HISA ISSUES
CHURCHILL DOWNS
UPDATE

After 12 horses suffered fatal injuries at Churchill Downs in the last five weeks, prompting the Louisville track to announce new safety initiatives Thursday, the Horseracing Integrity and Safety Authority (HISA) issued an update on the situation. The HISA statement appears below in its entirety:

“Over the past several days, the Horseracing Integrity and Safety Authority (HISA) has undertaken multiple measures to better understand the circumstances surrounding the recent spate of equine fatalities at Churchill Downs in hopes of working with the Kentucky Horse Racing Commission (KHRC) and Churchill Downs to mitigate additional risk to the horses and riders competing at Churchill Downs moving forward.

“On Tuesday, May 30, HISA convened a Veterinary Summit with its counterparts at Churchill Downs and the KHRC to thoroughly review all veterinary information available and conduct additional analyses. Those discussions continued through yesterday with ongoing engagement between the veterinary teams. Specifically, the Summit included robust discussion of three different points of intervention with regard to racing injuries: 1) injury management, 2) preventing at-risk horses from racing via veterinary scrutiny, and 3) preventing at-risk horses from entering.

VRON COULDN'T HAVE CHOSEN A BETTER BARN
by Chris McGrath

As a junior he wound up in the same fraternity as a guy named Bob Baffert, who was already riding winners, already conspicuous. Eric Kruljac, for his part, had transferred to the University of Arizona from Arizona State, where he had been on a football scholarship only to blow a knee. Then, when Baffert proceeded to stardom at the racetrack, Kruljac literally went undercover. He worked for a buddy as a private investigator until, having learned the ropes, starting an agency of his own. For several years you’d find him tailing suspects, switching over every few miles with colleagues in different cars.

On Monday, nearly half a century after the pair first crossed paths, Kruljac saddled one of the handful of horses in his care to finish third behind Baffert’s latest Grade I winner at Santa Anita.

“The dialogue was productive and conclusions from the Summit have been shared directly with key stakeholders to inform next steps. While no obvious or specific pattern emerged, HISA welcomes Churchill Downs’ efforts announced earlier today to minimize risk of equine fatalities and is implementing the following additional measures:

1. Effective with Saturday’s entries, HISA’s Director of Equine Safety and Welfare will conduct an additional layer of post-entry screening. HISA’s rule 2142 (Assessment of Racing Soundness) requires post-entry screenings of previous pre-Race inspection findings of entered Horses to identify Horses that may be at increased risk for injury. The review includes past performances, lay-ups (more than 60 days without a timed Workout or Race), last 30 days medical history, previous injury and lameness diagnostics, intraarticular corticosteroid injections, previous surgery and other individual Horse risk factors.

2. HISA has directed the Horseracing Integrity and Welfare Unit (HIWU) to collect blood and hair samples for all fatalities involving Covered Horses. The results from such collections will be used to facilitate investigations into the cause of such fatalities. The data collected by HIWU in connection with Covered Horse fatalities will also be used to track relevant statistics and trends in connection with fatalities.

3. HISA has appointed Dr. Alina Vale, an equine forensics specialist, to conduct an additional thorough review of all necropsies performed on Covered Horses. Dr. Vale has conducted several postmortem reviews as an official veterinarian for the California Horse Racing Board, including participating in the review following a spate of equine fatalities at Santa Anita in 2019.

“Additionally, Dennis Moore began his analysis of Churchill Downs’ racing and training surfaces yesterday. That review is ongoing; Moore’s conclusions will be shared publicly once his review is complete.

“HISA continues to urgently seek additional answers to more clearly identify the causes of these recent fatalities as well as tangible interventions to prevent them in the future. All options remain on the table, and HISA will continue to vigilantly monitor events at Churchill Downs moving forward.”

That was a gratifying sequel to what had happened the previous day, when the star of Kruljac’s small team confirmed himself a winning machine that would stand out even in the Baffert barn—whether by talent or charisma or, above all, sheer consistency. Because with The Chosen Vron (Vronsky), it’s not just every Cal-bred that needs to be checking its rearview mirror.

The Chosen Vron has now won his last seven straight, all stakes, taking him to 12-for-16 overall and $792,678 in earnings. On Sunday, he finally had a showdown with another Californian fan favorite, Brickyard Ride (Clubhouse Ride), in the Thor’s Echo S. His rival, who last month retained the GIII Kona Gold S., may not have shown his best as he faded into third of four; but the fact is that very few state-breds of recent times could have matched The Chosen Vron in his current vein.

"I think it was his best race ever," Kruljac says. "They went fast, and he was four or five lengths behind, stalking. Then the rider just threw the reins at him couple of times, and he just swallowed them. It was awesome. Just, wow."

The 5-year-old won by 5 1/2 lengths, and it feels like time to return to open company. He won a couple of graded stakes as a sophomore, beating Monday’s big winner Defunded (Dialed In) in one and Laurel River (Into Mischief) in the other. When the latter went on to win the GII Pat O’Brien S. at Del Mar last summer, The Chosen Vron finished only fifth. But that race probably came too soon after what had been his first start in nine months—in which, incidentally, he had only been beaten in a three-way photo over an extended mile of turf. (Sunday’s race was over six furlongs of dirt: this is one versatile horse.) And he’s unbeaten since. Cont.

"He developed a few problems [at three] and we had to turn him out and do a little surgery," Kruljac explains of the gelding, co-owned with Sondereker Racing, Robert S. Fetkin and Richard Thornburgh. "But he's come back gangbusters. I learned, I think, that if I give him six weeks or more, he seems to relish the extra couple weeks. So, we've changed strategy a little bit, to give him more time between races, and will probably keep him on that line as we go forward. He seems to have come out of the race in fabulous shape and we might have to jump in with open company next time."

Kruljac bought The Chosen Vron's dam, Tiz Molly (Tiz Wonderful), as a yearling for just $25,000 at the Keeneland September Sale of 2011 and also raced her in partnership.

"She showed lots of ability, won her first two races impressively," he recalls. "We turned down a pretty sizeable sum for her. Then she hurt herself, and it was a career-ending injury. Three of us four partners stayed in and decided to use her as a broodmare, and it's been a good decision."

So, too, was her retention (at just $1,200!) when offered for sale after The Chosen Vron was weaned. The mare is now at Legacy Ranch where she has recently delivered a second consecutive filly by Clubhouse Ride.

Vronsky himself died two years ago, and The Chosen Vron is unfortunately not equipped to continue the line having been castrated soon after entering training.

"He would go off behind intermittently," explains Kruljac. "And we found out that he had a testicle hanging over a ligament in there, and causing him discomfort. Once we took that out, he traveled like a Bentley."

“Until we figured out what was going on, he would show his stuff, work really great—and then the next time, you might be a little disappointed. Gelding changed him more than any horse I’ve ever trained. Though I wish we’d left one in there! Anyway, he’s been fabulous ever since. Just a great horse to be around in the barn. My boys have done a wonderful job with him.”

Kruljac traces his flair for horses to maternal grandfather Walter Markham, who raised pedigree cattle and Thoroughbreds on his ranch in Carmel Valley—along with nine grandchildren.

Markham’s trainer was Buster Millerick, who reached the Hall of Fame via the long career of Native Diver.

"Buster loved my grandfather because he was an animal man," Kruljac says. "My grandfather was a purebred Hereford stock breeder. They spoke the same language. Buster was a legend, but he’d run off all his clients, he was so mean. He had this little dog and when the owners came in the shedrow, he’d stick that dog on them!"

But we do meanwhile need to ask about that left-field parallel career, as private detective. Kruljac says it wasn’t as colorful as it sounds, his principal focus being compensation fraud. But he accepts with a chuckle that he must have been one of the few who ever came to the racetrack and found himself dealing with somewhat straighter people than previously.

"It takes all kinds, I’ll tell you," he acknowledges. "I ran my agency for about eight years. It’s all pretty boring, until everything opens up. Mostly we were investigating people that the claims adjusters thought were faking injuries. We’d go out early in the morning and sit a quarter of a mile down the road, and then follow them and gather evidence that showed that they were malingersers."

There was one memorable liability claim, concerning a couple and their three young boys.

“They’d already had two accidents where they’d be going up the ramp onto the freeway, and slam their brakes on until they get someone to run into them,” Kruljac recalls. "Anyway, we film them going into the doctor's office, all five with neck collars. Out they come, still with neck collars. And they drive off. All of a sudden, they pull into a grammar school. There’s a jungle gym, swings and all this stuff, and these kids come running out of the car, one of them throws his neck brace up in the air, and they’re jumping eight feet off this thing. We got this all on film."

All the time, however, Kruljac was maintaining an interest in horses: a little breeding, a little trading, a few in training with a brother. When the latter quit, Kruljac shut down his agency and started training them himself, going full time at Turf Paradise at the age of 38. He has meanwhile accumulated as many as 1,240 winners, including seven individual graded stakes scorers.

These were memorably crowned by Leave Me Alone (Bold Badgett), who shipped over to win the GI Test S. by just under eight lengths in 2005. After she won a valuable sprint at Calder under Kent Desormeaux, his agent rang and implored Kruljac to look at her numbers and think about Saratoga.

"And she was training just incredibly, so we decided to take a shot," Kruljac recalls. "I don't think I saw a filly run that fast until Gamine (Into Mischief) 20 years later. It was really incredible."

Kruljac had bought her for just $35,000 as a yearling. "I saw her at an auction at an equestrian center outside of Del Mar," he recalls. "Other than being totally crazy, while they were showing her, she was just incredibly athletic."

He was originally intending to buy her for himself and bring in a couple of partners, but in the event secured her for a new client at the time, Steven Mitchell.

"And that worked out to be a great experience," Kruljac says. "We flew in his jet to Saratoga, stayed in this house right across from the entrance. There were eight or nine of us, including his kids. So, the night before the race we tried to get dinner at [a noted Saratoga restaurant]. We went in there, and the guy says, ‘Absolutely not. Sorry. We’re totally booked.’ Even though Mr. Mitchell tried to give him $500! Next day, after the race, we went back to the same place. The owner’s boy was holding the saddle towel. This time the guy said, ‘Sure, Mr. Mitchell. We’ll make room for you.’ Then as we’re walking to the table, he says, ‘And Mr. Mitchell, I will take that $500.’" Cont.

As it happens, The Chosen Vron reminds their trainer of Leave Me Alone: another tall and angular chestnut, with a great shoulder. That year, however, she was one of 86 winners from 383 starters for the barn. For Del Mar this summer, in contrast, Kruljac expects to have eight head; with four or five 2-year-olds to come through.

To be fair, the emphasis has meanwhile tilted towards the barn of his son Ian—whom he famously launched, when still his assistant, with a City Zip yearling he’d found for a client at $85,000. This turned out to be none other than Finest City, who won the GI Breeders’ Cup Filly & Mare Sprint before selling to Katsumi Yoshida for $1.5 million.

"I'm more interested in helping Ian out these days," Kruljac concedes. "He's up there in Arcadia along with the people that have worked for me over 30 years. At 70, I'm slowing down a notch. I've pretty much made Del Mar my residence, so I've been commuting a lot for the last three or four months."

Though still enchanted by his working environment, Kruljac recognizes the ongoing difficulties of the industry in his home state.

"And I'm still very concerned, because we've got a long way to go to get it anywhere close to what it was," he reflects. "With these incredibly beautiful tracks, we've been spoiled. Now, with all the restrictions, the media, the finger-pointing, it's made it tough, for sure. The simulcast money is the only thing keeping our purses at the level that they are. But it appeared to be a really good weekend, as far as attendance and families coming out again, so that was encouraging. For me, anyway, it's heaven on earth."

In the era of the super trainer, then, here is a barn that patiently devoted to the horses that could hardly warrant the same attention and perseverance in more industrial operations. It has been a labor of love, for instance, to coax Kiss Today Goodbye (Cairo Prince) back to form at the age of six for that third place in the GI Hollywood Gold Cup on Monday.

"Very difficult horse to train," Kruljac admits. "My crew has done a fabulous job with him. It's taken us a long time to take his negative energy and make him a happy horse. It was worth the five or six months, though, so let's hope he keeps going forward now."

And whisper it, but with a Breeders' Cup in his backyard this fall, perhaps we might even see the horse test the water this summer.

"We'll play it by ear," Kruljac says. "See how he's training at that time. If he's as on fire as for the last few races, we might try the [GI] Bing Crosby, which would tell us whether he's good enough to think about that.

"It's been a long time since I've had a really good horse. But I've been blessed for the money I've been able to muster. Even for a couple of Vron's losses, there were things that went wrong in the race; and like I said, maybe I was running him back a little too quickly. But once we gave him the time, worked with him, brought him back slow, just handled him with kid gloves... I feel he's better than ever.

"To have this horse, at this point, I feel so fortunate and privileged. I'm fired up because of Vron, he gives you a little more energy to get up and get at it. So we're just living large right now, and thanking our lucky stars. Hopefully we can just keep this horse running for another year or two, keep him going onward and upward."
CHURCHILL DOWNS UNVEILS NEW SAFETY INITIATIVES by Bill Finley

In the wake of 12 horses suffering fatal injuries since Apr. 27 and after a Thursday meeting with horsemen, Churchill Downs announced new safety initiatives that will go into effect immediately. They are:

- A pause of track-based incentives such as trainer start bonuses and purse pay-out allocations to every race finisher through last place. Purse pay-outs will now be limited to the top five finishers. Churchill Downs officials will engage in ongoing discussions with horsemen to determine ways to reallocate these funds to best serve industry needs. With record-high purses, Churchill has been able to allocate purse money to all starters. For example, the 12th-place finisher in last Saturday’s $225,000 Keertana S., Sinfilltre (Uncle Mo) earned $2,070 despite losing by 22 1/4 lengths.

- Restricting the number of starts per horse to four starts during a rolling eight-week period.

- Ineligibility standards for poor performance. Horses that are beaten by more than 12 lengths in five consecutive starts will be ineligible to race at Churchill Downs until approved by the Equine Medical Director to return.

Of the 12 horses who have died thus far at the meet, the new rules would have been applicable to only one, Kimberley Dream (Colonel John). The 5-year-old mare was beaten by 12 lengths or more in five straight races before breaking down in a race on May 27, the most recent fatality to occur at the track. During that stretch, she was beaten an average of 26 lengths per race.

The Thursday morning meeting also included a presentation by California-based equine surgeon Dr. Ryan Carpenter. He provided educational information and tools to trainers and practicing veterinarians about advanced interventions that can be considered for certain equine injuries.

“The attending veterinarians and trainers at Churchill Downs are incredibly capable and knowledgeable,” said Dr. Will Farmer, Equine Medical Director for Churchill Downs Incorporated, in a statement released by the track. “We feel a duty to provide the latest information on surgical interventions from an expert who experienced the challenges in California a few years ago that we currently face today. Any decision must be made first and foremost with the long-term well-being of the horse in mind. It is imperative that all available, educated and informed options can be efficiently, confidently and thoroughly relayed to the owners.”

Trainer Dale Romans was among those who attended the meeting, which was held at the backstretch recreation center. The Romans-trained Rio Moon (Bal a Bali (Brz)) is among the horses who have died, suffering a fatal injury in a May 14 race.

“It was packed. Standing room only,” he said. “It was the first horsemen’s meeting I’ve ever been to that had that kind of turnout. Everyone is concerned.”

While Romans said he wasn’t sure what kind of impact the new rules will have, he said he is confident that track management will do everything in its power to get the situation under control.

“People should just be glad that Churchill is on top of it,” he said. “They will do everything they can to keep every horse healthy and safe. This could help. I’m sure Churchill is studying this to try to find the common denominator. They must have found something where they think these rules will help. I trust in Churchill. This is a safe racetrack. It has always been one of the safest tracks in the world. At Churchill, horses come first and horse racing comes second. The trainers here may be Churchill loyalists, but that’s ok because they’ve earned our loyalty.”

Romans said a slew of breakdowns in a short period of time is always a possibility.

“In my opinion, this is a statistical anomaly,” he said. “We have a rash of breakdowns right now and then we might go for a very long time without one.”

Trainer Kenny McPeek did not attend the meeting, but touched based afterward with his assistant, who did. Like Romans, he wasn’t ready to point any fingers.

“The unfortunate part of our sport is that horses do get injured,” he said. “Their efforts are genuine and they are trying to find some solutions. But I don’t think it’s ever going to be a zero game. Every time I breeze a horse or run a horse, I want them to come back good. You’re always keeping your fingers crossed that nothing goes wrong. But it does sometimes. I don’t want to jinx myself but my horses have done great over this track this spring. We’ve had a large group of horses at Churchill and we haven’t had any issues. I think the track has been fantastic all spring.” Cont.

One issue not addressed by Churchill was the ratio between claiming prices and purses. Some in the industry believe that horsemen have an incentive to run unsound horses in claiming races when the purses are lucrative. At Churchill, $20,000 claimers run for a purse of $52,000 or 2.6 times the claiming price. The Horse Racing Integrity and Safety Authority (HISA) had proposed a rule that the purse of a race could not be more than 1.6 times the claiming price. But that rule was rescinded in 2021 after HISA received negative feedback.

TAPIT SHOES IS BELMONT-BOUND FOR BRAD COX by Katie Petrunyak

Trainer Brad Cox has added a third GI Belmont S. contender to his lineup with Tapit Shoes, a stakes-placed son of Tapit who was last seen running second to Red Route One (Gun Runner) in the Bath House Row S. at Oaklawn Park on April 22.

“He’s a pretty consistent workhorse, steady, and always gallops out well,” Cox said Thursday morning at Churchill Downs. “He gives us some confidence that he could like the mile and a half.”

Owned in partnership by Spendthrift Farm, Steve Landers Racing, Martin Schwartz, Michael Dubb, Ten Strike Racing, Jim Bakke, Titletown Racing, Kueber Racing, Big Easy Racing, Winners Win and Michael Caruso, the $300,000 Fasig-Tipton October yearling purchase is a half-brother to GISW Cyberknife (Gun Runner). Tapit Shoes broke his maiden by 7 1/2 lengths at Fair Grounds last December. This year, he ran fourth and then third against allowance company before his second-place finish in the Bath House Row S.

“He seems to be getting better with the more he does,” said Cox. “He took a move forward in the Bath House Row S. and he’s had plenty of time to recover from that. I think he obviously has to take another move forward and I’m hoping that he will.”

Cox’s Belmont trio of Tapit Shoes, Angel of Empire (Classic Empire) and Hit Show (Candy Ride {Arg}) are all set to work at Churchill Downs over the weekend before shipping to Belmont on Monday evening.
Michael Behrens, CEO MyRacehorse

Behrens continued: “1/ST has been a big supporter since day one. With 1/ST’s commitment to innovation, this made a lot of sense and I was happy they decided to come in.”

1/ST will not have an ownership stake in any of MyRacehorse’s horses and will have no influence over any decisions that are made regarding a horse’s career or racing schedule, said Behrens.

"1/ST’s mission to introduce and engage the next generation of fans and owners in innovative and entertaining new ways aligns perfectly with the MyRacehorse concept," said Aidan Butler, Chief Executive Officer, 1/ST RACING & GAMING. "The ability to become an owner of a Thoroughbred racehorse and to be part of an ownership experience that until now has been inaccessible for many, is truly exciting. We have seen firsthand the success of MyRacehorse and we look forward to helping scale this platform across racing, wagering and beyond."

"The majority of this investment will go toward the building out the framework of the technology to continue to provide better technology for mass ownership for horse racing and set us up for expansion into other sports,“ Behrens said. "It’s 1/ST. There will be a lot of interesting collaborations around the on-track experiences and gaming through their ADW. They own all the assets that are symbiotic with ownership and I think that you will see an evolution of the product and the ownership experience."

Behrens said MyRacehorse will team with 1/ST to provide on-track experiences and perks available to MyRacehorse customers and that new initiatives will be announced in the months ahead.

"(1/ST CEO) Aidan (Butler) and the whole team at 1/ST have always been big supporters and have always helped us to provide the best possible experience," Behrens said. "With this partnership there are a bunch of things in play that we will be announcing over the next months and quarters that will be incremental to the ownership experience. We will plan on larger and larger events now that we have the partnership solidified. The race-day experience you will see right away will evolve at those tracks."

The funding will also be used to allow MyRacehorse to expand its stable of horses, Behrens said. Launched in Los Angeles in 2018, MyRacehorse offers prospective owners the chance to buy into a racehorse for as little as $100.

Hughes was one of the investors in the seed-round funding, and became an active partner, campaigning the 2020 Kentucky Derby winner Authentic in partnership with MyRacehorse, among others.

"In our first chapter we have served nearly 100,000 users and the app has enabled us to fractionalize more than $50 million in racehorse offerings," said Behrens. "We see this partnership and investment as the start of new chapter—one of significant scale and growth. Just the fact that we are well capitalized and have raised $7 million, that gives us access to not only having liquidity in the company but also being able to get more money through credit lines to buy more horses. Luckily, we've been in a position where the majority of our horses sell out relatively quickly. We've been trying to balance our growth. When Wayne first came in, we went from buying a handful of horses to dozens of horses. I would expect another step change. We went from being very modest founder-funded to being able to capitalize with our partnership with Spendthrift. It was a major step change. I see this as another move. We now have the ability to go out there and meet demand."

The platform currently boasts more than 50,000 active owners and 100 active horses who have won over 160 races worldwide, with earnings in excess of $20 million. MyRacehorse is predominantly focused in the United States and Australia and has recently expanded to the United Kingdom and Ireland.
LOIS GREEN OF DJ STABLES PASSES AWAY
by Sue Finley

Lois Green, the co-owner of DJ Stables with her husband Len, passed away Wednesday morning, May 31, according to her husband. She was 84.

Green graduated from Rutgers University with a degree in Biology. She was a trustee of the Leonard and Lois Green Charitable Foundation.

"Lois was an avid reader of the TDN and was a truly involved horse person," said Len Green in an email. "Her specialty was the vet work and breeding. She was manager of DJ Stable in the early years. Under her leadership we won two Parx ownership awards and are in their Hall of Fame."

Fifteen hundred of the stable's now 2,500 wins came under Lois Green's management, along with seven leading owner titles at different tracks, and the stable's first Grade I winner, Do It With Style, purchased by her son, Jon, for $23,000 at Fasig-Tipton. Len Green had told him he could go to $20,000, and told him to resell the horse; Lois vetoed that decision, and they kept the filly, who went on to win the Ashland S. at Keeneland.

Green was a certified genius, said Jon, and a MENSA member with an IQ of over 160. She completed a certification course at Cornell on how to assist mares with foaling, learned to fly an airplane, and could fix anything mechanical, he said.

"She was a strong advocate for safety and fair play," said Len Green. "She named (2-year-old champion filly) Wonder Wheel (Into Mischief) after her favorite Coney Island ride. She was a credit to the game and will sorely be missed by all who knew her."

Upon being named TOBA Owner of the Month in November, 2019, Lois was asked about the dynamics of operating a family stable. "Well, fortunately, we've learned how to discuss without arguing and come to conclusions that are the best for the horses and for each other," she said at the time. "And obviously we don't always agree on everything, but having great trainers to work with and good therapists helps," she said with a laugh. "Family businesses are always interesting."

DJ Stables' longtime trainer, Mark Casse, was shaken by the news.

"Tina and I are heartbroken," he said. "She was just the epitome of class and a lovely, lovely lady. Jon is obviously very involved in racing, as is Len, but I don't think a lot of people realized how much she loved horse racing. After we would win a big race--or any type of race, really--she would call me and we would go over the race in detail. I'm going to miss those calls. I'm crushed. I just wish we could have won the (GI Kentucky) Oaks this year for her. It's tough."

Len and Lois Green were married for over 60 years. She is survived by her children, Jon, the general manager of DJ Stables and his wife Michelle, her daughter Beth, her daughter Debbie and her husband Marty, and grandchildren Carly, Griffin, Robin, Wyatt and Kenny, as well as "adopted family members" Aron Yagoda and Karlene Bauer.

Services will be held Friday, June 2, from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. at Congregation B'nai Israel, 171 Ridge Road, Rumson, NJ.

Anyone wishing to make a contribution in her name should do so to New Vocations Racehorse Adoption Program, or to the New York Racetrack Chaplaincy.
BILL LEGALIZING HORSE RACING IN NORTH CAROLINA ADVANCES by Bill Finley

Tar Heel Downs anyone?

A sports betting bill that also contains language that will legalize racing in North Carolina was passed by the North Carolina State Senate Wednesday and now heads back to the House for a final vote. A similar bill, but one that did not include racing, has already been passed by the House, which will now vote on the amended legislation. The House is expected to vote in favor of the amended bill and North Carolina Governor Roy Cooper is also believed to be on board.

But even if the bill is signed into law, it appears unlikely that anyone would step forward to open a track in the state. The bill does not include any provisions where a track could partner with a casino or have historical horse racing machines.

“We have a long way to go,” said North Carolina-based owner Hubert Vester, Jr. “This bill moves us a step closer but I would have some concerns about the economic impact and the viability of actually having a racetrack here in North Carolina. Maybe if they had something in the Charlotte area it could draw enough people, but I think, first, it would take having an economic study that would address the viability of having a track in the state. It would be an uphill battle. Now that it’s about to be legal, maybe that is a step in the right direction. But I still think there are some economic hurdles that would have to be crossed.”

While live racing is unlikely to happen in the state, the bill will allow for North Carolina residents to open Advance Deposit Wagering (ADW) accounts, which are currently illegal.

“This is long overdue,” said North Carolina resident and owner-breeder Bill Thompson, Jr. “There has been a conservative majority in the state for a while representing a religious constituency. We’ve had a state lottery for quite some time, but that’s all we’ve had. Pari-mutuel betting in the state has been prohibited. To me, that’s been a big inconvenience, not being able to bet on your own horses. To have it legalized now where it will come to pass that we can have ADW accounts and mobile wagering, that will be very much welcomed.”

Judged on clarity, artistry and photographic quality, the Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance (TAA) will select twelve winners—one featured photo for each month—for its annual Calendar Photo Contest, the organization said in a release Thursday afternoon.

Sponsored by Repole Stable, submissions must be relevant to the mission of Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance and align with all other criteria set forth in the official contest rules.

“We are so excited to begin work on the 2024 calendar generously sponsored once again by Repole Stable,” said Emily Dresen, Director of TAA Funding & Events. “We look forward to all the amazing photos showing off our accredited organization’s Thoroughbreds and a big thank you to our friends at Tipperary for sponsoring our grand prize.”

Online submissions will be accepted now through June 30, 2023. Click here for more information, the official rules and the contest submission form.

It still seems hard to imagine, given how long he has been omnipresent in British racing, but Friday’s G1 Betfred Oaks will mark the penultimate Epsom Classic experience in the saddle for Frankie Dettori. It may also prove his best chance of going out in a blaze of glory, as Soul Sister (Ire) (Frankel [GB]) looks the more likely of his Friday and Saturday mounts to conjure that soon-to-be-missed flying dismount. Carrying the “Sariska” silks of Lady Bamford, the homebred left no one in any doubt that she is a top-class prospect when making a mockery of inflated odds in York’s G3 Musidora S. last month.

“I was impressed because the filly quickened nicely and clocked a good time,” he said. “I hope the trip won’t be a problem, all the signs are good. She settled well and she finished the race strongly at York, so I believe that it will not be an issue. You don’t really know until you try, but I think she will be fine.”

The Lion’s Share

While Frankie prepares to bid farewell, Oisin Murphy is hoping his career can enjoy the same longevity and as far as the Oaks is concerned it is time to catch up with the outgoing legend on six wins in this Classic. Cont. p3
THE OAKS: WHERE DID THEY COME FROM?
Following the G1 Betfred Oaks preview, Where Did They Come From digs deeper into the background of each filly.

SPREWELL: AN EXCITING DERBY PROSPECT
Sprewell (Ire) (Churchill {Ire}) holds G1 Betfred Derby claims, and his owner Mohamed Khalid Abdulrahim is eager to test them.
PROS: Despite hailing from a faster damline, stamina doesn’t appear to be an issue for Adelaide River. He managed four starts at two, winning on debut over a mile at Dundalk and was then narrowly beaten when second in the G3 Prix des Chenes before finishing second to Crypto Force (GB) in the G2 Beresford S. In the final run of his juvenile campaign he was six lengths behind the duelling Dubai Mile (Ire) and Arrest (Ire) when third in the G1 Criterium de Saint-Cloud on heavy turf.

CONS: He was again routed by Arrest at Chester in rain-softened conditions on his only start this year. The ground at Epsom will be much faster than any he has encountered to date.

PEDIGREE: A son of the 2014 Derby winner Australia, and thus grandson of a Derby and an Oaks winner, Adelaide River’s dam’s sole win was at 7f, with the best performance of her life coming when finishing runner-up to Alpha Centauri (Ire) in the Irish 1,000 Guineas. The mare is a half-sister to the American champion juvenile and Coolmore sire Uncle Mo, and this is her first foal.

VERDICT: Experience has taught us never to overlook long-priced runners from this stable but he does need to take a big step forward to be threatening in this company.
Mariann Klay spoke to TDN’s Alayna Cullen Birkett about G3 Chester Vase S. winner Arrest and his dam Nisriyna.

PROS: Has stamina in abundance, having dealt with testing ground in the G3 Chester Vase and when second to Dubai Mile in the G1 Criterium de Saint-Cloud in October. Seems reliable and consistent and has a fired-up Frankie Dettori in the saddle on his final Derby ride which may be worth another couple of lengths. John Gosden won the Derby with Benny The Dip and Golden Horn and knows what Epsom Classic material looks like. Arrest was the only Derby colt to take up the opportunity of a racecourse gallop at Epsom on May 22.

CONS: It is hard to get away from the feeling that he is one of those classic cases of too slow to win a Derby, particularly now that the ground has gone against him.

PEDIGREE: By Frankel, who looks set to become every bit as important an Epsom sire as Galileo, he hails from an Aga Khan family which surprisingly has the smart sprinter Spring Loaded (Ire) (Zebedee (GB)) close up. He is also a half-brother to the former consistent Hong Kong 9f Group 3 winner Dinozzo (Ire).

VERDICT: Place claims at best, then on to the St Leger.

DERBY FACTS:
John Gosden won the Derby in 1997 and 2015 with Benny The Dip and Golden Horn, respectively. He will be making his first start in the race with his son, Thady, as co-trainer.
PROS: The first rule of the Derby Club is Galileo. Check. There is little to fear on the stamina front and trainer Ralph Beckett already has two Epsom Classics in the bank. Stablemate Westover, one of a select quintet in the opening day’s G1 Dahlbury Coronation Cup, was an unlucky-in-running second in last year’s renewal. Beckett does not tilt at windmills, thus his presence in the line-up can be viewed as a positive and fast ground should not pose problems. Took the eye on debut in October when winning over an extended mile at Nottingham and punched his Derby ticket with an equally taking seasonal return, powering away up the Sandown hill in a manner which suggests a step up from 10 furlongs is within his compass.

CONS: He is a late May foal, yet to be tested at stakes level, and is susceptible to the dreaded ‘bounce’, a term relayed by Beckett in the wash of last month’s seasonal return.

PEDIGREE: Artistic Star is one of his dam’s five foals and four winners by lamented icon Galileo, who has sired a record five winners of the Blue Riband.
His dam Nechita secured her G1 Ascot Vale triumph at half the Derby distance, but she has produced two 12-furlong pattern-race performers. Namely, G1 Metropolitan third Harpo Marx (Ire) and G3 Princess Royal victor Forbearance (Ire). Stamina is unlikely to be called into question and he won't be found wanting if thereabouts in the straight. The switching of Lingfield’s Listed Derby Trial from a waterlogged turf to the polytrack surface, and thus skipping an early clash with Military Order, may have been a blessing in disguise. This G2 King Edward VII entry has the credentials to be very good and is no forlorn outsider in the most open edition in recent memory. There’ll not be a dry eye in the house should owner Jeff Smith fulfil his dream.

VERDICT: A must-have in placepot permutations.

PROS: Bred on a cross which has already yielded the European Classic winners Saxon Warrior (Jpn) and Snowfall (Jpn) and went into the winter as the worthy Derby favourite, progressing from a Naas maiden win in July to victory in the G2 KPMG Champion Juvenile S. then the G1 Vertem Futurity Trophy.

CONS: Sent off as favourite for the 2,000 Guineas without a prep run, his performance was too bad to be true, and he trailed in 12th of 14 runners, 22 lengths behind the winner Chaldean (GB). He was, however, reported to be never travelling after being hampered early in the race. His trainer, who knows a thing or two about preparing Derby winners, appears to be confident in putting a line through that run.

PEDIGREE: From the final crop of Japanese superstar Deep Impact, he hails from a family which is not short on speed, his third dam being the King’s Stand S. winner Cassandra Go (Ire) (Indian Ridge {Ire}). Her offspring include Auguste Rodin’s grand-dam, the Irish 1,000 Guineas and Nassau S. winner Halfway To Heaven (Ire) (Pivotal {GB}), as well as Tickled Pink (Ire) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}), the dam of last year’s Breeders’ Cup Juvenile Turf winner Victoria Road (Ire) (Saxon Warrior {Jpn}). Halfway To Heaven’s repeated matings with Galileo (Ire) produced not only the brilliant Magical (Ire) but also the treble Group 1 winner Rhododendron (Ire), and Auguste Rodin is her first foal, ushering in another exciting chapter for a top-class family which has served both Trevor Stewart and Coolmore very well over the years.

VERDICT: Cannot be overlooked despite a recent bump in the road.

TDN Rising Star Derby Honours Board:
This year’s representative is Auguste Rodin.

TDN Rising Star Oaks Honours Board:
Eswarah (1st 2005), Short Skirt (3rd 2006), All My Loving (3rd 2007), Wild Illusion (2nd 2018), Emily Upjohn (2nd 2022), Nashwa (3rd 2022).
This year’s representative is Bright Diamond.
Dear My Friend is the first Derby runner for Middleham Park Racing.

PROS: Not short of experience, with seven runs and three wins under his belt. Five of those starts came in his juvenile season when he won his first two races in May and June before stepping into stakes company for the G2 Vintage S. at Glorious Goodwood, in which he was beaten almost five lengths. Garnered two third-place finishes, including in the G3 Zetland S., to round out his season. He returned at three to win the Listed Burradon S. over a mile on Newcastle’s all-weather strip.

CONS: Was found wanting when pitched into a serious Derby trial in the Dante, finishing almost seven lengths adrift of the winner.

PEDIGREE: By the late sprinter Pivotal who sired top-class runners over the range of distances, including the Oaks winner Sariska (GB). Some stamina is imparted from his female line as his half-brother Red Force One (GB), by the July Cup winner Lethal Force (Ire), has won at up to two miles on the Flat and also over hurdles, while half-sister Pink Carnation (GB) is a winner and Listed-placed over nine furlongs. Their dam failed to win in three starts at up to 1m2f for a rating of 67. She is a half-sister to the Saratoga Grade II winner Spotlight, and another half-sister produced the late stallion Zoffany (Ire) as well as Rostropovich (Ire), a Group 3 winner over 1m4f.

VERDICT: Stamina shouldn’t be an issue but class might be.
Dubai Mile (right) defeats Arrest in the Criterium de Saint-Cloud. The duo square off again in the Blue Riband on Saturday.

PROS: A Group 1-winning two-year-old on the fifth start of his juvenile campaign, he is more seasoned than many in the field. He had Arrest (Ire) behind him only narrowly when winning the G1 Criterium de Saint-Cloud in heavy ground after previously finishing second to The Foxes (Ire) in the G2 Royal Lodge. The form has a solid feel to it, and he was prominent through most of the 2,000 Guineas before looking like he was weakening in the last couple of furlongs, only to hold on doggedly for fifth. One of only two horses to step forward from that race into the Derby and he should come on for that.

CONS: As is often the case with this stable’s runners, he has been prominent or led in all of his races. Similar tactics in the Derby could make him vulnerable to those coming from off the pace but he won’t lie down without a fight. A small doubt as to whether he will truly see out 1m4f.

PEDIGREE: Bred by Lady Chryss O’Reilly’s Skymarc Farm, Dubai Mile is, like Running Lion in the Oaks, flying the flag for his late sire Roaring Lion, who was himself third in the Derby. His listed-winning and group-placed dam, who is by a Derby winner and out of a mare by an Arc winner, was herself best at up to 1m2f and she has produced two stakes-winning sprinters by fast stallions in Beach Belle (GB) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}) and Naadirr (Ire) (Oasis Dream (GB)). His third dam Miss Tahiti (Ire) produced the 1,000 Guineas winner Miss France (Ire).

VERDICT: Luck counts for plenty in racing, and he has a lucky owner in Ahmad Al Shaikh, whose Derby record includes two runners-up in Hoo Ya Mal (GB) at 150/1 and Khalifa Sat (Ire) at 50/1. More luck will be required here, but Dubai Mile is no forlorn hope.

All Betfred Derby and Oaks odds are as of 23:00 p.m. BST on June 1.
PROS: Could not have been more impressive in winning his debut over an extended mile at Nottingham in October. His 4 3/4-length win coming in division two of the maiden won by fellow contender Artistic Star. That he was pitched straight into Doncaster’s G1 Vertem Futurity Trophy just 10 days later provides some insight into how highly regarded he is by connections. He was not disgraced on Town Moor, running a respectable seventh, having dwelt at the break. He is massive and stands at least 17 hands, but he is “light on his feet, very athletic and very well-balanced,” according to former handler David Loughnane.

CONS: Was scratched after causing a delay to the Dante and thus obliged to undertake a stalls test in the interim. His sire has yet to have a 12-furlong Group 1 winner and no horse has won the Blue Riband on seasonal debut since Shaamit (Ire) (Mtoto {GB}) did so in 1996.

PEDIGREE: King Of Steel is one of two winners, from three runners, out of Eldacar, who was a winner over 12 and 15 furlongs in France. She is a full-sister to the G2 Prix de Pomone and G2 Prix de Royallieu runner-up Miss Crissy. Close up is juvenile Group 1 winner Shaka, who took the G2 Prix Hocquart and ran second in the G2 Prix Noailles, both at 11 furlongs, as a 3-year-old. The family also features Listed Derby du Languedoc victrix and G2 Prix de Royallieu third Sotteville, whose best performances were at a mile and a half. Despite Wootton Bassett’s paucity of elite-level winners over the Derby distance, there is enough evidence on the page to suggest this test might not be beyond his capabilities. Who won = be drawing reference to “Tattenham Corner” and “camber” when reflecting upon this chap’s immense stature? If Loughnane’s words ring true, size may not matter. It’s arguable that there will be no more spectacular sight than to see this dashing grey thundering home straight and true.

VERDICT: Huge odds for each-way bettors.
PROS: A full-brother to the 2021 Derby winner Adayar (Ire), he went one better than his illustrious sibling in the Lingfield Derby Trial, making it easy to see why Military Order is one of the favourites for Epsom. Beaten only once so far on his debut at Newmarket last October, he progressed to win on his next start back at the Rowley Mile later that month before a winter break.

Military Order has started favourite for each of his four starts, progressing from 7f to the Derby distance on his latest start. He won easily on his resumption over 1m2f at Newbury on April 21 before outgunning Waipiro (Ire) and Circle Of Fire (GB) in his Derby trial, which was switched to the all-weather surface after parts of Lingfield’s turf track were found to be waterlogged. His trainer is seeking a third Derby victory, having won the race for the first time with Masar (Ire) in 2018.

CONS: On pedigree and racing profile, it is hard to find fault.

PEDIGREE: His Derby credentials are writ large but the class in this family doesn’t end with Adayar. Their dam Anna Salai was an unlucky loser when second in the Irish 1,000 Guineas. His first three dams are all group winners, while his fifth dam, Anna Paola (Ger) (Prince Ippi {Ger}) was a champion filly in Germany at two and three before establishing a formidable dynasty at stud.

VERDICT: Entitled to the highest respect.
9 (7). PASSENGER 11-2.
(c, Ulysses {Ire}–Dilmun, by War Front)
O-Flaxman Stables Ireland Ltd | B-Flaxman Holdings Ltd | T-Sir Michael Stoute | J-Richard Kingscote
Form: -13. Last Run: Third G2 Al Basti Equiworld Dubai Dante S.

PROS: The easy winner of the Wood Ditton Maiden at the Craven meeting and considered to be unlucky when blocked for a run in the Dante, in which he finished third, a length and a half behind The Foxes (Ire) with White Birch (GB) second. From a stable which excels with its middle-distance performers and which supplied last year’s Derby winner Desert Crown (GB) on the back of only two runs. He was supplemented for the race this week at £85,000.

CONS: One of three runners in the field to have made only two previous racecourse starts, so inexperience may be an issue, along with a small question mark as to his reserves of stamina.

PEDIGREE: A real feather in his owner’s cap as the Niarchos family operation bred both his sire, Ulysses, a son of Derby winner Galileo (Ire) and Oaks winner Light Shift, as well as his dam and fourth dam. Ulysses was himself twelfth in the Derby won by Harzand (Ire) and at four won the G1 Coral-Eclipse and G1 Juddmonte International. Passenger’s dam Dilmun won over a mile and wound up her racing career with a mark of 88. Her half-sister Liquid Amber (Kitten’s Joy) was also a mile winner in the G3 Flame of Tara S., while grand-dam Pachattack (Pulpit) was a classy and consistent performer in the UK and USA, and was Grade I-placed over nine furlongs as well as winning a Grade III and twice at Listed level up to 1m4f.

VERDICT: If he truly sees out the distance, Passenger could go very close.

ANNIVERSARY STATS:

90 years ago (1933): Breed-shaper Hyperion seals his place in history and remains the latest Lord Derby-owned winner.

150 years ago (1873): Doncaster, sire of the great Bend Or, wins on just his second start having finished unplaced on debut in the 2000 Guineas.
PROS: Progressing well this season to be unbeaten in two starts, the first over an extended 1m2f on the Dundalk all-weather surface, and next over the same trip on soft ground at Chester.

CONS: Failed to win at two in a pair of October maidens. The last Dee Stakes winner to go on to success at Epsom was Kris Kin in 2003.

PEDIGREE: The champion sire Dubawi is yet to be represented by a Derby winner but this cross with Galileo has yielded the 2,000 Guineas winner Night Of Thunder (Ire) and Horse of the Year Ghaiyyath (Ire). San Antonio is the second foal of Rain Goddess, who was second in the Irish Oaks, a long way behind Enable (GB), and won the G3 Snow Fairy Fillies S. Her grand-dam Virginia Waters won the 1,000 Guineas and was fourth in the Oaks.

VERDICT: A fair bit to prove but should be staying on.

GALILEO’S DERBY DYNASTY

From 17 crops of three-year-olds (2006-2022)

This year’s lone representative by the late sire is Artistic Star.
PROS: Made a taking seasonal debut to give weight and a beating to a 97-rated rival on his favoured heavy ground at Naas before winning what is historically a key Derby Trial at Leopardstown in taking fashion [again on softer going]. However, the last horse to follow up at Epsom from that Leopardstown trial was High Chaparral (Ire) in 2002. Having said that, he is a colt on the up and he could run a big race if handling quicker ground than he has ever encountered before.

CONS: All of his form has been achieved on softer ground and his rounded action suggests he won't be as effective on better going, which has to be a major worry ahead of Saturday's race given there is no rain forecast. As well as that, the form of his Leopardstown win is open to question given the third that day, Proud And Regal (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), was comprehensively beaten when stepping back in trip in the Irish 2,000 Guineas.

PEDIGREE: Bred by Khalid Abdul Rahaim, who enjoyed great success on the track with the dam Lahaleeb (Ire), winner of the GI E P Taylor S. Sprewell is the highest-rated son of Lahaleeb and races in the colours of Mohamed Khalid Mohamed Abdulrahim, son of Khalid Abdul Rahaim.

VERDICT: Improving colt who should see out the trip but the ground has to be a major worry.
12 (3). THE FOXES (IRE) 12-1.

(c, Churchill {Ire}--Tanaghum {GB}, by Darshaan {GB}) (440,000gns Ylg ’21 TATOCT)

O-King Power Racing Co Ltd | B-Barronstown Stud | T-Andrew Balding | J-Oisin Murphy

Form: 4911-21. Last Run: First G2 Al Basti Equiworld Dubai Dante S.

PROS: Winner of one of the most notable Derby trials, the G2 Dante S. at York, and runner-up in the G3 Craven S., he has had two highly respectable prep runs this season off the back of a four-race juvenile campaign. The latter culminated in victory in the G2 Royal Lodge S. over Dubai Mile (Ire). A well-balanced, medium-sized colt with experience on his side.

CONS: Though his full-sister Perotan has won at up to 1m6f, their sire excelled as a miler and The Foxes didn’t look a guaranteed stayer when drifting right in the closing stages of the Dante.

PEDIGREE: From a family which has really flourished in recent years for the Nagles’ Barronstown Stud, with The Foxes being one of seven black-type performers and 10 winners for Tanaghum, a winning daughter of Shadwell’s Irish 1,000 Guineas victrix Mehtahaaf (Nureyev). The most prolific of his siblings is the Meydan Group 1 winner Matterhorn (Ire) (Raven’s Pass), while Bangkok (Ire) (Australia {GB}) won the G2 York S. and is now standing at Chapel Stud.

VERDICT: Likely to be among the leading players.
13 (11). WAIPIRO (IRE) 20-1.
(c, Australia {GB}--London Plane {Ire}, by Danehill Dancer {Ire})
O-Siu Pak-Kwan | B-Shane Molan | T-Ed Walker | J-Tom Marquand
Form: 6-12. Last Run: Second Listed Fitzdares Lingfield Trial S.

PROS: Looks to be going places fast with a clear-cut win in the Newmarket novice won 12 months ago by New London and a second to Military Order in the Lingfield Derby Trial. Will stay the trip very well, as he has already proven and has an almost ideal striding signature for the race.

CONS: Hardly any, but to be ultra-critical seemed to be beaten fair and square at Lingfield, where he very much had the run of the race.

PEDIGREE: A half-brother to the triple Hong Kong Group 1 winner Waikuku, as well as a hurdler in It’s Good To Laugh. Australia has that Galileo blood and the family also features City Honours, who went so close in the 1998 Derby.

VERDICT: A place would be no surprise before he goes global.

AIDAN O’BRIEN’S EIGHT DERBY WINNERS:
Galileo (2001)
High Chaparral (2002)
Camelot (2012)
Ruler Of The World (2013)
Australia (2014)
Wings Of Eagles (2017)
Anthony Van Dyke (2019)
Serpentine (2020)

David Howden's Running Lion (GB) (Roaring Lion) is taking the Ouija Board (GB) and Taghrooda (GB) route to this Classic, having won Newmarket's Listed Pretty Polly S. with a deal of authority. As nine of the last 10 renewals have gone to either Aidan O'Brien or John Gosden, she is at least from the right stable and if she has the stamina for this will be a danger to all.

Grounds For Concern

While Aidan O'Brien is convinced that Savethelastdance (Ire) (Galileo (Ire)) is not a soft-ground specialist, the Listed Cheshire Oaks winner has to prove she can reproduce the same kind of performance on the liveliest surface she has encountered to date on a track that will test her versatility to the full. Both the Gosdons' runners have no flaws in that respect, so Ryan Moore will have to make sure he is not as far adrift early as he was at Chester. Those with bigger uncertainty hovering over them include Godolphin's Listed Lingfield Oaks Trial winner Eternal Hope (Ire) (Teofilo (Ire)), who despite her obvious talent has yet to race on turf, and a clutch of unproven stayers. They include the Hunscoite Stud colourbearer Caernarfon (GB) (Cityscape (GB)), surprisingly the only member of the cast to bring 1000 Guineas form into the mix having been fourth in the Newmarket Classic. “We will be taking on well-touted fillies who have done very well in their Oaks trials, but they have got to step up in class and we’ve already been and proven that we can mix it at that sort of level,” trainer Jack Channon said. “We just hope that the extra distance will elevate her a couple of places.”

Westover Primed For Epsom Return

Few would not concede that with a clear run Westover (GB) (Frankel (GB)) would have been at least second in last year’s Derby and probably would have shaken up the winner, so his reappearance on the famous Surrey Downs is to be welcomed in Friday’s G1 DahlBury Coronation Cup. Juddmonte’s homebred went on to show what he could do in the G1 Irish Derby before a mix of over-exuberance and the effects of a busy schedule took their toll in the King George, as they did for that race's other flop Emily Upjohn (GB) (Sea The Stars (Ire)) who joins him again. As well as showcasing his own talent here, the Ralph Beckett-trained 4-year-old also puts the G1 Dubai Sheema Classic success of Equinox (Jpn) (Kitasan Black (Jpn)) back into focus.

“It was a big run in Dubai, he likes good ground, we know that now,” Juddmonte’s European racing manager Barry Mahon said. “He’s a big horse with a knee action and we thought he’d go on softer ground, but I think the Arc showed us he can go on it fine but he’s better on fast ground, so hopefully we get that and he can run a big race.”

Tunnes Of Ability

Coronation Cups have been won by overseas raiders several times before and following the exploits of his half-brother Torquator Tasso (Ger) (Adlerflug (Ger)), Holger Renz’s Tunnes (Ger) (Guiliani (Ire)) is not one to be taken lightly. His 10-length victory in the G1 Grosser Preis von Bayern in November stands up to inspection and trainer Peter Schiergen is hoping this will lead to the Ascot feature in July in which his half-sibling was second. “If he runs well, we might plan to run him in the King George,” he said. Cont. p4
Big Sigh Of Relief

Thursday saw a final field of 11 declared for Sunday's €1.5-million G1 Qatar Prix du Jockey Club at Chantilly, with good news for connections of likely favourite Big Rock (Fr) (Rock Of Gibraltar {Ire}) as Yeaguada Centurion's homebred sensation was drawn in two. Jaber Abdullah’s G1 Poule d'Essai des Poulains hero Marhaba Ya Sanafi (Ire) (Muhaarar {GB}) is in four, while TDN Rising Star and supplementary entry Feed The Flame (GB) (Kingman {GB}) has been allocated stall six.

THE OAKS: WHERE DID THEY COME FROM?

Looks can be deceiving, but it is hard to argue with SavetheLastdance's 22-length winning margin in the Listed Cheshire Oaks. The Coolmore filly faces 10 rivals in Friday's G1 Betfred Oaks, among them G3 Musidora S. heroine Soul Sister for Lady Bamford.

BE HAPPY (IRE), Camelot (GB) - Frequential (GB) (Dansili {GB})
Owner: M Tabor, D Smith, Mrs J Magnier & Westerberg
Breeder: Lynch Bages Ltd & Longfield Stud
Trainer: Aidan O'Brien

A 340,000gns Tattersalls October Book 1 purchase, she is a sister to the Group 3-placed Hector De Maris (Ire) and hails from the family of Classic winners Galileo (Ire), Sea the Stars (Ire) and King's Best, her fourth dam being Allegretta (GB). Runner-up to the supplemented Eternal Hope in the Lingfield Derby Trial and not without a chance.

BRIGHT DIAMOND (IRE), El Kabeir - Starlite Sienna (Ire) (Elusive Pimpernel)
TDN Rising Star.
Owner: Sheikh Rashid Dalmoook Al Maktoum
Breeder: T Molan
Trainer: Karl Burke

A graduate of the Tattersalls Ireland Goresbridge Breeze-up Sale for €52,000, she is out of a half-sister to Group 3 winner Realtra (Ire) (Dark Angel {Ire}) and was a highly impressive maiden winner on debut last year before finishing third in the G1 Fillies' Mile. Down the field in fifth but not beaten far in the Lingfield Oaks Trial on her only start this year.

CAERNARFON (GB), Cityscape (GB) - Royal Ffanci (GB) (Royal Applause {GB})
Owner: Hunsdote Stud, P Humphreys & J Sweeney
Breeder: Hunsdote Stud
Trainer: Jack Channon

A full-sister to the G3 Fred Darling winner Dan's Dream (GB) out of an unraced mare, she won the Listed Montrose Fillies' S. over a mile on the last of her seven starts at two, and came out strongly on debut this season to take fourth in the 1,000 Guineas. What she lacks in size she makes up for in toughness. The Oaks trip may just be a stretch.

ETERNAL HOPE (IRE), Teofilo (Ire) - Voice Of Truth (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire})
Owner/Breeder: Godolphin
Trainer: Charlie Appleby

The second foal of a half-sister to Group 1 winner and sire Rio De La Plata (Arg), and all three of her runs have come this year. She won on her second start at Chelmsford in February then took to the turf with aplomb to win the Lingfield Oaks Trial, thereby demanding to be supplemented for this Classic test. Big chance.

HEARTACHE TONIGHT (FR), Recorder (GB) - Salvation (GB) (Montjeu {Ire})
Owner: Chris Wright and Andy MacDonald
Breeder: Sylvain Vidal
Trainer: David Menuisier

A first British Classic runner for her trainer and for her French-based sire, she is a half-sister to the dual Group 1 winner Wonderful Tonight (Fr) and bred on very similar lines to the 2019 Oaks winner Anapurna (GB) (Frankel {GB}). One for the placepot.

MAMAN JOON (IRE), Sea the Stars (Ire) - Dorcas Lane (GB) (Norse Dancer {Ire})
Owner: Amo Racing Ltd
Breeder: Barnane Stud Ltd
Trainer: Richard Hannon

A half-sister to the Royal Ascot winners Candleford (IRE) and Atty Persse (IRE), she was bought for 400,000gns at Tattersalls October Book 1. She has raced just once to date when second, more than nine lengths adrift of Gather Ye Rosebuds (IRE), in a 10-furlong Newbury maiden in April. Stamina won't be a problem but this is a dive into the deep end for an inexperienced filly.

RED RIDING HOOD (IRE), Justify - Ballydoyle (IRE) (Galileo (IRE))
Owners: D Smith, Mrs J Magnier, M Tabor, Westerberg
Breeder: Coolmore
Trainer: Aidan O'Brien

From a deep Coolmore family and one Aidan O'Brien knows well, as he sent out her dam Ballydoyle to win the G1 Prix Marcel Boussac and finish second in the 1,000 Guineas. Dam is a sister to Misty For Me (IRE), a four-time Group 1 winner and the dam of US Navy Flag, as well as Twirl (IRE) and April Showers (IRE). It's a mouthwatering pedigree but she appears to be the Ballydoyle third string and improvement is required.

RUNNING LION (GB), Roaring Lion - Bella Nouf (GB) (Dansili (GB))
Owner: D P Howden
Breeder: The Bella Nouf Partnership
Trainers: John and Thady Gosden

A half-sister to Group 3 winner Majestic Glory (GB) (Frankel (GB)), her dam is a dual-winning half-sister to three black-type performers. Ultra-impressive winner at Newmarket back in May and forms part of a strong Gosden hand in the race. She is one of two Classic runners at Epsom from the sole crop of Roaring Lion, along with Dubai Mile (IRE) in the Derby.

SAVETHELASTDANCE (IRE), Galileo (IRE) - Daddy's Lil Darling (Scat Daddy)
Owners: Mrs John Magnier/Michael Tabor/Derrick Smith/Westerberg
Breeder: Daddys Lil Darling Syndicate
Trainer: Aidan O'Brien

The family has unfinished business in this race given the dam Daddys Lil Darling bolted to the start and was withdrawn from the 2017 Oaks after getting loose. The mare was a top performer in America, won at the highest level, and Savethelastdance appears to have inherited all of her ability and more judging by a breathtaking 22-length win in the Cheshire Oaks. Deserving favourite.

SEA OF ROSES (GB), Sea The Moon (Ger) - Plume Rose (GB) (Marchand De Sable)
Owner: Weldspec Glasgow Limited
Breeder: Overbury Stallions Ltd
Trainer: Andrew Balding

Bought by Grangemore Stud for 115,000gns at the Tattersalls December Foal Sale in 2020. Reoffered at Book 1 and sold for 170,000gns to Andrew Balding. A half-sister to five winners, including the classy Desert Icon (Fr) (Sea The Stars (IRE)) and Gardol City (Fr) (Elusive City). Lots to find on form and ratings.

SOUL SISTER (IRE), Frankel (GB) - Dream Peace (IRE) (Dansili (GB))
Owner/Breeder: Lady Bamford
Trainers: John & Thady Gosden

Lady Bamford's homebred is a sister to the Australian performer Herman Hesse (GB) and Dreamflight (GB), and a half-sister to Questionaire (GB) (Galileo (IRE)). Traces back to Kilfrish Stud's successful matriarch Arctique Royale (GB). Ticks a lot of boxes on paper, couldn't have been more impressive in winning the G3 Musidora S., and provides the final ride in the Oaks for Frankie Dettori.

THE HORSE WE’VE BEEN WAITING FOR’ - SPREWELL’S OWNER ON DERBY CLAIMS

By Brian Sheerin

He may be one of the biggest supercar collectors in the world, but Sprewell’s owner Mohamed Khalid Abdulrahim admits that it is the inability to predict what is underneath the bonnet of a racehorse that is the main lure for him to the sport.

The 35-year-old is looking forward to his first Derby runner at Epsom on Saturday with the Jessica Harrington-trained Sprewell (IRE) (Churchill (IRE)). Bred by his father Khalid Abdul Rahaim, who also raced the dam Lahaleeb (IRE) (Redback (GB)), Sprewell has been described by the Bahraini-based owner as the horse his family have been waiting for ahead of Saturday’s big race.

“I’m very excited, trust me,” Abdulrahim said. “I have been waiting a long time for this horse. It is going to be a huge day for my father and I, as I said, we have been looking forward for a really long time for a horse like Sprewell. We’re very fortunate.”

He added, “Team Harrington keep telling us that Sprewell is probably the best colt that they have ever had over this distance, honestly. I mean, I couldn’t believe it, but that’s what Jessica thinks.

“They have done a fantastic job with the horse and we’re delighted, obviously. They are an amazing team and Jessica is obviously a super tough woman, which makes this story even better. I would be so happy for them if we can win the Derby, not just for my father and I, but for the Harringtons as well.”

Sprewell was bred at Friarstown Stud in Kildare, which is owned by Khalid Abdul Rahaim, who also has farms in the United Kingdom and on home shores in Bahrain. According to Abdulrahim, who runs the racing arm of the operation and has a penchant for fast cars as well as horses, the plan is to grow the ownership model in Europe.

He said, “I have been involved in racing for four years now but my father has been breeding and racing horses for over 30 years now. So I have been only four years in racing and I come across a horse like this. Talk about luck. My Dad does the breeding and I run the racing side of things. It’s a good team and I am very fortunate that my father breeds horses.”

Abdulrahim added, “This is what makes it even better, to be honest. You could buy and breed a lot of horses and you may not come across a horse of the standard of Sprewell. Horse racing is a weird game. A lot of luck involved. But I love it and it is a part of us now.

“We own Friarstown Stud in Kildare. We have 15 mares there. We also have operations in the UK and in Bahrain as well. In Bahrain, we do the weekly races and use a stud farm over there, but we still haven’t sold anything yet! I am trying to get that operation moving because, up until now, it has been used privately for us.

“We just breed for ourselves and race the horses right now. But, in the coming years, we could race and sell. We have horses with Kevin Phillipart de Foy, including El Habeeb (Al Rifai (Ire)), another 110-rated performer, and three or four with team Harrington as well. I am thinking of doing more. That is going to grow.”

Abdulrahim races horses in Bahrain under the banner of MKAR Racing. Sprewell and El Habeeb, who is by the family’s homebred stallion Al Rifai, have performed to a high level in Europe already and Abdul Rahim admits that the breeding-to-race aspect of the operation is what excites him most.

He explained, “Lahaleeb raced in my father’s colours. I can remember when he bought her, I was studying in the UK, and it was all over the news how much he paid for her at the sales.

“Nowadays, what he paid for her [1 million gns], is not that much but I remember it caused a big stir at the time. Lahaleeb is the dam of Al Rifai, who is the sire of El Habeeb, but Sprewell is the best out of her for sure.”

Asked if the success with Sprewell is made more special given the pedigree has been nurtured by his father, Abdulrahim said, “It makes it the world more special, trust me. For us, breeding a horse makes it much better than buying one. All of the hard work that goes on behind the scenes to produce a racehorse, all the trial and error that you go through in trying breed a superstar horse, it’s all worth it. Hopefully we have found one now in Sprewell.

“The Derby is the biggest Classic there is. It’s everyone’s dream to win the Derby. The track is extremely tough and the horse needs to be tough to finish the race, not only to win, so we know how hard it is going to be. It is one of the biggest races for my father and I and we are very excited to have a runner.”

BETFRED DERBY DAY WILL BE A WORLD POOL EVENT Edited Press Release

World Pool, the largest commingled horse racing pools created and powered by the Hong Kong Jockey Club (HKJC), will be in operation at Epsom for a third year on Derby Day on Saturday, June 3. Cont. p7
Desert Crown | Focus On Racing

All eight races on Betfred Derby Day will be commingled, including the feature G1 Betfred Derby, G3 Diomed S., G3 Princess Elizabeth S. and Epsom Dash H. There will be seven bet types available—win, place, quinella, quinella place (swinger), forecast (exacta), tierce (trifecta) and treble (pick the winner in three selected races)—and all bets from 28 countries will be commingled into World Pool.

The Derby, which posted the highest single-race turnover for any World Pool race in 2022 with HK$66.1 million (€6.74m), will start at an earlier time than usual (13:30 British Summer Time) to avoid the clash with the FA Cup Final between Manchester City and Manchester United.

Michael Fitzsimons, Executive Director, Wagering Products, at the Hong Kong Jockey Club, said, “For the last two years we’ve seen strong betting turnover on Derby Day, as well as good growth from 2021 to 2022, so we’re looking forward to another big day for World Pool on Saturday.

“The Derby is a race that captivates the imagination of racing fans worldwide and with this season’s renewal attracting a big field and the chance to witness Frankie Dettori’s last ever ride in the famous race, we hope it will again prove popular with people betting into World Pool. It will also be interesting to see how the earlier start time affects turnover.”

Alex Frost, Chief Executive of the UK Tote Group and Racecourse Board Member of Epsom Downs, said, “Being the most important Flat race of the whole year, the Derby attracts a global audience and it is fantastic that the meeting will once again be a World Pool event. With 28 pool betting operators now part of World Pool, and a competitive and open field for this year’s feature race, the Tote will be providing huge pools and exciting opportunities for incredible value for our customers.

“Last year’s Derby meeting saw £28.9 million bet into pools with over £6.7 million bet on the Derby. The UK Tote provided excellent value with an online overround of only 104%, versus an SP of 115%, with the Tote+ Win price beating the SP in every race. For every racing fan looking for the best odds, the Tote is the place to bet on Derby Day, while the sport will benefit from the additional income generated by World Pool. We wish everyone the best of luck for a safe and successful day.”
