KEENELAND BREEDER SPOTLIGHT: HOW GREG GOODMAN, A GOOD TEXAN, BECAME A BRILLIANT KENTUCKIAN

Greg Goodman | Keeneland

by Chris McGrath

They call it "nominative determinism." Your name suggests your path in life: like the world's fastest man being a Bolt. On that basis, you would say that being born a Goodman raises expectation enough--without then going ahead and buying yourself a farm named Mt. Brilliant.

The last year or so, however, suggests that things are playing out much as they should. Last September, TOBA presented Greg Goodman with the Robert N. Clay Award for his work in preserving horse country around Lexington from development. In April, the KTA/KTOB honored him with the William T. Young Humanitarian Award, reserved for no less a person or organization in the industry than one who "recognizes and promotes the human endeavor." In between, moreover, the Mt. Brilliant graduate Extra Anejo (Into Mischief) has flashed potential to prove one of the best sophomores of the crop; and while the farm's Keeneland consignment this time couldn't quite match that colt's $1.35 million sale a couple of Septembers ago, it did feature a $850,000 son of Candy Ride in Book 2. Cont. p9

AT $250,000 FOR 2024, INTO MISCHIEF AGAIN HEADS SPENDTHRIFT ROSTER

Four-time leading sire Into Mischief, who has broken records with 15 seven-figure yearlings to sell this year, will head the Spendthrift Farm stallion roster once again for 2024, the Central Kentucky farm announced Thursday afternoon. Into Mischief will stand for $250,000 S&N in 2024, identical to his advertised fee for 2023.

Into Mischief is currently leading the general sires list for 2024 by a comfortable margin. His progeny this year include 21 black-type winners, nine graded winners, and four Grade I winners, led by GI Kentucky Oaks winner and 'TDN Rising Star' Pretty Mischievous. His yearling average for 2023 of $746,854 also leads the nation.

“Into Mischief just continues to wade further and further into uncharted waters when it comes to the long and storied history of stallions in this industry,” said Spendthrift’s general manager Ned Toffey.

“Not only is he well on his way to capturing his fifth straight champion General Sire title, he is also backing up that success on the racetrack by breaking more records at the sales, and, perhaps most excitingly, as an emerging sire of sires. Into Mischief had 15 yearlings sell for a million dollars or more this year, breaking Storm Cat’s record of 13 from 2005. And he has a great chance of having a champion freshman sire, as Maximus Mischief currently sits atop this year’s list and Authentic looks poised to make a run next year. It truly is remarkable.”

The Spendthrift roster will be 26 strong for 2024, including three new stallions announced earlier this month: Grade I winners Taiba (Gun Runner), Arabian Lion (Justify), and Zandon (Upstart). The first two are also 'TDN Rising Stars'. Taiba is already available for inspection at Spendthrift, while Arabian Lion will make his next start in Saturday’s GII Santa Anita Sprint Championship and Zandon in Saturday’s GII Woodward S. Both of those colts are being pointed to the Breeders’ Cup and will retire to Spendthrift at the end of the year. Their fees will be announced at that time.

“We are excited to announce our 2024 stallion roster and fees fresh off the strongest major yearling sales I can remember,” Toffey said. “The market for a racehorse is as competitive as ever, and that is a wonderful thing for breeders and the overall health of the breeding industry. It should give everyone confidence and optimism heading into 2024. At Spendthrift, we are constantly striving to provide the best opportunities for breeders when it comes to quality, value, and diversity of pedigree at all levels.”

BAFFERT SUES TWITTER ANTAGONISTS SWIFT HITTER, BARSHOELIFE FOR EXTORTION, DEFAMATION by Bill Finley

Trainer Bob Baffert has sued well-known Twitter (now known as X) posters Justin Wunderler and Daniel DiCorcia for defamation and extortion over frequent posts on the social media website, which Baffert’s lawyers contend amounted to “a series of escalating threats and criminal conduct,” adding that the defendants “have urged others to engage in violent behavior toward Baffert and his family, baselessly accused Baffert of criminal conduct, and attempted to extort Baffert and his family under threats to his business, reputation, and occupational license.”

The suit goes on to allege that Wunderler and DiCorcia attempted to extort money from Baffert in exchange for them not releasing information they contended would be so damaging that it would end Baffert’s career.

Wunderler goes by “Swifthitter” on Twitter and DiCorcia posts under the name of “barshoelife.” The suit was filed on Wednesday in U.S. District Court, Southern District of California, by Baffert and Bob Baffert Racing Stables, Inc.

The Paulick Report and the San Diego Union-Tribune were among the first to report the story.

“Bob Baffert has continued to put the sport of horse racing in a bad light,” Wunderler said in a reply to a direct message sent through Twitter. “This is not extortion. I want to do what’s best for horse racing and what is best for the sport’s longevity. Too many horses under his care have died. It’s time we speak up for the horses that have no say. I want nothing from Bob Baffert or any of his associates. I want what’s best for the game I love, horse racing.”

According to the suit, Wunderler recently received a judgment of conviction for criminal online harassment and a subsequent money judgment against the victim, a former girlfriend, for publishing intimate photos online without the ex-girlfriend’s consent. Just this week, Wunderler began to reveal that online that he had a serious gambling problem, which, he said, came about after he got addicted to the drug Adderall.

Wunderler’s attacks continued after the news of the lawsuit broke. A post he put online Wednesday evening read: “Bob Baffert has continued to kill horses. As in Pastor T. When will California and Horse Racing step up and ban this man.” The posts is accompanied by a picture of a horse, prone on the racetrack after apparently breaking down.

As of deadline for this story, DiCorcia had not responded to a similar direct message. DiCorcia sells apparel online, where his followers can buy a T-shirt clearly aimed at Baffert, which replaces the two f’s in his name with a pair of syringes.

Wunderler has made dozens of posts contending he has a video of Baffert doing something so nefarious that if it is released it will end Baffert’s career. In one tweet, he wrote “There is a video out there that will end Baffert.” He also tweeted that, when it comes to the video the New York Times and Washington Post “have reached out.”

“Upon information and belief, the videos are deceptively edited to cast Baffert and his staff in a false light, and the intent to publish such videos was not to foster the quest for truth but to gain social media followers through the sensationalist nature of such falsehoods,” the suit contends.

The Baffert suit includes a laundry list of additional complaints and charges against Wunderler and DiCorcia, both of whom have attacked Baffert relentlessly on the social media site. They include allegations that Baffert was guilty of blood doping his horses.

“Defendants made various statements accusing Baffert by name of engaging in ‘blood doping’ and committing other criminal acts of animal cruelty,” the suit reads. “These statements were published and widely disseminated on the social media platform ‘X,’ formerly known as Twitter, to an audience that reasonably understood that the statements were about Baffert and that the statements accused Baffert of ‘blood doping.’ Specifically, Mr. Wunderler accused Baffert of scratching the Thoroughbred racehorse ‘Muth’ because of a “reaction to EPO...”

According to the suit, before this year’s running of the GI

Belmont S., Wunderler “specifically asked his followers to bring dangerous objects to hurl at Baffert and his family. Shortly thereafter, Mr. Wunderler posted a picture of Baffert’s house in

Bob Baffert with Medina Spirit | Coady Photography

California and claimed that he ‘slaughters horses on National TV.’”

Allegedly, Wunderler and DiCorcia sent a text to Baffert’s wife, Jill, through a third-party that “demanded large sums of money in exchange for ending his vexatious, noxious, and unlawful behavior.” The suit includes a screen shot of a tweet from Wunderler that reads: “1 million Dollars. I’ll leave Baffert/Keri all of them alone.” It is not clear who “Keri” is.

“Mr. Wunderler and Mr.

DiCorcia engaged in a conspiracy to extort money from Baffert, sent a text message demanding a certain sum of money, with specific payment instructions for wiring money, in exchange for a promise not to release information Defendants alleged is so damaging that it will end Baffert’s career,” the suit charges. Cont

Additionally, the suit notes that the two charged that Baffert blood-doped Medina Spirit (Protonico) and that Triple Crown winner Justify (Scat Daddy) was “juiced.”

According to the suit, the harsh criticism from the two came at a time where Baffert was working to restore his reputation after the controversy surrounding Medina Spirit testing positive for the medication betamethasone after he crossed the wire in front in the Derby.

“The media frenzy that ensued resulted in major industry stakeholders--specifically Churchill Downs, Inc., and the New York Racing Association, Inc.--taking action to ban Baffert from major racetracks in Kentucky and New York for various periods of time.

“Baffert’s position with Churchill Downs, specifically, is fluid and tenuous,” the suit reads. “Churchill Downs has repeatedly referenced negative media coverage associated with Baffert as grounds for extending his ban from the Churchill Downs Racetrack and the Kentucky Derby.”

Baffert is seeking compensatory damages in excess of $75,000 in addition to punitive damages. His lawyers have also asked the court to issue an order “requiring that the defendants to produce the video to the Court for the Court’s and Plaintiffs’ review.”

David Jacobson's Bowl of Cherries (Speightster) collapsed and died on the horse path following her sixth-place finish in Thursday's second race at the Belmont at Aqueduct meeting. Making her 32nd lifetime start, the 5-year-old mare went off favored at 6-5 but was never a factor in a $25,000 claiming race eventually won by Beautiful Karen (Competitive Edge). Bowl of Cherries was also owned by Jacobson but had a claim voided on her following the race.

“Following the running of Race 2 at Aqueduct on Thursday, Bowl of Cherries (#3) collapsed and died suddenly while returning to the barn area,” said NYRA Vice President of Communications Patrick McKenna. “Bowl of Cherries was trained by David Jacobson and ridden by Isaac Castillo, who had dismounted the horse and was uninjured. NYRA will work with HISA officials and the New York State Equine Medical Director to investigate the circumstances around this unusual sudden death.”

A phone call to New York's Equine Medical Director Scott Palmer for comment was not immediately returned.

By all accounts, the undefeated GI Breeders' Cup Classic winner Flightline was truly a once-in-a-generation horse. Like the legendary A.P. Indy, his great-grandsire who also stood at Lane's End, Flightline was a seven-figure yearling fashioned into a Horse of the Year, but it was the way he made very good horses look like ordinary mortals that cemented his acclaim.

Flightline completed his first season at stud this year; will he also follow in A.P. Indy's footsteps and become a breed-shaping sire?

"Flightline had an excellent start at stud, covering 152 mares including more than 50 Grade I mares or Grade I producers," said Lane's End Farm's Bill Farish. "There's obviously a huge amount of excitement about his first foals, we can't wait to see them." --Jill Williams

Breeder Spotlight >>> PRESENTED BY KEENELAND

All rather brilliant, rather than merely good. But the relaxed figure presiding over the Mt. Brilliant draft at the recent auction welcomes a visit from TDN with a pleasing blend of self-deprecation and affability. It is a long time now, after all, since he first came here for a November Sale, a greenhorn sent by his dad to buy a couple of mares for a stallion they were standing back in Texas. He was given a budget of $45,000 for one, and $35,000 for the other.

"And back then of course there weren't cellphones or anything," Goodman recalls. "So he couldn't be telling me, 'Okay, bid,' or, 'Don't worry, go on, you can go over.' And I'm sitting there bidding on this mare, and now I'm getting confused which one was $35,000 and which $45,000. And my dad didn't suffer fools very much.

"So I've bid $35,000. And then she sold to the next bid, $37,000 or $38,000, whatever it was. And at this point I'm really scared. 'Okay, I really hope this was the right one.' So I called him and he was like, 'Why did you stop at $35,000 on that mare?' By that time, I knew that I had got them the right way round. But he said, 'I meant $35,000 or around there.'

"No!" Goodman replied. "You never mean anything different than what you say! If I'd bought her, you'd be yelling at me, telling me I had to pay."

He chuckles at the memory. "My dad was tight," he says. "Didn't spend any money, except on horses. I mean, he drove a crappy car. I had to buy him his first decent one, his first cellphone, too. Because he'd been like, 'Why would I want to spend money on that thing? They're going to charge me every month. I can just stop and use a payphone.' But he would spend money on gambling, and horses."

And could afford to do so, of course. Because this was Harold V. Goodman, founder in 1975 of an air-conditioning manufacturer that would become the second largest in the world. Cont.

Just as Goodman is sharing these memories of his dad, Michael Stidham calls by the barn. Stidham was still a very young man when given his start by Goodman Sr., who had hitherto been a patron of Stidham's own father. In fact, Stidham's first graded stakes winner was in his silks: Manzotti, a son of Nijinsky imported from Europe who later stood on the Goodman farm in Texas. In turn Manzotti's homebred daughter, Two Altazano, was Stidham's first Grade I winner in the Coaching Club American Oaks.

"His dad was a visionary," Stidham attests. "In his business, in horse racing, in everything he did: he had a way of knowing."

"Killed it," Goodman agrees. "He was a thinker, a deep thinker."

"He really was an amazing man," Stidham says. "And he passed it on to this guy."

Goodman firmly demurs, and Stidham teases him by accepting that he is only "almost as good" as his late father. But Goodman does grant that a love of horses is most certainly in the blood.

"My father raced all his life," he says. "I have pictures of him aged 20, holding some Quarter Horse that he'd race down the streets in Houston. His buddies all used to have horses, and they'd put these little jockeys on them and race down Main Street in the afternoons."

"My dad was leading breeder in Texas five years in a row. And he had a lot to do with getting parimutuel betting passed there. So I never went on a vacation in my life that didn't involve a racetrack. From the time I was 17 or 18, weekend after weekend, I'd be driving with friends to Evangeline Downs, sometimes Delta Downs. You could stay in the Howard Johnson's for cheap, and sometimes you could pay for that and your gas from betting. And other times you're trying to scrape a few pennies together to get home. But it was always a blast."

The real clincher, for Goodman, was when his father partnered in a $2.9-million Seattle Slew yearling bought at Keeneland July Sale in 1990. As Goodman puts it: "I mean, A.P. Indy was so exciting that I didn't have any choice but to go into the horse business."

On his father's death, in 1996, Goodman inherited five shares in A.P. Indy, by then at stud. For someone who had just bought a storied Bluegrass farm, those comprised an ideal foundation for a breeding program.

"I'd been looking at a bunch of farms," he recalls. "It was a gorgeous day, and I just sat under this big shade tree, looking at it. I mean, the place was really rough. But I was like, 'Man, I just love this piece of land. It's beautiful.' It had those undulations that are so good for the horses, and the soil is classified number one in the county. I think a lot of that was because there hadn't been horses on it for 50, 60 years. It had been just crops and cattle."

Goodman read up the long history of Mt. Brilliant, and was inspired. He read how the original land grant to the Russell family, in recognition of military service, had been signed in 1774 by Thomas Jefferson; how the farm was named for the Virginia estate of Patrick Henry, who had sealed that deal; about the miraculous survival of Kentucky politician and abolitionist Cassius Clay in the duel at Russell Cave in 1845; and about the farm's 20th Century fame under James Ben Ali Haggin.

"And then I wanted to expand a little bit and bought a farm next to us, Faraway, which was where Man o' War was raised," Goodman explains. "And since the 1960s there hadn't been a thing there, not cows, not a crop, nothing. It had even more rolling hills, and it had more of the Elkhorn running through it. So we got more Elkhorn, ended up with a mile and a half. In the old days they would say that there'd never been a Kentucky Derby winner that didn't drink out of that water, and my farms just flow straight down there. I think that's what makes the soil so good. That, and all the limestone deposits." Cont.

Mt. Brilliant Farm | Kevin Cosgriff

Around a decade ago, there was a further expansion into Poplar Hill. Throughout, even if bricks and mortar were not always so scrupulously preserved, the land itself has been treated as sacrosanct. Much of it has been placed into a conservation scheme that prohibits development.

And then came a day when Goodman hosted members of the city council to meet an informal lobby of horse farmers, who were resisting proposals for rural development.

The vice-mayor said to Goodman: "You guys all stay out here on your farms. You never come into town. Y'all never deal with anything unless it's in your backyard, or affecting you."

Goodman looked at him across the table. "Just be careful of what you wish for!" he said.

"And the Fayette Alliance was born that minute," he says. "So for 17 years since we've been fighting as hard as we can to save the farmland. It's a two-sided coin. We look at protecting the rural area, and also making downtown a better place to live. Because this land is a finite resource. We have the best environment in the world for raising horses, and you just don't want to see it destroyed."

This is once again a major battleground, the council having proposed a 5,000-acre urban expansion.

"They brought in 5,000 acres 23 years ago, and still have 2,500 acres of that left," Goodman says. "And besides that, there's about 13,000 blighted, undeveloped and underdeveloped acres already inside the urban service area. Lexington burns about 110 acres a year. So that's over 200 years, at the current burn rate, of available land. You add this 5,000 acres, and it's 250 years. Which would basically be like them planning Lexington, and everything about it, in 1800."

Keeneland Library

Mt. Brilliant Farm bell outside the Man o' War barn | Sarah Andrew

Goodman scoffs at the notion that affordable housing is central to the project. "The big builders that are pushing for this haven't built an affordable house in Lexington, ever," he claims. "So part of our fight is to say, 'Okay, y'all can do it, but we're going to mandate 20% has to be affordable housing.' And would they cry!"

Through the courts, the Alliance is asserting that development can only be recommended, after due analysis, by the planning commission; and that the process needs to start over.

The Alliance recently conducted a survey that showed 77% of the community against expansion, with only 18% in favor. And Goodman stresses that preservation of land for the Thoroughbred industry actually represents its most economically fertile use.

"Creates $3 billion for this county," he says succinctly. "The only thing in town that brings more money to the community is the University of Kentucky and the hospital, combined. And that doesn't include the tourism dollars that we bring in. At least 10% of the community is involved in the horse business. And that's without things like all the lawyers and accountants we need for our businesses."

So far as Mt. Brilliant's own business is concerned, the aspiration is commercial but realistic.

"Well, I never expect to maintain my lifestyle through the horse business," acknowledges Goodman. "But I do treat it like a business. Some years we're profitable, some years we're not. But it wouldn't be as much fun if I wasn't trying to make money, and that's something I will expect to do overall."

"Now that I'm getting older, I want to dive into the racing side a bit more. But, to me, to sell a horse for a lot of money is as exciting as winning a Grade I. The sale really excites me. Keeneland September is my favorite week of the year, as well as the most stressful." Cont.

"You've three years invested before you even bring a horse here. A few months of planning; then you work at getting the mare in foal; 11 months of gestation; 18 months raising the horse. So I love the tactical part of it, the decision-making along the way."

As a rule--though he has made an exception for two Triple Crown winners--he will only use a new stallion if he has bought a share. Why, he asks, should he prove someone else's stallion? And the mare, in his view, contributes at least as much to the equation.

Goodman has repeatedly imported mares from Europe and was especially drawn to the Ballymacoll dispersal in 2017. He coveted Justlookdontouch (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), but had to yield to Peter Brant and instead bought two of her daughters, Abingdon (Street Cry {Ire}) for 1,050,000gns and Superioritycomplex (Ire) (Hard Spun) for 400,000gns--the latter in partnership with his friend Orrin Ingram. And Extra Anejo is her first foal.

"He's just a big, beautiful horse and was always confident," Goodman recalls. "Smart horse, did everything right. He was the man. I think he might still be the man, just nobody knows it yet. He came out of the [GI] Haskell dead lame. They did X-rays, everything, couldn't find anything. And then it turned out he had a deep bone bruise in his foot. So he's having 60 days off."

It was not the colt's first hold-up, as he reportedly had a chip removed after his dazzling debut at Keeneland last fall. As a result, he still has very few miles on the clock.

"Actually, I sat next to Ron Winchell at dinner the other night and he told me that he still has a lot of faith in Extra Anejo," Goodman said. "He thinks he's an incredible horse and he'll be back. I do think that he'll maybe prove the most talented horse we have raised. He's massive, but so smooth. He hits the ground like a cat."

With luck, then, fresh chapters will be added to a saga dating back to a first graded stakes winner, bought as a weanling from his father's estate at the November Sale for just $8,000: a homebred son of Manzotti, Desert Air, who won the GIII Razorback at Oaklawn. The farm has since raised a GI Belmont S. winner in Creator (Tapit), sold as a Keeneland September yearling for $440,000, while Private Mission (Into Mischief) has been another to advertise the nursery with three graded stakes over the past couple of years.

But nothing has been more fulfilling than the growing involvement of Goodman's sons. "I'm so excited that they're in it," he says. "They like the racing as much as I did when I was their age, and they're better horsemen than me. They like the racing side, and I'm ready for that again. I like that we have no raceday medication, and feel ready to compete again."

Even so, life will never be as good as where it's "Brilliant." "I mean, I love just being on my farm," Goodman says with enthusiasm. "The sale and the races get me away from there--and the winter, too! But otherwise, I'd rather be there than anywhere. I don't go out to dinner, go places much. I like to spend the evenings on the porch, just hanging out. I'm crazy, I'll drive around my farm like 10 times a day, just checking everything out.

Everybody that works for me hates that, because I'm like, 'That fence board needs to be fixed.' And they're like, 'What fence board!?'

"I'm from Texas and I'm still a Texan. But I love it here and spend as much time here as I can. It's just a beautiful, beautiful place. I love this community; it has been very welcoming to me and my family over the last 30 years. I moved my kids here when they were young. They grew up here, and then went off to colleges all over the country. But they all came back. My grandchildren are here. It's home now. That's hard for a Texan to say. But it's the truth."

NEW BUYER FOR TURF PARADISE EMERGES, BUT DEAL TO RACE CURRENTLY OUTPACING ARIZONA COMMISSION'S DUE DILIGENCE PROCESS

by T.D. Thornton

The current Turf Paradise owner is courting a new buyer who just emerged last week as a potential savior for keeping racing alive at the state's otherwise-closing cornerstone track.

On Thursday, the Arizona Racing Commission (AZRC) voted to extend Turf Paradise's simulcasting privileges through Nov. 12 while regulators commenced a due diligence vetting process that could greenlight the sale.

The stated goal among stakeholders is to start a race meet in January under new ownership at the Phoenix oval.

The current management announced back on Aug. 1 that the 67-year-old track wouldn't be opening for live racing as scheduled in November.

The principal buyer in the deal was named as Frank Nickens by Arizona Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association (AZHBPA) president Lloyd Yother.

At a different point in the meeting, Turf Paradise general manager Vincent Francia said Nickens hadn't been able to attend the online-only Sept. 28 meeting, so he instead read a prepared statement on Nickens's behalf that Francia said was signed by Richard Moore, the chief executive officer for an entity called Turf Paradise Trust, LLC.

But other than disclosing the names of the principals and their potential buying group, virtually nothing was discussed at the meeting regarding their business or racing backgrounds.

The name of that limited liability company is not currently listed with the Arizona Corporations Commission, although it is possible the deal is coming together so quickly that the registration does not yet appear in the government's database.

"A lot of people have to understand that this guy [just] came forth [Sept. 20]," Yother said. "I do not know Mr. Nickens. I have no connections to Mr. Nickens. And all I can go on is what he discussed with the contract group with the HBPA."

Yother said Nickens met Tuesday with AZHBPA representatives for several hours, then spoke again at an AZHBPA board meeting on Wednesday, at which the horsemen gave the prospective buyer their support to approve temporary simulcast permissions commencing Oct. 1.

That permission from the horsemen is necessary so that Turf Paradise's advance-deposit wagering agreements and 37 off-track betting parlors under won't go dark after Sept. 30 and can still generate purse account money. Cont.

"This all had happened in the last three or four days," Yother said. "But it's the only 'olive branch,' if you will, that we could grab ahold of at this time to keep the OTBs open and running. All we're looking for is someone to run live racing in the state of Arizona and to save the industry."

A planned sale of Turf Paradise to a different buyer, CT Realty, was first made public Apr. 12. At that time, TDN reported that racing was expected to continue there only as a placeholder for several more seasons while new uses for the 67-year-old venue went through the planning, approval, and construction stages.

About a month later, CT Realty announced that it would consider keeping racing going on a longer-term basis if it could successfully lobby the state legislature to approve historical horse racing machines or some other form of gaming at the track.

But on Sept. 18, Jerry Simms, who has owned Turf Paradise for 23 years, made it public that the deal to CT Realty had fallen through, and that the track and its simulcasting outlets would close Sept. 30.

The Nickens-led LLC buying group emerged immediately thereafter, Simms said.

"We've entered into a letter of intent. A purchase contract is being sent [Thursday] morning," Simms said. "I believe the [AZRC on Wednesday] sent him his papers for his licensing and permit," Simms said.

As Francia explained, "The plan is to open a live race meet in early January, and that is what we are all aiming for."

Simms has been on the record since 2020 as saying that Turf Paradise operates at a "huge negative" financially.

Simms said several other potential buyers wanted the 213-acre property after the CT Realty deal blew up, but he underscored that he wants to sell to the Nickens group because that entity wants to keep the sport going instead of redeveloping the track for some other purpose.

"I had several buyers for the track. And I chose the buyer that I signed an agreement and [am] moving ahead with because he plans to run racing," Simms said.

"He's very much an enthusiast; wants to have racing, is not interested in [redevelopment]," Simms said. "I want to save the industry, the jobs. I could have gotten even perhaps more money with one of the other buyers, [but I wanted] to save racing."

In recent years, the relationship between the Arizona racing community and Simms has been acrimonious. An extraordinarily long pandemic closure, multiple racetrack safety issues, and prolonged fights over off-track betting privileges, simulcast signals, and how the horsemen's purse money can be used have roiled in the courts and at racing commission meetings.

"The purchase and sale, he's ready to move ahead," Simms said. "He said he could close in 60 days."

Simms added that if the deal doesn't get done by January, or if the AZRC hasn't completed its vetting process, he would be open to some sort of leasing arrangement that would enable a race meet to begin in 2024 even if the sale isn't official.

"Hopefully the [AZRC] will have enough time to do their due diligence. But the purchase and sale, he's ready to move ahead."

The prepared statement from the Nickens entity that Francia read into the record stated that the new LLC is "working towards the purchase of Turf Paradise racecourse. We plan to keep live racing and to bring this facility into a new era [and continue] horse racing for the benefit of everyone involved. We feel the preservation of such a wonderfully historical facility and the preservation of thousands of jobs horse racing offers can carry the legacy of Turf Paradise on for another 50 years. We plan to completely redevelop the surrounding land, all for the benefit of horse racing. We look forward to a new, bright future for everyone at Turf Paradise."

Beyond the horsemen-vs.-Simms feuding that has hovered over Arizona racing like a dark cloud for years, Turf Paradise and Arizona Downs, 82 miles north in Prescott Valley, have continually been at odds over race dates and the control of simulcasting signals.

Arizona Downs didn't apply for a June-through-September race meet this year because of financial difficulties. It has been mentioned as being up for sale or lease for well over a year, with 1/ST Racing and Gaming often rumored (but never confirmed) to be a potential buyer.

Arizona Downs formerly operated as Yavapai Downs between 2000 and 2010, when the ownership at that time filed for bankruptcy. Cont.

Turf Paradise | Coady

David Auther, a co-owner of Arizona Downs, questioned at Thursday's meeting why Turf Paradise would be getting simulcasting privileges even though its current ownership has stated it wants out of the live racing business.

"We need to consider enforcing the statute that is on the books that says each track gets its signal during its meet, and only during its meet," Auther said.

"Having said that, we congratulate Turf Paradise on finding this buyer," Auther continued, expressing slightly sarcastic incredulity about the prospect of "a guy that nobody knew of a week ago who's going to come in the door and pay hundreds of millions and have a contract in four days."

Added Auther: "I'm sure that somebody's going to vet this. And I have a hunch the vetting won't take very long [and] we'll all know how to proceed here."

TDN phoned Auther after the meeting and left a voicemail asking if he'd elaborate on why he didn't think the Nickens group's vetting process would take long. No callback was received in time for this story.

Nor did Francia, of Turf Paradise, return a message left by TDN asking for details about the deal and the background on who, exactly, the buying group is.

As AZRC chair Chuck Coolidge quipped at one point during Thursday's meeting, "It's not a traditional Arizona Racing Commission meeting without the two tracks going against each other, as always."

APPRENTICE SUSPENDED 30 DAYS FOR 'EXTREMELY CARELESS' RIDING IN DELAWARE RACE THAT CAUSED EQUINE FATALITY by T.D. Thornton

Eighteen-year-old jockey Axel Concepcion, who is Maryland's top apprentice this year, has been suspended 30 days for "extremely careless" riding in a Sept. 21 race at Delaware Park that resulted in the euthanization of a rival horse that had fallen.

The Sept. 28 Delaware stewards' ruling stated that Concepcion failed "to control and guide his mount, Backwoods Boogie (Red Rocks [IRE]), leaving the starting gate, impeding several horses, and causing the horse Trumpence (Eskendereya) to fall, which resulted in a fatal injury to Trumpence. Due to the fallen horse, the race had to be immediately suspended, all horses pulled up, and declared a no contest."

The Paulick Report first broke the news, quoting Concepcion's agent, Tom Stift, as saying the penalty will be reduced to 21 days because the ruling was not appealed.

The Sept. 21 report for race seven submitted by Delaware

Axel Concepcion | Jim McCue

stewards Joelyn Rigione, Robert Colton and William Troilo stated that Trumpence, ridden by Kevin Gomez, "clipped heels past the finish the first time" and that "horse and rider were down and not moving."

The warning lights and siren were activated, and the stewards ordered the outriders to have the jockeys pull up their mounts.

"The gate crew was out on the track also, diverting the field to the outside. Horse was euthanized on the track when he couldn't get up. Jockey Kevin Gomez after some time was able to stand and be escorted to the ambulance," the report stated.

Gomez resumed riding the next afternoon at Delaware, winning with his first mount after the spill.

Trumpence was a 9-year-old gelding trained by Dan Ward and owned in partnership by George Todaro, Robert Blanchard, and Brad's Equine Adventure. He didn't start racing until age five at Will Rogers Downs, but won his first three races there before eventually compiling an 8-4-3 mark from 25 starts while competing at Canterbury, Remington, Sam Houston, Oaklawn, Monmouth and Delaware.

Concepcion turned pro Jan. 1 in his native Puerto Rico. He won 21 races there before earning his first mainland U.S. victory Feb. 19 at Fair Grounds. He shifted his tack to Laurel a week later, and has since been among the leaders at the Laurel Park and Pimlico Race Course meets while also picking up mounts at other mid-Atlantic region tracks.

MASTER OF THE RING: EDDIE ORTIZ

by Sara Gordon

Eddie Ortiz | Sara Gordon

In early August, during the second session of this year's Fasig-Tipton New York-Bred Yearlings Sale, a member of the Hidden Lake Farm consignment's team led a uniquely colored grey Ghostzapper filly into the sale ring and handed her off to the ringman on duty, Eddie Ortiz.

As the auctioneer introduced the filly and bidding ensued, each nervous flick of her ear was met with a reassuring stroke down her neck, along her back and across the underside of her belly. Quiet words were spoken, only heard by Ortiz and the inquisitive yearling listening, until the hammer struck at the final price of $300,000.

For any onlooker, the compassionate interaction between the ringman and the filly in the ring appeared to be unique, but to Ortiz, it's just the norm.

Born and raised in Puerto Rico, he was introduced to horses at an early age and 'officially' started working with them at the age of 10.

"I started going [to the barn] on the weekends and after school, learning how to clean stalls. Then I started hotwalking and after hotwalking, I was a groom for a little bit," he said.

The influence was there from the start, with both his godfather, Johnny Belmonte, and older brother, Eliezer, riding as professional jockeys. As Ortiz's time spent in the barn increased, so did his skill set. A trip to the 1992 G1 Clasico Internacional del Caribe with Puerto Rican contender El Barco (Don Lao) was a particular highlight.

All of these experiences in Puerto Rico eventually led Ortiz outside of it, as he, at the age of 14, migrated to Florida with his brother, first to Miami and later to Ocala.

"I've done a little bit of everything. It's good when you're learning to be around nice horses, like I was in my country, and then to come to the U.S. and learn and be around the best horsemen and best horses, it teaches you a lot," said Ortiz.

Plans of becoming a jockey gave way to working on esteemed farms in Florida's horse country, with time spent at Dr. E.C. Hart's Hart Farm before moving on to Mike Sherman's Farnworth Farm, where he learned how to work with stallions. He was also introduced to the world of 2-year-old sales at Ocala Breeders' Sales Company while working for consignors Jimbo Gladwell of Top Line Sales, Eddie Woods, Ciaran Dunne of Wavertree and others.

Ghostzapper--Scene Maker filly (Hip 410) | Fasig-Tipton

"They are really, really good people, very professional in what they do and really organized. When you work with people like that, who encourage you to do it, it's something that makes you," said Ortiz. "I've been through a lot of horses in life, I've had a lot of good things happen to me, and you just have to take it and be humble."

His traveling continued, eventually bringing Ortiz to Kentucky to work at Three Chimneys Farm, where the stallions Point Given and Dynaformer were standing. While in the Bluegrass state, Ortiz also began working for some of the larger consignors in the area, including Taylor Made Farm and Gainesway.

Ortiz gives a lot of credit to the Taylor Made team for helping to teach him about many important aspects of the sales world, particularly when it came to showing horses.

"I was learning from the best. Taylor Made, to me, are the people that I learned a lot from when looking at a horse. Be prepared, be professional. When sale time comes, they take the time to teach you," said Ortiz. "You cannot say a bad word about any horse in front of anybody, you might be talking to the owner. That's part of the discipline that Taylor Made teaches people. If you don't get along with this horse, you switch. They'll put you with another horse, that way you can get along. Horses are sensitive and you've just got to have good communication with them."

Taylor Made also brought Ortiz to Saratoga Springs, NY., for the first time over 10 years ago. For him, the Fasig-Tipton Saratoga Sale of Selected Yearlings is always a highlight.

"Saratoga is so special. When you've got a nice horse and you've got the right people there, you've got a feeling that horse is going to bring a lot of money. You hang on tight and be prepared because there's going to be some fireworks," said Ortiz. "That's another thing I learned with Taylor Made, how to price horses and get an idea of where you think you'll be."

But it was his trips to Maryland, working for consignors each year at the Midlantic 2-Year-Olds in Training Sale, that took him one step further with Fasig-Tipton.

"Eddie has worked with a lot of different consignors for years and when he would come to the sales, he was the master groomer. He would come up and body clip all of these 2-year-olds. It was amazing what he could do," said Paget Bennett, Fasig-Tipton's Midlantic Sale Director.

Eddie Ortiz | Sara Gordon

It was just a couple years ago, as the sale company was still wading through the murky waters of how to conduct sales during the Covid-19 pandemic, that Bennett asked Ortiz if he had any interest in becoming a member of Fasig-Tipton's team of ringmen. His answer was a resounding yes.

"It wasn't a once and done to get us through the whole Covid time, he comes for every sale," said Bennett. "He's just a good guy. I love how he takes care of his animals, because he always does what's right with his personal horses and he always does what's right by the horses in the ring."

"He gives them a firm hand when it's needed but otherwise, he gives them the benefit of the doubt when trying to reassure them and getting them comfortable being in there with all of that auction banter going back and forth." Cont.

Since Ortiz has joined the team in the sale ring, he has been the prime example of showing what it means to put the horse first. Regardless of the commotion in the sale pavilion, from the auctioneers to the bidders and bystanders, Ortiz has a way of making it seem as though he and the horse he's holding are the only two in the room.

"I cannot do anything better than when I perform with the horses. I know when I need to use my ability to calm them down, to let them know, 'Hey, nothing's going to happen.' I try to be a friend to them, because they're babies, in their brain they're still babies.

That's what some people don't understand. You cannot beat a horse or teach them the wrong habits; you just need to have good communication with them. Let them know that nothing is going to happen," said Ortiz.

Ringmen play a crucial role during a sale, showing the horses to their full potential while also ensuring their safety in the ring. It can be quite the task, especially when handling weanlings or yearlings.

"That's the final step. People have worked so hard prepping them and getting them to that point, so you have to have the right people on them. I think when the handlers remain calm, the horse doesn't sense nervousness with them, and then they're like 'Okay, we've got this,'" said Bennett.

When asked if there was any particular horse that has been a highlight during his time as a ringman, Ortiz was unabashedly honest in his response.

"I had the pleasure of holding Shedaresthedevil when she sold for $5 million. But the way I look at it, all of the horses have the same value. I treat them the same. I love them the same," he said. "You can hold a $5-million horse, a $30,000 horse, a $5,000 horse, and by the time everything goes the right way and they're ready to go in the gate, maybe the $5,000 horse will be the Kentucky Derby winner. What I've learned in life is that it's not the price in the book that guarantees they're going to be the super horse."

Just as his late brother influenced him, Ortiz shares his love of horses and the industry with his wife of 18 years, Waya, and they've both passed it on to their children. Of their five kids, their oldest daughters Maria Cardenas and Amy Molina work as grooms at the sales, while their youngest son William follows in the footsteps of his late brother, Alexi.

Ortiz's eldest son, a groom and ringman at the sales alongside his father, passed away two years ago at the age of 20.

"I've been through a lot of stuff in the last two years. Losing my son, that hit me really hard, but I have to keep going. My 14-year-old boy has been riding and working with horses since he was a little kid. He ponies my horses and does all the work too. I'm just waiting for him to be 18 so he can be the next 'Eddie Ortiz.' He's really good, always willing, he's got a good head on him and good ability," said Ortiz. "I love to help people and teach people, encouraging them to do it the right way. This is a hell of a sport, this is so important, and you've got to love it."

Outside of his own children, Ortiz was there to help his nephew Edwin Gonzalez achieve his dream of becoming a jockey. Now a multiple stakes-winning jockey in both his native Puerto Rico and the United States, Gonzalez has won 1,753 races through Sept. 26 and currently ranks second in the jockey standings at the current Gulfstream Park meet.

To top it all off, Ortiz has his own pinhooking business, buying one or two yearlings each year and reselling them as 2-year-olds.

"My favorite place to sell horses is Maryland. I love to go to Maryland for the May sale. [In 2019], I sold a filly by Tapit that I [originally] paid $7,500 for, and we got $145,000. In the past year, I sold a couple of horses for $80,000, $90,000. I don't spend a lot but as long as I can double my money, I'm good," he said.

Every day of Ortiz's life, the horses come first, on a professional and personal level. Though it's impossible to have an exact count of the horses that have passed through his hands, on the track, at the farm, in the sale ring and everywhere in between, the impact each one has left on Ortiz is evident.

"I body clipped [Maple Leaf Mel] for Robert Brewer. She was in Maryland [at the 2022 Fasig-Tipton Midlantic May Sale]. I've been working for Robert for a long time and I've been fond of that filly since she started. I was there when she went down [during the GI Test]. When that happened, I wanted to run to the track. I started crying because I had a little memory with her," said Ortiz. "When you hold a horse, you don't know if that horse is going to be the best horse in the country. You go through a lot of horses and they're all good memories. You want to be part of something and that's how I feel, I want to be part of it." Cont.

Tapit--Plenty O'Toole (Hip 129) | Fasig-Tipton

Though some may call it a labor of love, for Ortiz, it's just a love. A love for the horses, the people behind them and the industry that encompasses them all.

"I would not be the man I am if it wasn't for my mentors and friends: Gilberto Laiz, Richard Curtin, Bill Recio, Gordon Reiss, Andre Elba, David McKathan, Jesse Hoppel, Omar Ramirez, and lastly, the main man that without him I would be nothing, [my brother] Eliezer. I would also like to thank my wife for always being there and helping my business grow," said Ortiz. "I've got my little farm, I'm living the American dream, that's all I can say. I live well, I take care of my family in the right way, and I have the best support in the horse business.

"I'm not looking for the money. If I can help somebody, I will, because I love the horses more than I love my life. If you don't love the animal, you're in the wrong business."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

BREEDERS NEED TO 'LOOK WITHIN' AS WELL

I read with much interest the recent article involving the interview with John Sikura from Hill 'n' Dale farm. I happen to agree with some of his points, especially that fixing many of the issues currently present in racing will require the combined sacrifice and agreement of many facets of the racing industry.

However, what struck me the most in this article was that, once again, a member of the breeding community in racing does not seem to think anything with their own business needs to change. From a business model perspective of course, this makes sense. It is no secret that people today are breeding more to sell than to race, and huge stud fees and stud deals are driving many top horses to what would be considered by most early retirements from racing. Looking at it from an overall health of the breed now and going forward perspective, however, gives one pause to think if this really is the best for the breed and sport in the long term. Mr. Sikura touched on this aspect a little when he made an analogy using a family that acquires a German Shepherd and if that breeder should be considered immoral or not knowing that the dog likely will have medical issues in life.

Yes, German Shepherds are prone to hip dysplasia, and a lot of them end up having quite serious issues because of it. However, the reason that the issue has gotten worse over time and not better is because the desire of the dogs to look a certain way now to fit the "breed standard" that judges in shows seem to think makes a "champion dog." So, the breeders are looking for those genetics to breed what they feel is the "best specimen" from a look's standpoint but not necessarily from a medical or health standpoint. It is the same with other breeds of dog such as bulldogs. If the breed standard changed to go back to dogs that both looked good and had solid health behind them, you wouldn't have the same number of issues with them you do today (Heck...in Britain vets have suggested severely curtailing and even banning the breeding of bulldogs and pugs because of how horrible their health has become all in search for meeting the "breed standard").

So, to answer his question of "do you blame the breeder?" Well...in some instances...yeah...you do. It may not be every single breeder of German Shepherds, but certainly some will breed poorly in search of meeting market demand. If judges at shows and breed registries were able to get what they considered the "breed standard" to be changed to a healthier dog overall (something that really boggles the mind of us small animal vets who see the horrors that their idea of a "breed standard" brings into this world), then the breeders would adjust their genetics accordingly. Not too much different than what we are seeing in racing these days in the U.S. Instead of looking to get the "Best in Show" award, though, it is about having the fastest and most precocious horse in hopes of winning early and cashing in. Durability appears an afterthought.

Looks and precocity sell in today's yearling market. Everyone knows that. Most also know that corrective surgeries and other alterations are done to some foals to hide or correct faults that may be present after birth. When you breed to fit a specific demand or need, there are going to be unwanted other results in the breed one cannot avoid. One really can't fault breeders, per se, if they are merely providing what the market is demanding right now. However, at what point do breeders have to start looking at what is best for the healthy continuation of the sport we all love even if that means a temporary loss of major profits? Cont.

At what point does doing the morally correct thing for the horse outweigh the need to have the highest-priced yearlings or 2-year-olds that may look great in the ring and/or run a 10 second 1/8th of a mile, but whose bodies can't stand even the most basic rigors of training and racing past one season?

Just as one can't paint the entire dog breeding world with the same wide brush, this is not a condemnation of the entire Thoroughbred breeding industry. Just as there have been cries for the racing industry to do better policing itself before having to resort to the oversight of HISA, there needs to be better self-policing or oversight of some kind in the breeding industry for Thoroughbreds.

Many, I'm sure, will say I have absolutely no idea what I am talking about. To an extent they may be correct. What I do know, though, is that Mr. Sikura is right in that in order to get real change then everyone will need to make some sacrifices in the name of progress, and that includes breeders. Those sacrifices need to come now, and not for the next generation of racing folks to have to worry about, because there might not be a real next generation.

POSITIVE NUMBERS FOR 2023 CTHS ALBERTA THOROUGHBRED SALE

The Alberta Sale, held at Westerner Park in Red Deer on Friday, Sept. 22, reflected positive increases across all benchmarks, the Canadian Thoroughbred Horse Society said in a press release Thursday.

Over $600,000 in gross sales was recorded to purchase 43 yearlings this year, compared to $443,600 on 40 yearlings the year prior. The average price was up 27% to $14,135 from $11,090 in 2022. The median increased over twofold to $10,000, from $4,750 in 2022.

The sale topper was a Counterforce gelding out of the Katowice mare Chilli Chines, consigned by agent Highfield Investment Group and selling for $46,000 to purchaser, Curtis Landry.

CTHS Alberta Manager Jean Kruse said, "With the CTHS Alberta investing in programs for breeders, it's obviously had a positive impact on our sale. Purchasers and consignors have a far more optimistic outlook this year."

AWESOME START TO SANTA ANITA'S AUTUMN MEET

Defunded winning last year's Awesome Again | Benoit

by Christina Bossinakis

Santa Anita kicks off its Autumn meet in style this weekend, highlighted by eight graded stakes, including Saturday's GI Awesome Again S., a Breeders' Cup 'Win and You're In' for the Nov. 4 Classic.

As is his custom, trainer Bob Baffert is armed with a slew of Classic prospects, however, he confirmed last week that one of the early Classic favorites--GI Pacific Classic scorer Arabian Knight (Uncle Mo)--would bypass this local Breeders' Cup Classic prep. Also missing this weekend's lineup, GI Haskell Invitational winner Geaux Rocket Ride (Candy Ride {Arg}) is expected to train straight up to the Classic, as will GI Whitney S. victor White Abarrio (Race Day).

However, despite Arabian Knight's absence, Baffert, who has won this race five times since the re-naming of the Goodwood in 2012, once again looms large, unleashing a pair of Grade I winners--defending champ Defunded (Dialed In) and National Treasure (Quality Road), winner of this season's GI Preakness S.

Defunded has shown a strong affinity for the Great Race Place, having won there in five of nine starts, including victories in this season's GII Californian and GI Gold Cup.

Fourth behind Senor Buscador (Mineshaft) in the GII San Diego H. at Del Mar, Defunded finished sixth behind stablemate Arabian Knight (Uncle Mo) in the 10-furlong Pacific Classic Sept. 2. The 5-year-old appears likely to be kept company on the front end early by Classic winner National Treasure, who, along with MGISP Skinner (Curlin), is one of only two sophomores in the field.

Runner-up in the GI American Pharoah S. at this venue last fall, National Treasure rounded out the season with a third in the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile at Keeneland in November. Third in the GIII Sham S. in January and fourth in the Apr. 8 GI Santa Anita Derby, the colt went to the front early and remained tough late to head the ultra-game Blazing Sevens (Good Magic) in the second jewel of the Triple Crown. Wilting to sixth while stretching to 12 furlongs for the GI Belmont June 10, the bay never got into the mix of things--in while in absence of blinkers--in the GI Travers S. over 10 furlongs Aug. 26. In a rider's edition of musical chairs, Juan Hernandez replaces Hall of Fame jockey John Velazquez aboard the Classic winner, while Edwin Maldonado gets the call on Defunded Saturday.

Sporting some solid credentials himself, Slow Down Andy (Nyquist) offered a good showing last time out when third, beaten 1 1/2 lengths, by Arabian Knight and runner-up Geaux Rocket Ride, in the Pacific Classic. He was previously second in the 8 1/2-furlong GII San Diego H. at Del Mar July 29 and sixth in the GI Met Mile earlier in June. Victorious in last season's GIII Sunland Derby and the grassy GII Del Mar Derby, the Doug O'Neill trainee rounded out 2022 with a third behind Cody's Wish (Curlin) in the Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile at Keeneland Nov. 5.

Also attempting to get back into the winner's circle Saturday, Stilleto Boy (Shackleford) recorded his biggest career score in the GI Santa Anita H. over 1 1/4 miles in March before coming up a head short while cutting back to nine panels in the GII Oaklawn H. the following month. Tiring to sixth in a rerouted renewal of the GI Stephen Foster S. contested at Ellis July 1, the gelding was eased after a problematic start last time out in the Pacific Classic and will try to rebound in this cut back. Trained by Ed Moger, the $420,000 Fasig-Tipton Horses in Training graduate, a winner of last season's GII Californian over this track and trip, has hit the board in six of seven starts at Santa Anita.

#1 Senor Buscador 5-1

(h, 5, Mineshaft--Rose's Desert, by Desert God)

O-Joe R. Peacock Jr. | B-Joe R. Peacock Sr. & Joe R. Peacock Jr. (KY) | T-Todd Fincher | J-Geovanni Franco

Lifetime Record: MGSW, 13-6-0-1, $727,427.

Senor Buscador | Benoit

PROS:

With a Spanish name that translates to Mr. Prospector, the dam sire of Mineshaft, this 5-year-old is one of Todd Fincher's all-time favorite members of his shedrow. The New Mexico-based trainer has spent the better part of his career in that part of the country. It wasn't until Covid-19 hit that he had to seek races outside of the state when tracks completely shutdown. His then-2-year-old colt traveled to Remington Park for the Springboard Mile and Senor Buscador put on a show by coming from out of the clouds. After trying everything from sprints to deeper routes, his major weapon is still that big kick of his. If he gets enough pace to run into, coming from off of it is feasible, as we saw in last year's GIII Ack Ack S. at Churchill Downs or this past July in the GII San Diego H. at Del Mar.

CONS: As Senor Buscador has continued to mature, his greatest asset is also still his greatest weakness--being pace compromised. If he leaves himself too much work to do, then the task is just too arduous, especially when he is facing a challenging field. When he earned a spot in the GI Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile at Keeneland last November, he just was all worked up before the race and clearly never settled into a rhythm when the bell went off. Jockey Geovanni Franco's mission is to not let his mount fall too far behind.

PEDIGREE:

The sire of 17 crops of racing age, the deeply respected Mineshaft has 60 stakes winners. Senor Buscador is out of Rose's Desert (Desert God), a multiple-stakes winning mare in her home state of New Mexico. She was bred and owned by the late Joe Peacock Sr., whose son Joey has continued his father's legacy. In 2015, Rose's Desert first produced GIII Sunland Derby hero Runaway Ghost (Ghostzapper). She is also responsible for MSW Sheriff Brown (Curlin) and SW Our Iris Rose (Ghostzapper).

VERDICT:

A sentimental favorite, but one I still believe in because of his moxie. He's faced a couple of nagging injuries and always comes back stronger. Being pace compromised here isn't a worry. Plus, the right set up here could bode well for him, as I am sure Fincher and Peacock are hoping that some Breeders' Cup redemption is in order. --J.N. Campbell

#2 Defunded 2-1

(g, 5, Dialed In--Wind Caper, by Touch Gold) ($210,000 yrl '19 KEESEP)

O-Michael Pegram, Karl Watson & Paul Weitman | B-Athens Woods, LLC (KY) | T-Bob Baffert | J-Edwin Maldonado

Lifetime Record: MGSW, 19-7-4-2, $1,606,600.

Defunded | Benoit

PROS:

For this 5-year-old, his speed is his weapon. With two glaring exceptions over his 19-race career, he has proven that he absolutely needs to be either setting the pace or sitting just behind it within about a half-length for the first half-mile. His last two sub-par finishes without getting anywhere near the front in the GI San Diego H. and GI Pacific Classic this summer serving as cases in point. He returns to his and his Hall of Fame trainer's home base of Santa Anita, where he's logged five of his seven career wins, including last year's edition of this race. He typically earns triple-digit speed figures, which he'll need to do again to compete with his chief rivals here, and he's been racing with and against and occasionally defeating some of the best of the handicap division--mostly on the West Coast--for the past two seasons. Jockey Edwin Maldonado returns the saddle, a position the California-based rider was in when he guided the son of Dialed In to win this race a year ago. The chestnut drew a good post, especially considering that all other speedy types are to his outside, so a good break may be all he needs to make the front and establish the pace he wants. He has an impressive bullet half-mile work in :47 flat over the surface heading into this race and hasn't missed a beat all year, so there's little doubt he's fit for the challenge here.

CONS:

If he doesn't make the front, or establish his early position for the first half-mile, it will be tough to expect him to earn the win. He's also been off form in his last two, not getting his preferred trip aside, which certainly could make one wonder if maybe he's lost a step. He also carries top weight of 126 pounds, giving from two to four pounds to a very strong field set to line up next to him.

PEDIGREE:

With more than $1.6 million in earnings, Defunded is one of Dialed In's leading runners to date, though the 2011 GI Florida Derby winner has sired a number of other exceptional runners, including GI Arkansas Derby winner Super Stock and MGSW Gunnevera, who banked more than $5.5 million. Defunded is the most successful foal from his stakes-winning dam, who is a daughter of Classic winner Touch Gold. One of the more notable names in his female family is GI Travers S. winner Code of Honor (Noble Mission {GB}). As he showed a year ago, the nine-furlong distance of this race is no problem for him.

VERDICT:

On his home track with a good post and top connections, it's easy to see why he's the morning-line favorite and if he gets his preferred trip, he will be tough to beat. --Margaret Ransom

#3 Slow Down Andy 5-2

(c, 4, Nyquist--Edwina E, by Square Eddie)

O/B-Reddam Racing, LLC (CA) | T-Doug O'Neill | J-Mario Gutierrez

Lifetime Record: MGSW & MGISP, 13-4-4-3, $1,096,600.

Slow Down Andy | Benoit

PROS:

This Paul Reddam homebred always is a hard trier and ultra consistent no matter what's thrown at him, as evidenced by only two off-the-board finishes in his 13-race career. He's also pretty versatile when it comes to trip, having won in wire-to-wire fashion and from just behind the early speed, so his best effort isn't always dependent on controlling the pace. His most notable victory was in his only career start on the turf in last year's GII Del Mar Derby at this distance, so he clearly won't have a ton of trouble getting the nine furlongs. The colt's third-place finish in the GI Pacific Classic last out was better than it looks on paper. He overcame being rank early and a somewhat wide performance from farther back than he probably preferred and put forth a strong challenge to eventual winner Arabian Knight (Uncle Mo) and only faltered late in the lane to finish third. His overall speed figures indicate that he belongs here, especially if he puts forth an effort similar to the one that earned him a third-place finish behind fan favorite and MGISW Cody's Wish (Curlin) in the GI Big Ass Fans Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile last year, and if he runs his best he figures to at the very least hit the board.

CONS:

While this chestnut Cal-bred is super consistent, he doesn't like to win as much as he should compared to some of his chief rivals, and even then his wins haven't really been against the best in the older handicap division. And though he's been a decent dirt runner, arguably his best career effort has come over the turf at Del Mar, leaving one to wonder if maybe his future as a Grade I winner is going to happen on the turf.

PEDIGREE:

The son of GI Kentucky Derby winner Nyquist certainly has the sire power, especially in the distance category, and, in fact, owns a pair of nine-furlong wins, including the grassy Del Mar Derby and GIII Sunland Derby last year. His dam, who failed to win in two starts, is a daughter of the Smart Strike stallion Square Eddie, who did his best running overall around two turns, so there certainly is distance on the bottom, too. The most notable names in his female family are GISW Cara Rafaela (Quiet American), the dam of champion, Classic winner and leading sire Bernardini (A.P. Indy); and GI Santa Anita Oaks winner Ile de France (Storm Cat).

VERDICT:

It's difficult to not root for this hard-trying colt, and at one point in his last race, it almost looked as if he could pull off the win. While it's hard to expect a victory against a top-tier field judging only by the fact he has yet to pull off a win like this, he's been training very well since his last and has proven his best effort at least picks him up a larger share of the purse.

--Margaret Ransom

#4 Skinner 8-1

(c, 3, Curlin--Winding Way, by Malibu Moon) ($40,000 yrl '21 KESEEP; $510,000 2yo '22 OBSAPR)
 O-C R K Stable LLC | B-Stonestreet Thoroughbred Holdings LLC (KY) | T- John A. Shirreffs | J-Mike E. Smith
 Lifetime Record: MGISP, 8-1-1-3, $261,300.

Skinner | Benoit

PROS:

Returns to his favorite racetrack here, the site of his very impressive maiden win while making his sophomore debut in February and the best performance of his career to date, albeit in defeat, finishing a rallying third in the GI Runhappy Santa Anita Derby. A replay of the latter, beaten just a half-length by Practical Move (Practical Joke) and good for a career-best 99 Beyer Speed Figure, makes him a major player. Stretch runner could be sitting on a top effort at a price while making his third start of the current form cycle. Trainer John Shirreffs and Mike Smith teamed up to win this race with Tiago back in 2007, then contested as the Goodwood.

CONS:

Forced to scratch out of the GI Kentucky Derby due to an elevated temperature, Skinner hasn't taken the necessary step forward in two subsequent attempts since his aforementioned big third-place finish in the Santa Anita Derby. His lack of early speed/relying on a hot early pace is never a good recipe for success and he turns back in distance to 1 1/8 miles after finishing a punchless fifth in his first try versus older horses in the GI Fanduel Pacific Classic S. Despite being Grade I placed at both two and three, Skinner only has a maiden win to his credit and is still eligible for a first-level allowance.

PEDIGREE:

Skinner, a $40,000 KESEEP yearling turned $510,000 OBSAPR breezer, is a son of two-time Horse of the Year Curlin, the sire of 22 Grade I winners. Bred in Kentucky by Stonestreet Thoroughbred Holdings, he is out of 2012 GIII Rancho Bernardo H. winner Winding Way. The full-sister to MGSW & GISP Kauai Katie brought $82,000 from Solis/Litt in foal to Maclean's Music at the 2021 KEENOV sale. Winding Way's 2-year-old filly by Union Rags brought $375,000 from Parks Investment at this year's OBS March sale. Skinner is bred on the same Curlin x Malibu Moon cross responsible for champion 3-year-old filly Stellar Wind. The wildly successful Curlin x A. P. Indy (sire of Malibu Moon) pairing has produced standouts such as Malathaat, Nest, Global Campaign, Idol, et al.

VERDICT:

Have been one of Skinner's biggest fans since including him in our 'Second Chances' series last summer. The talent is there and we still haven't seen the best of him yet. Ignore at your own risk at a healthy number. --Steve Sherack

#5 Bye Bye Bobby 15-1

(c, 4, Quality Road--Revel in the Win, by Red Bullet) ($870,000 Ylg '20 KEESEP)
O-B-4 Farms | B-Stonestreet Thoroughbred Holdings LLC (KY) | T-Todd W. Fincher | J-Drayden Van Dyke
Lifetime Record: MSW & MGSP, 15-5-4-2, $398,852.

Bye Bye Bobby | Coady

PROS:

Consistency is key, and of his seven starts in 2023, Bye Bye Bobby has been the picture of the word--missing the board only once in his seasonal bow after winter break, and showing up particularly well in his step up to the big leagues. The ghost from New Mexico consistently picks up black-type in his home state via Sunland and Zia Park, but ran a hard-knocking third in an attritional edition of the GIII Cougar II against runners who live on the Southern California circuit. He went from the marathon distances to a prolonged sprint last out in the GII Pat O'Brien S., closing from last to miss by just 3/4 of a length. He's consistently punched above his weight class and takes on everyone who enters. Frankly, it's a fool's errand to believe it'll be any different now.

CONS:

While his Beyers have steadily been improving--others in this field enter on a downward slide--he would need to take another pretty big step up for him to win. His career-best figure came last out in that Pat O'Brien effort where he was given an 89, which is only a handful of points higher than some of the new faces coming into graded company for the first time. In addition to the Bob Baffert-trained duo of defending Awesome Again winner Defunded (Dialed In) and GI Preakness S. winner National Treasure (Quality Road), Bye Bye Bobby will have his own stablemate Senor Buscador (Mineshaft) to worry about. The two share running styles, and his stablemate is armed with a 101 Beyer two back as well as a 98 last out in the GI Pacific Classic.

PEDIGREE:

Bred to the teeth and hailing from the venerable Stonestreet operation, Bye Bye Bobby was a princely $870,000 Keeneland September acquisition in 2020, undoubtedly helped by the busy line beneath the second dam, MGSP Icy Warning. His dam Revel in the Win was placed in her time on the track, but is a half-sister to MSW Snow Cone, who produced GSW Salute With Honor (To Honor and Serve); GSP Devotion Unbridled, dam of GSW Unbridled Humor (Distorted Humor) and granddam to three stakes runners through that daughter and GISW Win Win Win (Hat Trick {Jpn}) through another; and the list continues. Bye Bye Bobby himself is a half to GSW Poker Player (Harlan's Holiday) as well as that one's full-sibling SP Coleman Rocky and MSP War Treaty (Scat Daddy).

VERDICT:

It's going to be another race where he'll be on the outside looking in, but he's anything if not game, and it wouldn't surprise me to see another huge effort from this guy. --Patrycja Szpyra

 Lifetime Record: 7-3-0-1, $161,680.

Celestial Moon at the 2023 Fasig-Tipton July Horses of Racing Age Sale
Fasig-Tipton

PEDIGREE:

By the late Spendthrift stalwart Malibu Moon, Celestial Moon is out of Gill Las Flores S. third Global Hottie, the dam of three winners from four to race though none have been stakes winners. She did, however, produce a $500,000 EASMAY 2-year-old in Natalie Would (Into Mischief). Second dam Sonora Desert (Desert God) earned a pair of stakes wins at Turf Paradise but had arguably better luck in the paddocks when going nine-for-nine runners to winners. You have to squint all the way back to the fourth dam to find Horse of the Year Alysheba (Alydar).

VERDICT:

The stars would need to align for Celestial Moon to make any sort of late impact, but it's racing and stranger things have happened. --Stefanie Grimm

PROS:

In his first start with trainer Mark Glatt after switching hands for $145,000 at FTKHRA, Celestial Moon overcame a slow beginning and picked up a nice win facing allowance/optional claimers at Del Mar Sept. 3. Having raced exclusively on the New York circuit for prior connections, the 4-year-old picked up a pair of wins at Aqueduct over the off going. Each of his three wins came in a different style and that versatility could come in handy as he makes a huge jump up in class.

CONS:

This is a tough spot to make a stakes debut while facing some of the best of the older-horse division. There are also stamina concerns as his only prior start at this 1 1/8-mile distance resulted in a speed-and-fade fourth back at Aqueduct Apr. 6. His best races have come over good to sloppy tracks and he's not likely to get that at Santa Anita.

#7 National Treasure 4-1

(c, 3, Quality Road--Treasure, by Medaglia d'Oro) ($500,000 yrl '21 FTSAUG)

O-SF Racing LLC, Starlight Racing, Madaket Stables LLC, Robert Masterson, Stonestreet Stables LLC, Jay Schoenfarber, Waves Edge Capital LLC & Catherine Donovan | B-Peter Blum Thoroughbreds LLC (KY) | T-Bob Baffert | J-Juan Hernandez

Lifetime Record: GISW, 8-2-1-2, $1,415,000.

National Treasure winning the Preakness | Horsephotos

PROS:

Coming into Santa Anita's feature for the Classic division, National Treasure has several things going for him. Chief among them, the 3-year-old is trained by Hall of Famer Bob Baffert, who has won the race five times since it was renamed in 2012. Holding the distinction of being the only Classic winner in the field after winning the GI Preakness S. at Pimlico in May, the colt has proven consistent at a similar distance, having hit the board in five out of six lifetime attempts going less than 1 1/4 miles. Armed with both tactical speed and versatility, he has shown the ability to go to the front, as he did when wiring the Preakness, or just settling off the pace if it gets a bit too hot up front. Getting blinkers back on here after not showing his best early foot last time out, expect him to be gunning for the lead straight off the blocks.

Listen to the TDN  podcast on Apple Podcasts and Spotify Podcasts.

CONS:

National Treasure will be facing older horses for the first time, including defending champ and stablemate Defunded (Dialed In). Registering his only tally this term when winning the 9 1/2-furlong Classic, he was well beaten in his two most recent starts in the GI Belmont S., finishing sixth by 7 1/4 lengths, and in the GI Travers S., where he was 9 3/4 lengths back in fifth. Having been accompanied by Hall of Famer John Velazquez in all but one of his previous starts, he will be piloted by Juan Hernandez for the first time Saturday. However, whether the lack of experience with the colt proves to be a plus or a minus remains to be seen as Hernandez also served as the regular rider of Defunded for much of this season, notably winning the GI Gold Cup and GII Californian with the 5-year-old.

PEDIGREE:

In terms of quality and an appreciation of the distance, very few pages stack up as well as does that of National Treasure. On the track, the colt's sire, Quality Road, annexed four Grade I wins over three seasons. Despite showing remarkable consistency throughout his own racing career, the son of Elusive Quality appeared to find the 10-furlong Classic distance a touch too far, his sweet spot seemed to fall between eight to nine furlongs. National Treasure's dam, Treasure, is out of SP Proposal (Mt. Livermore), herself a daughter of Lady of Choice (Storm Bird), a half-sister to Grade I winner Well Chosen who also counts MGSW Multiple Choice--who did most of his best running at distances at about a mile or less--as one of her offspring. From 10 foals to race, Proposal has produced seven winners, including the grass-loving sprinter and multiple stakes scorer Inspired (Unbridled's Song), in addition to SWs Silver City (Unbridled's Song), Elope (Gone West) and Initiation (Deputy Minister).

VERDICT:

Sporting a page that appears a bit grassy and slanted toward eight to nine furlongs, National Treasure has already proven his mettle on the dirt and his record would also suggest that getting back to 1 1/8 miles might prove to be one of the keys to getting the colt back into the winner's circle. The question remains, will Defunded join him on the front end early and can the Classic winner sustain the kind of early splits that his stablemate is known for throwing down. --Christina Bossinakis

#8 Piroli 12-1

(g, 4, Battle of Midway--Phonybooksrecords, by Tapit)
 O/B-Don Alberto Stable (KY) | T-Michael W. McCarthy | J-Umberto Rispoli
 Lifetime Record: GISP, 15-3-4-2, $237,800.

Piroli | Benoit

PROS:

Even though Piroli was well-beaten earlier this month in the GI Fanduel Pacific Classic at Del Mar, the bay gelding gained valuable experience running in such a competitive race. The homebred will need it, but he proved he has ability when he ran second by a length to Defunded (Dialed In)--who he will see again here--in the GI Gold Cup S. at Santa Anita back in late May. After the Michael McCarthy trainee broke his maiden at Golden Gate in January, he put together some nice performances going a mile against optional claimers at the Great Race Place over the spring that should not be overlooked.

CONS:

Even though Umberto Rispoli has never ridden Piroli, that isn't the biggest challenge that the Don Alberto homebred will face in the Awesome Again. The main question is, can the 4-year-old gelding muster enough speed? He ran a 98 Beyer Figure in the Gold Cup, but he regressed in late July at Del Mar against optional claimers and finished fourth. One has to think that he will need to harness more this time around.

PEDIGREE:

GI Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile surprise Battle of Midway sired a single crop (2018) which produced only five foals, four to race, before his subsequent return to the track. Sadly, he was euthanized the following year after a training accident. Piroli's dam is a half-sister to versatile GI Cigar Mile and GII Risen Star S. runner-up Snapper Sinclair (City Zip). Her last record of produce is a yearling filly by Outwork.

VERDICT:

Piroli is going to be a big price here and maybe the best hope is that Rispoli can take up a position just off the speed. Other options appear much more enticing. --J.N. Campbell

#9 Stilleto Boy 6-1

(g, 5, Shackleford--Rosie's Ransom, by Marquetry) ($420,000 HRA '21 FTKHRA)
 O-Steve Moger | B-John & Iveta Kerber (KY) | T-Ed Moger, Jr. | J-Kent J. Desormeaux
 Lifetime Record: GISW, 24-4-4-9, $1,816,675.

Stilleto Boy (4) in a wild Big Cap finish over Defunded (rail) | Benoit

PROS:

Stilleto Boy is almost a part of the Grade I furniture he's shown up in the ranks so often in Southern California, but the faith is frequently rewarded with minor accolades or a victory, as it was in a blanket finish earlier this season in the GI Santa Anita H. Narrowly beating a hard-charging GISW Proxy (Tapit) and an equally game MGSW Defunded (Dialed In)--who he sees once again in this line up--Stilleto Boy doesn't know how to quit when he's on his game, and he'll factor to be close to the pace in this contest, if not stalking it.

Having hit the board in major races all year this season, the gelded son of Shackleford is largely just looking to continue showing the class and quality he always has, and perhaps score a larger share of the pie this time around. His career-best Beyer of 108 last year and his recent 103 in the GII Oaklawn H. behind Proxy and MGSW Last Samurai (Malibu Moon) put him squarely in the mix.

CONS:

There's always a big question mark which appears after a race where a horse doesn't finish and seeing a traditional frontrunner in dead last the entire trip only to be eased and walked off--as what happened in the GI Pacific Classic--is a concern here. Stilleto Boy is on the board a lot, but is only one-for-five in 2023, including a fading sixth two back in the GI Stephen Foster.

PEDIGREE:

A son of the Classic-winning Shackleford and a winning Marquetry mare, Stilleto Boy has shown great affinity for the longer distances and is thusly crowned as his dam's most accomplished runner, though not the one who has visited the winner's circle most often. That title belongs to his half-sister Rosie My Rosie (Purge), a stakes-winner turned producer who got 12 pictures taken in her career and who is already the dam of a winning 3-year-old. All eight of his siblings are multiple winners, in fact, and at least one other Condo Closing (Offlee Wild) has picked up black-type.

VERDICT:

Hopefully whatever ailed him in the Pacific Classic has been resolved, and if the Stilleto Boy we've all come to expect shows up, then he'll be standing in the winner's circle once again.
 --Patrycja Szpyra

FRIDAY'S RACING INSIGHTS:

by Stefanie Grimm

The half-brother to MGISW Cody's Wish returns Friday | Sarah Andrew

STRONG FIELD OF SECOND-TIME STARTERS TACKLE AQUEDUCT

6th-BAQ, $90K, Msw, 2yo, 1m, 3:36 p.m.

One of only a pair of first-time starters in the field, DIGITAL OPS (Nyquist) is the second foal out of MSW/GISP Flora Dora (First Dude). Picked up on a final bid of $600,000 at this Spring's OBS March sale, the colt is a half-brother to 'TDN Rising Star' Spun Intended (Hard Spun).

Drawn outside is fellow first timer and stablemate Unique Insight (Gun Runner). This one, a $360,000 Fasig-Tipton October pickup by Klaravich Stables, is a half to runaway Albany S. winner Drake's Passage (Tonalist).

To graduate, that pair will have to face a trio of salty second-time starters paced by the half-brother to Cody's Wish (Curlin) in Hunt Ball (Into Mischief). The Bill Mott trainee and Godolphin homebred stayed on to be second in his Saratoga debut Aug. 19 behind next-out GIII Iroquois S. runner up Risk It (Gun Runner).

Enlighten (City of Light), a $450,000 yearling, finished the best of the debuting runners in his own Saratoga race Sept. 2 but was ultimately fourth through a speedy seven furlongs.

Arguably the best-bred colt of the bunch, Pentathlon (Speightstown) adds blinkers for his second start after managing sixth behind Just Steel (Justify) and 'TDN Rising Star' Locked (Gun Runner) at the Spa Aug. 5. The Phipps Stable-bred counts MGISW My Flag as his third dam with family members such as champion 2-year-old filly Storm Flag Flying (Storm Cat). TJCIS PPS

IN ORDER OF PURSE:

4th-Belmont The Big A, $100,000, Alw, 9-28, (NW1$X), 3yo/up, 1m, 1:36.11, ft, 1 1/2 lengths.

SET SAIL (g, 4, Malibu Moon--Fleet of Gold {SP, $109,892}, by Medaglia d'Oro) came back after over a year off to hit the board in both of his Saratoga starts earlier through the summer meeting for trainer Bill Mott. Making his Aqueduct debut after a best-of-56 bullet work at the Spa Sept. 17, the 2-1 choice was in contention early while racing widest of a trio battling for the lead. Still caught out around the turn, he was able to power ahead to claim the front inside the final furlong and put separation on Fromanothamutha (Unified) to the wire to win by 1 1/2 lengths. Out of a daughter of champion older mare and $3.9m Keeneland November RNA Fleet Indian, Set Sail is also out of a half-sister to the dam of champion 2-year-old colt Game Winner (Candy Ride {Arg}) and GISW Flagstaff (Speightstown). Fleet of Gold reported a yearling filly by Speightstown and has a weanling Charlatan filly. She was bred back to Army Mule for next year. Lifetime Record: 7-2-1-3, $151,240. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by FanDuel TV. O/B-LNJ Foxwoods (KY); T-William I. Mott.

DIGITIZE (g, 4, Maclean's Music--Microburst, by Awesome Again) hit the board in his only two starts as a 3-year-old but when to the sidelines in May 2022 and did not return until his gate-to-wire win at Saratoga Aug. 20. The popular 2-5 favorite, a main-track only entry, again showed early speed but had to contend with Famous Gent (First Dude) through the opening quarter in :22.77. Eased up to that rival around the turn, he took over past the quarter pole and won comfortably by 3 3/4 lengths. Twelfth Man (Super Saver) filled out the exacta. Microburst, a half-sister to GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies runner up Valadorna (Curlin) and GISW Complexity (Maclean's Music), has not produced a foal since the unraced 3-year-old Microbeastie (Super Saver). FIELD LASS (f, 2, Munnings--Moanin {Fr}, by Medicean {GB}) was sixth in both prior starts on Ellis's main track in an off-the-turf debut Aug. 4 and at Kentucky Downs Aug. 31. The 5-1 shot in yet another rained-off event Thursday, she shot right to the front and never relinquished it, going gate-to-wire in comfortable fashion to win by 7 1/2 lengths. Neom Beach

(Omaha Beach) chased her throughout and checked in second. Moanin reported a yearling Mendelssohn filly and a weanling Tiz the Law colt before returning to Tiz the Law for 2024. RIVALRY (c, 4, Uncle Mo--Our Love Tap, by Tapit) was unveiled third at Ellis Park July 30 beaten just three-quarters of a length and was third again over the same track at one mile Aug. 26. Even-money in this stretch out, the homebred came out running and set a clear lead into the opening quarter. Mount Craig (Arrogate) was determined to stick with him but was always second best as Rivalry turned that challenge back entering the lane for the final time and cruised home under an easy ride to graduate by 5 1/2 lengths ahead of Ice Time (Keen Ice). Our Love Tap, now five for five with runners to winners, is a half to GISW Dearest Trickski (Proudest Romeo). She has a Munnings yearling colt, a weanling colt by Liam's Map and was bred back to Liam's Map for 2024. CAITLINHERGRTNESS (f, 2, Omaha Beach--Belatrix, by Giant's Causeway), narrowly beaten after leading early in her Saratoga debut Sept. 3, jumped to the lead but was outsprinted by Mischievous Miss (Maximus Mischief) through a :47.54 opening half mile. Stalking outside of that rival into the turn, the even-money favorite made her bid with three furlongs to run and had plenty left for the stretch run to hold off a closing pair and defeat Backstretch Rose (Army Mule) by a half-length. The 13th winner for freshman sire Omaha Beach (by War Front), Caitlinhergtrness is out of a half-sister to SW/GISP Dogtag (War Front) and from the family of European champion 2-year-old colt Shamardal (Giant's Causeway). Pushed for more run into the turn, the 6-1 shot responded in kind and drew off steadily to the wire, graduating by 4 1/4 lengths over Book of Wisdom (Solomini). Racing with blinkers added Thursday, the 6-5 favorite drew in off the also-eligible list in this off-the-turf event and quickly was up to pressure fellow also-eligible entry Stolen Magic (Good Magic) for the lead. As that runner began to fade into the turn, Moonlight took over command and made it a one-horse race down the lane, drawing off as the class of the field to defeat first-time starter Malarchuk (Nyquist) by eight lengths. ## U.S.-BRED/SIRED RUNNERS IN JAPAN

In this continuing series, Alan Carasso takes a look ahead at US-bred and/or conceived runners entered for the upcoming weekend at the tracks on the Japan Racing Association circuit, with a focus on pedigree and/or performance in the sales ring. Here are the horses of interest for this weekend running at Hanshin and Nakayama Racecourses. The latter venue plays host to the first Group 1 event of the fall season, Sunday's Sprinters' S., which features the lightning-quick US-bred Jasper Krone (Frosted):

In Your Palace hails from the extended female family of 10-time stakes winner Furioso (Jpn) (Brian's Time), and this sire's half-brother Justin Palace (Jpn) (Deep Impact {Jpn}) won this year's G1 Tenno Sho (Spring) at two miles on turf and is set to face Equinox (Jpn) in the Autumn Tenno Sho going 10 furlongs at the end of October. B-Winchester Farm (KY)

ALYANAABI LEADS A TOO DARN HOT ONE-TWO IN THE TATTERSALLS

by Tom Frary

Thursday's G3 Tattersalls S. was all about Dalham Hall Stud's resident Too Darn Hot (GB) as the exciting first-crop sire was responsible for a notable one-two in the Newmarket staging post.

Despite Sheikh Mohammed Obaid Al Maktoum's Boiling Point (Ire) looking the one for the bragging rights in the final furlong, it was Shadwell's 4-1 shot Alyanaabi (Ire) who was finishing with the winning flourish from behind and was in front for the photo to prevail by a short head at the end of the seven-furlong feature of the Cambridgeshire meeting's opening card. There was a further 2 1/4 lengths back to TDN Rising Star Eben Shaddad (Calyx {GB}) in third, making it a trifecta for the first-season sire brigade.

Alyanaabi, who had opened his account on debut over six furlongs at Salisbury in June, had contested Ascot's Listed Pat Eddery S. on the King George card and finished 4 3/4 lengths behind Rosallion (Ire) (Blue Point {Ire}) in fourth. One of Britain's deepest juvenile races staged so far in 2023, the winner is ironically the only one to let down the form which the likes of Al Musmak (Ire) (Night Of Thunder {Ire}), Dancing Gemini (Ire) (Camelot {GB}) and Sunway (Fr) (Galiway {GB}) have boosted in the interim. ## HASSETT REVEALS CHANGE IN BREEZE-UP FOCUS AFTER 160K BUY AT ORBY BOOK 2

By Brian Sheerin

Johnny Hassett explained that he will be adopting a different approach to the upcoming breeze-up season after signing for a pair of Sea The Stars (Ire) colts at Book 2 of the Orby Sale, including the €160,000 sale-topper (lot 712) from The Castlebridge Consignment.

A brother to German Group 3 winner Alpen Rose, the top lot is from the family of 1,000 Guineas winner Sleepytime (Ire) (Royal Academy), but Hassett is convinced that his new recruit is no slouch and labelled the colt "a belter."

Outlining his new streamlined approach to producing horses for the breeze-ups, Hassett said, "We're spending a little more money on fewer horses this year. We're always trying to up our game, not just in the sales ring but by producing proper racehorses as well." Cont. p4

Held up here by Jim Crowley towards the back of the field, the Owen Burrows-trained homebred was able to conserve energy but it was clear room which evaded him initially as his challenge was readied. Having almost two lengths to make up on Boiling Point at the furlong pole, he was at least advantaged by running into a dying pace as the leaders had taken no prisoners and it may have been more that the eventual runner-up had given too much too early which was the decisive factor.

“He’s a horse we have always liked and he ran well at Ascot, but we felt he was a bit better than that,” Burrows said. “We weren’t unlucky there, but we felt he could have been closer as Jim felt the ground was a bit dead. He was due to run in the [Listed] Flying Scotsman, but the ground was soft so we waited for this. He would have been an unlucky loser had he not got there and I think this ground is important to him, as he’s a very athletic horse.

“We’ve given him a little bit of time between his races, which has given him a little bit of time to develop and strengthen up,” his trainer added. “He’s in the Dewhurst and that’s an option, but we’ll see how he is and what the ground is doing by then. I’m sure he will do well through the winter and we hope to be back here in May time next season. Naturally you will be thinking of the Guineas and he seems to have the right attributes.”

Pedigree Notes

Yet another classy performer descended from the all-important matriarch Height Of Fashion (Fr) (Bustino {GB}), Alyanaabi follows the recent example of his blue-and-white-clad relatives Baaeed (GB) (Sea The Stars {Ire}), his full-brother Hukum (Ire) and Mutasaabeg (GB) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}) with this breakthrough success. He is the second of two foals out of the unraced Alyamaama (Kitten’s Joy), one of 14 progeny of the dual listed scorer Sarayir (Mr. Prospector) who has proven such an important broodmare for the operation.

Sarayir was one of five fillies foaled by Nashwan, Nayef and Unfuwain’s dam Height Of Fashion, with each one becoming ancestresses of multiple stakes winners including Mustanfar (Unbridled), Hot Streak (Ire) (Iffraaj {GB}) and Lahudood (GB) (Singspiel {Ire}) as the second dam of Baaeed and Hukum. It is Sarayir that has really taken up the mantle, producing the G1 1000 Guineas and G1 Coronation S. heroine Ghanaati (Giant’s Causeway), in turn the dam of the aforementioned multiple group winner and Rowley Mile specialist Mutasaabeg; Danzig’s G3 Cumberland Lodge S.-winning sire Mawatheeq; and the Oaks-placed Rumoush (Rahy).

Sarayir’s descendants also include this stable’s black-type winners Talaayeb (GB) (Dansili {GB}) and Wadilsafa (GB) (Frankel

Hassett, who played a leading role at this sale year 12 months ago when it was known as the Sportsman's Sale, has bought horses under the banner of The Bloodstock Connection and Get In The Game in the past. However, he signed this week under JCH Bloodstock.

To go with the Sea The Stars colts purchased to the tune of €228,000 on Thursday, Hassett also picked up fillies by Too Darn Hot (GB) and Wootton Bassett (GB) at Book 1 of the Orby. They were bought for €100,000 and €60,000, respectively.

For all that the leading buyer was a familiar one, Goffs will have been encouraged by the wide breadth of international purchasers on day one of Book 2.

Johnny Hassett: signing for the top lot | Goffs

However, the trade was steady without being spectacular. Of the 236 yearlings to go under the hammer, 182 sold at a clearance rate of 77%.

US Buyers Remain Active At Book 2

Legion Bloodstock, one of the US-based buyers who remained active at Book 2, landed a Mastercraftsman (Ire) filly (lot 768) from Coulonces for €75,000.

"She's for Hoolie Racing, one of our clients in the US," reported Legion Bloodstock's Kristian Villante afterwards. "She's a big filly with a lot of scope to her and she could run over intermediate distances for us. She's got a beautiful pedigree.

"She'll go to our training centre in South Carolina now. She's our seventh or eighth purchase this week--I'm losing count! They'll all go back to America."

Twomey To The Fore Once Again

Paddy Twomey pulled a rabbit out of the hat when sending out One Look (Ire) (Gleneagles {Ire}), purchased at this sale for €65,000 12 months ago, to win the Goffs Million on debut.

The leading Irish trainer will be hoping to repeat the trick with a racy colt by Mehmas (Ire) (lot 627) who he purchased from Tally-Ho Stud for the same figure.

"He's a nice colt and looks a real two-year-old type," said Twomey. "I'm a big fan of the sire and I've been lucky at this sale in recent years."

Buy Of The Day

One of the nicest horses through the ring on the day was the Mohaather (GB) colt (lot 706) consigned by Abbey House Farm and sold to Diego Dias on behalf of Star Bloodstock and Byron Rogers for €70,000. Cont. p6

Out of a Teofilo (Ire) mare who has produced a winner from as many runners, the 82-rated Rajindri (Ire) (Profitable {Ire}), this colt came in well above the average for the sale but time might prove him to have been good value.

For a start, the progeny of Mohaather appears to have been quite well received by the market and this colt looked a fine model by the stallion.

Being critical, he lacked a small bit of size but, being a May foal, one can expect that he isn't finished growing. Above all else, he looked fast, which is handy given the outfit he has joined.

In short, the Mohaather won't look expensive come the spring if he rockets up the track at any of the recognised breeze-up sales. He's definitely one to keep an eye on going forward.

At working man prices, Barry Lynch and James McHale bagged themselves a nice filly in the shape of lot 597, a Coulsty (Ire) for €31,000.

A nice type, the Coulsty looked typically-racy and hailed from the same cross as the sire's only Group 1 winner, Shantisara (Ire) [who is also out of a Dalakhani (Ire) mare].

Purchased by two good operators, it would be no surprise if she also proved herself to be value in time.

NEWMARKET: MALJOOM BACK IN THE JOEL

by Tom Frary

There is a persuasive argument that Maljoom (Ire) (Caravaggio) was denied champion 3-year-old miler status only by injury last term and it is therefore a relief that William Haggas has managed to get Sheikh Ahmed Al Maktoum's still-unexposed colt back to the races after a too-long lay-off of 472 days. While his success in Cologne's G2 Mehl-Mulhens-Rennen last May was creditable, it is his stirring display in subsequent defeat in Royal Ascot's G1 St James's Palace S. that marks him as a high-class performer at this trip. Desperately unlucky not to have readily upstaged the trio that finished in front of him headed by Coroebus (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}), he is the one to watch on a quality-rich card as Newmarket's Cambridgeshire meeting gains momentum.

Also in the Joel, a traditional stepping stone to next month's QEII, is another who contested last year's St James's Palace in Mighty Ulysses (GB) (Ulysses {Ire}). While Saeed Suhail's member of the Gosdens' crew was just a head behind Maljoom in fifth there, he boasts none of the exhilarating sectionals of his fellow Newmarket resident but at least has a fitness edge on him as they re-engage. Only seen four times since then, he has still mustered a win in the Listed Sir Henry Cecil S. at last year's July Festival and a share of the spoils in Salisbury's G3 Sovereign S. last month.

While Maljoom and Mighty Ulysses probably have the most

Ylang Ylang Takes On Shuwari In The Rockfel

Newmarket's other Group 2 on Friday is the Al Basti Equiworld, Dubai Rockfel S. which guarantees a berth in the $1-million G1 Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies Turf, so it is perhaps no accident that Ballydoyle have opted to send their TDN Rising Star Ylang Ylang (GB) (Frankel {GB}) across the Irish Sea. Having bettered her compatriot Vespertilio (Fr) (Night Of Thunder {Ire}) in Leopardstown's G3 Silver Flash S. over this seven-furlong trip in July, the 1.5million gns Book 1 sensation dropped to last as that subsequent G2 Debutante S. winner got closest to Fallen Angel (GB) (Too Darn Hot {GB}) in the G1 Moyglare Stud S.

With her flop resulting in the withdrawal of City Of Troy in the following race on the rain-hit Curragh card, she is due a fresh start on this quick surface which should see her able to amply express herself.

Ryan Moore is happy to wipe the slate clean. “Ylang Ylang clearly didn’t fire as expected last time out but horses have off days, as we have seen in high-profile races this season, and they can often bounce back quickly,” he said. “Certainly, if my filly returns to the form of her Leopardstown [run] she is probably the one to beat on this expected better ground.”

Through Fallen Angel, it is possible to gauge how good the Sangsters and Ballylinch’s unbeaten Shuwari (Ire) (New Bay {GB}) is or might be, having mastered the Moyglare heroine in Sandown’s Listed Star S. over this trip in July. That came on soft ground and connections of the runner-up have since stated that they had the tactics wrong, so the Ollie Sangster trainee has something still to prove. The bad news for her opponents here is that Sangster is expecting the faster surface to improve her.

“Her first two runs were pretty straightforward, she looks a lovely filly and I think the better ground will bring out the best in her,” he said. “We wanted to run her in the Prestige at Goodwood, but she suffered a small setback which ruled that out. So she’s not as battle-hardened as some of the other runners in the race, but that can’t be helped and we’re hopeful she can carry on improving.”

Andre Fabre has been happy to experiment with trip where the relative of Treve (Fr) (Motivator {GB}) is concerned, but this mile looks more the ticket rather than the six furlongs over which he was put in his place by White Birch Farm's re-opposing TDN Rising Star Havana Cigar (GB) (Havana Grey {GB}) at Chantilly in July.

Opposing the home-trained team is Nathan Bennett's Listed Coolmore Stud Churchill S. winner Warnie (Ire) (Highland Reel {Ire}), who upstaged the subsequent G2 Beresford S. winner Deepone (GB) (Study Of Man {Ire}) in that extended seven-furlong Tipperary contest last month. With so much proven talent in attendance, The Aga Khan's Compiègne scorer Saganti (Fr) (Zarak {Fr}) is going to have to be smart to make the jump up in a fascinating renewal.

Hukum Handed Wide Draw For Arc, No Woes For Ace Impact

Shadwell's Hukum (Ire) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) was on Thursday handed stall 14 for Sunday's G1 Qatar Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe at ParisLongchamp, with the long-time favourite and G1 Prix du Jockey Club hero Ace Impact (Ire) (Cracksman {GB}) in the middle in stall eight. Wide draws are notoriously difficult to overcome in the autumn showcase and the Owen Burrows-trained G1 King George VI and Queen Elizabeth S. hero will have to emulate the feats of Golden Horn (GB) in 2015 and Dalakhani (Ire) in 2003 if he is to defy the unfavourable post position.

Angus Gold was left to reflect on the poser and said, "Golden Horn had a lot of tactical speed, he went forward and stayed out wide and got a brilliant ride. There is no point making a fuss about it, as there is nothing we can do." Cont. 10

Burrows added, “Jim [Crowley] isn’t too concerned. If I had the choice, I’d rather be in a bit from there but he’s fairly versatile and it is what it is. He’s in a good spot in himself and similar to how he went into Ascot. It looks like good ground, so that’s suitable.”

George Boughey is hoping that Highclere Thoroughbred Racing’s hard-working Soprano (Ire) (Starspangledbanner {Aus}) can make an impact on the back of a career-best third in the G3 Dick Poole Fillies’ S. “She looks better than ever,” he said. “She is a very balanced filly, which is so key at Newmarket, and she won on her debut at the track. I think she has got to have a lively chance. She has run over seven furlongs before and it would be lovely if she could get that bit further and aim for a Guineas preparation, but the fact we have put her in a Cheveley Park rather than Fillies’ Mile shows where we are at the moment.”

High class sprinter Dragon Symbol (GB) (Cable Bay {Ire}--Arcamist {GB}, by Arcano {Ire}) has been retired from racing and will stand at Whitsbury Manor Stud in 2024. A fee will be announced later.

A winner of his first four starts before missing by a nose in the G2 Sandy Lane S. in May of 2021 for Roger Varian and owner Yoshiro Kubota, he was first past the post in the G1 Commonwealth Cup a month later before being disqualified and placed second. The son of the winning Arcamist was also runner-up in the G1 July Cup, the G2 King George S., and third in the G1 Nunthorpe S. in succession that term. A five-time winner, Dragon Symbol also placed in the Listed Achilles S. in 2022. His record stands at 17-5-5-1, with $538,828 in earnings.

Ed Harper, director of Whitsbury Manor Stud, said, "In the helter-skelter world of sprinting it is very rare to find elite level consistency, but Dragon Symbol put together a sequence of five top-class performances every month from the Sandy Lane in May, to the Nunthorpe in August, marking him down as an exceptional sprinter." ## GROUP 1 WINNER MENDOCINO WILL STAND AT HARAS DU LION Stall Salzburg's Group 1 winner Mendocino (Ger) (Adlerflug {Ger}–Mill Marin {Ire}), by Pivotal {GB}) has been retired and will stand his first season at stud at Haras du Lion in France beginning next season, Galopp Online reported. The deal was brokered by Richard Venn. A fee for the 2022 G1 Grosser Preis von Baden victor will be announced next month.

Bred by Gestut Brummerhof, he was offered by his breeder at the BBAG September Yearling Sale in 2019 and made €58,000 when plucked out of the Baden-Baden ring by trainer Sarah Steinberg, who saddles Fantastic Moon (Ger) (Sea The Moon {Ger}) in Sunday's G1 Qatar Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe.

Harald Schneider, racing manager of Stall Salzburg, said, "We didn't want to let him go into training at the age of six, so we were contacted to see if we could sell him as a stud stallion."

Also placed in the G1 Grosser Preis von Bayern in 2021 and the 2022 G3 Prix d'Hedouville, the well-traveled 5-year-old last ran third in the G2 Grosser Preis der Badischen Wirtschaft in May and did not race again due to injury. His record stands at 13-3-2-2 and $225,094 in earnings.

A half-brother to German Group 3 victress Marshmallow (Ger) (Soldier Hollow {GB}) and a full-brother to the stakes-placed Millionaire (Ger), the chestnut is out of Mill Marin, who ran second at listed level in Sweden. ## FRENCH RACING POOLS AVAILABLE TO BRITISH AND IRISH FANS AFTER NEW AGREEMENT BETWEEN UK TOTE AND PMU

French racing pools are now available exclusively to British and Irish racing fans through a new agreement between the UK Tote Group and France's PMU.

Beginning on Thursday, Sept. 28, this agreement is the only way British and Irish pool betting customers can access French pools. The Tote is commingling into French pools for all French races, including the G1 Qatar Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe on Sunday. Tote customers will be able to bet into over 7,000 pools and view live racing from 88 French racecourses each year, including 262 Pattern contests and leading trotting fixtures via tote.co.uk, tote.ie and iOS and Android Tote Apps. The PMU typically offers pools of over €750,000 on each race, or nearly €6 million per meeting, with over €15,000,000 bet into pools on the Prix de l'Arc De Triomphe last year.

Initially, the Tote will offer a placepot on the weekend's racing from Longchamp, along with the six most popular single leg pools, with the aim of introducing more bet types in due course. For more information, please go to the UK Tote Group website.

Alex Frost, chief executive of the UK Tote Group, said, "We are delighted to work with the PMU on this incredibly positive development for UK and Irish racing fans, which will also drive increased revenues for the grassroots of French racing. By commingling our UK pool into the French pool, British and Irish Tote customers can bet into huge pools on the top class racing action from France. I would like to thank the PMU team for their cooperation and support, and we wish everyone a successful weekend ahead of two fantastic days of racing at Longchamp."

Emmanuelle Malecaze-Doublet, chief executive officer of the PMU said, "This agreement is a strategic milestone in our long-standing partnership with UK Tote Group. We are very proud of this new step that marks the recognition of our expertise as a global horse racing operator and highlights the excellence of French races."

RESEARCH THE FOCAL POINT OF THE 2023 INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE FOR THE HEALTH, SAFETY AND WELFARE OF JOCKEYS

ICHSWJ Chairman Darragh O'Loughlin | Scoop Dyga

The first edition of the International Conference for the Health, Safety and Welfare of Jockeys (ICHSWJ) since the Covid-19 pandemic began was held at Auteuil Racecourse in Paris on Thursday, Sept. 28.

Topics of the conference featured presentations and panels on concussions, spinal injuries, and mental health and psychological fitness before concluding with recently retired third-generation jockey Tom Scudamore providing his reflections on the conference. Tom Stanley served as moderator.

The conference began with a presentation on management of concussion by Dr. Jerry Hill, Chief Medical Adviser, British Horseracing Authority (BHA), and Dr. Jennifer Pugh, Chief Medical Officer, Irish Horseracing Regulatory Board (IHRB). Daloni Lucas, PhD Candidate at the Centre for Health, and Injury & Illness Prevention in Sport (CHI2PS), University of Bath, then presented the second session via video, where she focused on the exploration and prevention of spinal injuries to jockeys. In the afternoon, the third panel discussed the importance of mental health and the psychological fitness of riders. Participants included Professor Duncan Law, Consultant Clinical Psychologists, Changing Minds UK; Karen Lo, Sports Psychologist, Inner Edge, Hong Kong; and Dr. Ciara Losty, Sports Psychologist, Irish Jockey Pathway.

"The content today from our presenters has been absolutely superb," said ICHSWJ Chairman Darragh O'Loughlin. "We are very excited to have the return of the International Conference for the Health, Safety and Welfare of Jockeys, albeit in a different format to how it previously existed. The steering committee for this conference is eager that, rather than being a standalone event that occurs periodically, it becomes more of a forum for sharing of experiences, sharing of information, and sharing of best practices."

"It has been absolutely fascinating," said Scudamore. "It has been wonderful to see such diverse panels and to get such an insight into what goes on behind the scenes. You can get very insular as a jockey. There are times when you think you are on your own, and I think today has proven we aren't on our own. We've got a lot of people who want to help."

CHIC COLUMBINE TAKES FILLIES' FINAL OF BRITISH EBF £100K 2YO SERIES

Highclere Racing's Chic Columbine (Fr) (Seahenge) nosed out Lexington Belle (Ire) (Belardo {Ire}) to land the Fillies' Final of the British EBF £100,000 2yo Series at Goodwood Racecourse on Wednesday. Group 2-placed Les Blues (GB) (Blue Point {Ire}) finished back in third.

A €10,000 Osarus yearling graduate, the George Boughey-trained filly has finished in the top three in five prior starts, including her most recent success in the £50,000 British Stallion Studs EBF Carrie Red Nursery H. at Doncaster's St Leger meeting Sept. 14.

The Highclere filly qualified via two Band D restricted maiden races supported by the EBF.

George Boughey said, "I was delighted with Chic Columbine; it [British EBF Final] had been a plan for a while--obviously a huge amount of money and a great incentive for buying horses that fit into the restricted race system." Cont. p14

He added, "We actively try and buy horses for this type of race; she is a filly who is probably going to step into black-type territory now and, hopefully, she can continue to progress."

Edward Arkell from Goodwood Racecourse added, "We were delighted by the strength of the field for this renewal of the EBF 2yo Series Fillies' Final. Goodwood have always been great supporters of the British EBF and are hugely grateful to both them and the British stallion owners who contribute into the fund."

The Colts and Geldings final, also worth £100,000, will be staged at York Oct. 13. Entries close Oct. 7.

YOUTH EXPERIENCE DAYS PART OF JOCKEY CLUB DRIVE TO IMPROVE YOUNG PEOPLE'S ACCESS TO HORSES

Youth Experience Days, which will give more UK young people access to horses, have been launched by insurance broker and risk management firm Gallagher and The Jockey Club.

The Youth Experience Days give children from some of the UK's most disadvantaged communities an opportunity to visit racecourses, meet trainers and spend time with leading figures from around the industry. The effort came about following the results of a survey that indicated 40% of 12 - 18-year-olds would consider working with equines. Last week, 25 children from the Rio Ferdinand Foundation spent the day behind the scenes at Cheltenham Racecourse and at Gold Cup and Grand National-winning trainer Jonjo O'Neill's yard. Attendees had the opportunity to feed horses, watch them work on the gallops, train in the swimming pool and hear from legends of the sport like Sir AP McCoy and Barry Geraghty.

Nevin Truesdale, chief executive of The Jockey Club, said, "It's really encouraging that two-fifths of young people would consider a career working with horses, but what has become really clear is that we need to give them more access to horses and racing.

"Our mission at The Jockey Club is to power racing's future, but we can't do that without inspiring people to want to work in the industry and that starts with doing more to share the excellent opportunities that exist within horseracing.

"The Youth Experience Days we are hosting with Gallagher are an example of our commitment to the next generation and I hope that everyone who takes part in them leaves with a better understanding of how they can get involved, regardless of whether they've spent any time with horses before or not."

on the European racing scene

BROTHER TO WILD BEAUTY DEBUTS AT NEWMARKET

16.10 Newmarket, Mdn, £10,000, 2yo, c/g, 7fT
SYMBOL OF POWER (GB) (Frankel {GB}) is the latest Charlie Appleby/Godolphin project to be launched in the local town and has the usual eye-catching connections as a full-brother to the GI Natalma S. winner Wild Beauty (GB). Also kin to the G3 Burj Nahaar scorer Desert Wisdom (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}) and G3 UAE Oaks runner-up Swift Rose (Ire) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}), he is the fifth foal out of Tulips (Ire) (Pivotal {GB}) who was fourth in the G1 Prix Maurice de Gheest.

17.45 Dundalk, Mdn, €15,000, 2yo, f, 7fT
QUADRUPLE (GB) (Frankel {GB}) is a notable Juddmonte newcomer as the first foal out of Lady O'Reilly fast and classy G2 Sapphire S. and G3 Ballyogan S. winner Soffia (GB) (Kyllachy {GB}). Ger Lyons has charge of the homebred, who meets Ballydoyle's fellow newcomer Osprey (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), also a first foal out of the stable's dual Group 3 winner and multiple Group 1-placed So Perfect (Scat Daddy).

HOW THEY FARED

13.50 Newmarket, Mdn, £10,000, 2yo, c/g, 8fT
Godolphin's Duke's Command (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}), a 1.6-million guineas Tattersalls Book 1 acquisition, was never a factor in this debut and finished sixth.

Margins: 18. Odds: 0.20, 25.00.

Also Ran (DNF): Shandoz (GB). Scratched: Enemy (GB).

After three were left standing at the off, this became an unequal match as Shandoz (GB) (Golden Horn {GB}) was pulled up in the early stages leaving Trawlerman to lead the inferior veteran Island Brave a merry dance from the front. Successful in the immeasurably harder Ebor H. last August, the Godolphin stalwart had finished an honorable third in the G2 British Champions Long Distance Cup before two unsuccessful outings in Japan and Dubai. Having marked his British comeback with a 13-length success in Salisbury's Persian Punch Conditions S. earlier this month, he was able to enjoy an easy workout up the Rowley Mile as he prepares for greater challenges once again.

The dam, who was runner-up in the G3 Deutsches St Leger, is one of three black-type performers out of the G1 Prix Vermeille heroine Sweet Stream (Ity) (Shantou) with another being the listed scorer and G3 Munster Oaks-placed Loveisthehigherlaw (GB) (Kodiac {GB}). BELLUM JUSTUM (IRE) (c, 2, Sea The Stars {Ire}--Natural Beauty {GB}, by Oasis Dream {GB}), a Sept. 16 last-out fourth over this distance at Doncaster in his third start, stalked the leading duo through halfway in this one. Taking closer order approaching the quarter-mile marker, the 11-2 chance tackled Inisherin (GB) (Shamardal) passing the furlong pole and was ridden out to deny that rival by a half-length. "He was still a bit babyish and the ground was just too slow for him at Doncaster last time," said Oisin Murphy. "He has worked well since then, Andrew [Balding] thought he'd take a bit of beating and he was really professional today. It was a nice pace throughout, he picked up well and I didn't have to get too serious with him. He's a lovely model and, on decent ground, a mile is perfect for him. He might get 10 [furlongs], but I don't see him getting a mile-and-a-half." Bellum Justum is the second of three foals and first scorer out of a winning half-sister to four black-type performers headed by G3 Cumberland Lodge S. and G3 September S. victor Laaheb (GB) (Cape Cross {Ire}) and stakes-winning G1 Criterium de Saint-Cloud third Fox Tal (GB) (Sea The Stars {Ire}). Unflustered on the front end for the most part, the 13-10 favourite was shaken up with 300 metres remaining and kept on strongly under mild coaxing inside the final furlong to account for Cetera (Ire) (Nathaniel {Ire}) by an impressive four lengths.
