TREVE BACK ON TRACK ON SUNDAY

Treve (Fr) (Motivator {GB}) looks likely to take the next step en route to her historic bid for a third G1 Prix De L'Arc de Triomphe when she lines out for the G1 Grand Prix de Saint-Cloud in Paris this Sunday. A field of 13 have been left in at this stage including the Andre Fabre-trained Flintshire (GB) (Dansili {GB}) runner up to Treve in last years Arc, and the Alain de Royer-Dupre trained Group 1 winner Dolniya (Fr) (Azamour {Ire}). Treve made a very smooth comeback in the G2 Prix Corrida May 29 and hopes are high that she can continue in that vein. Harry Herbert, racing manager to Al Shaqab Racing, is looking forward to Sunday and commented, "Touch wood, Treve is in tremendous form and Criquette [Head] is very pleased with her. There is a bit of rain around and we would like some of that. You saw in her last race she seems to be better than ever and hopefully she will put up a bold performance and take another step in the right direction before a shot at a third Arc." Reflecting on her impressive seasonal debut at Saint-Cloud Herbert added, "Her last race was over a trip too short for her, so imagine how far she would have won by if it was over a mile and a half. It is lovely to see her come out of a race so well. We go into Sunday full of hope."

NYRA BOARD MULLS WAYS TO LURE 'PHAROAH'

By T.D. Thornton

With the only business voted upon at Wednesday's New York Racing Association Reorganization Board of Directors meeting being rubber-stamp unanimous approvals certifying the slate of NYRA officers and the roster of peace officers, the talk among board members touched on topics related to bolstering big days on the circuit and whether or not Triple Crown winner American Pharoah (Pioneerof the Nile) could be incentivized to compete in the GI Travers S. at Saratoga Race Course.

"We are trying our best," said NYRA chief executive officer and president Chris Kay. "I think it was a total of eight minutes after we had given [representatives of Zayat Stables LLC] the Triple Crown trophy" that NYRA officials "engaged in a variety of conversations to try to make it happen. It's a very complicated and competitive landscape at the moment."

"We talked about the GI Jim Dandy S., but the Travers looks like the one that is the greatest interest to them, as well as the GI Haskell [Invitational S. at Monmouth Park]," Kay said. "So those two would fit in nicely...We are working diligently on that."

NYRA ex-officio member Rick Violette Jr., who separately serves as the president of the New York Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association, said that in terms of dangling more cash to American Pharoah's connections, he recognizes that NYRA is "limited by some of the things we can't do that private racetracks can do."

But Violette said he has already floated the idea to NYRA Senior Vice President of Racing Operations Martin Panza about raising the purse of the Aug. 29 Travers from $1.25 million to $2 million.

Violette said he believed the horsemen would be "willing to bump it up...with the caveat that [the $750,000 Travers overpayment] gets paid right back to purses [based on an immediate handle revenue reconciliation]. And then after that $750,000, we're back to the same splits. Because [the horsemen] can't take all the risk."

"It's interesting mathematics," Violette continued. "I'm sure we could work around it. But everybody has to have some skin in the game if we're going to bump this up." Cont. p3

Among Fasig-Tipton Saratoga graduates recently in the headlines is Triple Crown winner American Pharoah (Pioneerof the Nile).

“It has been another electric year thus far for Saratoga graduates, capped by American Pharoah’s historic run to become racing’s first Triple Crown winner in 37 years,” Browning continued. “And with current stars like Constitution (Tapit), Stellar Wind (Curlin), Tepin (Bernstein), Tonalist (Tapit) and Rock Fall (Speightstown), Saratoga is a sale that no major buyer can afford to miss.”

The catalogue can now be viewed online at fasigtipton.com. Print catalogues will be available from all Fasig-Tipton offices by July 6.

Separate from the Travers conversation, Kay spoke at length about what he termed as NYRA’s successful implementation of turning big race days like the GI Belmont S. into “must-see” events.

But NYRA special advisor John Hendrickson cautioned that the stacking of so many of the racing association’s resources on single, big-event days could have the unintended consequence of watering down an entire race meet like Saratoga.

“I think it’s fantastic. I think they’re great,” Hendrickson said of the “must-see” days.

“But we have to remember that [at] Saratoga, every day [used to be] a must-see day. So I hope we’re not diluting the rest of the calendar as we’re going forward.”

In ongoing backstretch upgrades, Kay reported that NYRA is in the midst of a four-year, $28.8 million dormitory upgrade project at NYRA properties that will be completed by 2017.

NYRA board member Michael Dubb said he knows a $28 million-plus investment sounds like a big commitment, but he implored the board to expedite the backstretch improvements and to do even more for NYRA’s hands-on horse workers.

“Doing five [dormitory] cottages at Saratoga sounds like a lot, but there’s hundreds of cottages at Saratoga, and the conditions are not good,” Dubb said. “The people on the backside deserve better.”

In personnel moves on the NYRA board, Wednesday’s meeting was the first chaired by Michael Del Giudice, who was appointed to replace Anthony Bonomo earlier this month. Bonomo took a leave of absence just before the Belmont S. after his company was revealed to have allegedly provided a “no-show” job to the son of the former New York State senate majority leader.

In addition, Andrew Rosen, a longtime New York-based horse owner, was chosen to fill the spot vacated by the April resignation of Charles Wait. The NYRA board is still awaiting an appointee to fill the spot vacated by Barry Ostrager, who also recently resigned.

op/ed by Bill Casner

I first walked on the backside of Sunland Park Racetrack when I was 15 years old in 1963 and fell under the spell of horse racing. My dream was to be a racehorse trainer. For the next 16 years, the racetrack was my only vocation. I would go to tracks all over the country, live in tack rooms, gallop horses in the morning and get jobs in the afternoon. I worked as an assistant trainer, assistant starter, made charts for the DRF, and drove a tractor on the track maintenance crew. I could live cheap, save my money and only took enough time away from it to get my college degree. I worked for a variety of trainers both big and small. I trained my first winner when I was 18 and spent the last six years training a small stable of horses through the Midwest. I met my wife when she was a mutual clerk at a track in Nebraska. She cleaned thousands of stalls, walked many hots and nursed our babies in the tack room between sets. I was entrenched in the unique world of the backside--I was a racetracker and I have seen the good, bad and the ugly. I was at the zenith of our game witnessing huge crowds during mid-week and I watched many of the greats run--Secretariat, Buckpasser, and Dr. Fager. I also saw horses hopped, ringers, races fixed, and slow horses put down for insurance. I once saw a trainer boldly hang a needle in his horse in the saddling paddock.

We have overcome many of our sins on the road to redemption. I may be naive, but I believe that the days are over for ringers, insurance fraud, and for the most part, race fixing. But performance-enhancing drugs are the one sin that remains and the level of its sophistication has grown exponentially. In an earlier time, drugs like etorphine (elephant juice), fentanyl (Sublimaze), Ritalin, apomorphine, amphetamine, nitroglycerin, acepromazine, and cobra venom were used until a test was developed for them. They were all produced and manufactured by pharmaceutical companies and were on the radar. In the mid 70's, I trained at Oaklawn Park and watched Dan Lasater win race after race on his way to national championships and three Eclipse Awards. I have heard that Sublimaze is the drug he was rumored to have been using. He was later convicted and served time for distribution of cocaine. We can name other Eclipse Award-winning owners (and nominees) who have "likely" benefitted from PED's with huge win percentages, only to have their trainers subsequently fall off the map.

Times change, but people don't. The trainer's mentality is that if it is not on the illegal list and won't test, it is okay to use. Today, the selection and availability of designer drugs produced in clandestine labs is unlimited. Computer models have given the underground chemist the ability to modify a known drug, whether anabolic, narcotic or stimulant, tweaking the molecule and making small doses even more powerful, and guess what--it doesn't test because it hasn't been identified and there is no organized effort to develop the test.

NTRA REPORT FROM CAPITOL HILL

KEENELAND SEPTEMBER YEARLING SALE ALERT: NTRA ¼% CHECK-OFF PROGRAM DEADLINE IS JUNE 29

Yearling sellers targeting the Keeneland September Yearling Sale have until Monday, June 29 to enroll in the NTRA ¼% Check-off Program and have the "NTRA" designation appear on the sale catalog page. Those interested in supporting the Program should return a completed enrollment form to their consignor or directly to Keeneland. Click the link below to download the form.

¼% Check-off Program Enrollment Form

The ¼% Check-off Program helps fund the NTRA's federal legislative effort on Capitol Hill and was supported last year by hundreds of industry members from 13 countries and over 40 states. Sellers (and buyers) may contribute ¼ of one percent of the sale price ($2.50 for every $1,000) of each horse sold at any of the NTRA's six sale company partners, including Keeneland, Fasig-Tipton, OBS, Barretts and owner & breeder association sales in Louisiana and Washington.

The NTRA's federal legislative team targets issues that have a direct and material effect on thoroughbred industry participants and their business activities, whether those activities relate to racing, breeding or pari-mutuel wagering. The team's success begins with your participation in the ¼% Check-off Program.

Balco THG, and dermormorphin (frog juice) are known examples. The only reason they were caught was that someone turned in syringes with residue. I did a search on some drug blogs and found you could order frog juice off the net back in 2004. Currently, there is a multitude of stimulants based on synthetic cathionoes that are 10 times more powerful than cocaine. You can bet your last dollar that they are being used somewhere because there are NO TESTS for them.

One drug that has decades of continuous use is EPO. There is no doubt that it has been used at the highest level. There has never been a horse to test positive for it post-race because everyone knows that it can only be detected in the first 24 to 36 hours after administration (requiring a sophisticated expensive test) and it is always given days or even weeks out. The only way it will ever be caught is with Out-of-Competition Testing, which is virtually non-existent in North American horse racing.

The American Thoroughbred industry is at the proverbial crossroads. The choice is ours: which direction will we choose? One path maintains the status quo with 38 dysfunctional jurisdictions that are underfunded, politically appointed, and lack the expertise to challenge the cheaters. The other road offers the choice of appointing a USADA-type organization having the mission, funding and expertise to meet that challenge. The pending House bill that will be introduced by Rep. Paul Tonko (NY) offers the opportunity to have that ultimate drug organization. Cont. p5

There will certainly be those that fear and oppose this path. For those that cite philosophical opposition (and I was one of them at one time) to any Federal involvement in our business--they already are. The Feds have granted us a monopoly on interstate gambling with the Interstate Horse Racing Act. Another example: race-fixing in the 60's and 70's nearly destroyed our industry until the Feds started prosecuting jockeys and trainers under the RICO laws. Without Federal help, we would have lost our industry.

Without having a central professional organization that is dedicated to creating gold standards for testing with the authority to conduct out-of-competition testing and administer punishment, we will continue to have those trainers who will seek an edge and we will continue our slide into irrelevance. Whether we want to accept it or not, the public views horse racing as drug-infested with impotent testing.

Are we fed up enough? Are we brave enough to take that leap towards full redemption? God, I can only hope so.

LADY CECIL TO RETIRE FROM TRAINING

The 2015 flat season will herald the end of an era at the historic and famed Warren Place Stables in Newmarket as Lady Cecil has announced her intention to retire from training this year. The widow of the late Sir Henry Cecil had a fantastic 2014 season when registering three Group 1 wins with Frankel's full-brother Noble Mission (GB) (Galileo {Ire}).

Following recent speculation that Warren Place was for sale Lady Cecil announced Wednesday, "I confirm that at the end of the Flat season, I will stop training. Until then, the team and I will continue to work hard to achieve as much as we can with the horses. Training, for me, has always been about working with the horses and the team here at Warren Place. That has been a major factor in why I have continued since Henry died two years ago."

Lady Cecil continued, "I would like to thank my owners for their much appreciated on-going support. They have been fantastic over the last two years and I can't thank them enough for their understanding and help." It is believed that Sheikh Mohammed is in the process of purchasing Warren Place.

ANOTHER DAY FOR THE ASCOT VANQUISHED

The fallout from Royal Ascot continues as with every winner invariably there are many more losers. Two strongly fancied horses that both failed to perform to their best ability were Hootenanny (Quality Road) and Telescope (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}). Wesley Ward's Breeders' Cup winner was favorite for the G1 Commonwealth Cup but never featured and his trainer is at a loss to explain the lacklustre performance. "He scoped clean so we're struggling to find an excuse," said Ward. "That's horse racing I suppose, you can't win every day. We'll get him home and give him a thorough check over, run a few more tests. He's won a Breeders' Cup so we know he's not just an early 2-year-old, we'll give him time and figure out a plan." Telescope was also favorite to win the G2 Hardwicke S. for the second year in a row but dropped out tamely to be a well beaten sixth to stablemate Snow Sky (GB) (Nayef). Highclere Thoroughbred Racing's Harry Herbert is willing to chalk down the performance as a once off and said, "Telescope is absolutely fine," he said. "The fast ground combined with the slow tempo was not for him. He ran the worst race of his life which was incredibly disappointing but both Ryan Moore and Sir Michael Stoute have said we have just got to put a line through it." Telescope could still be in the mix for the G1 King George VI & Queen Elizabeth S. next month or possibly the G2 Prince Of Wales's S. at Newmarket July 9.

Telescope and Ryan Moore

DUNLOP EYES ELUSIVE MELBOURNE WIN

Trainer Ed Dunlop has some serious decisions to make about where to target his new stablestar Trip To Paris (Ire) (Champs Elysees {GB}). Successful in a handicap at Lingfield in April off a mark of 88, last week's G1 Ascot Gold winner is now up to a rating of 113 following his biggest triumph and one could argue that the 4-year-old is still improving. Dunlop has gone agonizingly close to winning the G1 Melbourne Cup, on three occasions with Red Cadeaux (GB) (Cadeaux Genereux {GB}) and not surprisingly a trip to Flemington is being strongly considered with his highly progressive stablemate. Before that though Dunlop is eyeing another valuable prize closer to home.

"We are considering the G2 Goodwood Cup. It's a very valuable race. Of course, he'll have a penalty and discussions amongst the partnership are very much involved about going to the Melbourne Cup," reported Dunlop. The Newmarket trainer added, "He's not a flamboyant worker, but the difference is he has a turn of foot. As you saw in the Ascot Gold Cup he really quickened up the straight. He's won at a mile and a half so he's not that slow. He's also got a wonderful temperament which would stand him in great stead for a long journey to Australia."

MUHAARAR ON TARGET FOR JULY CUP

The result of next month's G1 Darley July Cup at Newmarket can often have a bearing on who is crowned champion European sprinter, and at this stage, 30 horses stand their ground for the July Course showpiece, including impressive G1 Commonwealth

Charlie Hills Racing Post

Cup winner Muhaarar (GB) (Oasis Dream {GB}). His Ascot win would suggest he is probably the best 3-year-old sprinter in Europe at the moment and his trainer Charlie Hills is very much looking forward to the next test July 11 which will see him taking on his elders for the first time.

"Muhaarar lost very little weight after the Commonwealth Cup, no more than five kilos, and hasn't left an oat since, so the plan is for him to run in the July Cup," reported Hills. "He's improving all the time and is a very exciting horse. You've got to hope that we are in champion sprinter territory with him now. The July Cup is pretty much the biggest sprint of the year and it would mean an awful lot for the yard to win it for the first time. A stiff six furlongs is good for him so Newmarket's uphill finish should suit and he's pretty versatile ground-wise." Muharrar will bid to emulate his sire Oasis Dream who won the July Cup in 2003 as a 3-year-old en route to being crowned champion 3-year-old sprinter the same year.

HOBBS ALL SET FOR CURRAGH TASK

G1 Epsom Derby runner-up Jack Hobbs (GB) (Halling) is a short priced favorite to go one place better in the G1 Irish Derby at The Curragh Saturday and his trainer John Gosden has reported the colt to have come through his last piece of work in pleasing fashion. "He worked Wednesday morning with William Buick on him and we were happy with him and the horse seems in good order," said Gosden, who is seeking his first win in the race. "We would appreciate a shower or two and something close to good ground, but we are pleased with the horse and we'll be heading over, all being well between now and the weekend." The trainer feels the fair, galloping Curragh track will be ideal for Jack Hobbs, but he is taking nothing for granted when it comes to the opposition. Gosden commented, "He handled Epsom surprisingly well for a tall, rangy, horse and we hope the Curragh would suit him better. We fully respect the quality of the field, which includes a G1 Oaks winner and a G1 Irish 1000 Guineas winner if she runs, but it's not a race I got greatly involved with in the past, so it would be extremely nice to win."

A top class supporting weekend card ensures there will be no shortage of British challengers at The Curragh, including Ralph Beckett who hopes to run Secret Gesture (GB) (Galileo {Ire}) in the G1 Pretty Polly S. Sunday. The filly was last seen winning the G2 Middleton S. at York. "She has come out of her York win in good shape and the Pretty Polly is a race we felt would suit her and we think the Curragh is a track that will be right up her street," Beckett said. "It was a good performance at York and if she produces that again she will be in the mix."

Eastern U.S.Charles Town & HBPA Agree on New Contract:

Hollywood Casino at Charles Town Races and the Charles Town Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association have agreed to terms on a new contract for a minimum of three years. "While it was a lengthy process, I'm happy to say that both sides worked amicably and collaboratively towards a completed agreement," said Charles Town's General Manager Al Britton. "There was plenty of give and take, but both sides understood how important it was to agree on a contract that would bring some certainty to both the track and the horsemen. We're happy to have gotten it done."

Charles Town HBPA President Randy Funkhouser added, "We're pleased that after many months of comprehensive negotiations conducted with integrity by both sides, the HBPA and HCCTR have agreed upon a multi-year contract. With the signing of this contract the HBPA and HCCTR reaffirm their shared interest in the promotion and long-term stability of year round, live thoroughbred horse racing which is so vital to Jefferson County families, businesses, and farms."

KentuckyKTA & KTOB Join Coalition for Horse Racing Integrity:

The Kentucky Thoroughbred Association and Kentucky Thoroughbred Owners & Breeders have joined the Coalition for Horse Racing Integrity as members. The Coalition's membership also includes The Jockey Club, the Water Hay Oats Alliance, Breeders' Cup, the Humane Society of the United States, and the Humane Society Veterinary Medicine Association. "The Thoroughbred horse breeding and racing industry is a major part of Kentucky's economy and rich history, and we believe consistent medication administration and enforcement regulations are necessary to preserve this tradition," said Chauncey Morris, executive director of KTA.

"Our directors appreciate the fact that the Coalition and its legislative partners have considered our input and will ensure that industry oversight is tough, fair, and accountable for implementing an effective and efficient anti-doping program, and they voted unanimously on June 17 to support the legislation. The Coalition for Horse Racing Integrity has produced the best solution yet for a path forward for this great American sport."

James L. Gagliano, president and chief operating officer of The Jockey Club, added, "We are immensely proud to welcome the Kentucky Thoroughbred Association into our ranks. The growth of the Coalition points to the importance of our goal--modernizing horse racing's drug and medication regulations to provide certainty and safety for our participants and fans."

Churchill Jockeys & Pat Day to Visit Children's Hospital:

Corey Lanerie and Julien Leparoux head a group of more than a dozen members of the Churchill Downs jockey colony who will join retired Hall of Fame rider Pat Day, popular mascot Churchill Charlie and other track representatives June 25 for the annual visit to Louisville's Kosair Children's Hospital. Other riding stars expected to participate in Thursday's Kosair Children's Hospital visit include Robby Albarado, Shaun Bridgmohan, Brian Hernandez Jr., Jon Court, Joe Johnson, Joe Rocco Jr., James Graham, Dylan Davis, Francisco Torres, Marcelino Pedroza, Jareth Loveberry and apprentice jockey Sebastian Saez. Other riders could be added to the roster before Thursday's visit. The visit by Churchill Downs jockeys to Kosair Children's Hospital is an annual tradition that was launched nearly 30 years ago. The first visit occurred on Kentucky Oaks Day in 1988 when four Kentucky Derby jockeys visited young patients at the hospital. That foursome was comprised of future Hall of Famers Gary Stevens (winner of the Derby on Winning Colors), Day (runner-up on Forty Niner), Eddie Delahoussaye (third on Risen Star) and Jerry Bailey (fourth on Proper Reality).

INDUSTRY INFO

Breeders' Cup & RaceTech Partner in New Game:

Breeders' Cup and RaceTech are partnering to develop a new historical horse racing game that will make its debut just prior to the Breeders' Cup at Keeneland Oct. 30-31.

The Breeders' Cup game will launch at the historic Red Mile racetrack in downtown Lexington. The facility is undergoing a major renovation designed to showcase the RaceTech historical horse race system, including the Breeders' Cup game. The multi-million dollar construction project, which is scheduled to be completed in September, is a joint venture by the Red Mile and Keeneland.

Although RaceTech has created dozens of pari-mutuel historical racing games since it began in 2000, this is the first time RaceTech has partnered with a major racing organization and championship event to create a branded game.

"It's great to be able to work with RaceTech on this exciting development," said Craig Fravel, Breeders' Cup President and CEO. "There is enormous excitement already building for this year's World Championships, and this game will help create added awareness of our event and to patrons at the Red Mile."

Louis Cella, one of the founders of RaceTech, said, "We are honored to be working with Breeders' Cup on this new pari-mutuel game. Both entities are dedicated to horse racing and to all the people whose livelihoods depend on it. This is going to be another boost for all of them and for the sport we love."

RaceTech's innovative pari-mutuel Historical Horse Racing system, also known as Instant Racing, allows patrons to wager on previously run horse races. The system was developed with assistance from Amtote International, a world-leader in pari-mutuel wagering systems and totalizator services.

The Jockey Club Tour on FOX Sports 1 will kick off its summer schedule Sunday, July 5, with live coverage of the GI United Nations S. at Monmouth Park.

The tour will continue with coverage of the GI Hopeful S. Sept. 7 at Saratoga Racecourse and of the GI Ricoh Woodbine Mile at Woodbine Racetrack Sept. 13.

"In the aftermath of American Pharoah's historic Triple Crown win, we are looking forward to showcasing some of North America's most prestigious races to a new wave of racing fans," said Jason Wilson, president of TJC Media Ventures. "American Pharoah has put racing back on the front page and given all of us who love the game something to cheer for," said Michael Mulvihill, senior vice president, FOX Sports programming and research. "We're eager to get our Fox Sports 1 team back to the track at this special time for horse racing, and we're especially looking forward to kicking off our July 5 show from Monmouth Park with an extended sit-down with the connections of the 12th Triple Crown Champion."

Soon at the head of affairs, the bay who is a full-sister to the 2013 G1 Irish 2000 Guineas winner Magician (Ire) stretched clear from the top of the stretch and maintained the gallop to stamp her authority on the race. GREAT SOUTHERN SALE CONCLUDES

The four-day Inglis Great Southern Sale came to a conclusion on Wednesday and in fact rounded off an excellent season of Inglis' sales in 2015, where 3500 Thoroughbreds were sold at an outstanding overall clearance of 84%. Inglis National Bloodstock Diector Jonathan D'Arcy paid tribute to their clients who contributed to a successful year saying, "The team at Inglis is delighted that we could achieve such fantastic results for our vendors, and we would like to thank them for the opportunity to sell numerous yearlings, weanlings, broodmares and racing stock this sales season." Wednesdays final session was devoted to yearlings, unbroken stock and racehorses and at the close of play 597 horses had been sold through the Oaklands ring since Sunday, grossing A$8,535,300, a 72% increase on last year's figure.

"It was very satisfying to finish the sales season on such a buoyant note," said Inglis Victorian Director Peter Heagney, before adding, "From the weanlings and broodmares right through to the racing stock, there was good competition and the sale finished with excellent results in all sections. I think the success of a sale can often be judged by the clearance and we achieved over 80% in most sections."

Top price on Wednesday was achieved for lot 697 the 3-year-old Royal Standing (Aus) (Stratum {Aus}), last seen running in the G1 VRC Derby. He was bought by one of his owners to dissolve the ownership syndicate. Later in the day South Australian-based Hancock Quality Bloodstock signed for lot 794 Scarlet Moretta (Aus) (Fastnet Rock {Aus}), a well bred winning mare from the draft of Stonehouse Thoroughbreds for A$87,500.
