

SHAMROCKS IN THE BLUEGRASS: ADRIAN REGAN OF HUNTER VALLEY

Adrian Regan and Fergus Galvin | Fasig-Tipton

by Chris McGrath

“A man of my kidney.” All the way back to Falstaff, this curious expression has tokened a particular kinship in temperament or personality. In the case of Adrian Regan of Hunter Valley Farm, however, it has an uncommon resonance—both literal and figurative.

In the former sense, he was fortunate that his brother should have turned out to possess not only a matching kidney when Regan needed a transplant, but also the big fraternal heart to go willingly under the knife.

Regan will never forget Dr. Erickson at the Mayo Clinic coming in with the test results and announcing: “You’re a very unique case.”

“Jeez,” Regan thought. “That’s never good.”

Regan was told that they could maintain his own organs for the time being but at some point he would need a transplant. A couple of years on, the doctor rang and said that the time had come.

“It’s got to be done during the next year,” he said. “So you need to start looking into getting paired up with somebody.”

ON THE FUTURE OF MARYLAND RACING, A Q & A WITH COREY JOHNSEN by Bill Finley

With the 2024 GI Preakness S. now in the past, Maryland racing is ready to move toward a future that will include a new Pimlico and a new administration operating the track. Legislation was passed earlier this year that will allow the track’s current owners, 1/ST Racing, to turn over Pimlico to the state of Maryland on July 1 and Laurel on Jan. 1. Five months after the Pimlico transfer, on Jan. 1, 2025, a new non-profit operating company, the Maryland Thoroughbred Racetrack Operating Authority (MTROA), will take over the governance of both Pimlico and Laurel. When it’s all said and done, there will be a new Pimlico, a new training center and racing will cease to exist at Laurel.

Veteran racetrack executive Corey Johnsen, who enjoyed successful stints at Lone Star Park and Kentucky Downs, has signed on as the interim CEO of the MTROA. Cont. p7

Regan couldn't have built Hunter Valley into the force it is, alongside Fergus Galvin, without understanding the importance of pedigree.

"So obviously we went to my family first," he recalls now. "And Jarlath was a perfect match. And he had no hesitation whatsoever, even though he had a very young child at the time. I was very conscious of that, but Jarlath ploughed on, donated the kidney, and we haven't looked back."

That was February 2017, and Regan will never forget his brother's selflessness.

"Oh, don't worry, I think about it a lot," Regan says. "I'll tell you one thing: it slowed down the lifestyle, put the brakes on the partying. When you make these decisions, with Jarlath making the sacrifice he did, you just have a responsibility. It's not even a choice, you have to change your life."

Regan also stresses how fortunate he feels, to have had the care he did, and can't help wondering how things might have played out had he stayed in Ireland. Equally, of course, the niche he has found in the Bluegrass was all about an exceptional affinity with a compatriot. For it's in that other, metaphorical sense that Regan has been blessed to find a man of his own "kidney."

It is said to be perilous to go into business with friends, but his partnership with Galvin has shown them to be almost uncannily in step.

"Well, it does seem that Fergus and myself do see things on a similar line," Regan reflects. "I suppose that's probably the secret to the whole thing. I mean, we've had very few arguments in our time, 20 years or whatever it is now. Very few. The racing is his forte, he really knows how to spot these horses coming along. I love the farm side, the yearlings and everything, so we each have our different angles that seem to fit well. We've been very lucky."

Their friendship goes right back to the Irish National Stud course, a launchpad shared by countless horsemen of their generation. Back then, however, Regan was still adamant that he would eventually follow in the footsteps of his father, Tady, who trained under both codes on the Curragh.

"I only did a small bit of the stud scene at home," Regan notes. "And though my father had managed a stud way back when, he was training after that. So yes, definitely, even when I first came over here I always thought I'd be doing the same."

After learning the ropes with his father, Regan went to that most exacting of finishing schools, Coolcullen.

"Jim Bolger was a hard taskmaster, but very fair, and I really enjoyed it down there," Regan says. "I was there when we had five winners on [Irish] Derby Day, including St. Jovite. And I used to ride a horse called Blue Judge that ran second in the English Derby. Afterwards I remember Dave Downey coming out into the yard and saying, 'Adrian Regan, that's the last time you'll be riding that horse!' I was living with Pat O'Donovan, and he was a real mentor. Great times, and there were great people there."

Indeed, even by the standards of the Bolger academy, it was an extraordinary payroll at the time: Tony McCoy, Paul Carberry, Ted Durcan, Richie Galway. But Regan stood out sufficiently, over his three years there, to be entrusted with traveling horses to France and England; and years later, Bolger sent his American mares into Regan's care at a farm he was managing prior to the foundation of Hunter Valley.

Sir Mark Prescott | Emma Berry

There would be a similar proof of hard-earned but lasting esteem from Regan's next boss, Sir Mark Prescott, who four or five years ago asked him to sell a mare for him at Keeneland.

"I was only a short while with Sir Mark," Regan recalls. "In hindsight, I was probably a little young going over there. But he gave me plenty of tips and education, and had no problem sending me off to saddle here and there."

From these masters of the old school in Europe, Regan proceeded--via a first Kentucky stint with compatriot Pdraig Campion--to a very different brand, in the barn of Bob Baffert.

“I was very lucky,” he says. “Eoin [Harty] was assistant at the time, and taught me plenty. Bob was good to me, too, but had a lot on his plate: we had Silver Charm, Indian Charlie, Real Quiet. The one thing that stood out to me was that when they went over to the track in the afternoon, there were very few surprises. They had a great gauge on their horses. Though Indian Charlie had won the Santa Anita Derby, everyone knew that he was going to have his hands full with Real Quiet.”

Yet it was at Del Mar that Regan began to question his vocation.

“Everybody was up at 4 a.m., whether you were Bob or only had three horses,” he reflects. “And I just thought to myself, ‘Now, what are my chances of becoming Bob Baffert? Do I really want to be getting up at 4 a.m. the rest of my life to train a dozen horses?’”

He talked it over with his father, and agreed that he should probably have another look at the breeding side. It was hard for the old man, who had set his heart on handing over his stable someday. But it is not as though the racetrack years were wasted: on the contrary, unlike so many bloodstock professionals today, Regan has thrived precisely because he never cut the thread between sales ring and winner’s circle.

“No doubt about it,” he agrees. “Having an understanding of what goes on at the track is definitely an advantage. Especially when it comes to choosing and prepping yearlings, though there’s a big difference in what they look for here. Height is a big thing, obviously, though what they really won’t live with-- compared with Europe--is any amount of slackness in the pasterns.”

Galvin, well established in the Bluegrass through service with Pin Oak, Newgate and Coolmore, was actually the first person Regan rang about potential openings in Kentucky. He duly made an introduction to get Regan a foothold; and then another member of the Irish diaspora, Pat Costello, alerted him to the vacancy he was about to create at the Stiltz family’s Crescent Hill Farm.

“You got paid as you brought in clients,” Regan recalls. “I didn’t think I was experienced enough, but Pat wouldn’t hear any of it. ‘Don’t worry about that,’ he said. ‘I’ll fill the place and you’ll learn as you go.’ And it was a great crash course: how to deal with clients, how to hustle, everything like that. And I was very lucky that Tom Riddle was the vet. It must have been frustrating for him at times, having to deal with this greenhorn, but he was fantastic.”

By the time the Stiltz family sold up, three or four years later, Galvin also happened to find himself at a crossroads. They had a bit of a night out, with their Chicago construction buddies John Wade and Tony Hegarty, and somehow came out the other end not just with a hangover but with a life-changing plan.

“The lads were looking for a bit of land down here,” Regan recalls. “While myself and Fergus didn’t have enough money to buy a fencepost. So they gave us the opportunity to buy our way in, over time. To be honest, it’s just one of these really good American stories. We’re all equal partners now. But without the two boys, Hunter Valley would never have happened.” Cont.

Having bought the old Golden Gate Stud, 10 minutes from Keeneland, they famously landed running when buying a Johannesburg weanling privately from his breeder. The first yearling consigned under the Hunter Valley banner at the 2005 September Sale made $250,000 from Todd Pletcher, and turned out to be none other than Scat Daddy.

“It was a great start but, look, we didn’t get ahead of ourselves either,” Regan says. “Because we knew that this wasn’t going to happen every year. But we’ve sort of kept saying that, every year! Somehow it’s just kept getting progressively better. In fairness to Fergus, he was very good at spotting fillies with upside, and we did a good bit of the claiming game, and a certain amount of foal pinhooking, which I always loved.

The late Scat Daddy | Coolmore

“We’ve known Stephen Hillen a long time and, sharp as he is, he’s been a big help. He brought David Redvers over pinhooking, many moons ago. And David introduced us to Sheikh Fahad. So we’ve been very lucky with the people we’ve met, and what it’s led to.”

And what it has led to--between pinhooks and homebreds, partnerships and clients, in all a couple of hundred horses selling through their drafts annually--is action all the way.

“It really is,” Regan acknowledges. “But I like all aspects, and the way it changes. I love the breeding season, but at the end of it, you’re ready for a change, and then you’re prepping the yearlings. That would be my favorite bit. Those babies that improve in prep, they really recharge your batteries.”

“That was just as we were about to breathe a bit, and so we were right back under pressure again,” Regan says. “But it was worth doing. You have to pinch yourself, what it’s become. You just go out there every morning and think, ‘It’s only Hunter Valley, just get on with it!’

“The sales have turned into a bit of a beauty pageant, haven’t they, and we’re always looking for the under-furnished horses, instead of paying top dollar. We let the foals do their own thing. If they’re coming and they’re ready, we go to November. If they need a bit of time, we wait. But I think we do a good job producing them for the sales.”

He stresses the partners’ debt to manager Edwyn Kiely and the rest of their team. The business is obviously not without its frustrations--top of Regan’s list would be veterinary quibbles at the sales--but year after year you can set your clock by Hunter Valley, whether as breeders, consignors or buyers. Yet Regan, like so many other horsemen, offers no short cuts beyond the customary indispensables of diligence and luck.

“But also Tony and John,” he emphasizes. “They trusted us to make the right decisions. I don’t know if that was very wise of them, at the time, but they did. At the end of the day, and I know you hear it off everybody, we have been very lucky from the start.”

As for the sweat equity required to capitalize on that luck, that was always guaranteed--whether as an Irish expatriate, or as a son of Tady Regan.

“My father was a very hard worker and, without any bullying, that was always his mentality with us too,” Regan says. “I first came here when those Morrison visas came about, and said it would only be for a month. But I never went home. I do think that broke my father’s heart a bit, but there were just more chances out here--chances of promotion, chances to do your own thing.”

He emphasizes that the best American chance of all introduced him to his wife Kimberley; while he would never have made it over here at all, but for his mother Maire’s insistence that he persevere at school until gaining his Leaving Certificate. Without that, he would have been ineligible for a visa.

And actually that family work ethic brings us full circle, back to his brother. Because while Jarlath made a shorter emigration, to London, the key to his own successful career, as comedian and Irishman Abroad podcaster, has been no different.

“That entertainment business, it’s not everything people might imagine,” Regan says. “Jarlath went to England and drove everywhere, coming back middle of the night, night after night. And we think we work hard? But for me, that’s also been the common denominator for a lot of the Irish over here. From an early stage, just listening to the first generation that had come over, that seemed to be the word that filtered through: work hard, and you’ll be rewarded.”

He will be spearheading the effort to create what many feel will be a new and improved Maryland racing industry.

Johnsen sat down with the TDN to discuss his role and his vision for Maryland racing.

TDN: What will be the structure of the MTROA and what is your role?

CJ: I'm the interim CEO of the Maryland Thoroughbred Racetrack Operating Authority or the MTROA. I came on board around Apr. 1 and have a one-year agreement. If necessary, I will stay around as long as the Board of Directors wants me to. The governing body will be the MTROA. There will be a board of directors and they will form a non-profit horse industry group much like you see at NYRA, Keeneland and Del Mar. It will take the form of something along those lines. They will be the operating entity as of Jan. 1, 2025 for racing at Pimlico and Laurel.

TDN: What prompted you agree to take this job?

CJ: Horse racing has been really good to me and my family. I love the sport. I love the participants in the sport. This gives me an opportunity to give back to Thoroughbred racing. That was my sole motivation. The last five years, I have been busy with our racing and breeding interests with CJ Thoroughbreds. We also have a non-profit public charity called Hope 4 All. We're in the middle of a lot of exciting projects with that.

TDN: What are the time frames so far as when Pimlico will be torn down and when will it re-open. And where will the Preakness be run during the transition?

CJ: We are in the process of having a number of meetings. We anticipate demolition to begin sometime this year. It will include most of the stable area and the condemned part of the grandstand. Three barns, the Preakness barn and the existing major piece of the grandstand will remain for the 150th running of the Preakness. It's very important that we will hold the race at Pimlico. As soon as that's over, then the entire site will be demolished and rebuilt. The 2026 Preakness will be at Laurel as well as regular racing. The goal is to have the Preakness back at Pimlico in 2027.

TDN: One of your biggest accomplishments in the sport was introducing Historical Horse Racing Machines to Kentucky Downs, which led to the Kentucky tracks offering astronomical purses. Do you see the Maryland tracks getting HHR machines?

CJ: My role involves the racing part of it and not the legislative and regulatory affairs part of it. So I'm not the most educated person to answer that question. We're moving forward with no plans for HHR machines. We want Maryland racing to be able to stand on its own. That's our goal as we move forward.

TDN: Do you anticipate making a lot of personnel changes?

CJ: The Stronach Group has been very helpful in the transition. (Acting President of the Maryland Jockey Club) Mike Rogers is a long-time friend of mine and Mike and his team do a very good job of operating racing in Maryland. This is a really competent, hard-working team that takes pride in what they do. There is a really good core group of people that are operating the Maryland Jockey Club. Any staffing decisions would involve just a handful of people and that's yet to be determined. We have so much on our plate right now, everything from dotting the i's and crossing the t's with some of the closing documents to working with architects and working with the Maryland Stadium Authority on demolition and construction schedules and working with the Maryland Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association. There is a lot going on right now. The staffing piece of it will be further down the road.

TDN: In many areas of the business, there is a consensus that Maryland racing would be better off with fewer racing dates. Where do things stand on that issue and what might a future racing schedule look like?

CJ: We have a very good relationship with the horsemen here. I'm trying to be a good listener. I think they would tell you there needs to be some reduction in dates. The other part of that is to have a thriving breeding industry and there does need to be a year-round place to train. Cont.

Pimlico | MJC

What that ultimately will look like is hard to tell. It's balancing the profitability of the racing operation with the needs of the breeding industry. The Maryland Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association is well aware of the financial situation. We've also had great conversations with the Maryland breeders. There's going to be a balancing act and I believe that going forward there will be fewer racing dates compared to what will be offered in 2024. How much? It's really hard to say now. I think those decisions will be made in September and October. I am really impressed with the Maryland Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association and their willingness to communicate and to be team players and work with all aspects of racing and breeding in Maryland.

TDN: One possible solution to the dates issue could be joining forces with another track, say Delaware Park, to form a circuit. What are your thoughts on that?

CJ: There have been some discussions on that and they are on-going. It's a little bit early as we move towards the final closing on this deal. Whether we shut down in June, July or August, there are two things that are very important. We will have to make sure that the average purse size is at a certain level. The second one is to make sure the turf course rejuvenates. Those are two major issues there that everybody needs to analyze.

TDN: 1/ST Racing is apparently going to retain the rights to the Preakness for a few years. Can you fill us in on those details?

CJ: The Stronach Group will present the Preakness in 2025 and 2026 and our organization will be a support group to that effort, somewhat similar to what happens with the Breeders' Cup. Beginning in 2027, our group will have the entire responsibility for the Preakness.

TDN: Because Pimlico is not large enough to contain the entire population of Maryland horses and because Laurel will be closed, opening a new training center is a must. Where do things stand with that?

CJ: It's now moving forward. There are things to deal with like water and sewer lines, land costs and land availability. We need to make sure we have enough land to provide the green space for our horses and we need to make sure we have housing for the stable area workers. It's complicated. I would imagine within the next few months an announcement will be made. One other thing we need to recognize is that we have a wonderful facility in Fair Hill. How that will fit in, I'm not sure. I would be hopeful that we could utilize it in some way that will improve racing in Maryland.

TDN: For the first time in a long time, it looks like the future is bright for the Maryland racing industry. Surely, you agree.

CJ: There's a lot of blue sky ahead. We have $400 million to revitalize the industry. There is a great spirit of cooperation and there is a lot of communication. That's the reason I accepted this position. This is a game-changer for Maryland racing. The citizens of Maryland want this to be successful. They want Pimlico to be rebuilt. They want the Preakness to be great again. We're here to fulfill that promise. We have a charismatic leader in Governor Wes Moore and he's been very clear that he wants this to benefit the citizens of Maryland, he wants it to benefit Baltimore, he wants it to benefit the Park Heights neighborhood and he wants it to benefit the horse industry. That's our task, to make that happen.

Q&A WITH INGLIS DIGITAL USA'S LIZA HENDRIKS

With the announcement that the Australian auction house Inglis has expanded into America after purchasing a majority share in the Thoroughbred auction company Wanamaker's, the TDN sat down with Wanamaker's co-founder Liza Hendriks, who will stay on as CEO of the company, to discuss the rebrand to Inglis Digital USA.

Q: Could you give us a little backstory on how the rebrand came about?

A: When I was part of Godolphin Flying Start four and a half years ago, I was in Australia and I saw how well the online auctions were working there. It was how I decided to start Wanamaker's when I finished Flying Start.

I was down at the Inglis Easter sale two years ago and I got to meet their team. From there, we kept in touch and the partnership worked seamlessly for both parties. Inglis wanted to expand because their online auctions have been working so well there. They purchased a majority share of Wanamaker's. I had previously been the sole owner.

Inglis has such an incredible and historic brand. They've been running auctions for over 150 years and they've been running digital sales for nearly eight years. They're grossing over 90 million Australian dollars a year in digital sales, so they are very experienced and it has been great to be able to have them share their experience on things that have worked well and things that have not worked so well.

Q: How does the digital market in Australia differ from here in the U.S.?

A: They tend to be a little ahead of the curve in terms of technology throughout the industry. Digital sales have worked very well for them with being able to trade proven horses, broodmares and broodmare prospects throughout the year. Everyone there has gotten really comfortable with it and they sell over 300 horses every two weeks. In the past couple sales, they've listed over 500 every two weeks, so it's definitely still growing there.

Another huge benefit that the Australian industry has seen is that it adds liquidity throughout the year with their sellers. They have been able to then reinvest that money into other horses, typically keeping it within the industry.

A: Who will the team for this new venture be comprised of?

I have stayed on as CEO and Kyle Wilson is the senior director of sales and recruitment. He also did Flying Start so we're excited to have him on board. He will be heading up client relationships because while it is an online sale, we want to make sure that we still have great in-person relationships and build a trustworthy brand. Kelly Brophrey is the director of sales operations. She will be running everything with the sales process from entering to helping with questions that come up with buyers or sellers during the sale. We've set up an office in Lexington as well and will be based there.

Q: What type of buyer do you expect Inglis Digital USA to be geared toward?

A: The digital sales have worked best for proven racehorses and then fillies and mares with updates. It will be buyers that want to have immediate action on the track or want to build their broodmare band with fillies and mares that have active families. With Wanamaker's, we've seen a horse sell and then a day later it was entered in Saratoga and ran that weekend. There is such a demand for racehorses right now and this gives buyers the benefit of being able to run right away.

Q: For sellers, will there be any upgrades or changes they should expect with the rebrand?

A: We will charge 5% commission on sales, 3.5% on sales $100,000 or more and still no commission on RNAs.

This will be aimed toward sellers who want to capitalize on recent results or if they have a filly or mare that has a big update throughout the year. We've seen with Wanamaker's and should continue to see that it adds so much liquidity and transparency to the market. Rather than trying to trade privately throughout the year, it can be online and the price can be transparent with the vetting and everything else that comes with the sales process. Cont.

Q: Since Wanamaker's was launched in 2020, how have you seen the digital space change in America specifically?

A: We've seen buyers and sellers get more used to trading throughout the year, whether it's buying or selling a broodmare outside of the typical season or selling horses of all ages. We can have more immediate sales rather than relying on public sales throughout the year.

Another trend that we've seen is that the barrier to entry for racing has gotten lower because sometimes if a new owner goes to a sales ground they can get intimidated with how everything is working and flowing, wondering if they have to have an agent or how to vet a horse. With having all the information online publicly, we've seen new owners come into the sport. We have been able to help connect them with people and they're able to just hop on and buy a horse straightaway.

Q: What do you think sets Wanamaker's and now Inglis Digital USA apart from other auction houses, both public and digital?

A: We have a whole team dedicated solely to online sales. I think that's a great benefit. We're focused on online sales and not holding any horses back for a physical sale.

Without having to go to a physical sale, racehorses don't have to leave the track and be out of training. Broodmares don't have to have that biosecurity risk of being exposed to the sales ground. If they're in foal or have a foal by their side, you limit the risk of exposure. They can stay right where they are and sometimes they stay at the farm where they were going to foal anyways.

Q: Are there any other changes that buyers and sellers should expect with Inglis Digital USA going forward?

A: We are adding an assistant to verify all vendors and set bidding limits. With our announcement, we will also have people register and request a bidding limit.

We should be able to globalize quickly and market to all different areas of the world as well. If we have a racehorse or broodmare that looks like it could be marketable down in Australia, Inglis will help with their contacts. We hope to attract buyers worldwide, from South America, Europe and the Middle East.

JUST STEEL UNDERGOES SUCCESSFUL SURGERY FOR CONDYLAR FRACTURE

Just Steel | Coady Media

Just Steel (Justify), who sustained a condylar fracture of his right front fetlock during Saturday's GI Preakness S., has had successful surgery at the Rood & Riddle Equine Hospital in Lexington, Kentucky, according to a post from Light Up Racing on X yesterday.

The surgery was performed by Dr. Larry Bramlage, who appeared in a video on the post.

"We're here with Just Steel this morning; this is the morning after his surgery," said Bramlage, in the video shot Wednesday. "He's doing really well. He has a somewhat unusual fracture in that it's not just a straight line, it's shaped like an upside down Y so it has a V-shaped piece at the joint surface that we had to trap between two pieces of bone, but the surgery went really well. We put two screws in but he walked out of surgery sound after we walked him in lame, so that's generally a good sign. He's still sound this morning. We're not out of the woods for two months, because we have to see how that piece of bone heals but this is a really good start and we're happy with where we are today."

In the video, Just Steel is shown walking back and forth in the barn without any visible lameness.

Just Steel was fifth in the Preakness behind his stablemate Seize the Grey (Arrogate).

SOPHIE DOYLE BACK IN THE SADDLE

Sophie Doyle and GISW Street Band | Sarah Andrew

Jockey Sophie Doyle, who has been serving as the regular exercise rider for 14th-place GI Kentucky Derby finisher Epic Ride (Blame), returned to riding in the afternoon at Churchill Downs Sunday with an eighth-place finish aboard Sweet Mo B (Complexity) in Race 2, a maiden special weight. It was her first Churchill mount since having her first child, a daughter named Emilie, almost two years ago.

Doyle began breezing horses for trainer Chris Davis, her fiancé, three months after her daughter's birth and returned to professional afternoon riding earlier this spring on a limited basis. She has tallied two wins from 13 starts in 2024. Based in America since 2014, Doyle's biggest previous wins have included the 2019 GI Cotillion S. with Street Band (Istan).

"It's wonderful to be back here at Churchill Downs," said Doyle. "It's been almost two years since I've been back riding here. It was the first place I won a race when I began my career in North America and having Emilie beside me makes it even more special."

Doyle is next named on the Trudy Velnot-trained You Make Me Happy (Firing Line) in Saturday's 8th race at Churchill, a seven-furlong allowance. She will also be riding throughout the week at Belterra Park and Presque Isle Downs.

INTELLECT SOLD, BOUND FOR AMERICA AND TRAINER CHAD BROWN

Listed winner Intellect (Fr) (Intello {Ger}) has been sold and left French shores for America on May 22, the Jour de Galop reported on Thursday. The deal was brokered by Hubert Guy.

The 3-year-old colt, bred by Ecurie Michel Sardou, has never been worse than fourth in nine starts for Sophie, Antonia, and trainer Henri-Francois Devin. A three-time winner from six to seven furlongs, he landed the Listed Prix du Pont Neuf in front-running fashion over the latter distance at ParisLongchamp on Apr. 25.

Intellect | Scoop Dyga

Out of winning Iffraaj (GB) mare Caldera (Ire), the bay was offered by Haras du Quesnay at the Arqana December Breeding Stock Sale, and made €20,000 as a foal on the bid of AGB Agency and Henri-Francois Devin. His third dam is the G2 Prix de l'Opera heroine Clodora (Fr) (Linamix {Fr}), herself the dam of G1 Poule d'Essai des Poulains hero and sire Clodovil (Ire) (Danehill). Thursday's G3 Prix Hocquart victor Calandagan (Ire) (Gleneagles {Ire}) is also a great grandson of Clodora.

AFTER THE RACES AND RETIRED RACEHORSE PROJECT SPLIT WINNINGS IN RESOLUTE POKER TOURNAMENT

A pair of winners, After the Races and the Retired Racehorse Project, opted to split the winnings of the Resolute Racing's Poker For Ponies Tournament held in the lead up to the GI Kentucky Derby earlier this month. Hosted by the Louisville Thoroughbred Society May 1, the tournament invited players to pledge winnings to one of 20 pre-selected Thoroughbred aftercare organizations. Jimmy Gladwell and Gavin O'Connor each tied for the win and earned $32,500 apiece for their two respective organizations.

“Support from the racing industry has played a vital role in making our work possible,” said At The Races Founder and Director Bonnie McRae. “Thank you, John Stewart, for your vision and initiative to be part of the aftercare process, and of course to Gavin for playing hard on behalf of our organization. Your actions have made an impact.”

RRP Executive Director Kirsten Green added: “The RRP is honored to have been selected as a beneficiary of the Poker For Ponies tournament amongst many other worthy aftercare organizations, and we are proud to share in the winning outcome with After the Races.”

3rd-Thistledown, $31,400, Alw, 5-23, (NW4L), 3yo/up, f/m, 6f, 1:11.62, ft, 1/2 length.

OUTSPOKEN (f, 3, Violence--Melody Lady {SW}, by Unbridled's Song) broke her maiden on her fifth attempt under new trainer Tim Hamm at Mahoning Valley in late February. The filly then switched to Patricia Trimble and cleared an allowance condition over the same surface Mar. 20. Heading back to Hamm's shedrow, the gray won at the next allowance level just eight days later. As the 3-5 choice here, Outspoken trailed up the backstretch, but she began to get going before the far turn. Poking her head in front, the 3-year-old was challenged by Lofthouse (Frosted) in the final jumps, but she was able to get the job done by a half length. The winner is a full-sister to Volatile, GISW, $341,040 and Buy Sell Hold, SW & GSP, $125,520. Melody Lady is responsible for a 2-year-old colt by Into Mischief and a yearling colt by Gun Runner. She was bred to Flightline for this term. Outspoken's second dam, MGISW Lady Tak (Mutakddim), also produced Japanese stakes winner A Shin Spartan (Zensational) and SW Casual (Curlin). Sales History: $300,000 Ylg '22 KEESEP. AU PARADIS (c, 4, Quality Road--Wonderful {Ire}, by Galileo {Ire}), a well-beaten fifth at Tampa Bay in mid-February, was fourth over the same turf course Mar. 20. As a 5-2 shot here, the colt went head-to-head to the inside of Work Hard (Audible) after the bell, and the pair continued their battle up the backstretch. Entering the lane, the 4-year-old gained the upper hand and was able to seal the deal by 3/4 of a length. The winner's dam produced a colt named Wonderfinn (Justify), who is now a 3-year-old, and current yearling filly by Not This Time. Wonderful foaled a filly by Munnings Mar. 5. Au Paradis's female family includes GI Breeders' Cup Turf hero Magician (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) and MGSW Masteroffoxhounds (War Front). DYNAMISM (f, 4, Uncle Mo--Afleeting Lady {MGSW, $473,526}, by Afleet Alex) debuted with a runner-up effort at Laurel Park in mid-March prior to a third while trying two turns at Keeneland Apr. 17. Entered for the main track only, the homebred raced behind Liffey (Cairo Prince), who showed the way into the first turn. Losing a spot up the backstretch, the 3-5 choice launched her bid around the far turn and tipped to the outside of the pacesetter before the top of the lane and drove to the wire, winning by 4 3/4 lengths. Dynamism has a 3-year-old full-sister named Phantasmical and a yearling half-sister by Into Mischief. Afleeting Lady is herself a half-sister to GI Alabama S. heroine Lady Joanne (Orientate) and GI Preakness S. victor Shackelford (Forestry). Sales History: $285,000 RNA Ylg '21 KEESEP. COTILLARD (f, 2, Temple City--Duel Fool, by U S Ranger) debuted in fifth place at Keeneland Apr. 26. Given a 7-1 shot here, the filly chased a pair of runners who were dueling on the front end up the backstretch. Building up a head of steam around the far turn, the 2-year-old ranged up on the pacesetters, swept by them with a furlong left and won by three lengths over Reining Flowers (Midnight Storm). The 8-5 choice here was squeezed by three others around the first turn, which forced him to be taken back into the second flight. Looking to re-rally around the far turn, the 3-year-old found his best stride to the outside with a sixteenth left and was up by half a length over Beckster (Audible). The winner is a half-brother to Over Emphasize (Overanalyze), MGSP, $109,745, and Allannah (Scat Daddy), the dam of GSW Reincarnate (Good Magic). INTERNATIONAL FLAVOUR TO TATTS IRELAND AS CONSIGNORS BID TO END YEAR ON HIGH

Andy Lo Chung-Yin: shopping for the Hong Kong market at Tattersalls Ireland | Brian Sheerin

By Brian Sheerin

The talk on the breeze-up circuit this year has been dominated by poor clearance rates combined with a record number of private sales, an ever-increasing polarisation to the market and a Houdini-like disappearing act by the middle tier buyers.

So what has the mood been like on the eve of what is widely considered to be the final big breeze-up sale in Europe at Tattersalls Ireland? Pretty good actually.

This sale has almost always been operating in its own realm--you never know who you are going to see here.

FIRST BLACK TYPE WINNER FOR SERGEI PROKOFIEV By Tom Frary

Whitsbury Manor Stud's first-season sire Sergei Prokofiev (by Scat Daddy) continued his electric start to the campaign, with his daughter Enchanting Empress (GB) providing his first black-type winner in the Listed Orbital Veterinary Services National S. at Sandown on Thursday evening. Representing Amo Racing and Giselle De Aguiar, the Dominic Ffrench Davis trainee who had won at Wolverhampton on debut before following up in the Royal Ascot Two-Year-Old Trial EBF Conditions S. at the start of the month tracked the leaders early before starting her run inside the final two furlongs.

In front passing the furlong marker, the 62,000gns Tattersalls Somerville Yearling Sale graduate forged ahead under David Egan to beat Rock Hunter (GB) (Expert Eye {GB}) by half a length at odds of 4-1. "She's a tough filly, she just got herself out of trouble as she sat back in the stalls a little bit and missed the kick," trainer Dominic Ffrench Davis explained. "We always thought she was an Albany filly, but I think we're leaning now towards the Queen Mary because she's got sharper with every run. It should be ideal, David was very much of the mind that five furlongs at Ascot was going to be fine.

"She's got a fantastic attitude, she hadn't done a lot between her last run and Ascot and here and she was actually a bit fresh today. She took a bit of waking up in her first run, but I think she knows what it's all about now." Cont. p13

Take Andy Lo Chung-Yin for example. Here is a man who sourced the Hong Kong Derby winner Broadhurst (Ire) (No Nay Never)--now Massive Sovereign--in his first year acting as an agent. He's here at Fairyhouse hunting for his next big signing for the Hong Kong market and says he has been impressed by the stock on show.

"This sale has produced some very good runners in Hong Kong," he explained. "There are three or four high-class runners in Hong Kong. Taj Dragon (Ire) (Mehmas {Ire}) is a really good horse and won again at Sha Tin last week. Then you have Fallon (Ire) (Galileo Gold {GB}), who is a nice young horse to look forward to as well. Both of those horses were sold at this sale by Tally-Ho Stud."

There are not many guys who decide to quit their job in pursuit of their dream and hit the jackpot with their very first pull of the lever. But that's essentially what Chung-Yin did when, after leaving his role in the banking sector, bought Hong Kong Derby winner Massive Sovereign in a private deal from Coolmore.

Chung-Yin will be shopping this week for other Hong Kong-based clients but credits Chan Kam Hung, the owner of Massive Sovereign, for providing him with a leg up in the industry.

The young agent said, "To be fair, that was a big risk for me but I am very lucky that my owner believed in me and believed in the horse that I wanted to buy him. I am friends with Mr Chan's son and, usually, I am not the guy who pushes horses on people. I am not the agent that gives you a hard sell. But, with Massive Sovereign, I told Mr Chan that we needed to buy that horse. I went to his office and we had a good conversation. He understood the amount of effort I was putting into my new job and he took a chance. Thankfully it worked out."

He added, "I would be a very picky agent because I prefer to buy the right horse rather than just filling the order. I mean, I haven't even bought a single horse since winning the Derby in Hong Kong. That is partly why I am here. I tried to buy at Arqana but didn't hit the target so, given Tattersalls Ireland has produced some very good horses in Hong Kong, I said I would try to come here instead. Hopefully we can find the right horse this week. There are some very nice colts here and I will be looking at a few form horses as well while I am in Ireland."

Chung-Yin might be a new face at Tattersalls Ireland but Paul Harley, the company's representative for Germany and Scandinavia, has a deep understanding as to what a lot of clients want from this sale. Harley himself has done a lot of business at this breeze-up sale down through the years. He hopes to be active again when things kick off at 10am on Friday morning and shared a genuine optimism about what trade will bring in between post-breeze inspections on Thursday. Cont. p4

He said, "The Scandinavians feel very welcome here and they love this sale. Exporting is much more straightforward for the Scandinavians and, not only that, but they have had a lot of success shopping in Ireland. There are a lot of people here. Alex Cairns, of Irish Thoroughbred Marketing, does a lot of work in attracting foreign investors to this sale and told me that we have 22 Scandinavian buyers here. I think there are a couple of German buyers as well. To be fair, we would have a lot of clients at different levels this week and hope to be busy."

Tattersalls Ireland has traditionally had a strong cohort of buyers from Scandinavia and Italy but, if there is an area that has been developing in recent times, perhaps that is Eastern Europe.

Just last year, the European Pattern Committee upgraded Poland's flagship race, the Wielka Warszawska, to Listed status. One of the leading trainers in that nation, Maciej [pronounced Magic] Kacprzyk stated his intention not to leave Fairyhouse empty handed.

He said, "I think Ireland offers the best quality horses and value for money in Europe. What I love about Ireland is that they have excellent sires but also a lot of horses by some new sires who could also be very good. We are also buying in France but France is much more expensive than Ireland. After Brexit, I decided not to go to Britain. Okay, from Ireland it is expensive to travel the horses home but it is a lot easier than from Britain."

Kacprzyk added, "We are going to buy two or three horses this week and have a decent budget as well. For Poland, we are not searching for typical two-year-old types. We want mile-plus horses so that's what I am looking for this week."

A trip to Tattersalls Ireland wouldn't be complete without a chat with the Thistle brothers or, to afford them their correct title, the Shinnick brothers who couldn't have wished for a better start to the consigning ranks when selling a Make Believe (GB) filly for €170,000 here last year.

The boys came out with the brilliant line that the filly "looked fast going past thistles" after the sale 12 months ago and are back again with a speedy Arizona (Ire) filly who showed up well on all of the times sheets and appears to be going down well with many of the top buyers.

John Shinnick said, "We only gave 20 grand for this filly. She has been galloping around the same field of thistles as the last one so it's obviously working! It's a good thrill. It's a great buzz when you get one ready for the breeze-up sale because it's not simple. There is only one date and so much can go wrong so, when it works out, it's some buzz."

While John, 22, is a talented dual-purpose rider who has partnered many winners on the track, his brother Andy, 27, keeps the show going at home.

He concluded, "I do all the dirty work--riding out in the rain and things like that! This is only our second year at it but we're really enjoying it and we are learning from Blarney Holland, who is one of the best in the game. He's only five minutes down the road from us in Cork and has been a massive help.

"We've seen loads of lads buy horses and lose a load of money so we were conscious of that when we sold the filly last year and then we didn't go mad at the yearling sales. Thankfully this filly breezed well and she seems to be going down okay. There are plenty of people here so hopefully all goes well tomorrow."

SWEET WILLIAM WINS THE HENRY II

By Tom Frary

Relishing the soft ground at Sandown on Thursday evening, Normandie Stud's homebred Sweet William (Ire) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) battled to a breakthrough black-type win in the G3 Chasemore Farm Henry II S. Fitted with a visor for the first time as the Gosdens sought to unlock that bit extra following placings in the Ebor H., G2 Doncaster Cup, G2 British Champions Long Distance Cup and G3 Sagaro S., the 5-2 second favourite was happy to wait in behind before being cajoled closer by Robert Havlin in the straight. Wearing down the 15-8 market-leader Caius Chorister (Fr) (Golden Horn {GB}) in the last half a furlong, he asserted for a head verdict to end his run of near-misses.

"He didn't really travel for most of the race, but the further we went, the more he came on the bridle," Havlin said. "He's not really got that much of a turn of foot, so I don't know how much he's actually had in the tank there but he's very talented. I think the further he goes, the better he goes. He's untested beyond two miles but for me, I definitely think he'll get two and a half miles." Cont. p5

Henry II cont.Pedigree Notes

Sweet William is the third foal out of the listed scorer Gale Force (GB) (Shirocco {Ger}), whose first was Frankel's listed-placed Frankel's Storm (GB) and second was the sire's G1 Irish Derby, G1 St Leger and G1 Grand Prix de Paris hero Hurricane Lane (Ire). A half-sister to the G1 British Champions Fillies & Mares S. winner Seal Of Approval (GB) (Authorized {Ire}), she is connected to Sea The Stars' Derby and Irish Derby winner Harzand (Ire) and Emily Upjohn (GB), another British Champions Fillies & Mares heroine who also captured the G1 Coronation Cup. Unsurprisingly, Gale Force was sent back to Frankel and has a yearling colt as a result, while her 2024 progeny is a daughter of Dubawi (Ire).

ROYAL RHYME BEST IN THE BRIGADIERGERARD By Tom Frary

Sandown's G3 Chasemore Farm Brigadier Gerard S. has proven hit-and-miss as a guide to the upcoming boutique events of the British Flat season and Thursday's edition was on the underwhelming side despite the win of the hot favourite Royal Rhyme (Ire) (Lope De Vega {Ire}). Boasting the only unexposed profile in the four-runner affair which featured no habitual Stoute improver or anything from the grand houses of Newmarket or Lambourn, Sheikh Mohammed Obaid Al Maktoum's homebred who had finished fifth in the G1 Champion S. was held up way off the pace set by the filly Miss Cantik (Fr) (Recoletos {Fr}).

Needing to be shaken up by Clifford Lee to get to that 101-rated runner, who was beaten in a Leicester handicap last time, the 1-2 favourite had Certain Lad (GB) (Clodovil {Ire}) for company at the furlong pole and gradually asserted to score by a length. "My lad was only beaten five lengths in a Champion Stakes and can run like that in his first race of the season," the winning jockey said. "I'm sure Karl [Burke] and Sheikh Mohammed Obaid will have a plan. He's entitled to go for a good race, it just depends where."

Royal Rhyme | Getty Images

Pedigree Notes

Royal Rhyme, whose previous black-type success came in Ayr's Listed Doonside Cup in September, is out of Dubai Queen (Kingmambo) whose daughter Zabeel Queen {Ire} (Frankel {GB}) was third in the G2 May Hill S. The second dam is the G1 Oaks d'Italia heroine Zomaradah (GB) (Deploy {GB}), provider of the renowned Dubawi (Ire) and also the G2 Lancashire Oaks winner Emirates Queen (GB) (Street's Cry {Ire}), whose son Outbox (GB) (Frankel {GB}) recently took the G2 Jockey Club S. She is also responsible for the fellow Doonside Cup scorer Royal Champion (Ire) (Shamardal), who went on to finish runner-up in the G1 Canadian International. Dubawi Queen's unraced 3-year-old filly Esprit Queen (GB) is by Invincible Spirit (Ire), while she also has a 2-year-old full-sister to Zabeel Queen named filly Victoria Harbour (Ire).

CALADANGAN TOO GOOD IN THE HOCQUART

Calandagan | Scoop Dyga

By Sean Cronin

Francis Graffard incumbent Calandagan (Ire) (Gleneagles (Ire)-Calayana {Fr}, by Sinndar (Ire)), who notched a career best in last month's G3 Prix Noailles at ParisLongchamp, revisited the Bois de Boulogne venue to claim a second pattern-race success in Thursday's 11-furlong G3 Prix Hocquart.

Calandagan was steadied off the leader in fourth as familiar foe Trafalgar Square (Fr) (Kendargent {Fr}) set a moderate tempo up front. Nudged along to close with 500 metres remaining, the 1-2 favourite made continued headway under pressure to launch his bid passing the furlong marker and was not unduly troubled from there to subdue the long-time leader by a comfortable 1 3/4-length margin. Gestut Ittlingen's G3 Preis des Winterfavoriten runner-up Narrativo (Ger) (Adlerflug {GB}) fared best of the remainder and finished 3 1/2 lengths adrift in third.

"There is no doubt he has improved with every race and there is probably more room for improvement," the winning trainer said. "He was again a bit green in between horses, but quickened really well once into the clear. He is a horse I have always liked, but he was very difficult to train and manage in his early days. He has been nothing but perfect since we gelded him. Group 1 races are not for him now, so we have made an entry at Royal Ascot in the [12-furlong G2] King Edward VII. It looks ideal trip-wise and timing-wise."

Pedigree Notes

Calandagan is the second foal and leading performer from two winners produced by G3 Prix Minerve second Calayana (Fr) (Sinndar {Ire}), herself a granddaughter of Listed Prix Isola Bella runner-up Clodovina (Ire) (Rock Of Gibraltar {Ire}). Clodovina, the dam of GI Belmont Derby Invitational runner-up Canndal (Fr) (Medicean {GB}), is kin to G1 Poule d'Essai des Poulains-winning sire Clodovil (Ire) (Danehill), GSW GI Arlington Million third Colombian (Ire) (Azamour {Ire}) and to the dam of G1 SA Derby hero Aragosta (SAf) (Rafeef {Aus}). The January-foaled homebred bay is kin to a 2-year-old filly by New Bay (GB) and a yearling filly by Zarak (Fr).

ROSALLION HEADS EIGHT FOR THE IRISH 2,000 GUINEAS

Rosallion | Scoop Dyga

By Tom Frary

Sheikh Mohammed Obaid Al Maktoum's G1 2,000 Guineas runner-up Rosallion (Ire) (Blue Point {Ire}), trained by Richard Hannon, will face seven rivals, including a trio from Ballydoyle, in Saturday's G1 Tattersalls Irish 2,000 Guineas at the Curragh. Hannon also saddles the Guineas third Haatem (Ire) by the 2019 Irish 2,000 Guineas hero Phoenix Of Spain {Ire}, with Jamie Spencer due to link up with Sheikh Abdullah Almalek Alsabah's colt.

"They've both come out of Newmarket well and I'm happy with them," their trainer said on Thursday. "I'd like to think they are both going to The Curragh with great chances on their Newmarket runs and we just have to hope they travel over well and everything goes right for them, but we are looking forward to it. Both horses worked earlier in the week and pleased me and I'm hoping that the ground will stay as it is at the moment, as that would suit. It's good to be going back to The Curragh with two nice colts in a Guineas."

Bidding to become only the fifth English-trained runner to win since 2010, the year of the stable's Canford Cliffs (Ire) (Tagula {Ire}), last year's G1 Prix Jean-Luc Lagardere hero is likely to start favourite over the Aidan O'Brien-trained top-level performers River Tiber (Ire) (Wootton Bassett {GB}) and Unquestionable (Fr) (Wootton Bassett {GB}), both TDN Rising Stars.

Ryan Moore has opted for River Tiber, while Wayne Lordan is on Unquestionable and Declan McDonogh is set to partner the outsider of the Rosegreen contingent Mountain Bear (Ire) (No Nay Never), who was second to Unquestionable in last year's GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf. The field is completed by the Joseph O'Brien-trained Atlantic Coast (Ire) (Kodiac {GB}), the Andy Oliver-trained Listed Tetrarch S. winner Bright Stripes (Ire) (Starspangledbanner {Aus}) and Take Me To Church (Ire) (Churchill {Ire}), representing the Jack Davidson stable.

THE LOWDOWN: TATTERSALLS IRISH 2,000 GUINEAS

By Adam Houghton

Six-figure yearlings River Tiber and Unquestionable, both by Wootton Bassett, head the home defence in the first Classic of the Irish Flat season, but they face stern opposition from a pair of British raiders trained by Richard Hannon. Bargain-buy Haatem, from the first crop of the 2019 winner of this race, Phoenix Of Spain, ran a huge race when finishing third in the Newmarket equivalent, but he has work to do to reverse the form with Sheikh Mohammed Obaid Al Maktoum's homebred Rosallion, runner-up on the Rowley Mile and a short price to now become Blue Point's first Classic winner.

ATLANTIC COAST (IRE)

Kodiac (GB)--Liwa Palace (GB) (Oasis Dream {GB})

Pedigree/form notes: Though well beaten on his reappearance in the G3 Leopardstown 2,000 Guineas Trial S. last month, this colt had some smart form to his name as a two-year-old, notably winning the G3 Killavullan S.

A homebred from the Al Shira'aa Farms operation, Atlantic Coast is the first winner from two runners to date out of a mare who was Group 3-placed in Italy. His third dam is the G1 Fillies' Mile heroine Aqaarid (Nashwan), who later filled the runner-up spot in the G1 1,000 Guineas, while his fourth dam is the G1 Prix Marcel Boussac winner Ashayer (Lomond).

BRIGHT STRIPES (IRE)

Starspangledbanner (Aus)--Dutch Rose (Ire) (Dutch Art {GB})

Sales info: Bred by Diomed Bloodstock Ltd, he sold to trainer Andrew Oliver for 22,500gns at Tattersalls October Book 2.

Pedigree/form notes: Beaten just a nose by Atlantic Coast in last year's Killavullan S., he proved better than ever with his return to action under his belt when winning the Listed Tetrarch S. His Listed-placed dam has produced three winners from five runners to date, with the others including Sunsprite (Ire) (Kodiac {GB}), who also gained black type when finishing third in a Listed race at two. Cont. p8

Phoenix Of Spain (Ire)--Hard Walnut (Ire) (Cape Cross {Ire})

Sales info: Bred by John Bourke, he sold at Tattersalls October Book 2 for 27,000gns to Peter and Ross Doyle.

Pedigree/form notes: This colt returned this year with an impressive victory in the G3 Craven S. and then posted a solid effort in defeat when finishing third in the G1 2,000 Guineas. His dam won twice over six furlongs and is a descendant of Lady O'Reilly's G1 Phoenix S. runner-up Yara (Ire) (Sri Pekan).

MOUNTAIN BEAR (IRE)

No Nay Never--Holy Alliance (Ire) (Holy Roman Emperor {Ire})

Pedigree/form notes: Bred by Aidan and Annemarie O'Brien's Whisperview Trading Ltd, this colt progressed with racing last season but reportedly incurred an injury when last seen chasing home Unquestionable (Fr) in the G1 Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf. He is the sixth winner from as many runners out of his dam, with the others including the Group 3-placed Moon Daisy (Ire) (Australia {GB}). Holy Alliance herself was a three-race maiden and is a full-sister to the G3 Jersey S. winner and G1 Irish 1,000 Guineas runner-up Ishvana (Ire).

Unquestionable | Horsephotos

RIVER TIBER (IRE)

Wootton Bassett (GB)-- Transcendence (Ire) (Arcano {Ire})

Sales info: Offered by his breeders Pier House Stud at Tattersalls October Book 1, he sold to M. V. Magnier and White Birch Farm for 480,000gns.

Pedigree/form notes: This colt won his first three starts as a juvenile, including the G2 Coventry S., before ending the campaign with a pair of third-place finishes in the G1 Prix Morny and G1 Middle Park S.

River Tiber is the second foal and first winner out of his unraced dam, a half-sister to the multiple Listed winner and G2 Flying Childers S.-placed Mister Manannan (Ire) (Desert Style {Ire}). Another sibling by Desert Style (Ire), the Group 3-placed Shermeen (Ire), became a notable producer for Coolmore as the dam of the G1 Phoenix S. hero Sudirman (Henrythenavigator) and the Listed Dee S. winner Star Of India (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), among others.

ROSALLION (IRE)

Blue Point (Ire)--Rosaline (Ire) (New Approach {Ire})

Pedigree/form notes: A three-time winner as a juvenile, including the G1 Prix Jean-Luc Lagardere, Sheikh Mohammed Obaid Al Maktoum's homebred kicked off his three-year-old campaign with an excellent runner-up finish in the G1 2,000 Guineas. His unraced dam is out of the stellar broodmare Reem Three (GB) (Mark Of Esteem {Ire}), whose offspring also include the G1 Queen Anne S. winner Triple Time (GB) (Frankel {GB}) and the G1 Prix Jean Romanet heroine Ajman Princess (Ire) (Teofilo {Ire}).

TAKE ME TO CHURCH (IRE)

Churchill (Ire)--Chances Are (Ire) (Dandy Man {Ire})

Sales info: Bred by Magnell Limited, this colt didn't meet his reserve when reaching 20,000gns at the Tattersalls December Yearling Sale, before selling to Jack Davison Racing for €38,000 at the Tattersalls Ireland Goresbridge Breeze-Up Sale. A few months later he again failed to meet his reserve at 52,000gns at the Tattersalls Autumn Horses-in-Training Sale.

Pedigree/form notes: This colt won the valuable Madrid Handicap before finishing fourth in the G3 Leopardstown 2,000 Guineas Trial S. His dam is kin to the G2 Diadem S. and G3 Norfolk S. winner Baron's Pit (GB) (Night Shift) and to the dam of the dual Listed winner and G2 Al Fahidi Fort and G2 Al Rashidiya-placed Bravo Zolo (Ire) (Rip Van Winkle {Ire}).

UNQUESTIONABLE (FR)

Wootton Bassett (GB)--Strawberry Lace (GB) (Sea The Stars {Ire})

Sales info: Bred by Guillaume and Camille Vitse and their children Valentine and Axel, he was purchased by Mandore International for M. V. Magnier and Al Shaqab Racing at the Deauville Arqana August Sale for €340,000.

Pedigree/form notes: The G1 Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf winner is closely matched with a couple of his rivals on last year's form, beating stable-mate Mountain Bear (Ire) at Santa Anita, having previously filled the runner-up spot behind Rosallion (Ire) in the G1 Prix Jean-Luc Lagardere.

Unquestionable is the first winner from three runners out of his dam, a daughter of the Listed winner and G3 Sweet Solera S. runner-up Crying Lightning (Ire) (Holy Roman Emperor {Ire}). Crying Lightning's granddam is the GII Dahlia H. winner and GI Gamely H. third Didina (GB) (Nashwan). Descendants of Didina include the G1 Dubai Duty Free-winning sire Cityscape (GB) (Selkirk) and the G2 Temple S. victor and MG1SP sire Bated Breath (GB) (Dansili {GB}).

ECONOMICS RULED OUT OF DERBY RUN

Economics | Racingfotos.com

The six-length G2 Dante S. winner Economics (GB) (Night Of Thunder {Ire}) will not be supplemented for the Betfred Derby a week on Saturday with trainer William Haggas fearing the Classic test will come too soon.

The long-striding chestnut colt, owned by Isa Salman Al Khalifa, ran just once at two last November and returned in late April to win a Newbury maiden before heading to York on May 16.

Economics had been taken out of the Derby entries before the Dante but had been listed as second-favourite for Epsom behind City Of Troy with one final supplementary stage still available.

"I said before the Dante that I didn't think the Derby was the race for him and I stand by that," Haggas said on Thursday morning. "I'm not sure I want to go a mile and a half either, though that might change.

"We want to give him more time. Sheikh Isa has been very good and has been very supportive of me."

He added, "I've got no plans really. He's a great big horse and he's clearly a good one, and I don't want to milk him. We'll stay a mile and a quarter for now, and if he can win a Group 1 then that's great. We could look at the King George and the Arc next year."

LISTED-PLACED SHAINI SET FOR AUCTAV MAY SALE

Recent stakes-placed runner Shaini (Fr) (Goken {Fr}) (lot 2B) is one of the highlights of the select Auctav May Sale on Tuesday, May 28.

Set for 6-6:30 p.m. French time, the sale has six lots, with Shaini consigned by Ludovic Gadbin. The bay, out of the two-time winner Lingreville (Fr) (Le Havre {Ire}), was third in the Listed Derby du Languedoc at Toulouse earlier this week.

The other five lots are also horses-in-training under both codes, as well as one Standardbred. Three-year-old filly Never Leave (Fr) (Recoletos {Fr}) (lot 1), offered by Manon Scandella Lacaille, is another lot of note. She is from the family of multiple American graded winner Inesperado (Fr) (Zayyani {Ire}) and has placed in three starts.

MOSSY FEN PARK LEADS ON FINAL DAY OF GOFFS UK DONCASTER SPRING SALE

Mossy Fen Park topped Thursday's session | Goffs UK

After three days of selling, the Goffs UK Doncaster Spring Sale ended with horse-in-training Mossy Fen Park (Ire) (Walk In The Park {Ire}) (lot 721) topping Thursday's trade at £235,000.

Bought by Henry de Bromhead and Gerry Ahern, the 5-year-old gelding is a winner of both a point-to-point and a hurdle race, and he was second in the G2 Hardy Eustace Novice Hurdle at Fairyhouse on Mar. 31. A part of the Dullingham Park dispersal, the bay is related to a trio of stakes-winning jumpers, with Viking Flagship (Ire) (Viking) and Flagship Uberalles (Ire) (Accordion {Ire}) both placed at the highest level.

Also part of that dispersal was 8-year-old gelding Sporting Glory (Ire) (Fame And Glory {GB}) (lot 725), who set the day's second highest price at £120,000. He was purchased by Aidan O'Ryan and Gordon Elliott.

A total of 378 lots sold over the two-day horses-in-training and point-to-point portion of the sale for a clearance rate of 81%. The gross was £8,890,200, while the average was flat at £23,520 and the median dropped 14% to £12,000.

Goffs UK Managing Director Tim Kent said, "The time-honoured Spring Sale has long stood as a consistent performer over its 63-year history and it has grown into one of Europe's most important NH sales. Always well attended, it occupies a unique space in the calendar and in the market as it opens the annual store trade whilst also acting as the final headline sale of the season for NH horses-in-training and pointers. Its popularity as a market leading sale has been made clear by the 180 additional HIT and PTP entries taken over the last two-weeks and the three separate catalogues needed to accommodate them.

"The sale has proven time and again its ability to perform at the top the market, as evidenced yesterday with John Nallen's pointer Minella Premier, which saw four separate buyers place bids for £300,000 or more, and today with Dullingham Park's highly promising Mossy Fen Park who topped today's session.

"As we acknowledged at the end of Tuesday's Spring Store Sale, it has not all been plain sailing and we have yet to get a proper read on the store market, but the trade witnessed over the last two days for horses-in-training and pointers has been strong which is a positive note on which to conclude this year's sale."

AIDAN MCGARRY NEW GENERAL MANAGER OF NAAS RACECOURSE, BEGINS IN JUNE

Aidan McGarry | Naas Racecourse

Aidan McGarry is the new general manager of Naas Racecourse, the directors of the facility announced on Thursday. He will start in the position on June 20.

Over the past three years, McGarry managed Navan Racecourse, where he introduced the Navan Racing Festival. He was also involved in former roles with Horse Racing Ireland (HRI), and Irish Thoroughbred Marketing (ITM).

Dermot Cantillon, chairman of Naas Racecourse, said of the University of Limerick and National College graduate, "On behalf of the board of directors and the staff of Naas Racecourse we are delighted to welcome Aidan as our new manager. His experiences and education make him an ideal candidate. Connection with the local community is very important for the racecourse and to have a Naas native leading out team is an added bonus."

McGarry, who holds a Msc in marketing, said, "I am delighted to join Naas Racecourse in the coming weeks. It is an exciting time to be part of a racecourse that has seen so much progress and development in recent years. I am looking forward to starting next month, working with such a well-regarded and progressive racecourse team and board."

PAULA CUNNIFFE NAMED AS HRI'S DIRECTOR OF COMMUNICATIONS AND MARKETING

Paula Cunniffe | HRI

Horse Racing Ireland (HRI) have appointed Paula Cunniffe as director of communications and marketing, it was announced on Thursday.

Cunniffe joins HRI from Strive Management, where she held the role of CEO for seven years. She previously managed national and international communications campaigns in the Department of the Taoiseach and began her career as a radio and TV producer on sports and arts documentaries.

"I am excited to join the leadership team at Horse Racing Ireland," said Cunniffe. "I've loved working in sport throughout my career, from growing Run in the Dark over the last seven years to being on the Board of Hockey Ireland from 2019-2021. I'm passionate about storytelling and look forward to working with the HRI team to tell compelling stories that engage our audience and encourage participation in horse racing."

Suzanne Eade, HRI's chief executive officer, added, "We are delighted to welcome Paula on board as we implement our recently launched five-year Strategic Plan with its key focus on nurturing success and increasing participation. Paula brings a wealth of experience and knowledge to HRI."

VAUGHAN HANDED SUSPENDED BAN FOR CORTICOSTEROID POSITIVE

National Hunt trainer Tim Vaughan has had his licence withdrawn for a suspended six months after one of his runners tested positive for a prohibited substance.

Vaughan, who is based in Wales, has also been fined £1,000 for the breach of Rule (K)2.2. The horse in question, Bells Of Peterboro (Ire), tested positive for the corticosteroid TCA after winning the novices' handicap chase at Chepstow on January 24, 2024. The nine-year-old has been disqualified from that race but subsequently won over fences at the same track on April 13.

The trainer's six-month ban will only come into place in the event of a subsequent positive test for one of his horses within the next 18 months. Full written reasons will be published by the BHA's independent disciplinary panel following the hearing on Thursday morning.

Ffrench added, "Kia [Joorabchian] puts a great investment into the game and he deserves to have a few good ones. It's great to be able to build up something good enough to go to Royal Ascot. She seems to cope with any ground, she won on the all-weather at Wolverhampton, she won on goodish ground at Ascot and it didn't bother her here today. A good horse will go on any ground."

The listed-placed dam, whose yearling colt is by Lope Y Fernandez (Ire), hails from the family of Efisio's sire Pips Pride (GB), whose career achievements included wins in the G1 Phoenix S. and G3 Grosser Preis von Berlin and a second in the G1 Middle Park S.

Introduced over a mile at Newmarket in October, Almaqam made a steady start to racing life with a fourth but after a winter's break looked more honed when capturing a Yarmouth maiden in late April. Despite that promise, this emphatic success was a surprising step forward for the G1 St James's Palace S, entry. Shedding William Buick before the start, the homebred tanked in second throughout the early stages before being left exposed in front on the turn into the straight.

Staying strong to the line as his rivals wilted, the son of the G1 E. P. Taylor S. runner-up Talmada was out on his own at the end with trainer Ed Walker impressed. "We were worried about the ground, I think everyone was worried about the ground, but he did it really well," he said. "I think 10 furlongs won't be an issue, so we'll see. That was a huge step forward, that was a strong race. I know plenty of horses may not have acted on the ground, sometimes those races can be a question of who acts best on the ground and you can be made to look better than you are, but he's done nothing wrong in his career."

"He's very straightforward, he's a beautiful horse. I'm very grateful to His Highness Sheikh Ahmed for sending him to me. It'll be the St James's Palace or the [G3] Hampton Court--I'm not sure yet."

Trainer Harry Charlton said of the pedigree knockout Kikkuli, "I'm very pleased with the run on that ground. He wouldn't have enjoyed the going and I think a mile on better ground will suit him. There's loads more to come."

L'Equilibriste, successful once in three juvenile outings, ran seventh in Toulouse's Apr. 21 Listed Prix Caravelle on seasonal return last time and bounced back to secure a career high in this second black-type start. Positioned off the tempo in sixth for the most part, she made continued headway under pressure in the straight to challenge passing the furlong pole and was driven out to prevail by 3/4-of-a-length from Luiza Bere.

"I was quite confident she would run a great race on seasonal debut at Toulouse, but the ground too fast for her and it all went wrong that day," explained Tim Donworth. "She has done well since and had an entry in Germany, but the owners encouraged me to go for this and I am very happy for them and the team at home. I had not set my mind on any race, other than this, and I imagine that now we will have no other choice than to go for a Group 3. She prefers soft ground, so it will be probably in the later part of the season that we could target some interesting races."

L'Equilibriste is the third of four foals and second black-type scorer produced by an unraced half to Listed Prix Amandine third Digression (Ire) (Gleneagles {Ire}). The March-foaled chestnut is a half-sister to Listed Prix Urban Sea victrix Iznik (Fr) (Zarak {Fr}) and the hitherto unraced 2-year-old colt Curragh Camp (Fr) (Romanised {Ire}). L'Equilibriste's third dam Daltaiyma (Ire) (Doyoun {Ire}) is a winning full-sister to multiple Group 1-winning sire Daylami (Ire) and kin to multiple Group 1-winning sire Dalakhani (Ire) (Darshaan {GB}). Video, sponsored by FanDuel TV.

Caramelito, fresh off an Apr. 25 conditions win over this course and distance when last seen, added to his five prior wins with a career best in this black-type bow. Occupying a prominent slot in third after the initial strides, he made eye-catching headway off the home turn to make his challenge with 300 metres remaining and was ridden out in the latter stages to outpoint British raider Docklands by an ultimately snug half-length.

Caramelito, kin to G3 Prix Imprudence third Jet Setteuse (Fr) (Makfi {GB}), is the fourth of six foals and one of four winners produced by of Listed Prix Aymeri de Mauleon third Pretty Panther (Fr) (Hurricane Run {Ire}), herself a half-sister to Listed Prix Miss Satamixa placegetter Plaisanciere (Fr) (Astronomer Royal). Plaisanciere, in turn, is the dam of Listed Prix Volterra third Prija (Fr) (Shalaa {Ire}). Descendants of his dual stakes-placed second dam Princesse Jasmine (Fr) (Gold Away {Ire}), herself a half-sister to G3 Prix la Force-winning sire On Est Bien (Ire) (Enrique {GB}), also include Listed Prix Yacowlef victrix Sivana (Fr) (Goken {Fr}). Video, sponsored by FanDuel TV.
