two runs, and is pencilled in for the G3 Prix de Cabourg as the Deauville summer season gets underway in early August.

Whitsbury Winners Rolling In

Havana Grey (GB) looks to be compiling an unassailable lead in the 2022 first-season sires' table and as well as his son Eddie's Boy (GB) winning the valuable Weatherbys Super Sprint on Saturday, 24 hours earlier the stallion's home farm of Whitsbury Manor Stud also enjoyed a great day as breeders.

Four graduates of the Hampshire-based stud won at four different tracks in Britain, with the 90-rated Rathbone (GB), by former resident Foxwedge (Aus), sealing the four-timer when winning for the sixth time at Hamilton. Along with Mick's Dream (GB) (Adaay {Ire}) and Gaalib (GB) (Territories {Ire}), the quartet was completed by Chaldean (GB), a relatively rare foal purchase for Juddmonte, who brought 550,000gns at the Tattersalls December Foal Sale. The son of Frankel (GB) is a half-brother to Shadwell's G2 Mill Reef S. winner Alkumait (GB) (Showcasing {GB}) and his fellow black-type earners The Broghie Man (GB) (Cityscape {GB}) and Gloves Lynch (GB) (Mukhadram {GB}).

Nicky, Ed and Chris Harper of Whitsbury Manor Stud
Tattersalls/Laura Green

Their dam, the treble Italian winner Suelita (GB) (Dutch Art {GB}), was bought by Chris Harper for 21,500gns as a 4-year-old and has now had five offspring make six-figure sums in the sale ring.

Reflecting on the purchase of Suelita when her Frankel colt went through the foal sale of 2020, Ed Harper said, "Dad bought the mare and she's the only mare he has bought in the last seven years. From the very first foal she has thrown nice horses. In the February of his 2-year-old career I remember getting a phone call from Brendan Duke, who trained The Broghie Man, saying I think you've bred a very good horse here. He wasn't wrong."

Chaldean, trained by Andrew Balding, looks similarly promising after breaking his maiden at the second attempt at Newbury.

The Heat Really Is On

The European yearling sales will soon be upon us and we can again expect to see plenty of visitors from America and Australia, especially with travel restrictions being now nothing but a bad memory.

This is both good news and bad news. For breeders and pinhookers wishing to sell a horse, buyers with deep pockets are always a welcome sight. However, for the long-term health and diversity of the racing and breeding industry in Britain especially, but also in Ireland, the warning klaxon should be sounding as our bloodstock reserves gradually become depleted.
Witness this depressing passage from Dan Ross's story on American trainer Phil D'Amato in Monday's TDN:

Right now, says D'Amato, with prizemoney in Ireland and England especially in such palliative care, the overseas market is ripe for plunder, many smaller outfits, in particular, relying more and more on the selling of their young stock to keep the bloodhounds from snapping at their heels.

"For most of them, this is what they do for a living. Most of them are traders with the way the purse structure is there," D'Amato says. "Those are the people that are in it really to buy yearlings at a cheaper price and develop them and potentially sell them for a nice profit at two and three."

This is nothing new, but it is a situation that is intensifying, and the success in various jurisdictions of stock bred in this part of the world will only drive the demand.

On consecutive weekends Chad Brown has saddled Grade I winners, both incidentally bought from Hazelwood Bloodstock at Tattersalls October Book 1. First McKulick (GB) (Frankel {GB}) won the Belmont Oaks, followed this Saturday by the success of In Italian (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}) in the Diana S., a race in which the six-runner field featured five European-bred horses (albeit one of those, Creative Flair (Ire), is still trained in England, by Charlie Appleby). McKulick and In Italian were respectively bred by Dubai's Sheikh Mohammed bin Khalifa Al Maktoum and Australian John Camilleri, two major international clients of the impressive outfit run by Adrian and Philippa O'Brien. A huge draw for such breeders to have mares in Britain is the fact that the country currently stands several of the world's leading stallions, and in the case of these two Grade 1 winners they are by the two best in Europe: Frankel and Dubawi. It is also worth noting that Saturday's extremely impressive maiden winner and TDN Rising Star Hans Andersen (GB), another Frankel, was bred and raised at Hazelwood for another of their Australian-based clients, Sun Bloodstock. Overseas ownership of major breeding operations based in Britain is not a new development, in fact one might say it is now the norm, and it has injected important life into the historic breeding nation, not least in providing the two big-name stallions just mentioned.

But, like climate change, preventative action must be taken well in advance of a troubling situation becoming a crisis. We are told that the BHA is currently working on a strategy review, a reason cited for its bizarre torpedoing of its own proposal to cut 300 races from the race programme to ease the growing issue of small field sizes. Let's hope that review is completed in a timely fashion and does something to address the ever-increasing demand expressed by many for racecourses to inject a far greater share of their media rights income into prize-money. Otherwise we really will all be feeling the heat.

Torquator Tasso is led through the crowd | Emma Berry

Torquator Tasso, the easy winner of the G2 Hansa-Preis at Hamburg on his most recent outing on July 2, worked over 11 furlongs with his regular jockey Rene Piechulek, with Weiss declaring that he was "very happy" with the horse's final serious prep for Saturday.

"It was a very important piece of work and it gives me a lot of confidence because I saw the horse like he was last year and he's getting better and better through the season," said the trainer.

"After the Arc we worked out a plan for this year and it was a wish of the owner to go to Ascot before going back to the Arc. Danedream also won the Arc and then the King George for Germany, which tells you that you can try to do it and you can win."

With record temperatures in England in the early part of this week and only the odd shower of rain possible at Ascot prior to Saturday the ground is unlikely to be too different from its current status of good to firm, good in places.

Weiss added, "The ground will not be a problem; Ascot is a very nice track and it is kept in good condition, especially for the quality horses this weekend.

"At Hamburg he won on fast ground. He's just maybe a bit better when the ground is softer, but he can go on every ground."

Completing a classy field for the weekend's feature race are the Group 1 winners Broome (Ire) (Acclamation {GB}), Pyledriver (GB) (Harbour Watch {Ire}) and Mishriff (Ire) (Make Believe {GB}).

FIRST WINNER FOR CLOTH OF STARS

By Brian Sheerin

Cloth Of Stars (Ire), twice placed in the G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe and a winner at the highest level when landing the Prix Ganay, enjoyed a breakthrough winner as a stallion on Monday with Kenmaya (Fr) scoring at Vichy.

Trained by Christophe Escuder, Kenmaya bagged Vichy's opening juvenile claimer over six furlongs by a short head. She was ridden by Cristian Demuro and was getting off the mark following a June 27 debut seventh tackling 6 3/4 furlongs at Lyon-Parilly last time.

Kenmaya is just the fourth individual runner Cloth Of Stars, who stands for €7,000 at Haras du Logis, has had to hit the track in Europe.

He himself was a winner at two. After landing his maiden on debut at Deauville, he followed up in the G3 Prix des Chenes at Longchamp before signing off on his 2-year-old campaign by finishing second in the G1 Criterium de Saint-Cloud.

But it was in his 4-year-old campaign that Cloth Of Stars played a starring role. A hardy performer, Cloth Of Stars got his 2017 season off to a terrific start, winning the G3 Prix Exbury at Saint-Cloud followed by the G2 Prix d'Harcourt at Chantilly en route to recording that memorable G1 Prix Ganay triumph back at Saint-Cloud.

Just a short neck separated Cloth Of Stars and Zarak (Fr) at the winning line in that race, with admirable performers Silverware (Fr) and Hawkbill finishing behind them.

Trained by Andre Fabre to run 20 times over four seasons, winning seven races--six of which were at group level--and place on a further 10 occasions, the Godolphin-owned Cloth Of Stars amassed over £2,500,000 in earnings.

He signed off on his career in 2018 after finishing just a length behind Enable (GB) (Nathaniel {Ire}) in third in the 2018 Arc de Triomphe and embarked on his stud career the following year.

HENRY CECIL OPEN WEEKEND WELCOMES VISITORS TO NEWMARKET IN SEPTEMBER

Following a record 2021, the Henry Cecil Open Weekend will welcome visitors Sept. 17-18 at Newmarket. Each September, racing and equine enthusiasts descend on British racing's headquarters for a behind-the-scenes look at Britain's best-known racing yards. Last year's open weekends included George Boughey, Harry Eustace Charlie Fellowes, James Ferguson, Roger Varian and Simon and Ed Crisford. The highest number of yards opened to the public in 2021, and record crowds raised £60,000 for the event's chosen charity partners. The 2022 Henry Cecil Open Weekend supports the racing industry, its workforce and the local community. Money raised this year will be donated to the long-term charity partner and main beneficiary Racing Welfare, as well as the National Horseracing Museum, Newmarket Day Centre and the Newmarket Heath Ambulance, a fundraising initiative to purchase a quick response unit for work riders on Newmarket Heath.

"Last year we saw huge numbers of visitors to Newmarket during the Henry Cecil Open Weekend. It was fantastic to see and for everyone to experience all that our town has to offer," said Charlie Fellowes, Chairman of The Henry Cecil Open Weekend. "A huge thank you must go to all those who continually support the event and enable the Open Weekend to happen. A particular thanks to all the trainers, racing staff, volunteers and participants, without whom the event would not be possible."

Positioned off the tempo in fifth for the most part, he made smooth headway on the bridle in the straight to challenge passing the two pole and was ridden out once shaken up with 350 metres remaining to narrowly deny Winema for a second black-type triumph.
