NEW RULING ON CHANGES LEAVES NYRA, TRAINERS PUZZLED

by Sue Finley

The notice began appearing on the overnight in early January. "By order of the stewards. Pursuant to NYSGC RULE 4033.8. Effective February 1st, only equipment specifically approved by the stewards shall be worn or carried by a jockey or a horse in a race. No equipment change (including shoes) will be allowed once the overnight is published."

"There is no new rule," wrote Brad Maoine, Director of Communications for the New York State Gaming Commission in response to TDN’s request for information about the new posting on the overnight. "The intent of the message is (to) ensure that the betting public has access to accurate information regarding equipment changes in a timely fashion."

But a reading of the NYSGC’s rule 4033.8 reveals no mention of a horse’s equipment, and reads only, "Only equipment specifically approved by the stewards shall be worn or carried by a jockey or a horse in a race." There is no mention of equipment changes for horses after the publishing of the overnight in the ruling as stated on the Gaming Commission’s website.

Trainers, horsemen’s representatives and the NYRA expressed confusion over what the impetus for the rule was, and concern over the repercussions. Cont. p3

SOLIS AND LITT JOIN GROWING REPOLE TEAM

by Bill Finley

Alex Solis II and Jason Litt, who operate the Solis/Litt bloodstock agency, have joined forces with owner Mike Repole, who has continued to add to his team as both his stable and his goals have grown in recent years. Repole, who owns many horses in partnership with Vinnie Viola, has about 300 horses and has been very active in recent years at the yearling sales.

“I am all about family and friends,” Repole said. “Over the last couple of years they’ve been helping me out with some yearlings and colts and they have a great opinion. I am a ‘dream-bigger’ type of guy. I won eight Grade Is in 2022, so this year I want to win nine. The next year I want to win 10. Bringing Alex and Jason on board is part of that vision.”

IN TDN EUROPE TODAY

MONFORT: ‘WILLIE MULLINS TAUGHT ME HORSES CAN TAKE A LOT OF WORK’

Brian Sheerin chats with Edouard Monfort, who trains a 70-horse string in France.
In this ongoing series featuring mating plans for the upcoming season, presented by Spendthrift Farm, we hear which sires CHC has chosen for some of their top American and European mares.

GI Breeders’ Cup Turf Sprint winner Caravel (Mizzen Mast) enjoyed her winter break at Hunter Valley Farm in Versailles, Ky. The Pennsylvania-bred mare, trained by Brad Cox, shipped to Turfway Park on Monday to resume training for her 6-year-old campaign.

CDI urges a federal judge not to grant an injunction that would lift trainer Bob Baffert’s ban in time for the May 6 Kentucky Derby, claiming it would harm other Derby qualifiers.

Fifty-four stakes races worth $15.57 million in total purses will highlight the 40-day Belmont spring/summer meet, which opens May 4.

Right now, NYRA races are drawn either five, three or two days in advance of the race, with any late changes announced on the t.v. and general address system at the track, and off.

"NYRA has mechanisms in place to inform the betting public in the event of a late equipment change," said NYRA spokesman Patrick McKenna. "This new rule does nothing to further protect horseplayers and will likely penalize owners for administrative errors that can easily be corrected in real time."

"I think there are several issues with it," said trainer Todd Pletcher. "My first concern would be over an occasional shoe situation. We've had scenarios where a horse sheds a frog and we train the horse in an aluminum pad, and we try to keep it on to complete their training, which is usually right up to the day of the race. If you want to make that shoe change you sometimes literally don't know until game day. Entries in most jurisdictions are becoming further and further out, so that's one concern."

Secondly, he said, "everyone makes mistakes occasionally, and maybe you made an honest mistake and didn't enter with blinkers, and caught it after the overnight came out, or maybe the racing office made a mistake and didn't note blinkers on. It seems as if there should be a 24-hour grace period."

Trainer David Donk conceded that in a perfect world, trainers would and should indicate changes of equipment at entry time, but that the current system of taking entries by phone, rather than by computer with mandatory fields filled out, made it more likely for errors to be made.

"Why can't I enter online?" said Donk. "Listen, it is the trainer's responsibility. I probably don't have a real problem with it, but is it the commission overstepping? I don't see where it's coming from, and why there can't be a grace period? Common sense says there should be some compromise."

Donk said that he imagined that the equipment changes hinted at would be blinker changes or the addition of a bar shoe. Attorney Drew Mollica—who has represented numerous clients in conflicts with the Gaming Commission, including two currently—said that he envisioned that the rule would not only make it more likely to cause unnecessary scratches, but could be subject to legal challenges.

"No shoe changes after entry puts the horse in jeopardy and hurts the track," said Mollica. "Say a horse pops a small quarter crack and needs a bar shoe. If that is announced, does that not protect the owner, the public, the horse and the track? But under this rule, he must scratch. Why?

"And how about blinkers?" he continued. "Say a horse breezes on the day after entry and the trainer thinks blinkers would help, but now has to scratch or run without equipment that could benefit his performance because the new rule says he must scratch or not wear them? Who does this help? In a game that has enough natural landmines, do we have to plant more?"

Will Alempijevic, the executive director of the New York Thoroughbred Horsemen’s Association, replied in an email, "NYTHA is currently engaged in discussions with both the NYSGC and NYRA to understand the issues that precipitated the change. We will continue to play an active role to see if we can collectively come up with proposed solutions to everyone’s mutual benefit."

As part of the transition, Solis has stepped down from his full-time role as Gainesway Farm’s Director of Bloodstock but will continue his relationship with the farm. Solis and Litt’s agency will also continue to work with existing clients.

As Repole has doubled the number of horses in his stable over the last two years he has assembled a deep group of advisors who assist him in a number of areas, including yearling purchases and the overwhelming daily task of running such a large stable. The team includes Ed Rosen, Jim Martin, Danielle Bricker, Jacob West and Todd Pletcher. Solis and Litt will advise the growing stable and assist in acquisitions and management, but will be called upon to contribute in other areas.

“When you double the number of horses you own, yes, you need more people,” Repole said. “I am trying to build a bigger vision and a bigger strategy. I want to get more involved in racing as a sport, not just with Repole Stables. I want people with the experience Alex and Jason have. They have tremendous vision for the sport and share the same excitement I have for the sport and the same frustrations.

“Part of the evolution of growing your brand comes from hiring a bunch of smart people who have a ton of passion and are coachable and have the same vision you have. Who knows; maybe Jason will become the VP of global and I’ll buy two racetracks and Alex will run them. I have no idea.”

Solis and Litt have been together since the early 2000s and have worked for many of the top names in the sport, including LNJ Foxwoods, which campaigned top older male dirt horse Olympiad (Speightstown). Other horses they have been involved with include Shared Belief (Candy Ride {Arg}), Mizdirection (Mizzen Mast), Country House (Lookin At Lucky) and Covfefe (Into Mischief). Their team also includes Madison Scott.

"Mike has gone from 150 to 300 horses and wanted to take advantage of Solis/Litt’s experience managing large portfolios," Solis said. "We’ve helped Mike for the last couple of years at yearling sales, and it’s exciting to start in a more prominent role. It’s been a seamless transition working with his existing team...Mike is big on relationships and family, and so are we. Jason and I have been working together for 17 years and the majority of our clients have been with us since the beginning. Maintaining those ties is of utmost importance, which Mike fully embraces. It was great to be able to partner with him and our major client, LNJ Foxwoods, on two yearlings in September."

Repole Stable enjoyed a banner year in 2022, campaigning Grade I winners Chocolate Gelato (Practical Joke), Mo Donegal (Uncle Mo), Forte (Violence) and Nest (Curlin). Forte and Nest are expected to be named Eclipse Award winners. With most any other stable, 2022 would have been a year that cannot be topped. But Repole has never hid his ambitions and won’t set a ceiling when it comes to his stable’s success.

“I’m not always content,” Repole said. “I talk to somebody like Tom Brady and ask him what his favorite Super Bowl was and he says it’s the next one. I am ecstatic and feel blessed about where we are but I have goals. What’s wrong with trying to get better?”

ALBEROBELLO (m, 8, Bernardini--Carson Jen, by Carson City), booked to Justify Alberobello hails from a very deep family that is constantly improving. Her full-sister’s daughter Key to My Heart (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) produced a $1.3-million filly at KEESEP just a few months ago. Additionally, Bernardini mares are red hot right now. She is expecting just her second foal for us this year (by Uncle Mo) and we will send her back to Justify. We are obviously big fans and supporters of Justify. That faith has been rewarded with his first crop of runners this year and they should only get better with age. This family has already produced a stakes winner by Justify in Justa Warrior.

CARIBBEAN BABE (m, 8, Arch--Kalahari Cat, by Cape Town), booked to Life Is Good

Caribbean Babe is a half-sister to MGSW and young WinStar stallion Independence Hall, as well as two other stakes winners. Her first foal Bold Discovery (Bolt d’Oro) is doing quite well in Europe, following his debut win with a Group 3 placing. She is a young mare, with a good family and by an excellent broodmare sire, so we felt she deserved a spot in the first book of our MGISW Life Is Good.

Cont.
COZZE UP LADY (m, 14, Cozzene--The White Lady, by Johannesburg), booked to Munnings

This mating was a bit of a no-brainer. A Grade III winner in her own right, Cozze Up Lady’s best foal thus far is Grade I-winning millionaire Kimari (Munnings). She returns to that star sprinter’s sire this year in hopes of re-creating that magic.

EMBELLISH THE LACE (m, 11, Super Saver--Expanse, by Distant View), booked to Constitution

Embellish the Lace was a Grade I winner at Saratoga and has proven equally talented as a broodmare. She’s produced two seven-figure yearlings so far, and another that summoned $700,000. One of those million-dollar babies was Tap the Faith (Tapit), a three-time winner, so we hope that cross will prove successful yet again through Tapit’s best son at stud, Constitution.

LAST FULL MEASURE (m, 15, Empire Maker--Lazy Slusan, by Slewvescent), booked to Constitution

Last Full Measure was a Grade I winner in her own right and produced another Grade I winner for us in Valiance (Tapit). She’s responsible for a series of six-figure sellers and had her best auction result in 2022 when her Constitution colt brought $1.8 million at KEESEP. On the back of that success, she will be bred back to Constitution.

SAMBUCA CLASSICA (m, 19, Cat Thief--In Her Glory, by Miswaki), booked to Life Is Good

Her 2020 Justify colt, now named Golden Mic, brought $625,000 from Hideyuki Mori at KEESEP and her 2021 colt by that Triple Crown winner summoned $575,000 from WinStar and Siena Farm. Being a proven producer, we felt she was a good match for Life Is Good.

BEATRIX POTTER (m, 18, Cadeaux Genereux {GB}--Great Joy {Ire}, by Grand Lodge), booked to New Bay (GB)

Already a Group 1 producer of Harry Angel (Ire) (Dark Angel {Ire}), Beatrix Potter visits emerging young stallion New Bay. She’s reaching her twilight years and the great hope would be to get a filly. Last season’s yearling by Medaglia d’Oro made 600,000gns from Ben McElroy at Tattersalls Book 1.

FALLING PETALS (m, 11, Raven’s Pass--Infinite Spirit, by Maria’s Mon), booked to New Bay (GB)

Falling Petals, the producer of dual Group 1 winner Saffron Beach (New Bay), who realised 3,600,000gns at last year’s Tattersalls December Mare sale, goes back to New Bay. If it’s not broke, don’t fix it. Last season’s yearling, a New Bay colt, fetched €450,000 at Goffs Orby from Amanda Skiffington and goes into training with Saffron Beach’s trainer Jane Chapple-Hyam. She also has a weanling full-sister, who will likely be retained to race.

LADY LIGHT (GB) (m, 6, Showcasing {GB}--Bird Key {GB}, by Cadeaux Genereux {GB}), booked to Siyouni (Fr)

Lady Light is young stakes-placed mare, a full sister to Shadwell stallion Tasleet and from the immediate family of superstar sprinter Battaash. Her first foal, a filly by Dark Angel, is an excellent first foal. Siyouni is commercially consistent at the top level, both in the sales ring and on the track, and provides a fantastic proven option for a young mare getting going.

TSCHIERSCHEN (Ire) (m, 9, Acclamation {GB}--Roo {GB}, by Rudimentary), booked to State of Rest (Ire)

Tschierschen is a stakes-producing Acclamation mare and dam of Royal Ascot winner Perotto (GB) (New Bay {GB}). She is from the immediate family of Group 1 performers Mohaather, Prize Exhibit and Accidental Agent. A proven mare for the four-time Group 1-winning freshman sire State of Rest (The Iron Horse).

COASTANA (m, 6, Kitten’s Joy--Reachfortheheavens, by Pulpit), booked to New Bay (GB)

Coastana was picked up for $290,000 at the recent Keeneland November Sale with the plan of going to Europe to be bred. The stakes-placed mare adds some new blood to the European band and highlights our continued interest in developing families globally. A lovely individual that we thought would really suit New Bay. MELODIC CHARM (Ire) (m, 6, Exceed And Excel {Aus}–Folk Melody {Ire}, by Street Cry {Ire}), booked to Siyouni (Fr)

Melodic Charm is a young Exceed And Excel mare recently acquired from Tattersalls. She received a significant pedigree update shortly after her purchase when her half-brother Romantic Warrior (Ire) (Acclamation {GB}) won the G1 Longines Hong Kong Cup. She is due to Dark Angel (Ire) and, therefore, the resulting progeny will be a three-parts brother or sister to Romantic Warrior.

HOURGLASS (Ire) (m, 8, Galileo {Ire}–Hellsinki {GB}, by Machiavellian), booked to Siyouni (Fr)

Hourglass is a Galileo half-sister to Shamardal and is all class. Her first produce (Just an Hour {Justify}) was placed in his only start to date for Joseph O’Brien and looks to have a very bright future this coming season. Last season’s yearling realised €300,000 and her weanling colt by Siyouni is outstanding. As such, going back to Siyouni was an easy call.

CDI ARGUES COURT WIN BY BAFFERT WOULD HARM OTHER DERBY QUALIFIERS

by T.D. Thornton

The gaming corporation that controls the GI Kentucky Derby fired the latest legal salvo in trainer Bob Baffert’s ongoing attempt to reverse the second year of a two-year ban the company imposed in 2021 because of a spate of drug positives in Grade I races, urging a federal judge not to grant an injunction that would lift the ban in time for the May 6 Derby.

"Baffert refuses to accept responsibility for his wrongful actions..." Churchill Downs, Inc. (CDI) wrote in a brief opposing Baffert’s motion for a preliminary injunction that they filed late Tuesday in United States District Court (Western District of Kentucky). "Now, as the two-year anniversary of his CDI suspension approaches, Baffert has renewed his motion in a brazen attempt to litigate his way into the 2023 Kentucky Derby.

"This belated, tactical, and meritless motion should meet the same fate as his prior unsuccessful efforts to challenge his suspension," the CDI filing continued.

CDI also argued that an injunction would injure the connections of other Derby qualifying points earners who would "lose their fairly-earned berths in the Derby to make room for Baffert," the filing stated.

"An injunction would force CDI to reallocate [Derby qualifying] points, retroactively depriving those owners and trainers of Derby and [GI Kentucky] Oaks berths their horses have earned under CDI’s existing rules," the filing continued. "The harm to these innocent third parties, who have played by the rules, is exacerbated by Baffert’s long delay in filing his motion."

The Hall of Fame conditioner’s trainees have crossed the finish wire first a record seven times in the Derby.

But it was that seventh Derby winner--Medina Spirit in 2021--who triggered Baffert’s banishment when the colt tested positive for betamethasone, a Class C drug, in a post-Derby test. Citing that positive finding and other drug overages in Grade I races around the same time, CDI told Baffert in June 2021 that he would be ineligible to race at its six U.S. tracks until after the 2023 Derby, and that any horse that raced under his training license would not be eligible to accrue qualifying points to get into the 2022 or 2023 Derbies.

Baffert had initially sued CDI on Feb. 28, 2022, in an attempt to get an injunction enjoining CDI from suspending him from its tracks and races. His complaint alleged civil rights violations related to what Baffert said was a deprivation of his right to due process of law guaranteed under the Fourteenth Amendment. Separately, Baffert fought unsuccessfully in the courts to try and stave off a 90-day suspension for Medina Spirit's drug overage that had been imposed upon him in February 2022 by the Kentucky Horse Racing Commission (KHRC).

Those legal efforts failed, and Baffert eventually had to start serving that KHRC suspension about a month before the 2022 Derby. He transferred his entire California-based stable to the care of other trainers, and his legal team at that time withdrew the motion for an injunction. (Even though his KHRC suspension has already been served, Baffert is appealing that ruling in an effort to expunge it from his record.)

Two horses Baffert trained through March 2022—the $1.7-million FTFMAR buy Taiba (Gun Runner) and Messier (Empire Maker), both 'TDN Rising Stars'—ran in the 2022 Derby under trainer Tim Yakteen's license, finishing 12th and 15th, respectively.

Baffert renewed his court quest to run in the 2023 Derby on Dec. 15, 2022.

In that filing, his legal team wrote that "Granting an injunction would work no hardship on [CDI]. Numerous rules and regulations already safeguard CDI’s interests in health, integrity, safety, and fairness. Baffert has already served his time for the mere allegation of a violation which has yet to be fully adjudicated, and there is no doubt among industry observers and even casual spectators that Baffert suffered consequences for the mere perception of wrongdoing."

CDI's Jan. 17 response took umbrage with that position.

"The drugging of Medina Spirit happened just months after the Baffert-trained Gamine was disqualified for testing positive for the same drug after finishing third in the 2020 Kentucky Oaks, also held at Churchill Downs Racetrack," CDI's filing stated. "Baffert's unprecedented back-to-back drug violations cast a pall over CDI's two marquee horse racing events and triggered a national debate over the integrity of the sport."

By banning Baffert, CDI claimed that it "acted well within its rights to protect the health and safety of its human and equine athletes and to protect its own brand and public confidence in the sport of horse racing... While Baffert has had no shortage of public relations gambits, he has failed to, and cannot, demonstrate his entitlement to a preliminary injunction."

CDI's filing continued: "Baffert has not shown he will suffer irreparable harm absent an injunction. His 19-month delay in seeking injunctive relief negates any claim of irreparable harm. His primary alleged harm—the loss of purse money—is speculative and would be fully compensable by money damages. "Nor will he lose his client base or suffer a loss of goodwill absent relief. Since his CDI suspension began, Baffert has run horses in hundreds of races around the world and earned millions of dollars in purse money. And none of his client-affiants say they will transfer horses from his care absent an injunction."

CDI also alleged that Baffert's due process claim "fails as a matter of law because CDI is a private corporation, the individual defendants are not government officials, and no one violated Baffert's rights."

The Belmont Stakes Day program June 10 will culminate with the 1 1/2-mile "Test of the Champion" and feature three Breeders' Cup "Win And You're In" qualifiers: the $1 million GI Hill 'n' Dale Metropolitan H. for 3-year-olds and up, going one mile on the dirt [GI BC Dirt Mile]; the $500,000 GI Ogden Phipps S. for older fillies and mares at 1 1/16 miles on the main track [GI BC Distaff]; and the $400,000 GI Jaipur for 3-year-olds and up sprinting six furlongs on the grass [GI BC Turf Sprint].

Five additional graded events are slated for Belmont Stakes Day: the $400,000 GI Woody Stephens S. presented by Mohegan Sun for sophomores sprinting seven furlongs; the $750,000 GI Resorts World Casino Manhattan S. for older horses traveling 1 1/4 miles on the turf; the $250,000 GI True North for older horses sprinting 6 1/2 furlongs; the $250,000 GI Brooklyn S. at 1 1/2 miles for older horses; and the $200,000 GII Poker S. for older horses going one mile on the grass, which has been moved up one week from its traditional spot in the schedule.

For the first time, FOX will present comprehensive live coverage and analysis of the Belmont Stakes presented by NYRA Bets. In 2022, FOX Sports secured the exclusive media rights for the Belmont Stakes and Belmont Stakes Racing Festival through 2030. As part of the eight-year agreement, FOX Sports will expand national television coverage of the Belmont Stakes Racing Festival.

While the total Belmont Stakes purse remains at $1.5 million, NYRA will increase the money awarded to the winning connections from 53.3% to 60%, which will result in a winner's share of $900,000 compared with $800,000 in 2022. NYRA will continue to award Belmont Stakes purse money through eighth place.

Belmont Park's spring/summer meet stakes action kicks off on Friday, May 5 with the $200,000 GII Sheepshead Bay for older fillies and mares going 1 3/8 miles on the turf and the $175,000 GII Westchester for older horses at one-mile on the main track. The Affirmed Success, which has recently opened the stakes competition at Belmont, has been moved to April 30 and will close the spring meet at Aqueduct Racetrack.

The 40-day spring/summer meet will conclude on Sunday, July 9 before racing moves to historic Saratoga Race Course for the annual summer meet beginning Thursday, July 13.

The GII Mother Goose S., which has been traditionally contested during the Belmont spring/summer meet, will be run during the Belmont at the Big A fall meet in 2023.

FIRST FOALS FOR TAYLOR MADE’S TACITUS

Taylor Made Stallions’ MGSW Tacitus (Tapit) out of MGISW Close Hatches, sired his first reported foals in New York on Monday, Jan. 16. The arrivals were a colt born at Waldorf Farm out of the Bustin Stones mare Super Stone who was bred by Jerry Bilinski, DVM, and a filly produced from SW Courageous Cat mare Lady Joan who was bred by Irish Hill Century Farm and foaled there.

"She is what I was expecting a Tacitus foal would look like," said Rick Burke of Irish Hill Century Farm. "She has plenty of leg and good bone. She looks a lot like him."

A Juddmonte Farms homebred trained by Bill Mott, Tacitus won the 2019 GI Tampa Bay Derby and the GI Wood Memorial. He was third in the Kentucky Derby that year, and finished second in both the GI Belmont S. and the GI Travers S. Tacitus, who stands the 2023 season for $10,000 S&N, bred 188 mares in his initial book.

GWATHMEY STEEPLECHASE FOUNDATION ELECTS OFFICERS

Edited Press Release

Katherine Neilson, a trainer of stakes winners over both hurdles and timber and a prominent member of the steeplechase community, has been elected president of the Temple Gwathmey Steeplechase Foundation (TGSF). Based in Kennett Square, Pa., she was an accomplished jockey before switching roles. Neilson trained her 200th winner in 2021.

The Foundation’s Executive Committee also elected W. B. Dixon Stroud, a well-known steeplechase horseman who founded the Willowdale Steeplechase in 1993 and continues as its chairman, as vice president. Ann Jackson, a steeplechase owner and Thoroughbred breeder based in Monkton, Md., was elected treasurer, while George Cary of Hockessin, Del., a third-generation horseman whose family has a long history in racing, polo, hunting, and showing, was elected secretary. Cont.

A TGSF priority in 2023 will be to provide continued support for the Maryland and Pennsylvania point to points, as a partner with the Central Entry Office. In addition, the Foundation looks forward to continuing its support of apprentice riders, safety, and the general promotion of the sport.

FIRST FOAL FOR MARYLAND MILLION CHAMPION ANNA’S BANDIT

Anna’s Bandit (Great Notion) produced her first foal Jan. 10. The new colt by Tapit was also the first reported to the Maryland Horse Breeders Association this year. Bred by her trainer Jerry Robb, she was foaled in West Virginia. Winning 17 of 39 starts, including 11 stakes, while earning $806,655 over six seasons for the Robb’s No Guts No Glory Farm, the highlight of her career was a victory in the 2019 Maryland Million Distaff S. at Laurel Park. She was the winningest horse in the nation that same year, scoring in nine of her 11 starts. The 9-year-old will visit Frosted for 2023.

MISSION OF JOY (f, 3, Kitten’s Joy--Smart Mission, by Smart Strike), sent off at 4-5 favorite, was eager early, pulling her way into contention as A Nite in Cairo (Cairo Prince) set languid fractions of :24.59 and :49.44. Drawing on even terms with the pacesetter exiting the far turn and inching ahead near the quarter pole, the chestnut was given the cue at the head of the lane, kicked clear late and proved two-lengths best over Tall Girl (First Samurai). Ninth sprinting 6 1/2 furlongs over Woodbine’s synthetic last September, the filly showed her appreciation of the added yardage as well as the move to the grass with a four-length victory going a mile here Dec. 3. A half-sister to Ch. 3yo Filly and Ch. Grass Mare Irish Mission (Giant’s Causeway), Smart Mission is a granddaughter of Sam-Son’s Hangin On a Star (Vice Regent), responsible for Canadian Juvenile Champion Comet Shine (Fappiano). Smart Mission has a yearling filly by Union Rags and was bred back to Tonalist. Sales history: $32,000 Ylg ’21 FTKOCT. Lifetime Record: 3-2-0-0, $29,807.

MONFORT: ‘WILLIE MULLINS TAUGHT ME HORSES CAN TAKE A LOT OF WORK’

By Brian Sheerin

No trainer in Ireland has farmed France for top-class talent quite like Willie Mullins has in recent times. Superstars Hurricane Fly (Ire), Douvan (Fr), Un De Sceaux (Fr), Vroum Vroum Mag (Fr) and Benie Des Dieux (Fr) are all a product of that hugely successful resource.

HOLLIE DOYLE BENCHED WITH BROKEN ELBOW

Rider Hollie Doyle, who fell after her mount broke down at Wolverhampton on Monday evening, has been diagnosed with a broken elbow and will face a spell on the sidelines. A date to return to the saddle has not been set.

A winner of the G1 Prix de Diane aboard Nashwa (GB) (Frankel {GB}) in 2022, the first female rider to win a Classic was riding Archie Watson’s 4-7 race favourite The Perfect Crown (Ire) (Hallowed Crown {Aus}) when he broke down on the final turn. Doyle was up after the incident, and went to see a specialist on Tuesday.

Husband and fellow jockey Tom Marquand said, “She has broken her elbow. We don’t really know how long she will be out for as she literally only had her MRIs last night. It is one of those fiddly things, as you could put a number on it and you’d be wrong every time anyway.

“To be honest, it is just a case of making sure she gets it right now, because you wouldn’t want to stop halfway through the summer. It is frustrating.”

Besides her Classic triumph, Doyle enjoyed a 151-winner season, and was second to William Buick in the Flat Jockeys’ Championship.

It seems as though not one week goes by where Mullins fails to unleash a leading French prospect, which was evident at Clonmel on Tuesday when Ireland's dominant National Hunt trainer sent out Night And Day (GB) and Gaelic Warrior (Ger) to record emphatic successes and harden their claims for festival honours respectively.

So where do all these winners come from? Mullins's long-standing and trusty ally Harold Kirk is responsible for a lot of Closutton's jumping stars while Pierre Boulard plays an integral role in France.

But the tapestry of talent that makes its way to Mullins runs much deeper than Kirk and Boulard alone, with many trainers in France blooding talent in the hope that the major jumps trainers in Britain and Ireland come in with a blank cheque for the next big jumping star the country has to offer.

That includes Edouard Monfort, a former employee of Mullins, who now trains a string of 70 horses in his native France and recently sold smart prospects Tekao (Fr) and Parmenion (GB) to the most successful trainer in Cheltenham Festival history.

Monfort spent the 2015/16 National Hunt season with Mullins, which was the same campaign that Annie Power (Ire) came off the substitutes' bench to land the Champion Hurdle, and he revealed that the relationships forged during his time working for the 16-time Champion National Hunt trainer in Ireland burns bright to this day.

Monfort explained, “Willie is a really good man. He’s very simple and you can talk with him. He’s always the same. Of all my experiences in racing, I base my style on Willie.”

He added, “During my experience in Ireland, I made good friends—like Niall Kelly, Sonny Carey and Paddy Mullins. This is why I like coming to the Irish sales. It is easier for me to get information on these horses with all of my contacts. I have lots of clients from England and Ireland.

“It’s important to sell the right horses because it’s easy to sell the bad horses. It’s important for the future and for business to keep good contacts which is why I was confident to sell Tekao and Parmenion to Willie. I was pretty sure that they would be good jumps horses for him.”

At 34 years old, Monfort has built up a solid string. Indeed, he was destined to go down this route, being a son of Patrick Monfort, a successful trainer in France.

But a trip to Mullins's base for that winter in 2015 had the biggest influence on Monfort, according to the man himself, who revealed that he has adopted the many things that he learned from the trainer to his own operation in France.

Monfort said, 'I was born into horses as my father was a trainer. I went to engineers' school during my career as an amateur rider where I rode for 12 years on the Flat and over jumps in France. When I finished my career as an amateur, I targeted becoming a trainer and spent a jumps season with Willie, a year with Andre Fabre and another year with Jean-Claude Rouget.

"Working with Willie and seeing how he manages all of the horses that he has in his yard was a great experience. I wanted to go to Willie because I really like jumps racing and I wanted to get experience with a top jumps trainer. I learned from Willie that a horse can work a lot. They can work hard before they run. I also learned that you can take your time with some horses. Some of Willie’s horses, he takes it step by step with them, and they could be in the yard for a few months without having a race. When they do race, they come back stronger."

He added, "Sometimes I manage my young horses so that they can work hard for two or three months before getting a rest and after that, they come back and they feel that bit stronger. I was based with Willie when he had that very good mare, Annie Power. I also rode in one race for him. I think it was a gift from Willie to me!"

Now it’s Monfort’s turn to supply the ammunition to Mullins and the early signs are promising. Tekao won on his hurdling debut at Leopardstown over Christmas for Mullins in the famous green and gold hoops of JP McManus while Parmenion is also held in decent regard.

On the duo, Monfort said, "Tekao was bred by his owner. He has a good pedigree and we took our time with him. He won very well on debut on the Flat but, from the very beginning, he looked more like a jumps horse, which is why he was sold."

“I hope he is a very good hurdles horse. I saw him winning at Leopardstown and I thought he was a good winner because he was a little bit keen but he kept going all the way from the last to the winning post. I am confident he will be a very good horse for Willie and the team.”

He added, “Parmenion does not have a lot of experience but I really loved this horse when I used to train him. To compare him and Tekao, I would have to say that I would nearly prefer Parmenion from when he was a 3-year-old. I hope that he can be a very good horse. He has a German pedigree and I just think that all he needs is time.”

So why has Mullins returned to France time and time again in search of his next festival star? According to Monfort, one of the key reasons behind the success of the French-breds on racecourses in Britain and Ireland cannot be attributed to the excellent stallions who stand in the country alone, but also the deep pool of quality jumps mares that are available to breeders.

He said, “For a long time, the French breeding for jumps horses has been very good. We’ve got excellent mares in France for this. I think that is why we are having a lot of success in England and Ireland with our French-bred horses, because our mares here are so good. The breeders have worked very hard in keeping the right stallions in France for jumps racing. We have top jumps stallions in France but we are a little bit light on the Flat. We don’t have the same level of stallions standing here compared to the jumps.”

Monfort admits that buying the raw material has become harder but a series of big-money sales, to Flat and National Hunt handlers, has been a huge help.

“It’s very important for business to sell some of the horses. We know that the prize-money in France is very good but, if you want to make money, you have to sell these horses. That’s why it’s important to be able to showcase these horses and be able to sell them.

“When I think a horse could be a selling prospect, we manage him with a view towards that and we take our time. Most of the time, they don’t run until they are three years old if their future lies over jumps.”

He added, “We also sell horses to Australia or America. It just depends on the profile of the horse. The market has been very strong lately which has made it harder for us to buy the right horses. But, you know, when you start selling these good horses it makes it easier to buy the next ones because you’ve got the wallet!”
THIRD ECONOMIC IMPACT STUDY ON UK BREEDING INDUSTRY PUBLISHED

The third Economic Impact Study of the British Thoroughbred breeding industry was published on Wednesday. In the report, key opportunities and challenges for the sector were outlined and provide a blueprint for future progress.

Building on reports published in 2014 and 2018, the study was commissioned by the Thoroughbred Breeders’ Association (TBA) and conducted by PwC. Both the Racing Foundation and Horseracing Betting Levy Board (HBLB) funded the project.

British breeding was found to have an impact of over £375m of gross value added to the rural economy, as well as being a world-leading producer of top racehorses and the foundation for a world-class racing programme. There was also greater insight gained into the current climate in which Thoroughbred breeders operate through deeper analysis of factors affecting profitability and the overall health of the sector.

Over 7.5 million data points were analysed in the project following the impact of both Brexit and COVID-19. One of the highlights of the report was how the Great British Bonus scheme has narrowed the gap in average sales prices between colts and fillies at British sales. There are ongoing profitability issues, particularly in the middle and lower tiers of the market, where smaller operators continue to exit the industry. Forecasts on foal crops and broodmare numbers in the report also show a steady but continual reduction without intervention.

The report also outlined some recommendations for the industry to pursue, including the consideration of prize-money levels, new targeted industry incentives, creation of accessible ownership models, encouragement and support of the domestic stallion market, and the development of recruitment and retention strategies to meet the industry’s talent requirements.

TBA Chairman Julian Richmond-Watson said, “It is timely as it coincides with the racing industry’s development of a new long-term strategy, led by the BHA, which is an opportunity to shape racing’s future and strengthen our position as a world-leader in thoroughbred racing and breeding.

“The report will be a key evidence bank for this vital work, as industry stakeholders seek to work together to address the challenges for the long-term health of the sport. A high quality and sustainable supply of thoroughbred horses is a specific objective underpinning the whole strategy, and is a requisite for an attractive, competitive and quality racing product.”

TBA Chief Executive Claire Sheppard added, “It is of fundamental importance that as the TBA, and as an industry, we take action based on a sound and robust evidence base and have a real depth of understanding of underlying trends across the whole industry.

“As this is the third study the TBA has commissioned, a comprehensive and longer-term picture of the key trends now exists, and the data have helped PwC to model into the future and map out what could happen if these trends continue and we do not take interventions.

“The long-term declining trend in the key indicators are an ongoing concern, but there are signs of hope for the future in the upturn in the 2022 British-born foal crop numbers and the positive impact of the Great British Bonus on sales prices and owner returns.

“The report demonstrates that incentives and strategic interventions can work. We must learn from this and take forward a plan with the support of breeders in particular and the racing industry in general as part of racing’s new strategy.”
