

THE TDN KENTUCKY OAKS TOP 10 FOR FEB. 19: BELLA BALLERINA MAKES A BIG MOVE

Zany | SV photography

by Bill Finley

There was only one graded stakes race on the road to the GI Kentucky Oaks this weekend, but it was a big one. The GI Fasig-Tipton Rachel Alexandra Stakes has produced 12 winners of the Oaks. The list includes last year's Oaks champion Good Cheer (Medaglia d'Oro) and 2023 winner Pretty Mischievous (Into Mischief). So, it meant something when Bella Ballerina (Street Sense) scored a game victory to win the race by a half-length, especially when you consider that she is a half-sister to Pretty Mischievous.

So, here goes, your latest Top 10:

-  1) ZANY (American Pharoah--Mo' Green, by Uncle Mo)
O-Repole Stable; B-D.J. Stable (KY); T-Todd Pletcher. Sales history: $350,000 yrl '24 FTSAUG. Lifetime Record: GSW, 3-3-0-0, $221,500. Last Start: Won Feb. 7 Suncoast Stakes. Kentucky Oaks Points: 30.

TAYLOR MADE FOR YOU!

As good a race as Bella Ballerina ran in the Rachel Alexandra, Zany remains in the top spot and may stay there until she has her next start, which is scheduled for the Apr. 3 GI Central Bank Ashland Stakes at Keeneland.

HISA THREATENS 'FREELOADING' CDI WITH CUTTING OFF ABILITY TO RACE OVER ALLEGED NON-PAYMENT OF ASSESSMENT FEES

by Dan Ross and T.D. Thornton

The Horse Racing Integrity and Safety Act (HISA) Authority on Wednesday summoned Churchill Downs Racetrack and its corporate parent, CDI, to a hearing before a panel of HISA board members in an attempt to secure payment of 2025 assessment fees that CDI has allegedly failed to submit on behalf of four racetracks the gaming corporation owns in Kentucky and Pennsylvania, including its flagship track in Louisville.

HISA wants Churchill to pay $2,408,501 in allegedly overdue 2025 fees (plus $93,998 in interest) to the Authority within 10 days of any order by the HISA board that results from the just-scheduled Mar. 11 hearing.

If not, according the Feb. 18 notice of hearing, "for each day the payment is late, Churchill [will] be prohibited from conducting any Covered Horserace, to be applied immediately on the next scheduled race day(s) at Churchill." Cont. p3

"CDI has not fulfilled Churchill's obligation to remit Churchill's and the horsemen's group share of allocated and assessed fees for calendar year 2025 in violation of HISA Rule 8100(i), HISA Rule 8520(e), and 15 U.S.C. § 3052(f)(3)," the hearing notice stated.

"In fact, CDI has refused to pay one cent of the 2025 HISA assessments allocated to Churchill, Turfway Park, Ellis Park, and Presque Isle Downs," the notice continued.

"CDI even refuses to pay what it believes it owes for the CDI Racetracks under its own [assessment formula] that is based solely on racing starts. The CDI Racetracks stand alone among Covered Racetracks in refusing to make any HISA assessment payments whatsoever for 2025," the hearing notice stated.

The notice was served Wednesday via email and certified mail to Gary Palmisano, Jr., CDI's executive director of racing.

Churchill Downs | Coady Media

TDN asked Palmisano via email if he'd like to comment or explain CDI's side of the story, but did not receive any reply prior to deadline for this article.

In addition to the alleged non-payment of 2025 fees, the notice of hearing details allegations that because of the above-referenced disagreement over assessment methodologies, CDI has also not paid all of the fees that HISA claims the corporation owes for 2023 and 2024, either.

"In 2023 and 2024, CDI calculated and paid full year assessments using its own assessment formula, based solely on the number of racing starts, in an amount less than would be due under the Original Methodology Rule," the notice of hearing stated.

"The total difference that remains currently due and owing from racetracks operated by CDI for the 2023 and 2024 Assessments is $1,708,475." Cont.

But because that dispute over 2023 and 2024 assessments is still being litigated in federal court, "issuance of the Board panel's decision in the 2023/2024 Enforcement Action is currently stayed per the agreement of the parties," the Authority's hearing notice explained.

In CDI's original complaint in that lawsuit, filed Dec. 4, 2024, CDI argued that the HISA Authority couldn't threaten "to prohibit them from conducting any horseraces until the fees due under the Authority's illegal assessment methodology are paid in full" because the HISA Act "does not empower the private Authority to adjudicate fee-collection disputes in-house."

Rather, the lawsuit explained, the HISA Act "envisions that the Authority would exercise its statutory power to bring a civil action in federal court to compel payment of any legitimate fee assessments."

The CDI complaint (initially joined by co-plaintiff the New York Racing Association, which settled with HISA a month after the litigation was filed), stated that HISA demanding fee payments and threatening penalization based on its own findings "would violate the Act and Article III of the Constitution, which require that such disputes between private entities be adjudicated in federal courts--not within administrative agencies and certainly not within private, unaccountable corporations.

"And it would also violate the fundamental due-process principle that no person may serve as a judge in his own case," the CDI suit alleged.

Wednesday's hearing notice stated that, "In this enforcement action, the Authority is seeking payment only based on the CDI Formula endorsed by CDI in the CDI Lawsuit.

"If the United States District Court for the Western District of Kentucky concludes in the CDI Lawsuit that the Original Methodology Rule is valid, the Authority will initiate a separate enforcement action or civil action--if necessary--to collect the difference between the amount owed by CDI under the CDI Formula and the Original Methodology Rule for 2025.

"If the District Court adopts the legal arguments made by CDI and concludes that the Original Methodology Rule is invalid, then CDI would still owe the exact amount sought in this proceeding, i.e., the racing-starts only amount due under the 'Alternative Calculation' that CDI endorses and advocates," the hearing notice stated.

"In other words, CDI owes at least the amount sought here regardless of the outcome of the pending litigation," the hearing notice stated. Cont.

The hearing notice described CDI as allegedly "freeloading" by availing itself of HISA's services related to drug testing, results management from intra-articular injection violations, track surface inspections from the Racing Surfaces Testing Laboratory, and technology platforms that promote the safety of horses and jockeys.

Despite CDI allegedly not paying into the regulatory system, "the CDI Racetracks continue to receive millions of dollars in services from the Authority," the hearing notice stated.

"CDI promotes the benefits of HISA with its investors while at the same time failing to pay its fair share--or any share at all," the notice of hearing stated.

The Mar. 11 board hearing will be chaired by Joe De Francis. Bill Thomason and Terri Mazur will also adjudicate on that panel.

CDI may file a pre-hearing brief setting forth any objections to the enforcement action by Feb. 27, and HISA's enforcement counsel may file a response by Mar. 6.

Zany was not ultra-impressive when winning the Suncoast Stakes at Tampa Bay Downs, but you can count on her being an improved horse in the Ashland. It was notable in the Suncoast that she lugged in.

Here's what Todd Pletcher had to say about her failure to keep a straight course: "We will not try to overthink it since she's three-for-three. But we will continue to focus on keeping her straight when she changes leads."

She showed tremendous talent when romping in last year's GII Demoiselle Stakes. If that horse shows up on Kentucky Oaks Day, all the rest may be running for second money.

2) BELLA BALLERINA (Street Sense--Pretty City Dancer, by Tapit) O/B-Godolphin (KY); T-Brendan P Walsh. Lifetime Record: MGSW, 3-3-0-0, $301,525. 'TDN Rising Star, presented by Hagyard.' Last Start: Won Feb. 14 GII Rachel Alexandra Stakes. Kentucky Oaks Points: 60.

As well-bred as they come and from the powerful Godolphin team, Bella Ballerina still had something to prove in the Rachel Alexandra.

In her only other stakes appearance, last year's GII Golden Rod Stakes at Churchill Downs, she did win, but nearly squandered a 3 1/2-length lead in the stretch. The final margin of victory was a half-length.

She didn't blow them away this time, either. In fact, she lost the lead in mid-stretch, but battled back to win in a professional effort.

"I thought it was a very game performance," trainer Brendan Walsh said. "When she was coming down the stretch, it looked like she was beaten. I thought to myself, 'You know, she's run well. We've got what we needed to get out of it. She'll improve a ton the next time she starts back up again.' I thought, 'Well, OK, we'll take that.' But yes, it was just a game performance on her part. It's the first time she's ever been headed."

Her winning Beyer number Saturday was an 84. The March 21 GII Fasig-Tipton Fair Grounds Oaks will likely be next for her.

Stonehaven Steadings BRED AND SOLD THE LAND OF 6 CHAMPIONS

The good news: she beat two pretty tough customers in Explora (Blame) and Super Corredora (Gun Runner) in the Las Virgenes Stakes. The bad news: she had a perfect trip behind battling leaders. It was her first start since she was a non-threatening fourth in the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies, but there's no reason why she couldn't have improved over the winter. As of now, the California-based fillies don't look like a strong group. Meaning may be the best of that bunch. Trainer Michael McCarthy has said that the April 4 GII Santa Anita Oaks Presented by Surfside will be next for his filly.

It's an important question, as she has now run second in four straight starts, losing each time by less than a length. In her lone victory, she won by just a nose. Trainer Michael Stidham needs to figure out how to get a little something extra out of her, but, if he does, she might just prove to be among the upper echelon of this division.

If not for the Kenny McPeek factor, this horse would be rated lower. Yes, she won the Silverbulletday Stakes by only a neck in her 3-year-old debut. But McPeek, who has had so much success with fillies of late, sees something in her. "You watch," he said. "She'll win the next one, and I think she has a very good chance of winning the Oaks. This is a very good filly. She does everything right." McPeek reports that Taken by the Wind will have her next start in the March 1 GIII Honeybee Stakes at Oaklawn. It would be "good for the game" to see her prosper as NFL Hall of Famer Terry Bradshaw is a part owner and would no doubt be an entertaining part of an entourage come Oaks Day.

O-Will Stroud, Andrew Farm, Mountmellick Farm & For the People Racing Stable LLC; B-Springhouse Farm (KY); T-Brad H Cox. Sales history: $375,000 yrl '24 KEESEP. Lifetime Record: SW, 4-2-1-0, $180,260. Last Start: Second in Feb. 7 Suncoast Stakes. Kentucky Oaks Points: 22.

The Brad Cox-trained filly turned in a strong effort behind Zany in the Suncoast, finishing second. She also held her own against Bella Ballerina when fourth in the Golden Rod. Before that, she was a 2 1/4-length winner of the Rags to Riches Stakes. Like McPeek, Cox has done some of his best work with fillies. It's not a coincidence that he has won the Oaks three times in a short stretch of just seven years. The Fair Grounds Oaks will be next for her.

7) EXPLORA (Blame--Collections Choice, by Bernardini)

O-Michael Pegram, Karl Watson & Paul Weitman; B-Mesingw Farm (KY); T-Bob Baffert. Sales History: $22,000 yrl '24 KEESEP; $350,000 2yo '25 FTMMAY. 'TDN Rising Star, presented by Hagyard.' Lifetime Record: GSW & MGISP, 5-3-2-0, $628,000. Last Start: Second Feb. 8 Las Virgenes Stakes. Kentucky Oaks Points: 45.

Don't ever give up on Bob Baffert. He has won the Oaks three times, and no one in the history of the sport is better at having horses peak for the biggest races. Her 3-year-old debut in the Las Virgenes didn't go as planned. She got caught up in a speed duel with rival Super Corredora and didn't have enough left in the tank to hold off Meaning. The positive is that she held in there a lot better than Super Corredora, who finished last. She far from embarrassed herself and could easily rebound next out with a better trip.

8) SEARCH PARTY (Gun Runner--Devious Charm, by Into Mischief)

O/B-Tracy Farmer (KY); T-Mark Casse. Lifetime Record: 6-2-1-2, $276,211. Last Start: Won Feb. 6 Martha Washington Stakes. Kentucky Oaks Points: 20.

It took this Mark Casse-trained filly four starts to break her maiden, but since the light bulb went off, she's been good. She won an Oaklawn maiden by six lengths and came right back to win the Martha Washington Stakes by a neck. By Gun Runner out of an Into Mischief mare, she certainly has the pedigree. "Irad (Ortiz, Jr.) rode her in two of the races she lost and he came back both times and apologized," Casse said. "He said, 'I was the best.' She was breaking just a little slow and then got herself in some trouble. When she broke her maiden at Oaklawn, I thought she was very impressive. In the Martha Washington, she got in a little trouble again, but I thought it was a good performance. I'm not sure it was a great performance, but it was a good performance. If she's going to be an Oaks filly down the road, she's going to have to improve. Her pedigree and her physique say she should get better."

9) DAZZLING DAME (Girvin--Awesome Dama, by Corinthian)

O-Respect the Valleys LLC; B-Maria M Haire (MD); T-Brittany T Russell. Sales History: $50,000 RNA wlg '23 KEENOV; $65,000 yrl '24 OBSJAN; $45,000 2yo '25 OBSMAR. Lifetime Record: MSW, 5-4-0-0, $240,525. Last Start: Won Jan. 3 Busanda Stakes. Kentucky Oaks Points: 22.

Her 91 Beyer she earned when winning the Busanda Stakes at Aqueduct remains the fastest number turned in so far this year by any 3-year-old filly. She didn't have a published workout from Jan. 23 to Feb. 12, but trainer Brittany Russell reports that the filly is still on track for the Mar. 14 Virginia Oaks at Colonial Downs. Russell has won only six graded stakes in her career, but she's a force in Maryland and is not to be underestimated.

10) SUPER CORREDORA (Gun Runner--Super Simple, by Super Saver)

O-Spartan Equine Racing LLC, West Point Thoroughbreds, Robert Gardiner & Michael Olszewski; B-Woodford Thoroughbreds (KY); T-John Sadler. Sales History: $400,000 yrl '24 KEESEP. Lifetime Record: Ch. 2yo Filly, GISW, 5-2-1-0, $1,099,600. Last Start: Fourth Feb. 8 Las Virgenes Stakes. Kentucky Oaks Points: 34.

Probably too early to give up on a filly that was a GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies winner and an Eclipse Award winner, but her return effort in the Las Virgenes was just not good. She'll get her chance to show that that race was a fluke in her next start, which will likely be in the Mar. 1 GIII Santa Ysabel Stakes. If she doesn't fare well there, it might be time to consider a sprinting career for her.

Trainer Hugh McMahon has won 1,227 races, but few could have given him more excitement than Passage East's gritty nostril victory after a spirited battle against odds-on favorite Takethemoneyhoney. McMahon claimed the filly for $30k out of her second lifetime start, and after a trio of runner-up maiden finishes, she now has taken eight of nine, with this being her first stakes score. Her GI Breeders' Cup Distaff start may have been overly ambitious, but coming back to start 2026 in an ungraded stakes was taking an edge. Returning to the scene of her first stakes score last April, she completely dominated a decent Oaklawn field and the Grade I-placed mare has more lucrative purses squarely in her sights, whether sprinting or going a little farther.

PURCHASED PRIVATELY BY KERN/LILLINGSTON

She didn't set the world on fire in England, so it's unclear how expensive the pricetag was when Paris, Ky.-based Farfellow Farms bought her from previous owner Jaber Abdullah, but whatever they paid, she's worth more now. The Irish-bred mare is now three-for-four in the U.S. and her decisive win in the Stall Memorial was her first in a stakes. Her only loss on these shores was a fourth in the GI Gamely last May, followed by "issues" that kept her sidelined for almost eight months and from which she has clearly recovered nicely.

The mare Mott once referred to as a "win machine" after seven victories in her first eight starts came into this race off a surprising three-race losing streak perhaps foreshadowed by slightly declining figures. But even though she couldn't quite match strides with the brilliant performance of Eclatant (below), she bounced back to match her career-best Beyer. Cont.

Beyer Speed Figure: 104

(f, 4, Into Mischief--Downside Scenario, by Scat Daddy)

O/B-Stonestreet Stables/Thoroughbred Holdings (Ky). T-Brad Cox. J-Javier Castellano.

Eclatant has been a curious case. Sure, she became a Grade III winner in the Forward Gal a year ago, but even so, her afternoons never lived up to her mornings--until now. Cox picked a nice allowance spot for her comeback from 8+ months on the bench, and she erupted with a 104 Beyer that marked a 23-point figure top. Whether this becomes her new normal is a legitimate question, but perhaps that latent talent has been unlocked.

BRENDAN WALSH JOINS THE TDN WRITERS' ROOM PODCAST PRESENTED BY KEENELAND

It was a big weekend for trainer Brendan Walsh, whose Bella Ballerina (Street Sense) was a game winner of the GII Rachel Alexandra Stakes. A half-sister to Pretty Mischievous (Into Mischief), the 2023 GI Kentucky Oaks winner, who was also trained by Walsh, the trainer is hoping to pull off what would be a unique daily double--winning the Oaks twice within four years with half-siblings.

To discuss the Rachel Alexandra win, his take on Bella Ballerina and what he has planned on the way to the Oaks, Walsh joined this week's TDN Writers' Room Podcast presented by Keeneland. He was the Gainesway Guest of the Week.

It was not an easy victory for Bella Ballerina, who was passed in the stretch by Luv Your Neighbor (Constitution), but battled back in deep stretch to win by a half-length under Tyler Gaffalione.

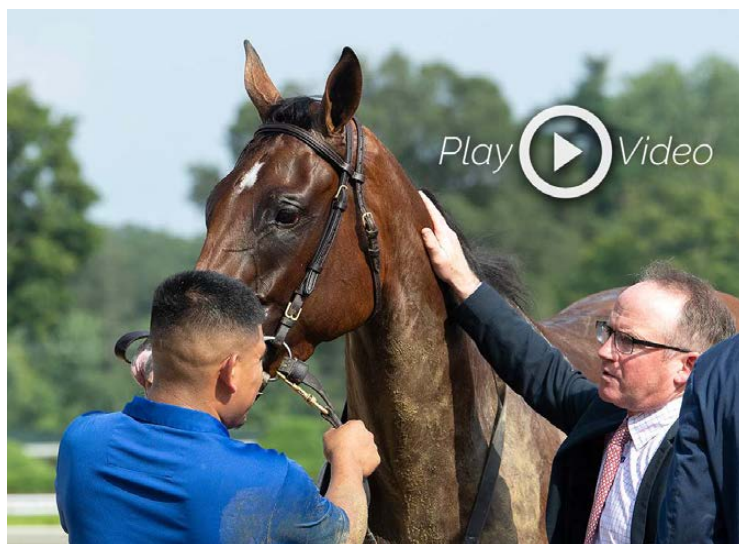

"I thought it was a very game performance," Walsh said. "When she was coming down the stretch, it looked like she was beaten. I thought to myself, 'You know, she's run well. We've got what we needed to get out of it. She'll improve a ton the next time she starts back up again.' I thought, 'Well, OK, we'll take that.' But yes, it was just a game performance on her part. It's the first time she's ever been headed."

The similarities between Pretty Mischievous and Bella Ballerina go beyond the fact that they are half-sisters, as both were named 'TDN Rising Stars, presented by Hagyard' and both won the Rachel Alexandra. Bella Ballerina will start next in the March 21 GII Fair Grounds Oaks. Pretty Mischievous was second in that race before going on to win the Kentucky Oaks.

"(Bella Ballerina) was a little trickier when she was a baby," Walsh said. "She had her own ideas about certain things. But all credit goes to the team. They got her straightened out. We worked on her last year. She was just a little bit of a play girl at the time. She'd try and get up to a few little tricks, but nothing horrible."

Walsh liked what he saw Saturday.

"Tyler came in and he worked her a bunch of times last year and more this year," he said. "He got to know her. She behaved very well on Saturday. She behaved very well before the race. She behaved very well in the race, and I think that had a lot to do with Tyler." Cont.

“There are a lot of similarities between the two horses. (Bella Ballerina) is getting stronger and, physically, she looks more like Pretty Mischievous did at this point. The good ones, they all have that class, and she seems to have an abundance of it. She's got a very good mind, and I think that's going to be super important going forward.”

Walsh has come a long way from the young man who began his career with the powerful Godolphin team galloping horses.

“It's unbelievable,” he said. “It's like the stuff you dream of. I spent years in Dubai and around all those good horses that they had at Al Quoz. Did I ever think I was going to actually be in a position where I would be training for them? Absolutely not. It is a dream come true. It's unbelievable to have access to that standard of a horse every year and to get to work with these horses and these people. They're just the most fantastic people to work with. You wake up in the morning and you pinch yourself. Believe me, I'm under no illusions. It's a privileged position and it's great to be there.”

Brendan Walsh | Sarah Andrew

Walsh also spoke of his mentor in the U.S., trainer Eddie Kenneally. Walsh served as his assistant before going out on his own in 2012.

“Learning to train in the U.S., it was a huge adjustment,” he said. “It's a completely different ball game. You're dealing with a different type of horse. Dubai was very turf-orientated. That was one thing with Eddie. I really got to learn how to get down to the nitty gritty of it with him. Even when riding horses, dirt horses are different than grass horses. Turf horses have this turn of foot, and when you work them you see that they have a serious turn of foot. Dirt horses tend to be more constant. They cruise along, cruise along, cruise along. It's just completely different, and that's just to name a couple of things. There are thousands of other different angles when you start training over here. Eddie taught me so much. He's a fantastic trainer.”

The “Fastest Horse of the Week” was Grande (Curlin), who earned a 105 Beyer figure when winning a Feb. 14 allowance race at Gulfstream. It was his first start since he finished second in the GII Wood Memorial Stakes. The Fastest Horse of the Week segment is sponsored by WinStar, which stands the fast sire Nashville.

Elsewhere on the podcast, which is also sponsored by the PHBA, 1/ST TV, and West Point Thoroughbreds, Randy Moss, Bill Finley, and Zoe Cadman discussed the solid performance from Forever Young (Jpn) (Real Steel {Jpn}) in the $20-million G1 Saudi Cup and the terrific rail-skimming ride he got from jockey Ryusei Sakai. The team also discussed the wins in Saudi Arabia by the American-based sprinters Imagination (Into Mischief) and Reef Runner (The Big Beast). Recapping the rest of the weekend's action, the win by Paladin (Gun Runner) in the GII Risen Star Stakes was given high marks by the panel.

WHITE ABARRIO TO TARGET OAKLAWN HANDICAP

The Saffie Joseph, Jr.-trained White Abarrio (Race Day) will ship to Oaklawn to target the GII Oaklawn Handicap April 18, his trainer said Wednesday.

Detailing next starts for his stable stars, Joseph said, “White Abarrio is going to come for the Oaklawn Handicap. That's the plan. Dubai is still in play for Skippy, but we haven't come up with a plan yet.”

Last seen finishing runner-up to stablemate Skippylongstocking (Exaggerator) in the GI Pegasus World Cup at Gulfstream Park last month, White Abarrio also owns a win in the 2023 GI Breeders' Cup Classic.

While the race is still two months away, last year's Champion 3-year-old and Horse of the Year Sovereignty (Into Mischief) is also possible for the Oaklawn Handicap.

WEEKLY RULINGS

WEEKLY RULINGS: FEB 12-18; CHURCHILL FACES HISA PANEL HEARING FOR NON-PAYMENT OF 2025 FEES

Every week, the TDN posts a roundup of the relevant Horseracing Integrity and Safety Act (HISA)-related rulings from around the country.

The following rulings were reported on HISA's "rulings" portal and through the Horseracing Integrity and Welfare Unit (HIWU)'s "pending" and "resolved" cases portals.

Among this week's rulings, the Horse Racing Integrity and Safety Authority has issued to Churchill Downs Incorporated four notices for non-payment of its 2025 fees related to federal regulatory oversight of its Churchill Downs, Turfway Park, Ellis Park and Presque Isle Downs racetracks.

The matter will go before a panel of three HISA board members--Joe De Francis, Bill Thomason, and Terri Mazur--on March 11.

This is separate from pending litigation between the two parties for Churchill Downs's refusal to pay HISA's assessed fees for 2023 and 2024.

These are the years HISA's assessment model was calculated through a formula based on racing starts and purses. Last year, HISA started using a new assessment formula based on projected number of starts only.

In its litigation with HISA, Churchill Downs challenges the legality of the original assessment formula, and instead contends it owes the federal body an amount based solely on starts. Churchill Downs submitted payments to HISA for 2023 and 2024 using their own formula, leaving an alleged unpaid deficit of around $1.7 million.

The corporation has so far paid nothing for 2025, according to the notices the HISA Authority issued to Churchill Downs on Feb. 18.

The amounts that HISA seeks from Churchill Downs for its unpaid 2025 assessments are based on the original formula (calculated using starts and purses) for Turfway Park, Elis Park and Presque Isle Downs. For Churchill Downs, the HISA Authority has used a number based purely on starts.

The amounts (including accrued interest) HISA requests for each track are as follows: Churchill Downs, $2.5 million; Turfway Park, $1.49 million; Presque Isle Downs, $761k; and Ellis Park, $465k.

According to the notices, the HISA Authority asks the board panel to require Churchill Downs to pay these amounts within 10 days of the board's order.

If not, Churchill Downs would be prohibited from conducting horseracing under HISA's federal regulatory oversight, meaning it wouldn't be allowed to simulcast its races outside of the state (if indeed it carried on with its operations).

KRISSYS STAR (f, 3, Authentic--Krissys Manicure, by Twirling Candy) debuted a big winner by 11 lengths at Belterra Park in early September. The filly served as the runner-up at Presque Isle Downs versus the boys in an optional claimers Oct. 16 and was last seen finishing a well-beaten fifth at the same level facing females once again at Turfway Park Jan. 9.

The 60 cents on the dollar favorite here settled to the outside of the speed heading into the first turn. Poised to pounce up the backstretch, the filly made her move around the far turn to take the lead. The hooded 3-year-old set sail for home and cleared the condition by seven lengths over Supersonic Agenda (Known Agenda).

The second to the races for her dam, the winner's dam is responsible for a 2-year-old colt by Munnings. She visited Hard Spun for this term. Sales History: $40,000 Ylg '24 KEESEP. Lifetime Record: 4-2-1-0, $35,766. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by FanDuel TV.

IN ORDER OF PURSE:

8th-Mahoning Valley, $24,300, Msw, 2-18, 3yo, f, 6f, 1:15.14, my, 1 1/2 lengths.

ACADEMIC FREEDOM (f, 3, Union Rags--Cafe Night, by California Chrome), who began her career in the care of trainer Riley Mott, finished well-beaten going two turns on the turf at Churchill Downs in late October and at Turfway Park Dec. 21.

Making the switch to Andrew McKeever's shedrow, the filly was tabbed as a 4-1 shot here. The 3-year-old settled midpack up the backstretch, but she began to engage with a sweeping move to the outside around the far turn. Hitting the accelerator down the lane, the homebred collared Run On Candy (Unified) at the sixteenth pole and splashed home to get her picture taken by 1 1/2 lengths.

The first foal for her unraced dam, Academic Freedom has a 2-year-old half-sister named Own the Game (Game Winner) and a yearling half-sister by Gunite who was in utero when Cafe Night (California Chrome) was purchased by Pin Oak Stud for $30,000 during the recent Keeneland January Sale. The winner's dam was bred to American Pharoah for this current season, but was unable to produce a foal. As for Academic Freedom's unraced second dam, she is a full-sister to deceased GI Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile hero Battle of Midway (Smart Strike) and a half-sister to MSW Moretti (Medaglia d'Oro). Lifetime Record: 3-1-0-0, $16,451. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by FanDuel TV.

‘I ALWAYS SAY THAT SHE WAS THE ULTIMATE RACEHORSE’

Mark Johnston On Attraction As The Great Mare Turns 25

Attraction at the National Stud on the eve of her 25th birthday with Solene Jammes | Emma Berry

by Emma Berry

Can you see her still, in your mind's eye, that dark bay filly with a gait so ungainly as to almost belie her brilliance? Almost. But make no mistake, Attraction was brilliant, with a steeliness to match. The Irn Bru of racehorses: made in Scotland from girders.

“People label horses as tough and talk about horses like Double Trigger being tough. Well, he wasn't particularly tough. I've encountered three horses in my career, I would say, that were exceptionally tough and they were all mares.” Cont. p3

DANTE NONANTAIS HEADLINES ARQANA FEBRUARY SALE TO OTI RACING AT 180K

Recent winner Dante Nonantais will continue his career Down Under after the leading Australian ownership group OTI Racing went to €180,000 to secure the Florian Bellemere-trained son of Hunter's Light on the second and final day of the Arqana Mixed February Sale on Wednesday.

The three-year-old gelding was the most expensive of the 170 horses sold at a clearance rate of 78% on the day. Meanwhile, the clearance rate for the entire sale stood at 70%, for an average price of €13,709 and total turnover of €3,299,750. A wide diversity of buyers attended, coming from Germany, Australia, Belgium, Spain, France, Great Britain, Hungary, Ireland, Italy, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Morocco, Poland, Romania, the Czech Republic, Serbia, Tunisia and Turkey.

Dante Nonantais, the overall sale-topper, was added to the sale as a wildcard following his debut victory on the all-weather at Deauville. He will now head to the yard of Tony McEvoy, winner of the 2025 Melbourne Cup.

"I've bought him for OTI and he will head to Australia," said the winning bidder Thibault de Seyssel. "He is a superb horse that made a very promising debut and has real potential. His profile should suit Australian racing perfectly."

Just minutes later, the hammer fell at €120,000 in favour of Amy Murphy for Recollect, from the stable of Gavin Hernon. The three-year-old son of Reoletos won on his second start at Chantilly. Cont. p7

So says Mark Johnston, the man who knows Attraction better than most, and as the great mare turns 25 on February 19, it is an apposite moment to cast our minds back to the early years of this century, when she was in her pomp.

“I had the two best horses of my career in the yard at the same time in 2004, that’s her and Shamardal,” Johnston recalls. “And the thing they had in common was that they were both explosive out of the stalls, but a child could lead them up at the races.

“She was completely laidback and quiet, never got on her toes, stood like a lamb to be saddled, cantered easily to the start. And the minute the stalls opened, boom, she was out and gone. So in that sense, she was really a joy to train. She didn’t give us any difficulties at the race track whatsoever.”

He continues, “I always say that she was the ultimate racehorse, because if you went to look at her in her box, she was either lying down or eating. They always say the good ones just eat, sleep and gallop. But I suppose it’s possible that she was always lying down because the knees hurt. I don’t know.”

Ah yes, those famously offset knees. How many agents and trainers would have crossed her off their lists at the sales the moment she walked out of her box? As it was, the Duke of Roxburghe’s yearling daughter of Efisio and the Pursuit Of Love mare Flirtation wasn’t even granted a sales berth.

“Guy Roxburghe, the late Duke, asked me to go and look at this filly in the autumn of her yearling year. He kept saying she was from a great family, but she was from a pretty cold family, and she’s by Efisio, who I was a great fan of, but he was a cheap, run-of-the-mill stallion,” Johnston says of the first time he laid eyes on Attraction. Cont. p4

“We’re big fans of ST MARK’S BASILICA, especially at this price... we’ve got four mares to go to him this year... Penne has a yearling filly by him who’s absolutely gorgeous, just a really classy individual... We’ve got some seriously smashing younger individuals by him.”

“She was very, very offset in front. He tried to put her in the sales and neither Doncaster nor Tatts would take her. And so he asked if I would train her for half of her? And I said, 'No.' He asked if I could find somebody to lease her but generally, to this day, I've never advised people to lease horses.

“As I understand it, he made the same offer to Tim Easterby, who also rejected it. And he then made the same offer to John Hills, who said that not only could he find somebody to lease her, he could find somebody to lease three fillies. So three fillies went to John Hills in the autumn of 2002. And by the spring, John had only found somebody to lease one of them, so Guy said he could train one of the other two for him but one was to come to Mark Johnston, and John sent us Attraction.”

Still unnamed, she arrived in Middleham in February 2003 and was already cantering. She didn't hang about.

“Bobby Elliott galloped her and came back and said to me, 'This isn't half bad, you'd better get it named'. I phoned the Duke and said, 'I think this is ready to run and it goes very well,’” Johnston recalls.

“Guy Roxburghe was a wee bit of a punter at times and I remember him phoning me when she was going to run and saying, 'Will this win? Because Roger Charlton's got one in the race that he thinks is very useful.’”

Attraction, though, was a little bit more useful, and anyone who had tuned in for the Harby Novice Median Auction Stakes at Nottingham on April 29, 2003 would have had the privilege of the first public sighting of a superstar in the making. She beat Charlton's Avid Spell by five lengths and bounced out less than three weeks later to win again, at Thirsk. They were the only two occasions she was not in black-type company. Cont. p5

Johnston picks up the story. “Following that Thirsk run, she was already entered for the Hilary Needler, and the late Sheikh Rashid, Sheikh Mohammed's eldest son, tried to buy her. The Duke was going to sell her but they wanted to vet her before the race and he said, 'No, she's entered and we're going to run in this race. You can buy her as she stands or you don't buy her'. So she ran and she won.”

Easy victories in the Queen Mary and the Cherry Hinton followed but as she was being prepared for her first Group 1 mission in the Cheveley Park, Attraction brought about her own temporary downfall by kicking the manger in her stable and fracturing her pedal bone.

“Interestingly, somebody just found me the x-rays of Attraction yesterday,” Johnston notes. “We've been clearing out years of x-rays and I said, 'Don't throw out Attraction's.' There's loads of her pedal bone and, obviously, of her knees. And then there's loads of her hind leg, which was at the end of her career when she went lame behind and we retired her. But after she fractured her pedal bone, we had a meeting of myself, the Duke of Roxburghe, [vets] Nick Wingfield Digby and David Ellis, and John Warren in Newmarket, and the consensus was that the pedal bone wasn't an issue, that it would definitely heal. The question was, would we be able to bring her back from a long layoff and, having been let down, get her fit again?”

“Obviously, we had won the 2,000 Guineas first time up with Mister Baileys but in Attraction's case it was about the fact that at that stage, we didn't know how many races there were in her. So we decided to go for the jackpot first time out because we were never certain how long she would last.”

He continues, “We had a yard man, called Richard Heslop, he used to go and fetch her first thing when he arrived at work in the morning and she would spend first lot on the walker because she had to be loosened up before she could be ridden out. And that was throughout her career – she'd come out shuffling and scraping along.

“And I think it's an interesting thing now with all this interference from the BHA veterinary department and so on. The attitude with Attraction was that she was no more likely than any other horse to have a life-threatening fracture in a race. But we all imagined that one day she would hobble off the track very lame and that would be the end of that, because she had so many changes in her knees.”

The plan worked, and then some. Attraction, partnered by Kevin Darley, became the first filly to win the 1,000 Guineas, Irish 1,000 Guineas and Coronation Stakes, those wonky knees propelling her swiftly down many a course and into many hearts. Cont. p6

Stands at Kildangan Stud, Ireland

Her first defeat came at the hands of another top-class mare, the year-old Soviet Song (Marju) in the Falmouth Stakes at Newmarket, and the pair finished in the same top two spots later that year in the Matron Stakes. Attraction's one lacklustre run came in soft ground in the Prix Jacques Le Marois and she was never asked to run in those conditions again. "She really struggled with soft ground, presumably because of the knees and the very scratchy action. She couldn't lift her feet out of it," says Johnston, who opted not to declare her for the Queen Elizabeth II Stakes when he learned that the clerk of the course had been watering. One final hurrah in her three-year-old season came on the same straight mile over which she had first become a Classic heroine. Her victory in the Sun Chariot Stakes ensured that Attraction stood alone in Europe in 2004 as the winner of four Group 1 races.

Mark Johnston has long been renowned at the sales for valuing pedigree and mares' ratings over conformation. Was it perhaps his success with Attraction that emboldened this approach?

"No," he says emphatically. "She won a Cartier Award and the Duke made a speech and he said it was poetic justice that she'd gone to the only trainer that might have bought her if she'd gone through a sale. And that was very flattering but it wasn't really true. I wouldn't have bought her, but some of that would have been because the pedigree wasn't good enough to outweigh the conformation. But what it did teach me – something I always knew and something that sort of led to me having that reputation – I always say conformation doesn't stop at the elbow. Attraction was a really magnificent specimen apart from her front legs. She was a very powerful, strong horse."

Of course conformation is carefully considered by buyers when it comes to broodmares, too. Attraction had reignited her pedigree but would her front legs be replicated in her offspring? According to Johnston, who has inspected them all and has trained five of them, including the two top-rated, Elarqam (Frankel) and Maydanny (Dubawi), this was largely not an issue.

"Huntlaw (Oasis Dream) was gelded before he came to us and that was because of front limb conformation. Not anything as bad as his mother's, but offset knees the same. But he was a very good horse. The Duke sold him in the end. He left us sound with his top rating, 95. I think he'd have gone on to be a black-type performer as well."

Attraction has four black-type performers and nine winners from her 15 foals of racing age, with two-year-old and yearling colts by Too Darn Hot to come. Elarqam, a treble group winner, including the G2 York Stakes, tops the list and he is at stud in Turkey having started his stallion career in France. Her Group 3-winning sprinter Fountain Of Youth (Oasis Dream) stood at Bearstone Stud until 2020.

Of her four daughters, the Grade 3-placed Cushion (Galileo), who raced for the Duke of Roxburghe and Sue Magnier and died two years ago, produced Hafit (Dubawi), who was placed in the G2 Queen's Vase. Another, Motion (Invincible Spirit), is the dam of last year's Listed Star Stakes winner Hope Queen (Night Of Thunder), a potential Classic prospect this season for Karl Burke and Jaber Abdullah.

"Attraction is not really an influence on the breed, but not far off it," Johnston says. "She produced a couple of stallions. They haven't gone on to do anything great, but she is a bit of an out-cross."

"Every year we see the first-season sires and everybody gets really excited if they have one Group 1 winner, and then a Group 1-winning mare, if she doesn't have a Group 1 winner in the first four foals, they start writing her off. But it's actually amazing how consistently these top race mares do perform in the paddocks."

Attraction at Fittocks Stud with Elarqam as a foal | Emma Berry

Johnston is plainly not a sentimental man and he trained more than 5,000 winners during his record-breaking career. That said, it is easy to detect in the way he speaks of Attraction that she holds a special place in his heart.

"People say to me, 'Who's the best horse you've ever trained?' I say, it was Shamardal. He's the best horse I trained, but I only trained him as a two-year-old and won one Group 1 with him. The best horse for us was Attraction. By a long way, the horse I am most proud of training is Attraction, because, and you can never say for sure, but I feel that probably nobody else would have done the same with her or achieved the same with her, because there's so many opportunities to retire a horse."

Retirement for Attraction came at the end of her four-year-old season, which started with a trip to Hong Kong for the G1 Champions Mile in May, during which she injured a suspensory ligament. Cont. p7

Another period of recovery was required before a return in the G3 Hungerford Stakes three months later.

“The Duke was a fantastic owner to train for,” Johnston says. “From the Queen Mary onwards, if he was at the races, he would say to the jockey in the paddock, 'She owes us nothing. Just go out and enjoy yourself. Nothing else matters.'”

“When she had that penultimate start at Newbury, she finished fourth of nine. I was a little bit disappointed and I expected the Duke to be very disappointed, but not at all. He said, 'That's a great comeback after what she's been through.' Sure enough, she went and won a Group 1 on her next start. He was a dream to train for.”

Guy Innes-Ker, the 10th Duke of Roxburghe and owner of Floors Stud, also served a stint as chairman of the National Stud, where the stallion yard is named in his memory. It is fitting, therefore, that Attraction is now living out her retirement in the paddocks there.

We paid homage to her at the National Stud on the eve of her 25th birthday. Still frisking visitors for Polos, she's as special now as she ever was: a true flower of Scotland. Thanks for the memories, old girl.

Another wildcard, the Louisa Carberry-trained Highbourne Karisma, sold for €120,000 to JH Bloodstock on behalf of National Hunt trainer Tom Symonds.

In the breeding section, a yearling filly by Earthlight (Lot 239), presented by Haras des Capucines, generated strong interest around the ring before being knocked down at €125,000 to Nicolas de Watrigant of Mandore International Agency. The filly is a half-sister to the top-class Sajir, winner of the G1 Prix Maurice de Gheest last season.

"She is a filly who attracted interest from many buyers," said Nicolas de Watrigant. "She is well put together physically and comes from a very strong family."
