BONNE CHANCE TEAM MAKING THEIR OWN LUCK

by Chris McGrath

Playing chess with nature. That’s what Jean-Luc Lagardère called it, and the analogy has always resonated with Alberto Figueiredo. How, for instance, do we account for the sheer size of King of Steel (Wootton Bassett [GB]), who sealed his place among the elite sophomores of Europe with his Group 1 success at Ascot last Saturday? You don’t particularly see that bulk in the sire; and, tragically, it wasn’t in the dam either. In her case, the disparity proved fatal.

"She was a good, medium-sized mare but he was so big it caused her to hemorrhage when foaling," explains Figueiredo, CEO of Bonne Chance Farm. "That’s how we lost her. We understand, that’s part of the game. We deal with live animals and, unfortunately, something like will happen from time to time. He was well raised by a foster mare. But when you look at him, and then look at his parents--well, the gene is not obvious, it’s not right there. You might have to go back to the fourth, fifth generation. And that’s the chess."

Figueiredo is duly impatient with any attempt to reduce breeding to a simple formula, as though everything comes down to slapping this bloodline over that one. He remembers how one of the best judges of horseflesh he ever saw, in his native Brazil, never even brought a catalogue to the sales.

'SOLID SALE GETTING BETTER EVERY YEAR:' FASIG-TIPTON OCTOBER SALE CONCLUDES

by Jessica Martini

LEXINGTON, KY - The Fasig-Tipton October Yearlings Sale concluded Thursday with a solid renewal which very nearly kept pace with its record-setting 2022 version even in the midst of a softening yearling market and a backdrop of uncertainty in the global economy and geo-political landscape.

“It was a very successful 2023 Fasig-Tipton October sale,” Fasig-Tipton President Boyd Browning, Jr. said after the last horse went through the ring Thursday evening. “The results were very similar to last year and very similar to the 2021 results, which is pretty remarkable when you consider everything that is happening in the world that we live in, from the economy to some of the challenges our industry has faced.”

2024 PA BROODMARE DOMICILE FORM NOW AVAILABLE

Sponsored by AIRDRIE STUD INC

Long experience in different hemispheres tells Figueiredo that such horsemanship transcends cultures, languages, racing environments. We should all be able to learn something, then, from an astounding year for this small but most cosmopolitan of farms.

Figueiredo modestly protests that there's nothing so extraordinary about the program he operates for Brazilian entrepreneur Gilberto Sávio Da Silva.

"I don't think we have a very unusual program," he says amiably. "I would not put that way. I think we do the same kind of thing that you normally have to do with horses."

But nor can we merely say that it's all in the name: French for "good luck". Something, surely, merits attention when a crop of just 14 Bonne Chance graduates, in the sophomore class of 2023, should include not just King of Steel but also GI Woody Stephens S. winner Arabian Lion (Justify). On the one hand, a colt that briefly burst clear in the ultimate test of the Classic Thoroughbred, over 12 furlongs at Epsom, until collared late on his first run of the season, and just the third of his life; and, on the other, a top-class dirt sprinter.

The fact is that Bonne Chance, for a boutique operation, has quite exceptional geographical reach: both in blood and schools of horsemanship. King of Steel himself--conceived in France, foaled in Kentucky, trained in Newmarket--is an apt symbol of internationalism. For Bonne Chance has evolved as an offshoot of the leading South American program Stud RDI, which was launched in 2008 by Sávio in partnership with Paulo Fernando de Oliveira. In 2013, after a tentative experiment at Tattersalls the previous year, Figueiredo (along with colleagues Philippe Jouset and Fernando Garcia) picked out three yearling fillies at Arqana and sent them to Mikel Delzangles. Each has since become a black-type producer. Cont.

At €95,000, the least expensive was Eldacar (GB) (Verglas (Ire)), who proved a modest but sound staying handicapper. "She had a good pedigree," Figueiredo recalls. "Not a fashionable one, perhaps, but she was a beautiful mare and at that time our program was all breed-to-race."

Eldacar started her breeding career in Normandy, but was soon transferred to the 300-odd acres previously known as Regis Farms on the Pisgah Pike, acquired in 2015. "There was no reason to have 10 mares here, and five over there," Figueiredo explains. "Having bought this land, we said we'd concentrate them all in one place."

Bonne Chance had started out with yearling fillies, rather than broodmare prospects, so that the team could get to know them inside out. That way, a complementary influence might be sought from matings.

"People can choose nicks because that's what they think the market wants," Figueiredo says. "I'm not opposing them, that's okay as a way to conduct their business. Maybe I'm just not smart enough to believe in those scientific equations. But I'm more like, 'Okay, this is a nice filly. She has talent but Mikel has brought us the information that she's more of a galloper, so she needs a little more speed.' And we were lucky enough, at that time, to be part of the Wootton Bassett syndicate. So we could bring in some speed that way.

"Maybe doing something like that won't work immediately. Maybe you need another generation. You can never say we will definitely get this, or that. But that's the same as when we mix blood from South America in the United States or Europe. You might not be able to say why a combination has worked. But when it does, you know that you have only achieved those results from having an open mind."

A perfect example is Ivar (Brz) (Agnes Gold {Jpn}), the program's breakout success in the United States. A domestic Group 1 winner in Argentina as a juvenile, he was sent to Paulo Lobo and won the GI Shadwell Turf Mile before being involved in three consecutive finishes of the GI Breeders' Cup Mile.

"His second dam came to United States from Chile," says Figueiredo. "She had a Smart Strike filly we sent to Brazil, where she was very smart, a Group 2 winner. And then we brought her to a Japanese stallion, Agnes Gold by Sunday Silence. And then came Ivar. So, you could see how it can work."

King of Steel did not have such an exotic background. Nonetheless the market remained too insular to prevent agent Alex Elliott having to pay more than $200,000 on behalf of Amo Racing at the Keeneland September Sale of 2021. A Wootton Basset was challenging enough. One that size, however, was a bridge too far for most. Cont.

"We had high expectations," Figueiredo recalls. "Don't get me wrong, he brought good money. But people kept saying he was too big. What's the problem in being big? If big means slow, well, he's never been that. He was always a straightforward horse, never had any problems. But his size did scare a lot of people."

Because of his build, and also because his dam improved with maturity, Figueiredo is confident that King of Steel will keep thriving if kept in training. But first he is set to return to his native soil for the Breeders' Cup.

Happily, despite the loss of his dam, Bonne Chance now finds itself with a valuable breeding prospect in King of Steel's full-sister Macadamia (Fr). Though not to be confused with her GI Gamely S.-winning namesake (as it happens, a Brazilian-bred), the 4-year-old has won a maiden and allowance race at Horseshoe Indianapolis from 13 starts.

"She's likely to be bred in Europe," Figueiredo says. "She's much smaller than her brother. If you put them together, she'll look like a weanling. They're both gray, so if you stood her behind him you will lose her. That's the chess again!"

There are, of course, ways of securing your queen on the genetic chessboard. One is to borrow the depth offered by Unbound (Distorted Humor) when acquired for $310,000 at the Keeneland November Sale of 2015, her granddam being none other than Personal Ensign.

"I strongly believe in the foundation of family," Figueiredo says. "Being a 20-mare operation, we don't have the numbers, money or time to try a different way. I have to reduce the probability of mistakes. So I like to go to a farm, a family that you know produces. Of course, you still have to take your chance, even then, but you know that the substance is there." Cont.

Unbound was one that paid off, and quickly: her 2017 foal, a Giant's Causeway colt, made $450,000.

"And a couple of years later we sent Unbound to Justify for a little bit of size, because she is a compact, Distorted Humor type," Figueiredo explains. "Again, chess! It did not work as we expected. She had a small, late foal. So I said, 'Okay, let's not put him in the yearling sales, he's not ready.' So we gave him time and sent him to the 2-year-old sales. And that worked perfectly."

Prepared and sold by Hidden Brook, where Figueiredo's cousin Sergio de Sousa is a managing partner, the colt made $600,000 from Zedan Racing Stables at OBS April. As Arabian Lion, he briefly threatened to give Bonne Chance prospects of a double Derby bid, at both Churchill and Epsom, but ultimately confirmed a single turn to be his métier.

Arabian Lion has now retired to Spendthrift as Justify's first Grade I winner. Of course, his sire has also made an immediate and spectacular impact in Europe. And, if weathervane is finally turning back toward genetic transfusion between hemispheres, then no farm of its size can have trimmed its sails better than Bonne Chance.

That's a gratifying state of affairs for a man whose international Turf education began virtually in boyhood. "I started to work in a sales company when I was 14, researching for catalogues," Figueiredo says. "So, yes, it's been a lifetime's work. One of the partners in the company was a very successful farm vet, Dr. Jose Luiz Pinto Moreira. And he was the best horseman I've ever been with. Just from the way he talked, the way he looks. I've had so many positive as influences on my life but, strictly on horses, this guy was amazing."

Figueiredo was also fortunate to work with Moreira during around 20 years working for Linneo de Paula Machado at Haras São José & Expedictus from the early 1990s. That post opened up many new horizons, not least through the export of horses like Siphon (Brz) to California.

"That was best life experience ever," he says gratefully. "To work with such nice people who gave me such good opportunities in life. Because we can all learn from each other. Richard Mandella was able to go to South America and look at how things work there, and the same for me the other way. When we bought the farm in Kentucky, each year I took one of our team there to Brazil. That meant I could say, 'Look, if I ever I say something that seems stupid in Kentucky, please forgive me--because this is how we do things over here, here's how I learned.' So the same thing that we do with the blood, we also do with people."

But while the whole premise is that horse skills are transferable, there's no denying that a harder road in South America--for horse and horseman alike--fortifies those who travel it far enough to compete on the global stage.

"How can I explain to you?" muses Figueiredo. "I love my country, and I love living there. But you learn a little bit differently. Say you want to buy a mare. In the United States, you go to the bank, you present your business plan, and you get a very good rate. In South America, you would find that impossible. To buy a horse, you have to sell your house."

Cont.

“But I think that when you have those challenges, it makes you more aware. If one way doesn't work, you're going to find another way. Because you need to do this. If things happen a little more easily, more predictably, maybe you get into a comfort zone.”

One way or another, between the horsemanship and the bloodlines, here is a farm exuding the dynamism urgently required in what has become a rather stagnant gene pool either side of the Atlantic. But you can think big and still stay humble. Because it’s about resisting complacency, about being receptive to other cultures and methods.

"I guess that all of us, in this way of life, end up meeting and working with many different people, in many different places," Figueiredo reflects. "And every time someone will say, 'Hey, the other day, I was wondering about this...'. And this exchange of experience, added together, can become very important.

"What works in Kentucky isn't necessarily going to work in Europe or South America, and equally the other way round. But you're getting information every day, and it adds up to a wider perspective."

He returns to the trainer he used to watch going round the sales in Brazil, with no catalogue. "His success was amazing, and it was just his instinct, just feeling," he says. "He was unbelievable, the way he and horses could 'speak' together. And that, to me, is the fascination. That feeling he had. Because I'm fascinated by people who succeed. What he had, you can't put into words, but it also showed why Michael Jordan is like this, or Roger Federer, or Pele, Maradona, so on--even the good politicos!"

Figueiredo remembers the cycles of regeneration achieved by breeders of the past: the Classic sires imported to South America from Britain at the turn of the last century; similar traffic from Britain to America in mid-century; then the revolution achieved by sons of Northern Dancer in Europe. And let's not forget that the only horse to run down King of Steel at Epsom, Auguste Rodin (Ire) (Deep Impact {Jpn}), was out of Galileo (Ire) mare outcrossed to the principal heir of Sunday Silence's speed-carrying dirt genes.

Maybe we can't leap to definitive conclusions, even when a farm like Bonne Chance produces two of the best sophomores in the global crop. But it would surely be foolish not to emulate something of the sense of adventure that animates its program.

"It's been a remarkable year," Figueiredo acknowledges. "And first of all that's about a very good job by our team on the farm. That's for sure. But I really believe that this mix of blood helps a lot. Japan has been showing the world how to conduct things. There are a lot of good things in every country. Go to Argentina, you're going to see nice horses. Brazil, the same. Their best horses can compete around the world. Just look at Book 1 at Keeneland, and see how many trace to good Argentinian mares. So we always start with an open mind, we're always willing to try things. Sometimes, it works. Sometimes, it doesn't. But even then it's a good experience. Because you're not just focused on one thing, and you forget that the world is so big."

Browning continued: “To have 1,600 horses on offer the last four days and to be standing in the back walking ring with five horses to go and it is full of people and there is enthusiasm and activity, it shows the resiliency of our industry.”

Through four sessions, 1,064 yearlings grossed $51,120,000. The average of $48,045 dipped 4.6% from last year’s record figure and the median of $24,000 was down 4.0% from another 2022 record. The buy-back rate was 21.5%. It was 18.7% a year ago.

“The good news for all consignors is that, if you have a late-maturing horse, or a horse that has a little bit of an issue, you can bring that horse here. Can this sale support a very good horse? The answer is absolutely, positively, yes. I think this sale has established itself on the calendar as a very legit sale, one that you have to attend and participate in, whether you are a buyer or a seller. We look forward to continued growth and continued great graduates coming from this sale.”

Ocala horseman Karl Keegan made the highest bid of Thursday's final session of the auction, going to $330,000 to acquire a colt by Bolt d'Oro from the Knockgriffin Farm consignment.

Denali Stud consigned the second and third highest prices of the session, with Mike Ryan going to $310,000 for a son of Into Mischief and Jacob West going to $275,000 on behalf of Mike Repole for a daughter of Curlin.

The auction was a case of feast or famine, according to Denali’s Conrad Bandoroff.

“When you lead a horse up here, you are in one of two positions,” Bandoroff said. “You are either coming up for a horse sale or you are coming up for a funeral. I think this market is highlighting the polarization. If you have one that is a quality individual who vets, there is a good market for it.” Cont.

“If you have a horse that doesn't vet or doesn't have the commercial physical, it's going to be a difficult market and you've got to be realistic about it. But that could also be the definition of a fair market as well. We are having a good sale. We've been fortunate that we've had some good horses here and the good horses are selling well.”

Ryan, who purchased 10 yearlings for $2,195,000 during the auction, found plenty of competition for the yearlings he followed up to the ring.

“We were runner-up quite a bit, too,” Ryan said. “We were getting hammered. But we do feel like we got some quality at good value. It is the last stop and there are a lot of horses here. You have to look at a lot of horses to find the ones you want. But there are some nice pedigrees here. And obviously there is money here for the good ones. It's a solid sale and it's getting better every year.”

Keegan Stretches for Bolt d'Oro Colt

Looking to play at the upper echelon of the pinhooking game, Karl Keegan of Lucan Bloodstock stretched to $310,000 to acquire a colt by Bolt d'Oro (hip 1575) late in Thursday's final session of the Fasig-Tipton October sale.

“We are going to pinhook the horse,” Keegan said after signing the ticket on the bay colt. “It seems like all of these sales—especially the 2-year-old sales—are going to the upper end of the market, so we are trying to buy really, really good physicals by good stallions and hopefully it works out back in the springtime.”

The colt is out of Whirl (Curlin), a full-sister to graded winner Pacific Wind and a half to multiple graded winner Strike a Deal (Smart Strike). Consigned by Jim FitzGerald's Knockgriffin Farm, he was purchased for $145,000 at last year's Keeneland November sale and RNA'd for $240,000 at the Fasig-Tipton Saratoga sale in August. Cont.

“He was an outstanding physical,” Keegan said of the yearling. “He was at Saratoga and it looked like he went through a bad patch there. They took him back and gave him some time. And he really blossomed and showed himself well here. He's an exciting prospect for Lucan Bloodstock.”

Keegan admitted he had gone past his initial budget for the youngster.

“We were at $150,000 to $175,000, but my guy stretched,” Keegan said. “This was the only horse I wanted to walk away from the sale with. And my guy stood in and supported me.”

Lucan Bloodstock also purchased a colt by Tom’s d'Etat (hip 1332) for $80,000 and a colt by Outwork (hip 1573) for $15,000.

Keegan said there was plenty of competition for the pinhooking prospects he was shopping for.

“It was very strong for the horses I was on,” Keegan said. “I came up here trying to buy these physicals to be in the upper echelon of the market at the 2-year-old sales. Those horses were really hard to buy.”

Ryan Strikes for Into Mischief Colt

Bloodstock agent Mike Ryan, busy all week at the Fasig-Tipton October sale, made his highest-priced purchase of the four-day auction Thursday, going to $320,000 to acquire a colt by Into Mischief (hip 1482).

“He’s a beautifully bred horse,” Ryan said of the yearling. “He’s going to be a two-turn horse. He has plenty of size and stretch and scope for an Into Mischief. He’s got a serious pedigree. If he can perform on the racetrack, he’s got a lot of appeal as a stallion.”

He is out of multiple graded stakes winner Tin Type Gal (Tapit), who is a daughter of Grade I winner Miss Shop (Deputy Minister).

“They are averaging $750,000 for the yearlings,” Ryan said of Into Mischief’s knockout season at the sales this fall. “The median is $525,000. So this [final price of $320,000] is less than half the average. Of course it’s the end of the year, but this horse has a lot of upside if he can perform.”

Curlin Filly to Repole

Mike Repole, who along with his partners will send champion Nest (Curlin) through the sales ring at Fasig-Tipton in a week and a half, restocked with another filly by Curlin Thursday at Newtown Paddocks when bloodstock agent Jacob West made a final bid of $275,000 to acquire hip 1441. The gray filly was consigned by Denali Stud on behalf of Stonestreet Thoroughbred Holdings.

The polarized market has allowed him to find some bargains this week, West agreed.

“The first day of the sale, we bought a Quality Road filly for $3,000 and we bought a Gun Runner colt for $42,000,” he said. “They were just horses that the market didn’t perceive to be what they wanted and they fell through the cracks. We had done our homework and due diligence and picked them up.

“The Quality Road filly had some significant vet issues, but $3,000 for a Quality Road filly, you’re going to take a chance. The Gun Runner colt was just a backward horse. He didn’t have the physical that everyone was looking for here. But for all of Mike’s purposes, he will be patient on a horse like that, let him grow up and fill out. If he goes on and wins a big race, everybody will say, ‘How the hell did they buy him for $42,000?’ If you are willing to sacrifice on one of those things, you can find some bargains here.”

West concluded, “I’d say there are going to be some really good runners that come out of this sale. There are every year. It doesn’t always have to be the sale topper that you land on.”

REPOLE ANNOUNCES FORMATION OF NATIONAL THOROUGHBRED ALLIANCE, HIRES CUMMINGS AS EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

by Bill Finley

Owner Mike Repole’s efforts to form a group that he hopes can help solve some of the sport’s problems and create growth in an industry that has been in a downward spiral for decades took a step forward Thursday with Repole announcing that he has formed what he is calling the National Thoroughbred Alliance (NTA). Pat Cummings, who has headed the Thoroughbred Idea Foundation, has been hired as the alliance’s executive director.

Repole said he picked the name because he thought using the term alliance sent a message that the organization would be inclusive and because he is an admirer of the original NTA, also known as the National Thoroughbred Association. That organization was founded in the early 90s by Fred Pope and Repole’s NTA shares some of the same goals of its predecessor.

“I’ve reached out to Fred and had a couple of great conversations with him,” Repole said. “What Fred’s vision was 30 years ago for the sport was amazing and is a lot of what we need today.”

Repole said he will fund the new organization himself and said he is prepared to spend “millions” to see it succeed.

Even though he is among the most successful owners in the sport and a major buyer each year at the sales, Repole has been open about his frustrations with the industry and his fears that it isn’t that far removed from extinction.

“Yes, we have survived, but that still means we’ve gone from 35,000 mares to 18,000 mares and all these tracks have closed,” he said. “You can call that survival and we have survived over the last 30 years. But there’s no way racing will exist in another 15-20 years if we don’t make changes now. It’s easy for me to say I’ll be out of the game in five years because everybody’s going to be out in 10 years because it probably won’t exist in 10 years.”

Repole said much of racing’s problems can be attributed to the fact that no one involved in the industry seems to have a vision or strategy about how to grow the sport as a whole. It is vital, he said, for groups to put aside their self interests and begin to make decisions that will benefit the entire industry.

“This is a sport that has gone from growth to stagnant to now a massive decline,” he said. “How do we now go from keeping the status quo to improvement and then growth? Every successful business has a vision. There isn’t anybody that has a vision for this sport. On top of vision, there is also no strategy. You can survive with strategy and no vision. You can’t survive with no vision and no strategy.”

Repole is aware that his organization will launch with a distinct disadvantage, in that it will have no power to make any changes on its own and will be trying to make fixes in a sport filled with individual fiefdoms that traditionally look out for nothing more than their own special interests. The key to making progress, Repole said, is getting the various stakeholders to realize the sport will be better off overall if people are aligned and united and that a thriving sport is good for all involved.

“This is about unity, this is about improvement, this is about trying a different take to get everybody to work together,” he said. “This isn’t going to be the Mike Repole vision. It’s going to be a shared vision. This is a vision of listening, of talking to others. Maybe when they share their vision, which might be selfish, and we then tell them why the other nine spokes on the wheel won’t work, we’re hoping they’ll say ‘Now I get it. This doesn’t work for the industry.’ Once there’s an understanding of what’s working and what’s not working, then we can figure out what we need to do better.

“Over the next 12 months we’re going to see who cares about the industry and who cares just about themselves. Getting this sport united and aligned with a vision of what we want this sport to be is going to be so important.” Cont.

Repole said the first step toward getting industry leaders unified is to get them all in the same room.

“We need to bring people to the table,” he said. “If you get people together they will help each other. ‘How did you handle that problem?’ ‘Well, this is what we did.’ ‘What worked here?’ ‘How did you do this?’ The formation of great ideas happens with brainstorming.”

Repole said he had never met Cummings before he began to go to work on forming the NTA, but added that he was immediately impressed by his knowledge and enthusiasm.

“Pat has the compassion and the inspiration to fix this but obviously not the resources,” Repole said. “He’s not one of the top owners or someone who invests a lot of money in the sport, which makes it tougher. But he still has the energy and passion. We hit it off right away. He’s the perfect guy to lead this initiative.”

Repole’s one-hour conference call with racing reporters was part doom and gloom, with just enough optimism sprinkled in that it’s clear Repole is very dedicated to this project and passionate about racing’s future.

But he was not able to offer a lot of specifics concerning the formation of the alliance and just how it could twist enough arms that the changes Repole says the sport desperately needs can come to fruition. He’s confident he can figure that out.

“When you’re building this new brand or entity, you don’t really know what you need or who you need until after you get started,” he said, referring to his creating and then selling the brands VitaminWater and BodyArmour.

HISA INTRODUCES FIRST-EVER NATIONAL CONCUSSION PROTOCOL FOR JOCKEYS

HISA has introduced U.S. Thoroughbred racing’s first-ever recommended national concussion protocol for jockeys, the entity said in a release Thursday morning.

Under HISA’s Racetrack Safety rules, racetracks are required to implement a concussion protocol for jockeys. HISA’s recommended protocol would become mandatory for all racetracks under their jurisdiction, when and if, the FTC approves the proposed changes, which were submitted last month.

HISA’s national concussion protocol was developed in consultation with leading experts to protect the health and safety of jockeys across the country and brings racing in line with the nation’s other major sports, all of which have uniform concussion management protocols. HISA’s concussion protocol includes clear step-by-step instructions for racetrack medical personnel to follow when evaluating and monitoring riders for potential head injuries.

The new protocol also incorporates the digital concussion management program HEADCHECK into its reporting process. Under the protocol, racetrack medical staff will use the platform to document medical evaluations, possible concussion symptoms and written releases permitting a jockey to return to riding after being cleared by a qualified medical provider knowledgeable in concussion management and the skills needed to perform as a jockey. HEADCHECK’s implementation will also see to it that concussion-related medical records follow a rider from track to track and ensure continuity of concussion care across the country. HISA has been working to implement the platform at racetracks across the country for the last several months.

“In a sport like racing where athletes are at high risk for concussion, it’s crucial for every racetrack to have an established concussion protocol in place to respond to head injuries,” said HISA National Medical Director Dr. Peter Hester. “HISA’s national protocol requires prompt and correct care and clear documentation, which are essential to ensuring jockeys have the best opportunity to make a full recovery from a concussion. To prioritize jockey health, HISA strongly encourages racetracks to adopt this protocol now to help optimize safety throughout the sport.”

Jockeys and their families are strongly encouraged to familiarize themselves with HISA’s national concussion protocol and will be notified via its portal when updates are made to the protocol. Racetracks under HISA’s jurisdiction are encouraged to post a concussion protocol (English/Spanish) in a prominent place in the jockeys’ quarters. Cont.

Given 22-Month Suspension From HIWU, Trainer Poole Calls Process a 'Joke'

by Bill Finley

When two members of Gulfstream Park's security team and a veterinarian descended on his barn on the morning of June 2, the 62-year-old trainer Jeff Poole didn't think he had anything to worry about. According to The Jockey Club's Thoroughbred Regulatory Rulings website, Poole, who has been training since 1989, had never had a violation of any kind. And his recent record—he had won 11 races combined since 2021—hardly suggested that he was a trainer who was taking an edge.

Even when investigators found in his office a tube of Thyro-L, which is used with horses for the correction of conditions associated with low-circulating thyroid hormone, Poole wasn't that alarmed. He was given a prescription for the medication in September to use on a horse that was subsequently transferred to another trainer a month later. He says he had not used the drug on any horse since. At the time, it was perfectly legal to use the drug if a prescription had been obtained and in the states Poole raced in, Florida and Ohio, it was not illegal to possess the medication.

Then everything changed on May 22 when the Horseracing Integrity and Welfare Unit (HIWU) took over, handling the drug testing at most U.S. racetracks and levying the penalties for those who were found to have violated HIWU rules. Under the new Anti-Doping and Medication Control (ADMC) rules, the mere possession of Thyro-L was a serious violation as the drug had been designated a banned substance. Suspensions for banned substances carry suspensions of up to two years.

Jeff Poole was in a lot of trouble.

“T was totally unaware I had (Thyro-L),” he said. “I would have thrown it away. I wasn’t even using it and they don’t accuse me of using it. All they’ve accused me of is having it. It is not a performance-enhancing drug. This is a joke.”

Poole got the prescription for use on a horse named King Andres (With Distinction) on Sept. 27, 2022 while the horse was training at Thistledown. After that race, he was transferred to the barn of trainer Randy Faulkner. The Thyro-L prescription was written by Dr. Scott Shell. In what may be nothing more than a coincidence, Shell was provisionally suspended by HIWU for being in possession of banned substances, none of which were Thyro-L.

From Thistledown, Poole shipped to Tampa Bay Downs and then to Gulfstream. He said that on each occasion his employees packed up everything that wasn’t nailed down in his tack room and office, which included the tube of Thyro-L. While it should have been thrown away, it was simply forgotten and thrown in with the rest of Poole’s belongings.

One thing Poole cannot do and has not tried to do is claim ignorance. He admits that on March 15, 2023, while at Tampa Bay Downs, he sat in on a presentation from HIWU Chief of Science Dr. Mary Scollay in which Scollay warned trainers that new rules were about to go into effect and that they needed to get rid of medications that were about to fall into the banned substance category. Thyro-L was specifically mentioned.

“I’m hitting myself over the head,” Poole said. “This is so stupid. I could have gotten rid of the stuff. I just didn’t think about it. Too much else on my mind.”

Poole decided to fight, which led to having a hearing before an arbitrator that took place on July 26. That gave him plenty of time to think, beginning with why someone would have inspected his barn in the first place.

“They said someone tipped them off that it was in my office,” Poole said. “As far as I’m concerned, they must have sent a stool pigeon into my place. I never would have let anybody in my office who wasn’t a friend. And if a friend saw it and knew what was going on, they would have said ‘Jeff, get rid of that stuff. You’re not allowed to have it anymore.’”

He’s also followed other HIWU cases and claims a pattern is emerging whereby it seems that the majority of those who have been suspended are small-time trainers with limited resources. (Ironically, in his ruling, arbitrator Jeffrey Benz referred to Poole as a “high-level trainer of thoroughbred racehorses.”) Cont.

“(HISA CEO) Lisa Lazarus talks about how they’re not trying to get rid of the little people but it looks to me like that’s exactly what they’re trying to do,” Poole said. “They gave me 22 months and I never had a bad drug test on a horse ever. They don’t care about destroying a man’s life when it’s totally unnecessary. Horses are my life.”

Lazarus has had to respond to accusations that HISA is targeting small stables many times. When asked to comment on Poole’s accusations she said “The ADMC program is completely unbiased” and referred to a letter to the editor she wrote to the TDW that addressed that issue.

During the first weeks of his suspension, Poole did nothing. He remained convinced that his side of the story would hit home with whomever was to decide his fate and that he would be exonerated. He was, of course, wrong.

“I thought this would all be straightened out,” he said. “I never dreamt they’d do this to me. I sat for months with no income. It got to the point where I couldn’t keep doing it. I couldn’t make a red cent. There was nothing but money going out.”

Once the arbitrator ruled against him, upheld the 22-month suspension plus a $10,000 fine and ordered Poole to pay $8,000 in arbitration costs, he knew he had to do something. While most trainers who have been provisionally suspended by HIWU have sat on the sidelines, Poole moved his stable to Mountaineer Park. HISA does not have jurisdiction over West Virginia racing. The same goes for Louisiana. So Poole is free to race in both states.

“West Virginia is not my home,” he said. “This is not where I want to be. My home is in Tampa, Florida. Every year I look forward to going home. After Mountaineer closes, my only option is to try to get stalls in Louisiana at the Fair Grounds. That’s not a place I ever wanted to go to in my life, but it’s either that or welcome to Walmart.”

Poole realizes he made mistakes. He was told by Scollay that Thyro-L was going to become a banned substance and that he needed to get rid of it if he had any in his barn. He ignored her warning. He also understands the trainer responsibility rule. No matter what he might think about the rules regarding Thyro-L, he was in possession of a banned substance and under the trainer responsibility rule he had set himself up for a penalty.

But what he can’t understand is why he was suspended 22 months and fined $18,000 for what he considers to be a very minor offense.

“I expected to probably be fined for not discarding it,” he said. “But 22 months? If they think that’s fair, that’s beyond me. Officials, trainers, owners, everybody is telling me how unfair it was what they did to me. But I didn’t see it coming. I don’t think I deserve anything more than a possible fine.”

Strong Incentive, the dam of ‘TDN Rising Star’ Ways and Means, has been added to the Fasig-Tipton November Sale | Sarah Andrew

Officials at Fasig-Tipton Company have announced an additional eight supplemental entries for its November Sale, to be held Tuesday, Nov. 7 at the Newtown Paddocks.

Chief among them is Strong Incentive (Warrior’s Reward--G G’s Dolly, by Comic Strip), a stakes winner at three who has become an outstanding addition to the broodmare band at Seth Klarman’s Klaravich Stable, having produced Grade III winner Highly Motivated (Into Mischief; Surge Capacity (Flintshire (GB)), victorious in this year’s GII Lake George S. and entered for Friday’s GIII Valley View S. at Keeneland; and the exciting Ways and Means (Practical Joke), named a ‘TDN Rising Star’ on Saratoga debut Aug. 6 ahead of a troubled runner-up effort in the GI Spinaway S. The 11-year-old mare, in foal to top sire Good Magic, is being offered by ELITE, agent, as hip 264.

Next through the ring will be Ceiling Crusher (Mr. Big), who shipped away from her California base for the first time to best ‘TDN Rising Star’ and GI Kentucky Oaks winner Pretty Mischievous (Into Mischief) in the GI Cotillion S. at Parx Sept. 23. Also successful in Del Mar’s GII Torrey Pines S. over the summer, the California-bred is cataloged as a racing/broodmare prospect and sells as hip 265 through Taylor Made.

Other supplements include:

- Mylady (Ger) (The Grey Gatsby {Ire}), a Group 3 winner and third in the G1 Preis der Diana (German Oaks) before winning the GII The Very One S. in her second appearance in America; offered as a broodmare prospect by Lane’s End;

- Yuki (Chi) (The Lumber Guy), a Group 1-placed runner at home prior to her export to the U.S., where she most recently won the Sept. 23 Dark Mirage S. at Los Alamitos; Highgate Sales consigns as a racing/broodmare prospect;

- Practica Cat (Chi) (Practical Joke), a group-winning juvenile in Chile and placed at Group 1 level at three; consigned as a racing/broodmare prospect by Highgate Sales;

All entries are available online and will also be available in the Equineline sales app. Fasig-Tipton will continue to accept supplemental entries through the Breeders’ Cup.

GRADE II WINNER BELLABEL, PAIR OF STAKES-PRODUCING DAMS ADDED TO KEENELAND NOVEMBER

Keeneland has added a trio of horses—one racing/broodmare prospect and the dams of a pair of current black-type winners, one with Breeders’ Cup aspirations—to its upcoming November Sale, beginning Wednesday, Nov. 8.

Bellabel (Ire) (Belardo {Ire}), to be offered by Taylor Made, is cataloged as hip 251. A maiden winner in five Irish appearances at two, the dark bay relocated to the U.S. last year and was off to a quick start, with victories in the Blue Norther S. and--following a six-month absence--the GII San Clemente S. as the betting favorite. Bellabel was runner-up to the classy Spendarella (Karakontie {Jpn}) in the GI Del Mar Oaks and was last seen at the races in Keeneland's GI QE II Challenge Cup, staying on gamely for a third-place effort behind Gina Romanitca (Into Mischief). She is catalogued as a racing/broodmare prospect, but has been in steady work at Los Alamitos, where she has recorded no fewer than seven breezes since Sept. 3 and most recently drilled five furlongs Oct. 20. Cont.

Warrendale Sales consigns Lemon Belle (Lemon Drop Kid) to Keeneland November as hip 249. The 13-year-old is a daughter of MGSw Queenie Belle (Bertrando), making her a half-sister to GI Breeders’ Cup Ladies’ Classic winner Unrivaled Belle (Unbridled’s Song), in turn the dam of multiple Eclipse Award winner Unique Bella (Tapit). Lemon Belle’s sixth produce is Raise Cain (Violence), winner of this year’s GIII Gotham S. and recent hero of the Listed Perryville S. at Keeneland. Lemon Belle sells in foal to boom stallion Justify.

Troublesome (Into Mischief) (hip 250) is part of the Woods Edge Farm draft and sells pregnant to Yaupon. The 9-year-old is the dam of Amidst Waves (Midshipman), winner of the Bolton Landing S. at Saratoga and the near-miss runner-up in the local Indian Summer S. Amidst Waves has been pre-entered for the GI Breeders’ Cup Juvenile Turf Sprint and sits first on the ‘not-selected’ list, but seems likely to gain a run given others’ first preferences.

Keeneland has also announced the addition of 15 horses to the November Horses of Racing Age Sale, including MGSw millionaire ‘TDN Rising Star’ Smile Happy (Runhappy) from Gainesway, agent; and fellow ‘Rising Star’ Strobe (Into Mischief), multiple graded-placed this season and selling through Taylor Made. Both are being offered as racing/stallion prospects.

Keeneland will continue to accept entries up to the start of the sale.

LOOKIN AT LUCKY WON'T RETURN TO KENTUCKY FOR THE 2024 SEASON

Long-time Ashford Stud sire Lookin At Lucky (Smart Strike—Private Feeling, by Belong to Me) will be staying in Chile at Haras Don Alberto for the next season and will not be available to cover mares in Kentucky in 2024, officials at Coolmore America confirmed Thursday.

A champion at two and three, as well as winner of the GI Preakness S. and four other Grade I events, Lookin At Lucky’s first foals were born in 2012. Among his 74 black-type winners and 49 graded winners worldwide are champion and GI Breeders’ Cup Classic winner Accelerate and GI Kentucky Derby winner Country House in the U.S., as well as Chilean Horse of the Year Wow Cat (Chi), who is also a Grade I winner in the U.S. Lookin At Lucky has been wildly successful in Chile, siring an additional five champions there, while another of his Chilean-breds was exported to Hong Kong and was named champion there in 2021.

Based in the U.S. at Ashford, Lookin At Lucky shuttled his first year to Australia for the Southern Hemisphere season and has visited Chile a majority of the seasons since.
TCA TO HOST 'BASH AT THE BREEDERS' CUP' FUNDRAISER

Edited Press Release

Thoroughbred Charities of America (TCA) will host the Bash at the Breeders' Cup presented by Churchill Downs Incorporated at the Le Meridien Hotel in Arcadia, CA, Friday, Nov. 3. The hotel is located opposite Gate 5 at Santa Anita.

"Over the last eight years, Bash at the Breeders' Cup has become a very popular event on the Breeders' Cup week calendar," said Erin Halliwell, executive director of TCA. "We are excited to return to California and raise money for our approved grant recipients. TCA's grants provide a broad range of support to approved charities offering Thoroughbred aftercare, health and human services to backstretch and farm workers, equine-assisted therapies, as well as Thoroughbred incentive programs. Our work wouldn't be possible without the support of our donors."

The event will feature a live auction including a Del Mar Racing package, halters worn by Arcangelo and Mage, a racing saddle signed by numerous jockeys including Johnny Velazquez, Flavien Prat, Julien Leparoux and Tyler Gaffalione, a VIP day at the races at Santa Anita Park, a Whitney S. weekend package in Saratoga, a box at the Blue Grass S. with weekend accommodations, a VIP race day at Kentucky Downs, a stay in a luxury Mexican villa, 2024 Breeders’ Cup tickets and more. For those that cannot attend in-person, online bidding will be available beginning Wednesday, Nov. 1. Online bidding will close at 12 p.m. ET on Friday, Nov. 3 and bidders wishing to continue bidding in the live auction may bid by telephone. Auction items may be previewed here.

Bash at the Breeders’ Cup is generously presented by Churchill Downs Incorporated. Other sponsors include Herringswell Stables, New York Thoroughbred Horsemen’s Association, Candy Meadows Farm, Tito’s Vodka, Maker’s Mark, and Jackson Family Wines. Media sponsors include BloodHorse, TDN, Paulick Report, and the Horse Racing Radio Network.

NEW OFFICERS FOR JOCKEYS AND JEANS

Following the retirement of President Barry Pearl this summer, the Jockey and Jeans committee has elected new officers. Vice President Dr. Eddie Donnally, one of five former jockeys who founded the group, has been named interim president.

"I served as president the first year and it became obvious [Barry] Pearl possessed far superior organizational and sales skills than I," said Donnally, "so I suggested the committee make him president. Calling him was easily one of the best decisions of my life and we can't thank him enough for his nine years of leadership and the thousands of hours he donated."

Donnally, 80, holds a Doctorate in Ministry, is a former Eclipse Award-winning writer for the Dallas Morning News, is an author of three books, and serves as a hospital chaplain in New Orleans.

In other updates, Maureen Brown has been named Vice President of Operations, while Kenny Katz will become the Head of Relationships with Hall of Fame Riders.

The all-volunteer group made Corey Johnsen its newest ambassador. He will join Brian Elmore, Executive Director of the Indiana Horsemen’s Benevolent and Protective Association, and Joe Morris, Vice President of Racing for Caesars Entertainment, as the three non-jockey ambassadors. Randy Sampson, CEO and Board Chairman of Canterbury Park, serves as a committee member.
EQUINE PHOTOGRAPHER KATEY BARRETT PASSES AWAY

Photographer Katey Barrett, long associated with artful images of Santa Anita, passed away Sunday, Oct. 22 after a bout with cancer. She was 91.

Barrett’s images, often easy to identify due to her unique style, were part of Santa Anita’s opening day Winter Meet souvenir calendar for over 30 years. A Minnesota native, Barrett came to California in the 1950s and worked on several TV shows, as well as on a movie with Don Knotts.

"Katey had been on hospice and was diagnosed with cancer a couple of months ago," said her sister, Jane Barrett. "She was at Santa Anita and took beautiful pictures for more than 40 years. She received many awards and she was dedicated to serving animals, all animals. A lot of people have been calling and expressing what she has done for them personally, in their lives."

Barrett is survived by her sister and two brothers, David and Jim. At her request, there will be no memorial services. Donations in her honor can be made to Wild Horse Sanctuary, P.O. Box 30, Shingletown, CA, 96088.

HOMEBRED CURLIN COLT DEBUTS FOR GARY AND MARY WEST

1st-KEE, $100K, Msw, 3yo/up, 6f, 1:00 p.m.

A Gary and Mary West homebred, HOLLYWOOD ENDING (Curlin) makes the races Friday for trainer Brad Cox. The colt is the fifth foal out of Canadian champion 3-year-old filly Milwaukee Appeal making him a half-brother to MGSW Actress (Tapit), herself the dam of GIII Withers S. winner Hit Show (Candy Ride {Arg}). On a steady work tab at both Turfway Park and, more recently, Churchill Downs, Hollywood Ending comes in with a good foundation and picks up Flavien Prat for his debut.

IN ORDER OF PURSE:

3rd-Keeneland, $126,100, Alw (NW3$X)/Opt. Clm ($100,000), 10-26, 3yo/up, f/m, 6 1/2f, 1:17.16, ft, 2 lengths.

OLGA ISABEL (f, 4, Tiznow--Miss Patricia, by Indian Charlie) won against allowance company July 22 at Ellis Park after making the switch from Gustavo Delgado’s barn and then cleared the optional claiming ranks Aug. 30 at Saratoga. Installed as the heavy 1-2 favorite versus three others here, the bay led under a hard hold up the backstretch, continued to hold sway around the far turn and despite a mild challenge just before the sixteenth pole from Your So Sillea (Lea), the homebred won by two lengths. Out of an extended female family which includes GI Breeders’ Cup Sprint champ Very Subtle (Hoist the Silver), the winner’s dam is responsible for 3-year-old colt Top d’Oro (Medaglia d’Oro) and a yearling filly by Authentic. She was bred to Tapit for 2024. Lifetime Record: 7-4-2-0, $302,350. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by FanDuel TV.

O/B-Top Racing, LLC (KY); T-Brad H. Cox.

7th-Keeneland, $89,183, Alw, 10-26, (NW2L), 2yo, 1 1/16mT, 1:44.28, fm, 1 1/4 lengths.

BLUE EYED GEORGE (c, 2, Flameaway--Acting Naughty {GSW, $421,709}, by Offlee Wild) debuted a winner on the grass at Ellis Park July 21 but was outclassed in the Kentucky Downs Juvenile Mile S. last out Sept. 10. The 6-1 shot sat a stalking trip behind longshot pacesetter Family Factor (The Factor) but was caught out wide into the far turn and had to bid while four wide passing the quarter pole. Up to challenge Please Advise (Palace Malice) inside the final furlong, Blue Eyed George was able to sneak past and pull off the 1 1/4-length win. A half-brother to Offlee Naughty (Flashback), MGSW, $391,645, the winner is his dam’s last reported offspring. Sales History: $50,000 Ylg ’22 TTAYRL; $200,000 2yo ’23 OBSAPR. Lifetime Record: 3-2-0-0, $72,786. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by FanDuel TV.

AUTUMN GLORY (f, 4, Hard Spun--Spring Leaf {Fr} {SW & GSP-Fr, $128,517}, by Footstepsinthesand {GB}) was a winner in her debut nearly two years back at Aqueduct but hasn't been seen since a pair of summer starts at Belmont in 2022. Off the pace in seventh through much of the early running, the 7-2 shot didn't begin to make up any ground until she angled wide for the stretch drive. With a big closing run inside of Linarite (Mineshaft), Autumn Glory just prevailed past that rival to score by a head. Spring Leaf has a 2-year-old Acclamation (GB) filly, produced another filly by Acclamation last year and foaled a Kodi Bear (Ire) filly this Spring. Lifetime Record: 4-2-1-0, $103,300. 4th-Remington, $35,000, Alw, 10-25, (NW2L), 2yo, f, 1m (off turf), 1:41.49, sy, 3/4 length.

ABIGAIL'S ROAD (f, 2, Mitole--Kentucky Road, by Midshipman) broke her maiden sprinting five furlongs on the turf last time out Sept. 30 but caught a rained-off main track Wednesday in her stretch out to a mile. Up on the pace, the 7-1 shot battled for the lead outside of Subway Susie (Unified) through a half in :48.57 before drawing off into the stretch. Kept to task, she held off a late charging Gypsan (Khozan) who ate into the lead but came up three-quarters of a length short on the line. The winner has a yearling half-brother by Outwork and a weanling half-sister by Vekoma while her dam visited Goldencents for 2024. Lifetime Record: 3-2-1-0, $47,894. 2nd-Horseshoe Indianapolis, $38,000, (S), Alw, 10-26, (NW1X), 2yo, f, 1:10.55, ft, 5 lengths.

GOODLOOKINJUSTICE (c, 2, Street Boss--With Wonder, by Flatter) won nicely by six lengths to break his maiden at first asking July 5 and has posted three straight second-place finishes since including a pair of stakes placings all over the Horseshoe Indy surface. Racing with blenders added, the 1-2 chalk had heavy pressure up front early from Castille (Maximus Mischief) but put that rival away into the turn and came home the class of the field to win by five lengths. Funtastic Vow (Funtastic) chased him home in second. Goodlookinjustice has a pair of younger siblings both by Harry's Holiday and his dam returned to that stallion for next year. Sales History: $20,000 RNA Ylg '22 KEESEP. Lifetime Record: MSP, 5-2-3-0, $90,690. Click for the Equibase.com chart.

QUOKKA (c, 2, Noble Mission (GB)--Quantify, by Giant's Causeway) tried to get on the turf in his debut but was rained off and faded from contention over the mile to a well-beaten eighth Sept. 28. On his preferred surface Thursday but at long odds, the 21-1 shot chased easy fractions from second and was up to bid as the half went in a mild :51.28. Pacesetter Houlton (American Pharoah) was game into the lane and the top two were met with a host of challengers close to home with Quokka getting the best of a four-way photo to win by a neck. Race favorite Heartened (Street Boss) closed up for second by a head. Quantify produced a Tacitus colt this year and visited Mystic Guide for 2024. Lifetime Record: 2-1-0-0, $50,400. THORPEDO ANNA (f, 2, Fast Anna--Sataves, by Uncle Mo) took her time from the gate, racing off the pace in the back half of this sales-price restricted field through a quarter in :22.56. Up into the bridle into the turn, the 4-1 shot swung out four wide, took over command from Up On the Edge (Upstart) at the top of the stretch and galloped home to win easily by 8 1/2 lengths over that rival. From the family of GSW and sire Eskendereya (Giant's Causeway), Thorpedo Anna has a yearling half-brother by Cloud Computing. Sataves failed to produce a foal off her Code of Honor cover for this year but visited Known Agenda for 2024. Sales History: $40,000 Ylg ’22 FTKOCT; $39,603. REGALO (c, 2, Maximus Mischief--Perfect Bourbon, by Majesticperfection) ran second as the beaten favorite over six furlongs at Pimlico Sept. 15 in his first start since bringing $280,000 to EASMAY earlier this Spring. Up to keep pacesetter Coringa (Practical Joke) company, the 6-5 choice dueled into the turn and kicked on from there, leaving his rival well behind to come home 5 1/4 lengths to the good. The 24th winner for his freshman sire (by Into Mischief), Regalo counts MGISW’s Jersey Girl (Belong to Me) and her son, GSW Jersey Town (Speightstown) among his extended family members. CHALDEAN JOINS HIS SIRE FRANKEL AT BANSTEAD MANOR STUD

Frankel (GB) is being joined on the Juddmonte roster at Banstead Manor Stud by his Classic-winning son Chaldean (GB) for the 2024 season.

Bred by Whitsbury Manor Stud, Chaldean was a 550,000gns foal purchase by Juddmonte and one of five black-type horses out of the Dutch Art (GB) mare Suelita (GB). The winner of four of his five starts at two, the Andrew Balding-trained colt landed the G3 Acomb S. and G2 Champagne S. before emulating his sire by signing off last year with victory in the G1 Dewhurst S.

His intended first start at two in the G3 Greenham S. ended in ignominious fashion when Frankie Dettori was unseated on exiting the stalls, but the duo quickly made amends when landing the 2000 Guineas. Chaldean became the 18th horse since 1874 to complete the Dewhurst-Guineas double, joining a list of great names such as Nijinsky, El Gran Senor, Zafonic, Rock Of Gibraltar (Ire), and of course Frankel, making this a unique father-son double.

"Chaldean is just a dream horse; the most professional, uncomplicated, and beautifully balanced horse we have had during his time at Kingsclere," said Balding.

"He showed unusual improvement through his unique sequence of prestigious wins in the Acomb S., Champagne S. and the Dewhurst S. at two years old only to improve again to win the 2000 Guineas before his turning three." Cont. p3

GROUP 3 WINNER AEMILIUS BOUND FOR QATAR AFTER 250K SALE AT TATTERSALLS

by Brian Sheerin

The Middle Eastern buyers held sway on day four of the Tattersalls Autumn Horses-In-Training Sale with German Group 3 winner Aemilianus (Ger) (Holy Roman Emperor {Ire}) (lot 1243) being snapped up by Qatar-based Gassim Ghazali for 250,000gns.

Trained by Markus Klug, Aemilianus carried the colours of Gestut Schlenderhan to victory in a heavy-ground Group 3 contest at Dusseldorf last season. He has carried his form well this year as a four-year-old and arrived at Park Paddocks off the back of finishing third in that same Group 3 contest earlier this month.

The result represented a triumph of persistence for Ghazali, a well-known buyer at Tattersalls, as he revealed afterwards that he had been sticking around especially for Aemilianus. Cont. p3

Simon Mockridge, general manager of Juddmonte UK, added, "We would like to extend special thanks to Andrew Balding and the teams at Kingsclere and Juddmonte for guiding and skilfully developing the racing career of Chaldean."

"We look forward to welcoming our Classic winner Chaldean as the first son of Frankel to stand at Banstead Manor Stud, further strengthening Juddmonte's European stallion roster."

Ghazali said, "I am delighted. I have been waiting for this horse--three days I have waited for it! Some quality horses have been through the ring, but I have been outbid by Wathnan Racing and Najd Stud. I hope this horse will make it to some good races in Qatar. The pedigree should suit Qatar."

"I like the sire and I won the Qatar Derby last season with a son of Holy Roman Emperor called Emperor Maximus (Fr). The sire's progeny tend to like the track in Qatar and the good ground."

He added, "I am not too sure of the horse's level and how that will slot in once he gets to Qatar, I know the horses from England and how they will work into the Qatari programme, Germany is a little different. I am hoping this horse will be good enough for either the Irish Thoroughbred Marketing Cup or the HH The Amir Trophy."

Gassim Ghazali also went on to purchase the twice-raced Heater (Ire) (No Nay Never) (lot 1351) from Imperium Sales for 75,000gns. Owned by Valmont, Heater arrived at the sales after a promising third on his second start at Wolverhampton.

Najd Stud was responsible for the second-highest priced horse through the ring on Thursday at 100,000gns. Cont. p4

NOVEMBER BREEDING STOCK SALE
24 – 25 November 2023  IRELAND

Tchaikovsky (GB) (Bated Breath GB) (lot 1283), a winner of Kempton novice for John and Thady Gosden on just his second start, was bred by the late Sir Robert Ogden and proved to be one of the standouts on the day.

The juvenile is a half-brother to a winner in Kensington (Ire) (Frankel GB) and hails from the family of Islington (Ire) (Sadler’s Wells).

"This horse goes to Saudi. His starts have been good and hopefully he will do well for us in Saudi," said Saad bin Mishraf for Najd Stud. "We are looking for differing types of horses all the time as we have a variety of races in the country."

Tchaikovsky’s dam Canonbury (Ire) (Oasis Dream GB), herself a daughter of Islington, is due to be sold as part of a complete dispersal of Lady Ogden’s stock at the Tattersalls December Mares Sale.

Despite a smaller number (2%) of horses going through the ring on this day compared to last year, the aggregate was up a massive 51% to 2,553,400gns. Furthermore, the median climbed 20% to 6,000gns while the average was up 48% to 12,101gns. The clearance rate stayed the same on 88%.

Buy of the Day

Despite the fact there may not have been as many big-ticket lots compared to earlier in the week, there was still plenty of value on offer, and the 38,000gns Eve Johnson Houghton paid to retain Machiavellian Lady (GB) (Too Darn Hot GB) (lot 1317) could prove money well spent.

She should have no trouble finding new owners for this winning juvenile, presuming that’s the plan, and judging by that hard-fought victory at Chelmsford, there could be more to come.
Trainer Tom Clover shares his views on Sceptre Sessions-bound Group 2-winning trainee Rogue Millennium ahead of the sale.

ROYAL ASCOT WINNER ROGUE MILLENNIUM SET FOR SCEPTRE SESSIONS

Trainer Tom Clover says that Rogue Millennium (Ire) (Dubawi (Ire)) provided him and his owners with a day they will never forget when winning at Royal Ascot but described her date with the Tattersalls December Mares Sceptre Sessions as the perfect way of seeing the Group 2 winner off on her next chapter as a broodmare.

Rogue Millennium, who was bought by Billy Jackson-Stops for just 35,000gns from Shadwell at this exact sale in 2021, has carried the colours of The Rogues Gallery with great distinction and brought Clover to some of the biggest meetings in Europe.

Not only did she justify her supplementation fee when landing the G2 Duke Of Cambridge S. at Royal Ascot, but she also ran a gallant second to Tahiya (Ire) (Siyouni (Fr)) in the G1 Matron S. at the Irish Champions Festival at Leopardstown.

She will now embark on her next chapter as a broodmare and Clover says that he is hopeful that the 4-year-old will prove quite an attractive prospect to all the big stud farms come December.

Recapping on that memorable triumph at the Royal meeting, Clover said, "It was just the most incredible day at Royal Ascot. It's the type of result you dream of when you start training. For a syndicate of really good friends and people now, who are such racing enthusiasts, to have a day like that together; we'll remember it for the rest of our lives. We'd a great big picnic in the car park beforehand and had a fantastic day. A day we'll remember forever."

The trainer added, “She's a filly who we always had in mind to put through the ring at some stage. Being a daughter of Dubawi (Ire) and a Group 2-winning miler at Royal Ascot will hopefully make her quite attractive. Tattersalls has just been fantastic to us and the Rogues. I know Tony Elliott [syndicate manager] really wants to support them. Going there to the Spectre Sessions will be a fantastic way of seeing her off."

Rogue Millennium reached an official rating of 110 and amassed over £300,000 in career earnings. Cont. p6

She has won three times from 14 starts and placed on a further five occasions. She was last seen running fifth behind Big Rock (Fr) (Rock Of Gibraltar {Ire}) in the G1 Queen Elizabeth II S.

DOYLE TO MISS BREEDERS' CUP AFTER FAILED APPEAL

Hollie Doyle will miss the ride on Bradsell (GB) (Tasleet {GB}) at next week's Breeders' Cup after failing in her appeal against the severity of a careless riding ban. Doyle incurred a seven-day suspension for her ride at Kempton last week.

The British Horseracing Authority's independent disciplinary panel heard Doyle's appeal Thursday morning. The jockey contested the length of the ban rather than the riding offence itself. After hearing submissions from Charlotte Davison, representing the BHA, and Rory Mac Neice for Doyle, the panel concluded the original penalty should stand, resulting in Doyle's missing the Nov. 4 Breeders' Cup, when Bradsell is due to run in the Turf Sprint at Santa Anita. Luke Morris will ride in her place.

"We do accept there was corrective action taken by Miss Doyle, but the reality was unfortunately the situation had been caused. We can see from the footage interference does take place and it is, in our view, significant," said Rachel Spearing, the panel's chair.

"We find interference was foreseeable, it was serious and it is appropriate to fall within the careless riding [penalty] of five to 14 days. We note she was provided with a seven-day suspension and we see no reason to interfere with those days.

"We have concluded this wasn't a frivolous appeal and in those circumstances agree to return the deposit."

DARIYAN ON THE MOVE TO HARAS DU MONT GOUBERT

Group 1 winner Dariyan (Fr) (Shamardal) will move to Haras du Mont Goubert in 2024. A fee will be announced later.

Formerly at His Highness The Aga Khan's Haras de Bonneval, the Prix Ganay hero has been represented by G3 Prix la Force hero Mister Saint Paul (Fr), as well as seven other stakes horses including the group-placed horses Princesse De Saba (Fr), Galaxie Gold (Fr), second in the G2 Prix Hocquart, Elizar (Fr), and My Kurkum (GB).

His dam Daryakana (Fr) (Selkirk) has also thrown a four other stakes winners led by dual graded winner Devamani (Fr) (Dubawi {Ire}). His second dam Daryaba (Ire) (Night Shift) won both the G1 French Oaks and Prix Vermeille.

NO RISK AT ALL ANCHORS MONTAIGU ROSTER AND FEES

Star jumps sire No Risk At All (Fr) will cover a limited book at Haras de Montaigu in 2024, the stud announced on Thursday. His €20,000 live foal fee, an increase of €2,000 from 2023, leads the five-strong roster.

Standing alongside the perennially successful sire are Beaumec De Houelle (Fr) and Flintshire (GB), each at €6,000. The latter is available to mares under both codes. Group Flat sire Dabirsim (Fr), whose Horizon Dore (Fr) ran third in the G1 Champion S., and Dschingis Secret (13) will both command €4,000. The latter's eldest foals are 3-year-olds.
