FAMILY IS PARAMOUNT TO CAMPION

by Chris McGrath

That's how you land running: a debut consignment at better than one-in-10 of the catalogue. Campion & Campion: so good they named it twice. But anyone who visits their barn at Saratoga this weekend, wondering just who these upstart newcomers might be, will quickly find themselves doing a double take. For a brand that has risen without trace, presenting 34 of 310 hips at Monday's Fasig-Tipton Fall Mixed Sale, will turn out to be as tried-and-trusted as they come.

Nearly 20 years with Paramount Sales have made Lesley Campion one of the most familiar faces on the circuit. She can barely begin to express her gratitude to Pat Costello and Spider Duignan, as mentors and friends, along with the rest of the Paramount team. She considers them family. The only thing that counts for more would be--well, her family. Cont. p3

A BLUEGRASS HOMECOMING FOR THOUGHT PROCESS by Katie Petrunyak

With a pair of stakes chances on opposite sides of the country last Saturday, Bret Jones opted for the shorter commute to Belmont Park. Naturally, the headline performance played out on the opposite coast.

After things didn't go quite as hoped for Libby Lloyd (Into Mischief) in the GI Frizette Stakes, Thought Process (Collected) stole the show a few hours later from Santa Anita. Cont. p6

And, with her son Paddy himself having successfully cut his teeth at Paramount, the time has come to embark on a new path together.

The business duly opens with the cordial blessing of the people who set both Campion and her son on their way. "They're absolutely endorsing us, delighted that we're doing it," she says gratefully. "Pat's remark was, 'You should have done this 10 years ago, Les.' And going forward, I know I can count on their support. They have been lifelong friends, it couldn't be more amicable, and they're giving me an absolute clap on the back."

Campion admits to all the excitement and nerves that go with starting any business. To be in partnership with her own son, however, naturally adds an extra frisson.

"Of course it makes it special," Campion says. "We knew that ultimately, at some point, we would be going out on our own. And the timing just feels right. Paramount's numbers are getting very, very big with all of us on board. So I think this will kind of streamline the service we'll be able to give, when we condense down to our own consignment, our own clients. And I'm looking forward to that.

"It feels like we've got a fair bit of traction. Everybody that I have reached out to, just to let them know that this was happening, they've all encouraged me. So that's very comforting. It's not a standing start. There's momentum behind us, and we're very grateful for that."

Paddy is certainly bred for the job: Lesley is married to Ted Campion of Dundrum Farm, whose portfolio centers on pinhooking weanlings, often with Costello and Duignan. Neither Paddy, as the eldest, nor his siblings Rodger and Sive have ever been under any pressure to follow their parents' vocation. Paddy, indeed, initially graduated from the University of Kentucky to start in corporate logistics with automotive services firm Valvoline.

"And he liked that job," Campion says. "But he always wanted to stick with the horses. He's worked the sales with us since he was a child, always enjoyed the trips to Saratoga and Timonium, and that's really where his heart was. So when he came on board for Paramount full-time, he flourished. He's really proven himself in that environment."

It's a familiar question, whenever you see one generation emulate the next in some specialist endeavor: how much is nature, in the blood; and how much nurture, a matter of cultural osmosis round the kitchen table? Cont.

"So much of it is subliminal learning," Campion acknowledges. "But this is all we do. It's all we talk about, really, our only interest. I couldn't tell you one thing about soccer or tennis or anything. That's what we do in our house, that's what the kids have grown up around, and I'm thankful they enjoy it as much as we do. Certainly Paddy's absolutely immersed in it, so it works for us anyway."

However longstanding the aspiration, pressing the button was not particularly calculated. It just came to feel inevitable: these 28 babies and six broodmares needed a dedicated shop, not one being an in-house project.

"They're all client horses," Campion confirms. "Last year myself and my best pal, Emma Quinn, went up there together and I had some client horses selling under Emma's [Garrencasey] banner. And people I met up there were saying, 'Wow, I didn't know you were coming up. Give me a call for next year.' So I did, and then it just kind of grew exponentially on us. At one point we were going to have something like 55 head under Emma's banner and she thought, 'This is way too much.' And I agreed, it was too much of an undertaking for one day. So that was when Paddy and I thought, 'If we're going to do it this sale, why don't we just do the rest?' So that's how it came about, really: we had a long-term goal, but this spurred us into action."

At Paramount, Paddy shared a trickledown of the same counsel and expertise as his mother: in the end, her own education blended into his.

"There's no substitute for experience," Campion reflects. "Twenty years of doing anything should give you a fair depth of knowledge and judgement about what you're doing. I've experienced so much, in that time, I know what does and does not work. I know what appeals to various purchasers." Cont.

"They can come to the barn and say, 'What have you got for me, Les?' Because I know the type of horses they like.

"Even when you're out on farms you can point and say, 'That's a horse that's going to appeal to X.' Then by the time you get to the morning of the sale, and need to come to some kind of reserve with your client, I'll know what sort of spending level these people have, their comfort zone, and that helps us target a reserve accordingly. After 20 years, I feel qualified to do this. Without sounding arrogant, this is something I've become expert at."

Nobody could discover a trace of arrogance in this energetic, candid Irishwoman, who found her optimal environment after switching from the veterinary sector. If she's an expert, she stresses, it's because she has learned from the best.

"I've learned a multitude from the boys," she says. "Right down to the horsemanship at the barn: the way we handle and present the horses, the way they're cared for. We've always tried to provide the entire package, so that people feel comfortable when they ship their horse in that things are going to go well: the horse is going to be well represented, and it's going to culminate in a good sale."

Much will continue seamlessly, not least Campion's longstanding investment in mares with Nathan McCauley; and likewise, of course, her husband's weanling partnerships. But there's no escaping the daunting reality that a new chapter opens now.

Even the choice of this relatively low-key sale, for their debut, itself confirms the seasoned judgement that will underpin Campion & Campion. The idea is to demonstrate functionality, sit out the November action in Lexington, and then crack on: they are already accepting entries for Keeneland January, and thenceforth intend to consign at all the major breeding stock, yearling and digital sales.

"We plan to dance all the dances," Campion says. "Hopefully this should be a pretty soft opening, insofar as we have two days showing, one day selling: very straightforward. And the guys coming up to work with us are the same as have been showing with Paramount the last several years. Paramount aren't doing this sale, so the boys are happy to come and support us. They're such good guys, we really value them, and it makes it feel like a real family. It's heartwarming that they want to come up there and support Paddy and me in our first endeavor.

"Look, anybody starting their own business feels a bit of trepidation. And I've been thinking about the moment we sit in the car, Paddy and me, with my daughter who's coming up to help with cards, and we'll be towing that big old gooseneck with our signs and all our supplies in the back. And yeah, it will be launching a big old adventure. Am I trepidatious? Of course. But I'm very much looking forward to it. I'm looking forward to proving to ourselves that we can make this a success."

Breeders' Cup Connections: Thought Process, cont. from p1

Standing on a Manhattan street corner, fresh off dinner with his wife and glued to his phone screen, Jones watched as the homebred coasted home in the GII Rodeo Drive Stakes.

Owned by the Estate of Brereton C. Jones in partnership with Little Red Feather Racing and Madaket Stables, it was the fifth career graded stakes score for Thought Process, who is now pointing for the GI Breeders' Cup Filly and Mare Turf after her 'Win and You're In' victory.

GII Rodeo Drive winner Thought Process is targeting her final start for her current connections at the Breeders' Cup | Benoit

"Not long after the race, I was calling Billy Koch and doing what we've been lucky enough to do several times over the years with Thought Process--congratulate each other and remind each other how lucky we are to have a filly like this," said Jones.

A homebred for Brereton C. Jones, Thought Process is out of a mare whose own racing career holds a memorable place in the Jones family's history. Creative Thinking (Creative Cause) was purchased as a yearling in 2015 after failing to meet her reserve at $8,000.

"We bought Creative Thinking at public auction, which we don't do a lot of, but she was from the first crop of Creative Cause, who we stood at the time," Jones recalled. "She was a big, beautiful filly and for whatever reason, she had a little bit of a vet issue and wasn't getting the traction we thought she deserved."

Thought Process wins last year's GII San Clemente Handicap | Benoit

Their faith was rewarded when Creative Thinking broke her maiden as a 3-year-old and went on to become a stakes winner at four.

After retiring to Airdrie Stud, the grey mare produced Thought Process three years into her broodmare career. Once again, the Joneses held a belief in the filly that surpassed the bids on the board and they chose to retain her.

That September also marked a profound shift for the farm after the passing of Airdrie founder Brereton C. Jones.

"Some of the greatest days Dad ever had in the business were with horses that didn't meet their reserve that we decided to race," said Jones, pointing out success stories like Airdrie royalty and GI Kentucky Oaks winner Believe You Can (Proud Citizen), who followed that same blueprint.

He continued, "When we decided to keep Thought Process, I guess in a lot of ways we were continuing or certainly attempting to continue a tradition that he started a long time ago. Now for her to have gone on and become this pretty amazing filly, there's no question Pop would have enjoyed every second with a filly like this."

Trained by Phil D'Amato, Thought Process collected three straight wins as a juvenile, including the GIII Surfer Girl Stakes, before targeting the 2024 GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies Turf at Del Mar.

"We went into the Breeders' Cup thinking we had a big shot," said Jones. "It was on her home turf in California, but it just wasn't her day. She came out with a little bit of an issue that probably explained why she wasn't more competitive that day."

The ninth-place effort still stands as the only time Thought Process has finished out of the money in 12 career starts. Cont.

She returned at three to capture the GII San Clemente Handicap and place in the GI Del Mar Oaks before breaking through this year with a Grade I score in the Gamely Stakes.

"She's just got that level of brilliance that's pretty rare," said Jones. "Some of her races have been absolutely jaw-dropping."

The heavy favorite in last weekend's Rodeo Drive, Thought Process broke first and never looked back, drawing away to win by 4 1/4 lengths.

"When she wins, she can be so totally dominant," explained Jones. "In Saturday's race, there was not a lot of drama involved because she looked so happy when she was out there on the front end. You can tell she's very comfortable. When you can come home in :22 and change like she did, it's going to take a world beater to beat you."

Bret Jones and Creative Thinking at Airdrie Stud | Sara Gordon

While Jones said the ownership group is deferring to D'Amato on final race plans, all indicators point toward a homecoming in the GI Breeders' Cup Filly & Mare Turf at Keeneland. For a filly who has spent three seasons dominating on the West Coast, a return to Lexington would be the ultimate homecoming for her connections.

"The great thing about having the Breeders' Cup at Keeneland is that the whole team, the people responsible for raising the filly, can come out and see her," said Jones. "We can root for her on our home track."

That Breeders' Cup outing will double as a grand finale for her ownership group. The 4-year-old is catalogued for the Keeneland November Sale as a racing or broodmare prospect.

Back at Airdrie, her dam Creative Thinking continues to build her legacy. This year she produced a full-brother to Thought Process and is now in foal to Oscar Performance.

For Jones and the rest of the partnership, the countdown to Breeders' Cup Saturday is officially on. Cont.

Team Valor's Barry Irwin is a big fan of the new Belmont Park: first U.S.S. Valor (War of Will)'s impressive GI Champagne Stakes romp and now Egyptian Mau's dramatic rail-skimming 31-1 upset last Thursday. Neither are Keeneland-bound for different reasons: Egyptian Mau was sourced from South Africa by Irwin in 2024 and wasn't nominated to the Breeders' Cup. Instead she is scheduled to be sold at Fasig-Tipton November as a new U.S. graded winner.

Earlier in her career, Casse believed Classic Q might be better as an off-the-pace type, but she had different intentions and it was decided not to argue the point. Thus her three previous stakes victories had been in frontrunning fashion, including the GI Just a Game in June at Saratoga. But when Lush Lips (GB) (Ten Sovereigns {Ire}) stormed to the lead in midstretch of the First Lady and her ears went up and her momentum slowed, Classic Q capitalized with a fourth-to-first rally to put her nose in front. However, don't be surprised if she's back on the lead in the longer GI Breeders' Cup Filly & Mare Turf. Cont.

In becoming the eighth two-time Del 'Cap winner, Regaled tuned up nicely for the GI Breeders' Cup Distaff--again. Last year she won by 6 1/4 lengths prior to her third in the Distaff, where she finished just a half-length behind Nitrogen (Medaglia d'Oro). This was a three-length score with a career-best Beyer, and Beckman believes Keeneland's surface and longer stretch should be kinder than Del Mar to her last-to-first style.

The Spinster scratched down to three horses, the smallest Spinster field since the race was inaugurated in 1956. But at least all three were Grade I winners, and Fully Subscribed continued on her resurgent path with a 3 1/4-length triumph over talented 3-year-old Counting Stars (Honor A. P.). Now she and Regaled (above) are set to be rematched with division leader Nitrogen in the Distaff.

This 'TDN Rising Star, presented by Hagyard' is finally starting to realize the potential she flashed as a juvenile with back-to-back career-top Beyers of 96 in a Saratoga allowance and now this 100 in game pursuit of R Disaster (below). But even though that number could be competitive, don't look for her in the GI Breeders' Cup Filly & Mare Sprint. "She's not ready to jump up to a Grade I yet," Brown told DRF. "But I think there's some graded stakes with her name on it."

R Disaster legitimately outran Ways and Means (Practical Joke) in the GI Derby City Distaff in May, then her persistent hind foot issues flared up and she faded badly in the GI Ballerina. "We knew we had to run in the Ballerina win, lose or draw to get her fitness level back," Joseph explained. The Gallant Bloom--which she won in 2025--was the test. Pass, and she sees Ways and Means again in the GI Filly & Mare Sprint. Fail, and she is likely retired. But she made the grade in a big way, with a relaxed pace in her favor en route to the same 103 Beyer she got at Churchill Downs.

REPOLE BUYS 1M SHARES IN CHURCHILL DOWNS

Owner Mike Repole has purchased one million shares, or nearly 1.5% interest, in Churchill Downs, according to a post he made on X Thursday afternoon. Repole indicated he may purchase additional shares and looks forward to working with Churchill Downs Incorporated (CDI)'s CEO Bill Carstanjen to make a positive impact and grow the sport.

“Nobody loves building epic businesses and brands in a disruptive way more than I do,” wrote Repole.

Mike Repole | Sarah Andrew

The entire message Repole posted on X follows:

“Over the past four days, I’ve purchased 1 million shares and close to a 1.5% stake in @ChurchillDowns, and I may acquire more. I’m extremely excited about the possibilities.

Churchill has tremendous assets, led by what I believe is the global crown jewel of horse racing, the @KentuckyDerby. Last year’s Derby peaked at 24.4 million viewers. To me, that’s a major proof point of how BIG this sport can become.

As the owner of Repole Stable, one of the largest, most successful and recognizable stables in the country, I see firsthand the potential of what I believe is one of the most undervalued sports nationally and globally.

Horse racing needs more education, real marketing, innovation, and evolution. It also needs stronger leadership and greater accountability from the Old Guard racing entities that, in my opinion, have held the industry back for far too long.

Nobody loves building epic businesses and brands in a disruptive way more than I do.

I believe a meaningful ownership stake in Churchill gives me the greatest opportunity to help create value for Churchill shareholders AND make a positive financial impact across all of racing.

Growing this sport means growing opportunities for everyone, owners, breeders, track operators, horseplayers, fans, and everyone whose livelihood depends on racing.

I really look forward to working with CEO Bill Carstanjen, his board, and management team to help turn that potential into both short term and long term results.

Think Big. Dream Bigger.”

JAMIE SPENCER TO BEGIN CALIFORNIA RIDING STINT SATURDAY AT SANTA ANITA

by Bill Finley

Jamie Spencer, a champion rider in both the U.K. and Ireland during an illustrious career in Europe, will begin riding in California starting Saturday at Santa Anita. He will have two mounts on that day's card.

Saturday's Santa Anita mounts will come just one week after he won the GI Canadian International at Woodbine aboard Arabian Crown (Fr) (Dubawi {Ire}).

"I was already here in North America because I was at Woodbine and this is a quiet time of year back home. So I decided to stay and ride for a while in California," the 46-year-old rider said. "I'm just going to ride to the end of the meet at Santa Anita and at Del Mar and take it from there. I have no specific plans. I'll just have to see how it goes."

Spencer said that no matter how long he stays in California, he will definitely return to Europe next spring and ride there once the flat season heats up.

"I'm looking forward to riding in California," he said. "I don't normally ride much in November and December. The weather is nice here and I think that I will enjoy it."

TROUBLE IN (TURF) PARADISE: HBPA ALLEGES SIX-FIGURE SUM GONE FROM PURSE ACCOUNT; KEY TRACK EMPLOYEES HAVE QUIT by T.D. Thornton

After a one-year revival in which a new leaseholder, Skyfall 7 LLC, seemingly turned around both the business and reputation of the formerly foundering Turf Paradise, chaos has once again descended upon Arizona's lone remaining Thoroughbred track, seven weeks before the start of the Nov. 27-May 1 meet.

This week began with published news reports that key members of the track's management team, including Tom Ludt, the general manager, were no longer employed by Turf Paradise.

On Thursday, when queried during the monthly Arizona Racing Commission (AZRC) meeting about the vacancies, the status of the upcoming meet, and the company's financial status, Gary Hartunian, who heads Skyfall 7, took a defiant tone when asked to explain what was going on.

"All the bills have been paid except for there's a couple situations that I'm dealing with, but it's really, you know, none of anybody's concern, because it's a business, and I'm running it, you know?" Hartunian said. "So it's all good. I mean, I don't know what your concern is. I mean, I don't get this. To me, it's kind of getting annoying."

Then, after Hartunian explained his side of the story and reiterated several times that Turf Paradise was on the cusp of a "great" season, the Arizona Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association (AZHBPA)'s executive director, Leroy Gessmann, told the commission that more than half a million dollars had recently gone missing from the Turf Paradise purse account.

"We met with Gary Hartunian of Skyfall on Monday and he reported that he intends to run as scheduled," Gessmann said. "But the HBPA has the following concerns that have been verified: Number one, there's no general manager. Number two, there is no track vet. Number three, there is no track maintenance supervisor. As of [Wednesday], there was no concessionaire; he now indicates there may be one in place.

"Then, our main concern was that several hundred thousand dollars were missing from the purse money account," Gessmann said. "Mr. Hartunian has put $360,000 of it back. But we, as of this morning, are still owed $182,000. We are working with our attorney to try and get that returned."

Hartunian, a California-based real estate businessman who also races horses under the stable name Rockingham Ranch, did not address the issue of the allegedly missing money.

Nor did commissioners press Gessmann for details about the purse account.

Gessmann then raised concerns about the meet being able to go off smoothly--or at all.

"Many of the trainers have expressed hesitance to travel here with the fact that all the chaos that's going on and all this stuff that's been in the press [and] it's quite concerning," Gessmann said.

Turf Paradise | Coady

"The bigger trainers may be spending up to $100,000 to move here. It's very expensive transportation now with seven-dollar diesel. It's a big expense and they don't want to come here and find the meet isn't running, or we get started and then we have to quit in the middle of the meet. I did that once at Arizona Downs and I don't ever want to have to do that again," Gessmann said.

Turf Paradise spent the better part of the last two decades mired in a never-ending cascade of controversy. Conflicts played out in the courts and at highly charged AZRC meetings, with horsemen battling management over issues like race dates, purses, off-track betting (OTB) privileges, simulcast signals and safety concerns.

But just prior to the 2025-26 meet, the track's owner, Jerry Simms, leased the track and its network of 38 OTB facilities to Skyfall 7. The lease was reported at the time as being for two years, with options to extend.

As recently as the July AZRC meeting, it seemed as if the new management and horsemen were still in the honeymoon phase after the upbeat 2025-26 meet.

"What a difference a year makes," the AZRC's chairman, James Padish, said three months ago.

And Gessmann, during that July 9 commission meeting, agreed. "It's a pleasant change from last year, definitely," he said.

But by the Oct. 8 AZRC meeting, those good vibes had apparently vanished.

Hartunian didn't think so. This was his explanation, in part:

"We had a lot of issues over there. It's an old track [and] I put in a million and a half dollars in capital improvements to run the track for the meet. That's money I'll never see again. At the end of the meet, we had discussions. The discussions didn't go well, so [Ludt] decided to leave…

"We had a few problem areas that the team, before they resigned, just, like, you know, [didn't pay] attention to. And I was there, just there for three days, and I resolved all the issues, except for two. All the bills are paid, utilities are paid. We got a, you know, a little dispute with the landlord going forward. But, you know, other than that, we're going to have a great meet," Hartunian said.

"We got some bad press from the disgruntled employees that want to try to undermine the situation, but we'll just have to rise to the occasion," Hartunian said.

"The place has never been better. We got a little undercurrent from a couple of guys that, you know, resigned, so it's, you know, it was just, they wanted to go down one path, and, you know, we had to cut back on expenses and they didn't like that philosophy. It's going to be better for the track in the long run [and] things are very, very good and bright over there."

When Hartunian told the commission that assistant general manager David Johnson would be taking over Ludt's position, Padish informed him that the commission had received written confirmation right before the meeting that Johnson had resigned along with Ludt.

"If he resigned, that's news to me," Hartunian said. "I have a list of people that want the job. So it'll be filled by the middle of next week."

At a different point, a frustrated Hartunian challenged Padish: "I don't understand what's the issue. Why are you, like, laughing about this like it's so horrendous?"

Padish, a former superior court judge in Arizona, maintained his composure. "Mr. Hartunian, have I done anything to indicate to you that I'm laughing?" he replied.

Hartunian shot back that he believed the chairman was "chuckling." He then added that, "I don't know why you're listening to the rhetoric on the streets." Cont.

"It's all, you know, 90% of it's not true, not gonna happen."

Padish then tried to bring the questioning to a close, but Hartunian kept speaking over him.

Eventually, though, the chairman managed to get his point across.

"There's nothing before the commission at this time for us to even be called upon to make a decision," Padish told Hartunian. "Nobody, from my perspective, is passing judgment at this time. But information is coming to this department that we can't ignore.

"I'm informed that the department received written notification this morning that your top management resigned, including Dave Johnson, the person you just identified as the new general manager. Again, we're not passing any judgment. We're simply in an information-gathering stage at this point," Padish said.

"I appreciate you sharing with us what you've shared. I think you understand that everybody who is participating in this meeting today has a single, primary goal in mind, and that is to promote and continue live racing in Arizona and Turf Paradise," Padish said.

"That's the No. 1 goal," Padish said. "But we have statutory responsibilities that have to be fulfilled, and so we will be asking in the future some pretty hard questions."

FORMER WINSTAR CEO ELLIOTT WALDEN LEADS NEW 'THE GOOD LIFE' PODCAST

Elliott Walden, former CEO and Racing Manager of WinStar Farm, leads an all-star roster of sports and broadcasting figures in a new show: "The Good Life Podcast."

Co-hosted by Tom Leach, the iconic "Voice of the Wildcats," Jeff Sheppard, former University of Kentucky basketball standout and father of NBA star Reed Sheppard, and Andie Biancone from NBC Sports, the podcast intersects the worlds of horse racing, mainstream sports, faith, and business. The first episode of the weekly podcast was released Thursday.

"It's going to be fun," said Walden. "I've been blessed to have a great career, both training and with WinStar, and I was looking to do something a little different but also something that can be impactful."

Blending in-depth interviews and profiles with compelling storytelling, The Good Life Podcast will feature candid conversations with high-profile leaders, athletes, and voices shaping Kentucky racing, sports, business, and faith to deliver stories behind the success, not just the results.

"There are already a lot of podcasts in the horse racing industry that focus on entries and results," Walden said. "We don't want to be just another voice speaking to entries and results. We want to have conversations that matter and have some depth and weight to them."

To deliver on that vision, Walden has assembled a uniquely versatile and accomplished co-hosting team.

"Jeff is somebody that people will resonate with," Walden added. "He had a great collegiate athletic career and was a two-time National Champion at UK. He transitioned well after college and has a successful business, Family Wealth Group, that he is part owner of. He has a lot of wisdom to share. Tom, as the 'Voice of the Wildcats,' he has captured the heart of every young Kentuckian for decades, and Andie is a rising star in horse racing, and we're excited to have her part of the podcast as well."

The Good Life Podcast, which is sponsored by Keeneland, Breeders' Cup, WinStar Farm, Commonwealth Causes, JMI Sports, and Family Wealth Group, is available on the following platforms: YouTube, Spotify, Apple Podcasts, Amazon Music, and iHeartRadio, as well as at www.thegoodlife.tv.

"What makes horse racing so special is how it unites such a diverse mix of backgrounds, from business leaders to newcomers chasing a better future," Walden said. "Both groups carry rich, untold stories, and we can't wait to bring them to light."

Just a Touch (Justify) is 3-for-4 on the grass since making the transition from the dirt and is 2-for-2 at this demanding distance. Tiz Dashing (Tiz the Law) stretches out after a big effort in an allowance win at Saratoga. Has the figures, but this distance might be too far for him. Echo Lane (Treasure Beach {GB}) didn't show up in the GII United Nations Stakes, but his prior form is much better and he has shown that he can handle this trip.

In the 40-plus year history of this event, no Canadian-based runner has ever left with the trophy, but if able to transfer her synthetic form back to the grass, Luster (Knicks Go) can rewrite that script. Victorious in both her turf tries to date, she is since 3-for-4 over the Woodbine Tapeta, capped by her eye-catching, 7 1/4-length defeat of the boys in the Aug. 15 King's Plate. This is anything but a weak renewal of the QE II, which has also attracted GI Del Mar Oaks heroine Tam Tam (Medaglia d'Oro), the front-running GI Belmont Oaks victress Kensington Lane (Ire) (Starspangledbaner {Aus}); GSW & GISP Faithful Departed (Yoshida {Jpn}); and French listed winner Braida (Fr) (Mehmas {Ire}), from the Arc-winning yard of Francis-Henri Graffard. --ALC

New York-bred Caroline St. Beat (Tiz the Law) got the better of a first-level state-bred allowance on Travers Day Aug. 29, promptly vanned down from upstate New York to Kentucky Downs and caused a 17-1 surprise in the GII Nashville Derby on seven days' rest. Something approaching the 92 Beyer he earned on that occasion will likely do the trick here. Glen Hill Farm's Jersey Derby winner Third Coast (Uncle Mo) has shown he is not too far out of his depth against graded company and exits a sound runner-up effort to 'TDN Rising Star' presented by Hagyard Siyouincanada (Fr) (Siyouni {Fr}) in the Gio Ponti Stakes at Saratoga Sept. 7. Lennox the Grey (Liam's Map) just got the bob in to defeat 'Rising Star' The Big Con (GB) (Dark Angel {Ire}) in the GIII Old Dominion Derby Sept. 7, a race in which Saranac Stakes hero Heeere's Johnny (Oscar Performance) dead-heated for seventh. --ALC

Third and second in the last two runnings of the GI Breeders' Cup Turf Sprint, Ag Bullet (Twirling Candy) looms the one to beat in the Franklin, though she has some questions to answer off a tame eighth in defense of her title in the GII Ladies' Turf Sprint last time. Shoot It True (Munnings) looks to be sitting on a top effort, having hit the board in the GII Unbridled Sidney Stakes and GII Intercontinental Stakes before posting a career-best 100 Beyer in Saratoga allowance company Aug. 13. Usha (Tiz the Law), winner of last year's GI La Brea Stakes, is an intriguing entrant in the Franklin, as she makes her grass debut. Her dam Animal Appeal (Leroidesanimaux {Brz}) amassed a record of 4-2-4 from 13 tries at turf sprint distances, including a third as the favorite in Saratoga's Smart N Fancy Stakes. --ALC

OUTFIELDER (c, 3, Speightstown--Notte d'Oro {SW-USA, SP-Can, $242,482}, by Medaglia d'Oro) looked to have it all to do a quarter mile from home in this stakes-quality, age-restricted allowance, but took flight in the final furlong to peg back long-time leader Throckmorton (Caracaro) in the dying strides. Named a 'TDN Rising Star' following a blowout debut victory at this venue in April 2025, the bay colt atoned for a disappointing effort in last year's GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf with victories in the Animal Kingdom Stakes over the Turfway synthetic Mar. 21 followed by a handy score in Churchill's William Walker Stakes May 9. Tenth, beaten just under a half-dozen lengths in the G1 Commonwealth Cup at Royal Ascot June 19, Outfielder was an even fourth as the odds-on pop in the GIII Mahony Stakes at Saratoga and was adding Lasix for just the second allowance try of his career. The stakes-winning Throckmorton, third in the Walker and a neck second in the GIII Quick Call Stakes this term, won the break and set a searching gallop as Irad Ortiz, Jr. settled the 17-10 favorite in sixth, as far back as he had ever raced previous to this.

Outfielder had just one runner behind and a good seven to eight lengths to raise as the field hit the stretch and Throckmorton didn't appear to be stopping, but just when it looked like it would be too late, Outfielder came with one final surge for an eye-catching success. The stakes-winning Notte d'Oro is a daughter of SW & MGSP May Night (Gulch), herself the dam of MGSW & GISP turfer Red Rifle (Giant's Causeway). Outfielder is one of 14 black-type and 54 overall winners bred on this cross, numbers that include top-level scorers Rock Fall, Olympiad, Prince of Monaco and Competitionofideas. Notte d'Oro is also responsible for a yearling colt by Quality Road that fetched $550,000 from First Row Club/Starlight/Madaket at Keeneland September last month and she was most recently bred back to Quality Road. FACTEUR CHEVAL (IRE) (g, 7, Ribchester {Ire}--Jawlaat {Ire}, by Shamardal) was making his first start under the care of Mark Casse and was given a letter-perfect steer by Irad Ortiz, Jr. to snap a 13-race skid dating back to the 2024 G1 Dubai Turf. Also placed in the G1 Al Matkoum Challenge on the dirt at Meydan in 2025, the bay kicked off this season with a runner-up effort in the G1 Neom Turf Cup in Saudi Arabia over a 2100-meter trip that likely stretches the limits of his stamina, then was seventh to Ombudsman (Ire) (Night of Thunder {Ire}) in this year's Dubai Turf. On the board when favored in a pair of Group 3 contests in Milan this past June, the bay ran on from last to finish sixth in the Sept. 7 GIII Mint Millions Invitational Stakes at Kentucky Downs, his final start for the talented young French conditioner Jerome Reynier. Adding Lasix as a 7-2 chance in a race featuring seven winners at the graded level--including GISW Salamis (Speightstown)--Facteur Cheval sat a ground-saving trip just ahead of midfield and was poised to strike if good enough approaching the lane. Switched out, the bay called on his class, took command at the furlong grounds and kept on bravely to defeat the longer-winded Highway Robber (Hard Spun), the 2024 GIII Sycamore Stakes hero, by a half-length. Facteur Cheval is a half-brother to Queen of the Mud (Ire) (Kodiac {GB}), SW & GSP, $233,506; a Godolphin-owned juvenile filly named Miss Miniver (Ire) (Wootton Bassett {GB}), a maiden winner at Salisbury in September; and a yearling filly by Mehmas (Ire) that made 400,000gns ($555,373) from Stroud Coleman Bloodstock during Book 1 at Tattersalls October. HOT FRIES (f, 2, Jackie's Warrior--Fast Gator {MSW, $378,065}, by Diabolical), showed speed, and, after steadying on the far turn, faded to a well-beaten seventh on debut at the Spa July 11. Overlooked at 10-1 here, she chased in between rivals in third, set her sights on Won'tcatchmecryan (Olympiad) at the top of the stretch and wore down the game pacesetter by a half-length. She becomes the 14th winner for her freshman sire (by Maclean's Music). The winner's dam, also responsible for a yearling filly by Jackie's Warrior, was bred to that sire for 2027. MOONLIT (f, 3, Daredevil--Eres Tu {GSW, $310,627}, by Malibu Moon), a well-beaten fourth after stumbling at the start as the 2-1 favorite out of the Wilson Chute at Saratoga Aug. 21, delivered at 5-2 here. Taking blinkers off, she raced in fifth through fractions of :23.60 and :47.18 and came rolling over the top down the stretch to graduate by 3/4 of a length over Noble Glow (Gun Runner). DIVINE TRUTH (g, 2, Highly Motivated--Bless You, by Munnings), a lukewarm favorite for his Sept. 16 bow in Churchill auction-maiden company, made the running for the opening five panels before emptying out to finish a midpack sixth. Outfooted to the front this time around by the rail-drawn Soap Note (Drain the Clock), the $60,000 OBS April breezer was content to take the sit from second this time around for Luis Saez. Popped the question from between horses in upper stretch, Divine Truth found much more this time around when the real running started and opened up late to score by daylight. The 12th winner for his freshman sire (by Into Mischief), Divine Truth is the first winner from two starters for his dam, who was bred to Locked (Gun Runner) for her 2027 produce. GODOLPHIN CLEARS RECORD £28M SPEND AS BOOK 1 DELIVERS ELITE TRADE

Lot 409: the Night Of Thunder colt led the way on Thursday at Book 1 | Tattersalls

By Emma Berry and Brian Sheerin

NEWMARKET, UK –– Three of the most expensive yearlings in the world this year were sold in the first two days of Book 1, and as that section of the Tattersalls October Yearling Sale drew to a close on Thursday, there were still several more millionaire lots to come. Cont. p3

MOUTHWATERING CESAREWITCH MEET IN STORE; DARKNESS FALLS, DESERT CASTLE & MUSICAL TIMES HEAD ALL-STAR CAST

by Sean Cronin

Following on from the tumbling records of Book 1 up the road at Park Paddocks earlier in the week, Newmarket's Rowley Mile venue plays host to a mouthwatering Future Champions Festival, the modern-day curtain-raiser to next week's Champions Day, to conclude a week of legend at the Suffolk outpost.

The main events of the two-day feast are Friday's G1 Fillies' Mile and Saturday's blockbuster G1 Dewhurst--won last year by Precise and the ill-fated Gewan, respectively--with nine Group races taking place before the iconic Cesarewitch handicap, first run in 1839.

Darkness Falls & Desert Castle Face Off in Dewhurst Blockbuster

The programme's undoubted highlight is a stellar renewal of Saturday's G1 Darley Dewhurst. Aidan O'Brien saddles two as he bids to go one up on icons of yore John Porter and Frank Butters with a record ninth win in the seven-furlong feature. Cont. p12

Matt and Sara Cumani | Tattersalls

South African champion owner Nick Jonsson put in a championship turn as a breeder during the final session, providing lot 409, a colt by Night Of Thunder who brought a bid of 2.2 million gns from Ace Stud.

But as Jonsson, who has "a lot of horses" in training in his native country, rightly said, "I'm not sure this is a success, is it? I mean, that's a lot of money, but winning races is a much better feeling. Winning Group 1s is a way better feeling than selling a horse or buying a horse."

Amen to that.

However, this is a small triumph in itself in that Jonsson bought the colt's unraced dam Capture The Heart (Sea The Stars) through Sam Haggas's Hurworth Bloodstock as a two-year-old for 175,000gns, and she has, from a commercial perspective for now at least, hit the jackpot with this colt, her first foal, consigned by Luca and Sara Cumani's Fittocks Stud.

Jonsson, who has won South Africa's G1 Met for the last four years with four different horses, admitted that he was a "very unwilling seller".

"I was very happy to keep the horse," he said. "I happen to have got lucky and had a nicely bred filly who didn't get to the racecourse. We got lucky with Night Of Thunder, thanks mostly to Luca and Sara.

"I was planning to send her back to South Africa, the mare, and Sara said I'd be mad to do that, and she was quite right. She gave me very good advice. So, it's a good result."

Capture The Heart is a full-sister to G3 Bronte Fillies' Cup winner and Group 1 runner-up River Of Stars and from the family of G2 Coventry Stakes winner Rashabar (Holy Roman Emperor). Her granddam is the Gestut Schlenderhan-bred G1 Preis der Diana winner Amarette (Monsun).

Jonsson, who also has horses in training in Britain with William Haggas, has owned horses in his homeland for 35 years and has a long family history with the sport, his great-grandfather Frederick Lennard Jonsson having founded the Durban Turf Club in 1897.

Ace Stud spent 4,575,000gns on five yearlings this week. Racing and bloodstock manager Paul Curran said of their latest acquisition, who will go into training with Andrew Balding, "He is obviously a very good first foal. As I said yesterday, we were in the market for Night Of Thunder colts, and he was probably the best of them for us, he was a standout.

"With a pedigree like that – he comes from the same family as River Of Stars, a mare we bought two years ago. She went to Australia, and she's been racing there."

Stats stack up well

Seventeen yearlings fetched seven-figure sums during Book 1 – one more than last year – and from a smaller catalogue, the overall turnover was on a par with 2025 at 126,516,000gns. That was achieved through the sale of 352 yearlings, 43 fewer than last year.

At 230,000gns, the median was up by 10% and the average of 359,420gns represented a rise of 12%. This compared pretty well with the bonanza Book 1 of 2024, when 129,648,000gns was spent on 352 yearlings at a record average and median of 370,501gns and 250,000gns respectively.

At this elite level, a clearance rate of 85%, better even than last year's 83%, is remarkable.

Godolphin Spends Close To 27 Million Gns At Book 1

With 26,910,000gns spent on 25 yearlings, Godolphin broke its own Book 1 record by a considerable margin, and the concluding session spend was headed by a 2 million gns Frankel colt from Eugene Daly's Longview Stud. Cont. p4

Out of Crystal Zvezda (Dubawi), the colt's unraced Sea The Stars half-brother topped Book 1 12 months ago when selling to Godolphin for 3.7 million gns.

Anthony Stroud commented, "It's a very good cross that's worked before and we have the two-year-old who was purchased here last year and is one we like. It is a wonderful Rothschild-developed family and, providing everything goes according to plan, he should be a very interesting horse with the capability of becoming a stallion."

He added, "Last year's colt was bigger and stronger – a real mile-and-a-half horse. This horse to me looks like a neat, quality type. You could see him running over seven furlongs and he looks like a horse who will run as a two-year-old."

Not only was Stroud active on behalf of Godolphin all week, but he bought at every level on behalf of other clients, including Peter Harris. In other words, he is uniquely qualified to comment on the strength of this year's Book 1 sale.

He summarised, "Overall, I think it's been a good sale, all things being considered. I think it should be a two-day sale. That's just my opinion. Over three days, you get lulls. I think the start and finishing times are excellent but I think the better horses warrant a two-day sale."

'Big Relief' for Cloney with 1.3m Gns Justify Colt

Clara Stud's James Cloney hailed Entreat "a wondermare" after her Justify half-brother to Camille Pissarro sold to Richard Brown of Blandford Bloodstock for 1.3 million gns late in the session.

"I still have goosebumps," the breeder said. "Brilliant result once again for the wondermare Entreat - she just left it behind her in the ring again. The amount of pacing I have done over the past two hours! Great individual and, to break the million mark again, it's a huge thing for us."

It was in this ring three years ago that subsequent G1 Prix du Jockey Club winner Camille Pissarro left Cloney beaming with pride when selling to Coolmore for 1.25 million gns. The achievement of breaking the seven-figure marker once again was not lost on the Irishman.

He said, "It was a big relief when he was loaded up and passed over to the lads' hands – Johnny, James and Shane who do all the work at home on a daily basis. It's nice to have it converted now. The pressure is off. It's a big worry sending the mare [to be covered by Justify in America]. You are worried about foaling and worried about getting him here – it's constant worry but, by Jesus, that's a good reward for it all."

Asked how Justify came on Cloney's radar for Entreat, he replied, "There's a good story behind that. It happened over a couple of bottles of Heineken! We wanted to bring her to a sire who would be a little bit unique here. At the time, Justify's stud fee wasn't announced and I was trying to buy a nomination. Luckily, Mr Magnier allowed us to breed to him so we loaded up the mare and sent her over. I blame Heineken for that one!"

'Can't Get Any Better' for Forenaghts

Tony Smurfit's Forenaghts Stud has enjoyed a season to remember as the breeder of G2 Mill Reef Stakes winner Nabati (Night Of Thunder) and breeder/consignor of the top lot at the Tattersalls Ireland September Yearling Sale – a Study Of Man colt sold for €330,000. But the year just keeps getting better and Forenaghts enjoyed further success with Night Of Thunder on Thursday when selling the first foal of Cadeau Belle (Harry Angel) for 1 million gns to Nabati's owner Godolphin.

"I thought it couldn't get better after the Mill Reef," said stud manager Caoimhe Doherty. "And then Fairyhouse was unbelievable. And then we had a good time in Goffs, and now this is insane. I'm going to retire at the end of the year. It can't get any better."

Forenaghts also sold another Night Of Thunder filly at the Goffs Orby Sale for €360,000.

"We had only planned to offer six yearlings this year and only four of them made it to the sales," Doherty explained.

"Tony has been in the business for 40 years and he's rowed in again and again and again. And now I just think finally it's all come to fruition for him. I'm so happy for him and Sharon and the Irish industry. We need people like Tony. I'm just so pleased that he's being richly rewarded."

She added, "And I'm so pleased that Godolphin have her. I owe so much to Godolphin in terms of the Flying Start [programme], working in Kildangan and now this. I just can't believe it." Cadeau Belle won the Listed Kooyonga Stakes at Navan for Johnny Murtagh, who had purchased the mare as a yearling.

"Fair play to Johnny," Doherty said. "She won her maiden. We bought her then. Then she won the Kooyonga Stakes in Tony's colours, the old Smurfit colours, the yellow with the blue. And look what she's done now! That's a fair result for us all.

"The mare is dynamite. And again, it all goes back to Godolphin – she's out of a Harry Angel mare, [her granddam is by] New Approach. And Night Of Thunder has been so, so good to us."

Flay Already Dreaming of Ascot with Alcohol Free's First Foal

Bobby Flay has shared dreams of one day popping the champagne in the winner's enclosure at Royal Ascot with his latest Book 1 purchase at Tattersalls - and the filly in question is certainly bred to make that dream a reality being the first foal out of outstanding racemare Alcohol Free and by Frankel.

Bred by Yulong Investments, the Frankel filly was originally unsold at 900,000gns. However, Flay swooped in to seize the opportunity to secure the daughter of the four-time Group 1 winner from Baroda Stud at 800,000gns. That purchase brings the American native's total spend this week to 1,625,000gns on two yearlings. Like the Blue Point filly purchased on Tuesday, the Frankel filly will be trained by Andrew Balding, who sent out Alcohol Free to win the July Cup, Sussex Stakes, Coronation Stakes and Cheveley Park Stakes before shooting the lights out at 5.4 million gns at the Tattersalls Sceptre Sessions to BBA Ireland on behalf of Yulong in 2022.

Flay told TDN Europe, "I have bred to Frankel a number of times - I bred The Euphrates, who is going for the Melbourne Cup. Cont. p6

Flay added, “This filly is exactly the kind of thing I am interested in, right? You have one of the best fillies in the past decade and her first foal is by the best sire in the world. I mean, I don’t know what else to say. Physically, Andrew Balding absolutely loved her, so it’s exactly my kind of play.”

He added, “I absolutely love the No Nay Never influence because he provides so much speed. Then with Frankel, he has everything so it’s super exciting. I have a dream of winning the Coronation Stakes at Royal Ascot and this filly could have that as a long-term target. No pressure, Andrew! We’ve done the easy part, but now the hard work begins. Alcohol Free won the Coronation Stakes for Andrew at Royal Ascot and I'd love to try and win it with her daughter. It’s one of my favourite races.”

Philip Antonacci | Tod Marks

US-based Antonacci Spends over £1m on Two Fillies

It wasn't just Godolphin, Coolmore or Ace Stud that the American buyers had to contend with at Tattersalls this week - the recent strengthening of sterling made looking up at the exchange rate on the bidding board a little harder to digest. However, American-based trainer Philip Antonacci explained that saving a buck or two on the exchange would be the least of your worries in a decade's time if you managed to bag yourself the right type of filly in the ring. And that's exactly what Antonacci hopes to have achieved with his fillies by Frankel and Wootton Bassett that were purchased for a combined sum of 955,000gns.

He said, “We targeted mostly fillies this week. We came here with the main goal of finding well-bred fillies to bring back to the States to train there and eventually have in the broodmare band. We try to buy quality that’s going to stand the test of time. Five or ten years from now, when you’re breeding from them, you won't worry about the exchange rate today. The sterling being strong definitely doesn’t help us, but I think we’ve bought some quality horses. If you’re happy with what you’re buying, it could be value.”

Antonacci added, "I have been coming to Tattersalls for five or six years now. We’ve had some good success. Originally, we’d buy horses and leave them with Joseph O’Brien in Ireland, before then bringing them over to the States. Queen Of Hawaii was a good one. We had another filly called Queenship with Joseph. We’ve had a good run with it. It depends on the horse and the pedigree whether they stay here or come back to the States initially. We’ve had some good luck - a couple of stakes winners and a couple of Graded stakes winners - and they’re training on in the States, which has been good.”

Antonacci has a well-known partner in lot 324, the Wootton Bassett filly who, being a grey, will be shared with Barstool Sports' Dave Portnoy, who has a penchant for horses of that colour.

The trainer continued, "We target well-made horses. We have to be very mindful of soundness in the States so you’ve got to have a well-made, pretty correct horse with good action. Other than that, we’re just looking for athletes. The Frankel filly, for example, was beautiful from the first time I saw her. She looked strong and robust, like you could go to war with her. Her page had a bunch of American, solid stakes horses on the bottom. She’d probably be the type that, if you breed from her in the States in the future, you don’t have to explain the relevant horses on the page to buyers. Stay Thirsty, Without Parole and Tamarkuz are all horses that people know and they are on the page. This filly could even throw a dirt horse in the future so we were comfortable going to 580,000gns on her.” Cont. p7

He added, “The Wootton Bassett filly is obviously a good physical and a good mover. The stallion is one that everybody’s a fan of, and they’re not making any more of them. The page underneath is obviously the family of Galileo and Urban Sea. We’re big believers in pedigrees coming back, so if we can get a bit of black type on her and that pedigree comes back, we’ll be in good shape. Dave Portnoy is involved with us. He’s one for the grey horses, so we’re training a couple of horses for him.”

No Nay Never Colt Turns a Profit for Pier House

By and large, pinhookers have fared pretty well this week, with 80 of 120 yearlings being sold for higher than their foal price and plenty having turned a tidy profit.

One of the biggest of its kind on the final day came with the sale of lot 332, Pier House Stud’s colt by No Nay Never out of the Group 3-placed Woody Creek (Zoffany).

The colt had been bought from the foal draft of Norelands for the tidy sum of 250,000gns last November but, after a Grade 2 placing for his half-brother Jordi Bear (St Lark’s Basilica) and a stellar year for No Nay Never - whose Group winners in 2026 have included True Love, Mission Central, Amusingly, Libertango and Lake Forest – his sale price jumped to 900,000gns, with MV Magnier the successful bidder.

Buying in partnership with Peter Brant’s White Birch Farm, Magnier signed for six Book 1 yearlings for a total of 8.15 million gns.

Lloyd Webbers Buy Estrange’s Half-sister

The Blue Point half-sister to Group 1 winner Estrange (Night Of Thunder) changed hands from one good breeder to another, with the Lloyd Webbers’ Watership Down Stud going to 800,000gns though Charlie Gordon-Watson to buy the filly from James Hanly’s Ballyhimikin Stud.

Lady Lloyd Webber | Tattersalls

Lot 348 is a daughter of Blue Point | Tattersalls/de Burgh Productions

"She is a lovely, gorgeous filly. We loved her,” said Madeleine Lloyd Webber. “She has a great page, and is going to make a wonderful broodmare one day, which is what we are looking for."

The Pretty Polly Stakes winner Estrange was herself bought from Book 1 by Cheveley Park Stud and is one of three black-type performers for her dam Alienate (Oasis Dream), who is owned by Hanly in partnership with Trevor Stewart and Anthony Stroud.

A half-sister to Juddmonte’s St Leger winner Logician (Frankel), the 12-year-old mare is also from the family of Cityscape and Bated Breath. Having foaled a filly by Lope De Vega this spring, she is now back in foal to Night Of Thunder.

Rarity Value in Equinox Purchase

The sole yearling by Japanese first-season sire Equinox catalogued for the Tattersalls October Yearling Sale created an early stir at Park Paddocks on Thursday morning when sold to Godolphin for 550,000gns.

The filly, who was bred by her consignor Newsells Park Stud in partnership with Lordship Stud, is out of the G2 Prix de Malleret winner Waldlied (New Approach), a half-sister to the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe winner Waldgeist (Galileo). The mare's first foal Equitize (Kingman) is a dual winner and was Listed-placed for Chad Brown in America.

"Equinox is an unbelievable horse and it's an international market. Japan's at the highest level of international racing so the more cross-pollination between these countries - America and Japan and European countries - the better. It's very important, really," said Anthony Stroud after signing for lot 318.

"We feel very lucky to have her. Newsells were very enterprising in sending the mare to Equinox in the first place."

Equinox, who stands alongside his sire Kitasan Black at the Shadai Stallion Station in Hokkaido, was the highest-rated horse of the year in 2023. In a 10-race career he won eight times, finishing second on his two other starts, with his victories including a four-length triumph in the Japan Cup over the fillies' triple crown winner Liberty Island, plus an easy win over Westover in the Dubai Sheema Classic.

Churchtown Stud in Clover Again with Little Big Bear

A colt from the first crop of Coolmore's Little Big Bear kept the good times rolling for Michael and Anne Gaffney's Churchtown House Stud when selling to Godolphin for 750,000gns.

A half-brother to the G1 Middle Park Stakes runner-up and Group 3 winner Castle Star (Starspangledbanner), the May 14 colt is out of Awohaam (Iffraaj), who is now in foal to Sioux Nation.

"I'm so thankful to everybody who came in and bid for him and made this a magic moment," said Michael Gaffney, whose good run started with the sale of a homebred Starspangledbanner filly for 900,000gns, topping the Craven Breeze-up Sale in the process through consignor Egmont Stud.

Named Senorita Bonita by her new owner Victorious Forever, she went on to win the G1 Prix Morny and G2 Duchess Of Cambridge Stakes for Simon and Ed Crisford. Last week at the Goffs Orby Sale, Churchtown House sold her half-sister by Modern Games for €1.3 million, also to Godolphin.

He added, "It has been an unbelievably brilliant year. It's just magic, and it continues to be magic."

Prior Highlights Sheikh Mohammed's 'Enduring Support'

Assessing the week's results at the end of his first Book 1 as managing director of Tattersalls, Matthew Prior said, "Book 1 of the Tattersalls October Yearling Sale is Europe's premier yearling sale, and it was fitting that Park Paddocks and Newmarket once again became the focus of the international bloodstock world, welcoming a truly global audience for the cream of the European yearling crop.

"This week we have witnessed a European record for a yearling colt, with the Norelands-consigned son of Night of Thunder realising 4,600,000gns, a figure unmatched anywhere in the world this year. He was one of a record-equalling 17 yearlings to realise one million gns or more, whilst a remarkable 63 lots sold for in excess of 500,000gns, testament to the unwavering support of vendors and consignors from Britain, Ireland, France and Germany.

"There has been a vibrant atmosphere at Park Paddocks throughout the week, underpinned by the strength and depth of international participation. Of particular note, an unprecedented number of North American buyers to Park Paddocks who purchased more than 50 yearlings between them. Their growing participation has been underpinned by the continued success on the burgeoning US turf scene, and their support of the October Yearling Sale is greatly appreciated."

He continued, "We have also once again welcomed Godolphin's principal, Sheikh Mohammed, to Park Paddocks. His continued support of the European racing and breeding industry, and of Newmarket in particular, is hugely valued. Equally, the enduring support of the Maktoum family and their associates, together with that of so many buyers from across the Gulf region, is something for which we are enormously grateful.

"We now look forward with a degree of optimism to Books 2, 3 and 4 of the Tattersalls October Yearling Sale as we continue the most important fortnight in the European bloodstock calendar."

Late in the session it was the turn of Clifton Farm to make a decent profit on the Corniche colt (lot 463) who had been bought at Keeneland November for $8,000. His three-year-old half-brother Sun Chaser (Justify) has won in the States in the meantime and Jamie McCalmont bought the son of Envied (American Pharoah) for 100,000gns.

Thought for the Day

It is easy to reduce this sale to mere numbers – and in the case of many transactions, they can resemble telephone numbers. But for all that hefty returns are welcomed by those breeders who have invested in broodmare bands and expensive nominations, it would be folly to imagine that money is the only thing that matters.

More than once this week, men who seem for all the world to be hardheaded commercial breeders have broken down in tears when describing the commitment by those working on the farms and the hours of devotion and planning given to establishing and developing what one described as “a life’s work”.

Not everyone will have achieved what they wanted to this week, but for those who enjoyed a decent payday, those profits will undoubtedly have been hard earned over years of endeavour.

MONEEFA ANOTHER TDN RISING STAR FOR BAAEED by Tom Frary

Entering Thursday's Prix Esmeralda at Saint-Cloud in the shadow of stablemate Jumeau (Sea The Stars), Prince Faisal's Moneefa (Baaeed) emerged front and centre to become her first-season's sire's third TDN Rising Star.

Off the mark on debut over 7 1/2 furlongs at this venue last month, the daughter of the Prix Chloe winner Noticeable Grace (Make Believe) from the family of the Oaks and King George heroine Taghrooda (Sea The Stars) tracked the clear leader under Oisin Murphy.

Setting sail two out, the Andre and Lavinia Fabre-trained 14-5 second favourite was soon clear and had 4 1/2 lengths to spare over Sosie's brother and 4-5 market-leader Jumeau at the line with OTI Management's La Carmen (Keiai Nautique) a length further back in third.

"She's very good," Murphy confirmed. "She has a nice future and her sire is doing very well. She looks like she has improved since her debut, but I'm not sure if she will run again very soon as I think the team wants to wait until her three-year-old year."

A little over five weeks after the subsequent Group 3 winner Curracloe gave Baaeed his first TDN Rising Star and just three days after his daughter Claudette romped at Yarmouth to double his tally in the category, Moneefa was taking her own leap to further suggest that the Shadwell luminary could also be a high achiever in his second career. The second foal out of Noticeable Grace, she is connected to Make Believe's Prix Isonomy winner and Prix Daphnis runner-up Tammani but it is the names under the fourth and fifth dams that stir the blood.

The fourth dam Ezilla (Darshaan) produced the triple Listed scorer and Lancashire Oaks runner-up Ezima (Sadler's Wells), responsible for the aforementioned class act Taghrooda by Baaeed's sire Sea The Stars who in turn produced the Group 2 winner Israr (Muhaarar). The fifth dam Ezana (Ela-Mana-Mou) achieved notoriety for The Aga Khan Studs courtesy of Ezilla's full-sister Ebaziya, who boats two Gold Cup winners in Estimate (Monsun) and Enzeli (Kahyasi), an Irish Oaks and Prix Royal-Oak heroine in Ebadiyla by Ezima's sire Sadler's Wells and a Moyglare Stud Stakes winner in Edabiya (Rainbow Quest).

Ballydoyle's duo is headed by G1 Golden Fleece hero Darkness Falls (Camelot), who raised the yard's spirits on Irish Champions weekend, and also features G2 Coventry-winning fellow Rising Star Great Barrier Reef (No Nay Never).

"Darkness Falls has come out of Leopardstown very well, his work has been good since and this has been on the agenda for some time," said Chris Armstrong. "What he did in his maiden win, he backed up in a Group 1 afterwards, so he is in the 'could be anything' category. The Dewhurst is the logical step to see if he can start off on the Guineas route next year. Great Barrier Reef is also in good form since the last day and the plan is now to go up in trip with him."

Ryan Moore, who has collected five prior editions, concurred and added, "Darkness Falls could be a Guineas horse that steps up to a Derby trip. He won his maiden impressively, making all at the Curragh and then won the new nine-furlong Golden Fleece, where he was very impressive. Obviously, he'll be dropping back to seven furlongs, but he has showed a lot of pace and I think he is an exciting colt."

Appleby Duo Seek Trainer's Fourth Win

Charlie Appleby is on the hunt for win number four in a race he has won with stable linchpins Pinatubo, Native Trail and Shadow Of Light. This has been the long-term aim for the G2 Champagne-winning Rising Star Desert Castle (Frankel), ante-post favourite for next season's 2000 Guineas and the mount of William Buick, who also caught the eye at the July course in August.

Billy Loughnane partners second string Jassas (Dubawi), whose debut form has solidified over time. He flopped when last of five in August's G3 Prix Francois Boutin and may be forgiven that blip after notching a wide-margin confidence booster at Haydock two weeks ago.

"Desert Castle was more professional at Doncaster compared to his debut and I think he has come forward again since," said Appleby. "We are taking on a horse who is already a Group 1 winner in Darkness Falls, but we are pleased with our horse and he has developed. It looks a good race and we are looking forward to it."

"Jassas broke his maiden at Doncaster and then disappointed at Deauville, which we put down to the travelling," he added. "He put up a nice effort under a penalty at Haydock and should help keep things straightforward."

Mrs Alanood Althani's G3 Acomb second and Champagne fourth Gentle Hurricane (Invincible Spirit), who hails from the Andrew Balding stable, completes a boutique line-up.

Musical Times To Call Fillies' Mile Tune

Quality runs deep in Friday's bet365-sponsored Fillies' Mile, which has attracted a field of eight headed by Godolphin's G2 May Hill heroine Musical Times (Lope De Vega), who makes her first start since delivering that scintillating 7 1/2-length triumph at Doncaster's St Leger fixture.

Charlie Appleby is seeking a second renewal of the straight one-mile test and the undefeated-in-three homebred is trading at odds-on to follow in the hoofprints of the yard's 2024 winner Desert Flower.

"Musical Times ticks a lot of boxes," the trainer commented. "She is pretty versatile when it comes to ground, having won on good-to-soft and a quicker surface, while she can lead or drop in. She has also won over the trip, which is a big bonus, so she looks a worthy favourite and the one to beat." Cont. p13

Balding On Fire

Jeff Smith's two-for-two Rising Star Forbidden Fire (No Nay Never), a daughter of G1 Juddmonte International heroine Arabian Queen, is another exciting prospect from the red-hot Andrew Balding yard and backed up a spectacular debut win at Salisbury in August with a stakes breakthrough in Doncaster's Listed Flying Scotsman last month.

"Forbidden Fire is a lovely filly, she's beautifully bred and she always looked like she had some ability," the trainer said. "She started really well at Salisbury and stepped up on that second time out in a Listed race against colts. The form has worked out well and she's lightly raced with just two starts. I hope there's still improvement in her, but the question mark is probably stepping up to a mile. Her siblings have deceived me in staying further than we ever thought they would, so it's probably worth a go. She's got the class and I'd hope to be very competitive."

Balding will also saddle May Hill runner-up Scommessa Sicura (Cracksman). "Scommessa Sicura has been so consistent this year," he added. "She's had plenty of racing and she's never run a bad race."

Sioux Nation Delegation

Supporting Sioux Nation fillies has been a fruitful enterprise this term, Sun Goddess leading the charge with a trio of Group 1 rosettes, and the sire has two entries here. Victorious Forever's €1.1-million Arqana Breeze-Up acquisition and Rising Star Lex Victoria is two-for-two and tackles one mile for the first time.

"It's a big step up to come out of maiden and novice company straight into a Group 1," said racing manager Chris Wall. "We want to know how good she could be and where we stand in the overall scheme of things, so we know roughly what we will do with her next season. She's obviously shown herself to be a filly with plenty of class and it will be interesting to see how we stack up. This filly is relaxed and you can switch her off. Her form looks good and the second to her at Kempton came out and won well at Ascot the other day. She should stay a mile without any difficulty and, hopefully, she can show a bit of speed at the end and get involved in the finish."

Rogue Passion | Grossick Photography/TJC

Coolmore's sire ascendant also has Rogues Gallery Racing's Rogue Passion, who stepped forward to garner Deauville's G3 Prix d'Aumale, downing G1 Jean-Luc Lagardere hero Amusingly and G1 Marcel Boussac runner-up Data, for the Ed Bethell barn five weeks ago.

"The phone has been alight for her and we've had a few big offers now, but we are one race away from a life-changing offer so we are going to take a chance," said syndicate founder Tony Elliott. "We wouldn't have been keen to take on Sun Goddess, but I'm really keen to take on Musical Times, so we will see what happens. She ran in France last time and the form couldn't have worked out better. We were going to supplement for the Marcel Boussac, but she scoped dirty and we couldn't go. She's scoped clean now, she worked last Saturday and we are pretty sure she has improved. Win and we are in the big league."

O'Briens In The House

Fishdance's Dancing Destiny (Magna Grecia) represents the Joseph O'Brien juggernaut firing on all cylinders with one Listed win and four Group places already in the bag. Her form includes a neck second to G1 Marcel Boussac heroine Green Empress in the G2 Debutante and a third to Sun Goddess, albeit over eight lengths adrift, in last month's G1 Moyglare. O'Brien steered Together Forever to victory in 2014 and saddled Iridessa in 2018 and Pretty Gorgeous in 2020. Cont. p14

Aidan O'Brien, who has snagged a record seven wins, arrives from leftfield this year and relies on the Dundalk maiden scorer Haven (Wootton Bassett) and five-race maiden Exceptionally (Into Mischief).

Friday's Undercard

Flora Of Bermuda | Goodwood

Friday's supporting races include the G3 Newmarket Academy Godolphin Beacon Project Cornwallis, with Rising Star and G2 Flying Childers second Flann Sunna (Blue Point) eyeballing one dozen speedsters in the five-furlong dash, while Richard Hannon trainee Dark Issue (Dark Angel) offers each-way value in the 16-runner G3 Godolphin Lifetime Care Oh So Sharp.

Forbidden Fire's stablemates Flora Of Bermuda (Dark Angel) and Never So Brave (No Nay Never) hold the key to the seven-furlong G2 Thoroughbred Industry Employee Awards Challenge, while the opening day's stakes action concludes with the Listed Godolphin Under Starters Orders Boadicea and G3 Newmarket Pony Academy Pride. Juddmonte's Oaks runner-up Legacy Link (Dubawi) and G1 Coronation runner-up Touleen (Lope De Vega) share top billing in the latter.

Autumn Splendour

Aidan O'Brien has sent out just one prior winner, Delacroix in 2024, in Saturday's G3 Emirates Autumn and relies on Wootton Bassett's Champagne second Sergei Diaghilev this time around.

Charlie Appleby has collected a record five editions and goes for a sixth with the Billy Loughnane-ridden Doncaster maiden winner Al Jabbar (Sea The Stars).

Godolphin also has the Roger Varian-trained Rock Montreal (Blue Point) engaged. The 2025 Book 1 millionaire was a last-out second behind Fillies' Mile hopeful Forbidden Fire in the Listed Flying Scotsman, with William Buick boasting an unmatched six victories in the race.

Marco Botti sends Scuderia Sagam's G3 Somerville Tattersall runner-up Notable Dream (Bayside Boy) back across town for a third time and the 40,000gns Book 3 graduate bids to become his freshman sire's second Group winner in yet another deep contest.

Saturday's Undercard

Saturday's card also features the ten-furlong G3 Native Trail Zetland, a contest won by Pierre Bonnard last season, with G2 Beresford third Drumbeat (Wootton Bassett) attempting to secure a fourth rosette for Aidan O'Brien.

Andrew Balding takes aim at the G3 Modern Games Darley and is responsible for three of the nine-furlong contest's five contenders. The trio includes Wathnan's 2025 G2 Royal Lodge runner-up Humidity (Ulysses), who makes his first start in over a year after chasing home Bow Echo last September, and G2 Joel second The Lost King (Kingman), who will line up as favourite.

Ian Williams and Billy Loughnane join forces once again as the 2025 winner Beylerbeyi (Invincible Spirit) attempts to become just the second dual, and first back-to-back, winner of the Club Godolphin Cesarewitch.

Jolivette | Racingfotos.com

Going Continental

The weekend's continental stakes action centres on Saturday's G2 Criterium de Maisons-Laffitte at Chantilly and Sunday's G3 Wettstar Preis des Winterfavoriten at Cologne.

Juddmonte's G2 Lowther and G2 Mill Reef-placed Jolivette (Wootton Bassett), the G3 Dick Poole winner Acclamation Star (Acclamation) and the G3 Prix Eclipse runner-up Scythe (Victor Ludorum) launch an international assault on the former.

Stall Mandarin's Listed Grosser Junioren-Preis second Laveran (Torquator Tasso) bids to become his freshman sire's first black-type winner and encounters the G3 Zukunfts-Rennen third and fourth, Tango Dancer (Alson) and Taylor Made (Rubaiyat), in Germany's premier juvenile contest.

No Nay Never Filly Scores At Belmont

Philip Antonacci sent out Amangani (No Nay Never) to win the ninth race at Belmont Park on October 2 (video). A colourbearer for Lindy Farms, Ice Wine Stable and Westfield Stables, the four-year-old filly was bred by Moni Market Breeders.

Although she did not meet her reserve and was a 58,000gns buy-back at the Tattersalls December Yearling Sale, Amangani prevailed at second asking for Antonacci and former trainer Joseph O'Brien at Punchestown in September of 2024. Cont. p16

She transferred to the U.S. for a start at Saratoga in September and ran third for her current connections then. Out of the Silver Frost mare La Naturel, Amangani is followed by a yearling half-brother by Awtaad. Her second dam, L'Ensorceleuse (Oasis Dream), is a half-sister to multiple Group 1 winner and sire Charm Spirit.

Coolmore's No Nay Never has sired 80 winners from 136 runners (59%) in the U.S. including Amangani. His 11 stakes winners there feature graded winners Meditate (G1 BC Juvenile Fillies Turf), Nay Lady Nay (GII Mrs Revere Stakes, GIII Matchmaker Stakes), Hey Nay Nay (GIII Del Mar Juvenile Turf Stakes), and Vitalogy (GIII Palm Beach Stakes).

New Bay Colt Gets The Dub In NY

Permanent Record | Walter Wlodarczyk/Coglianese Photography

Klaravich Stables' Permanent Record (New Bay) secured an open-length win at Belmont for trainer Chad Brown on October 3 (video). Bred by Qatar Bloodstock, the son of Electress (Galileo) was an 180,000gns Tattersalls October Book 2 yearling. His year-younger Kameko half-brother sells in the same book later this month, while his weanling half-brother is by Charyn.

Electress is a winning daughter of Qatar Racing's G1 Irish 1000 Guineas and GI E. P. Taylor Stakes-winning Just The Judge (Lawman), herself the dam of Nash Nasha (Dubawi), a stakes winner in Germany. The last-named mare is the dam of Venetian Lace (Masar), second in the G1 Fillies Mile and third in the G1 1000 Guineas, G3 Gordon Stakes, and G3 Sweet Solera Stakes.

Fresh off his Bay City Roller running second in Sunday's G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe, Ballylinch Stud's New Bay now has three winners from 11 runners in the U.S. and Canada (27%).

Pair Of Euros Thrive At Meadowlands

Miguel Clement trainee La Patronne (The Grey Gatsby) won at second asking for Cold Press Racing, Winters Equine and LJSS Thoroughbreds at the Meadowlands on October 2 (video).

Part of the SNIG Elevage breeding programme, the first-born daughter of Casamance (Distorted Humor) was a €58,000 Arqana August yearling purchase. From the same family as GI Summer Stakes hero Decorated Invader (Declaration Of War), she has a yearling half-sister by Onesto who brought €130,000 from Hubert Guy Bloodstock at the Arqana V.2 Sale this August.

The Grey Gatsby has fielded nine runners in the U.S. with eight winners (89%) after La Patronne's success. His three worldwide graded/group winners are led by GIII The Very One Stakes heroine Mylady.

Just one day after La Patronne rattled home a winner at the Meadowlands, Housing Market (Zarak) also got off the mark there in his second start for trainer Chad Brown (video). The Klaravich Stables runner was bred by SCEA JLC and Pauline Carpentier.

The €180,000 Arqana October yearling purchase is the second foal and first winner out of La Taniere (Myboycharlie). Her latest offspring is a foal of 2026 by Little Big Bear. GIII Wonder Again Stakes heroine La Signare (Siyouni), also placed in the GI Gamely Stakes, the GI Diana Stakes, and the GI Jenny Wiley Stakes, is a half-sister to La Taniere.

The Aga Khan Studs' Zarak is responsible for nine winners from 14 runners (64%) in the U.S. GII Saratoga Oaks winner Laurelin, GII Flower Bowl Stakes heroine Parnac and GIII Waya Stakes victress Village Voice are the son of Dubawi's graded stakes winners in America.

Repeat Winners

Sorrento Sky (Prince Of Lir) captured the GII Green Flash Handicap presented by Longines at Santa Anita in August and added the GII Eddie D Stakes there on September 26 (video).Trained by Phil D'Amato, the five-year-old gelding is owned by the Benowitz Family Trust, CYBT, McLean Racing Stables, Saul Gevertz, Marc Lantzman and Michael Nentwig.

D'Amato also saddled Cortina d'Amprezzo (Lucky Vega) to win a Santa Anita allowance on September 27 (video). The three-year-old filly was winning for the second time in her career for Hopeless Stables, Little Red Feather Racing, Medallion Racing, McNulty Thoroughbreds, Veranda Stables and Omar Aldabbagh.

Chad Brown saddled Shelzawa (Zelzal) to win the GIII Winter Memories Stakes at Belmont on October 1 (video). It was the third win and first black-type victory for the three-year-old filly, who races for Madaket Stables, Michael Dubb, William Strauss, William Rucker and Michael Caruso. Cont. p17

Winning her novices at Yarmouth and Kempton by a cumulative margin of 19 1/2 lengths this spring, Brilliant Star found the jump into Stakes company beyond her when fifth in a strong renewal of Goodwood's Height of Fashion but found improvement from that to be fourth in the Ribblesdale.

Absent since Royal Ascot, the homebred followed the early pace and was wound up from some way out to take control inside the final two furlongs and register an authoritative first black-type win.

"We freshened her up and she had never been on ground like this before or over this trip, but everything in her pedigree suggested this is what she would like," jockey Robert Havlin said.

"She still had to go out there and do it and she travelled nicely and outstayed everything. She showed a little bit of greenness, but this was her first run since June. She's a nice filly going forward and she cruised there past the two on the bridle and if she stays in training there are some nice races for her."

The winner is the second foal out of the owner-breeder's accomplished Irish Oaks, British Champions Fillies & Mares Stakes and Prix Vermeille heroine Star Catcher, a half-sister to Lemon Drop Kid's Canadian International hero Cannock Chase, dual Group scorer Pisco Sour and Bizzarria who produced the valuable King Edward VII Stakes third Galveston by Cracksman's sire Frankel. Also connected to Frankel's dual Group-placed By The Book, her unraced two-year-old filly Noble Light is by Palace Pier while she also has a yearling filly by Kingman and a filly foal by Frankel.

Staying on to gain the advantage approaching the furlong pole, the 6-4 favourite asserted to beat Emtinan (Lope De Vega) by a length.

The Prix Penelope-winning dam, who also produced the Prix de Malleret winner and Stakes producer Waldlied (New Approach) and the Gordon Richards Stakes winner Waldkonig (Kingman), is a half-sister to the St Leger hero Masked Marvel (Montjeu) and to the dam of the classy Dubawi half-siblings Al Nayyir, New London and Al Dabaran.

Staying on strongly up the straight, the 11-10 favourite hit the line with 3 1/4 lengths to spare over Galimix (Space Traveller).

The dam, who also has a colt foal by Kameko, is out of the famed Shastye (Danehill) whose impressive progeny list boasts Galileo's Japan, Mogul and Secret Gesture with the latter responsible for a quartet of Stakes performers including Dubawi's ill-fated Chester Vase winner Hidden Law. SILVER KISS (IRE) (f, 2, Saxon Warrior {Jpn}--Emilie Gray {Ire} {SP-Ger, MSP-Ire}, by Dubawi {Ire}), placed in four competitive maidens with her best effort coming over this trip at Punchestown last month, tracked the leaders before being committed approaching three out. Soon in command, the even-money favourite stayed on to beat Light Of Saxony (Saxon Warrior) by 1 1/4 lengths.

The winner is the first foal out of the triple Listed-placed dam, a member of an esteemed Moyglare dynasty who also took five starts to get off the mark and who was sold to Old Carhue Stud for €130,000 at last year's Goffs November Sale. A daughter of the multiple Stakes winner Carla Bianca (Dansili), another who needed four runs before getting off the mark, she is connected to the likes of the Irish 1,000 Guineas heroine Homeless Songs (Frankel) and this year's Railway Stakes runner-up Tribeca (Blue Point).

Her yearling son of Baaeed was a €52,000 purchase by Tally Ho at this year's Goffs February Sale, while she also has a filly foal by Vandeek. Lifetime Record: 5-1-1-3, $26,641.

SEBASTIAN HUTCH TO BECOME MANAGING DIRECTOR OF INGLIS

Sebastian Hutch | Inglis

Sebastian Hutch has been appointed managing director of Inglias, effective January 4, 2027, the Inglis Board of Directors announced on Thursday. He will replace Mark Webster, managing director since 2007.

Hutch joined Inglis in November 2018 from Coolmore. He was the general manager of bloodstock sales from 2018-2019, the general manager of bloodstock sales and marketing from 2019-2021 and has served as bloodstock CEO from 2021-2026.

Webster, who became the first non-Inglis family member to fill the managing director role when joining the company, will continue part-time as executive director on special projects until July 2027. Upon his retirement Webster will continue to chair Ardex Technology and Inglis's US digital and other projects. He will also serve as a non-executive director of the sales company at that time.

Said Hutch, "Inglis is an incredible company, an intergenerational success story that has stood the test of time. I am very grateful for the opportunities that have been afforded me by the Inglis family, the shareholders and the Board in my time at Inglis and honoured to be chosen as a custodian of the company into the future.

"We have consolidated an incredible team of people across the business, people who are hard-working, motivated and fundamentally proud to work for such an esteemed company. I am excited about leading that team into the future and do so optimistic that we can write the next chapter of the Inglis success story together.

"Mark has been a transformational leader for Inglis, strategising the evolution of the company into a market leader in many ways, not just domestically, but internationally.

"He has the respect of everybody in this business for his integrity and the exemplary manner in which he has conducted his work over nearly two decades.''

Added Webster, "I am profoundly grateful to our Board, shareholders, employees and loyal customers for their steadfast support during my time as managing director.

"Our remarkable evolution into a global leader in digital auctions and the world-class development of Riverside Stables are a testament to the innovation and professionalism of our talented team.

"I extend my warmest congratulations to my successor, Sebastian Hutch, who has made a remarkable contribution to our bloodstock business over the past eight years.

"As I hand over the managing director role in the coming months, I do so with absolute confidence that Sebastian is ready to step up and successfully take the company forward.''

"On behalf of Inglis family members and shareholders we are immensely grateful to Mark for his leadership over 20 years, including pioneering many innovations now adopted worldwide, the relocation to Riverside, establishment of the William Inglis Hotel and numerous other achievements,'' said Arthur Inglis, deputy chair and a fifth-generation family member.

"When we appointed Mark in 2007 it was the first time in 140 years that the business had been led by someone outside the Inglis name. It was not a decision we took lightly and Mark has repaid that trust many times over and we are delighted that Inglis will continue to have his counsel as a non-executive director." Cont. p22

He said, "Sebastian has an astounding work ethic, he leads from the front, is widely respected for his industry knowledge and has demonstrated the ability to lead a high-performing bloodstock auction house. We are indeed fortunate to have a person of his integrity and expertise.

"He takes on a business in excellent health – thanks in no small part to Mark's legacy – and I have no doubt he will continue to lead the company forward with momentum and success.

"The management and timing of the leadership transition also speaks to the calibre of both Mark and Sebastian.'' Inglis chair John Coates AC said, "This is the culmination of a long-term leadership transition process which commenced with Sebastian's appointment eight years ago.

"Since that time, Mark has continued as managing director of the Inglis group of businesses but stepped away from the day-to-day responsibilities of the bloodstock business.

"Sebastian's achievements as bloodstock CEO are well documented and the Board is confident that his expertise and the leadership qualities he has exhibited with his bloodstock team will guide the wider Inglis group into an exciting new phase of growth.''

So impressive in the May Hill, it will take something special to lower the colours of Musical Times with the main ray of hope for her opponents being the possibility that she is less effective on this faster ground. Rogue Passion beat Amusingly and Data in the Prix d'Aumale last month and is most likely the chief threat given the performances of that pair on Sunday, while the Flying Scotsman winner Forbidden Fire has stamina to prove along with fellow unbeaten TDN Rising Star Lex Victoria. Ballydoyle's Haven will appreciate the step up from seven furlongs and is hard to rule out based on the record of their runners in this particular heat. [Tom Frary].

Second to More Thunder in the Park Stakes, Flora Of Bermuda may have the edge over stablemate Never So Brave who has disappointed much more often than not this season after such a profitable 2025 campaign. Pina Sonata has a lot of upside, but she enjoyed the crowded nature of the Sceptre Stakes on her turf breakthrough last month and this small field may not see her in her best light. [Tom Frary].

This is an ideal opportunity for the Oaks runner-up Legacy Link or the Coronation Stakes runner-up Touleen to get back on track, but both have question marks on recent evidence and the latter has stamina to prove. That could pave the way for Silver Lake to make her mark in this company and after handicap wins at the high-profile Festivals of Goodwood, York and Doncaster she is more than ready for the challenge. So promising in the spring, Felicitas may be one to follow in the autumn but she has to reverse Upavon Stakes form with On Message having finished behind her and the eventual Prix de l'Opera winner Miss Scott in that Salisbury contest. [Tom Frary].

5	Jassas (GB)	Dubawi (Ire)	Godolphin	Charlie Appleby	Billy Loughnane	129

Breeders: 1-Lynch Bages Ltd, 2-Godolphin, 3-Mrs S. M. Rogers & Sir Thomas Pilkington, 4-Barronstown Stud, 5-Godolphin.

This boils down to a good old-fashioned tussle between Coolmore and Godolphin and with no pacemaker in the line-up from Ballydoyle it could be that the stamina-proven Darkness Falls is allowed to stride on and test the staying power of the Champagne Stakes winner Desert Castle. The latter has Jassas for company in a twist to the tactical set-up of the race, but he probably needs very little help in showing his obvious star quality which was very much in evidence at Doncaster. While Desert Castle could be the best that Charlie Appleby has trained, Darkness Falls could easily fit that bill for Aidan O'Brien given how impressive he has been the last two starts. If he is able to answer what is probably his least-suitable question so far running over this fast seven on lively ground, we are talking about a genuine Triple Crown prospect much as his sire was in the last decade and even if he succumbs to what is probably a speedier foe here that dream still lives on. Great Barrier Reef is not out of this, but he keeps missing engagements and has a question mark over him for now. [Tom Frary].

THE MODERN GAMES DARLEY STAKES-G3, £95,000, 3yo/up, 9fT

SC	HORSE	SIRE	OWNER	TRAINER	JOCKEY	WT

2	Boiling Point (Ire)	Too Darn Hot (GB)	Exors of the Late Sheikh Mohammed Obaid	K. R. Burke	Clifford Lee	131
3	High Stock (GB)	Dubawi (Ire)	Sheikh Hamed Dalmook Al Maktoum	Andrew Balding	Rob Hornby	131
4	The Lost King (GB)	Kingman (GB)	King Power Racing Co Ltd	Andrew Balding	William Buick	131
5	Humidity (GB)	Ulysses (Ire)	Wathnan Racing	Andrew Balding	James Doyle	127

Breeders: 1-Hyde Park Stud, 2-Sheikh Mohammed Obaid Al Maktoum, 3-Rabbah Bloodstock Limited, 4-King Power Racing Co Ltd, 5-Cheveley Park Stud Limited.

No match for Talk Of New York in the Joel Stakes, The Lost King has a progressive profile for the Andrew Balding stable which also sends the long-absent Humidity back into action. Unfortunately missing the main three-year-old action in 2026, it is worth remembering that he beat Title Role on debut, Thesecretadversary in the Chesham and was second to Bow Echo in the Royal Lodge when last seen. [Tom Frary].

5	Sword Salute	Masar (Ire)	Sheikh Hamdan Bin Mohammed Al Maktoum	Charlie Johnston	William Buick	130
6	Wykehurst Park (GB)	Stradivarius (Ire)	Mr Michael Blencowe & Partner	Andrew Balding	Rob Hornby	130

Breeders: 1-Gce Farm Ltd, 2-Team Hogdala Ab, 3-Barronstown Stud, 4-Overbury Stallions Ltd, 5-Godolphin Mgt Co LTD, 6-Saxtead Livestock Ltd.

The race that once lost its Listed status now sits proudly on the calendar as a Group 3 with a recent honour roll including Pierre Bonnard, Arabian Crown, Lone Eagle, Kew Gardens and Coronet. Ballydoyle is always the place to start in such races, but the Beresford third Drumbeat wouldn't be the most exciting colt they've brought here despite being the standard-setter in what is not the most exciting renewal. Wykehurst Park impressed at Yarmouth and would be a notable first Stakes winner for first-season sire Stradivarius. [Tom Frary].

Breeders: 1-Godolphin, 2-Tally-Ho Stud, 3-Kildaragh Stud, 4-Mountarmstrong Stud, 5-J. Hanly, A. Stroud & Skymarc Farm, 6-Embellish Syndicate, 7-Plantation Stud.

Beaten by the potentially high-class filly Forbidden Fire in the Flying Scotsman, Rock Montreal is probably in calmer waters back among his own sex and remains an exciting prospect. Sergei Diaghilev was unable to lay a glove on Desert Castle in the Champagne, but then very few would be able to and he had smart peers behind him previously in the El Gran Senor. Godolphin's Al Jabbar has to be respected, with the three colts finishing behind him at Doncaster last time all coming out and winning since while Notable Dream may have the best form in the line-up having run a close second in the seven-furlong Somerville Tattersall Stakes here last month. [Tom Frary].

Back at six after a failed tilt at the Flying Childers, the Prix de Cabourg runner-up and Gimcrack fourth Agamemnon holds a slight edge on form. Cut A Dash hasn't gone forward much from his close-up Coventry fourth and needs to find something, while the filly Divine Whisper has potential upped a furlong and coming here fresh having last been seen chasing home Wild Blossom at Goodwood. [Tom Frary].

The experienced Amy Murphy duo Celtic Moon and Dream Of Glory arrive here in search of black type, as does the once-raced maiden Sidewalkofbroadway. [Sean Cronin].
