HAVING MADE “A HUGE DIFFERENCE,” TRF’S JOHN EVANS RETIRES

by Bill Finley

John Evans didn’t know what to expect when he agreed to go to work for the Thoroughbred Retirement Foundation (TRF) as the equine program director at its farm at the Lowell Correctional Institute for Women in Ocala. He had been a steward, a trainer and a farm manager for Bridlewood Farm and Stoneway Farm, so, at the very least, this would be something different. Perhaps, maybe, less interesting, less rewarding.

But a friend, the late Dick Hancock, longtime executive vice president of the Florida Thoroughbred Breeders’ and Owners’ Association, talked Evans into taking the job, telling him that the program needed help and someone with his myriad skills would be a perfect fit.

“Dick told me he had a job for me at a prison,” Evans said. “He wanted me to come and straighten things out.”

That was in 2005 and 18 years later, Evans retired last week. “Why did I retire? Because I am 75. That’s a good enough reason.”

He left a job that far exceeded his expectations. As soon as he got there, he knew that he had the chance to change the lives for the better for the more than 275 inmates that came through the program while he was there.

SIX SHARE FURLONG BULLET AT OBS THURSDAY by Jessica Martini

Six juveniles shared the fastest furlong time of :9 4/5 during the fifth session of the under-tack show for the Ocala Breeders’ Sales Company’s Spring Sale of 2-Year-Olds in Training in Central Florida Thursday.

Among the sextet was a filly by Enticed (hip 710, video) who is among the first crop of homebreds at Mario Bencomo and Alejandro Esis’s New Horizon Farm in Ocala.

 Asked if expected a bullet work from the filly, who is the farm’s lone entrant in the sale, Bencomo said, “Yes. At the farm she worked really nice and she was always sound. So I expected what I saw today.”

Bencomo, who is involved in e-commerce, grew up around racing in his native Venezuela and returned to the sport when he moved to the U.S. almost 10 years ago. Cont. p5

“Was this the most gratifying job that I had in racing? It was. There’s no question about it,” said Evans, who, in 2016, received the first Thoroughbred Charities of America Award of Merit for his work with the TRF. “To see a lot of these girls go on to be successful, that’s the best thing that I accomplished in my life.”

Yes, the TRF, the oldest and largest Thoroughbred rescue in the U.S., is about the horses. It has given a good home to thousands since its founding in 1983. The Lowell herd normally numbered about 50. But it’s also about helping people who need help the most. The majority of the TRF’s retirees can be found at prison facilities spread across the country, where inmates care for the horses. The interaction between the inmates and the horses has proven to be nothing short of miraculous. The recidivism rate is much lower than it is at non-TRF prisons and most of the inmates turn a corner, leading productive lives after they’ve been released.

“Hardly any of our inmates come back,” Evans said. “Normally, once they start coming to prison they keep coming back to prison. There were a lot of things I didn’t expect when I got there so far as having a positive influence on other people. That was the best thing about this job.”

The Lowell program was the TRF’s first at a women’s prison and Evans believes that female inmates blossom in the program even more so than the men.

“A lot of them are mothers and this gave them something to nurture,” Evans said. “The horses really benefitted from that and the women really benefitted because they were locked up here without their children. I would say 65% of them had children. That was a big factor right there so far as them moving forward. Because of the horses, they had something to do and an importance in their lives that they hadn’t had since got incarcerated. That was a big part of it.

“When I was in the horse business, I worked for a lot of wealthy people and you’re just trying to produce for them. It makes a big difference when there isn’t the pressure of having to win a race. This is more a matter of motivating people to better their lives. That was the really good part of about it.”

When it became known that Evans was going to retire, tributes came pouring in from some of the inmates who were under his supervision. They all spoke of how much better their lives had become because they had worked with Evans and the horses. Here is a sampling:

“I don’t even know where to begin, but I am going to go ahead and begin with this...Thank You! You and the horses played a HUGE part in me becoming who I am today. I am forever grateful for the time and work you put in teaching me and sharing all of your endless knowledge with me. When I came to prison, I was lost and broken. And having you and the farm and the horses not only healed me, but helped me find my way. The years you have spent at TRF Second Chance farm have made a huge impact on so many broken people’s lives...I applaud you, you have done so much good for so many people, it’s truly inspiring. So again, thank you...You helped me turn my life around and for that I am eternally grateful.” -- Carmen Padilla

“Mr Evans, I never expected to learn so much in such a short amount of time! You are the best teacher and mentor I’ve ever had. You have taught me life lessons and lessons about how to care for those beautiful horses. You have a beautiful spirit and I wish you the best and hope to see you soon! —Angie Rubiolo

“Thank you to Mr. Evans for believing in me even before I believed in myself. I am so lucky to have known such an amazing man, teacher and mentor. I had zero confidence coming into this program, scared I wasn’t good enough. You helped me build that confidence to the point I no longer needed validation for everything I did anymore. Your trust was the most important thing. For example, if I was unsure of a horse’s treatment or diagnosis, or the right way to handle it, you would turn to me and say, ‘Well, you tell me what do you think should be done.’ By giving me this time to talk about the problem, I would have actually solved it. I am so grateful for his teachings not only with the horses but the teaching within ourselves. Definitely the two most important things he gave me back were my confidence and trust. Thank you for giving me my best two years of growing. I wish you the best retirement, relax and enjoy. You definitely have given the tools to so many women to learn and be successful in life. I will never forget you! —Corinda Colins

“A real cowboy knows about pain, love and shame but never cares about being famous...you are an amazing person and famous to anyone who knows you. Thanks for your time and teaching.” —Rebecca Farless

As Evans started to get older, the inmates returned the favor and started to take care of their supervisor.

“These girls, especially after I got older, they wouldn’t let me do anything,” he said. “All they wanted to know was what I knew and could teach them.”

He’s been off the job about a week, and admits that he misses it.

“I got up this morning wanting to go to work,” he said. “But I didn’t have a job. My dogs were the same. They wanted to go to work too.”

His wife Marsha, a retired professor at the University of Central Florida, is certain that Evans will come to miss the job even more.

“What I know that he doesn’t know is how much he will miss the interaction with the women and miss how that was his primary focus. We’ve been getting cards and notes from graduates of the program and they will knock your socks off.”

Another inmate, who gave her name only as J.J., agrees.

“You are one special angel that God placed in my path,” she wrote in her tribute to Evans.

“My husband,” Marsha Evans said, “has made a huge difference in a lot of lives. It’s something to be proud of.”

“My family in Venezuela was always involved in the racehorse industry,” he explained. “I always saw the industry as a hobby, but when I moved to the United States in 2014, I started to do research and try to figure how the industry works here in the U.S.”

Bencomo acquired the 80-acre Morriston Farm that was formerly Eddie Coletti’s Sunrise Stable South in 2021 and has been busy refurbishing the property.

“I bought the farm just 2 1/2 years ago and I’ve been trying to rebuild it,” he said. “I bought it in pretty bad condition and I’ve been improving all the buildings, the fences, and the racetrack. And I built a swimming pool.”

New Horizon made its debut at OBS with a pair of pinhooking prospects in March 2021.

“Originally, we started with pinhooking yearlings to 2-year-olds,” Bencomo said. “Now we are moving to homebreds. For the next year, we are going to have 14 or 15 homebreds, by Kentucky and Florida stallions.”

Hip 710 is out of Mooji’s Empire (Empire), a mare New Horizon acquired privately. The juvenile is co-bred with CESA Farm. While only its third year of operation, New Horizon Farm was celebrating its second bullet worker at OBS. The consignment was represented by a filly by Good Magic (hip 984) who worked a quarter in :20 4/5 before selling for $200,000 to trainer Peter Miller on behalf of Kaleem Shah at the 2022 OBS June sale. She had been a $35,000 Keeneland September purchase by New Horizon.

Following next week’s auction, New Horizon Farm heads north with a four-horse consignment at the Fasig-Tipton Midlantic May sale.

“I am going with four to the Maryland sale,” Bencomo said. “I have two homebreds there and then I am going to keep some for racing.” Cont.

Bencomo remains active in the e-commerce industry, but he sees a day when his racing operation will take up much of his time.

“It’s still a hobby,” he said of the farm. “But in the near future, I think it will be a profitable business.”

Miles Doubles Up on Bullets Thursday

Randy Miles sent out a pair of fillies to share the bullet furlong Thursday and, at the end of the day, the consignor admitted he was pleasantly surprised by the results.

“We knew they were quick, but most of the time at the 2-year-old sale, you just want them to stay out of trouble and try their hardest and do the best they can possibly do,” Miles said. “They did it today. But sometimes 2-year-olds don’t cooperate.”

A daughter of Race Day (hip 719, video) out of the unraced Morning Memo (Morning Line), who is a daughter of graded winner Memorette (Memo {Chi}), worked shortly before 10 a.m. The bay filly was purchased by Miles’s Cool Hill Farm for $27,000 at last year’s Keeneland September sale.

“She’s a lovely filly and she had a beautiful breeze,” Miles said of the youngster. “She’s so easy and classy in the barn. She’s really what you want in a horse. Race Day may not be the flavor of the month, but as we all know, he can get you a good race horse. We didn’t pay a whole lot for her, but when we saw her, we loved her build and her athleticism.”

A filly from the first crop of Maximus Mischief (hip 728, video) worked just short of noon Thursday. Out of My Rolex (Proud Accolade), the juvenile is a half-sister to stakes-winner It’s High Time (Gone Astray) and from the family of Grade I winner Black Seventeen. The Florida-bred RNA’d for $55,000 at last year’s OBS October sale and Miles is consigning her on behalf of breeder Tracy Pinchin. Cont.

“I have three of them and they are all here at the sale,” Miles said of offspring of graded-winner Maximus Mischief. “They all act like they want to run. They all act precocious. This filly is about 15.3 and I have a colt who is 16.2. And I have one in the middle. So I am getting all shapes and sizes, but I do like their desire to try and to work hard and their mental attitude.”

The pair of Thursday bullets made three on the week for Miles, who sent out a son of Solomini (hip 692) to work in :9 4/5 Wednesday.

“He’s just beautiful,” Miles said of the colt. “I generally just let him do his own talking. Everybody who has been by has been impressed with him. We knew he was talented. My partner, Bo Hunt, is an excellent trainer and a lot of times when these young horses show that they have speed, we don’t breeze them that often. It was about every two weeks to 20 days that we breezed him and he showed it every time.”

Victor Centeno’s Two Oaks Equine sent out a filly by Bolt d’Oro (hip 785) to work in :9 4/5 during Thursday’s first set of workers. The filly is out of the unraced Petunia (Into Mischief) and was purchased by Centeno for $20,000 at last year’s Keeneland September sale.

A colt by Into Mischief (hip 793) worked in :9 4/5 for Hartley/DeRenzo Thoroughbreds, which purchased him as a weanling for $350,000 at the 2021 Keeneland November sale. The bay is out of Pisa No Tiffany (Fusaichi Pegasus), a half-sister to Tapit.

A colt by Army Mule (hip 845) worked in :9 4/5 for Pick View, LLC. The youngster, who sold for $40,000 at the 2022 Keeneland January sale, sold again for $110,000 to Gracie Bloodstock on behalf of Anthony Tate at the Keeneland September sale. The chestnut is out of Raging Atlantic (Stormy Atlantic), a half-sister to Grade I-placed Seven Trumpets (Morning Line).

Four horses shared Thursday’s fastest quarter-mile breeze of :21 flat: a colt by Blame (hip 786, video); a filly by Hard Spun (hip 814, video); a colt by Cable Bay (Ire) (hip 847, video); and a colt by No Nay Never (hip 868, video).

“I think those guys have done a great job with the track,” Miles said when asked to assess conditions from session-to-session at the under-tack show this week. “We got a little wind push this afternoon and I think another day they had a good wind push. But overall, trying to keep it consistent from the first set to the last set, I think it’s been pretty consistent. And that’s hard. This thing is kind of a monster to tame. And they’ve done a pretty good job with it.”

The under-tack show continues through Saturday with sessions beginning daily at 8 a.m. The Spring sale will be held next Tuesday through Friday with bidding beginning each day at 10:30 a.m.
JAPANESE RACING JOURNALIST TOSHI ONIKUBO JOINS THE TDN WRITERS’ ROOM PODCAST

With at least two, and perhaps three, horses from Japan set to compete in this year’s GI Kentucky Derby, everyone wants to know more about these horses and why the Japanese runners have had so much success internationally over the last few years. To answer those questions and more, the TDN Writers’ Room presented by Keeneland called upon Toshi Onikubo whose website, netkeiba.com, is among the best sources of information on Japanese racing anywhere. Onikubo was this week’s Green Group Guest of the Week. He is a graduate of the Darley Flying Start program.

The biggest name among the Japanese horses set to run in the Derby is Derma Sotogake (Jpn) (Mind Your Biscuits), the runaway winner of the G2 UAE Derby. The Writers’ Room’s Randy Moss has made him 6-1 in his early line for the Derby. Can he win the Derby?

“I believe he’s definitely one of the best 3-year-old horses on dirt in Japan,” Onikubo said. “But we don’t really know because we don’t have any benchmarks when it comes to comparing him to American horses. And it’s a big ask, to come over and win the Kentucky Derby. We recently have had really successful results, on turf and on dirt and in the Breeders’ Cup two years ago. But we haven’t really had those successes previously. So it’s still a big ask for Derma Sotogake. And I hope I’m wrong, but this will be really tough for him to do. There are a lot of things to overcome.”

Mandarin Hero (Jpn) (Shanghai Bobby) is next on the Japanese depth chart, but he may not get into the race because he currently does not have enough points to qualify.
Nonetheless, his performance in the GI Santa Anita Derby, where he lost by just a nose to Practical Move (Practical Joke), was a big one. Mandarin Hero races in Japan at the National Association of Racing (NAR) tracks, which are considered inferior to the Japan Racing Association (JRA) tracks. So what does that say about Derma Sotogake, who, in Japan, is clearly regarded as the better horse of the two?

“It definitely was a surprising result,” Onikubo said of the Santa Anita Derby. “The JRA, that’s division one, league A, and NAR is league two, division two. The primary leading trainers are basically all on the JRA circuit, and Mandarin Hero is not from JRA. He was coming from a NAR track and running in one of the best prep races for the Kentucky Derby, an international Grade I race on dirt and finished a very close second. That was a really surprising result, but it’s an encouraging result as well.”

This third potential Japanese starter is Continuar (Jpn) (Drefong). He was third behind Derma Sotogake in the UAE Derby but has made the Derby field because he won a “Win and You’re In” race for the Derby in Japan. Onikubo said the best thing he has going for him is his trainer, Yoshito Yahagi. Yahagi was the mastermind behind the Japanese invasion of the 2021 Breeders’ Cup, where he won two races. Loves Only You (Jpn) (Deep Impact {Jpn}) won the GI Breeders’ Cup Filly & Mare Turf. Marche Lorraine (Jpn) (Orfevre {Jpn}) won the GI Breeders’ Cup Distaff.

“He’s trained by the master, Yoshito Yahagi, an internationally successful trainer with the two Breeders’ Cup wins,” Onikubo said. “He’s also won the Saudi Cup and he won the Cox Plate, so he’s a really successful trainer on international stages. He seems to know something other trainers don’t know.” Cont.

Elsewhere on the podcast, which is also sponsored by Coolmore, the Pennsylvania Horse Breeders Association, Kentucky Thoroughbred Owners and Breeders, 1st Racing, WinStar Farm and West Point Thoroughbreds, the team of Moss, Zoe Cadman, and Bill Finley took a look back at last weekend’s biggest races, including the bounce-back race by Clairiere (Curlin) in the GI Apple Blossom H., which vaulted her back to the top of the older filly and mare division. Looking ahead, the team focused on the GII Oaklawn H., with all agreeing that it has assembled a top field worthy of Grade I status.

In off-the-track news, the trio talked about the fate of Turf Paradise and delved in an interesting story in the TDN by Dan Ross that shed some light on computer assisted wagering play in California and whether it is hurting the industry or not.

CHURCHILL DOWNS WORKERS CONTINUE DERBY/OAKS PREPS

Spendthrift Farm’s duo of GII TwinSpires.com Louisiana Derby winner Kingsbarns (Uncle Mo) and GII Jeff Ruby Steaks runner-up Major Dude (Bolt d’Oro) had their penultimate works prior to Kentucky Derby Day when they each breezed five furlongs in 1:00.80 Thursday morning at Churchill Downs. The duo clipped through opening eighth-mile fractions of :12.60, :24.40 and :36.20. They galloped out together through six furlongs in 1:13.40.

“1 think people gave Kingsbarns a discount because of the time of the Louisiana Derby,” Spendthrift Farm President Eric Gustavson said. “I don’t think you should be penalized by going to the front and putting everyone else to sleep like he did. We’re pretty confident coming into the Derby.”

“Both of them went pretty well,” added trainer Todd Pletcher. “I thought it was a good, steady work with a strong gallop out. Kingsbarns accomplished a lot in a short period of time. I thought his debut was very professional. It’s hard to win going one mile first time out and he did it getting an education being behind horses. For his first start I thought that was impressive. We went the Tampa Bay Downs route to get a two-turn allowance race into him. I thought that worked out well. He made a big step forward then in the Louisiana Derby.”

Pletcher reported Kentucky Derby favorite Forte (Violence) will breeze Friday along with GI Blue Grass Stakes winner Tapit Trice (Tapit).

Not to be outdone, the fillies pointing toward the GI Kentucky Oaks also occupied the work tab Thursday.

Wet Paint (outside) and The Alys Look (inside) | Coady

At 7:30 a.m., Botanical (Medaglia d’Oro) (five furlongs, 1:00.20), Southlawn (Pioneerof the Nile) (five furlongs, :58.80), The Alys Look (Connect) (five furlongs, 1:00.60) and Wet Paint (Blame) (five furlongs, 1:00.20) all recorded published workouts. About 90 minutes later, Gambling Girl (Dialed In) breezed a half-mile in :49.40.

Wet Paint, with jockey Flavien Prat aboard, began two lengths back of her stablemate The Alys Look, who was ridden by Florent Geroux, and finished even at the wire. Wet Paint completed a six-furlong gallop out in 1:13 while her stablemate finished in 1:13.40. Immediately following their work, Botanical, with jockey Chris Landeros in the irons, worked outside stablemate Flashy Gem (Bolt d’Oro). The duo galloped out six furlongs together in 1:13.40.

“I thought it was a really good morning for all of our fillies,” said trainer Brad Cox. “The Alys Look began about two lengths in front of Wet Paint and they finished well together and galloped out well together. I thought it was a very solid move.” Cont.
Cox continued: “I let Botanical do a little bit more today than last week just to see how she’d really handle the dirt. She was actually here at Churchill last summer and we breezed her on the turf then and thought she handled it well. She didn’t quite have a lot of early speed so that’s why we started her going long on turf. Flashy Gem is a very good work horse and the two fillies ran first and second last time out at Turfway.”

Southlawn Thursday at Churchill | Coady

Southlawn, trained by Norm Casse, started five lengths back of stablemate Burning Bright (Empire Maker). The winner of the GII Fair Grounds Oaks worked through fractions of :24 and :35.20 with rider Rey Gutierrez in the saddle. She galloped out six furlongs in 1:11.60, according to Churchill clocker John Nichols.

Gambling Girl worked with jockey Irad Ortiz, Jr. on board and was outside her Todd Pletcher-trained stablemate Cairo Consort (Cairo Prince). The duo completed early fractions of :12.60 and :24.60 and galloped out five furlongs in 1:02.20.

G3 UAE Oaks winner Mimi Kakushi (City of Light) is on her way from Dubai to the U.S. and is scheduled to arrive at Churchill Downs on Saturday.

RAISE CAIN WORKS FIVE FURLONGS IN KENTUCKY DERBY TUNEUP

Raise Cain (Violence) worked five furlongs in 1:03.40 Thursday at Keeneland in preparation for an expected run in the GI Kentucky Derby. With regular work rider Isael Garcia aboard for trainer Ben Colebrook, Raise Cain produced fractions of :13.60, :26.80, :38.60, :51.40, 1:03.40 and galloped out six furlongs in 1:15.80. (Click here for a video of the work.)

“Nice and easy ... finished well and galloped out well. Just what you’re looking for,” said Colebrook. “He started out slow and then finished well.”

Colebrook, who will be saddling his first Kentucky Derby starter, plans to work Raise Cain next Thursday or Friday depending on weather before vanning to Churchill Downs May 1.

Keeneland will accept supplemental entries until the sale date. Because of the changeable nature of horses of racing age catalogs, consignments will be stabled and a barn order list produced and distributed around Monday, Apr. 24, when the catalogue--including supplements--is close to finalized. A printed catalogue for the 80 horses initially catalogued in the sale is available at Keeneland. A supplemental catalogue will be available just prior to the sale.

Click here for the enhanced digital catalogue on Keeneland.com. The catalogue, also available through the Equineline Sales Catalog iPad app, includes pedigrees, Equibase past performances and race videos, Daily Racing Form past performances, and Ragozin and Thoro-Graph figures. Consignors may upload photographs and walking videos.

HAWTHORNE SWAPS SATURDAYS FOR THURSDAYS FOR REMAINDER OF SEASON

by T.D. Thornton

Hawthorne Race Course will swap out Saturdays in favor of Thursdays for the upcoming June-through-Labor Day portion of its season, continuing a schedule switch that the Chicago-area track began with the current spring meet.

The Illinois Racing Board (IRB) granted the change with a unanimous vote at its Apr. 20 meeting.

Right now Hawthorne is racing on a Thursday-and-Sunday schedule. The changes will go into effect starting May 31, when the meet expands to three days: Wednesdays, Thursdays and Sundays. Post times are 2:30 p.m. Central.

Jim Miller, Hawthorne's racing director, explained to IRB members the reasoning behind the request to move off of Saturdays.

"Fortunately, things have actually worked really well just in the first four or five weeks of the meet here, because originally we were going to race on Saturdays and Sundays in the spring," Miller said. "And just finding the amount of competition on Saturdays usually had our handle somewhere around $900,00 per card on a Saturday. By shifting to Thursdays, there's been less competition, more exposure for us [via simulcasting], and actually on Thursdays we're averaging close to $2 million per card in handle.

"For comparison purposes, last year in the spring meet our average handle per card was about $1.2 million. Right now we're just over $1.6 million. So the belief is by kind of continuing this trend during the summer by racing Wednesday-Thursday-Sunday, you'll have a lot more exposure on Wednesday and Thursday compared to a Saturday card when you're starting to get to the bigger meets [and it's] so hard to compete."

Miller pointed out that the schedule change allows for the dovetailing of dates with FanDuel Sportsbook and Horse Racing (formerly Fairmount Park), some 275 miles to the southwest, which races on Tuesdays and Saturdays.

"It works for everybody. It works for handle in the state," Miller said. "It works for the riders who try to ride and make a living at both racetracks. The horsemen have the ability to go to both of these racetracks as well. Even though it is not a perfect world where you have five straight days of racing at one location, at least there's five days of racing within the state."

CHRB ON SANTA ANITA TURF: 'BACK TO NORMAL AND SAFE'

by T.D. Thornton

On the day before racing at Santa Anita is scheduled to resume Friday with five turf races following an 11-day break that had been planned before recent grass-course drainage issues arose, staffers with the California Horse Racing Board (CHRB) deemed the turf to be ready to handle horses.

The last two dates that Santa Anita had raced, Apr. 8 and 9, a total of five turf races had to be swapped from the "firm" grass course to the "fast" main dirt track because of slippage problems on the far turn.

That Apr. 8 card was the meet's premier race date, featuring the GI Santa Anita Derby and its undercard stakes. But when Midnight Jostar (Midnight Lute) lost his footing and fell at the top of the stretch, unseating jockey Kent Desormeaux, one remaining late-card Grade III stakes and two allowance races got transferred to the main track.

The trouble spot was then aerated overnight and jockeys walked the course with track management on Sunday, Apr. 9.

They rode four races over the "firm" course, but continued complaints slipping and bobbling necessitated the removal of two later races from the course.

Scott Chaney, the CHRB's executive director, said Apr. 20 both the fallen horse and jockey ended up being "perfectly fine" and that the removal of turf racing was "completely the right call" by track management.

But Chaney did add that from a standpoint of inconvenience, "it certainly wasn't a good look for [Santa Anita] and it was bad for the wagering public." He termed the mid-card need to remove races from the turf on a cloudless, non-raining day to be "less than ideal, and frankly Santa Anita lost a fair amount of money because of it."

Chaney continued: "The current explanation is that it was wet, therefore slippery, [and] that water was not draining well enough through the turf course. My understanding is that that's partly because they've changed the composition because of the inordinate amount of rain. So it can take more rain, but it doesn't drain quite as well.

"There was no racing this week. We've been getting daily reports from our safety stewards on the grounds there about the measures they've taken in terms of aeration and [the addition of] a substance that promotes drainage on the turf course," Chaney said. "I know they worked three horses [Wednesday] morning [and everybody] seemed happy with how that was supposed to go."

CHRB equine medical director Jeff Blea concurred with Chaney.

"It's frustrating for those owners. It's frustrating for the betting public, and those trainers as well. I heard a lot of those frustrations," Blea said. "But, as Scott said, there were some issues with horses slipping on one area of the racetrack around that turn. The stewards decided, and I think they made a good decision, in the safety of the horses and riders, to take it off the turf.

"I know Santa Anita was affected paramountly with the loss of wagering," Blea said. "[But] they've gone through, they've evaluated and looked at what the problem was [and concluded] that the turf was back to normal and safe."

Last fall, TRM expanded to the United States and is already well on its way to having a nationwide influence.

"Without a doubt, our client base is growing and it's growing pretty fast," said Andy Ash, the founder of TRM. "We've put a lot of effort and a lot of investment into it. We're not coming into the U.S. without some knowledge, but we're also very determined to do what the U.S. needs rather than saying the U.S. needs to be more like Australia or Europe because that will never work. The U.S. is its own unique place, but there are definitely things to be learned from each place."

Ash was originally inspired to build a platform for improving owner-trainer communication when, as a first-time owner, he quickly became frustrated by the lack of sufficient updates about his horses in training. Upon launching TRM, he learned that he was not alone in this thinking. The company conducted surveys and found that 85% of owners were disappointed with the level or style of communication they received. At the same time, 85% of trainers replied to the survey saying that one of their greatest challenges was being time strapped. The core goal of TRM seeks to improve upon those two issues by helping trainers and racing managers increase the quality and quantity of communication to their owners in a straightforward, streamlined format. Cont.

Now six years since its inception, the program has attracted seven of the top trainers in Ireland including Joseph O'Brien and Jessica Harrington.

Ash said that launching the tool has come with its challenges, citing that because many trainers do not have so much as a website to communicate with owners and potential owners, it has been difficult for them to realize the potential benefits of an online communication platform.

But he explained that their team has found that the trainers who understand the necessity of good communication are the ones constantly seeking to improve and added that there is strong evidence to suggest that the best communicators are growing in horse and user numbers.

“At the end of the day, it comes down to competitive edge,” he explained. “Communication is not simply saying, 'We need to send a photo or a video.' It's a bit more complicated than that. Racing has to learn to invest in their ownership experience.”

On the Racing Manager platform, owners have an individualized profile feed that is unique to them and their horses. Trainers and racing managers have the ability to send photo and video updates, but they can also conduct polls, create photo galleries that others can add to, send messages to specific owners or syndicate groups and more.

Ash explained that many trainers will send out a weekly yard update and noted that trainers are able to sort their stable’s profile to learn which horses have gone the longest without an update.

The Irish National Stud is another prominent TRM client. Ash said that the average Irish National Stud horse receives 175 updates per year.

While some of those updates require trainer engagement, most are produced automatically by TRM. Entries, workouts and race results appear on a user’s feed, as do breeding updates (like if a horse’s half-sibling is debuting) or a form alert (like if a horse that the user’s horse ran second to in its last race won in its next start). All of these notifications are customizable for each user.

“We do all these things that are engaging the owner without the actual manager of the organization having to do anything,” Ash said. “Every user is different and every user can get a different assimilation. Everything The Racing Manager does, it has come from client advice.”

TRM is now working to cater toward an evolving racing landscape worldwide. The success of racing partnerships has grown to where a number of trainers in the U.K. focus exclusively on syndicates. Several of them rely on TRM to communicate with their members. In Australia especially, partnerships are changing the demographics of racing as they have made ownership more accessible to the younger generation.

“The need to encourage younger people into ownership can only be achieved by modern communication methods, especially the professional distribution and presentation of the communication,” said Ash. “If we can change the demographic, we’re going to have a better future in ownership and in racing as a whole.”

Even still, Ash said they work to accommodate all demographics and technology skill levels, noting that their customer service department has gone so far as to help set up email accounts for some of their clients.

Just as the demographics of racing may be changing, the sport is becoming increasingly accessible on an international level for the average owner. Ash said that TRM is becoming an important tool for owners and trainers communicating across oceans.

“We’ve started to see, out of our user base, that 20% of people are international compared to the country their horse is in,” he shared. “We have had Middle Eastern owners say to us that they would love to have more horses overseas, and specifically in the U.S., if they felt they would be communicated with.”

A growing number of trainers and racing partnerships in the U.S. are becoming interested in TRM. Taylor Made’s Medallion Racing, Bradley Thoroughbreds and CJ Thoroughbreds are among the groups that have embraced the tool, while trainers who use the platform for their stable include Doug O’Neill and Norm Casse.

“We have quite a few pending,” Ash added. “We don’t intend to rush it too much. We’re confident that people will see others using it and realize they can communicate better too.”

MORE THAN THREE YEARS AFTER ORIGINAL INDICTMENTS, A NEW NAME SURFACES
by Bill Finley

In the case involving high-profile Thoroughbred trainers Jorge Navarro, Jason Servis and more than two dozen others, Standardbred horseman Brandon Simpson has pled guilty to one count of drug adulteration and misbranding conspiracy for his role in a scheme to provide horses with performance-enhancing drugs.

What makes the Simpson case unusual is that his guilty plea came some three years after the original charges against Navarro, Servis, et. al. were unsealed and there was no mention of Simpson’s name in the indictments released at that time. Court records released this week show that Simpson came to the government’s attention as early as mid-November, 2020 when the government and Simpson’s attorneys agreed on a bail package. What happened over the next several months and why was Simpson’s name omitted from the original indictment remain unanswered questions. The Simpson development also raises the question as to whether or not more new names will surface in the near future when it comes to those being indicted as part of the drugging scandal.

Simpson both trained and drove, winning 1,643 races as a driver and 375 as a trainer. He last drove in 2017 and it appears that around that time he accepted a job as an assistant to trainer Rene Allard. Allard is among the bigger names caught up in the scandal and is currently serving a 27-month prison sentence after he previously plead guilty to one felony count of misbranding and altering drugs.

In a particularly troubling chapter in the Allard scandal, the Federal Bureau of Investigation intercepted a phone conversation in which two other alleged conspirators discussed the deaths of horses trained by Allard after they had been given illegal drugs. One reference caught on wiretap described the trainer’s operation as the “Allard death camp.”

Court documents released this week detailed Simpson’s activities, which included purchasing drugs at a pharmacy in South Carolina and then shipping them to a training center located in the Southern District of New York. Simpson also, the government claims, “administered prescription drugs to racehorses under Simpson’s and others’ control without a valid veterinary prescription, for the purposes of enhancing the horses’ race performance.”

STRAIGHT LINE EQUINE SALES TO DEBUT AT FASIG-TIPTON JULY

Colin Brennan Bloodstock and Wolf Creek Farms, with Jay Goodwin as a contributor, will launch Straight Line Equine Sales beginning with this year’s Fasig-Tipton Kentucky Sale in July. The new venture will be represented by drafts at yearling and breeding stock sales, with a ‘focus on providing individual sales and management services’ to each of its clients.

The consignment and client relations component of Straight Line will be managed by Colin Brennan, who launched a bloodstock agency in his own name in 2019, Kristin Brennan, who helped to launch sales consignments for Calumet Farm, and Austin Winfrey, who gained experience in a variety of facets of the sales before joining his father Troy at Wolf Creek Farm once the operation was moved back to Kentucky. Troy Winfrey and Goodwin will manage horses behind the scenes.

“I am excited for the unique opportunity to co-found Straight Line Equine Sales,” said Brennan, a graduate of the Godolphin Flying Start program who spent five years as assistant to his father, noted 2-year-old consignor Niall Brennan, and two years at Stonestreet’s racing and training division in Florida. “I have a tremendous amount of respect for everyone on our team and I believe collectively we will be able to satisfy clients in various sectors of the market.”

Following Fasig-Tipton July, Straight Line expects to have a presence at Saratoga and Texas in August and the Keeneland September Sale.

CURLIN-LADY AURELIA COLT ROMPS TO RISING STARDOM; ROYAL ASCOT NEXT

Stonestreet homebred American Rascal (c, 2, Curlin--Lady Aurelia, by Scat Daddy), the first foal out of international superstar and two-time Royal Ascot winner Lady Aurelia, romped on debut in a jaw-dropping 'TDN Rising Star' performance for Wesley Ward over the Keeneland main track Thursday afternoon. A trip to Royal Ascot could be in the cards for the mighty Curlin's 24th 'Rising Star.'

"He's a super fast horse," Ward said in the winner's circle on FanDuel TV. "The good thing about running at Ascot is that they go in and out of the races completely sound. That turf course there and at Keeneland are ideal--just so safe for all these fast 2-year-olds early in their career. We'll center in on the [G2] Norfolk [going five furlongs at Royal Ascot June 22]. Of course, we'll talk it over with Ian Brennan and Barbara [Banke]'s team and Barbara herself. That's what he was given to me for. His mother did so great over there. I really look forward to this guy. He's gonna be something."

American Rascal fired a three-furlong bullet in :35 3/5 (1/13) at Keeneland Apr. 9 and was hammered down to 1-2 in this nine-horse field. He broke sharply beneath a whipless Joel Rosario and was content to back off and chase Loudermilk (Bernardini) from second through an opening quarter in :22.21. American Rascal began to wind up on the far turn and blasted off down the stretch in eye-catching fashion with just a shake of the reins to graduate by 10 1/4 lengths. Prints Money (Munnings) was second.

The Stonestreet-bred and Ward-trained Lady Aurelia, a $350,000 KEESEP yearling purchase campaigned by Stonestreet, George Bolton and Peter Leidel, brought $7.5 million from Lady Aurelia to dissolve a partnership at the 2018 FTKNOV sale. Lady Aurelia romped on debut with a 'Rising Star' performance of her own over the same course and distance in Lexington in 2016. She captured Royal Ascot's G1 King's Stand S. and G2 Queen Mary S., the G1 Darley Prix Morny in France and the Giant's Causeway S. over the Keeneland lawn. She fell just a nose short in the G1 Coolmore Nunthorpe S. at York. Lady Aurelia produced a filly by Into Mischief in 2022.

DARING DO (f, 3, Into Mischief--More'n Likely, by Blame) broke her maiden with a gate-to-wire performance in her second career start Mar. 2 at Turfway Park after a debut third Jan. 18 in Florence. Taking on older company in this turf debut, the 3-1 shot raced mid-pack down the backstretch. Daring Do went four wide into the lane, and, with good energy, corralled the leaders at the sixteenth pole to win by a head over the hard-charging Hideki (Run Away and Hide). The winner has a 2-year-old half-sister named Letmenowhenurready (Quality Road) and a yearling full-brother by Into Mischief. This is the first offspring to make it to the races for More'n Likely, a half-sister to GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf victor Hootenanny (Quality Road). She visited Not This Time last year. ROYAL PATRONAGE (FR) (c, 4, Wootton Bassett {GB}--Shaloushka {Ire}, by Dalakhani {Ire}), winner of the G2 Royal Lodge S. at Newmarket as a juvenile and second in the G2 Dante S. at York the following year for Charlie Johnson, was 16th in the G1 Epsom Derby. He was transferred to Graham Motion after running fifth July 9 in the GI Belmont Derby in his U.S. debut. Sixth Aug. 6 in the GI Saratoga Derby and seventh Sept. 6 in the GIII Virginia Derby at Colonial Downs, the bay colt came back from the break as the 5-2 favorite in this spot. Racing in fifth around the clubhouse turn and down the backstretch, Royal Patronage found himself bottled up at the top of the lane. Cutting to the outside, he found an opening past the eighth pole and rolled home to win by a neck over the late-arriving Commandeer (Street Boss). The winner is his dam's first foal.

Five Hundred, catalogued in the upcoming April Selected Horses of Racing Age Sale at Keeneland, was a well-beaten debut fourth at the Fair Grounds Feb. 18 before switching to the turf in New Orleans where he was a well-beaten eighth Mar. 26. The bay colt drifted to 8-1 in this spot, but got down to business as the pacesetter around the first bend. Ocean City slipped away from the field, and, despite a late challenge from favorite Camilo (More Than Ready), graduated by 1 1/4 lengths. A half-brother to champion male sprinter Jackie's Warrior (Maclean's Music), MGISW, $2,959,164, the winner is also a half to a yearling filly by Into Mischief. then lost the lead late to finish second Sept. 14 at Kentucky Downs. Serving as the 5-2 favorite to start his 3-year-old campaign here, the dark bay colt was a touch unruly early, before settling down just off the leader down the backstretch. Given his cue around the far turn, Sherlock's Jewel opened up down the lane and outlasted both Balthazar (Flintshire {GB}) and Cyber Ninja (Arrogate) to graduate by a head. The winner is his dam's last produce. Lifetime Record: 3-1-1-0, $88,650. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.

INDESTRUCTIBLE CONTINUES AMO’S FLYING START IN THE CRAVEN

by Tom Frary

Beaten twice by Chaldean (GB) (Frankel {GB}) at two but evidently unbowed, the aptly-named Indestructible (Ire) (Kodiac {GB}–Shareva {Ire}, by Rip Van Winkle {Ire}) marked his debut for the Karl Burke stable with a win in Newmarket’s G3 Craven S. to continue Amo Racing’s strong start to the current campaign on Thursday.

Able to get into some kind of fight with Andrew Balding’s leading 2000 Guineas hope in York’s G3 Acomb S., he was put in his place when last seen in the G2 Champagne S. at Doncaster in September but re-emerged to underline the strength of that peer and further his own case for the imminent course-and-distance Classic.

Keen early for Kevin Stott, the 8-1 shot, who was trained by Michael O’Callaghan as a juvenile, pulled his way to the front after the first two furlongs with another Balding runner in The Foxes (Ire) (Churchill {Ire}) tracking his every move away from the remainder. Tackled by that G2 Royal Lodge S. winner heading towards the dip, the bay pulled out more to gain the upper hand in the last 150 yards and score by 1 1/4 lengths, with Dancing Magic (Ire) (Camelot {GB}) 1 3/4 lengths further behind in third and Godolphin’s 15-8 favourite Mysterious Night (Ire) (Dark Angel {Ire}) a disappointing last of the seven. ‘HE HAS BEEN AN ULTIMATE PROFESSIONAL’: SILVER KNOTT PLEASES APPLEBY By Emma Berry

NEWMARKET, UK—With three Godolphin Classic winners having already taken to the Rowley Mile this week in early-morning gallops, on Thursday it was the turn of the Classic hopes.

GI Breeders’ Cup Juvenile Turf runner-up Silver Knot (GB) (Lope De Vega {Ire}) and G2 Gimcrack S. winner Noble Style (GB) (Kingman {GB}) are both under consideration for QIPCO 2,000 Guineas in just over a fortnight’s time and they stretched out over seven furlongs in a serious piece of work under James Doyle and William Buick, respectively.

Noble Style, not seen on the racecourse since his success at York in August, was first up in company with Listed-winning stablemate Highland Avenue (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}), whose half-sister Silver Lady (GB) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) won impressively on debut at Newmarket on Wednesday. Cont. p6

“This is a lovely, scopey horse,” Burke said. “I got a phone call just before Christmas asking if we’d take him and I’m not going to turn down horses like him. We had a couple of niggles with him physically after he arrived, nothing major, but because of those niggles I’m sure he’s having a good blow today and he’ll improve. I’d say I’d have to fight Kia [Joorabchian] now not to come back here in two weeks’ time. He deserves his chance, I’m sure.”

King Power’s racing manager Alistair Donald said of The Foxes, “This was always going to be a prep for the [G2] Dante [S.] and the [G1] Derby is the main focus. Today he’s travelled great, looked like he was going to win the race and just got tired. I think he was a bit lonely out in front there as well. It’s quite exciting and we’re perfectly on track for the plan.”

Pedigree Notes

Indestructible’s dam Shareva was a fairly fast maiden herself, although her Aga Khan family offers the usual element of stamina to complement the speed influence of Kodiac. She is a daughter of Shareen (Ire) (Bahri), who was successful in the G3 Denny Cordell Lavarack & Lanwades Stud Fillies S. before producing the dual G2 Blandford S. scorer Shamreen (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}) who is in turn the dam of last year’s G2 Railway S. winner and G1 Vincent O’Brien National S. and G1 Phoenix S. third Shartash (Ire) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}). Shareva, who is also a half to the G3 Singspiel S. scorer Shahroze (Ire) (Holy Roman Emperor {Ire}), has a 2-year-old full-sister to the winner who was sold for 320,000gnss to Cheveley Park Stud at the Book 2 Sale and is now named Summit (Ire), while her yearling filly is by Ghaiyyath (Ire).

PERSIAN DREAMER A FIRST RISING STAR FOR CALYX

Newmarket’s Craven meeting comes up pretty fast in the life of a 2-year-old, but it can also be a hotbed for genuine talent and that was the case on Wednesday as Amo Racing’s Persian Dreamer provided Coolmore’s first-season sire Calyx (GB) with a second winner and very early TDN Rising Star.

GARRUS STRIKES IN THE ABERNANT

by Tom Frary

A true stalwart of the Charlie Hills stable which has made its reputation mainly with sprinters, Susan Roy’s Garrus (IRE) (Acclamation (GB)) took full advantage of the misfire from Godolphin’s Creative Force (IRE) (Dubawi (IRE)) to rack up a third pattern-race success in Thursday’s G3 Abernant S. at Newmarket today.

Beaten narrowly when second in this 12 months ago, the 7-year-old went on to capture Deauville’s G3 Prix de Ris-Orangis in July and finish third behind Highfield Princess (Fr) (Night Of Thunder (IRE)) in that track’s G1 Prix Maurice de Gheest the following month and had experienced the Saudi Arabian sun during the winter as he trailed in the Feb. 25 G3 1351 Turf Sprint.

Held up initially towards the rear by Ryan Moore, the 9-1 shot, who also boasts Deauville’s G3 Prix de Meautry on his resume, stayed on strongly in customary fashion to overhaul Commanche Falls (GB) (Lethal Force (IRE)) approaching the final furlong and prevail by a head as the 8-13 favourite Creative Force finished 3/4 of a length away in third.

“Saudi Arabia probably helped him a bit and he is in [the G2 1895 Duke Of York S.] at York, but he loves France so we will have a look at that as well,” said Hills. Cont. p5

Charlie Appleby said of Creative Force, “They went steady and it then turned into a little bit of a burn up and like William [Buick] said, they got racing on the far side of it unfortunately so he ended up having nothing to race with. Take nothing away from the winner as he has been knocking on the door for something like this as well. We will probably look towards York. You know these sprinters—week in, week out, the results keep changing.”

Pedigree Notes

Garrus is out of Queen of Power (Ire) (Medicean (GB)), who is kin to the dam of last year’s G2 July S. winner and G1 Prix Morny, G1 Phoenix S. and G1 Middle Park S.-placed Persian Force (Ire) (Mehmas (Ire)) and his G2 Richmond S.-placed full-brother Gubbass (Ire). From the family of the G1 Phoenix S. and G1 National S.-winning leading sire Danehill Dancer (Ire), her 2-year-old filly by Waldgeist (GB) was a €50,000 purchase by Joseph O’Brien at the Goffs Orby and is named Sissi (Ire), while she is also responsible for a yearling filly by Make Believe (GB).

Silver Knott followed, easing past his fellow three-year-old, the Listed winner and Group 2-placed Victory Dance (Ire) (Dubawi (Ire)).

Appleby admitted to being uncertain as to whether Noble Style will see out the mile of the Guineas. “We will be going into it with that mindset to be brutally honest, hoping that we will see the Guineas trip out,” he said. “Our decision will be, are we going to be a miler or are we going to be dropping him back? On the evidence of what I’ve seen there we will still be going into the Guineas with that question on the back of our minds. It is all very well what we have done here this morning but it will be a different ball game when those gates open in the Guineas going a fair rattle on quick ground. Stepping up from six [furlongs] to a mile is a big leap of faith really but, as I’ve said, it is a Guineas and he deserves to be in the race being a Gimcrack winner.”

Appleby added, “I purposely asked William to give Noble Style a good gallop this morning as there are things we are trying to work out about him. In his work at home he has always had that peacock head carriage.

“I said to William we have worked all winter to try and get him to drop that. Being in front he drops it but being in behind he has that peacock head carriage. That is why I asked William to just grab hold of him as it is the first time he has been grabbed hold of all winter. We have spent a lot of time trying to get him to drop that head it was now time to go and ask about his business.

“He has had a good blow this morning and I’m pleased. I think we will see a big improvement from here onwards.”

Silver Knott has had the benefit of six starts, including two Group 3 wins at home in the UK, as well as an overseas trip to Keeneland for the Breeders’ Cup.

Appleby said of the son of Group 1 winner God Given (GB) (Nathaniel (Ire)), “The one thing with Silver Knott is that he is professional. For me, he has got a great profile coming into a Guineas in what he has achieved so far.

“James said he is not electric and doesn’t really quicken but he just keeps lengthening, that is the sort of horse he is. He sees the mile out strong. He is a horse that will come forward a good bit for this morning.”

He continued, “I questioned how he would take America but the one thing was he grew up so much in that week out there. He was a horse that surprised me how he took it as he wasn’t originally on the America list.

“Mysterious Knight was going to go there, but Silver Knott took his slot. The interesting thing was how much he grew up in his time there and he has shown that all winter subsequently. He has been an ultimate professional that goes out and just does his work. He is not flash but does everything that is asked of him.”

ONE-TIME KY DERBY HOPEFUL BRAVE EMPEROR TO RACE IN GERMANY NEXT

Brave Emperor (Ire) (Sioux Nation) will travel to Germany for the G3 Dr Busch Memorial at Krefeld on Apr. 28, according to Middleham Park Racing’s Tom Palin.

The listed winner, who was previously under consideration for the GI Kentucky Derby on May 6, ran second in the Woodford Reserve Cardinal Conditions S. when last seen on Apr. 1.

“He is on his travels, he’s going to go to Germany for a Group 3 on Apr. 28 [Krefeld, Dr Busch Memorial], that’s where he’ll run next,” said Palin. “He’s got no penalties.” Cont. p7

Palin added, “He has won a listed race but he’s picked up novices, handicaps and conditions races so for a serial winner like him he doesn’t have penalties so we can pick and choose. He should be rocking up at all the big meetings, Royal Ascot, Goodwood, so we’ll hopefully have a good summer with him.

“Trip-wise, 10 furlongs might be a question mark, but certainly nine furlongs we are of the opinion is no problem, it is almost nine furlongs in Germany and we’re confident about that.

“I can’t see why he wouldn’t see 10 out in the future. We could maybe think about something like the [G3] Hampton Court [S.] at Ascot [in June].”

OAK GROVE LEADS THE WAY AT TATTERSALLS CHELTENHAM

One of eight six-figure lots on the day, Oak Grove (Ire) (Soldier Of Fortune {Ire}) (lot 13) took pride of place when selling for £250,000 to Fergal O’Brien Racing during the Tattersalls Cheltenham April Sale on Thursday evening.

O’Brien was buying the relative of Grade 1 winner Voler La Vedette (Ire) (King’s Theatre {Ire}) for Chris and Deborah Giles, who already have a half-share in another O’Brien runner, Crambo (GB) (Saddler Maker {Ire}).

"We have no plans as yet," reported O’Brien of the Rob James Racing-consigned 4-year-old who captured an Oldcastle point-to-point earlier this month. “He needs bit of time and from here will probably go to Jason Maguire’s for some R and R through the summer.

"Sally [Randell] and I watched his video and thought he won a very competitive point-to-point—he was the one we came for and we loved him when we saw him.

“We are very grateful for the opportunity to come and buy a horse such as this. He is the most expensive horse we have bought in the ring—usually we buy four for this sort of money!”

The gelding Grand Albert (Ire) (Jet Away {GB}) (lot 27) and the mare Florencethemachine (Ire) (Malinas {Ger}) shared the next most expensive tag at £120,000 apiece. The former was consigned by Virginia Considine and caught the eye of Anthony Bromley of Highflyer Bloodstock. Tom Malone secured the latter from Treehouse Stables. The pair have each won a point-to-point, with the 5-year-old mare taking a Monksgrange affair on debut at the end of March.

The one-day sale concluded with 49 sold of 59 offered (83%) for a gross of £2,969,000. The average was £60,592 (-10%) and the median was £50,000 (-7%). Cont. p9

Matt Prior, Head of Sales at Tattersalls, said, "The Tattersalls Cheltenham April Sale has enjoyed a fabulous spring season on the racecourse through the exploits of Apple Way (Fr) (Diamond Green {Fr}), purchased for just £35,000 at the Cheltenham April Sale last year, winner of last week’s G1 Sefton Novices’ Hurdle for trainer Lucinda Russell.

“This year has also seen Tattersalls Cheltenham graduates Envoi Allen (Fr) (Muhtathir {GB}), Gerri Colombe (Fr) (Saddler Maker {Ire}), Shishkin (Ire) (Sholokhov {Ire}), Stay Away Fay (Ire) (Shantou), Tahmuras (Fr) (Falco), and Inthepocket (GB) (Blue Bresil {Fr}) all add new Grade 1 wins to their resumes, proving that the Tattersalls Cheltenham sales really are the prime source of top level NH horses in training and point-to-pointers.

"Today’s broad buying bench reflected the strong demand for the ‘Tattersalls Cheltenham horse’ with 49 lots sold at a healthy 83% clearance rate, eight fetching £100,000 and over, a top price of £250,000 and a turnover just shy of £3 million."

DOLCITA ANCHORS PRELIMINARY PUNCHESTOWN SALE ENTRIES

Multiple black-type performer Dolcita (Fr) (Saint Des Saints (Fr)) is one of a dozen initial entries comprising the Goffs Punchestown Sale catalogue, which will be online on Monday.

Slated for the winner’s enclosure after the last race at the course on Thursday, Apr. 27, the sale will offer the aforementioned Willie Mullins-trained 8-year-old mare as a breeding prospect, who was fourth in the Irish Grand National in her most recent start, as well as nine 4-year-olds that have won or placed second in point-to-points or National Hunt Flat races, and two 5-year-old winners. Other lots of note are debut winners Bellas Bridge (GB) (Telescope {Ire}), Fortunate Man (Ire) (Soldier Of Fortune {Ire}), and Kingston Pride (Ire) (Kingston Hill (GB)).

ADAYAR’S BROTHER TARGETS NEWBURY CLASSIC POINTER

3.15 Newbury, Cond, £50,000, 3yo, 10fT

MILITARY ORDER (IRE) (Frankel (GB)) takes part in the latest of the Darley Novice races and is a fascinating runner in this conditions event which has a rich recent history of throwing up future Classic winners. Godolphin’s full-brother to the 2021 Derby and King George hero and stablemate Adayar (Ire) was off the mark at Newmarket in October and represents the Charlie Appleby stable successful in this with Hurricane Lane (Ire) (Frankel (GB)) two years ago. This race also played host to Star Of Seville (GB) (Duke Of Marmalade (Ire)), Enable (GB) (Nathaniel (Ire)) and Light Shift (Kingmambo), so it’s a case of eyes peeled!

Kelina (Ire) (Frankel {GB}), the Wertheimers' TDN Rising Star who was bidding to get back on track following a disappointing no-show in the G1 Prix Marcel Boussac over this track and trip on Arc day, was keen early but found plenty late on to chase home the race-hardened talented performer Quickstep (Fr) (Wootton Bassett {GB}) in a pleasing return to form.

Thursday's Results:

6th-Newmarket, £10,000, Novice, 4-20, 3yo, 10fT, 2:10.89, gd. WAIPRO (IRE) (c, 3, Australia {GB}—London Plane {Ire}, by Danehill Dancer {Ire}), who made no impression on his sixth on debut over a mile at Kempton in December, was in front initially before taking a lead from the free-running Liberty Lane (Ire) (Teofilo {Ire}). Swooping on that rival with 1 1/2 furlongs remaining, the 25-1 shot readily asserted to score by 3 1/2 lengths. Trainer Ed Walker is thinking Derbys after this much-improved performance from the winner, who races in the colours of the stable stalwart Stormy Antarcctic (GB) (Stormy Atlantic). "He had a float around last year when he was very weak. He ran fine from a bad draw at Kempton doing all his best work at the end," he explained. "Physically, he is only going to get better and better, so it is exciting. I think we will run him in a Derby trial, but I'm not sure which one."

The winner is a half-brother to the dual G1 Stewards Cup hero and G1 Queen Elizabeth II Stakes third Evina (Ire) and half to a yearling filly by Mehmas (Ire). Descendants of her multiple stakes-winning third dam Ebaziya (Ire) (Darshaan {GB}) include G1 Gold Cup-winning duo Enzeli (Ire) (Khayasi {Ire}) and Estimate (Ire) (Monsun {Ger}), G1 Moyglare S. vitrix Edabiya (Ire) (Rainbow Quest) and G1 Irish Oaks and G1 Prix Royal-Oak heroine Ebadiyla (Ire) (Sadler's Wells). 2nd-Newmarket, £20,000, Mdn, 4-20, 3yo, 8fT, 1:42.57, gd. PASSENGER (c, 3, Ulysses {Ire}—Dilmun, by War Front) settled into a comfortable rhythm behind the leaders in handy fourth through the early fractions of this Wood Ditton maiden. Moving forward to go second approaching the two pole, the 11-1 chance powered to the front entering the final furlong and was ridden clear in the closing stages to hit the line an impressive three lengths in advance of Kathab (Ire) (Kingman {GB}). "He's very straightforward, he'd done plenty of work and did that very professionally," said Sir Michael Stoute. "He was a little bit noisy before the race, but he was fine once Ryan [Moore] got on him. None of the horses in the race had run, so you don't know what the opposition is, but we like him and today was finding-out time. This was a nice starting point and there are no plans at the moment, but I think we'll go a mile-and-a-quarter next time."

Passenger is the second and scorer produced by a winning half-sister to G3 Flame Of Tara S. victrix Liquid Amber (Kitten's Joy) out of MGSW GI Spinster S. and G1 Personal Ensign Invitational runner-up Pachattack (Pulpit). The March-foaled homebred bay is kin to a yearling colt and a weanling filly by Karakontie (Jpn).

5th-Newmarket, £10,000, Mdn, 4-20, 3yo, f, 7fT, 1:29.22, gd. PREPENSE (GB) (f, 3, Kingman {GB}—Deliberate {GB}, by King's Best), a full-sister to the G2 Prix Guillaume d'Ornano and G2 Prix Eugene Adam winner Headman (GB), had been second to Commissioning (GB) (Kingman {GB}) on debut on the July Course here before filling the same spot as the 1-4 favourite at Chester in September. Unhurried early after a slow start, the 15-8 favourite raced freely under cover but had enough in reserve to lead approaching the furlong pole and register a half-length success from Godolphin's promising newcomer Spring Dawn (Ire) (Kodiac {GB}).

Sir Michael Stoute, who was completing a double on the card, commented, “She had minor wind surgery over the winter and that has helped her. She was very professional and hopefully we can find some black-type for her.” The dam, a daughter of the G2 Prix de Royallieu and G3 Prix de Royaumont winner and G1 Prix de Diane runner-up Dance Routine (GB) (Sadler’s Well), has also produced the G3 Prix Chloe runner-up Delivery (GB) (Rail Link {GB}) and the GII Baltimore/Washington International Turf Cup scorer Projected (GB) (Showcasing {GB}). A half to the Juddmonte luminary Flintshire (GB) (Dansili {GB}) from the dynasty of Enable (GB) (Nathaniel {Ire}), her 2023 colt is a full-brother to Projected. Lifetime Record: 3-1-2-0, $11,936.

KARDIA (GB) (f, 3, Kingman [GB]–Elpida, by Giant’s Causeway), fifth in her Oct. 21 debut over one mile at Doncaster last time, broke sharply and held sway into the straight here. Tackled by Kingsley Pride (GB) (Roaring Lion) with five furlongs remaining, the 5-2 chance subdued that rival approaching the two pole and was driven out to defeat Fox Vision (GB) (New Approach {Ire}) by an ultimately comfortable 3 1/2 lengths. Kardia is the fourth of six foals and third scorer produced by a winning daughter of Swan Nebula (Seeking The Gold), herself a half-sister to G1 Queen Elizabeth II S.-winning sire Poet’s Voice (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}). The February-foaled bay is a half-sister to G3 Prix Eclipse victor Sporting Chance (GB) (Kodiac {GB}), the dual stakes-placed Eidikos (GB) (Arad {Ire}), the unraced 2-year-old filly Vitrina (GB) (Showcasing {GB}) and a yearling colt by Too Darn Hot (GB). VILLANOVA QUEEN (IRE) (f, 4, Mastercraftsman {Ire}–Quads {Ire}, by Shamardal), not seen since finishing eighth in the G1 Irish 1000 Guineas last May having finished third in Leopardstown’s G3 Ballylinch Stud 1000 Guineas Trial S., raced with one behind early. Delivered wide in the straight, the 9-2 shot overhauled Casanova (GB) (Frankel {GB}) inside the last 100 yards en route to a half-length success. “She picked up a little setback after the Guineas last year and her owners let her wait until this season and it worked out,” assistant trainer Kate Harrington said. “With the heavier ground recently, we waited and this race had ideal conditions. We’ll see how she comes out of this and she has a few fancy entries, so hopefully it is onwards and upwards. It was only as I was saddling her that I thought she was carrying condition, so I think there is plenty of improvement in her and I’d imagine she will stay further. I loved her attitude before the race, as she was so chilled--last year she used to get on her toes.” The dam is a daughter of the G3 Prix d’Aumale scorer Quad’s Melody (Ire) (Spinning World), who was responsible for the G1 Sussex S. winner Here Comes When (Ire) (Danehill Dancer {Ire}) and the G2 Park Hill S. runner-up Melodic Motion (Ire) (Nathaniel {Ire}). As Skalleti (Fr) (Kendargent {Fr}) took a small disappointing downhill step, TDN Rising Star Life In Motion continued her climb towards better things with a third listed success. Handed that tag with a five-length debut win at Saint-Cloud in October 2021, the daughter of the G1 Prix Saint-Alary winner Wavering failed to fire on her next two starts but has been steadily built up again in time-honoured fashion by Andre Fabre. Second in the G2 Prix de Sandringham at Chantilly in June, the bay was back at Saint-Cloud in September to annex the Listed Prix Coronation before doubling up in Chantilly’s Listed Prix le Fabuleux the next month.
Enjoying a perfect trail in third, the homebred struck for home passing two out and despite being headed by Yoozuna inside the final 100 metres gave generously to edge it close home. The dual Group 1 and 13-times black-type winner Skalleti did close out wide into fourth, but lacked his old zip.
Life In Motion’s dam, who has also produced the G3 Prix de Flore runner-up Switching and G3 Prix Chloe third Flowrider both by Street Cry (Ire), is a daughter of Summertime Legacy (GB) (Darshaan {GB}) who was also third in the Saint-Alary.

QUICKSTEP (FR) (f, 3, Wootton Bassett (GB)--Dance Toupie (Fr), by Dansili (GB)), an eye-catching fourth pitched in deep in the G3 Prix Imprudence at Deauville a fortnight earlier, was swiftly away to dictate at her own leisure. Finding enough late to hold the challenge of Kelina (Ire) (Frankel (GB)), the 17-10 favourite was a neck to the good at the line. The dam has already produced the G3 Prix Daphnis runner-up Dave (Fr) by Wootton Bassett and the GII Daytonas S.-placed Commander (Fr) (War Command). She is a daughter of the G1 Poule d’Essai des Pouliches runner-up Toupie (GB) (Intikhab), who has produced the G2 Kyoto Shimbun Hai winner and G1 Tokyo Yushun runner-up Satono Rasen (Jpn) (Deep Impact (Jpn)) and the G3 Challenge Cup scorer Satono Chronicle (Jpn) (Heart’s Cry (Jpn)). VALIMI (FR) (c, 3, Teofilo (Ire)--Valdaya (Fr), by Acclamation (GB)) followed up an Oct. 20 debut score going one mile at Deauville with a second to the reopposing Halfway Line (GB) (Zoffany (Ire)) in a Mar. 28 Saint-Cloud conditions heat last time and was swiftly into stride for an immediate lead in this one. In command throughout, the 9-5 second favourite was last off the bridle in the straight and maintained a high tempo under urging inside the final 300 metres to exact revenge on Halfway Line by a 1 1/2-length margin. Slipping to last of the six runners by halfway, the 25-1 chance was rowed along to close at the top of the straight and stayed on relentlessly under continued roosting inside the final quarter-mile to edge Saltwell (Ire) (Australia (GB)) by a neck in the dying strides. Catch The Stars is the 10th of 11 foals and fifth scorer for Perstrovka (Ire) (Sadler’s Wells), who is a winning full-sister to MGSw dual G1 Grand Prix de Saint-Cloud runner-up Policy Maker (Ire). The April-foaled homebred dark bay is a half to Listed Prix de la Pepiniere victrix Pacific Angel (Ire) (Dalakhani (Ire)) and the unraced 2-year-old colt Dschingsis Arrow (Fr) (Dschingsis Secret (Ger)). Pushed along into the straight, the 6-5 favourite came under sterner urging inside the final quarter mile and was driven out to deny Jumeirah King (GB) (Sea The Moon {Ger}) by a neck in game fashion. Stressfree is the latest of nine foals and the eighth scorer from as many runners out of G3 Prix du Bois winner Gwenseb (Fr) (Green Tune).
